And God placed them in the firmament of the heaven, so as to shine upon the earth, and to regulate day and night, and to divide between the light and the darkness. And God saw that it was good. And there was evening and there was morning, the fourth day.

And God said, Let the waters bring forth reptiles having life, and winged creatures flying above the earth in the firmament of heaven, and it was so. And God made great whales, and every living reptile, which the waters brought forth according to their kinds, and every creature that flies with wings according to its kind, and God saw that they were good. And God blessed them, saying, Increase and multiply and fill the waters in the seas, and let the creatures that fly be multiplied on the earth. And there was evening and there was morning, the fifth day.

And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature according to its kind, quadrupeds and reptiles and wild beasts of the earth according to their kind, and it was so. And God made the wild beasts of the earth according to their kind, and cattle according to their kind, and all the reptiles of the earth according to their kind, and God saw that they were good.

And God said, Let us make man according to our image and likeness, and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the flying creatures of heaven, and over the cattle and all the earth, and over all the reptiles that creep on the earth. And God made man, according to the image of God he made him, male and female, he made them.

And God blessed them, saying, Increase and multiply, and fill the earth and subdue it, and have dominion over the fish of the seas and flying creatures of heaven, and all the cattle and all the earth, and all the reptiles that creep on the earth. And God said, I have given to you every seed-bearing herb sowing seed which is upon all the earth, and every tree which has in itself the fruit of seed that is sown, to you it shall be for food. And to all the wild beasts of the earth, and to all the flying creatures of heaven, and to every reptile creeping on the earth, which has in itself the breath of life, even every green plant for food; and it was so. And God saw all the things that he had made, and, behold, they were very good. And there was evening and there was morning, the sixth day.

And the heavens and the earth were finished, and the whole world of them.

And God finished on the sixth day his works which he made, and he ceased on the seventh day from all his works which he made. And God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it, because in it he ceased from all his works which God began to do.

This is the book of the generation of heaven and earth, when they were made, in the day in which the Lord God made the heaven and the earth, and every herb of the Genesis II. 6—III. 3.

And God planted a garden eastward in Eden, and there he put the man whom he had formed.

And God made to spring up also out of the earth every tree beautiful to the eye and good for food, and the tree of life in the midst of the garden, and the tree of learning the knowledge of good and evil.

And a river proceeds out of Eden to water the garden, thence it divides itself into four heads.

The name of the one, Phisom, this is which encircles the whole land of Evilan, where there is gold.

And the gold of that land is good, there also is carbuncle and emerald.

And the name of the second river is Geron, this it is which encircles the whole land of Cush.

And the third river is Tigris, this is that which flows forth over against the Assyrians. And the fourth river is Euphrates.

And the Lord God took the man whom he had formed, and placed him in the garden of Delight, to cultivate and keep it.

And the Lord God gave a charge to Adam, saying, Of every tree which is in the garden thou mayest freely eat, but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil—of it ye shall not eat, but whatsoever day ye eat of it, ye shall surely die.

And the Lord God said, It is not good that the man should be alone, let us make for him a help suitable to him.

And God formed yet farther out of the earth all the wild beasts of the field, and all the birds of the sky, and he brought them to Adam, to see what he would call them; and whatsoever Adam called every living creature, that was the name of it.

And Adam gave names to all the cattle and to all the birds of the sky, and to all the wild beasts of the field; but for Adam there was not found a help like to himself.

And God brought a trance upon Adam, and he slept, and he took one of his ribs, and filled up the flesh instead thereof.

And God formed the rib which he took from Adam into a woman, and brought her to Adam.

And Adam said, This now is bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh; she shall be called woman, because she was taken out of her husband.

Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother and shall cleave to his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

And the two were naked, both Adam and his wife, and were not ashamed.

Now the serpent was the most crafty of all the brutes on the earth, which the Lord God made, and the serpent said to the woman, Wherefore has God said, Eat not of every tree of the garden?

And the woman said to the serpent, We may eat of the fruit

Thus we see that the serpent tempted the woman to eat the fruit of the forbidden tree, leading to the fall of man and the introduction of sin into the world.

The text highlights the importance of wisdom and the consequences of disobedience, setting the stage for the rest of the narrative in the Bible.
of the trees of the garden, 4 but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die. 5 And the serpent said to the woman, Ye shall not surely die. 6 For God knew that in whatever day ye should eat of it your eyes would be opened, and ye would be as gods, knowing good and evil. 7 And the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and also gave unto her husband with her, and he ate. 8 And the eyes of both were opened, and they perceived that they were naked, and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves aprons. 9 And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the afternoon; and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the face of the Lord God in the midst of the trees of the garden. 10 And the Lord God called Adam and said to him, Where art thou? 11 And he said to him, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I feared because I was naked, and I hid myself. 12 And God said to him, Who told thee that thou wast naked? And he said, The woman whom thou gavest to be with me gave me of the tree, and I ate. 13 And the Lord God said to the woman, Why hast thou done this? And the woman said, The serpent deceived me, and I ate.

5 And the Lord God said to the serpent, Because thou hast done this thou art cursed above all cattle and all the brutes of the earth, on thy belly shalt thou shalt go, and thou shalt eat dust all the days of thy life. 6 And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; he shall smite thee, and thou shalt smite him. 7 And to the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy pains and thy groanings; in pain shalt thou bring forth children, and thy pain shall be in child-bearing, and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee. 8 And to Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened to the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree concerning which I charged thee of it not to eat—of that thou hast eaten, cursed is the ground for thy labour, in pain shalt thou eat of all the days of thy life. 9 Thorns and thistles shall it bring forth to thee, and thou shalt eat the bread of the field. 10 In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, until thou return to the ground out of which thou wast taken, for earth thou art and to earth shalt thou return. 11 And Adam called the name of his wife Eve, because she was the mother of all living. 12 And the Lord God made for Adam and his wife garments of skin, and clothed them.

And the Lord God said, Behold, Adam is become as one of us, to know good and evil; and now lest at any time he stretch forth his hand, and take of the tree of life and eat, and so paraded his folly: a God beth to the cart of the field, c is 4 in midst of the garden, 4 but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, 5 God said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die. 6 And the serpent said to the woman, Ye shall not surely die. 7 For God knew that in whatever day ye should eat of it your eyes would be opened, and ye would be as gods, knowing good and evil. 8 And the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and also gave unto her husband with her, and he ate. 9 And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the afternoon; and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the face of the Lord God in the midst of the trees of the garden. 10 And the Lord God called Adam and said to him, Where art thou? 11 And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I feared because I was naked, and I hid myself. 12 And God said to him, Who told thee that thou wast naked? And he said, The woman whom thou gavest to be with me gave me of the tree, and I ate. 13 And the Lord God said to the woman, Why hast thou done this? And the woman said, The serpent deceived me, and I ate.
24 And he brought her to the Garden of Eden, to water it; and the Lord God put Adam to till the ground from which he was taken. And the Lord God made Adam and his wife Adam's的形象

25 and he brought her to the Garden of Eden, to water it; and the Lord God put Adam to till the ground from which he was taken. And the Lord God made Adam and his wife Adam's image...
And Adam knew Eve his wife, and she conceived and bore a son, and called his name Seth, saying, For God has raised up to me another seed instead of Abel, whom Cain slew. And Seth had a son, and he called his name Enos; and it was then seventy years.

This is the genealogy of men in the day in which God made Adam: in the image of God he made him; male and female he made them, and blessed them; and called his name Adam, in the day in which he made them. And Adam lived two hundred and thirty years, and begot a son after his own image, and his name he called Seth. And the days of Adam, which he lived after his begetting Seth, were seven hundred years; and he begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Adam which he lived were nine hundred and thirty years, and he died.

Now Seth lived two hundred and ten years, and begot Enos. And Seth lived after his begetting Enos, seven hundred and twenty years, and he begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Seth were nine hundred and twelve years, and he died.

And Enos lived a hundred years and nine years, and begot Cainan. And Enos lived after his begetting Cainan, seven hundred and fifteen years, and he begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Enos were nine hundred and five years, and he died.

And Cainan lived a hundred and seventy years, and he begot Malaleel. And Cainan lived after his begetting Malaleel, seven hundred and forty years, and he begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Cainan were nine hundred and ten years, and he died.

And Malaleel lived a hundred and sixty and five years, and he begot Jared. And Malaleel lived after his begetting Jared, seven hundred and thirty years, and he begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Malaleel were eight hundred and ninety and five years, and he died.

And Jared lived an hundred and sixty and two years, and begot Enoch. And Jared lived after his begetting Enoch, eight hundred and years, and he begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Jared were nine hundred and sixty and two years, and he died. And Enoch lived an hundred and sixty and five years, and begot Mathusala. And Enoch was well-pleasing to God after his begetting Mathusala, two hundred years, and he begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Enoch were three hundred and sixty and five years, and he fell asleep. And he was a hundred and eighty and three years, and he was added, and he fell asleep. And Mathusala lived an hundred and eighty and eight years, and begot Lamech. And Mathusala lived after his begetting Lamech two hundred and eighty and eight years, and he begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Mathusala were five hundred and eighty and six years. And Lamech lived an hundred and eighty and three years, and begot Noah. And Lamech lived after his begetting Noah two hundred and seventy and two years, and he died. And Noah was fifty and three years old when he begot Sheem. And Noah lived an hundred and thirty and five years, and begot Shem. And Noah lived after his begetting Shem five hundred and ten years, and he died.
And at that time there was no man to till the ground to work it with the thorn; but all the days of the seven hundred years, and he died. And Lamech lived after his begetting Lamech eight hundred and two years, and begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Mathusala which he lived, were nine hundred and sixty and nine years, and he died. And Lamech lived an hundred and eighty and eight years, and begot a son.

And he called his name Noe, saying, This one will cause us to cease from our works, and from the toils of our hands, and from the earth, which the Lord God has cursed. And Lamech lived after his begetting Noe, five hundred and sixty and five years, and begot sons and daughters.

And all the days of Lamech were seven hundred and fifty-three years, and he died. And Noe was five hundred years old, and he begot three sons, Sem, Cham, and Japheth.

And it came to pass when men began to be numerous upon the earth, and daughters were born to them, that the sons of God having seen the daughters of men that they were beautiful, took to themselves wives of all whom they chose. And the Lord said, My Spirit shall not remain among these men for ever, because they are flesh, but their days shall be an hundred and twenty years. Now the giants were upon the earth in those days; and after that when the sons of God were wont to go in to the daughters of men, they bore children to them, those were the giants of old, the men of renown.

And the Lord God having seen that the wicked actions of men were multiplied upon the earth, and that every one in his heart was intent on brooding over evil continually, then God laid it to heart that he had made man upon the earth, and he pondered it deeply. And God said, I will blot out man whom I have made from the face of the earth, even man with cattle, and reptiles with flying creatures of the sky, for I am grieved that I have made them.

But Noe found grace before the Lord God. And these are the generations of Noe. Noe was a just man; being perfect in his generation. Noe was well pleasing to God. And Noe begot three sons, Sem, Cham, Japheth. But the earth was corrupted before God, and the earth was filled with iniquity. And the Lord God saw the earth, and it was corrupted; because all flesh had corrupted its way upon the earth.

And the Lord God said to Noe, a period of all men is come before me; because the earth is filled with iniquity through them, and, behold, I destroy them and the earth. Make therefore for thyself an ark of square timber; thou shalt make the ark in five years. And Enoch was well-pleasing to God, and was not found, because God translated him. And Mathusala lived an hundred and sixty and seven years, and begot Lamech. And Mathusala lived after his begetting Lamech eight hundred and two years, and begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Mathusala which he lived, were nine hundred and sixty and nine years, and he died. And Lamech lived an hundred and eighty and eight years, and begot a son.

And he called his name Noe, saying, This one will cause us to cease from our works, and from the toils of our hands, and from the earth, which the Lord God has cursed. And Lamech lived after his begetting Noe, five hundred and sixty and five years, and begot sons and daughters. And all the days of Lamech were seven hundred and fifty-three years, and he died. And Noe was five hundred years old, and he begot three sons, Sem, Cham, and Japheth.

And it came to pass when men began to be numerous upon the earth, and daughters were born to them, that the sons of God having seen the daughters of men that they were beautiful, took to themselves wives of all whom they chose. And the Lord God said, My Spirit shall not remain among these men for ever, because they are flesh, but their days shall be an hundred and twenty years. Now the giants were upon the earth in those days; and after that when the sons of God were wont to go in to the daughters of men, they bore children to them, those were the giants of old, the men of renown.
And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt enter into the ark, and thy sons and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee. 21 And of all the fowls, and of all the beasts of the earth, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth, after their kinds, shall ye bring into the ark two of every sort. 22 They shall enter into the ark two of every sort, male and female, as I have commanded thee, saying, I will bring a flood of water upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every one that is in the earth shall die. 23 But of every clean beast thou shalt take two pairs, male and female; that it may be provision for thee. 24 Of the fowl of the air, of birds that are reproved by the voice of man, of every clean bird, thou shalt take seven and an heifer seven of the clean, and a female of every unholy beast and of every creeping thing of the earth. 25 And they shall be for thee a token on the face of all the earth, that I will make a covenant with thee. 26 ¶ And it came to pass, when five months were elapsed, that Noah was six hundred years old; and Noah pitched a tent, and made an ark of cypress wood, the same was three hundred cubits long, fifty cubits broad, and thirty cubits high. 27 And made windows for the ark, and covered it with lignum aloes. 28 And lo, the flood was upon the earth forty days and forty nights, and the waters overflowed the ark. 29 And the waters were increased exceedingly upon the earth; and all the high places of the earth were covered. 30 The very great deep was broken up, and the foundations of the earth were moved. 31 And they were all filled up. 32 And all flesh died which moved upon the earth, both of fowl, and of cattle, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth, and every man. 33 And all these were the lands of the earth under the heavens. 34 But the only flesh which was found to be righteous in Noah's sight, was that of Noah and his sons. 35 And the Lord rained forty days and forty nights upon the earth. 36 And Noah went out, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him. 37 And he blessed the Lord, and said, Blessed is the Lord God of the children of Israel, who hath remembered his covenant with Jacob, and his oath with Abraham, and hath brought out the people, and given them all the lands of the strangers, and hath subdued their hearts under the people, to whom he had given the land. 38 And the Lord smelled a sweet savour. 39 And the Lord said in his heart, I will not again curse the ground any more for man's sake; for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; neither will I again smite any more every thing living, as I have done. 40 But make thee a ark of gopher wood; tribune for thee, and thine house, and of the beasts, and of the fowl of the air; maketh thee. 41 The ark which Noah made, was of gopher wood; the doors thereof and the covering thereof were of cypress wood. 42 And the length of the ark was three hundred cubits, the breadth of it was fifty cubits, and the height of it was thirty cubits. 43 With rows of windows thou shalt make it; and with doors in the sides thou shalt make it for thee. 44 And thou shalt make an uppermost deck for it, and shalt overlay it withнут, and shalt make a rim about it a foot thick; and thou shalt make for it a window in the side of it for thee, and for all the beasts with thee. 45 And he divided the fowls into pairs of every sort; and he led them into the ark to Noah. 46 And they went in two and two, as God had commanded him; and he brought them into the ark. 47 And he cast there into the same all that he had made, both of flesh and of fowl. 48 And seven days after the flood, the ark rested upon the mountains of Ararat. 49 And the waters afloat were upon the earth above the ark an hundred and fifty days.
16 Behold, the flood was upon the earth forty days and forty nights, and upon all flesh, wherein was the breath of life, both of man and beast.

17 And it came to pass, when the ten days were past, upon the第七天, God remembered Noah, and all the beasts and the fowls, and brought forth the ark upon the land.

18 So the flood prevailed upon the earth forty days.

19 And every living substance, wherein was the breath of life, both of man, and of beast, and of fowl, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth, was consumed.

20 And Noah only remained alive, and his sons, and wife, and sons' wives with him.

21 And the Lord God made a wind to pass over the earth, and the water declined from off the earth.

22 And Noah built an altar, and sacrificed upon it burnt-offerings.

23 And the Lord smelled a sweet savour; and the Lord said in his heart, I will never again curse the ground for man's sake; for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth.

24 And God made a covenant with Noah.

25 And God spake unto Noah, saying, I will establish my covenant with thee, and with all living creatures that are with thee, for a token of the everlasting covenant.

26 And I will bring forth a flood of water upon the earth, to destroy every living substance that I have made upon the earth.

27 And God said unto Noah, Come thou into the ark, thou, and all thy house.

28 And take thee of every sort of clean beasts, of clean fowls, of clean creatures that go upon the earth;

29 And of every beast of the earth, and of every fowl of the air, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth, whereof there is flesh in it.

30 And the Lord shut him in.

31 And it came to pass after the flood, that Noah was a working man.

32 And he made him an husband to wife; and his name was Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

33 These are the three sons of Noah, and they were the first-born of his sons: and Noah begat sons after the flood.

34 These are the generations of Shem, Ham, and Japheth: sons of Noah; and children of Ham; and sons of Shem; and sons of Japheth; of the eight that went out of the ark.

35 And the fear of God was upon all the ends of the earth.

36 And every dominion was under them, both of the wild beasts, and of the fowls of the heaven, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth, and of every thing that walketh on the earth.
And in the second month the earth was dried, on the twenty-seventh day of the month.

And the Lord God spoke to Noe, saying,
16 Come out from the ark, thou and thy wife and thy sons and thy sons' wives with thee.
17 And all the wild beasts as many as are with thee, and all flesh both of birds and beasts, and every reptile moving upon the earth, bring forth with thee: and increase ye and multiply upon the earth.
18 And Noe came forth, and his wife and his sons, and his sons' wives with him.
19 And all the wild beasts and all the cattle and every bird, and every reptile creeping upon the earth after their kind, came forth out of the ark.

20 And Noe built an altar to the Lord, and took of all clean beasts, and of all clean birds, and offered a whole burnt-offering upon the altar.
21 And the Lord God smelled a smell of sweetness, and the Lord God having considered, said, I will not any more curse the earth, because of the works of men, because the imagination of man is intently bent upon evil things from his youth, I will not therefore any more smite all living flesh as I have done.
22 All the days of the earth, seed and harvest, cold and heat, summer and spring, shall not cease by day or night.

And God blessed Noe and his sons, and said to them, Increase and multiply, and fill the earth and have dominion over it.
2 And the dread and the fear of you shall be upon all the wild beasts of the earth, and upon all the birds of the sky, and upon all things moving upon the earth, and upon all the fishes of the sea, I have given them under your power.
3 And every reptile which is living shall be to you for meat, I have given all things to you as the green herbs.
4 But flesh with blood of life ye shall not eat.
5 For your blood of your lives will I require at the hand of him that sheddeth man's blood, man shall be sheddeth, for in the image of God I made man.
6 But do ye increase and multiply, and fill the earth, and have dominion over it.

8 And God spoke to Noe, and to his sons with him, saying,
9 And behold I establish my covenant with you, and with your seed after you,
10 And with every living creature with you, of birds and of beasts, and with all the wild beasts of the earth, as many as are with you, of all that come out of the ark.
11 And I will establish my covenant with you, and all flesh shall not any more die by the water of flood, and there shall no more be a flood of water to destroy all the earth.
12 And the Lord God said to Noe, This is the sign of the covenant which I set between me and you, and between every living creature which is with you for perpetual generations.
13 I set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a sign of covenant between me and the earth.
14 And it shall be when I gather clouds upon the earth, that my bow 15 And the sons of Noe which came out of the ark, were Sem, Cham, Japheth. And Cham was father of Chanaan.

16 These are the sons of Noe, of these were men scattered over all the earth. And Noe began to be a husbandman, and he planted a vineyard.

17 And he drank of the wine, and was drunken, and naked of his coast.

18 And his sons saw him naked, and told his two brothers without.

19 And Sam and Japheth having taken a garment, put it on both their backs and went backwards, and covered the nakedness of their father; and their face was backward, and they saw not the nakedness of their father.

20 And Noe recovered from the wine, and knew all that his younger son had done to him.

21 And he said, Cursed be the servant Chanaan, a slave shall he be to his brethren. And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Sem, and Chanaan shall be his bond-servant.

22 May God make room for Japheth, and let him dwell in the habitations of Sem, and let Chanaan be his servant.

23 And Noe lived after the flood three hundred and fifty years. And all the days of Noe were nine hundred and fifty years, and he died.

Now these are the generations of the sons of Noe, Sem, Cham, Japheth; and sons were born to them after the flood.

3 And the children of Javan took wives of the Hethites, and they called the names of their sons after the names of their fathers, Sheba, and Dedan, and Madai, and Javan, and Tereba, and Tubal, and Mesravan, and Tiras.

4 These are the sons of Japheth; these are the inhabitants of the nations, into whose land they went in the land of Japheth; and he dwelt over against him.

5 And these are the generations of Sem, the son of Noe: these are the inhabitants of the lands, whereon he dwelt after the deluge, and his posterity after him. Six hundred and fifty years were the days of Sem.

6 And these were the generations of the sons of Sem: Dedan, and Arvad, and Ashkenaz, and Riphath, and Togarmah.

7 And these were the sons of Arvad: the Zemarim, and Hamran, and Jamran, and Dotho.

8 These are the sons of Dedan: Thorsheth, and Buz, and Asherim, and Ophir, and Obed, and Yavan, and the Japhites.

9 These are the sons of Arvad: the Zemarim, and Hamran, and Jarmavan, and Dotho.

10 These are the sons of Dedan: Thorsheth, and Buz, and Asherim, and Ophir, and Obed, and Yavan, and Japheth.

11 And these were the generations of the sons of Sem: Eber, and Messen, and Aram.

12 These are the sons of Eber: the Hethites, and the arkites, and the Simeonites, and the emperor, and the Tamarites.

13 These are the sons of Messen: the Zemarim, and Hamran, and Jarmavan, and Dotho.

14 These are the sons of Aram: the Shemwanites, and the Hemwanites, and the Diphites.

15 These are the sons of Sem: Eber, and Messen, and Aram.

16 These are the sons of Eber: the Hethites, and the arkites, and the Simeonites, and the emperor, and the Tamarites.

18 These are the sons of Aram: the Shemwanites, and the Hemwanites, and the Diphites.
And Chanan begot Sidon his first-born, and the Chettite, and the Jebusite, and the Amorite, and the Girgashite, and the Hivite, and the Arukite, and the Arudite; and after this the tribes of the Chananites were dispersed. And the boundaries of the Chananites were from Sidon till one comes to Gerara and Gaza, till one comes to Sodom and Go-morrha, Adama and Seboim, as far as Dasa. These were the sons of Cham in their tribes according to their tongues, in their countries, and in their nations. 21 And to Sem himself also were children born, the father of all the sons of Heber, the brother of Japheth the elder. 22 Sons of Sem, Elam, and Assur, and Arphaxad, and Lud, and Aram, and Cainan. 23 And sons of Aram, Uz, and Ul, and Geter, and Mosoch. 24 And Arphaxad begot Cainan, and Cainan begot Heber. 25 And to Heber were born two sons, the name of the one, Phaleg, because in his days the earth was divided, and the name of his brother Jektan. 26 And Jektan begot Elmodad, and Selaeth, and Sarmoth, and Jamach. 27 And Odrorha, and Aibel, and Decla, and Eval, and audit, and Saba, and Uphir, and Eved, and Jobab, all these were the sons of Jektan. 28 And their dwelling was from Masse, till one comes to Saphera, a mountaint of the east. These were the sons of Sem in their tribes, according to their tongues, in their countries, and in their nations. These are the tribes of the sons of Noc, according to their generations, according to their nations: of them were the islands of the Gentiles scattered over the earth after the flood. And all the earth was one lip, and there was one language to all. And it came to pass as they moved from the east, they found a plain in the land of Senaar, and they dwelt there. And a man said to his neighbour, Come, let us make bricks and bake them with fire. And the brick was to them for stone, and their mortar was bitumen. And they said, Come, let us build to ourselves a city and a tower, which the sons of men built. And the Lord said, Behold, there is one race, and one lip of all, and they have begun to do this, and now nothing shall fail from them of all that they may have undertaken to do. And having gone down let us there confound their tongue, that they may not understand each the voice of his neighbour. And the Lord scattered them thence over the face of all the earth, and they left off building the city and the tower. On this account its name was called Confusion, because there the Lord confounded the languages of all the earth, and thence the Lord scattered them over the face of all the earth. And these are the generations of Sem:

And Chanan begot Sidon his first-born, and the Chettite, and the Jebusite, and the Amorite, and...

Genesis. 13

11 And Sem was a hundred years old when he begot Arphaxad, the second year after the flood. 12 And Sem lived, after he had begotten Arphaxad, five hundred years; and begot sons and daughters, and died. 13 And Arphaxad lived a hundred and thirty-five years, and begot Cainan. 14 And Arphaxad lived after he had begotten Cainan, four hundred years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. And Cainan lived a hundred and thirty and thirty years, and begot Sala; and Canaan lived after he had begotten Sala, three hundred and thirty years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. 15 And Sala lived an hundred and thirty years, and begot Heber. 16 And Heber lived an hundred and thirty years, and begot Phaleg. 17 And Phaleg lived after he had begotten Phaleg two hundred and seventy years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. 18 And Phaleg lived an hundred and thirty years, begot Ragau, and died. 19 And Ragau lived after he had begotten Ragau, two hundred and nine years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. 20 And Ragau lived an hundred and thirty and two years, and begot Seruch. 21 And Seruch lived after he had begotten Nachor, two hundred years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. 22 And Nachor lived a hundred and seventy-nine years, and begot Tharhah. 23 And Tharhah lived after he had begotten Tharhah, an hundred and twenty-five years, and begot sons and daughters, and he died. 24 And Tharhah lived seventy years, and begot Abram, and Nachor, and Arrhan.

And these are the generations of Tharhah. Tharhah begot Abram and Nachor, and Arrhan; and Arrhan begot Lot.

25 And Arrhan died in the presence of Tharhah his father, in the land of, in which he dwelt, which God gave him. 26 And Eleab begat the sons of Eleab: Simeon, and Reuben, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun, and Joseph, and Benjamin; 27 And these are the generations of Eleab: Simeon, and Reuben, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun, and Joseph, and Benjamin; and the sons of Eleab; all the sons of Eleab were four hundred and thirty years old. 28 And Eleab begat the sons of Eleab: Simeon, and Reuben, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun, and Joseph, and Benjamin; and the sons of Eleab; all the sons of Eleab were four hundred and thirty years old. 29 And Eleab begat the sons of Eleab: Simeon, and Reuben, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun, and Joseph, and Benjamin; and the sons of Eleab; all the sons of Eleab were four hundred and thirty years old. 30 And Eleab begat the sons of Eleab: Simeon, and Reuben, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun, and Joseph, and Benjamin; and the sons of Eleab; all the sons of Eleab were four hundred and thirty years old. 31 And Eleab begat the sons of Eleab: Simeon, and Reuben, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun, and Joseph, and Benjamin; and the sons of Eleab; all the sons of Eleab were four hundred and thirty years old. 32 And Eleab begat the sons of Eleab: Simeon, and Reuben, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun, and Joseph, and Benjamin; and the sons of Eleab; all the sons of Eleab were four hundred and thirty years old. 33 And Eleab begat the sons of Eleab: Simeon, and Reuben, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun, and Joseph, and Benjamin; and the sons of Eleab; all the sons of Eleab were four hundred and thirty years old.
that bless thee, and curse those that curse thee, and in thee shall all the tribes of the earth be blessed. 4 And Abram went as the Lord spake to him, and Lot departed with him, and Abram was seventy-five years old. 5 When he went out of Charrhan, 6 and Abram took Sara his wife, and Lot the son of his brother, and all their possessions, as many as they had got, and every soul which they had got in Charrhan, and they went forth to go into the land of Chanaan. 7 And Abram traversed the land lengthwise as far as the place Sychem, to the high oak, and the Channanites then inhabited the land. 8 And the Lord appeared to Abram, and said to him, I will give this land to thy seed. 9 And Abram built an altar there to the Lord, who appeared to him. 10 And he departed thence to the mountain eastward of Bethel, and there he pitched his tent in Bethel, near the sea, and Agag toward the east, and there he built an altar to the Lord, and called on the name of the Lord. 11 And Abram departed and went and encamped in the wilderness.

10 And there was a famine in the land, and Abram went down to Egypt to sojourn there, because the famine prevailed in the land. 11 And it came to pass when Abram drew nigh to enter into Egypt, Abram said to Sara his wife, I know that thou art a fair woman. 12 It shall come to pass then that the Egyptians shall see thee, and shall say, This is his wife, and they shall slay me, but they shall save thee alive. 13 Say, therefore, I am his sister, that it may be well with me on account of thee, and my soul shall live because of thee. 14 And it came to pass when Abram entered into Egypt, the Egyptians saw Sara, Abram’s wife. 15 And Pharaoh having called Abram, said, What is this thou hast done to me, that thou didst not tell me that she was thy wife? Wherefore didst thou say, She is my sister? and I took her for a wife to myself; and now, behold, thy wife is before thee, take her and go quickly away. 16 And Pharaoh gave him charge to men concerning Abram, to join in sending him forward, and his wife, and all that he had.

17 And Abram went up out of Egypt, he and his wife, and all that he had, and Lot with him, into the wilderness. 18 And Abram was very rich in cattle, and silver, and gold. 19 And he went to the place whence he came, into the wilderness as far as Bethel, as far as the place where his tent was before, between Bethel and Agagai, to the place of the altar, 20 which he built there at first, and Abram there called on the name of the Lord. 21 And Lot who went out with Abram had sheep, and oxen, and asses. 22 And the land was not large enough for them to live to Και ἐπερεύθη ὤδε ἦλθεν εἰς τὴν ἐρωμον ἔως Βασιλη, ἔως τοῦ τόπου οὗ ἦν ἡ σκηνὴ αὐτοῦ τὸ πρῶτερον, ἀνά μεσον Βασιλη καὶ ἀνά μεσον Ἀγγα, εἰς τὸν τόπον τῆς ὑποστηρίγου. Οὐ ἐποίησεν ἐκεῖ τὴν ἀρχήν, καὶ ἐπέκαλεσάτο ἐκεῖ ἀμαραμ τὸ ὄνομα τοῦ Κυρίου. Και Λωτ τῷ συμπαρενέμενῳ μετά ἀμαραμ 5 τὴν προβατα, καὶ βιός, καὶ σκηνα. gether, because their possessions were great; and the land was not large enough for them to live together. And there was a strife between the herders of Abram’s cattle, and the herders of Lot’s cattle, and the Chamaunites and the Pherezites then inhabited the land. And Abram said to Lot, “Let there not be a strife between me and thee, and between my herdsman and thy herdsman, for we are brethren. Lo! is not the whole land before thee? Separate thyself from me. If thou goest to the left, I will go to the right; or if thou goest to the right, I will go to the left.” And Lot having lifted up his eyes, observed all the country round about Sodom, and it was all watered, before God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, as the garden of the Lord, and as the land of Egypt, until thou come to Zoara. And Lot chose for himself all the country round Jordan, and Lot went from the east, and they were separated each from his brother. And Abram dwelt in the land of Chanaan.

And Lot dwelt in a city of the neighbouring people, and pitched his tent in Sodom. But the men of Sodom were evil, and exceedingly sinful before God. And God said to Abram after Lot was separated from him, Look up with thine eyes, and behold from the place where thou now art northward and southward, and eastward and westward; for all the land which thou seest, I will give it to thee and to thy seed for ever. And I will make thy seed like the dust of the earth; if any one is able to number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seed be numbered. Arise and traverse the land, both in the length of it and in the breadth; for to thee will I give it, and to thy seed for ever. And Abram having removed his tent, came and dwelt by the oak of Mamre, which was in Chebron, and he there built an altar to the Lord.

And it came to pass in the reign of Amraphel king of Sennaar, and Arioch king of Ellasar, that Chodollogomor king of Eshanto, and Thirial king of Gozan, and Babar king of Sodom, and with Barsa king of Gomorrah, and with Sennaar, king of Adam, and with Symbor king of Seboim, and the king of Balac, this is Seger. All these met with one consent at the salt valley; this is now the sea of salt. Twelve years they served Chodollogomor, and the fourteenth year they revolted. And in the fourteenth year came Chodollogomor, and the kings with him, and cut to pieces the giants in Astaroth, and Carean, and strong nations with them, and the Ommans in the city Save. And the Chorrheans in the mountains of Seir, to the turpentine tree of Phar, which is in the desert. And having turned back they came to the well of judgment; this is Cades, and they cut in pieces and to pieces the giants in Asturah, and the Amorites dwelling in Assanthamar. And the king of Sodom went out, and the king of Gomorra, and king of Adam, and king of Seboim, and king of Balac, this is Seger, and they set themselves in array against them for war in the salt valley, against Chodol-
And one of them that had been rescued came and told Abram the Hebrew, and he dwelt by the oak of Mamre the Amorite, the brother of Eshcol, and the brother of Aanan, who were confederates with Abram. And Abram had heard that Lot his nephew had been taken captive, and he armed his own home-born servants and three hundred armed men, and pursued after them to Dan. And when he came upon them by night, he and his servants, and he smote them, and pursued them as far as Choba, which is on the left of Damascus. And he recovered all the goods of Sodom, and he recovered Lot his nephew, and all the possessions, and the women also. And the king of Sodom went out to meet him, after he had returned from the slaughter of Chedorlaomer, and the kings with him, to the valley of Saby; this was the plain of the kings. And Melchisedec king of Salem brought forth loaves and wine, and he was the priest of the most high God. And he blessed Abram, and said, Blessed be Abram of the most high God, who made heaven and earth, and blessed be the most high God who delivered thine enemies into thy power. And Abram gave him the tithe of all. And Abram said to the king of Sodom, I will stretch out my hand to the Lord, the most high God, who made heaven and earth, that I will not take from all thine goods from a string to a shoe-latchet, lest thou shouldst say, I have made Abram rich. Except what things the young men have eaten, and the portion of the men that went with me, Eschol, Aanan, Mambre, these shall take a portion. And after these things the word of the Lord came to Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram, I shield thee, thy reward shall be very great. And Abram said, Master and Lord, what wilt thou give me? whereas I am departing without a child, but the son of Masak my home-born female slave, this Eliezer of Damascus is mine heir. And Abram said, I am grieved since thou hast given me no seed, but my home-born servant shall succeed me. And immediately there was a voice of the Lord to him, saying, This shall not be thine heir; but he that shall come out of thee shall be thine heir. And he brought him out and said to him, Look up now to heaven, and count the stars, if thou canst number them; and he said, So shall the seed be. And Abram believed God, and it was Genesis XV. 7—XVI. 9.

7 And he said to him, I am God that brought thee out of the land of the Chaldeans, so as to give thee this land to inherit it. And he said, Master and Lord, how shall I know that I shall inherit it? 8 And he said to him, Take for me an heifer in her third year, and a she-goat in her third year, and a ram in his third year, and a dove and a pigeon. 9 So he took to him all these, and divided them in the midst, and set them between him and the other party; then the other party passed by his left hand, and his party passed by his right hand, and he did not divide. 10 And birds came down upon the bodies, even upon the divided parts of them, and Abram sat down by them. 11 And about sunset a trance fell upon Abram, and lo! a great glorious terror falls upon him. 12 And it was said to Abram, Thou shalt surely know that thy seed shall be as a sojourner in a land not their own, and they shall enslave them, and afflict them, and humble them four hundred years. 13 And the nation whomsoever they shall serve I will judge; and after this, they shall come forth little with much prosperity. 14 But thou shalt depart to thy fathers in peace, nourished in a good old age, 15 And in the fourth generation they shall return hither, for the sins of the Amorites, they are not yet filled up, even till now. 16 And when the sun was about to set, there was a flame, and beheld a smoking furnace and lamps of fire, which passed between these divided pieces. 17 In that day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, To thy seed will I give this land, from the river of Egypt to the great river Euphrates. 18 The Kenites, and the Kenazites, and the Kadmonites, 19 And the Chettites, and the Amorites, and the Phezrites, and the Rapham, 20 And the Amorites, and the Canaanites, and the Etherites, and the Gergesites, and the Jebusites.

And Sara the wife of Abram bore him no children; and she had an Egyptian maid, whose name was Agar. 2 And Sara said to Abram, Behold, the Lord has restrained me from bearing; go therefore in to this maid, that I may have seed by her. 3 And Abram listened to the voice of Sara. 4 So Sara the wife of Abram having taken Agar the Egyptian her handmaid, after Abram had dwelt ten years in the land of Chanaan, gave her to Abram her husband as a wife to him. 5 And he went in to Agar, and she conceived, and saw that she was with child, and her mistress was dishonoured before her. 6 And Sara said to Abram, I am injured by thee; I gave my handmaid into thy bosom, and when I saw that she was with child, I was dishonoured before her. 7 And the Lord judge between me and thee. 8 And Abram said to Sara, Behold thy handmaid is in thy hands, use her as it may seem good to thee. And Sara afflicted her, and she fled from her.

And an angel of the Lord found her by the fountain of water in the wilderness, by the fountain in the way to Sur. 9 And the angel of the Lord said to her, Agar, Sara's maid, whence comest thou, and whither goest thou? and she said, I am fleeing from the face of my mistress Sara. 10 And the angel of the Lord said to her, Return to...
thy mistress, and submit thyself under her hands. 18 And the angel of the Lord said to her, I will surely multiply thy seed, and it shall not be numbered for multitude. 19 And the angel of the Lord said to her, Behold, thou art with child, and shalt bear a son, and shalt call his name Issak, for the Lord hath hearkened to thy humiliation. 20 He shall be a wild man, his hands against all, and the hands of all against him, and he shall dwell all the days of his life, separate, and then shall he return to his father’s house. 21 And she called the name of the Lord God who spoke to her, Thou art God who seest me; for she said, For I have openly seen him that appeared to me. Therefore she called the well, The well of him whom I have openly seen; behold it is between Cades Barad. 22 And Abram bore a son to Abram; and Abram called the name of his son which Abram bore to him, Isak. 23 And Abram was eighty-six years old, when Abram bore Isak to Abram. 24 And Abram was ninety-nine years old, and the Lord appeared to Abram and said to him, I am thy God, be well-pleasing before me, and be blameless. 25 And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and I will multiply thee exceedingly. 26 And Abram fell upon his face, and God spoke to him, saying, 27 And I, behold! my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of a multitude of nations. And thy name shall no more be called Abram, but thy name shall be Abram. 28 For I have made thee the father of a multitude of nations. And I will increase thee very exceedingly, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee. 29 And I will establish my covenant between thee and thy seed after thee, to their generations, for an everlasting covenant, to be thy God, and the God of thy seed after thee. 30 And I will give to thee and to thy seed after thee the land wherein thou sojournest, even all the land of Cham-nan for an everlasting possession, and I will be to them a God. 31 And God said to Abram, Thou shalt also fully keep my covenant, thou and thy seed after thee for their generations. 32 And this is the covenant that I will make between me and you, and between thy seed after thee for their generations; every male of you shall be circumcised. 33 And ye shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskin, and it shall be for a sign of a covenant between me and you. 34 And the child of eight days old shall be circumcised by you, every male throughout your generations, and the servant born in the house and he that is bought with money, of every son of a stranger, who is not of thy seed. 35 He that is born in thy house, and he that is bought with money shall be surely circumcised, and my covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting covenant. 36 And the uncircumcised male, who shall not be circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin on the eighth day, that soul shall be utterly destroyed from its family, for he has broken my covenant. 37 And God said to Abram, Sara thy wife—her name shall not be called Sara, Sarra shall be her name. 38 And I will bless her, and give thee a son of her, and I will bless him, and he shall become nations, and kings of nations shall be of him. 17 And Abram fell upon his face, and laughed; and spoke in his heart, saying, Shall there be child to one who is a hundred years old, and shall Sarai who is ninety years old, bear? 18And Abram said to God, Let this Ismael live before thee. 19And God said to Abram, Yea, behold, Sarai thy wife shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name Isaac: and I will establish my covenant with him, for an everlasting covenant, to thee and to his seed after him. 20And concerning Ismael, behold, I have heard thee, and, behold, I have blessed him, and will increase him and multiply him exceedingly; twelve nations shall he beget, and I will make him a great nation. 21But I will establish my covenant with Isaac, whom Sarai shall bear to thee at this time, in the next year. 22And he left off speaking with him, and God went up from Abram.

23And Abram took Ismael his son, and all hisborn servants, and all those bought with money, and every male of the men in the house of Abram, and he circumcised their foreskins in the time of that day, according as God spoke to him. 24And Abram was ninety-nine years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. 25And Ismael his son was thirteen years old when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. 26And at the period of that day, Abram was circumcised, and Ismael his son, and all the men of his house, both those born in the house, and those bought with money of foreign nations.

And God appeared to him by the oak of Mamre, as he sat by the door of his tent at noon. 2And he lifted up his eyes and beheld, and lo! three men stood before him; and having seen them he ran to meet them from the door of his tent, and did obeisance to the ground. 3And he said, Lord, if indeed I have found grace in thy sight, pass not by thy servant. 4Let water now be brought, and let them wash your feet, and do ye refresh yourselves under the tree. 5And I will bring bread, and ye shall eat, and after this ye shall depart upon your journey, on account of which refreshment ye have turned aside to your servant. 6And he said, So do, as thou hast said. 7And Abram hasted to the tent to Sarai, and said to her, Hasten, and knead three measures of fine flour, and make cakes. 8And Abram ran to the kine, and took a young calf, tender and good, and gave it to his servant, and he hasted to dress it. 9And he took butter and milk, and the calf which he had dressed; and he set them before them, and they did eat, and he stood by them under the tree.

9And he said to him, Where is Sarai thy wife? And he answered and said, Behold! in the tent. 10And he said, I will return and come to thee according to this period seasonably, and Sarai thy wife shall have a son; and Sarai heard at the door of the tent, being behind him. 11And Abram
And Sar'ra was old, advanced in days, and the custom of women ceased with Sar'ra. And Sar'ra laughed in herself, saying, The thing has not as yet happened to me, even until now, and my lord is old. And the Lord said to Abram, Why is it that Sar'ra has laughed in herself, saying, Shall I then indeed bear? but I am grown old. Shall anything be impossible with the Lord? At this time I will return to thee seasonably, and Sar'ra shall have a son. But Sar'ra denied, saying, I did not laugh, for she was afraid. And he said to her, Nay, but thou didst laugh.

And the men having risen up from thence looked towards Sodom and Gomorrah, and Abram went with them, attending them on their journey. And the Lord said, Shall I hide from Abram my servant what things I intend to do? But Abram shall become a great and populous nation, and in him shall all the nations of the earth be blessed. For I know that he will order his sons, and his house after him, and they will keep the ways of the Lord, to do justice and righteousness in the land. And that the nations which are upon Abram all things whatsoever he has spoken to him. And the Lord said, The cry of Sodom and Gomorrah has been increased towards me, and their sins are very great. I will therefore go down and see, if they completely correspond with the cry which comes to me, and if not, that I may know whether what I have spoken to him is true or not. And the Lord said, The righteous be as the wicked? Should there be fifty righteous in the city, will thou destroy them? wilt thou not spare the whole place for the sake of the fifty righteous, if they be in it? By no means shall thou do as this thing is so as to destroy the righteous with the wicked, so the righteous shall be as the wicked: by no means. Thou that judgest the whole earth, shalt thou not do right? And the Lord said, If there should be in Sodom fifty righteous in the city, I will spare the whole city, and the whole place for their sakes. And Abram answered and said, Now I have begun to speak to my Lord, and I am earth and ashes.

But if the fifty righteous should be diminished to forty-five, wilt thou destroy the whole city because of the five wanting? And he said, I will not destroy it, if I should find there forty-five. And he continued to speak to him still, and said, But if there should be found there forty? And he said, I will not destroy it for the forty's sake. And he said, Will there be anything against me, Lord, if I speak yet once? But if there should be found there.
And he said, I will not destroy it for the ten’s sake. 2 And the Lord departed when he left off speaking to Abraam, and Abraam returned to his place.

And the two angels came to Sodom at evening. And Lot sat by the gate of Sodom, and Lot hastened and ran to meet them, and he worshipped with his face to the ground, and said, 3 Lo! my lords, turn aside to the house of your servant, and rest from your journey, and wash your feet, and having risen early in the morning ye shall depart on your journey. And they said, Nay, but we will lodge in the street. 4 And he constrained them, and they turned aside to him, and they entered into his house, and he made a feast for them, and baked unleavened cakes for them, and they did eat. 5 But before they went to sleep, the men of the city, the Sodomites, compassed the house, both young and old, all the people together, 6 And they called out Lot, and said to him, Where are the men that went in to thee this night? bring them out, that we may be with them. 7 And Lot went out to them to the porch, and he shut the door after him, 8 and said to them, By no means, brethren, do not act villanously.

But I have two daughters, who have not known a man. I will bring them out to you, and do ye use them as it may please you, only do not injure to these men, to avoid which they came under the shelter of my roof. 9 And they said to him, Stand back there, thou camest in to sojourn, was it also to judge? Now then we will harm them. And they pressed hard on the man, even Lot, and they drew nigh to break the door. 10 And the men stretched forth their hands and drew Lot in to them into the house, and shut the door of the house. 11 And they smote the men that were at the door of the house with blindness, both small and great, and they were wearied with seeking the door. 12 And the men said to Lot, Hast thou here sons-in-law, or sons or daughters, or if thou hast any other friend in the city, bring them out of this place. 13 For we are going to destroy this place; for their cry has been raised up before the Lord, and the Lord sent us to destroy it. 14 And Lot went out, and spoke to his sons-in-law who had married his daughters, and said, Rise up, and depart out of this place, for the Lord is about to destroy the city; but he seemed to be speaking absurdly before his sons-in-law.

But when it was morning, the angels hastened Lot, saying, Arise and take thy wife, and thy two daughters, whom thou hast, and go forth; lest thou also be destroyed with the iniquities of the city. 16 And they were troubled, and the angels laid hold on his hand, and the hand of his wife, and the hands of his two daughters, in that the Lord spared him.

And it came to pass when they brought them out, that they said, Save thine own life by all means, look not behind thee that which is behind, nor stay in all the country round about, escape to the mountain, lest perhaps thou be overtaken together with
And Lot said to them, I pray, Lord, since thy servant has found mercy before thee, and thou hast magnified thy righteousness, in what thou dost towards me that my soul may live, — but I shall not be able to escape to the mountain, lest perhaps the calamity overtake me and I die. Behold this city is near for me to escape thither, which is a small one, and there shall I live because of thee. And he said to him, Behold, I have had respect also to this thing, that I should not overthrew this city about which thou hast spoken. Hasten therefore to escape thither, for I shall not be able to do anything until thou art come thither; therefore he called the name of that city, Seger. The sun was risen upon the earth, when Lot entered into Seger. And the Lord rained upon Sodom and Gomorrha brimstone and fire from the Lord out of heaven. And he overthrew these cities, and all the country round about, and all that dwelt in the cities, and the plants springing out of the ground. And his wife looked back, and she became a pillar of salt. And Abram rose up early to go to the place, where he had stood before the Lord. And he looked towards Sodom and Gomorrha, and towards the surrounding country, and saw, and beheld a flame went up from the earth, as the smoke of a furnace. And it came to pass that when God destroyed all the cities of the region round about, God remembered Abram, and sent Lot out of the midst of the overthrow, when the Lord overthrew those cities in which Lot dwelt. And Lot went up out of Seger, and dwelt in the mountain, he and his two daughters with him, for he feared to dwell in Seger; and he dwelt in a cave, he and his two daughters with him. And the elder said to the younger, Our father is old, and then shall the day of my pilgrimage be abroad upon us, as it is fit in all the earth. Come and let us make our father drink wine, and let us sleep with him, and let us raise up seed from our father. So they made their father drink wine in that night, and the elder went in and lay with her father that night, and he knew not when he slept and when he rose up. And it came to pass on the morrow, that the elder said to the younger, Behold, I slept yesternight with our father, let us make him drink wine in this night also, and do thou go in and sleep with him, and let us raise up seed of our father. So they made their father drink wine in that night also, and the younger went in and slept with her father; and he knew not when he slept, nor when he arose. And the two daughters of Lot conceived by their father. And the elder bore a son, and called his name Moab, saying, He is of my father. This is the father of the Moabites to this present day. And the younger also bore a son, and called his name Amman, saying, The son of my father. This is the father of the Ammonites to this present day.

day, as God commanded him. And Abram was a hundred years old when Isaac his son was born to him. And Sarhatt said, The Lord has made laughter for me, for whomsoever shall hear shall rejoice with me. And she said, Who shall say to Abram that Sarhatt suckles a child? for I have borne a child in my old age. And the child grew and was weaned, and Abram made a great feast the day that his son Isaac was weaned. And Sarhatt having seen the son of Agar the Egyptian who was born to Abram, sporting with Isaac her son, then she said to Abram, Cast out this bondwoman and her son, for the son of this bondwoman shall not inherit with my son Isaac. But the word appeared very hard before Abram concerning his son. But God said to Abram, Let it not be hard before thee concerning the child, and concerning the bondwoman; in all things whatsoever Sarhatt shall say to thee, hear her voice, for in Isaac shall thy seed be called. And moreover I will make the son of this bondwoman a great nation, because he is thy seed. And Abram rose up in the morning, and took his bow and arrows and of water and gave them to Agar, and he put the child on her shoulder, and sent her away, and she having departed wandered in the wilderness near the well of the oakh. And the water failed out of the skin, and she cast the child under a fir tree. And she departed and sat down opposite him at a distance, as it were a bow-shot, for she said, Surely I cannot see the death of my child: and she sat opposite him, and the child cried aloud and wept. And God heard the voice of the child from the place where he was, and an angel of God called Agar out of heaven, and said to her, What is it, Agar? fear not, for God has heard the voice of the child from the place where he is. Rise up, and take the child, and hold him in thine hand, for I will make him a great nation. And God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water springing, and she went and filled the skin with water, and gave the child drink. And God was with the child, and he grew and dwelt in the wilderness, and became an archer. And he dwelt in the wilderness, and his mother took him a wife out of Pharaoh of Egypt. And it came to pass at that time that Abimelech spoke, and Ochozarath his friend, and Phiphall the chief captain of his host, to Abram, saying, God is with thee in all things, whatsoever thou mayest do. Now therefore swear to me by God that thou wilt not injure my son, nor my name, but according to the righteousness which I have performed with thee shalt deal with me, and with the land in which thou hast sojourned. And Abram said, I will swear. And Abram reproved Abimelech because of the wells of water, which the servants of Abimelech took away. And Abimelech said to Abram, I know who has done this thing to thee, neither didst thou tell me, neither heard I it but only to-day. And Abram took sheep and calves, and gave them to Abimelech, and both made a covenant. And Abram set seven even...

saying, I have sworn by myself, says the Lord, because thou hast done this thing, and on my account hast not spared thy beloved son. 6 And surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand which is on the shore of the sea, and thy seed shall inherit the cities of their enemies. 7 And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed, because thou hast hearkened to my voice. 8 And Abraam returned to his servants, and they arose and went together to the well of the oath; and Abraam dwelt at the well of the oath. 9 And it came to pass after these things, that it was reported to Abraam, saying, Behold, Melchia herself too has born sons to Nachor thy brother, 10 and Bux his brother, and Camuel the father of the Syrians, and Chazad, and Azav and Phalades, and Jeldaph, and Bathuel, and Bathuel begot Rebecca. 11 These are eight sons which Melchia bore to Nachor the brother of Abraam. 12 And his concubine whose name was Rheuma, she also bore Taabe, and Taam, and Tochos, and Mocha. 13 And the life of Sarah was an hundred and twenty-seven years. 14 And Sarah died in the city of Arboc, which is in the valley, this is Hebron in the land of Channa; and Abraam came to lament for Sarha and to mourn. 15 And Abraam stood up from before his dead; and Abraam spoke to the sons of Chet, saying, I am a sojourner and a stranger among you, give me therefore possession of a burying-place among you, and I will bury my dead away from me. 16 And the sons of Chet answered to Abraam, saying, Not so, Sir, 17 but hearst thou and in the midst of us a king from God; bury thy dead in our choice sepulchres, for not one of us will by any means withhold his sepulchre from thee, so that thou shouldst not bury thy dead there. 18 And Abraam rose up and did observe the people of the land, to the sons of Chet. 19 And Abraam spoke to the sons of Chet, and said in your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight, hearken to me, and speak for me to Ephron the son of Sar. 20 And let him give me the double cave which he has, which is in a part of his field, let him give it me for the money it is worth for possession of a burying-place among you. 21 Now Ephron was sitting in the midst of the children of Chet, and Ephron the Chettite answered Abraam and spoke in the hearing of the sons of Chet, and of all who entered the city, saying, 22 Attend to me, my lord, and hear me, I give to thee the field and the cave which is in it; I have given it thee before all my countrymen; bury thy dead there. 23 And Abraam did obeisance before the people of the land. 24 And he said in the ears of Ephron before the people of the land, Since thou art on my side, hear me; take the price of the field from me, and I will bury my dead there. 25 But Ephron answered Abraam, saying, Nay, my lord, I have heard indeed, the land is worth four hundred silver didrachmas, but the land shall be added to thee, and the nay, do thou bury thy dead. 26 And Abraam 27...

hearkened to Ephron, and Abraham rendered to Ephron the money, which he mentioned in the ears of the sons of Chet, four hundred shekels of silver, according to the money of Chet.

And the field of Ephron, which was in Double Cave, which is opposite Mambre, the field and the cave, which was in it, and every tree which was in the borders, and whatever was in its borders round about, were made sure to Abraham for possession of a burying place, by the sons of Chet.

And Abraham was old, advanced in days, and the Lord blessed Abraham in all things.

And Abraham said to his servant the elder of his house, who had rule over all his possessions, Put thy hand under my thigh, and I will adjure thee by the Lord, the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, that thou take not a wife for my son Isaac from the daughters of the Chananites, with whom I dwell, in the midst of them. But thou shalt go instead to my country, where I was born, and to my tribe, and thou shalt take from thence a wife for my son Isaac.

And the servant said to him, Shall I carry back thy son to the land whence thou camest forth, if haply the woman should not be willing to return with me to this land? And Abraham said to him, Take heed to thyself that thou carry not my son back therither. The Lord the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, who took me out of the house of my father's house, and out of the land of my people, and who spake to me, and who sware to me, saying, I will give this land to thee and to thy seed, he shall send his angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife for my son from thence.

And if the woman should not be willing to come with thee into this land, thou shalt be clear from my oath, only carry not my son thither again. And the servant put his hand under the head of his master Abraham, and sware to him concerning this matter.

And the servant took ten camels of his master's camels, and he took all of the goods of his master with him, and he arose and went into Mesopotamia to the city of Nachor.

And he yrested his camels without the city by the well of water towards evening, when damsels go forth to draw water.

And he said, O Lord God, if thou wilt shew kindness and mercy to my master Abraham, prosper my way before me to day, and deal mercifully with my master Abraham.

Lo! I stand by the well of water, and the daughters of them that inhabit the city come forth to draw water. And it shall be, the virgin whomsoever I shall say, Incline thy water-pot, that I may drink, and she shall say, Drink thou, and I will draw thy water for thy camels also. And I will wash thy feet, and thou shalt rest a while.

And it came to pass before he had done speaking in his mind, that behold, Rebecca... the daughter of Bathuel, the son of Melea, the wife of Nachor, and the son of 20 the brother of Abram, came forth, having a water-pot on her shoulders. 16 And the virgin was very beautiful in appearance, she was a virgin, a man had not known her; and she went down to the well, and filled her water-pot, and came up to meet me, and said. Give me a little water to drink out of thy pitcher; 18 and she said. Drink, Sir; and she hastened, and let down the pitcher upon her arm, and gave him to drink, till he ceased drinking.
19 And she said, I will also draw water for thy camels, till they shall all have drunk.
20 And she emptied the water-pot into the trough, and ran to the well to draw again, and drew water for all the camels.
21 And the man took great notice of her, and remained silent to know whether the Lord had made his way prosperous or or not. 22 And it came to pass when all the camels ceased drinking, that the man took golden ear-rings, each of a drachm weight, and put the bracelets on her hands, their weight was ten pieces of gold. 23 And he asked her, and said, Whose daughter art thou? Tell me if there is room for us to lodge with thy father. 24 And she said to him, I am the daughter of Bathuel the son of Melea, whom she bore to Nachor.
25 And she said to him, We have both straw and much provender, and a place for resting.
26 And the man being well pleased, worshipped the Lord, and said, Blessed be the Lord God of my master Abram, who has not suffered his righteousness to fail, nor his truth from my master, and the Lord has brought me prosperous to the house of the brother of my lord. 27 And the damsel ran and reported to the house of her mother according to these words.
28 And Rebecca had a brother whose name was Laban; and Laban ran out to meet the man, to the well. 29 And it came to pass when he saw the ear-rings and the bracelets on the hands of his sister, and when he heard the words of Rebecca, speaking.
Thus the man spoke to me, that he went to the man, as he stood by the camels at the well. 30 And he said to him, Come in hither, thou blessed of the Lord, why standest thou without, whereas I have prepared the house and a place for the camels?
31 And the man entered into the house, and unloaded the camels, and gave the camels straw and provender, and water to wash his feet, and the feet of the men that were with him. 32 And he set before them loaves to eat;
but he said, I will not eat, until I have servants and servant-maids, camels, and asses. 34 And Sarrah my master's wife bore one son to my master after he had grown old; and he gave him whatever he had.

35 And my master caused me to swear, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife to my son of the daughters of the Canaanites, Abebra, and I did. 18 And the young man slowly went on the face of the earth, and 19 the Lord had made his way prosperous or
or not. 20 And it came to pass when all the camels ceased drinking, that the man took
golden ear-rings, each of a drachm weight,

And he said to him, Come in hither, thou blessed of the Lord, why standest thou without, whereas I have prepared the house and a place for the camels? And the man entered into the house, and unloaded the camels, and gave the camels straw and provender, and water to wash his feet, and the feet of the men that were with him. And he set before them loaves to eat; but he said, I will not eat, until I have told my errand. And he said, Speak on. And he said, I am a servant of Abram; and the Lord has blessed my master greatly, and he is, and he is, who has given his sheep, and calves, and silver, and gold, servants and servant-maids, camels, and asses. And Sarrah my master's wife bore one son to my master after he had grown old; and he gave him whatever he had. And my master caused me to swear, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife to my son of the daughters of the Canaanites, 38 in the evening, in the lorn; for I will become a great nation, and will be fruitful and multiply. And the lorn blessed Abraham, and enlarged both his heart and his soul; and he became very rich.

39 Then Abraham fell into a deep sleep, and the lorn appeared to him early in the morning, and said to him, 'I will give you a son from this woman, and you shall call his name Isaac. I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant for his offspring, after the manner of a covenant of circumcision.'

40 And Abraham would give up, and not be afraid to die. And the lorn said to Abraham, 'I will give you a son from this woman. And he will be your heir, and you will become a great nation. And through him I will establish my covenant.'

41 And Abraham took his son Isaac and went out to the place of sacrifice, that is, the mount of Moriah. And he took a ram, and offered it as a sacrifice. And the lorn said to Abraham, 'I will appoint a she-goat for a burnt offering, instead of your son.'

42 Then Abraham bowed himself with his face to the earth, and cried to the lorn and said, 'Let not my son be a burnt offering! I will appoint a she-goat for a burnt offering.'

43 And Abraham built an altar to the lorn, and laid his son Isaac upon the altar upon the wood, and he stretched out his hand and took the knife to slay his son. But the lorn called to Abraham, 'Abraham!' And he said, 'Here I am.'

44 The lorn said, 'Do not stretch out your hand against the boy. For he is my son, in whom I have great compassion. And the lorn will provide a sacrifice for himself.' And Abraham saw the lorn and the place where the lorn would provide a sacrifice for himself.

45 Then the lorn descended and, standing there with his face toward the earth, cried, 'Abraham!' And he said, 'Here I am.'

46 The lorn said, 'I will give you a son from this woman, and you shall call his name Ishmael. He will be a nation of great nations. And he shall be the father of twelve kings. And he shall live in his father's house, and shall be with me in my house as a stranger.'

47 Then the lorn said, 'Now you have come to see what I will do for you. And the lorn would give birth to a son to Sarah in her old age. And a son will be born to you in your house. And you shall call his name Isaac, for I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, for the offspring of Isaac.'

48 And Sarah said, 'But the lorn has even given birth to me this son at the age of ninety years, and my husband is a hundred years old. How is this possible?'

49 And the lorn said to Abraham, 'Do not be afraid. I will provide a son for you from your wife. And Sarah shall not be ashamed.'

50 And the lorn said to Abraham, 'As for Ishmael, I will bring salvation to your offspring through him. And he shall be a wild ass of a people, dwelling in the wilderness; and his hand shall be against every man, and every man's hand against him.'

51 Then Abraham took his son Isaac out of the city, both he and his servants, and went in the wilderness toward the lorn's commandment.

52 And he took the firewood and the two loaves of bread, and put them on the shoulders of his son. And he himself bore the lad in his arms; and he took the knife to slay him upon the altar. And they came to the place of sacrifice, which is called the mount of Moriah. And the lorn said, 'Abraham, Abraham!' And he said, 'Here I am.'

53 And the lorn said, 'Lay not your son Isaac upon the altar, nor offer him as a burnt offering! I will provide a lamb for the burnt offering.' And Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw a ram caught in the thicket by his horns. And he took the ram and offered it as a burnt offering in the place of his son.

54 And Abraham called the name of that place, 'The lorn is my shepherd.' For he said, 'Here I am, the lorn is my shepherd, I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul; he guideth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the lorn for ever.'
And Isaac went through the wilderness to the well of the vision, and dwelt in the land toward the south. And Isaac went forth to the plain toward evening to meditate; and having lifted up his eyes, he saw camels coming. And Rebecca lifted up her eyes, and saw Isaac, and she alighted briskly from the camel, and said to the servant, "Who is that man that walketh in the plain over against us?" And the servant said, "This is my master." And she took her veil and covered herself. And the servant told Isaac all that he had done. And Isaac went into the house of his mother, and took Rebecca, and she became his wife, and he loved her; and Isaac was comforted for Sarra his mother.

And Abraam again took a wife, whose name was Chettura. And she bore to him Zombran, and Jezan, and Madal, and Madiam, and Jescob, and Soie. And Jezan begot Saba and Dedan. And the sons of Dedan were the Assurians and the Latusians, and Laomim. And the sons of Madiam were Gepar and Aphir, and Knoch, and Abidea, and Eldaga; all these were sons of Chettura. But Abraam gave all his possessions to Isaac his son, and the camels of his concubines Abraam gave gifts, and he sent them away from his son Isaac, while he was yet living, to the east into the country of the east. And these were the years of the days of the life of Abraam as many as he lived, a hundred and seventy-five years. And Abraam falling died in a good old age, an old man and full of days, and was added to his people. And Abraam and Isaac his sons buried him in the double cave, in the field of Ephron the son of Saar the Chettite, which is over against Mamre: the field and the cave which Abraam bought of the sons of Chet; there they buried Abraam and Sarriah his wife. And it came to pass after Abraam was dead, that God blessed Isaac his son, and Isaac dwelt by the well of the vision. And these are the generations of Ismael the son of Abraam, whom Agar the Egyptian the hand-maid of Sarriah bore to Abraam. And these are the names of the sons of Ismael, according to the names of their generations. The firstborn of Ismael, Nebaioth, and Kedar, and Ard, and Nomel, and Mischma, and Misa, and Duma, and
And these are the generations of Isaac the son of Abraam. 2. Abraam begot Isaac. And Isaac was forty years old when he took to wife Rebecca, daughter of Bethuel the Syrian, out of Syrian Mesopotamia, sister of Laban the Syrian. 3. And Isaac prayed the Lord concerning Rebecca his wife, because she was barren; and the Lord heard him, and his wife Rebecca conceived in her womb. 4. And the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered, and she had twins in her womb. 5. And the first came out red, hairy all over like a skin; and she called his name Esau. 6. And after this came forth his brother, and his hand took hold of the heel of Esau; and she called his name Jacob. 7. And Isaac was sixty years old when Rebecca bore them. 8. And the lads grew, and Esau was a man skilled in hunting, dwelling in the country, and Jacob a simple man, dwelling in a house. 9. And Isaac loved Esau, because his venison was his food, but Rebecca loved Jacob.

And Jacob cooked pottage, and Esau came from the plain, fainting. 10. And Esau said to Jacob, Let me taste of that red pottage, because I am fainting; therefore his name was called Edom. 11. And Jacob said to Esau, Sell me this day thy birthright. 12. And Esau said, Behold, I am going to die, and for what good does this birthright belong to me? 13. And Jacob said to him, swear to me this day. 14. And he swore to him; and Esau sold his birthright to Jacob. 15. And Jacob gave bread to Esau, and pottage of lentiles; and he ate and drank, and he arose and departed; so Esau slighted his birthright.

And there was a famine in the land, besides the former famine, which was in the time of Abraam; and Isaac went to Abimelech the king of the Philistines to Gerara. 16. And the Lord appeared to him and said, Go not down to Egypt, but dwell in the land, which I shall tell thee of. 17. And sojourn in this land; and I will be with thee, and I will give thee and thy seed the land of this land; and I will establish my oath which I swore to thy father Abraam. 18. And I will multiply thy seed as the stars of heaven; and I will give to thy seed all this land, and the nations of the earth shall be blest in thy seed. 5 Because Abraham thy father hearkened to my voice, and kept my injunctions, and my commandments, and my ordinances, and my statutes. And Isaac dwelt in Gerara. 6 And the men of the place questioned concerning Rebecca his wife, and he said, She is my sister, for he feared to say, She is my wife, lest at any time the men of the place should slay him because of Rebecca, because she was fair. 7 And he remained there a long time, and Abimelech the king of Gerara leaned to look through the window, and saw Isaac sporting with Rebecca his wife. 8 And Abimelech called Isaac, and said to him, Is she then thy wife? why hast thou said, She is my sister? And Isaac said to him, I did so, for I feared, lest at any time they should slay him for Rebecca his wife. 9 And Abimelech charged all his people, saying, Every man that touches this man and his wife shall be made to die. 10 And Isaac sowed in that land, and he found in that year barley an hundred-fold, and the Lord blessed him. 11 And the man was exalted, and advancing he increased, till he became very great. 12 And he had cattle of sheep, and cattle of oxen, and many tilled lands, and the Philistines envied him. 13 And all the wells which the servants of his father had dug in the time of his father, the Philistines stopped them, and filled them with earth. 14 And he removed hence and dwelt in the valley of Gerara, and dwelt there. 15 And Isaac dig again the wells of water, which the servants of his father Abraam had dug, and the Philistines had stopped them, after the death of his father, for they said, Abraam was fair in the eyes of them. 16 And he sent away the servants of his father, the well which he named according to the names by which his father named them. 17 And the servants of Isaac dig in the valley of Gerara, and they found there a well of living water. 18 And the shepherds of Gerara strove with the shepherds of Isaac, saying that the water was theirs; and they called the name of the well, Infamy. 19 And having departed hence he dug another well, and they strove also for that; and he named the name of it, Enmit. 20 And he departed thence and dug another well; and they did not strive about that; and he named the name of it, Room, saying, Because now the Lord has made me room for us, and has increased our provision upon the earth. 21 And he went up thence to the well of the oath. 22 And the Lord appeared to him in that night, and said, I am the God of Abraam thy father; fear not, for I am with thee, and I will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for the sake of Abraam thy father. 23 And he built there an altar, and sperrma sou, δως τον αστέρα του ουρανού, δως τον σπέρματι σου πάντα την γη της γης. Αλλ' έκδησαν υπ' αυτούς του τόπου πετραί καὶ ελβουθητήκαν τα εν της σπέρματι σου πάντα της γης. Αλλ' έκδησαν υπ' αυτούς του τόπου πετραί καὶ ελβουθητήκαν τα εν της σπέρματι σου πάντα της γης. and called on the name of the Lord, and there he pitched his tent; and there Isaac dwelt as long as he lived in a valley of Gerar. 25 And Abimelech came to him from Gerar, and said, O Lord, he is my brother, and Phichol the commander-in-chief of my army. 26 And Isaac said to them, Wherefore have ye come to me, whereas ye hated me, and sent me away from you? 27 And they said, We have surely heard, that the Lord was with thee, and that he sent thee good in all that thou hast done; and we said, Let there be an oath between us, and between thee, and between us, and between our governors, that there shall not be any harm done to thee, and to our people, as we have not done, neither as we have seen thee do, and that as we have treated thee well, and as we have brought thee to safety, and have sent thee forth peaceably; and now thou art blessed of the Lord. 28 And he made a feast for them, and they ate and drank. 29 And they arose in the morning, and swore each to the other, and Isaac sent them forth; and they departed from him in peace. 30 And they went from Gerar to Gerar. 31 And Esau was forty years old; and he took as wife Judith the daughter of Beoch the Chettite, and Basemuth, daughter of Harag the Meunite. 32 And they were provoking to Isaac and Rebecca. And it came to pass after Isaac was old, that his eyes were dimmed so that he could not see; and he called Esau, his elder son, and said to him, My son; and he said, Behold, I am here. And he said, Behold, I am old now, and I cannot go to the field to take for you venison, 34 And Esau said to Jacob his younger brother, Take me some venison that I may eat, and I shall bless thee before the Lord. 35 And Jacob said to his father, Perhaps thou mayest curse me this day. 36 And he said, Shalt thou indeed curse me this day? and I shall have blessing from the Lord. 37 And Esau went tounto the field to procure venison for his father. 38 And Rebecca heard Isaac speaking to Esau his son; and Esau went to the plain to procure venison for his father. 39 And Rebecca said to Jacob her younger son, Behold, I heard thy father speaking to Esau thy brother, saying, Bring me venison, and prepare me meat, such as I like, and bring it to me, that I may eat, and bless thee before the Lord before I die. 40 And now thou, my son, do it for me, as I command thee. 41 And go to the cattle and take for me thence two kids, tender and good, and I will make them meats for thy father, as he liketh. 42 And thou shalt bring them in to thy father, and he shall eat, that thy father may bless thee before he die. 43 And Jacob said to his mother Rebecca, Esau my brother is a hairy man, and I am a smooth man. 44 Peradventure my father may feel me, and I shall be before him as one ill-intentioned, and I shall bring upon me a curse, and not a blessing. 45 And his mother said to him, On me be thy curse, son; only hearken to my voice, and go and bring them. 46 So he went and took and brought them to his mother; and his mother made meats, as his father liked them.

And Rebecca having taken the fine raiment of her elder son Esau which was with her in the house, put it on Jacob her younger son, and she put on his arms the skins of the kids, and on the bare parts of his neck. And she gave the meats, and the loaves which she had prepared, into the hands of Jacob her son. And he brought them to his father, and said, Father; and he said, Behold I am here; who art thou, my son? And Jacob said to his father, I, Esau thy son, am come; for I have done as thou hast told me: rise, sit, and eat of my venison, that thy soul may bless me. And Isaac said to his son, What is this which thou hast quickly found? And he said, That which the Lord thy God presented before me.

And Isaac said to Jacob, Draw nigh to me, and I will feel thee, son, if thou art my son Esau or not. And Jacob drew nigh to his father Isaac, and he felt him, and said, The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau.

And he knew him not, for his hands were as the hands of his brother Esau, hairy; and he blessed him, and said, Art thou my son Esau? And he said, I am thy son Esau, thy first-born.

And he said, I will eat of thy venison, son, that my soul may bless thee; and he brought it near to him, and he ate, and he brought him wine, and he drank. And Isaac his father said to him, Draw nigh to me, and kiss me, son. And he drew nigh and kissed him, and smelled the smell of his garments, and blessed him, and said, Behold, the smell of my son is as the smell of an abundant field, which the Lord hath blessed. And may God give thee of the dews of heaven, and of the fatness of the earth, and abundance of corn and wine.

And let nations serve thee, and princes bow down to thee, and be thou lord of thy brother, and the sons of thy father's sons bow down and serve thee. And Isaac blessed Jacob, and said, Jacob my son, bless me.

And he said, I pray thee, bless me, my son. And he said, Why do thou bless me, my son? And he said, Because the Lord thy God hath enabled me.

And it came to pass after Isaac had ceased blessing his son Jacob, it even came to pass, just when Jacob had gone out from the presence of Isaac his father, that Esau his brother came in from his hunting. And he also had made meat, and brought it to his father; and he said to his father, Let my father arise and eat of his son's venison, that thy soul may bless me. And Isaac said to his son, Who art thou, my son? And he said, I am thy first-born son, Esau.

And Isaac was amazement with very great amazement, and said, Who then is it that hath procured venison for me, and brought it to me? and I have eaten of all before thou camest, and I have blessed him, and he shall be blessed. And it came to pass when Esau heard the words of his father Isaac, he cried out with a great and very bitter cry, and said, Bless, I pray thee, me also, father. And he said to him, Thy brother came with wicked and took thy blessing. And he said, Rightly was his name called Jacob, for he hath taken my birthright, and now he has taken my blessing; and Esau said to his father, Hast

37 And Isaac answered and said to Esau, If I have made him thy lord, and have made all his brethren his servants, and have strengthened him with corn and wine, what then shall I do for thee, son?
38 And Esau said to his father, Hast thou only one blessing, father? Bless, I pray thee, me also, father.
39 And Isaac his father answered and said to him, Behold, thy dwelling shall be of the fatness of the earth, and of the riches of the same shall it be abundant.
40 And thou shalt live by thy sword, and shalt serve thy brother; and there shall be a time when thou shalt break and loosen his yoke from off thy neck.
41 And Esau was angry with Jacob because of the blessing of which his father blessed him; and Esau said in his mind, Let the days of my father's mourning draw nigh, that I may slay my brother Jacob. 42 And the words of Esau her elder son were reported to Rebecca, and she sent and called Jacob her younger son, and said to him, Behold, Esau thy brother threatens thee to kill thee. 43 Now then, my son, hear my voice, and rise and depart quickly into Mesopotamia to Laban my brother into Charran. 44 And dwell with him certain days, till thy brother's anger be pacified; 45 and depart from thee, and he forget what thou hast done to him; and I will send and fetch thee thence, lest at any time I should bereave of thee both in one day. 46 And Rebecca said to Isaac, I am weary of my life, because of the daughters of the sons of Chet; if Jacob shall take a wife of the daughters of this land, wherefore should I live?
And Isaac having called for Jacob, blessed him, and charged him, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of the Chanaanites. 52Rise and depart quickly into Mesopotamia, to the house of Bethuel the father of thy mother, and take to thyself a wife of the daughters of Laban thy mother's brother.
And may my God bless thee, and make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, and thou shalt become gatherings of nations. 54And may he give thee the blessing of thy father Abraham, even to thee and to thy seed after thee, to inherit the land of thy sojourning, which God gave to Abraham.
So Isaac sent away Jacob, and he went into Mesopotamia to Laban the son of Bethuel the Syrian, the brother of Rebekca the mother of Esau. 5And Isaac saw that Isaac blessed Jacob, and sent him away to Mesopotamia of Syria, as he blessed him, to take to himself a wife thence, and that he charged him, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of the Chanaanites; 7and that Jacob hearkened to his father and his mother, and went to Mesopotamia of Syria. 8And he sent him to seek a wife of the daughters of the Chanaan, before his father Isaac. 9And Esau went to Isaac, and took Maheleth the daughter of Ismael, the son of Abraam, the sister of Nebeth, a wife in addition to his other wives.
10 And Jacob went forth from the well of the oath, and departed into Charrhan.
11 And came to a certain place and slept there, for the sun had gone down; and he took one of the stones of the place, and put it at his head, and lay down to sleep in that place, 12and dreamed, and beheld a ladder fixed on the earth, whose top reached unto heaven, and the angels of God ascended and descended on it. 13 And the Lord 14stood upon it, and said, I am the God of thy father Abraham, and the God of Isaac; and Jacob said, I fear not, the land on which thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed. 15 And thy seed shall be as the sand of the earth, and it shall spread abroad to the sea, and the south, and the north, and to the east; and in thee and in thy seed shall all the tribes of the earth be blessed. 16 And behold I am with thee to preserve thee continually in all the way wherein thou shalt goe; and I will bring thee back to this land, for I will not desert thee until I have done that which I have said to thee.
17 And Jacob awoke out of his sleep, and said, The Lord is in this place, and I knew it not.
18 And Jacob rose up in the morning, and took the stone he had set it up as a pillar, and poured oil on the top of it. 19 And he called the name of that place, the House of God; and the name of the city before was Lum-luz. 20 And Jacob vowed a vow, saying, If the Lord God will be with me, and will guard me throughout this journey, on which I am going, and will keep me from evil,
and provide for my food and my clothing, then I will set up this stone as a pillar, and rampart me upon. 21 And he brought me in safety to the house of my father, and then shall the Lord be for God to me. 22 And this stone, which I have set up for a pillar, shall be to me a house of God; and of all whatsoever thou shall give me, I will tithe a tenth for thee.
23 And Jacob said, I now know that the Lord is greater than all the gods of my father, of the gods of Syria; and the brother of Rebecca, mother of Jacob and Esau. 24 And he looked, and beheld a well in the plain; and there were there three flocks of sheep resting at it, for out of that well they watered the flocks, but there was a great stone at the mouth of the well. 25 And there were all the flocks gathered together there; and he said, She is at hand that should roll away the stone from the mouth of the well, and water the flocks, and set the stone again in its place on the mouth of the well. 26 And Jacob said to them, Brethren, whence are ye? and they said, We are of Charrhan. 27 And he said to them, Know ye Laban, the son of Nachor? and they said, We do know him.
28And he said to them, This is my daughter with the sheep. 29And Jacob said, it is yet high day, it is not yet time that the flocks be gathered together; water ye the flocks, and depart and feed them.
30And they said, We shall not be able, until all the shepherds be gathered together, and they shall roll away the stone from the mouth of the well, then we will water the flocks.

9 And Laban was very wise to Jacob, saying, Wherefore thou hast not told me that thou wouldest take my sister for a wife? why didst thou not sanctify me thereby, that I should give thee as bride-price for thy sister? 10 And Jacob said, When I saw that thou wast very wise, and that thou hadst received thee the blessing of God alway: 11 And I said to myself, He will surely make me to escape as the latter gods have escaped me. 12 And present as he entered he kissed Rachel his sister, and kissed Leah, his sister, and blessed them, and went his way.

15 And Laban said to Jacob, Surely thou shalt not dwell for nothing, because thou bemost by my sister. 16 Tell me, I pray thee, wherein wilt thou servie? 17 And Jacob said unto him, I will serve thee for four years; and thou shalt give me back my wife again, that I may serve thee another four years for Rachel. 18 And Laban said, This is a favour made me of God, that I have another wife through thee. 19 And Laban gave Jacob Rachel his daughter for a wife. 20 Now Jacob loved Rachel more than Leah: and his favour was upon Rachel more than on Leah: and she bare him none; but Leah bare seven sons. 21 And Jacob took his farewell of his uncle Laban: and Jacob gave his wife Rachel and Leah, and their maid-servants. 22 Then Jacob blessed the gods before departing, saying, 23 The Lord hath shewed kindness to me, in the days wherein he dealt with me, according to all his works which he wrought for me, 24 Protecting me before the man of mine, and delivering me from all that Aaron hath done against me. 25 And now I am become fertile, and the Lord hath taken away my barrenness. 26 And Laban said to Jacob, Give me this day thy wages, because I have seen thy works. 27 And Jacob said, I will deal truly with thee according to all that thou hast done with me, 28 And I will deal truly with thee, and follow all that thou hast done with me, 29 And I will deal truly with thee, and follow all that thou hast done with me, and thou shalt give me all that thou hast done with me. 30 And thou shalt know when I have adduced my child, and when I have seen my child. 31 And Laban said, It is as I said: I will not deal falsely with thee. 32 And Jacob went out of the presence of Laban, and Jacob gave him his wages. 33 And Jacob took his flocks and his cattle, and all that he had, and returned into his own land, into the land of Canaan. 34 And it came to pass, when Jacob had made an end of blessing Laban, that Laban said to him, Take what I have given thee, and all that is thine own, and go thy way. 35 And Jacob said, I will not take aught; I will go my way, because I have seen all that thou hast done with me. 36 And Laban said, Call me not a thief, I have sinned; 37 And Laban said, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 38 And Laban said, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 39 And Laban said, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 40 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 41 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 42 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 43 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 44 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 45 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 46 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 47 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 48 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 49 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 50 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 51 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 52 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 53 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 54 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 55 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 56 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 57 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 58 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 59 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 60 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 61 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 62 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 63 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 64 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 65 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 66 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 67 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 68 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 69 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 70 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 71 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 72 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 73 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 74 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 75 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 76 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? and he answered, 77 And Laban answered, What shall I give thee? And Rachel, having perceived that she bore Jacob no children, was jealous of her sister; and said to Jacob, Give me children; and if not, I shall die. And Jacob was angry with Rachel, and said to her, Am I in the place of God, who has deprived thee of the fruit of the womb? And Rachel said to Jacob, Behold, my handmaid Balaam, go in to her, and shall bear upon my knees, and I also shall have children by her. And she gave her handmaid to Jacob, his own wife, to his wife; and Jacob went in to her. And Balaam, Rachel's maid, conceived, and bore Jacob a son. And Rachel said, God has given judgment for me, and hearkened to my voice, and has given me a son; therefore she called his name Dan. And Balaam, Rachel's maid, conceived yet again, and bore a second son to Jacob; and Rachel said, God has helped me, and I have prevailed over my sister; and she called his name Naphtali. And Lea saw that she ceased from bearing, and she took Zelpha her maid, and gave her to Jacob for a wife; and he went in unto her. And Zelpha the maid of Lea conceived, and bore Jacob a son. And Lea said, It is not for me, for the women have pronounced me blessed; and she called his name Asher. And Ruben went in the day of barley-harvest, and found apples of mandrakes in the field, and brought them to his mother Lea, and said to her, Give me of thy son's mandrakes. And Lea said, Is it not enough that thou hast taken my husband, wilt thou also take my son's mandrakes? And Rachel said, Not so: let him lie with thee to-night for thy son's mandrakes. And Jacob came out of the field at evening, and Lea went forth to meet him, and said to him, Thou shalt come in to me this day, for I have hired thee for thy son's mandrakes; and he lay with her that night. And God hearkened to Lea, and she conceived, and bore Jacob a fifth son. And Lea said, God has given me my reward, because I gave my maid to my husband; and she called his name Naphtali. And Lea conceived again, and bore Jacob a sixth son. And Lea said, God has given me a good gift in this time; my husband will choose me, for I have borne him six sons; and she called his name Zabulon. And after this she bore a daughter; and she called her name Dinah. And God remembered Rachel, and hearkened to her, and she conceived. And she conceived again, and bore a second son to Jacob; and she called his name Joseph. And she said, The Lord heard my crying, and took me my reward. And she conceived again, and bore a third son to Jacob; and she called his name Simeon. And she conceived yet again, and bore a son, and said, In the present time my husband will be with me, for I have borne him three sons; therefore she called his name Levi. And having conceived yet again, and bore a son, and said, This time will I give thanks to the Lord; therefore she called his name Judah; and ceased bearing.

And it came to pass when Rachel had born Joseph, Jacob said to Laban, Send me away, that I may go to my place and to my land. 24 Restore my wives and my children, for whom I have served thee, that I may depart, for thou knowest the service where with I have served thee. 25 And Laban said to him, If I have found grace in thy sight, I will augur well, for the Lord has blessed me at thy coming in. 26 Appoint me thy wages, and I will give them. And Jacob said, Thou knowest in what things I have served thee, and how many cattle of thine are with me. 27 For it was little thou hadst before my time, and it is increased to a multitude, and the Lord God has blessed thee since my coming; now therefore, shall I set up also my own house? 28 And Laban said, What shall I give thee? and Jacob said to him, Thou shalt not give me any thing; if thou wilt do this thing for me, I will again tend thy flocks and keep them. 29 Let all thy sheep pass by to-day, and separate thence every grey sheep among the rams, and every one that is speckled and spotted among the goats—this shall be my reward. 30 And my righteousness shall be in thee, and thou shalt not have any thing that is thine among the rams, and grey among the rams, shall be stoln with me. 31 And Laban said to him, Let it be according to thy word. 32 And he separated in that day the spotted and speckled he-goats, and all the spotted and speckled she-goats, and all that was grey among the rams, and every one that was white among them, and he gave them into the hand of his sons. 33 And he set a distance of a three days' journey between them and Jacob. And Jacob tended the cattle of Laban that were left behind. 34 And Jacob took to himself green rods of storax tree and walnut and planted them in white stripes; and as he drew off the green, the white stripe which he had made appeared alternate on the rods. 35 And he laid the rods which he had peeled, in the hollows of the watering-troughs, that whenever the cattle should come to drink, as they should have come to drink before the rods, the cattle might conceive at the troughs. 36 So the cattle conceived at the rods, and the cattle brought forth young speckled, and streaked and spotted with ash-coloured spots. 37 And Jacob separated the lambs, and set before the sheep a speckled ram, and every variegated one among the lambs, and he separated flocks for himself alone, and did not mingle them with the sheep of Laban. 38 And it came to pass when the cattle became pregnant, conceiving in the belly, Jacob put the rods before the cattle in the troughs, that they might conceive by the

And Jacob heard the words of the sons of Laban, saying, Jacob has taken all that was our father's, and of our father's property, he has given all this glory. And Jacob saw the countenance of Laban, and beheld it was not toward him as before. And the Lord said to Jacob, Return to the land of thy fathers and to thy family, and I will be with thee. And Jacob sent and called Lea and Rachel to the plain where the flocks were. And he said to them, I see the face of your father, that it is not toward me as before, but the God of my father was with me. And ye too know that with all my might I have served your father. But your father deceived me, and changed my wages for the ten lambs, yet God gave him not power to hurt me. If he should say thus, The speckled shall be thy reward, then all the cattle would bear speckled; and if he should say, The white shall be thy reward, then would all the cattle bear white. So God has taken away all the cattle of your father, and given them to me. And it came to pass when the cattle conceived and were with young, that I beheld with mine eyes in sleep, and beheld the he-goats and the rams leaping on the sheep and the she-goats, speckled and variegated and spotted with ash-coloured spots. And the angel of God said to me in a dream, Jacob; and I said, What is it? And he said, Look up with thine eyes, and behold the he-goats and the rams leaping on the sheep and the she-goats, speckled and variegated and spotted with ash-coloured spots; for I have seen all things that Laban doeth to thee. I am God that appeared to thee in the road of the land of Egypt, where thou hast served me, and I have said to thee, I will go to Laban. And Rachel and Lea answered and said to him, Have we got a part or inheritance in the house of our father? Are we not considered strangers by him? for he has sold us, and quite devoured our money. And the wealth and the glory which God has taken from our father, it shall be our's and our children's; now then do whatsoever God has said to thee. And Jacob arose and took his wives and his children up on the camels, and he took away all his possessions and all his store which he had gotten in Mesopotamia, and all that belonged to him, to depart to Isaac his father in the land of Chanaan. And Laban went to shear his sheep; and Rachel stole her father's images. And Jacob hid the matter from Laban the Syrian, so as not to tell him that he ran away. And he departed himself and all that belonged to him, and passed over the river, and went into the mountain.
22 And Rachel wept, and washed her face, and said unto her father, Why hast thou dealt so ill with thy servant? have I been seven years to serve thee, and hast not given me a maid's wages? Wherefore didst thou not think of giving me the bride price of my husband? 23 And Laban answered, Wast it not seven days' journey from thy father's house, that thou couldst not search my goods? 24 And Jacob said, Peradventure I have sinned in respect to the daughters of thy house: nevertheless here am I again, and will go my way. 25 And Laban lighted upon the gate of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

25 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 26 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 27 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

26 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 27 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 28 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

27 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 28 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 29 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

28 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 29 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 30 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

29 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 30 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 31 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

30 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 31 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 32 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

31 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 32 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 33 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

32 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 33 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 34 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

33 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 34 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 35 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

34 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 35 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 36 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

35 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 36 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 37 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

36 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 37 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 38 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

37 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 38 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 39 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

38 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 39 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 40 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

39 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 40 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 41 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.

40 And Jacob said, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, say, I pray thee, wherefore is this my dwelling place? 41 And Jacob came to Laban, and said, Laban, my father. 42 And Laban went to the image of his邑, and of thy father, and knew not what to say to all this.
And Laban answered and said to Jacob, The daughters are my daughters, and the sons my sons, and the cattle are my cattle, and all things which thou seest are mine, and the property of my daughters; what shall I do to them to-day, or their children which they bore? Now then come, let me make a covenant, both I and thou, and it shall be for a witness between me and thee. Behold, there is a divine pillar between me and thee. And Jacob having taken a stone, set it up for a pillar. And Jacob said to his brethren, Gather stones: and they gathered stones, and made a heap, and ate there upon the heap: and Laban said to him, This heap witnesses between me and thee to-day. And Laban called it, the Heap of Testimony: and Jacob called it, the Witness Heap. And Laban said to Jacob, Behold this heap, and the pillar, which I have set between me and thee; this heap witnesses before me, and this pillar witnesses; therefore its name was called, the Heap of Testimonies. And the vision of which he said—Let God look to it between me and thee; behold, if thou shalt humble my daughters, if thou shouldest take wives in addition to my daughters, see, there is no one with us looking on. God is witness between me and thee. And Laban said to Jacob, Behold this heap, and this pillar, which I have set between me and thee: this heap witnesses before me, and this pillar witnesses; therefore its name was called, the Heap of Testimonies. And the vision of which he said—Let God look to it between me and thee; behold, if thou shalt humble my daughters, if thou shouldest take wives in addition to my daughters, see, there is no one with us looking on. God is witness between me and thee.

And Jacob departed for his journey; and having looked up, he saw the host of God encamped; and the angels of God met him. And Jacob said, when he saw them, This is the Camp of God; and he called the name of that place, Encampments.

And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother to the land of Seir, to the city of Haran. And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye say to my lord Esau: Thus saith thy servant Jacob; I have sojourned with Laban, and tarried until now. And there were born to me ozen, and ass, and sheep, and men-servants and women-servants; and I sent to tell my lord Esau, that thy servant might find grace in the sight of my lord, and that I might stay, and that I might eat bread, and that I might drink water.

And Jacob was greatly terrified, and was perplexed; and he divided the people that was with him, and the cows, and the camels, and the sheep, into two camps. And Jacob said, If

10 And Jacob found a good place to encamp, and there let his flocks lie in the open air. 2 And he took of the stones of the place, and put them for his head forpillows, and lay down in that place to sleep. 3 And he dreamed, and, behold, a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold, the angels of God went up and down upon it. 4 And, behold, the Lord appeared unto him, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac: the same shall bless thee, and by thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. 5 And Jacob said unto him, O Lord God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, the Lord saidst unto me, I will make thee to dwindle, and will bring thee back to the land of thy fathers. 6 And I am not fit for the excellence of my fathers Abraham and Isaac, neither have I the righteousness of Jacob thy servant.

22 And Jacob rose up from thence, and pitched his tent beyond Jordan: and Jericho was near the camp. 23 And he took of the children of his flocks, and of his herds, and bestowed them unto Leah and to Rachel, and to the two Maidservants: 24 And he divided the flocks among Leah and Rachel, and among the two Maidservants. 25 And he set over all that he had one prince over the flocks of Leah, and over all that he had one prince over the flocks of Rachel, and over all that he had one prince over all his flocks. 26 And Jacob fed the herds that his father Isaac had, and the herds that Laban his mother's brother had: and youth of Israel, and dwelt with the children of his father's brother Laban. 27 And Laban went to tell Jacob his mother's brother, saying, What doest thou, that thou hast taken my sister? 28 And Jacob said, It is not so: from the very day that I went unto thee until this day, the cattle that I have kept have not been患病, and the she-goats which I have kept have not dropped; and all that pertained to Laban for his daughters, his cattle, remaineth. 29 For thus it was, that I removed from thence all the oxen that gave birth, and the she-goats that dropped, and saved the calves of the unviolated and the goats of the unviolated, that they should not feed upon my raiment. 30 Moreover, thou hast seen all that thy servant kept with thee: for there is none of all that pertained to thee which was wanting, and there are not any which fell back in the day of thy inspection: so shall God deal well with me for the goods of all that these cattle of mine gave birth to. 31 And it was so, that the creature which perished was eaten of my master's sons, and they had a bad word of me; but I kept all that pertained to thee, in order to have made up mine account before thee. 32 And Jacob answered Laban, and said, What shall I do more to thee, that thou shouldest speak this word unto me? 33 And Laban said unto Jacob, Wilt thou therefore give me thy daughter for to wife? 34 And Jacob answered, I will give thee the kit of sheep, and the kit of goats, and the fatlings of the bull and the fatlings of the she-goats, and of the milk of my herd and of my flock with me, of the increase which God hath given me; 35 But my gold and my silver let me keep for me; and whatsoever thou approvest of, give me for to wife, and I will give it. 36 And Laban said, I am satisfied; and Jacob gave on his wife Leah. 37 And Laban said unto Jacob, Give me this day thy daughter for to wife, and give me thy other daughter for to wife of my son; and I will give thee the sheep and the goats, and the fatlings of my cattle, and the fatlings of my flock with me. 38 And Jacob was content; and he gave on his wife Rachel. 39 And Laban said, Shall I give it thee for to wife? answer me, and I will give it. 40 And he answered, I will give it thee for to wife; if thou wilt accept me, let me have thy daughter for to wife. 41 And Jacob gave on his wife Bilhah. 42 And Laban said, Shall I give it thee for to wife? answer me, and I will give it. 43 And he answered, I will accept it; if thou wilt give me thy daughter for to wife. 44 And Jacob gave on his wife Zilpah. 45 And Laban said, Shall I give it thee for to wife? answer me, and I will give it. 46 And he answered, I will accept it; if thou wilt accept me, let me have thy daughter for to wife. 47 And Jacob gave on his wife Dinah. 48 And Laban said, Shall I give it thee for to wife? answer me, and I will give it. 49 And he answered, I will accept it; if thou wilt give me all that thou hast for to wife. 50 And Laban said, I will do it. 51 And to Laban the period of time that he gave unto Jacob, for all the goods which he had set his heart upon, from the day that hewent to Laban until the day that he departed from Laban: which Jacob had, was the day in which the children of Jacob went out from the house of Laban his father. 52 And Laban gave a present unto Jacob, and said unto him, Return unto thy father's land, and to thy kindred, and I will receive thee again. 53 And Jacob said unto him, I pray thee, suffer me to say a word more, and I will go away from thee. 54 And Laban said, Call me, if I have done thee any wrong, or if I have omitted anything of thy goods. 55 And Jacob answered, There is noBruh shine. 56 And Jacob said, I pray thee, suffer me to say a word more, and I will go away from thee. 57 And Laban said, Call me, if I have done thee any wrong. 58 And Jacob answered, If I have done thee any wrong, or if I have omitted anything of thy goods, let God judge me. 59 And Jacob came to his father Isaac at the city of Aram-naharai, the city of Nahor. 60 And he told his father, and his mother, and his sisters, all the things that the Lord had done with him. 61 And Isaac lived a hundred and thirty years. 62 And the days of Isaac were finished, and he gave up the ghost, and joined his fathers, being an hundred and eighty years old: and they mourned for him, and buried him in the cave of Machpelah, which Abraham bought for a buryingplace of the daughters of Heth. 63 And Esau and Jacob were carried away into the land of Egypt, because there was a famine in the land of Canaan.
he passed the Face of God; and he halted upon his thigh. 24 Therefore the children of Israel will by no means eat of the sinew which was benumbed, when Jacob did put the broad part of the thigh of Jacob—even the sinew which was benumbed. 25 And Jacob 26 lifted up his eyes, and beheld, and lo! Esau his brother coming, and four hundred men with him, and Jacob divided the children of Leah and to Rachel, and the two handmaidens, his children with the first, and Lea and her children behind, and Rachel and Joseph last. 27 But he advanced himself before them, and did reverence to the ground seven times, until he drew near to his brother. 28 And Esau ran on to meet him, and embraced him, and fell on his neck, and kissed him; and they both wept. 29 And Esau looked up and saw the women and the children, and said, What are these to thee? And he said, The children with which God hath mercifully blessed thy servant. 30 And the maid-servants and their children drew near and did reverence. 31 And Lea and her children drew near and did reverence; and after this drew near to Esau Rachel and Joseph last. 32 And he said, What are these to thee? And he said, The children with which God hath mercifully blessed thy servant. 33 And Jacob said, I have found grace in the sight of my lord, and I have all things, and he constrained him, and he took them. 34 And he said, Let us depart, and proceed right on. 35 And he said to him, My lord knoweth that the children are very tender, and the flocks and the herds with me are with young; if then I shall drive them hard one day, all the cattle will die. 36 Let my lord go on before his servant, and I shall have strength on the road according to the case of the journey before me, and according to the strength of the children, until I come to my lord to Seir. 37 And Esau said, I will leave with thee some of the people who are with me. And he said, Why so? it is enough that I have found favour before thee, my lord. 38 And Esau returned on that day on his journey to Seir. 39 And Jacob departed to his tents; and he made for himself there habitations for his cattle he made booths; therefore he called the name of that place, Booths. 40 And Jacob came to Salem, a city of Seirama, which is in the land of Chanaan, which he departed out of Mesopotamia of Syria, and 41 took up a position in front of the city. 42 And he bought the portion of the field, where he pitched his tent, of Emor the father of Sychem, for a hundred lambs. 43 And he set up there an altar, and called on the God of Israel.

And Esau lifted up his eyes, and saw them, and said, Behold, the children of Jacob are my children's children. 34 And he said, How have ye found grace in the sight of my lord? 35 And Jacob said, It is because I have found grace in the sight of my lord, in that I have seen the face of my lord, and heard the voice of my lord; 36 for why should I be dead, if my lord had not dealt so well with me? 37 And Esau said, Here is my land, my habitation, and my habitation's tents, and my dwellings, and my houses, and all that is in them, together with the women my lord brought with him. 38 And Jacob answered, And it is not enough, my lord, I have now found grace in the sight of my lord; in that I have seen the face of my lord in peace. 39 And let it please my lord, for he is too generous for me, let me now bring a little gift to my lord. 40 And Esau said, Why so? 41 and I said, It is because I have found grace in the sight of my lord. 42 And Jacob said, I will now put away my name, which is called Jacob, and I will be called Israel; for me hath God wrought, and I have seen the face of God, and I am enough. 43 And Esau said, Let me now give thee a blessing. And Jacob said, Doth thou still give me a blessing? I am too old for it. 44 But Esau pressed him, and said, Let me now give thee a blessing. And Jacob said, Swear to me first: and he said, I will swear. 45 And Jacob lifted up his head, and looked on Harley. 46 And Jacob said, I see thy face, in the face of my lord, and I see the face of God, and I am enough. 47 And Esau said, Let me now give thee a blessing. And Jacob said, Swear to me first. And he said, I will swear. And Jacob said, Swear by the fear of thy father Abraham. And he said, I will swear. 48 And Jacob lifted up his head, and looked on Harley. 49 And Jacob said, I see thy face, in the face of my lord, and I see the face of God, and I am enough.
And Dina, the daughter of Lea, whom she bore to Jacob, went forth to observe the daughters of the inhabitants. And Sychem the son of Enmor the Ἄντις, the ruler of the land, saw her, and took her and lay with her, and humbled her. And he was attached to the soul of Dina the daughter of Jacob, and he loved the damsels, and he spoke kindly to the damsels. Sychem spoke to Enmor his father, saying, ‘Take for me this damsel to wife.’ And Jacob heard that the son of Enmor had defiled Dina his daughter (now his sons were with his cattle in the plain). And Jacob was silent until they came. And Enmor the father of Sychem went forth to Jacob, to speak to him. And the sons of Jacob came from the plain; and when they heard, the men were deeply pained, and it was very grievous to them, because the man wrought folly in Israel, having lain with the daughter of Jacob, and so it must not be. And Enmor spoke to them, saying, Sychem my son has chosen in his heart your daughter; give her therefore to him for a wife, and intermarry with us. Give us your daughters, and take our daughters for your sons. And dwell in the midst of us; for you are good, and the land is spacious before you, dwell in it, and trade, and get possessions in it. And Sychem said to his father and to his brothers. I would find grace before you, and we will give whatever ye shall name. Multiply your demand of dowry very much, and I will give accordingly; as ye shall say to me, only ye shall give me this damsel for a wife.

And the sons of Jacob answered to Sychem and Enmor his father craftily, and spoke to them, because they had defiled Dina their sister. And Symeon and Levi the brothers of Dina, said to them, We shall not be able to do this thing, to give our sister to a man who is unreconciled, for this is a reproach unto us. Only on these terms will we consent to you, and dwell among you, if ye also will be as we are, in that every male of you be circumcised.

And we will give our daughters to you, and we will take of your daughters for wives to us, and we will dwell with you, and we will be as one race. But if ye will not hearken to us to be circumcised, we will take our daughter and depart. And the words pleased Enmor and Sychem the son of Enmor.

And the young man delayed not to do this thing, for he was much attached to Jacob’s daughter, and he was the most honourable of all in his father’s house. And Enmor and Sychem his son came to the gate of their city, and spoke to the men of their city, saying, ‘These men are peaceable, let them dwell with us upon the land, and let them trade in it, and behold the land is extensive before you, dwell in it, and take the daughters of your sons to wives, and we will give our daughters to you, and we will take our daughters.” Only on these terms will the men conform to us to dwell with us so as to be one people, if every male of us be circumcised, as they also are circumcised. And shall not their cattle and
herds, and their possessions, be ours?
o only in this let us conform to them and they will dwell with us. And all that went in at the doors of the city hearkened to Emomr and Sychem his son and they were circumcised in the flesh of their foreskin every male.
23 And it came to pass on the third day, when they were in pain, the two sons of Jacob, Symeon and Levi, Dina's brethren, took each man his sword, and came upon the city securely, and slew every male.
24 And Emomr and Sychem his son with the edge of the sword, and took Dina out of the house of Sychem, and went forth. But the sons of Jacob came upon you wounded, and ravaged the city wherein you had defiled Dina their sister.
25 And their sheep, and their oxen, and their asses took, and all things whatsoever were in the city, and whatsoever were in the plain.
And they took captive all the persons of them, and all their store, and plundered both whatever things there were in the city, and whatever things there were in the houses.
26 And Jacob said to Symeon and Levi, Ye have made me hateful so that I should be evil unto all the inhabitants of the land, both among the Chananites and the Pherificates, and I am few in number; they will gather themselves against me and cut me in pieces, and I shall be utterly destroyed, and my house.
27 And they said, Nay, but shall they treat our sister as an harlot?
And God said to Jacob, And go up to the place, Bethel, and dwell there;
and make there an altar to the God that appeared to thee, when thou fleddest from the face of Esau thy brother.
28 And Jacob said to his house, and to all that were with him, Remove the strange gods that are with you from among you, and purify yourselves, and change your clothes.
29 And let us go up to Bethel, and let us make there an altar to God who hearkened to me in the day of calamity, who was with me, and preserved me throughout in the journey, by which I went.
And they gave to Jacob the strange gods, which were in their hands, and the ear-rings which were in their ears, and Jacob hid them under the terebentine tree which is in Seimima, and destroyed them
this day.
30 So Israel departed from Seimima, and the fear of God was upon the cities round about them, and they did not pursue after the children of Israel.
31 And Jacob came to Luza, which is in the land of Channaam, which is Bethel, and all the people that were with him, and Jacob hid them under the terebentine tree which is in Seimima, and destroyed them
this day.
32 And Deborra, Rebecca's nurse, died, and was buried below Bethel under the Oak; and Jacob called its name, The Oak of Mannaed.
33 And God appeared to Jacob one more in Luza, when he came out of Mesopotamia of Syria, and God blessed him.
34 And God said to him, Thy name
GENESIS.

shall not be called Jacob, but Israel shall be thy name; and he called his name Israel.

And God said to him, I am thy God; increase and multiply, for nations and gatherings of nations shall be of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins. And the land which I gave to Abraam and Isaac, I have given it to thee; and it shall come to pass that thy seed shall possess it by the hand of thy seed after thee. And God went up from him from the place where he spoke with him. And Jacob set up a pillar in the place where God spoke with him, even a pillar of stone; and offered a libation upon it, and poured oil upon it. And Jacob called the name of the place in which God spoke with him, Bethel. And Jacob took from Bethel, and pitched his tent beyond the tower of Gader, and it came to pass when he drew nigh to Chabatha, to enter into Ephratha, Rachel travailed; and in her travail she was in hard labour. And it came to pass in her hard labour, that the midwife said to her, Be of good courage: for thy son is born. And she called the name of her son, for she said, Because the Lord has heard my exceeding roaring. And Rachel said, I have borne a son: and she called his name Dan. And she said, I shall be crowned with children; therefore she called his name Naphtali. And Rachel said, I have had a wonderful battle with my sister; and I have borne a son: therefore she called his name Ephraim. And Rachel said, I have borne a son to my father's house. And she said, Give me this young one also, for I have born him another son. And she said, discountenance of these two doth she call his name Manasseh: for God has made me forget him, in giving me another son. And she said, Let not God forget me: and she called his name Benjamin. And Rachel died; for she said, He has taken away my people. And Joseph was yet little, his elder brother was Ephraim. And his father brought him to his brothers. And his brothers saw him, and hated him, and they spoke against him, and said, Behold, this is our brother, and he is the son of our father. And his brother's names were Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Zebulun, and the sons of Simeon, and the sons of Levi. These were the generations of Jacob; twenty-two sons. And Jacob begat Joseph and Benjamin; and the sons of Joseph, Manasseh and Ephraim; and the sons of Benjamin, Bela and Becher, and Tahan and Zaccur, and Shimei. And the sons of Joseph, who were born to him in Egypt, were two sons: these were the generations of the two sons. And the sons of Levite thirty and two years old and upward, who were able to take up ark into service, and ministering, and to do all manner of service on the holy things, and to offer the burnt offering and sacrifice of the people, to make an atonement therefor; as each family took his charge, even so they took the charge of the house of their father. For they were kept in charge of the house of the Lord, and in charge of the charge of the house of God, which was in the charge of the Levites. And they had charge of all service in the house of the Lord; they and their fathers before them. And the sons of Levi were the priests, and the Levites were the Levites.

Joseph; and Jobab died; and Asom, from the land of the Themanites, reigned in his stead. 3 And Asom died; and Adam son of Barad, who cut off Madian in the plain of Moab, ruled in his stead; and the name of his city was Gathaim. 3 And the name of Messecce reign'd in his stead. 3 And Samada died; and Saul of Rhooboth by the river reigned in his stead. 3 And Saul died; and Ballenon the son of Achbor reign'd in his stead. 3 And Ballenon the son of Achbor died; and Arad the son of Barad reign'd in his stead; and the name of his city was Gathaim. 3 And his daughter was Merubah, daughter of Mathra, son of Maiozeb. 3 These are the names of the chiefs of Esau, in their tribes, according to their place, in their countries, and in their nations; chief Thamna, chief Gola, chief Jethar, 4 chief Oliba, chief Helam, chief Phinom, 4 chief Kenaz, chief Teman, chief Mazer, 4 chief Magedel, chief Saphin. These are the chiefs of Edom in their dwelling-places, in the land of their possession; this is Esau, the father of Edom.

44. And Jacob dwelt in the land where his father sojourned, in the land of Chanaan. And these are the generations of Jacob. And Joseph was seventeen years old, feeding the sheep of his father with his brethren, being young; and the sons of Bilhah, and with the sons of Zelpha, the wives of his father; 3 and Joseph brought to Israel their father their evil reproach. 3 And Jacob loved Joseph more than all his sons, because he was to him the son of old age; and he made for him a coat of many colours. 3 And his brethren having seen that his father loved him more than all his sons, hated him, and could not speak anything peaceable to him. 3 And Joseph dreamed a dream, and reported it to his brethren. 3 And he said to them, Hear this dream which I have dreamed. 3 I thought ye were binding sheaves in the middle of the field, and my sheaf stood up and was reaped, and your sheaves turned round, and did obeisance to my sheaf. 3 And his brethren said to him, Shall thou indeed reign over us, or shalt thou indeed be lord over us? And they hated him still more for his dreams and for his words. 3 And he dreamed another dream, and related it to his father, and to his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed another dream: as it were the sun, and the moon, and the eleven stars did me reverence. 3 And his father rebuked him, and said to him, What is this dream that thou hast dreamed? shall indeed both I and thy mother and thy brethren come and bow before thee to the earth? 3 And his brethren envied him; but his father observed the saying. 3 And his brethren went to feed the sheep of their father to Sychem. 3 And Israel said to Joseph, Do not thy brethren feed their flock in Sychem? Come, I will send thee to them; and he said to him, Behold, I am here. 3 And Israel said to him, Go and see if thy brethren and the sheep are well, and bring me word; and he sent him out of the valley of Chebron, and he came to Sychem. 15 And a man found him wandering in the field; and the man asked him, saying, What seest thou? 16 And he said, I am seeking my brethren; tell me where they feed their flocks. 17 And the man said to him, They have departed hence; I heard them saying, Let us go to Dothaim; and Joseph went after his brethren, and found them in Dothaim.

18 And they spied him from a distance before he drew nigh to them, and they wickedly took counsel to slay him. 19 And each said to his brother, Behold, that dreamer cometh.

20 Now then come, let us kill him, and cast him into one of these pits in the wilderness, but do not lay your hand upon him; that he might rescue him out of their hands, and say, We said evil; and we shall see what his dreams will be. 21 And Ruben having heard it, rescued him out of their hands, and said, Let us not kill him. 22 And Ruben said to them, Shed not blood; cast him into one of these pits in the wilderness. 23 And the men, the merchants of them, went by, and they drew and lifted Joseph out of the pit, and sold Joseph to the Ishmaelites for twenty pieces of gold; and they brought Joseph down into Egypt. 24 And Ruben returned to the pit, and saw not Joseph in the pit; and he rent his garments. 25 And he returned to his brethren, and said, The boy is not; and I, whither am I gone? 26 And having taken the coat of Joseph, they slew a kid of the goats, and stained the coat with the blood. 27 And they sent the coat of many colours; and they brought it to their father, and said, This have we found; know if it be thy son's coat or no. 28 And he recognised it, and said, It is my son's coat; an evil wild beast has devoured him; a wild beast has carried off Joseph. 29 And Jacob rent his clothes, and put sackcloth on his loins, and mourned for his son many days. 30 And all his sons and daughters gathered themselves together, and came to comfort him; but he would not be comforted, saying, I will go down to my son mourning into Hades; and his father wept for him. 31 And the Madianites sold Joseph into Egypt. 32 And Judas said to his brethren, What profit is it if we slay our brother, and conceal his blood? 33 Come, let us sell him to these Ishmaelites, but let not our hands be upon him, because he is our brother and our flesh; and his brethren hearkened. 34 And the merchants of them saw him, and drew him out of the pit, and said, We will take him and sell him to the Ishmaelites; and they were more numerous. 35 And they went to bring them to Egypt. 36 And Ruben said to his brethren, I will go down into the pit after him, and we will rescue him out of their hand, and smite him not. And his brethren consented. 37 And Joseph was thirty years old when they sent him from Shechem to Dothaim, to oversee their vineyards. 38 And the vineyards of them were in that land; and he had two wives. 39 And his name was Manasseh, the oldest; and his younger name was Efraim. 40 And Joseph went down into Egypt, and his brethren went after him, every man according to his hire. 41 And they went in the order of their artificers; and there were no in them of their brethren but as they were. 42 And to Joseph they said, Do thou, and tell us what is thy wisdom? And he said to them, I am a soothsayer. 43 And they said to him, Behold, thou seest my master's cup, and in every man of his cup I have set my ring. 44 And let a man take him, and let him be my lord's servant; and his ring shall I put in his hand, and let him be set as my lord's servant. 45 And he asked them, and said, Whence are ye? And they answered, We are of the land of Gilead. 46 And he said to them, You are strangers and sojourners with me; and where is the cup of my lord? And they said, We do not know; nor can we tell. 47 He said, Ye are strangers and sojourners; therefore ye must have told me all that ye do.
Egypt; to Petepheus, the eunuch of Pharaoh, captain of the guard.

And it came to pass at that time that Judas went down from his brethren, and came as far as to a certain man of the dolians, whose name was Iras. And Judas saw there the daughter of a Chananithian man, whose name was Sava; and he took her, and went in to her. And she conceived and bore a son, and called his name, Er. And she conceived and bore a son again; and called his name, Aunan. And she again bore a son; and called his name, Chasbi; and she was in Chabth when she bore them. And Judas took a wife for Er his first-born, whose name was Thamar. And Er, the first-born of Judas, was wicked before the Lord; and God killed him. And Judas said to Aunan, Go in to thy brother’s wife, and marry her as his brother-in-law, and raise up seed to thy brother. And Aunan, knowing that the seed should not be his, went to, when he went in to his brother’s wife, that he spilt it upon the ground, so that he should not give seed to his brother’s wife. And his doing this appeared evil before God; and he slew him also.

And Judas said to Thamar, his daughter-in-law, Sit thou a widow in the house of thy father-in-law, until Selom my son be grown; for he said, lest he also die as his brethren; and Thamar departed, and sat in the house of her father. And the days were fulfilled of her widowhood, and Sava the wife of Judas died; and Judas was informed, and he went to them that sheared his sheep, himself and his shepherds the Odalliamite, to Thamna. And it was told Thamar his daughter-in-law, saying, Behold, thy father-in-law goeth up to Thamna, to shear his sheep. And having taken off the garments of her widowhood from her, she put on a veil, and covered her face, and sat at the gates of Zenan, which is in the way to Thamna, for she saw that Selom was grown; but he gave her not to him for a wife. And when Judas saw her, he thought her to be a harlot; for she covered her face, and he knew her not. And he went out of his way to her, and said to her, Let me come in to thee; for he knew not that she was his daughter-in-law; and she said, What wilt thou give me if thou shouldst come in to me? And he said, I will send thee a kid of the goats from my flock; and she said, Well, if thou wilt give me an earnest, until thou send it. And he said, What is the earnest that I shall give thee? and she said, Thy ring, and thy bracelet, and the stuff in thy hand; and he gave them to her, and went in to her, and she conceived by him. And she arose and departed, and took her veil off from her, and put on the garments of her widowhood. And Judas sent the kid of the goats by the hand of his shepherd the Odalliamite, to receive the pledge from the woman; and he found her not. And he asked the men of the place, Where is the harlot that was in Zenan by the way-side? and they said, There was no harlot there. And he returned to Judas, and said, I have not found her; and the men of the place say, There is no harlot here. 2 And Judas said, Let her have them, but let us not be ridiculed; I sent this kid, but thou hast not found her. 3 And it came to pass after three months, that it was told Judas, saying, Thamar thy daughter-in-law has grievously played the harlot, and behold she is with child by whomsoever it was said, Brans and Judas said, Let her be burnt. 4 And as they were bringing her, she sent to her father-in-law, saying, I am with child by the man whose these things are; and she said, See whose is this ring and bracelet and staff. 5 And Judas knew them, and said, And if you do not bring her to me, I will bring her to you. 6 And it came to pass when she was in labour, that she also had twins in her womb. 7 And it came to pass as she was bringing forth, one thrust forth his hand, and the midwife having taken hold of it, bound upon his hand a scarlet thread, saying, This one shall come out first. 8 And when he drew back his hand, then the other immediately came forth. And she said, Why has the barrier been cut through because of thee? and she called his name, Phares. 9 And after this came forth his brother, on whose hand was the scarlet thread; and she called his name, Zara.

And Joseph was brought down to Egypt; and Potipher the eunuch of Pharaoh, the captain of the guard, an Egyptian, bought him of the hands of the Israelites, who brought him down thither. 2 And the Lord was with him, and he was a prosperous man; and he was in the house with his lord the Egyptian. 3 And his master knew that the Lord was with him, and the Lord prospered in all his possessions in the house, and in his field. 4 And he committed all that he had into the hands of Joseph; and he knew not of anything that belonged to him, save the bread which he himself ate. 5 And Joseph was handsome in form, and exceedingly beautiful in countenance. 6 And it came to pass after these things, that his master's wife looked upon Joseph, and said, Lie with me. 7 But he would not; but said to his master's wife, If because of me my master knows nothing in his house, and has given into my hands all things that belong to him: 8 and in this house there is nothing above me, nor has anything been kept back from me, but this only because thine own husband is not at home. 9 And she said, In this house he has no knowledge of any wicked thing, and sin against God? 10 And when she talked with Joseph day by day, and he heartened not to her to sleep with her, so as to be with her, 11 it came to pass on a certain day, that Joseph went into the house to do his business, and there was no one of

And she caught hold of him by his clothes, and said, Lie with me; and leaving his clothes in her hands, he fled, and went forth. And it came to pass, when she saw that he had left his clothes in her hands, and fled, and gone forth, that she called those that were in the house, and spoke to them, saying, See, he has brought in to us a Hebrew servant to mock us in our eyes, and to find something to mock me. And he cried, and said, Yea, Yea. And when he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried, having left his clothes with me, he fled, and went forth out. So she leaves the clothes by her, until the master came to his house. And she spoke to him according to these words, saying, The Hebrew servant, whom thou broughtest in to us, came in to me to mock me, and said to me, I will lie with thee. And when he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried, having left his clothes with me, he fled and departed forth. And it came to pass, when his master heard all the words of his wife, that she spoke to him, saying, Thus did thy servant to me, that he was very angry.

And the master took Joseph, and cast him into the prison; into the place where the king's prisoners are kept, there in the prison.

And the Lord was with Joseph, and poured down mercy upon him; and he gave him favour in the sight of the chief keeper of the prison. And the chief keeper of the prison gave the prison into the hand of Joseph, and all the prisoners as many as were in all the king's house, were in the hand of Joseph: and whatsoever he did was brought forth.

Because of him the chief keeper of the prison knew nothing, for all things were in the hand of Joseph, because the Lord was with him; and whatever things he did, the Lord made them to prosper in his hands.

And it came to pass after these things, that the chief cupbearer of the king of Egypt and the chief baker commuting against their lord the king of Egypt. And Pharaoh was wroth with his two eunuchs, with his chief cupbearer, and with his chief baker. And he put them in ward, into the prison, into the place whereinto Joseph had been led. And the chief keeper of the prison committed them to Joseph, and he stood by them; and they were some days in the prison.

And they both fell on their faces, and said unto Joseph, We are here fallen in according to our dreams. And there was no occasion in all their dreams: but there were there two men in one bed, and they dreamed according to their dreams.

And there were there also in the prison with Joseph, two sons of Egypt, one of whom was of seven years old, and the other was of three years old. And it came to pass on the seventh day, when Joseph was treading out the wine in the winepress, that the two sons of the vintager came and bowed themselves to Joseph.

And he lifted up his eyes, and said unto them, Behold, the dreams of my two sons, for we dreamed according to the dreams of our youth. And he told it his father, and his brethren, and his father's house.

And his father's house heard that his brethren came; and they fell down before him with their faces to the earth. And Joseph said unto his brethren, I am Joseph; do ye therefore to me as ye would that your father should do to you. And ye shall say unto my father, The boys have brought thee back again goodly fruit of the land; and, behold, also they have brought down my head in Egypt, and also my brother's head; and ye shall say unto my father, We pray thee, let my brother, I pray thee, remain with us, that we may be sure of him as of one of us; for we have brought him up together.
ripe. 11 And the cup of Pharaoh was in my hand; and I took the bunch of grapes, and squeezed it into the cup, and gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand. 12 And Joseph said to him, This is the interpretation of it. The three stems are three days. 13 Yet three days and Pharaoh shall remember my reproach; and he shall restore me to thee thy place of chief cupbearer; and thou shalt give the cup of Pharaoh into his hand, according to the former high place, as thou wast wont to be cupbearer. 14 But remember me of thyself, when it shall be well with thee, and thou shalt deal mercifully with me, and thou shalt make mention of me to Pharaoh, and thou shalt cause me to come forth out of this dungeon. 15 For surely I was stolen away out of the land of the Hebrews; and here I have done nothing, but they have cast me into this pit. 16 And the chief baker saw that he interpreted aright; and he said to Joseph, I also saw a dream, and methought that in the third day it was Pharaoh's birthday, and he made a banquet for all his servants, and he remembered the office of the cupbearer and the office of the baker in the midst of his servants. 17 And he restored the chief cupbearer to his office, and he gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand. And he hanged the chief baker, as Joseph interpreted to them. 18 Yet did not the chief cupbearer remember Joseph, but forgot him.

And it came to pass after two full years that Pharaoh had a dream. He thought he saw seven ears of corn, fair and choice, and they fed on the land. 2 And there came up as it were out of the river, seven cows, fair in appearance, and choice of flesh, and they fed on the sedge. 3 And seven other cows came up after these out of the river, ill-favoured and lean-fleshed, and fed by the other cows on the bank of the river. 4 And the seven ill-favoured and lean cows devoured the seven well-favoured and choice-fleshed cows; and Pharaoh awoke. 5 And he dreamed again. And, behold, seven ears came up on one stalk, choice and good. 6 And, behold, seven ears thin and blasted with the wind, grew up after them. 7 And the seven thin ears and blasted with the wind devoured the seven choice and full ears; and Pharaoh awoke, and it was a dream. 8 And it was morning, and his soul was troubled; and he sent and called all the interpreters of Egypt, and all his wise men; and Pharaoh related to them his dream, and there was no one to interpret it to Pharaoh. 9 And the chief cupbearer spoke to Pharaoh, saying, I this day remember my fault: 10 Pharaoh was angry with his servants, and put them in prison in the house of the captain of the guard of Pharaoh.

Pharao,

"And Joseph answered Pharaoh and said, Without God an answer of safety shall not be given to Pharaoh. "And Pharaoh spoke to Joseph, saying, In my dream methought I stood by the bank of the river; and there came up as it were out of the river, seven cows well-favoured and choice cows, and they fed on the sedge. "And behold seven other cows came up after them out of the river, evil and ill-favoured and lean and diseased, which did eat in all the land of Egypt. "And the seven ill-favoured and thin cows ate up the seven first good and choice cows. "And they went into their bellies; and it was not perceptible that they had gone into their bellies, and their appearance was ill-favoured, as also at the beginning; and after I awoke I slept, and saw again in my sleep, and as it were seven years came up on one stem, full and good. "And other seven ears, thin and blasted with the wind, sprang up close to them. "And the seven thin and blasted ears devoured the seven fine and full ears: so I spoke to the interpreters, and there was no one to explain it to me.
And Joseph said to Pharaoh, The dream of Pharaoh is one; whatever God does, he has shewn to me. "And the seven good years are seven years, and the seven good ears are seven years; the dream of Pharaoh is one.
And the seven thin kine that came up after them are seven years; and the seven thin and blasted ears are seven years; there shall be seven years of famine. "And as for the word which I have told Pharaoh, whatsoever God intends to do, he has shewn to Pharaoh; behold, for seven years there is coming great plenty in all the land of Egypt.
But there shall come seven years of famine after these, and they shall forget the plenty that shall be in all Egypt, and the famine shall consume the land. "And the plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of the famine that shall be after this, for it shall be very grievous. And concerning the repetition of the dream to Pharaoh twice, it is because the saying which is from God shall be true, and God will hasten to accomplish it. Now then, look out a wise and prudent man, and set him over the land of Egypt.
And let Pharaoh make and appoint local governors over the land; and let them take up a fifth part of all the produce of the land of Egypt for the seven years of the Genesis XLI. 35—57.

And let them gather all the food of these seven good years that are coming, and let the corn be gathered under the hand of Pharaoh; let food be kept in the cities. And the phrase shall be for the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt; and the land shall not be utterly destroyed by the famine.

And the word was pleasing in the sight of Pharaoh, and in the sight of all his servants.

And Pharaoh said to all his servants, Shall we find such a man as this, whom God has endowed with such wisdom and understanding? And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Since God has shewed thee all these things, there is not a wiser or more prudent man than thou. Thou shalt be over my house, and all my people shall be obedient to thy word; only in the throne will I excel thee.

And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Behold, I set thee this day over all the land of Egypt. And Pharaoh took his ring off his hand, and put it on the hand of Joseph, and put on him a robe of fine linen, and put a necklace of gold about his neck. And he mounted him on the second of his chariots, and a herald made proclamation before him; and he set him over all the land of Egypt.

And Pharaoh called the name of Joseph, Psonthomphanech; and he gave him Aseneth, the daughter of Petephres, priest of Heliopolis, to wife. And Joseph was thirty years old when he stood before Pharaoh, king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh, and went through all the land of Egypt. And the land produced, in the seven years of plenty, whole handfuls of corn. And he gathered all the food of the seven years, in which was the plenty in the land of Egypt; and he laid up the food in the cities; the food of the fields of a city round about it he laid up in it. And Joseph gathered very much corn as the sand of the sea, until it could not be numbered, for there was no number of it.

And to Joseph were born two sons, before the seven years of famine came, which Aseneth, the daughter of Petephres, priest of Heliopolis, bore to him. And Joseph called the name of the first-born, Manasse; for God, said he, has made me forget all my toils, and all my father's house. And he called the name of the second, Ephraim; for God, said he, has increased me in the land of my humiliation. And the seven years of plenty passed away, which were in the land of Egypt. And the seven years of famine came, as Joseph said; and there was a famine in all the land; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread.

And Pharaoh said to all the Egyptians, Go to Joseph, and do whatsoever he shall tell you. And the famine was on the face of all the earth; and Joseph gave all the granaries, and sold to all the Egyptians. And all countries came to Egypt to buy of Joseph, for the famine prevailed in all the earth.
And Jacob having seen that there was a sale of corn in Egypt, said to his sons. Why are ye indolent? Behold, I have heard that there is corn in Egypt; go down thither, and buy for us a little food, that we may live, and not die.

And the ten brethren of Joseph went down to buy corn out of Egypt. But Jacob sent not Benjamin, the brother of Joseph, with his brethren; for he said, Lest, haply, disease befall him. And the sons of Israel came to buy with those that came, for the famine was in the land of Chanaan. And Joseph was ruler of the land; he sold to all the people of the land. And the brethren of Joseph, having come, did reverence to him, bowing with the face to the ground. And when Joseph saw his brethren, he knew them, and estranged himself from them, and spoke hard words to them; and said to them, Whence are ye come? And they said, Out of the land of Chanaan, to buy food. And Joseph knew his brethren, but they knew him not. And Joseph remembered his dream, which he saw; and he said to them, Ye are spies; to observe the marks of the land are ye come. But they said, Nay, Sir, we thy servants are come to buy food; we are all sons of one man; we are peaceable, thy servants are not spies. And he said to them, Nay, but ye are come to observe the marks of the land. And they said, We, thy servants are twelve brethren; the youngest is with our father to-day, but the other one is not. And Joseph said to them, This is it that I spoke to you, saying, ye are spies; herein shall ye be manifested; by the health of Pharaoh, ye shall not depart hence, unless your youngest brother come hither. Send one of you, and take, and go ye to prison, till your words be clear. And speak the truth or not; but, if not, by the health of Pharaoh, verily ye are spies. And he put them in prison three days. And he said to them on the third day, This do, and ye shall live, for I Fear God. If ye be peaceable, let one of your brethren be detained in prison; but go ye, and carry back the corn ye have purchased. And bring your youngest brother to me, and your words shall be believed; but, if not, ye shall die. And they did so. And each said to his brother, Yes, indeed, for we are in fault concerning our brother, when we disregarded the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we hearkened not to him; and therefore has this affliction come upon us. And Ruben answered them, saying, Did I not speak to you, saying, Hurt not the boy, and ye heard me not? and, behold, his blood is required. But they knew not that Joseph understood them; for there was an interpreter between them. And Joseph turnd away from them, and wept; and again he came to them, and spoke to them; and he took Symeon from them, and bound him before their eyes.

And Joseph gave orders to fill their vessels with corn, and to return their money to each into his sack, and to give them provision for the way; and it was so done to them. And having put the corn on the asses, they departed thence. And one having opened his sack to give his asses fodder, at the place where they rested, saw also his bundle of money in the mouth of his sack. And he said to his brethren, My money has been restored to me, and behold this is in my sack. And their heart was wonder-struck, and they were troubled, saying one to another, What is this that God has done to us? And they came to their father, Jacob, into the land of Canaan, and reported to him all that had happened to them, saying, The man, the lord of the land, spoke harsh words to us, and put us in prison as spies of the land. And we said to him, We are men of peace, we are not spies. We are twelve brethren, sons of our father; one is not, and the youngest is with his father to-day in the land of Canaan; the man, the lord of the land, said to us, Herein shall I know that ye are peaceable; leave one brother here with me, and having taken the corn ye have purchased for your family, depart. And bringing me your younger brother; then shall I know that ye are not spies, but that ye are men of peace: and I will restore you your brother, and ye shall trade in the land. And it came to pass as they were emptying their sacks, there was each one's bundle of money in his sack; and they and their father saw their bundles of money, and they were afraid. And their father Jacob said to them, Ye have bereaved me, Joseph is not, Symeon is not, and will ye take Benjamin? all these things have come upon me. And Ruben spoke to his father, saying, Slay my two sons, if I bring him not to thee; give him into my hand, and I will bring him back to thee. But he said, My son shall not go down with you, because his brother is dead, and he only has been left; and suppose it shall come to pass that he is afflicted by the way by which ye go, then ye shall bring down my old age with sorrow to Hades.

But the famine prevailed in the land. And it came to pass, when they had finished eating the corn which they had brought out of Egypt, that their father said to them, Go again; buy us a little food. And Judas spoke to him, saying, The man, the lord of the country, positively testified to us, saying, Ye shall not see my face, unless your youngest brother be with you. If, then, thou send our brother with us, we will go down, and buy thee food; but if thou send not our brother with us, we will not go: for the man, speaking in ithe mouth of his sack, shall not see my face, unless your younger brother be with you. And Israel said, Why did ye harm me, inasmuch as ye told the man that ye had a brother? And they said, The man closely questioned us about our family also, saying, Does your father yet live, and have ye a brother? and we answered him according to this question; did we know that he would say to us, Bring your brother?
And Judas said to his father Israel, Send the boy with me, and we will arise and go, that we may live and not die, both we and thou, and our store. 3 And I engage for him; at my hand do thou require him; and I bring him not to thee, and place him before thee, I shall be guilty toward thee for ever. 4 For if we had not tarried, we should now have returned twice. 5 And Israel, their father, said to them, If it be so, do this; take of the fruits of the earth in your vessels, and carry down to the man presents of gum and honey, and frankincense, and stacte, and turpentine, and aloes. 6 And take double money in your hands, and the money that was returned in your sacks, carry back with you, lest peradventure it is a mistake. 7 And take your brother; and arise, go down to the man. 8 And my God give you favour in the sight of the man, and send away your brother, and Benjamin, for I accordingly as I have been bereaved, am bereaved.

15 And the men having taken these presents, and the double money, took in their hands also Benjamin; and they rose up and went down to Egypt, and stood before Joseph. 16 And Joseph saw them, and his brother Benjamin, born of the same mother; and he said to the steward of his household, Bring the men into the house, and slay beasts and make ready, for the men are to eat bread with me at noon. 17 And the man did as Joseph said; and he brought the men into the house of Joseph. 18 And the men, when they perceived that they were brought into the house of Joseph, said, We are brought in because of the money that was returned in our sacks at the first; even in order to inform against us, and lay it to our charge; to take us for servants, and our asses.

19 And having approached the man who was over the house of Joseph, they spoke to him in the porch of the house, saying, We pray thee, Sir; we came down at first to buy food; 20 and it came to pass, when we came to unloose, and opened our sacks, there was also this money of each in his sack; we have now brought back our money by weight in our hands. 21 And we have brought other money with us to buy food; we know not who put the money into our sacks. 22 And he said to them, God deal mercifully with you; be not afraid; your God, and the God of your fathers, has given you treasures in your sacks, and I have enough of your good money. 23 And he brought Simeon out to them. 24 And he brought water to wash their feet; and gave provender to their asses. 25 And they prepared their gifts, until Joseph came at noon, for they heard that he was going to dine there. 26 And Joseph entered into the house, and they brought the gifts that they had in their hands, into the house; and they did him reverence with their face to the ground. 27 And he asked them, How are ye? and he said to them, Is your father, the old man of whom ye spoke, well? Does he yet live? 28 And they said, Thy servant our father is well; he is yet alive. And he said, Blessed be that man by God, and they bowed down, and did him reverence. 29 And Joseph said, Even if it be as ye say; he is my brother Benjamin, born of the same mother; and he said, Is this your younger brother, whom ye spoke of bringing to me? and he said, God have mercy on thee, my son. 30 And Joseph was troubled, for his bowels yearned over his brother, and he sought to weep; and he went into his chamber, and wept there.

31 And he washed his face, and came out, and refrained himself, and said, Set on bread, and they set on bread for him alone, and for them by themselves, and for the Egyptians feasting with him by themselves, for the Egyptians could not eat bread with the Hebrews, for it is an abomination to the Egyptians. 32 And they sat before him, the first-born according to his seniority, and the younger according to his youth; and the men looked with amazement every one at his brother. 33 And they took their portions from him to themselves; but Benjamin's portion was five times as much as the portions of the others. And they drank and were filled with drink with him. 34 And Joseph charged the steward of his house, saying, Fill the men's sacks with bread, as much as they can carry, and put the money of each in the mouth of his sack. 35 And put my silver cup into the sack of the youngest, and the price of his corn. And it was done according to the word of Joseph, as he said. 36 The morning dawned, and the men were sent away, they and their asses. 37 And when they had gone out of the city, and were not far off, then Joseph said to his steward, Arise, and pursue after the men; and thou shalt overtake them, and say to them, Why have ye returned evil for good? 38 Why have ye returned evil for good? Is it not this out of which my lord drinks? and he divines augury with it; ye have accomplished evil in that which ye have done. 39 And he found them, and spoke to them according to these words. 40 And they said to him, Why does our lord speak according to these words? for be it far from thy servants to do such a thing. 41 If we brought back to thee out of the land of Chanaan the money which we found in our sacks, how should we steal silver or gold out of the house of thy lord? 42 With whosoever of thy servants thou shalt find the cup, let him die; and, and, moreover, we will be servants to our lord. 43 And he said, Now then it shall be as ye say; with whosoever of the cup shall be found, he shall be my servant, and ye shall be clear. 44 And they hasted, and took down every man his sack on the ground, and they opened every man his sack. 45 And he searched, beginning from the eldest, until he came to the youngest; and he found the cup in Benjamin's sack. 46 And they rent their garments, and laid each man his sack on his ass, and returned to the city.
And Judas and his brethren came in to Joseph, while he was yet there, and fell on the ground before him. And Joseph said to them, What is this thing that ye have done? know ye not that a man such as I can surely divine? And Judas said, What shall we answer to our lord, or what shall we say, or wherein should we be justified, whereas God has discovered the unrighteousness of thy servants; behold, we are slaves to our lord, both we and he with whom the cup has been found. And Joseph said, Far be it from me to do such thing, the man with whom the cup has been found, shall be my servant; but do ye go up with safety to your father. And Judas drew near him, and said, I pray, Sir, let thy servant speak a word before thee, and be not angry with thy servant, for thou art next to Pharao. Sir, thou askdest thy servants, saying, Have ye a father or a brother? And we said to my lord, We have a father, an old man, and he has a son of his old age, a young one, and his brother is dead, and he alone has been left behind to his mother, and his father loves him. And thou saidst to thy servants, Except your younger brother come down with you, ye shall not see my face again. And it came to pass, when we went up to thy servant our father, we reported to him the words of our lord. And our father said, Go again, and buy us a little food. And we said, We shall not be able to go down; but if our younger brother go down with us, we will go down; for we shall not be able to see the man's face, our younger brother not being with us. And thy servant our father said to us, Ye know that my wife bore me two sons; and one is departed from me; and ye said that he was devoured of wild beasts, and I have not seen him until now. If then ye take this one away from me, and an affliction happen to him by the way, then shall ye bring down my old age with sorrow to the grave. Now then, if I should go in to thy servant, and our father, and the boy should not be with us, (and his life depends on this lad's life)—it shall even come to pass, when he sees the boy is not with us, that he will die, and thy servants will bring down the old age of our father, and our father, with sorrow to the grave.

For thy servant has received the boy in charge from his father, saying, If I bring him not to thee, and place him before thee, I shall be guilty towards my father for ever.

Now then, I will remain a servant with thee instead of the lad, a domestic of my lord; but she and her brethren.

For how shall I go up to my father, the lad not being with us? lest I behold the evils which will befal my father. And Joseph could not refrain himself when all were standing by him, but said, Dismiss all from me; and no one stood near Joseph, when he made himself known to his brethren. And he uttered his voice with weeping; and all the Egyptians heard, and it was reported to the house of Pharaoh.  2And Joseph said to his brethren, I am Joseph; doth my father yet live? And his brethren could not answer him, for they were troubled.  3And Joseph said to his brethren, Draw nigh to me; and they drew nigh; and he said, I am your brother Joseph, whom ye sold into Egypt.  4Now then be not grieved, and let it not seem hard to you that ye sold me hither; for God sent me before you to preserve life.  5For this second year there is famine on the earth, and there are yet five years remaining, in which there is to be no neither ploughing, nor mowing.  6For God sent me before you, that there might be left to you a remnant upon the earth, even to nourish a great remnant of you.  7Now then ye did not send me hither, but God; and he hath made me as a father of Pharaoh, and lord of all his house, and ruler of all the land of Egypt.  8Hasten, therefore, and go up to my father, and say to him, These are your brethren, the remnant of the family of Joseph; God hath made me lord of all the land of Egypt; come down to me, and tarry not.  9And thou shalt say to my father, thus saith thy son Joseph, God hath made me lord of all the land of Egypt; come down to me, for thus saith thy son Joseph, God hath made me lord of all the land of Egypt.  10And he said, I will go, and I will come down to thee to my father, and will speak unto him, and if it be well with him, speak also unto the king of Egypt, and say unto him, I beseech thee, let my brother Benjamin come down with me;  11And I will nourish thee there: for the famine is yet for five years; lest thou be consumed, and thy sons, and all thy possessions.  12Behold, thy eyes see, and the eyes of my brethren, Benjamin, that it is my mouth that speaks to you.  13Report, therefore, to my father all my glory in Egypt, and all things that ye have seen, and make haste and bring down my father hither.  14And he fell on his brother Benjamin's neck, and wept on him; and Benjamin wept on his neck.  15And he kissed all his brethren, and wept upon them: and after those things his brethren spoke to him.  16And the report was carried into the house of Pharaoh, saying, Joseph's brethren are come; and Pharaoh was glad, and his household.  17And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Say to thy brethren, Do this; fill your wagons, and depart into the land of Chanaan.  18And take up your father, and your possessions, and come to me; and I will give you of all the goods of Egypt, and ye shall eat the marrow of the land.  19And do thou charge them thus; that they should take for them wagons out of the land of Egypt, for your little ones, and for your wives; and take up your father, and come.  20And be not sad at to go, for all the good of Egypt shall be yours.  21And the children of Israel did so; and Joseph gave to them wagons according to the words spoken by king Pharaoh; and he gave them provision for the journey.  22And he gave to them all two sets of raiment apiece; but to Benjamin he gave three hundred pieces of silver, yet live.  23And to his father he sent presents at the same rate, and ten asses, bearing some of all the good things of Egypt, and ten mules, bearing bread for his father for thy journey.  24And he sent away his brethren, and they went; and he said to them, Be not angry by the way.  25And they went up out of Egypt, and came into the land of Chanaan, to Jacob their father. 8 And they reported to him, saying, The sons of Joseph are living; and he is ruler over all the land of Egypt; and Jacob was amazed, for he did not believe them. 7 But they spoke to him all the words uttered by Joseph, whatsoever he said to them; and having seen the chariots which Joseph sent to take him up, the spirit of Jacob their father revived. 8 And Israel said, It is a great thing for me if Joseph my son is yet alive; I will go and see him before I die.

And Israel departed, and he and all that he had, and came to the well of the oath; and he offered sacrifice to the God of his father Isaac. 2 And God spoke to Israel in a night vision, saying, Jacob, Jacob; and he said, What is it? 3 And he says to him, I am the God of thy fathers; fear not to go down into Egypt, for I will make thee there a great nation. 4 And I will go down with thee into Egypt, and I will bring thee up at the end; and Joseph shall put his hands on thine eyes.

5 And Jacob rose up from the well of the oath; and the sons of Israel took up their father, and the baggage, and their livestock, and all their property, which they had gotten in the land of Chanaan; they came into the land of Egypt, Jacob, and all his seed with him. 6 The sons, and the sons of his sons with him; his daughters, and the daughters of his daughters; and he brought all his seed into Egypt. 7 And these are the names of the sons of Israel that went into Egypt, with their father Jacob—Jacob and his sons. The first-born of Jacob, Ruben. 8 And the sons of Ruben; Enoch, and Phallus, and Arvon, and Charn. 9 And the sons of Symeon; Jemuel, and Jamin, and Aod, and Achin, and Saur, and Saul, the son of a Chanaanish woman. 10 And the sons of Levi; Gerson, and Cath, and Merari. 11 And the sons of Judas; Ezer, and Ammus, and Selom, and Phares, and Arise, and Ebe, and Shefat, the son of a Chanaan woman. 12 And the sons of Phares were Eron, and Jemuel, and the sons of Issachar; Thola, and Phua, and Asum, and Sambran. 13 And the sons of Zabulun, Sered, and Alon, and Achoel. 14 These are the sons of Lea, which she bore to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, and Dina his daughter, and all the souls and daughters, thirty-three. 15 And the sons of Gad; Saphon, and Angis, and Sannis, and Thasoban, and Aedis, and Areedis, and Arecollis. 16 And the sons of Aser; Jemna, Jessua, and Jeul, and Baria, and Sara their sister. 17 And the sons of Baria; Choborr, and Melchih. 18 These are the sons of Zelph, which Laban gave to his daughter Lea, who bore these to Jacob, sixteen souls. 19 And the sons of Rachel, the wife of Jacob; Joseph, and Benjamin. 20 And there were sons born to Joseph in the land of Egypt, whom Aseneth, the daughter of Petephres, priest of Heliopolis, bore to him, even Manasses and Ephraim. And there were sons born to Manasses, which the Syrian concubine bore to him, even Machir. And Machir begot Ga-
Sutalaam, and the sons of Ephraim, the brother of Manasses; Sutalaam, and Taam. And the sons of Sutalaam; Edom. 21 And the sons of Benjamin; Bala, and Bochor, and Asbel. And the sons of Bala were Gera, and Noeman, and Anchis, and Ros, and Manhum. And Gera begot Arud. 22 These are the sons of Rachel, which she bore to Jacob; all the souls eighteen. 23 And the sons of Dan; Asom. 24 And the sons of Nephthali; Asiel, and Goni, and Issuar, and Sollon. 25 These are the sons of Bala, whom Laban gave to his daughter Rachel, which he bore to her; and he begot Arud, all the souls seven. 26 And all the souls that came with Jacob into Egypt, who came out of his loins, besides the wives of the sons of Jacob, even all the souls were sixty-two. 27 And the sons of Joseph, who were born to him in the land of Egypt, were nine souls; all the souls of the house of Jacob who came with Joseph into Egypt, were seventy-five souls.

And he sent Judas before him to Joseph, to meet him to the city of Ægypt, into the land of Ramses. 29 And Joseph having made ready his chariots, went up to meet Israel his father; at the city of Heroes; and looking appeared to him, fell on his neck, and wept with a subduant weeping. 30 And Israel said to Joseph, After this I will gladly die, since I have seen thy face, for thou art yet living. 31 And Joseph said to his brethren, I will go up and tell Pharao, and will say to him, My brethren, and my father's house, who were in the land of Chanaan, are come to me. 32 And the men are shepherds; for they have been feeders of cattle; and they have brought with them their cattle, and their kine, and all their property. 33 If then Pharao call you, and say to you, What is your occupation? 34 Ye shall say, We thy servants are herdsmen from our youth until now, both we and our fathers: that ye may dwell in the land of Gesem of Arabia; for every shepherd is an abomination to the Egyptians.

And Joseph came and told Pharao, saying, My father, and my brethren, and their cattle, and their oxen, and all their possessions, are come out of the land of Chanaan, and, behold, they are in the land of Gesem. 2 And he took of his brethren five men, and set them before Pharao. 3 And Pharao said to the brethren of Joseph, What is your occupation? and they said to Pharao, Thy servants are shepherds, both we and our fathers. 4 And they said to Pharao, We are come to sojourn in the land, for there is no pasture for the flocks of thy servants, for the famine has prevailed in the land of Chanaan; now then, we will dwell in the land of Gesem. 5 And Pharao said to Joseph, Let them dwell in the land of Gesem; and if thou knowest that there are among them able men, make them overseers of my cattle. So Jacob and his sons came into Egypt, to Joseph; and Pharao, king of Egypt, heard of it. 6 And Pharao spoke to Joseph, saying, Thy father, and thy brethren, are come to thee. 7 Behold, the land of Egypt is before thee; settle thy father and thy brethren in the land. 8 Or. 7 And Joseph brought in Jacob his father, and set him before Pharao; 8 And Joseph said unto Pharao, My father and my brethren, and their flocks, and their herds, and all that they have, are come unto the land of Egypt. 9 And Pharao said unto Joseph, Thine father, and thy brethren, have come unto thee; 10 and the land of Egypt is before thee; in the best land make thy father and brethren settle, in the land of Ekron, which is before Ephraim. 11 And Joseph provided his father and his brethren with corn, according to the number of persons, for the seven years.
And they said, Thou hast saved us; we have found favour before our lord, and we will be servants to Pharao. 26 And Joseph appointed it to them for an ordinance until this day; to reserve a fifth part for Pharaoh, on the land of Egypt, except only the land of the priests, that was not Pharao's.

27 And Israel dwelt in Egypt, in the land of Gesem, and they gained an inheritance upon it; and they increased and multiplied very greatly. 28 And Jacob survived seventeen years in the land of Egypt; and Jacob's days of the years of his life were a hundred and forty-seven years. 29 And the days of Israel drew nigh to die; and he called his son Joseph, and said unto him, If I have found grace in thy sight, deal kindly and true with Pharaoh, 30 and with all his house, and cause my father's inheritance to be blessed.

And Israel died, being a hundred and thirty years old; and the sons of Joseph wept for their father. 31 And they spake to Pharaoh, saying, If we have found grace in thy sight, let my father's funeral be given unto him, and let him be buried in the land of Egypt: for he spake concerning himself, saying, I will be buried in Egypt. 32 And Pharaoh said, Go up, and bury thy father, as he made haste to tell, 33 And Joseph went up to bury his father: and as Goshen was his sepulchral place, there they buried Jacob, the father of Israel.

And Joseph said unto his brethren, and to Pharaoh's servants, My father made mention of you, saying, 34 I have found grace in the sight of my God, and he hath shewed you mercy, 35 and hath given this great service unto you, in that he hath made me overseer of all that he hath: that ye should gather of all the fruit of the land two years together, and lay up the store in the cities, 36 and that my lord may give his people meat, that they may live, and that they may not die for hunger in the land. 37 And Joseph, he and all his brothers, and all that went up with him unto Pharaoh, set their souls to Pharaoh.

And Joseph having seen that his father put his right hand on the head of Ephraim — it seemed grievous to him; and Joseph took hold of the hand of his father, to remove it from the head of Ephraim to the head of Manasse. And Joseph said to his father, Not so, father; for this is the firstborn; lay thy right-hand upon his head. And his father said, Am I in the place of God, to set his son’s right hand instead of his left? And Joseph bowed down, and his father took him up upon his bosom.

And Jacob called his sons, and said to them, Assemble yourselves, that I may tell you what shall happen to you in the last days. Gather yourselves together, and hear me, sons of Jacob, hear Israel, your father. Ruben, thou son of my firstborn, thou art my strength, and the first of my children, hard to be endured, hard and self-willed. Thou wast insolent like water, burst not with violence, for thou wentest up to bed of thy father, then thou defiledst the couch, wherupon thou wentest up. Symeon and Levi, brethren, accomplished the injustice of their cutting off. Let not my soul come into their counsel, and let not mine inward parts contend in their conspiracy, for in their wrath they slew men, and in their passion they houghed a bull. Cursed be their wrath, for it was wilful, and their anger, for it was cruel: I will divide them in Jacob, and scatter them in Israel. Juda, thy brethren have praised thee, and thy hands shall be on the back of thine enemies; thy father’s sons shall adore thee. Juda is a lion’s whelp; from the tender plant, my son, thou art gone up, having couched thou liest as a lion, and as a whelp; who shall stir him up? A ruler shall not fail from Juda, nor a prince from his soles, until there come the things stored up for him; and he is the expectation of nations. Binding his soul to the foal of his ass, and the foal of his ass to the branch of it, he shall wash his robe in wine, and his garment in the blood of the grape. His eyes shall be more cheering than wine, and n his teeth whiter than milk. 6 Zabulon shall dwell on the coast, and he shall be by a haven of ships, and shall extend to Sidon. 7 Issachar has desired that which is good; he mandated the inheritance, he desired the resting place that it was good, and the land that it was fertile, he subjected his shoulder to labour, and became a husbandman. 8 Dan shall judge his people, as one tribe too in Israel. 9 And let Dan be a serpent in the way, a serpent in the paths, to crush the head of asps, and the neck of young dragons. 10 And let his bread be fat, and he shall yield dainties to princes. 11 Nephthalim is a spreading stem, bestowing beauty on its fruit. 12 Joseph is a son increased: my dearly loved son is increased; my youngest son, turn to me. 13 Against whom men taking evil counsel reproached him, and the archers pressed hard upon him. But their bow and arrows were mightily consumed, and the snares of their arms were slackened by the hand of the mighty one of Jacob; then was he that strengthened Israel from the God of Egypt. And he shall be a God of peace. And he blessed thee, and he blessed thee with the blessing of heaven from above, and the blessing of the earth possessing all things, because of the blessing of the breasts and of the womb. 14 The blessings of thy father and thy mother have prevailed above the blessing of the last, and beyond the blessings of the ancient. 15 He shall be the head of Joseph, and upon the head of the brothers of whom he took the lead. 16 Benjamin, as a ravening wolf, shall eat still in the morning, and at evening he gives food. 17 All these are the twelve sons of Jacob; and their father spoke these words to them, and he blessed them; he blessed each with a blessing of blessing. And he said to them, I am added to my people; ye shall bury me with my fathers in the cave, which is in the field of Ephron the Chettite, in the double cave which is opposite Mamre, in the land of Chanaan, the cave which Abraam bought of Ephron the Chettite, for a possession of a sepulchre. There they buried Abraam and Sarrah his wife; there they buried Isaac, and Rebecca his wife; there they buried Lea; in the portion of the field, and of the cave that was in it, purchased of the sons of Chet. And Jacob ceased giving charges to his sons; and having lifted up his feet on the bed, he died, and was gathered to his people. And Joseph fell upon his father's face, and wept upon him, and kissed him. And Joseph commanded his servants the embalmers to embalm his father; and the embalmers embalmed Israel. And they fulfilled forty days for him, for so are the days of embalming numbered; and Egypt mourned for him seven days. And when the days of mourning were past, Joseph spoke to the princes of Pharaon, saying: If I have found favour in your sight, speak concerning me in the ears of Pharaon, saying. My father adjured me, saying, In the sepulchre which I dug for myself in the land of Chanaan, I will bury my father, and my mother, and my brothers, and all my fathers' fathers. For I tell you, when I am gathered to my people, then they shall come and bury me in the sepulchre which I have dug for myself in the land of Chanaan. And God spoke to Joseph in his dreams, saying: I am God, the God of your father; fear not to die: I will turn thee into a mighty man of war, and I will give thee possession of the land of the Egyptians, and thy father's sons shall bow down before thee. And thou shalt take my hand, and thou shalt lead my people out of Haran unto the land which I promised to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing. I will bless those that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

10 And when the brethren of Joseph saw that their father was dead, they said, Let us take heed, lest at any time Joseph remember evil against us, and recompense to us all the evils which we have done against him. 11 And they came to Joseph, and said, Thy father adjured us before his death, saying, 12 Thus say ye to Joseph, Forgive the trespass of thy brethren, and their sins; for we dreamed against thee. 13 And Joseph said, It was not I that did it; before thee stood an elder to wit, 14 and I said unto him, What is this sin that ye have done? and he said, The man taught us, saying, 15 Ye shall bring me two bags of wheat for a present unto the captain of the host, and ye shall bring me bread enough for me and my brethren, and provision for the journey. 16 And ye spake unto me, saying, We will bring down for thee bread enough for thee and thine household, and for the journey which is upon thee. 17 And now, behold, it was not I that did it; if only the man, at whose counsel ye stood, knew of it, then hath he forgiven thee. 18 And now ye also must carry corn for the journey, for it was not I that told thee. 19 And they said, From whence is it, my lord, that thou speakest so good a word for thy servant? 20 For we be come to my father's house; we have cast lots every man for his inheritance; and my father also last gave an heritage to his youngest son; we have done that which we could. 21 And now, behold, we have brought the firstfruits of the land, which our eyes have seen; that thou mayst know and accept, for we will give the firstfruits of our bread and our wine and the first of the fruit of the earth which our hands have brought in, 22 and the tithes of all manner of things which we have sown and reaped, 23 that thou mayst have a seed in the house of thy servant, and give thee bread in the land, where thou goest in, until we come and inhabit it. 24 And the council of the men that werecome from Shechem made a conspiracy, and they said, Joseph is the father of a son, whom his wife took in Egypt: 25 and when his brethren saw that, they also were afraid; and said, It will be done, according to the words of the man. 26 And Joseph said, Fear not, for I will keep you; and your father came to visit you, 27 and you have prepared for him corn in the land of Egypt; and it is the firstfruits of the land which I have brought unto you. 28 And Joseph said, God gave me power to be a father of seven sons; and now the sons of Joseph which are born before him are two hundred and thirty and six: and also all the sons and the daughters of Joseph, whose sons are of Egypt, are four hundred and thirty. 29 The sons of Joseph, which were born before him: these are they, Reuben, and Simeon, and Levi, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun, 30 and the sons of Joseph which were born after Israel dwelt in Egypt, whom Simeon and Levi the sons of Jacob did not number, 31 them, and all Joseph's sons that were born him in Egypt, even all who came up with him into Egypt, not counting Joseph's sons, whom he begot in Egypt, two hundred and thirty and six; 32 and Joseph's sons and his sons that were born him in Egypt, were four hundred and thirty. 33 And he sent Jacob his father and all his kindred into the land of Egypt. 34 And his brethren also went down with him, and also his father's household; and they took down his children and his son's children with him: 35 and his father went down into Egypt, with all his kindred; and Joseph was thirty years old when he took to him his father's household, and when he had brought them into Egypt.

fear God, they established for themselves families. And Pharaoh charged all his people, saying, Whatever male child shall be born to the Hebrews, cast into the river; and every female, save it alive.

And there was a certain man of the tribe of Levi, who took to wife one of the daughters of Levi; and she conceived, and bore a male child; and having seen that it was fair, they hid him three months. And when they could no longer hide him, his mother took for him an ark, and besmeared it with bitumen, and cast the child into it, and put it in the ooze by the river. And his sister was watching from a distance, to learn what would happen to him.

And the daughter of Pharaoh came down to the river to bathe; and her maids walked by the river's side, and having seen the ark in the ooze, she sent her maid, and took it up. And having opened it, she sees the babe weeping in the ark: and the daughter of Pharaoh had compassion on it, and said, This is one of the Hebrews' children. And his sister said to the daughter of Pharaoh, Will you that I call to thee a nurse of the Hebrews, and shall she suckle the child for thee? And the daughter of Pharaoh said, Go: and the young woman went, and called the mother of the child. And the daughter of Pharaoh said to her, Take care of this child, and suckle it for me, and I will give thee the wages; and the woman took the child, and suckled it. And when the boy was grown, she brought him to the daughter of Pharaoh, and he became her son; and she called his name, Moses, saying, I took him out of the water.

And it came to pass in that length of time, that Moses having grown, went out to his brethren the sons of Israel; and having noticed their distress, he sees an Egyptian smiting a certain Hebrew of his brethren the children of Israel. And having looked round this way and that way, he sees no one; and he smote the Egyptian, and hid him in the sand. And having gone out the second day he sees the Hebrew men fighting; and he says to the injured, Wherefore smitest thou thy neighbour? And he said, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us? wilt thou slay me as thou didst yesterday, slaying the Egyptian? Then Moses was alarmed, and said, If it be thus, this matter has become known. And Pharaoh hated this matter, and sought to slay Moses. And Moses departed from the presence of Pharaoh, and dwelt in the land of Midian; and having come into the land of Midian, he sat on the well. And the priest of Midian had seven daughters, feeding the flock of their father Jothan; and they came and drew water until they filled their pitchers, to water the flock of their father Jothan. And the shepherds came, and were driving them away; and Moses rose up and rescued them, and drew water for them, and watered their sheep. And they came to Raguel their father; and he said to them, Why have ye come so quickly to-day? And they said, An Egyptian delivered us from the shepherds, and drew water for us and watered our sheep. \(^2\) And he said to his daughters, And where is he? and why have ye left the man? call him therefore, that he may eat bread. \(^3\) And Moses was established with the man, and he gave Sephora his daughter to Moses to wife. \(^4\) And the woman conceived and bore a son, and Moses called his name Gersam, saying, I am a sojourner in, saying land. \(^5\) And in the remaining length of time, the king of Egypt died; and the children of Israel groaned because of their tasks, and cried, and their cry because of their tasks went up to God. \(^6\) And God heard their groanings, and God remembered his covenant made with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob. \(^7\) And God looked upon the children of Israel, and was made known to them.

And Moses was feeding the flock of Jethro, his father-in-law, the priest of Madian; and he brought the sheep nigh to the wilderness, and came to the mount of Choreb. \(^8\) And he came, and the Lord appeared to him in burning fire out of the bush, and he sees that the bush burns with fire,—but the bush was not consumed. \(^9\) And Moses said, I will go near and see this great sight, why the bush is not consumed. \(^10\) And when the Lord saw that he drew nigh to see, the Lord called him out of the bush, saying, Moses; and he said, What is it? \(^11\) And he said, I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob; and Moses turned away his face, for he was afraid to gaze at God. \(^12\) And the Lord said to Moses, I have surely seen the affliction of my people that is in Egypt, and I have heard their cry caused by their taskmasters; for I know their affliction. \(^13\) And I have come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that land, and to bring them into a good and a wide land, into a place that floweth with milk and honey, into the place of the Chanaanites, and the Chetrites, and Amorites, and Pherezites, and Girgesites, and Evites, and Jebusites. \(^14\) And now, behold, the cry of the children of Israel is come to me, and I have seen the affliction with which the Egyptians afflict them. \(^15\) And now come, I will send thee to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and thou shalt bring out my people the children of Israel from the land of Egypt.

\(^11\) And Moses said to God, Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and that I should bring out the children of Israel from the land of Egypt? \(^12\) And God spoke to Moses, saying, I will be with thee, and this shall be the sign to thee that I shall send thee forth,—when thou bringest out my people out of Egypt, then ye shall say, God has sent me to you. \(^13\) And Moses said to God, Behold, I shall go forth to the children of Israel, and shall say to them, The God of our fathers has sent me to you; and they will ask me, What is his name? What would you have me say to them?
And God spake to Moses, saying, I am THE BEING; and he said, Thus shall ye say to the children of Israel, THE BEING has sent me to you.

And God said again to Moses, Thus shalt thou say to the sons of Israel, The Lord God of our fathers, the God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob, has sent me to you: this is my name for ever, and I will shew my memorial to generations of generations.

Go then and gather the elders of the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, The Lord God of our fathers has appeared to me, the God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob, saying, I have surely looked upon you, and upon all the things which have happened to you in Egypt. And he said, I will bring you up out of the affliction of the Egyptians to the land of the Chananites and the Chettites, and Amorites and Pherezites, and Gergesites, and Erites, and Jebusites, to a land flowing with milk and honey. And they shall hearken to thy voice, and thou and the elders of Israel shall go in to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and thou shalt say to him, The God of the Hebrews has called us, that we will go then a journey of three days into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to our God. But I know that Pharaoh king of Egypt will not let you go, save with a mighty hand; and I will stretch out my hand, and smite the Egyptians with all my wonders, which I will shew among them; and after that shall he know that I am THE BEING. And I will give this people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, and whenever ye shall escape, ye shall not depart empty.

And Moses answered and said, If they believe me not, and do not hearken to my voice (for they will say, God has not appeared to thee), what shall I say to them? And the Lord said to him, What is this thing that is in thine hand? And he said, A rod. And he said, Cast it on the ground: and he cast it on the ground, and it became a serpent, and Moses fled from it. And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch forth thy hand, and take hold of its tail: so he stretched forth his hand and took hold of the tail, and it became a rod in his hand, that they may believe thee, that the God of thy fathers has appeared to thee, the God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob. And the Lord said again to him, Put thy hand into thy bosom: and he put his hand into his bosom, and brought his hand out of his bosom, and his hand became as snow. And he said again, Put thy hand into thy bosom: and he put his hand into his bosom, and brought his hand out of his bosom, and it was again restored to the complexion of his other flesh.

And if they will not believe thee, nor hearken to thy voice, then will they believe the sign, when thou shalt speak to the voice of the first sign, they will believe thee for this voice is the sign.

And it shall come to pass if they will not believe thee for these two signs, and will not hearken to thy voice, that thou shalt take of the water of the river and pour it upon the dry land, and the water which thou shalt take from the river shall be blood upon the dry land.

18 And Moses said to the Lord, I pray, Lord, I have not been sufficient in former times, neither from the time that thou hast begun to speak to thy servant: I am weak in speech, and slow of tongue.

19 And the Lord said to Moses, Who has given a mouth to man, and who has made the very hard of hearing, and the deaf, the seeing and the blind? have I not power even for these? 20 And I said, 'I have not power.' 21 And the Lord said, 'If thou wilt not go, I will open thy mouth, and will instruct thee in what thou shalt say. 22 And Moses said, I pray thee, Lord, send me, I pray thee, to this people. I have seen that they are stiff-necked.

23 And the Lord said, Go in, I will be gracious to them; and will give them rest, and will make my covenant with them, and multiply them exceedingly. 24 And Moses said, 'If I go to the children of Israel, and shall say to them, The Lord God of your fathers has sent me to you, and they will say to me, What is his name? and what shall I say to them? 25 And the Lord said to Moses, Say this to the children of Israel, I am the Lord. 26 And I will multiply my signs and wonders among them; so that they may know that I am the Lord, when I strike them with a plague, and when I deliver them by my signs.

27 And the Lord said to Moses, When any one of the children of Israel shall have said to thee, The Lord God of Abraham, and the Lord God of Isaac, and the Lord God of Jacob, has sent me to thee, and I shall say to them, Where is thy God? when he shall say to them, I am the Lord: let him bring forth his hand now, and touch thy face; and I will show mine power in thy midst. 28 And the Lord shall send his angel before thee, and shall shew thee the way by the way that thou shalt go, and I will shew mine anger, and will take vengeance on them. 29 And the Lord shall bring thee into the land which he swore to Abraham his father, to Isaac his son, and to Jacob his servant, to give it thee. 30 And he shall bring thee in, and deliver thee out of all thine enemies. 31 And the Lord thy God shall thou worship. 32 And thou shalt be fruitful, and multiply greatly. 33 And the Lord shall give thee lands of thy enemies, and the eyes of thine enemies shall be against thee. 34 And the Lord shall make thee fruitful in the land which the Lord God of thy fathers has given thee, a land full of goods, of milk, and honey.
36 Israel. And he acknowledged the children of Israel, and he acknowledged the children of Israel. 37 And Aaron spoke all these words, which God spoke to Moses, and wrought the miracles before the people. 38 And the people believed and rejoiced, because God visited the children of Israel, and because he saw their affliction: and the people bowed and worshipped.

And after this went in Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh, and they said to him, These things says the Lord God of Israel. Send my people away, that they may keep a feast to me in the wilderness. 3 And Pharaoh said Who is he that should hearken to his voice? do I let him go away the children of Israel? I do not know the Lord, and I will not let Israel go. 4 And they say to him, The God of the Hebrews has called us to him: we will go therefore three days journey into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to the Lord our God, lest at any time death or slaughter happen to us. 5 And the king of Egypt said to them, Why do you, Moses and Aaron, make the people to depart from their works? depart each of you to your works. 6 And Pharaoh said, Behold now, the people is very numerous; let us not then give them rest from their work. 7 And Pharaoh gave orders to the task-masters of the people and the accountants, saying, Ye shall no longer give straw to the people for brick-making as yesterday and the third day: but let them go themselves, and collect straw for themselves. 8 And thou shalt impose on them daily the rate of brick-making which they perform: thou shalt not abate anything, for they are idle; therefore have they cried, saying, Let us arise and do sacrifice to our God. 9 Let the works of these men be made grievous, and let them care for these things, and not care for vain words. 10 And the taskmasters and the accountants hastened them, and they spoke to the people, saying, Thus says Pharaoh, I will give you straw no longer. 11 Go ye, yourselves, get for yourselves straw whencesoever ye can find it, for nothing is diminished from your rate. 12 So the people were dispersed in all the land of Egypt, to gather stubble for straw. 13 And the taskmasters and the accountants pressed the people, saying, Fulfil your task today as yesterday, and no leisure from your work. 14 And the accountants of the race of the children of Israel, who were set over them by the masters of Pharaoh, were scourged, and questioned, men saying, Why have ye not fulfilled your rates of brick-work as yesterday and the third day, to-day also? 15 And the accountants of the children of Israel went in and cried to Pharaoh, saying, Why dost thou act thus to thy servants? 16 Straw is not given to thy servants, and they tell us to make brick; and behold thy servants have been scourged: thou wilt therefore injure thy people. 17 And he said to them, Ye are idle, ye are idlers: therefore ye say, 18 Let us go and do sacrifice to our God. 19 Now therefore if ye will not perform the brick-making to deliver that which belongs to each day.

Elders of the children of Israel. And Aaron spoke all these words, which God spoke to Moses, and wrought the miracles before the people. And the people believed and rejoiced, because God visited the children of Israel, and because he saw their affliction: and the people bowed and worshipped. And after this went in Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh, and they said to him, These things says the Lord God of Israel. Send my people away, that they may keep a feast to me in the wilderness. And Pharaoh said Who is he that should hearken to his voice? do I let him go away the children of Israel? I do not know the Lord, and I will not let Israel go. And they say to him, The God of the Hebrews has called us to him: we will go therefore three days journey into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to the Lord our God, lest at any time death or slaughter happen to us. And the king of Egypt said to them, Why do you, Moses and Aaron, make the people to depart from their works? depart each of you to your works. And Pharaoh said, Behold now, the people is very numerous; let us not then give them rest from their work. And Pharaoh gave orders to the task-masters of the people and the accountants, saying, Ye shall no longer give straw to the people for brick-making as yesterday and the third day: but let them go themselves, and collect straw for themselves. And thou shalt impose on them daily the rate of brick-making which they perform: thou shalt not abate anything, for they are idle; therefore have they cried, saying, Let us arise and do sacrifice to our God. And the taskmasters and the accountants pressed the people, saying, Fulfil your task today as yesterday, and no leisure from your work. And the accountants of the race of the children of Israel, who were set over them by the masters of Pharaoh, were scourged, and questioned, men saying, Why have ye not fulfilled your rates of brick-work as yesterday and the third day, to-day also? And the accountants of the children of Israel went in and cried to Pharaoh, saying, Why dost thou act thus to thy servants? Straw is not given to thy servants, and they tell us to make brick; and behold thy servants have been scourged: thou wilt therefore injure thy people. And he said to them, Ye are idle, ye are idlers: therefore ye say, Let us go and do sacrifice to our God. Now therefore if ye will not perform the brick-making to deliver that which belongs to each day.
2And they met Moses and Aaron coming forth to meet them, as they came forth from Pharaoh. 3And they said to them, The Lord look upon you and judge you, for ye have made our savour abominable before Pharaoh, and before his servants, to put a sword into his hands to slay us. 4And Moses turned to the Lord, and said, I pray thee, Lord, why hast thou affliicted this people, and wherefore hast thou sent me? 5For from the time that I went to Pharaoh to speak in thy name, he has affliicted this people, and thou hast not delivered thy people.

And the Lord said to Moses, Now thou shalt see what I will do to Pharaoh; for he shall send them forth with a mighty hand, and with a high arm shall he cast them out of his land. 6And God spoke to Moses and said to him, I am the Lord. 7And I appeared to Abraam and Isaac and Jacob, being their God, but I did not manifest to them my name Lord. 8And I established my covenant with them, to give them the land of the Egyptians, and I sojourned among them, in which also they dwelt as strangers. 9And I hearkened to the groaning of the children of Israel (the affliction with which the Egyptians ensnare them) and I remembered the covenant with you.

Go, speak to the children of Israel, saying, I am the Lord; and I will lead you forth from the tyranny of the Egyptians, and I will deliver you from bondage, and I will ransom you with a high arm, and great judgment. 10And I will give you a people for myself, and will be your God; and ye shall know that I am the Lord, your God, who brought you out from the tyranny of the Egyptians. 11And I will bring you into the land concerning which I stretched out my hand to give it to Abraam and Isaac and Jacob, and I will give it you for an inheritance: I am the Lord. 12And Moses spoke thus to the sons of Israel, and they hearkened not to Moses for faint-heartedness, and for their hard tasks. 13And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 14Go in, speak to Pharaoh king of Egypt, that he send forth the children of Israel out of his land. 15And Moses spoke before the Lord, saying, Behold, the children of Israel hearkened not to me, and I am not eloquent. 16And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, and gave them a charge to Pharaoh king of Egypt, that he should send forth the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt. 17And these are the heads of the houses of their families: the sons of Ruben the first-born of Israel: Enoch and Phallus, Arson, and Charmi, this is the kindred of Ruben. 18And the sons of Symeon, Jemuel and Jamuel and Jamin and Jachin and Asaf, and Simit, the son of a Phoenician woman, these are the families of the sons of Symeon. 19And these are the names of the sons of Levi according to their kindreds, Gedor, Caath, and Merari; and the years of the life of Levi were a hundred and thirty-seven.

And these are the sons of Gedor, Lobeni, Chaimi, and Sarai; and the years of the life of Lobeni were a hundred and thirty-three.

8 Alex. 130 years. 7 Alex. 136 years. 6 Or, spokesman; for the use of this word in a wide sense, see Tit. 1.12.
his servants, and it became a serpent. 13 But Pharao called together the wise men of Egypt, and the sorcerers, and the charmers also of the Egyptians did likewise with their sorceries. 14 And they cast down each his rod, and they became serpents, but the rod of Aaron swallowed up their rods. 15 And the heart of Pharao was hardened, and he hearkened not to them, as the Lord charged them.

And the Lord said to Moses, The heart of Pharao is made hard, so that he should not let the people go. 16 Go to Pharao early in the morning: behold, he goes forth to the water; and thou shalt meet him on the bank of the river, and thou shalt take in thine hand the rod that was turned into a serpent. 17 And thou shalt say to him, The Lord God of the Hebrews has sent me to thee, saying, Send my people away, that they may serve me in the wilderness, and, behold, hitherto thou hast not hearkened. 18 These things saith the Lord: Hereby shalt thou know that I am the Lord: behold, I strike with the rod that is in my hand on the waters of Egypt, and it shall change it into blood. 19 And the fish that are in the river shall die: and the river shall stink thereof, and the Egyptians shall not be able to drink water from the river.

And the Lord said to Moses, Say to thy brother Aaron, Take thy rod in thy hand, and stretch forth thy hand over the waters of Egypt, and over their rivers, and over their canals, and over their ponds, and over all their standing water, and it shall become blood; and there was blood in all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood and of stone. 20 And Moses and Aaron did so, as the Lord commanded them: and Aaron having lifted up his hand with his rod, smote the water in the river before Pharao, and before his servants, and changed all the water thereof into blood. 21 And the fish that were in the river died: and the river stank thereof; and the Egyptians could not drink water from the river, and the blood was in all the land of Egypt. 22 And the charmers also of the Egyptians did so with their sorceries; and the heart of Pharao was hardened, and he did not hearken to them, even as the Lord said. 23 And Pharao turned and entered into his house, nor did he fix his attention even on this thing. 24 And all the Egyptians dug round about the river, so as to drink water, for they could not drink water from the river. 25 And seven days were fulfilled after the Lord had smitten the river.

And the Lord said to Moses, Go in to Pharao, and thou shalt say to him, These things says the Lord: send forth my people, that they may serve me. 26 And if thou wilt not send them forth, behold, I will smite all thy borders with frogs: 27 and the river shall teem with frogs, and they shall go up and enter into thy houses, and into thy bedchambers, and upon thy beds, and upon the houses of thy servants, and of thy people, and on thy dough, and on thine ovens. 28 And upon thee, and upon thy servants,
5 and upon thy people, shall the frogs come up. 6 And the Lord said to Moses, Say to Aaron thy brother, Stretch forth with the rod thy hand over the river, the frogs also, over the water, and let them perish: 7 and Aaron stretched forth his hand over the waters of Egypt, and the frogs came up upon the land of Egypt.

8 And the charmers of the Egyptians also did likewise with their sorceries, and brought up frogs on the land of Egypt. 9 And Pharaoh said to Moses and Aaron, Go hence, from me and from my people, and from your houses, only in the river shall you be left behind. 10 And he said, On the morrow: he said therefore, As thou hast said; that thou mayest know, that there is no other God but the Lord. 11 And the frogs shall be removed away from thee, and from thy houses and from the villages, and from thy servants, and from thy people, only in the river they shall be left. 12 And Moses and Aaron went forth from Pharaoh. 13 And Moses said to the Lord concerning the restriction of the frogs, as Pharaoh appointed him. 14 And the Lord did as Moses said, and the frogs died out of the houses, and out of the villages, and out of the fields. 15 And they gathered them together in heaps, and the land stank. 16 And when Pharaoh saw that there was relief, his heart was hardened, and he did not hearken to them, as the Lord spoke. 17 And the Lord said to Moses, Say to Aaron, Stretch forth thy rod with thy hand and smite the dust of the earth; and there shall be lice both upon man, and upon quadrupeds, and in all the land of Egypt. 18 So Aaron stretched out his rod with his hand, and smote the dust of the earth; and the lice were on men and on beasts: and the lice did depart from Pharaoh, and from his servants, and from his people; only in the field of Goshen were there lice. 19 And the charmers also did so with their sorceries, to bring forth the louse, and they could not. And the lice were both on the men and on the quadrupeds. 20 So the charmers said to Pharaoh, This is the finger of God. But the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he hearkened not to them, as the Lord said.

21 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, 22 on the morning, and stand before Pharaoh: and, behold, he will go forth to the water, and thou shalt say to him, These things says the Lord: Send away my people, that they may serve me in the wilderness. 23 And if thou wilt not let my people go, behold, I send upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, and upon thy houses, the dog-fly; and they shall melt away before the Lord, and be filled with the dog-fly, even throughout the land upon which they are. 24 And I will distinguish marvellously in that day the land of Geshen, on which my people dwell, in which the dog-fly shall not be: that thou mayest know that I am the Lord the God of all the earth. 25 And I will put a difference between my people and thy people.
And the Lord did thus. And Pharaoh came in abundance into the houses of Pharaoh, and into the houses of his servants, and into all the land of Egypt; and the land was destroyed by the dog-flies.

23 And Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron, saying, Go and sacrifice to the Lord your God in the land. And Moses said, It cannot be, for we shall sacrifice to the Lord our God the abominations of the Egyptians before them, we shall be stoned. 4 We will go a journey of three days into the wilderness, and we will sacrifice to the Lord our God, as the Lord said to us.

25 And Pharaoh said, I will let you go, and do ye sacrifice to your God in the wilderness; but do not go very far away: pray, for I will let you go and do sacrifice to the Lord.

26 And Moses said, I will then go forth from thee and pray to God, and the dog-fly shall depart both from thy servants, and from thy people to-morrow. Do not thou, Pharaoh, deceive again, so as not to send the people away to do sacrifice to the Lord.

27 And Moses went out from Pharaoh and prayed to God. And the Lord did as Moses said, and removed the dog-fly from Pharaoh, and from his servants, and from his people, and there was not one left. 28 And Pharaoh hardened his heart, even on this occasion, and he would not send the people away.

And the Lord said to Moses, Go in to Pharaoh, and thou shalt say to him, These things saith the Lord God of the Hebrews: Send my people away that they may serve me. If however thou wilt not send my people away, but yet detainest them: behold, the hand of the Lord shall be upon thy cattle in the fields, both on the horses, and on the camels, and on the oxen, and on the sheep, a very great mortality.

And I will make a marvellous distinction in that time between the cattle of the Egyptians, and the cattle of the children of Israel: nothing shall die all of that is of the children of Israel. And God fixed a limit, saying, To-morrow the Lord will do this thing on the land. And the Lord did this thing on the next day, and all the cattle of the Egyptians died, but of the cattle of the children of Israel there died not one. And when Pharaoh saw, that of all the cattle of the children of Israel there died not one, the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not let the people go. And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, Take you handfuls of ashes of the furnace, and let Moses scatter it toward heaven before Pharaoh, and before his servants. And let it become dust over all the land of Egypt, and shall be upon men and upon beasts 9 sore boils breaking forth both on men and on beasts.
11 And the sorcerers could not stand before Moses because of the sores, for the sores were on the sorcerers, and in all the land of Egypt. 12 And the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he hearkened not to them, as the Lord appointed.

13 And the Lord said to Moses, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh, and thou shalt speak to him, These things saith the Lord God of the Hebrews, Send away my people that they may serve me. 14 For at this present time do I send forth all my plagues into thine heart, and the heart of thy servants and of thy people; that thou mayest know that there is none like me in all the earth.

15 For now I will stretch forth my hand and smite thee and kill thy people, and thou shalt be consumed from off the earth. 16 And for this purpose hast thou been preserved, that I might display in thee my strength, and that my name might be published in all the earth. 17 Dost thou then yet exalt thyself to hinder my power? 18 And now, stretch out thine hand, that I may smite Egypt with a very heavy hand: and I will smite thy strong, and I will smite them with a very heavy hand.

19 And I will bring them out into a land which is flowable with milk and honey, and which fair land which the Lord shall give to them: and thou shalt know that I am the Lord. 20 And I will set a sign in thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord, when I stretch out my hand to smite thee.

21 And I will bring them out, and will show unto all the nations for whom I am working in Egypt, that I am the Lord. 22 And if they be not convinced by thee, I will make my sign strong in thy hand, and let my words be in thy mouth, and thou shalt speak to Pharaoh. Yet will I harden his heart, and he will not hearken unto thee; and I will smite Egypt with a very heavy hand.

23 And I will bring forth my people the children of Israel from the land of Egypt: I am the Lord.

Exodus IX. 32—X. 14.

And Moses went forth from Pharaoh out of the city, and stretched out his hands to the Lord, and the thunders ceased and the hail, and the rain did not drop on the earth. \[And when Pharaoh saw that the rain and the hail and the thunders ceased, he continued to sin; and he hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants. \]

And the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not send forth the children of Israel, as the Lord said to Moses.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Go in to Pharaoh: for I have hardened his heart and the heart of his servants, that these signs may come upon them; in order that ye may relate in the ears of your children, and to your children's children, in how many things I have mocked the Egyptians, and my wonders which I wrought among them; and ye shall know that I am the Lord. \[And Moses and Aaron went in before Pharaoh, and they said to him, These things saith the Lord God of the Hebrews, How long dost thou refuse to reverence me? Send thou thy servants, to work for me. \]

But if thou wilt not send my people away, behold, at this hour to-morrow I will bring an abundance of locusts upon all thy coasts. \[And they shall cover the face of the earth, and thou shalt not be able to see the earth; and they shall devour all that is left of the abundance of the earth, which the hail has left you, and shall devour every tree that grows for you on the land. \]

And thy houses shall be filled, and the houses of thy servants, and all the houses in all the land of the Egyptians; things which thy fathers have never seen, nor thy forefathers, from the day that they were upon the earth until this day. And Moses turned away and departed from Pharaoh. \[And the servants of Pharaoh said to him, How long shall this be a snare to us? send away the men, that they may serve their God; wilt thou know that Egypt is destroyed? \]

And they brought back both Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh, and he said to them, Go and serve the Lord your God; but who are thy God that thou goest with? let it be known. \[And Moses said, We will go with the young and the old, with our sons, and daughters, and sheep, and oxen, for it is a feast of the Lord. \]

And he said to them, So let the Lord be with you: as I will send you away, must I send away your store also? see that evil is attached to you. \[Not so, but let the men go and serve God, as this thy God will say: and let your flocks and your herds be with you. \]

And Moses said, We will go with the young and the old, with our sons, and daughters, and sheep, and oxen, for it is a feast of the Lord. \[And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch out thine hand over the land of Egypt, and let every locust come up on the land, and it shall devour every herb of the land, and all the fruit of the trees, which the hail left. \]

And Moses lifted up his rod towards heaven, and the Lord brought south wind upon the earth, all that day and all that night: the morning dawned, and the south wind brought up the locusts, and brought them up over all the land of Egypt. \[And they rested in very great abundance, as the Lord had said. \]

sacrifice to the Lord, our God, and let him take away from me this death. 18 And Moses went forth from Pharaoh, and prayed to God. 19 And the Lord brought in the opposite direction a strong wind from the sea, and took up the locusts and cast them into the Red Sea, and there was not one locust left in all the land of Egypt. 20 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not send away the children of Israel. 21 And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch out thy hand to heaven, and let there be darkness over the land of Egypt—darkness that may be felt. 22 And Moses stretched out his hand to heaven, and there was ydarkness very black, even a storm over all the land of Egypt three days. 23 And for three days no man saw his brother, and no man rose up from his bed for three days: but all the children of Israel had light in all the places where they were. 24 And Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron, saying, Go, serve the Lord your God, only let your sheep and your oxen, and let your store depart with you. 25 And Moses said, Nay, but thou shalt give to us whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices, which we will sacrifice to the Lord our God. 26 And our cattle shall go with us, and we will not leave a hoof behind, for of them will we take to serve the Lord our God: but we know not in what manner we shall serve the Lord our God, until we arrive there. 27 But the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he would not let them go. 28 And Pharaoh says, Depart from me, beware seeing my face again; for then shall thou shalt appear before me, thou shalt die. 29 And Moses says, Thou hast said, I will not appear in thy presence again.

And the Lord said to Moses, I will yet bring one plague upon Pharaoh and upon Egypt, and after that he will send you forth thence; and whenever he sends you forth with every thing, he will indeed drive you out. 30 Speak therefore secretly in the ears of the people, and let every one ask of his neighbour jewels of silver and gold, and raiment. 31 And the Lord gave his people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, and they went to them; and the man Moses was very great before the Egyptians, and before Pharaoh, and before his servants. 32 And Moses said, These things saith the Lord, About midnight I go forth into the midst of Egypt. 33 And every first-born in the land of Egypt shall die, from the first-born of Pharaoh that sits on the throne, even to the first-born of the woman-servant that is by over all the borders of Egypt. Before them there would not such locusts, neither after them shall there be. 13 And they covered the face of the earth, and the land was wasted, and they devoured all the herbage of the land, and all the fruit of the trees, which was left by the hail: there was no green thing left on the trees, nor on all the herbage of the field, in all the land of Egypt.

14 And Pharaoh hastened to call Moses and Aaron, saying, I have sinned before the Lord your God, and against you: 15 Pardon therefore my sin yet this time, and pray to the Lord your God, and let him take away from me this death. 16 And Moses went forth from Pharaoh, and prayed to God. 17 And the Lord brought in the opposite direction a strong wind from the sea, and took up the locusts and cast them into the Red Sea, and there was not one locust left in all the land of Egypt. 18 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not send away the children of Israel. 19 And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch out thy hand to heaven, and let there be darkness over the land of Egypt—darkness that may be felt. 20 And Moses stretched out his hand to heaven, and there was ydarkness very black, even a storm over all the land of Egypt three days. 21 And for three days no man saw his brother, and no man rose up from his bed for three days: but all the children of Israel had light in all the places where they were. 22 And Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron, saying, Go, serve the Lord your God, only let your sheep and your oxen, and let your store depart with you. 23 And Moses said, Nay, but thou shalt give to us whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices, which we will sacrifice to the Lord our God. 24 And our cattle shall go with us, and we will not leave a hoof behind, for of them will we take to serve the Lord our God: but we know not in what manner we shall serve the Lord our God, until we arrive there. 25 But the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he would not let them go. 26 And Pharaoh says, Depart from me, beware seeing my face again; for then shall thou shall appear before me, thou shalt die. 27 And Moses says, Thou hast said, I will not appear in thy presence again.

6 And there shall be a great cry through all the land of Egypt, such as has not been, and such shall not be repeated any more.
7 But among all the children of Israel shall not a dog snarl with his tongue, either at man or beast; that thou mayest know how wide a distinction the LORD will make between the Egyptians and Israel.
8 And all these thy servants shall come down to me, and do me reverence, saying, Go forth, thou and all the people over whom thou presidest, and afterwards I will go forth.
9 And Moses went forth from Pharo with wrath. And the Lord said to Moses, Pharo will not hearken to my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt.
10 And Moses and Aaron wrought all these signs and wonders in the land of Egypt before Pharo, and the Lord hardened the heart of Pharo, and he did not hearken to send forth the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,
2 This month shall be to you the beginning of months: it is the first to you among the months of the year.
3 Speak to all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, On the tenth day of this month let them take each man a lamb according to the houses of their families, every man a lamb for his household.
4 And if they be few in a household, so that there are not enough for the lamb, he shall take with himself his neighbour that lives near to him, as to the number of souls, every one according to that which suffices him shall make a reckoning for the lamb.
5 It shall be to you a lamb unblemished, a male of a year old; you shall take it of the lambs and the kids.
6 And it shall be kept by you until the fourteenth of this month, and all the multitude of the congregation of the children of Israel shall kill it toward evening.
7 And they shall take of the blood, and shall put it on the two door-posts, and on the lintels, in the houses in which soever they shall eat the flesh of this night roast with fire, and they shall eat unleavened bread with bitter herbs.
8 Ye shall not eat of it raw nor sodden in water, but only roast with fire, the head with the feet and the appurtenances.
9 Nothing shall be left of it till the morning, and a bone of it ye shall not break; but that which is left of it till the morning ye shall burn with fire.
10 And thus shall ye eat it: your loins girded, and your sandals on your feet, and your staves in your hands, and ye shall eat it in haste. It is a passover to the Lord.
11 And I will go through the land of Egypt in that night, and will smite every first-born in the land of Egypt both man and beast, and on all the gods of Egypt will I execute vengeance: I am the Lord.
12 And the blood shall be for a sign to you on the houses in which ye are, and I will see the blood, and will protect you, and there shall not be upon you the plague of destruction, when I smite in the land of Egypt.
13 And this day shall be to you a memorial; ye shall keep it a feast to the Lord through all your generations: ye shall 15 Then the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, 16 "Command the Israelites to take the elders of all their tribes and appoint commanders over the people, all who are capable of leading the people in battle. 17 They shall take a lampstand, an altar of incense, and a basin, and put them on the table by the ark of the covenant of the Lord. 18 They shall place the lampstand before the ark of the covenant, on the south side of the tabernacle. 19 They shall put a table on the north side of the tabernacle, and place it between the ark of the covenant and the altar of incense. 20 They shall place the gold bowl on the north side of the table. 21 Then the Lord said to Moses, 22 "Speak to the Israelites and say to them, My holy things you must regard as holy. 23 Any man who defiles My holy objects will be put to death; he must die for his sin. 24 And you shall consider the place where the Ark of the Covenant rests as holy; you shall keep it clean and holy, so that you may not die when you approach it. 25 The Ark of the Covenant shall be on a cloth of purple, purple, and scarlet, and gold embroidered. 26 The Lord has commanded you to do, so you shall do. 27 "And the Lord said to Moses, 28 "Speak to the Israelites and say to them, When you enter the land I am giving you, you shall keep all My statutes and all My ordinances. 29 You shall not add to My ordinances or take anything from them, so that you may not defile My ordinances and consider as holy what I have consecrated as holy. 30 I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God, therefore you must keep My statutes and My ordinances, which I command you, so that you may live and not die and that you may go in and occupy the land that I promised on oath to your fathers. 31 And I will give you the land that you occupy; if you keep My commandments and My ordinances, as I have commanded you today. 32 And it shall be that when you have eaten your fill in the land that the Lord your God will give you, and have prospered and become strong, 33 you shall be careful to keep all the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you today, 34 so that you shall live longer in the land that you go across the Jordan to inherit. 35 For the land which you are going to possess is a land of hills and plains and many large and small valleys; it is a land of wild beasts and birds; it is a land on which you shall eat unleavened bread for many years. You shall be careful to keep all My commandments. 36 Then I will give you a land on which your ancestors have not eaten; you shall eat there unleavened bread for many years, and you shall be careful to keep all My commandments. 37 Your land shall be divided by lot among the tribes of Israel, as the Lord your God has commanded. 38 And when you have possessed it and lived there for a long time, you must be careful to keep all My commandments as I have commanded you. 39 You shall not add to My commandments or take anything away from them, so that you may not defile My commandments and consider as holy what I have consecrated as holy. 40 I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God; therefore you must keep all My commandments. 41 You shall not make any graven images or any likeness of the things in heaven above or the things in the earth beneath or the things in the water below. 42 You shall not make any bow, arrow, sword, spear, or battle-axe, or any images of any of the things that the Lord your God has forbidden you. 43 You shall keep all My commandments, so that you may live and not die, and that you may prosper all the days that you live on the land that the Lord your God is giving you to possess. 44 And so the Lord commanded Moses to give the Israelites the commandments that he had spoken to them through Moses.
Go and serve the Lord your God, even as ye say. 2 And take with you your sheep, and your oxen; bless me also, I pray you. 3 And the Egyptians constrained the people, so that they cast them out of the land with haste, for they said, We all shall die. 34 And the people took their dough before their meal was leavened, bound up as it was in their garments, on their shoulders. 35 And the children of Israel did as Moses commanded them, and they asked of the Egyptians silver and gold, and apparel. 36 And the Lord gave the people favour 1 in the sight of the Egyptians, and they went to them; and they spoiled the Egyptians. 37 And the children of Israel departed from Ramesses to Socchoth, to the full number of six hundred thousand footmen, even men, besides the baggage. 38 And a great mixed company went up with them, and sheep and oxen and very much cattle. 39 And they baked the dough which they brought out of Egypt, unleavened cakes, for it had not been leavened; for the Egyptians cast them out, and they could not remain, neither did they prepare provision for themselves for the journey. 40 And the sojournment of the children of Israel was four hundred years in the land of Egypt. 41 And it came to pass after the four hundred and thirty years, all the forces of the Lord came forth out of the land of Egypt by night. 42 It is a watch kept to the Lord, so that he should bring them out of the land of Egypt, that very night shall be watch kept to the Lord, so that it should be to all the children of Israel to their generations. 43 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, This is the law of the passover: no stranger shall eat of it. 44 And every slave or servant bought with money—him thou shalt circumcise, and then shall he eat of it. 45 A stranger or hireling shall not eat of it. 46 In one house shall it be eaten, and ye shall not carry of the flesh out of the house; and a bone of it ye shall not break. 47 All the congregation of the children of Israel shall keep it. 48 And if any proselyte shall come to you to keep the passover to the Lord, thou shalt circumcise every male of him, and then shall he approach to sacrifice it, and he shall be even as the original inhabitant of the land; no uncircumcised person shall eat of it. 49 There shall be one law to the native, and to the proselyte coming among you. 50 And the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded Moses and Aaron for them, so did they. 51 And it came to pass in that day that the Lord brought forth the children of Israel from the land of Egypt with their forces. 52 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 53 Sanctify to me every first-born, first produced, opening every womb among the children of Israel both of man and beast; it is mine. 54 And Moses said to the people, Remember this day, in which ye came forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, for with a strong hand the Lord brought you forth thence, and leaven shall not be eaten. 55 For on this day ye go forth in the month of new corn. 5 And it shall come to pass when the Lord thy God shall have brought thee into the land of the Chanaanites, and the Chettites, and Amo-

tes, and all the peoples which be left, and all the princes of them, which he shall give thee; and thou shalt give their land for a possession unto thee. 6 And thou shalt eat no unleavened bread, and in the seventh day there is a feast unto the Lord. 7 Seven days shall ye eat unleavened bread; nothing leavened shall be seen with thee, neither shall there be leaven found in thy land. 8 And in the seventh day is a holy convocation; thou shalt not do thy usual work. 9 But ye shall remember the day when thou wast delivered out of Egypt; all the elders of thy assembly shall gather themselves together, 10 And ye shall speak before the Lord: for ye were not as other peoples; for ye were the Lord's chosen people, from out of the earth, the Lord thy God made thee to be his people, as it is this day. 11 And you shall say before the Lord your God, 'It is because of the Lord's doing that I am a prosperous man, for the Lord brought me out of Egypt, for his strong hand, and his mighty arm, and his outstretched hand, and his strong hand brought me out of Egypt; 12 For the Lord hath hardening my heart, and the heart of Pharaoh, that I might deal heroically with the land of Egypt, and with their gods: I am the Lord.'

"And all the people shall make haste to utter this saying before the Lord in the hearth of the assembly. And they did as Moses bade them; as the Lord had commanded Moses, they did. 21 And the Lord did proceed to lead the people according to his word, and the people went forth by their tribes, and by their families. 22 And all the people of the land, the Canaanites, and the Chanaanites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Amorites, 23 Did go out to fight against Israel, all the people that had made war with them. 24 And they fell on them; and the Lord delivered them into the hand of Israel, and they smote them with great slaughter in the field of Rephidim, and they smote them with great slaughter. 25 And they said to Moses, 'Come, let us make gods for us, for we have not known what God is doing with us.' 26 And they said to Moses, 'Make us gods, for as for this people, what is God? to go up to them, and to deal heroically with us.' 27 And Moses said to the people, 'Do not go up. 28 For the Lord your God is going up to fight for you, to take possession of the land.' 29 And the Lord said to Moses, 'I will not go up for thee, for thou hast not appointed thyself this people."
Exodus XIV. 1—19.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 2 Speak to the children of Israel, and let them turn and encamp before the village between Migdol and the sea, against Beel-sephon; before them shall thou encamp by the sea. 3 And Pharaoh will say to his people, For these children of Israel, they are wandering in the land, for the wilderness has shut them in. 4 And I will harden the heart of Pharaoh, and he shall pursue after them; and I will be glorified in Pharaoh, and all his host, and all the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord. And they did so. 5 And it was reported to the king of the Egyptians that the people had fled: and that of his servants against the people; and they said, What is this that we have done, to let the children of Israel go, so that they should not serve us? 6 So Pharaoh rooked his chariots, and led off all his people with himself: 7 having also taken six hundred chosen chariots, and all the cavalry of the Egyptians, and rulers over all. 8 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and of his servants, and he pursued after the children of Israel; and the children of Israel went out with a high hand. 9 And the Egyptians pursued after them, and they found them encamped by the sea; and all the cavalry and the chariots of Pharaoh, and the horsemen, and his host were before the village, over against Beel-sephon. 10 And Pharaoh approached, and the children of Israel having looked up, beheld, 11 and the Egyptians were very greatly terrified, and the children of Israel cried to the Lord; 11 and said to Moses, Because there were no graves in the land of Egypt, hast thou brought us forth to slay us in the wilderness? What is this that thou hast done to us, having brought us out of Egypt? 12 is not this the word which we spake to thee in Egypt, saying, Let us alone that we may serve the Egyptians? For it is better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in this wilderness. 13 And Moses said to the people, Be of good courage: stand and see the salvation which is from the Lord, which he will work for us this day; for as ye have seen the Egyptians to-day, ye shall see them again no more for ever. 14 The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace. 15 And the Lord said to Moses, Why criest thou to me, Why speakest thou to the children of Israel, and let them go? 16 And do thou lift up thy rod, and stretch forth thy hand over the sea, and dry shalt thou set the children of Israel on dry land, and let the Children of Israel enter into the midst of the sea on the dry land. 17 And lo! I will harden the heart of Pharaoh and of all the Egyptians, and they shall go in after them; and I will be glorified upon Pharaoh, and on all his host, and on his chariots and his horses. 18 And all the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, when I am glorified upon Pharaoh and upon his chariots and his horses. 19 And the angel of God that went before the camp of the children of Israel removed and went behind, and the pillar of the cloud also removed from before them and stood behind them. 30 And it went between the camp of the Egyptians and the camp of Israel, and stood; and there was darkness and blackness; and the night passed, and they came not near one another during the whole night. 31 And Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the Lord carried back the sea with a strong south wind all the night, and made the sea dry, and the water was divided. 32 And the children of Israel went into the midst of the sea on the dry land, and the water of it was a wall on the right hand and a wall on the left.

33 And the Egyptians pursued, and went in after them, and every horse of Pharaoh, and his chariots, and his horsemen, into the midst of the sea. 34 And it came to pass in the morning watch that the Lord looked forth on the camp of the Egyptians through the pillar of fire and cloud, and troubled the camp of the Egyptians, 35 and bound the axe-trees with one another, and caused them to go with difficulty; and the Egyptians said, Let us flee from the face of Israel, for the Lord fights for them against the Egyptians. 36 And the Lord said to Moses, Stretch forth thine hand over the sea, and let the water be turned back to its place, and let it cover the Egyptians coming both upon the chariots and the riders. 37 And Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the water returned to its place toward day; and the Egyptians fled from the water, and the Lord shook off the Egyptians in the midst of the sea. 38 And the water returned and covered the chariots and the riders, and all the forces of Pharaoh, who entered after them into the sea; and there was not left of them even one. 39 But the children of Israel went along dry land in the midst of the sea, and the water was to them a wall on the right hand, and a wall on the left. 40 So the Lord delivered Israel in that day from the hand of the Egyptians, and Israel saw the Egyptians dead by the shore of the sea.

And Israel saw the mighty hand, the things which the Lord did to the Egyptians; and the people feared the Lord, and believed God and Moses his servant.

Then sang Moses and the children of Israel this song to the Lord, and spoke, saying, Let us sing to the Lord, for he is very greatly glorified: horse and rider he has thrown into the sea. 4 He was to me a helper and protector for salvation: this is my God, and I will glorify him, my father's God, and I will exalt him. 5 The Lord pursued them through war to nought, the Lord is his name. He has cast the chariots of Pharaoh and his host into the sea, the chosen mounted captains: they were swallowed up in the Red Sea. 6 He covered them with the sea: they sank to the depth like a stone. 7 Thy right hand, O God, has been glorified in strength; thy right hand, O God, has broken the enemies. 8 And in the abundance of thy glory thou hast broken the adversaries to pieces: thou sentest forth thy wrath, it devoured them as stubble. 9 And by the breath of thine anger the water parted asunder; the waters were congealed as a wall, the waves were concealed in the midst of the sea. 9 The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoils; I will satisfy my soul, I will destroy with my sword, my hand shall have dominion. 10 Thou sentest forth thy wind, the sea covered them; they sank like lead in the mighty water. 11 Who is like to thee among the gods, O Lord? who is like to thee? glorified in holiness, marvellous in glories, doing wonders. 12 Thou stretchedst forth thy right hand, the earth swallowed them up. 13 Thou hast guided in thy righteousness this thy people whom thou hast redeemed, by thy strength thou hast called them into thy holy resting-place. 14 The nations heard and were angry, pangs have seized on the dwellers among the Philistines. 15 Then the princes of Edom, and the chiefs of the Moabites hastened; trembling took hold upon them, all the inhabitants of Chanaan melted away. 16 Let trembling and fear fall upon them; by the greatness of thine arm, let them become as stone; till thine people pass over, O Lord, till thine people pass over whom thou hast purchased. 17 Bring them in and plant them in the mountain of their inheritance, in thy prepared habitation, which thou, O Lord, hast prepared; the sanctuary, O Lord, which thine hands have made ready. 18 The Lord reigns for ever and ever and ever. 19 For the horse of Pharaoh went in with the chariots and horsemen into the sea, and the Lord brought upon them the water of the sea, but the children of Israel walked through dry land in the midst of the sea.

And Mariam the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, having taken a timbrel in her hand—then there went forth all the women after her with timbrels and dances. 21 And Mariam led them, saying, Let us sing to the Lord, for he has been very greatly glorified: the horse and his rider he has cast into the sea.

So Moses brought up the children of Israel from the Red Sea, and brought them into the wilderness of Sur; and they went three days in the wilderness, and found no water to drink. But there was a rock in the wilderness; around Murrha, and they could not drink of Murrha, for it was bitter; therefore he named the name of that place, Bitterness. 24 And the people murmured against Moses, saying, What shall we drink? 25 And Moses cried to the Lord, and the Lord showed him a tree, and he cast it into the water, and the water was sweetened: there he established to him ordinances and judgments, and there he proved him, and said, If thou wilt indeed hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and do things pleasing before him, and wilt hearken to his commands, and keep all his ordinances, no disease which I have brought upon the Egyptians will I bring upon thee, for I am the Lord thy God.

And they departed from Aelim, and all the congregation of the children of Israel came to the wilderness of Sin, which is between Aelim and Sina; and on the fifteenth day, in the second month after their departure from Mount Horeb. And it came to pass, when Aaron spake with all the congregation of the children of Israel, that they looked upon the ark, and, behold, the glory of the Lord appeared: 4 and he said, I will set thee as my mouth, and thee as a man for the people, and thou shalt lead them by the way. 5 And they took of the stone that was at the entrance of the tabernacle, and cast them into the camp, and brake them at the entrance of the tent of meeting. And the congregation of the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded Moses. 6 And the children of Israel went forth and did as the Lord commanded Moses. 7 And when they came to the wilderness of Paran to Kadesh, and to the camp of the children of Israel, they set up the tabernacle of the congregation; and Aaron went in and out in the tent of meeting. 8 And Moses called, and Aaron went in and out, and they said, The Lord calleth by name. 9 And the Lord spake unto Aaron, saying, Go into the wilderness of Paran, and come hither unto the children of Israel; and command them, that they bring me an offering out of every man a shekel, according to the number of the souls, 10 even of the men that are numbered among them, from twenty years old and upward; even for their number for the host, according unto the number of the hosts, thou shalt take an offering. 11 And ye shall take every man the same offering, an atonement for the people. And ye shall give that which ye take of them for the atonement, for a gift unto the Lord; to the priest Aaron shall it be. 12 And the children of Israel did according to the word of Moses; and they gave him an offering by number, even of the he goats, an atonement for the people. 13 And they brought every man his offering for the atonement of the children of Israel, even of the he goats, according to the number of the souls, even of the congregation of Israel, as the Lord commanded Moses. 14 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, 15 Offer a burnt offering for a sweet savor unto the Lord, with a meat offering mingled with oil, and drink offering of wine for an atonement. 16 And let them make Me an holy habitation, that I may dwell among them. 17 And thou shalt make an ark of shittim wood, two cubits and a half in length, and one cubit and a half in breadth, and one cubit and a half in height. 18 And thou shalt make a prop. 19 And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, within and without shall thou overlay it with gold, and shalt make upon it a gold prop and a gold crown. 20 And thou shalt cast four rings of gold, upon the sides of it; under the one cubit on the side of it shall be the two rings: 21 And two rings shall be cast for the ends thereof, upon the two sides of it; under the two cubits on the ends of it shall be the two rings. 22 And they shall put it in the bottom of the tabernacle, where the posts of the tabernacle shall be fastened; and they shall be beholden to the tabernacle. 23 And thou shalt make a table of shittim wood, three cubits long, and one cubit wide, and one cubit high. 24 And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, within and without shall thou overlay it with gold, and shalt make upon it a gold crown. 25 And thou shalt make for it four rings of gold; and they shall put the rings at the four corners of it, at the four sides thereof; 26 and they shall put the rings into the rings of the ark, and shall bear the ark with them, when they shall bring it from the tabernacle. 27 And thou shalt make an altar of acacia wood, five cubits long, and five cubits wide, and three cubits high. 28 And thou shalt make its horns on the four corners thereof, and its horns shall be one with it: and thou shalt overlay it with pure gold. 29 And thou shalt make for it poles of shittim wood, and thou shalt overlay them with gold. 30 And the children of Israel shall bring an offering, an offering of a sweet savor unto the Lord, of an incense mixture, of pure frankincense; the weight of an ephah for the shekel, the weight of the shekel, twenty shekels; it shall be pure frankincense. 31 And thou shalt make for the incense an anointing oil compounded of onyx stones; and it shall be an holy anointing oil. 32 It shall be made of pure oil compounded with a伦的记载。
2 And the children of Israel said to them, Would we be better off in Egypt, when we sit by the flesh-pots, and eat bread to satiety! for ye have brought us out into this wilderness, to slay all this congregation with hunger.

3 § Exodus XVI. 2—21. And the children of Israel said to Moses, Behold, I will rain bread upon you, and the people shall go forth, and they shall gather it daily, that I may try them whether they will walk in my law, or not.

4 And it shall come to pass on the sixth day, that they shall prepare whatsoever they have brought in, and it shall be double of what they shall have gathered for the day, daily. "And Moses and Aaron said to all the congregation of the children of Israel, At even ye shall know that the Lord has brought you out of the land of Egypt; and in the morning ye shall see the glory of the Lord, inasmuch as he hears your murmuring against God; and who are we, that ye continue to murmur against us? 8 And Moses said, This shall be when the Lord gives you in the evening flesh to eat, and bread in the morning to satisfy, because the Lord has heard your murmuring, which ye murmur against us: and what are we? for your murmuring is not against us, but against God. 9 And Moses said to Aaron, Say to all the congregation of the children of Israel, Come near before God; for he has heard your murmuring.

10 And when Aaron spoke to all the congregation of the children of Israel, they turned toward the wilderness, and the glory of the Lord appeared in a cloud. 11 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, I have heard the murmuring of the congregation of the children of Israel: speak to them, saying, Towards evening ye shall eat flesh, and in the morning ye shall be satisfied with bread; and ye shall know that I am the Lord your God. 12 And it was evening, and quails came up and covered the camp: 13 In the morning they came up toward the camp, and the dew sat on the face of the wilderness like white corn- 14 and when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another, What is this? for they knew not what it was; 15 And Moses said to them, It is the bread which the Lord has given you to eat. This is that which the Lord has appointed, gather of it each man for his family, a homer for each person, in proportion to the number of your souls, gather each of you with his fellow-lodgers. 16 And the children of Israel did so, and gathered some much and some less. 17 And having measured the homer full, yea that had gathered much had nothing over, and he that had gathered less had no lack; each gathered according to the need of those who belonged to him. 18 And Moses said to them, Let no man leave of it till the morning.

19 But they did not hearken to Moses, but some left of it till the morning; and it bred worms and stank: and Moses was irritated with them. 20 And they ga-
thither it every morning, each man what he needed, and when the sun waxed hot it melted. And it came to pass on the sixth day, they gathered double what was needed, two homers for one man; and all the chief of the synagogues went in and reported it to Moses and Aaron. And Moses said to them, Is not this the word which the Lord spoke? To-morrow is the sabbath, a holy rest to the Lord: bake that ye will bake, and seeth that ye will seethe, and all that is over leave to be by for the morrow. And they left it till the morning, as Moses commanded them; and it stank not, neither was there a worm in it. And Moses said, Eat that to-day, for to-day is a sabbath to the Lord; if shall not be found in the plain. Six days ye shall gather it, and on the seventh day is a sabbath, for there shall be none on that day. And it came to pass on the seventh day, that some of the people went forth to gather, and found none. And the Lord said to Moses, How long are ye unwilling to hearken to my commands and my law? See, for the Lord has given you this day as the sabbath, therefore he has given you on the sixth day the bread of two days; ye shall sit each of you in your houses; let no one go forth from his place on the seventh day. And the Lord said to Moses, the children of Israel called the name of it Man; and it was as white coriander seed, and the taste of it as a wafer with honey. And Moses said, This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded, Fill an homer with manna, to be laid up for your generations; that they may see the bread which ye ate in the wilderness, when the Lord led you forth out of the land of Egypt. And Moses said to Aaron, Take a golden pot, and cast into it one full homer of manna; and thou shalt lay it up before God, to be kept for your generations. as the Lord commanded Moses; and Aaron laid it up before the testimony to be kept. And the children of Israel ate manna forty years, until they came to the land they ate the manna, until they came to the region of Phœnicia. Now the homer was the tenth part of three measures.

And all the congregation of the children of Israel departed from the wilderness of Sinai, according to their encampments, by the word of the Lord; and they encamped in Raphidin: and there was no water for the people to drink. And the people reviled Moses, saying, Give us water, that we may drink; and Moses said to them, Why do ye revile me, and why tempt ye the Lord? And the people thirsted there for water, and there the people murmured against Moses, saying, Why is this? but thou brought us up out of Egypt to slay us and our children and our cattle with thirst? And Moses cried to the Lord, saying, What shall I do to this people? yet a little while and they will stone me. And the Lord said to Moses, Go before this people, and take to thyself of the elders of the people; and the rod with which thou smitest the and rescued them out of the hand of the Egyptians and out of the hand of Pharaoh.

10 And Jethro said, Blessed be the Lord, because he has rescued them out of the hand of the Egyptians and out of the hand of Pharaoh. Now know I that the Lord is great above all gods, because of this, wherefore I attacked them. 11 And Jethro the father-in-law of Moses took whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices for God, for Aaron and all the elders of Israel came to eat bread with the father-in-law of Moses before God.

And it came to pass after the morrow that Moses sat to judge the people, and all the matters that were present by Moses from morning till evening. 13 And other matters have been seen all that Moses did to the people, says, What is this that thou dost to the people? wherefore sittest thou alone, and all the people stand by thee from morning till evening? 14 And Moses says to his father-in-law, Because the people come to me to seek judgment from God. 15 For whenever there is a dispute among them, and they come to me, I give judgment upon each, and I teach them the ordinances of God and his law. 16 And the father-in-law of Moses said to him, Thou dost not this thing rightly, 17 thou wilt wear away with intolerable weariness, both those and all this people which is with thee: this thing is hard, thou wilt not be able to endure it thyself alone. 18 Now then hearken to me, and I will advise thee, and God shall be with thee: be thou to the people in the things pertaining to God, and thou shalt bring their matters to God. 19 And thou shalt testify to them the ordinances of God and his law, and thou shalt shew to them the ways in which they shall walk, and the works which they shall do. 20 And do thou look out for thyself out of all the people able men, fearing God, righteous men, hating pride, and thou shalt set over them the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of tens. 21 And they shall judge the people at all times, and the too burdensome matter shall they bring to thee, but they shall judge the smaller cases: so they shall relieve thee and help thee. 22 If thou wilt do this thing, God shall strengthen thee, and thou shalt be able to attend, and all this people shall come with peace into their own place. 23 And Moses hearkened to the voice of Jethro, his father-in-law, and did whatsoever he said to him. 24 And Moses chose out able men of all out of Israel, and he made them captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties and captains of tens over the people. 25 And they judged the people at all times; and every too burdensome matter they brought to Moses. 26 And Moses dismissed his father-in-law, and he returned to his own land.

And in the third month of the departure of the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, on the same day, they came into the wilderness of Sina. 27 And they departed from Raphidim, and came into the wilderness of Sina, and there Israel encamped before the mountain. 28 And Moses went up 13 And Moses dismissed his father-in-law, and he returned to his own land.

And in the third month of the departure of the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, on the same day, they came into the wilderness of Sina. 27 And they departed from Raphidim, and came into the wilderness of Sina, and there Israel encamped before the mountain. 28 And Moses went up
Moses is in the wilderness at Mount Sinai where God has led the Israelites. God speaks to Moses and tells him to build an ark and place a stone tablet inside it. God also gives Moses the Ten Commandments.

God also speaks to the people and tells them to prepare for the coming of the Lord. God commands the people to bring offerings and to build a tabernacle where they can meet with God.

Moses and the people prepare the offerings and build the tabernacle. God appears in the Tabernacle and speaks to the people, giving them further instructions.

The people set up the tabernacle and make offerings to God. They also build a altar for burnt offerings, sacrifices, and peace offerings.

Moses continues to prepare the people for the coming of God. He teaches them about the importance of obedience and the consequences of disobedience.

The people are amazed by the显现 of God and are reminded of the covenant God made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Moses, along with the elders of Israel, descend the mountain and receive the tablets of the Law from God. God also speaks to Moses about the destruction of the first tabernacle and the need for a new one.

The people are to be holy, and Moses is to be their leader. God promises to be with them always.

The people are to observe the Sabbath and to be careful to follow the commandments given to them. God is about to bring them into the Promised Land.

Moses, along with Aaron, and the elders of Israel set up the tabernacle as God had commanded. The people are reminded of the covenant with God and are to follow the commandments given to them.
And Moses said to God, The people will not be able to approach to the mount of Sinai, for thou hast solemnly charged us, saying, Set bounds to the mountain and sanctify it. And the Lord said to him, Go, descend, and come up thou and Aaron with the people, but let not the people force their way to come up to God, lest the Lord destroy some of them. And Moses went down to the people, and spoke to them. And the Lord spoke all these words, saying: I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods beside me. Thou shalt not make unto thyself an idol, nor likeness of anything, whatever things are in the heaven above, and whatever are in the earth beneath, and whatever are in the waters under the earth. Thou shalt not bow down to them, nor serve them; for I am the Lord thy God, a jealous God, recompensing the sins of the fathers upon the children, to the third and fourth generation to them that hate me, and bestowing mercy on them that love me to thousands of them, and on them that keep my commandments. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord thy God will not acquit him that taketh his name in vain. Remember the sabbath day to keep it holy. Six days thou shalt labour, and shalt perform all thy work. But on the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God; on it thou shalt do no work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy servant nor thy maid servant, thine ox nor thine ass, nor any cattle of thine, nor the stranger that sojourns with thee. For in six days the Lord made the heaven and the earth, and the sea and all things in them, and rested on the seventh day; therefore the Lord blessed the seventh day, and hallowed it. By Honour thy father and thy mother, that it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long upon the land which the Lord thy God gives to thee. Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour’s wife; thou shalt not covet thy neighbour’s house; nor his field, nor his servant, nor his maid, nor his ox, nor any of his cattle, nor anything that belongeth to thy neighbour. And all the people perceived the thundering, and the flashes, and the voice of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking; and all the people feared and stood afar off; and said to Moses, Speak thou to us, and let not God speak to us, lest we die. And Moses said his this. Be of good courage, for God is come to you to try you, that his fear may be among you, that ye sin not. And the people stood afar off, and Moses went into the darkness where God was. And the Lord said to Moses, Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and thou shalt report it to the children of Israel, Ye have seen what I did to the Egyptians. I am the Lord your God. These are the commandments, which the Lord commanded Moses in mount Sinai, between the Lord and the people of Israel.}{...}
21 And there shall go forth a wave of the sea to cover the land a great and mighty wave; and the land shall be separated: and the wave shall go on, etc.

22 And thou shalt set up great stones over the entering of Pharaoh's way, saying, Over this shall the以色列s pass, and the waters shall be divided. And these are the ordinances which thou shalt set before them. And if any one sell his daughter, she shall not depart as the maidservants depart. If she be not pleasing to her master, after she has betrothed herself to him, he shall let her go free; but is not at liberty to sell her to a foreign nation, because he has trifled with her. And if he should have betrothed her to his son, he shall do her according to the right of daughters. And if he take another to himself, she shall not depart as the maidservants depart. If any man smite another and he die, let him besurely put to death. But as for him that did it not willingly, but God delivered him into his hands, I will give thee a place whither the slayer may flee. And if the man lie in wait for his neighbour to slay him by craft, and he go for refuge, thou shalt take him from my altar to put him to death. Whoever smites his father or his mother, let him be certainly put to death. He that reviles his father or his mother shall surely die. Whosoever shall steal one of the children of Israel, and prevail over him and sell him, and he be found with him, let him certainly die. And if two men revile each other and smite the one the other with a stone or his fist, and he die not, but be laid upon his bed; if the man arise and walk abroad on his staff, he that smote him shall be clear; only he shall pay for his loss of time, and for his healing. And if a man smite his man-servant or his maid-servant, with a rod, and the party die under his hands, he shall be surely punished. But if the servant continue to live a day or two, lent not the master be punished; for he is his money. 32 And if two men strive and smite a woman with child, and her child be born imperfectly formed, he shall be forced to pay a penalty: as the woman's husband may lay upon him, he shall pay with a valuation.

3 And if the owner of the bull send him away free for their tooth's sake. 3 And if a bull gore a man or woman and they die, the bull shall be stoned with stones, and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the bull shall be clear. 3 But if the bull should have been given to going in former time, and men have told his owner, and he have not removed him, but he should have slain a man or woman, the bull shall be stoned, and his owner shall die also.

3 And if a ransom should be imposed on him, he shall pay for the ransom of his soul as much as they should lay upon him. 3 And if the bull gore a son or daughter, let them do it according to this ordinance. 3 And if the bull gore a man-servant or maid-servant, he shall pay to their master thirty silver didrachms, and the bull shall be stoned.

3 And if any one open a pit or dig a cavity in stones and cover not, and an ox or an ass fall in there, the owner of the pit shall make compensation; he shall give money to their owner, and the dead shall be his own.

3 And if any man's bull gore the bull of his neighbour, and it die, they shall sell the living bull and divide the money, and they shall divide the dead bull. 3 But if the bull be two years old, and gore in going time past, and they have testified to his owner, and he have not removed him, he shall repay bull for bull, but the dead shall be his own.

3 And if one steal an ox or a sheep, and kill it or sell it, he shall pay five calves for a calf; and four sheep for a sheep.

3 And if the thief be found in the breach, made by himself and be smitten and die, there shall not be blood shed for him. 3 But if the sun be risen upon him, he is guilty, he shall die instead; and if an ox should have nothing, let him be sold in compensation for what he has stolen. 3 And if the thing stolen be left and be in his hand alive, whether ox or ass, or sheep or goats, or any thing that is found.

3 And if any one should feed down a field or a vineyard, and should send in his beast to feed down another field, he shall make compensation of his own field according to his produce; and if he shall have fed down the whole field, he shall pay for compensation the best of his own field and the best of his vineyard. 3 And if fire have gone forth and caught thorns, and should also set on fire threshing-floors or ears of corn or a field, he that kindled the fire shall make compensation.
7 And if any one give to his neighbour money or goods to keep, and they be stolen out of the man’s house, if the thief be found he shall repay double. But if the thief be not found, the master of the house shall come forward before God, and shall swear that surely he has not wrought wickedly in regard of any part of his neighbour’s deposit, according to every injury alleged, both concerning a calf, and an ass, and a sheep, and a garment, and every alleged loss, whatsoever in fact it may be,—the judgment of both shall proceed before God, and he that is guilty shall not take the any neighbour double. And if any one give to his neighbour to keep a calf or sheep or any beast, and it be wounded or die or be taken, and no one know, an oath of God shall be between both, each swearing that he has surely not at all been guilty in the matter of his neighbour’s deposit; and so his master shall not make compensation. And if it be stolen from him, he shall make compensation to the owner. And if it be seized of beasts, he shall bring him to witness the prey, and he shall not make compensation. And if any one borrow ought of his neighbour, and it be wounded or die or be carried away, and the owner of it be not with it, he shall make compensation. But if the owner be with it, he shall not make compensation: but if it be a hired thing, there shall be a compensation to him instead of his hire.

14 And if any one deceive a virgin that is not betrothed, and lie with her, he shall surely endow her for a wife to himself. And if her father positively refuse, and will not consent to give her to him for a wife, he shall pay 5 compensation to her father according to the amount of the dowry of virgins. Ye shall not save the lives of the sacrificers. Every one that lies with a beast ye shall surely put to death. He that sacrifices to any gods but to the Lord alone, shall be destroyed by death.

21 And ye shall not hurt a stranger, nor afflict him; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt. Ye shall hurt no widow or orphan.

And if ye should afflict them by ill-treatment, and they should cry aloud to me, I will surely hear their voice. And I will be very angry, and will slay you with the sword and your wives shall be widows and your children orphans. And if thou shouldst lend money to thy poor brother, who by thee, thou shalt not be hard upon him thou shalt not exact usury of him. And if thou take thy neighbour’s garment for a pledge thou shalt restore it to him before sunset. For this is his clothing, this is the only covering of his nakedness; wherein shall he sleep? If then he shall cry to me, I will hearken to him. Thou shalt not revile the gods, nor speak ill of the ruler of thy people. Thou shalt not keep back the first-fruits of thy threshing floor and press. The first-born of thy sons thou shalt give to me. So shalt thou do with thy calf and thy sheep and thine ass; seven days shall it be under the mother, and the eighth day thou shalt give it to me. 31 And ye shall be holy men to me; and ye shall not eat flesh taken of beasts, ye shall cast it to the dog.

Thou shalt not receive a vain report: thou shalt not agree with the unjust man to become an unjust witness. 2 Thou shalt not associate with the multitude to turn aside with the majority so as to shut out judgment. 3 And thou shalt not spare a poor man in judgment. 4 And if thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt turn them back to him. 5 And if thou see thine enemy's ass fallen under its burden, thou shalt not pass by it, but shalt help to raise it with him.

Thou shalt not wrest the sentence of the poor in his judgment. 12 Thou shalt abate from every unjust thing: thou shalt not slay the innocent and just, and thou shalt not justify the wicked for gifts. 13 And thou shalt not receive gifts; for gifts blind the eyes of the seeing, and corrupt just words. 14 And ye shall not afflict a stranger, for ye were yourselves strangers in the land of Egypt. 15 Six years thou shalt sow thy land, and gather in the fruits of it. 16 But in the seventh year thou shalt let it rest, and leave it, and the poor of thy nation shall feed; and the wild beasts of the field shall eat that which remains: thus thou shalt do to thy vineyard and to thine oliveyard. 17 Six days shalt thou do thy works, and on the seventh day there shall be rest, that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and that the son of thy maid-servant and the stranger may be refreshed. 18 Observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and ye shall make no mention of the name of other gods, neither shall they be heard out of your mouth. 19 Keep ye a feast to me three times in the year. 20 Take heed to keep the feast of unleavened bread: seven days ye shall eat unleavened bread, as I charged thee at the season of the month of new corn, for in it thou camest out of Egypt: thou shalt not appear before me empty. 21 And thou shalt keep the feast of harvest, first fruits of thy labours, whatsoever thou shalt have sown in thy field, and the feast of completion at the end of the year in the gathering in of thy harvest out of thy field. 22 Three times in the year shall all thy males appear before the Lord thy God. 23 For when I shall have cast out the nations from before thee, and shall have widened thy borders, thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifices with leaven, neither must the fat of my feast abide till the morning. 24 Thou shalt bring the first-offerings of the first-fruits of thy land into the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a lamb in its mother's milk. 25 And, behold, I send my angel before thee, that he may keep thee in the way, that he may bring thee into the land which I have prepared for thee. 26 Take heed to thyself and hearken to him, and disobey him not; for he will not give way to thee, for my name is on him. 27 If ye will indeed hear my voice, and if thou wilt do all the things I shall charge thee with, and keep my cove...

tant, ye shall be to me a peculiar people above all nations, for the whole earth is mine; and ye shall be to me a royal priesthood, and a holy nation: these words shall ye speak to the children of Israel. If ye shall indeed hear my voice, and do all the things I shall tell thee, I will be an enemy to thine enemies, and an adverser to thine adversaries. 5 For my zeal shall go as thy zealous, and I shall bring thee to the Amorite, and Chettite, and Pherezite, and Chananite, and Gergeseite, and Evite, and Jebusite, and I will destroy them. 6 Thou shalt not worship their gods, nor serve them: thou shalt not do according to their works, but shalt utterly destroy them, and break to pieces their pillars. 7 And thou shalt see the Lord thy God, and I will bless thy bread and thy water, and I will turn away sickness from you. 8 There shall not be on thy land one that is impotent or barren. I will surely fulfill the number of thy days.

And I will send terror before thee, and I will strike with amazement all the nations to which thou shalt come, and I will make all thine enemies turn their backs to thee. 9 And I will send hornets before thee, and thou shalt cast out the Amorites, and the Erites, and the Chananites, and the Chettites from thee. 10 I will not cast them out in one year, lest the land become desolate, and the beasts of the field multiply against thee. 11 By little and little I will cast them out from before thee, until thou begettest children, and inherit the land. 12 And I will set thy borders from the Red Sea, to the sea of the Philistines, and from the wilderness to the great river Euphrates; and I will give into your hand those that dwell in the land, and will cast them out from thee. 13 Thou shalt make no covenant with them and their gods. 14 And they shall not dwell in thy land, lest they cause thee to sin against me: for if thou shouldst serve their gods, these will be an offence to thee.

And to Moses he said, Go up to the Lord, thou and Aaron and Nadab and Abiaid, and seventy of the elders of Israel: and they shall worship the Lord from a distance. 2 And Moses alone shall draw nigh to God; and they shall not draw nigh, and the people shall not come up with them. 3 And Moses went in and related to the people all the words of God and the ordinances; and all the people answered with one voice, saying, All the words which the Lord has spoken, we will do and be obedient. 4 And Moses wrote all the words of the Lord; and Moses rose up early in the morning, and built an altar under the mountain, and set up twelve stones for the twelve tribes of Israel. 5 And he sent forth the young men of the children of Israel, and they offered whole burnt-offerings, and they sacrificed young calves as a peace-offering to God. 6 And Moses took half the blood and poured it into bowls, and half the blood he poured out upon the altar. 7 And he took the book of the covenant and read it in the ears of the people, and they said, All things whatsoever the Lord has spoken will we do, and be obedient therein. 8 And Moses took the blood and sprinkled it upon the people, and said, Behold the blood of the covenant, which the Lord has made with you concerning all these words.

And Moses went up, and Aaron, and Nadab and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel. And they saw the place where the God of Israel stood; and under his feet was as it were a work of sapphire slab, and as it were the Mount Paran, the frame of the house of God in the likeness of the firmament of heaven in its purity.

And of the chosen ones of Israel there was not even one missing; and they appeared in the place of God, and did eat and drink. And the Lord said to Moses, Come up to me into the mountain, and be there; and I will give thee the tables of stone, the law and the commandments, which I have written to give them laws. And Moses rose up and Joshua his attendant, and they went up into the mount of God. And to the elders they said, Rest there till we return to you; and behold, Aaron and Or are with you: if any man have a cause to be tried, let them go to them. And Moses and Joshua went up to the mount of the Lord, the mountain of God.

And the glory of God came down upon the mountain Sinai, and the cloud covered it six days; and the Lord called Moses upon the seventh day out of the midst of the cloud. And the appearance of the glory of the Lord was as burning fire on the top of the mountain, before the children of Israel. And Moses went into the midst of the cloud, and went up to the mount of God, and was there in the mountain forty days and forty nights.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, and take first-fruits of all, who may be disposéd in their heart to give; and yeshall take my first-fruits; and this is the offering which ye shall take of them: gold and silver and brass, and blue, and purple, and double scarlet, and fine spun linen, and goats' hair, and rams' skins dyed red, and blue skins, and incorruptible wood, and oil for the light, incense for anointing oil, and for the composition of incense, and sardius stones, and stones for the carved work of the table, and twelve stones of the shoulder-piece. And thou shalt make me a sanctuary, and I will appear among you. And thou shalt make for me according to all things which I shew thee in the mountain; even the pattern of the tabernacle, and the pattern of all its furniture: so shalt thou make it. And thou shalt make the ark of testimony in incorruptible wood: the length of two cubits and a half, and the breadth of a cubit and a half, and the height of a cubit and a half. And thou shalt gild it with pure gold, thou shalt gild it within and without; and thou shalt make for it golden wainscots twisted round about. And thou shalt cast for it four golden rings, and shalt put them on the four sides; two rings on the one side, and two rings on the other side. And thou shalt make staves of incorruptible wood, and shall gild them with gold. And thou shalt put the staves into the rings on the sides of the ark, to bear the ark with them. The staves shall re shall shine from one front. 38 And thou shalt make its funnel and its snuff-dishes of pure gold. 39 All these articles shall be a talent of pure gold. 40 See, thou shalt make them according to the pattern shewed thee in the mount.

And thou shalt make the tabernacle, ten curtains of fine linen spin, and blue and purple, and scarlet spin with cherubims; thou shalt make them with work of a weaver. The length of one curtain shall be thirty cubits, and the breadth of one curtain shall be the breadth of four cubits: there shall be the same measure to all the curtains. And the five curtains shall be joined one to another, and the other five curtains shall be closely connected the one with the other. 4 And thou shalt make for them loops of blue on the edge of one curtain, on one side for the coupling, and so shalt thou make on the edge of the outer curtain for the second coupling. 5 Fifty loops shalt thou make for one curtain, and fifty loops shalt thou make on the part of the curtain answering to the coupling of the second, opposite each other, corresponding to each other at each point. 6 And thou shalt make fifty golden rings, and thou shalt join the curtains to each other with the rings, and it shall be one tabernacle. 7 And thou shalt make a covering of the tabernacle skins with the hair on, thou shalt make them eleven skins. 8 The length of one skin thirty cubits, and the breadth of one skin four cubits: there shall be the same measure to the eleven skins. 9 And thou shalt join the five skins together, and the six skins together; and thou shalt double the sixth skin in front of the tabernacle. 10 And thou shalt make fifty loops on the border of one skin, which is in the midst for the jointings; and thou shalt make fifty loops on the edge of the second skin that joins it.

11 And thou shalt make fifty brazen rings; and thou shalt join the rings by the loops, and thou shalt join the skins, and they shall be one. 12 And thou shalt fix at the end that which is over in the skins of the tabernacle; the half on this side, and the half on that side that is left shall thou fold over, according to the overplus of the skins of the tabernacle; thou shalt fold it over behind the tabernacle. 13 A cubit on this side, and a cubit on that side of that which remains of the skins, of the length of the skins of the tabernacle; it shall be folding over the sides of the tabernacle on this side and that side, that it may be covered there. 14 And thou shalt make a covering of the tabernacle rams' skins dyed red, and blue skins as coverings above.

15 And thou shalt make the posts of the tabernacle of incorruptible wood. 16 Of ten cubits shalt thou make one post, and the breadth of one post of a cubit and a half. 17 Two joints shalt thou make in one post, answering the one to the other; so shalt thou do to all the posts of the tabernacle. 18 And thou shalt make posts to the tabernacle, twenty posts on the north side. 19 And thou shalt make to the twenty posts forty silver sockets; two sockets to one post on

And thou shalt make a veil of blue and purple and scarlet woven, and fine linen spun: thou shalt make it cherubim woven work. And thou shalt set it upon four posts of incorruptible wood overlaid with gold; and their tops shall be gold, and their four sockets shall be of silver. And thou shalt put the veil on the posts, and thou shalt carry it in thither within the veil the ark of the testimony; and the veil shall make a separation for you between the holy and the holy of holies. And thou shalt screen with the veil the ark of the testimony in the holy of holies. And thou shalt set the table outside the veil, and the candlestick opposite the table on the south side of the tabernacle; and thou shalt put the table on the north side of the tabernacle. And thou shalt make a screen for the door of the tabernacle of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen spun, the work of the embroiderer. And thou shalt make for the veil five posts, and thou shalt gild them with gold; and their chapiters shall be gold; and thou shalt cast for them five brazen sockets.

And thou shalt make an altar of incorruptible wood, of five cubits in the length, and five cubits in the breadth; the altar shall be square, and the height of it shall be of three cubits. And thou shalt make the horns on the four corners; the horns shall be of the same piece, and thou shalt overlay them with brass. And thou shalt make a rim for the altar; and its covering and its cups, and its flesh-hooks, and its fire-pan, and all its vessels shalt thou make of brass.

and thou shalt make for the grate four brazen rings under the four sides. And thou shalt put them below under the grate of the altar, and the grate shall extend to the middle of the altar. And thou shalt make for the altar staves of incorruptible wood, and thou shalt put the staves into them with the rings. And the pillars shall be of brass; and the sockets of their pillars shall be of brass, and their sockets shall be on the sides of the altar to carry it. Thou shalt make it hollow with boards: according to what was shewed thee in the mount, so thou shalt make it. And thou shalt make a court for the tabernacle, curtains of the court of fine linen, and their sockets; the length of a hundred cubits for one side. And their pillars twenty, and twenty brazen sockets after their pillars. And in the breadth of the tabernacle toward the north curtains of a hundred cubits in length; and their pillars twenty, and their sockets twenty of brass, and the rings and the clasps of the pillars, and their sockets overlaid with silver. And in the breadth of the tabernacle toward the south curtains of fifty cubits, their pillars ten and their sockets ten. And in the breadth of the tabernacle toward the south curtains of fifty cubits, their pillars ten and their sockets ten. And the height of the curtains shall be of fifty cubits for the one side of the gate; their pillars three, and their sockets three. And for the second side the height of the curtains shall be of fifteen cubits; their pillars three, and their sockets three. And a veil for the door of the court, the height of it of twenty cubits of blue linen, and of purple, and spun scarlet, and of fine linen spun with the art of the embroiderer; their pillars four, and their sockets four. All the pillars of the court round about overlaid with silver, and their chapiteres silver and their brass sockets. And the length of the court shall be a hundred cubits on each side, and the breadth fifty on each side, and the height five cubits of fine linen spun, and their sockets of brass. And all the furniture and all the instruments and the pins of the court shall be of brass. And do thou charge the children of Israel, and let them take for thee refined pure olive-oil beaten for light, that a lamp may burn continually. In the tabernacle of the testimony, without the veil that is before the ark of the covenant, shall Aaron and his sons burn it from evening until morning, before the Lord: it is a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations of the children of Israel.

And do thou take thyself both Aaron thy brother, and his sons, even them of the children of Israel; so that Aaron, and Nadab and Abihu, and Eleazar and Ithamar, sons of Aaron, may minister to me. And thou shalt make holy apparel for Aaron thy brother, for honour and glory. And speak thou to all those who are wise in understanding, whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom and perception; and they shall make the holy apparel of Aaron for the sanctuary, in which apparel he shall minister to
...there, at the oracle, and a third buncle, length and name of the third buncle, length and name of the stones: and they shall take the gold and the blue, and the scarlet, and the fine linen, and they shall make the shoulder-piece of fine linen spun, the woven work of the embroiderer. It shall have two shoulder-pieces joined together, fastened on the two sides. And the woven work of the shoulder-pieces which is upon Yit, shall be of one piece according to the work, of pure gold and blue and purple, and scarlet and fine twined linen. And thou shalt take the two stones, the stones of emerald, and thou shalt grave on them the names of the children of Israel. Six names on the first stone, and the other six names on the second stone, according to their births. It shall be the work of the stone-engraver's art; as the graving of the child upon them the names of the children of Israel. And thou shalt put the two stones on the shoulders of the shoulder-piece: they are memorial-stones for the children of Israel: and Aaron shall bear the names of the children of Israel before the Lord on his two shoulders, a memorial for them. And thou shalt make four rings of pure gold; and thou shalt make two fringes of pure gold, variegated with flowers, wroughten work; and thou shalt put the wroughten fringes on the circlets, fastening them on their shoulder-pieces in front. And thou shalt make the oracle of judgment, the work of the embroiderer: in keeping with the ephod, thou shalt make it of gold, and blue and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen spun. Thou shalt make it square: it shall be double: of a span the length of it, and of a span the breadth. And thou shalt interweave with it a texture of four rows of stone; there shall be a row of stones, a sardius, a topaz, an emerald, the first row. And the second row, a carbuncle, a sapphire, and a jasper. And the third row, an agate, an amethyst, a beryl, and an onyx stone, set round with gold, bound together with gold: let them be according to their row. And let the stones of the names of the children of Israel be twelve according to their names, en gravings as of seals: let them be for the twelve tribes each according to the name. And thou shalt make on the ephod a chain-work of pure gold. And Aaron shall take the names of the children of Israel, on the oracle of judgment on his breast; a memorial before God for him as he goes into the sanctuary. And thou shalt put the fringes on the oracle of judgment; thou shalt put the wreaths on both sides of the oracle. And thou shalt put the two circlets on both the shoulders of the ephod in front. And thou shalt put the 5 manifestation and the truth on the oracle of judgment; and it shall be on the breast of Aaron, when he goes into the holy place before the Lord; and Aaron shall bear the judgments of the children of Israel on his breast before the Lord continually. And thou shalt make the full-length tunic of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen. And the opening of it shall be in the middle having a fringe round about the opening, the work of the weaver, woven together in the joining of the same piece that it might not be rent. And under the fringe of the robe below thou shalt make as it were pomegranates of a flowering pomegranate tree, of blue, and purplc, and scarlet, and fine linen. And they shall be upon the ends of the fringe. And under the fringe of the robe round about, golden pomegranates of the same shape, and bells round about between these. A bell by the side of a golden pomegranate, and flower-work on the fringe of the robe round about. And the sound of Aaron shall be audible when he ministers, as he goes into the sanctuary before the Lord, and as he goes out, that he die not. And thou shalt make a plate of pure gold, and thou shalt grave on it as the graving of a signet, Holiness of the Lord. And thou shalt put it on the priest's turban, and it shall be on the front of the mitre: it shall be in the front of the mitre. And it shall be on the forehead of Aaron; and Aaron shall bear the name of the Lord thereon whenever they enter into the sanctuary, before the Lord: to sanctify the children of Israel, and to be holy unto the Lord. And Aaron shall have them, and his sons, whenever they enter into the tabernacle of witness, or when they shall advance to the altar of the sanctuary to minister, so shall they not bring sin upon themselves, lest they die: it is a perpetual statute for him, and for his seed after him.

And these are the things which thou shalt do to them: thou shalt sanctify them, so that they shall serve me in the priesthood; and thou shalt take one young calf from the herd, and two unblemished rams; and unleavened and leavened cakes anointed with oil; thou shalt make them of fine flour of wheat. And thou shalt put them on one basket, and thou shalt offer them on the basket, and the young calf and the two rams. And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons to the doors of the tabernacle of testimony, and thou shalt put them in all the garments; and Aaron and his sons shall put on the garments. And a girdle, an ephod, and a mitre, shall be put on Aaron, and Aaron shall be sanctified.

join for him the oracle to the ephod. 6 And thou shalt put the mitre on his head, and thou shalt put the wash, even the Holiness, on the mitre. 7 And thou shalt take of the anointing oil, and thou shalt pour it on his head, and shalt anoint him, 8 and thou shalt bring his sons, and put garments on them. 9 And thou shalt gird them with the girdles, and put the tires upon them, and they shall have a proceed office to me for ever; and thou shalt shew Aaron and his sons the glory of my sanctuary. 10 And thou shalt bring the calf to the door of the tabernacle of witness; and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the calf, before the Lord, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 11 And thou shalt slay the calf before the Lord, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 12 And thou shalt take of the blood of the calf, and put it on the horns of the altar with thy finger, but all the rest of the blood thou shalt pour out at the foot of the altar. 13 And thou shalt take all the fat that is on the belly, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and shalt put them upon the altar; 14 But the flesh of the calf, and his skin, and his dung, shalt thou burn without fire without the camp; for it is an offering on account of sin. 15 And thou shalt take one ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram. 16 And thou shalt kill it, and take the blood and pour it on the altar round about. 17 And thou shalt divide the ram by his several limbs, and thou shalt take the fat of the ram, the great lobe, and all the fat that is connected with the inwards; 18 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, 19 And the right thumb and the right great toe of the right foot of the ram, the sacrifice for peace offerings: and they shall be wave-offerings for Aaron, and for his sons; 20 And the residue of the flesh of the ram shalt thou burn upon the altar: it is an offering made by fire, an offering by sweet smell before the Lord. 21 And Aaron and his sons shall eat of it in a holy place: for it is most holy. 22 But the breast of the ram, and the shoulder, shall thou consecrate for Aaron, and for his sons; 23 And the shoulder of Aaron, and the shoulder of his sons, shall be for a separation.

2 Or, consecrate. Lit. make perfect the hands. 3 Gr. an accomplishment. 4 q.d., a filling of the hands. 5 Gr. separate them for a separation. Heb. wave them for a wave-offering.
take them from their hands, and shalt offer them up on the altar of whole burnt-offering for a sweet-smelling savour before the Lord: it is an offering to the Lord. 25 And thou shalt take the breast of the ram of consecration which is Aaron's, and thou shalt separate it as a separate offering before the Lord, and it shall be to thee for a portion. 26 And thou shalt sanctify the breast and the shoulder of the shoulder which has been separated, and which has been removed from the ram of consecration, of the portion of Aaron and of that of his sons. 27 And it shall be a perpetual statute of the children of Israel to Aaron and his sons, for this is a separate offering; and it shall be a special offering from the children of Israel, from the peace-offerings of the children of Israel, a special offering to the Lord.

28 And the apparel of the sanctuary which is Aaron's shall be his sons after him, for them to be anointed in them, and to fill their hands. 29 The priest his successor from among his sons who shall go into the tabernacle of witness to minister in the holy place, shall put them on seven days. 30 And thou shalt take the ram of consecration, and thou shalt boil the flesh in the holy place. 31 And Aaron and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram, and the loaves in the basket, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness. They shall eat the offerings with which they were sanctified to fill their hands, to sanctify them; and a stranger shall not eat of them, for they are holy. 32 And if it be left of the flesh of the sacrifice of consecration and of the loaves until the morning, thou shalt burn the remainder with fire: it shall not be eaten, for it is a holy thing.

33 And thus shalt thou do for Aaron and for his sons according to all things that I have commanded thee; seven days shalt thou fill their hands. 34 And thou shalt sacrifice the calf of the sin-offering on the day of purification, and thou shalt purify the altar when thou dost perform consecration upon it, and thou shalt anoint it so as to sanctify it. 35 Seven days shalt thou purify the altar and sanctify it; the sixth day let he offer it, every one that touches the altar shall be hallowed. 36 And these are the offerings which thou shalt offer upon the altar: two unblemished lambs of a year old daily on the altar continually, a constant offering.

37 One lamb thou shalt offer in the morning, and the second lamb thou shalt offer in the evening. 38 And a tenth measure of fine flour mingled with the fourth part of an hin of beaten oil, and a drink-offering the fourth part of a hin of wine for one lamb. 39 And thou shalt offer the second lamb in the evening, after the manner of the morning-offering, and according to the drink-offering of the thersing lamb; thou shalt offer it an offering to the Lord for a sweet-smelling savour, a perpetual sacrifice throughout your generations, at the door of the tabernacle of witness before the Lord; wherein I will be known to thee from thence, so as to speak to thee. 40 And I will there give orders to the children of Israel, and I will be sanctified in my glory. 41 And I will sanctify the tabernacle of testimony and the altar, and I will sanctify Aaron and his sons, to minister as priests to me. 4 And I will be called upon among the children of Israel, and will be their God. 5 And they shall know that I am the Lord their God, who brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, to be called upon by them, and to be their God.

And thou shalt make the altar of incense of incorruptible wood. 2 And thou shalt make it a cubit in length, and a cubit in breadth; it shall be square; and the height of it shall be of two cubits, its horns shall be of the same piece. 3 And thou shalt gild it with pure gold, and its sides round about, and its horns; and thou shalt make for it a wreathen border of gold round about.

And thou shalt make its grates of pure gold, and it shall have two rings at the two sides thereof, and they shall be bearers for the staves, so as to bear it with them. 5 And thou shalt make the altar of incorruptible wood, and shalt gild them with gold. 6 And thou shalt set it before the veil that is over the ark of the testimonies, wherein I will make myself known to them in the ways of the children of Israel; 7 And Aaron shall burn upon it fine incense every morning; whosoever he trims the lamps he shall burn incense upon it. 9 And when Aaron lights the lamps in the evening, he shall burn incense upon it; a constant incense-offering always before the Lord for their generations. 10 And thou shalt not offer strange incense upon it, nor an offering made by fire, nor a sacrifice shall thou pour a drink-offering upon it. 11 And once in the year Aaron shall make atonement 8 on its horns, he shall purge it with the blood of purification for their generations: it is most holy to the Lord.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 12 If thou take account of the children of Israel in the surveying of them, and they shall give every one a ransom for his soul to the Lord, then there shall not be among them a destruction in the visiting of them. 13 This is what they shall give, as many as pass the survey, half a didrachm which is according to the didrachm of the sanctuary: twenty oboli go to the didrachm, but the half of the didrachm is the offering to the Lord.

Every one that passes the survey from twenty years old and upwards shall give the offering to the Lord. 15 The rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less than the half didrachm in giving the offering to the Lord, to make atonement for your souls. 16 And thou shalt take the money of the offering from the children of Israel, and shalt give it for the service of the tabernacle of testimony; and it shall be to the children of Israel a memorial before the Lord, to make atonement for your souls. 18 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 19 Make a brazen laver, and a brazen base for it, 3 for washing; and thou shalt put it between the tabernacle of witness and the altar, and thou shalt pour forth water into it. 19 And Aaron and his sons shall wash their hands and their feet with water from it. 21 Whene'er they shall go into the tabernacle of witness, they shall wash themselves with water, so they shall not die, whensoever they advance to the altar to do service and to offer the whole burnt-offerings to the Lord. 22 They shall wash their hands and feet with water, when 'ever they shall go into the tabernacle of witness; they shall wash themselves with water, that they die not; and it shall be for them a perpetual statute, for him and for his posterity after him. 23 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 24 Do thou also take sweet herbs, the flower of choice myrrh five hundred shekels, and the half of this two hundred and fifty shekels of sweet-smelling cinnamon, and two hundred and fifty shekels of sweet-smelling calamus, 25 and of cypress five hundred shekels of the sanctuary, and a hin of olive oil. 26 And thou shalt make it a holy anointing oil, a perfumed ointment tempered by the art of the perfumer: it shall be a holy anointing oil. 27 And thou shalt anoint the tabernacle with it the tabernacle of witness, and the ark of the tabernacle of witness, and all its furniture, and the candlestick and all its furniture, and the altar of incense, and the altar of whole burnt-offerings and all its furniture, and the table and all its furniture, and the laver. 28 And thou shalt sanctify them, and they shall be holy: every one that toucheth them shall be hal lowed. 29 And thou shalt anoint Aaron and his sons, and sanctify them that they may minister to me as priests. 30 And thou shalt speak to the children of Israel, saying, This shall be to you a holy anointing oil of throughout your generations. 31 On man's flesh it shall not be poured, and ye shall not make any for yourselves according to this composition: it is holy, and shall be holiness to you. 32 Whosoever shall make it in like manner, and whosoever shall give of it to a stranger, shall be destroyed from among his people.

And the Lord said to Moses, Take for thyself sweet herbs, stacte, onycha, sweet galbanum, and transparent frankincense; there shall be an equal weight of each. 33 And they shall make with it perfumed incense, tempered with the art of a perfumer, a pure holy work. 34 And of these thou shalt beat some small and thou shalt put it before the testimonies in the tabernacle of testimony, wherein I will put myself known to thee: it shall be to you a most holy incense. 35 Ye shall not make any for yourselves according to this composition: it shall be to you a holy thing for the Lord. 36 Whosoever shall make any in like manner, so as to smell it, shall perish from his people.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 37 Behold, I have called by name Bezaleel the son of Urias the son of Or, of the tribe of Judah. 38 And I have filled him with a divine spirit of wisdom, and understanding, and knowledge, to invent in every work, and to frame works, to labour in gold, and silver, and brass, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and works in stone, and for artificers' work in wood, to work at all works,
6 and the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 7 Do thou also charge the children of Israel, saying, Take heed and keep my sabbaths; for they are a sign unto me among you throughout your generations, that ye may know that I am the Lord that sanctifieth you. 8 And ye shall keep the sabbaths, because it is holy to you; every one that doth work on the sabbath shall be put to death. 9 And the children of Israel shall keep the sabbath, to observe them throughout their generations. 10 It is a perpetual covenant with me and the children of Israel, it is a perpetual sign with me; for in six days the Lord made the heaven and the earth, and on the seventh day he ceased, and rested. 11 And he gave to Moses when he left off speaking to him in mount Sinai the two tables of testimony, tables of stone written upon with the finger of God.

6 And when the people saw that Moses delayed to come down from the mountain, the people combined against Aaron, and said to him, Arise and make us gods which shall go before us; for this Moses, the man who brought us forth out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what is become of him. 7 And Aaron said unto them, Take off the golden ear-rings which are in your ears, and bring them to me. 8 And all the people took off the golden ear-rings that were in their ears, and brought them to Aaron. 9 And he received them at their hands, and formed them with a graving tool; and he made them a molten calf, and said, These are thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. 10 And Aaron had seen it, and Aaron made proclamation saying, To-morrow is a feast of the Lord. 11 And having risen early on the morrow, he offered whole burnt-offerings, and offered a peace-offering; and the people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. 12 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Go quickly and descend, and hence, for thy people whom thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt have transgressed; they have quickly gone out of the way which thou commandedst; they have made for themselves a calf.
and worshipped it, and sacrificed to it, and said, 9 These are thy gods, O Israel, who brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

10 And now let me alone, and I will be very angry with them and consume them; and I will make thee a nation greater and mightier than all the nations.

11 And Moses prayed before the Lord God, and said, Wherefore, O Lord God, art thou very angry with thy people, whom thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, with great strength, and with thy high arm? 12 Take heed lest at any time thy anger be kindled against them, and thou bringest them on account of the destruction of them, to the place of their sanctuary.

13 Remember Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob thy servants, whom thou hast sworn by thine own self, and said, I will multiply thy seed upon this land, which thou hast chosen to give them.

14 And the Lord was prevailed upon to preserve his people.

15 And Moses turned and went down from the mountain, and the two tables of testimony were in his hands, tables of stone written on both their sides: they were written within and without.

16 And the tables were the writing of God written on the tables. 17 And Joshua heard having heard the voice of the people crying, says to Moses, There is a noise of war in the camp.

18 And Moses says, It is not the voice of them that begin the battle, nor the voice of them that cease the battle, but the voice of them that begin the banquet of wine do I hear.

19 And when he drew nigh to the camp, he saw the calf and the dances; and Moses being very angry cast the two tables out of his hands, and broke them to pieces under the mountain.

20 And having taken the calf which they made, he consumed it with fire, and ground it very small, and scattered it on the mountain, and made the children of Israel to drink it. 21 And Moses said to Aaron, What has this people done to thee, that thou hast brought upon them a great sin? 22 And Aaron said to Moses, Be not angry, my lord, for thou knowest the impetuosity of this people. 23 For they say to me, Make us gods, which shall go before us; for as for this man Moses, who brought us out of Egypt, we do not know what has become of him. 24 And I said to them, If any one has golden ornaments, take them off; and they gave them me, and I cast them into the fire, and there came out this calf. 25 And when Moses saw that the people was scattered, — for Aaron had scattered them so as to be a rejoicing to their enemies, — then stood Moses at the gate of the camp, and said, Who is on the Lord’s side? let him come to me. Then all the sons of Levi came to him. 26 And he says to them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Put every one his sword on his thigh, and go through and return from gate to gate through the camp, and slay every one his brother, and every one his neighbour, and every one his kinsman, and every one his acquaintance, and every one him that is nearest to him. 27 And the sons of Levi did as Moses spoke to them,
Moses: and there fell of the people in that day to the number of three thousand men. 29 And Moses said to them, Ye have filled your hands this day to the Lord each one on his son or on his brother, so that blessing should be given to you.

30 And it came to pass after the morrow had begun, that Moses said to the people, Ye have sinned a great sin; and now I will go up to God, that I may make atonement for your sin. 31 And Moses returned to the Lord and said, I pray, O Lord, this people has sinned a great sin, and they have made for themselves golden gods. 32 And now if thou wilt forgive their sin, forgive it; and if not, blot me out of thy book, which thou hast written. 33 And the Lord said to Moses, If any one has sinned against me, I will blot them out of my book. 34 And now go, descend, and lead this people into the place of which I spoke to thee: behold, my angel shall go before thy face; and in the day when I shall visit I will bring upon them their sin. 35 And the Lord spoke to Moses: the people for the making the calf, which Aaron made.

And the Lord said to Moses, Go forward, go up hence, thou and thy people, whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, into the land which I swore to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, saying, I will give it to your seed. 2 And I will send at the same time my angel before thy face, and he shall cast out the Amorite and the Chettite, and the Pherezite and the Gergesite, and the Erite, and the Jebusite, and the Chananei. 3 And I will bring thee into a land flowing with milk and honey; for I will not go up with thee, because thou art a stiff-necked people, lest I consume thee by the way. 4 And the people having heard this grievous saying, mourned in mourning apparel. 5 For the Lord said to the children of Israel, Ye are a stiff-necked people; take heed lest I bring on you another plague, and destroy you; now then put off your glorious apparel, and your ornaments, and I will shew thee what I will do to thee. 6 So the sons of Israel took off their ornaments and arrayed their accoutrements in the mount of Choreb. 7 And Moses took his tabernacle, and pitched it without the camp, at a distance from the camp; and it was called the Tabernacle of Testimony: and it came to pass that every one that sought the Lord went forth to the tabernacle which was without the camp. 8 And whenever Moses went into the tabernacle without the camp, all the people stood every one watching by the doors of his tent; and when Moses departed, they took notice until he entered into the tabernacle. 9 And when Moses entered into the tabernacle, the pillar of the cloud descended, and stood at the door of the tabernacle, and God talked to Moses.
And Moses said to the Lord, Lo! thou sayest to me, Lead on this people; but thou hast not shewed me whom thou wilt send with me, but thou hast said to me, I know thee not, and thou hast favour with me. 15 If then I have found favour in thy sight, reveal thyself to me, that I may evidently see thee; that I may find favour in thy sight, and that I may know that this great nation is thy people. 16 And he says, I myself will go before thee, and give thee rest. 17 And he says to him, If thou go not up with us thyself, bring me not up hence. 18 And how shall it be surely known, that both I and this people have found favour with thee, except only if thou go with us? So both I and thy people shall be glorified beyond all the nations, as many as are upon the earth. 19 And the Lord said to Moses, I will also do for thee this thing, which thou hast asked; and I will bless this people also for thy sake. 20 And Moses said, Thus the Lord shall be in the midst of me, and I shall meet thee, as I did at Mount Horeb, where thy voice was heard, and the two tables of stone were seen. 21 And the Lord said, Behold, there is a place upon the rock; and when my glory shall pass by, then will I put thee into a hole of the rock; and I will cover thee over with my hand, until I shall have passed by; and I will remove my hand, and then shalt thou see my back parts; but my face shall not appear to thee. 22 And the Lord said to Moses, Hew for thyself two tables of stone, as also the first were, and come up to me to the mountain; and I will write upon the tables the words, which were upon the first tables, which thou broke; and be ready by the morning, and thou shalt go up to the mount Sinai, and shalt stand there for me on the top of the mountain. 23 And let no one go up with thee, nor see in all the mountain; and let not the sheep and oxen feed near that mountain. 24 And Moses hewed two tables of stone, as also the first were; and Moses having taken the mountain, went up to the mount Sinai, as the Lord appointed him; and Moses took the two tables of stone. 25 And the Lord descended in a cloud, and stood near him there, and called by the name of the Lord. 26 And the Lord passed by before his face, and proclaimed, The Lord God, pitiful and merciful, longsuffering and very compassionate, and true, and keeping justice and mercy for thousands, taking away iniquity, and unrighteousness, and sins; and he will not clear the guilty; bringing the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and to the children's children, to the third and fourth generation. 27 And Moses hasted, and bowed to the earth and worshipped; 28 and said, If I have found grace before thee, let my Lord go with us; for the people is 10 And the Lord said to Moses, Behold, I establish a covenant for thee in the presence of all thy people; I will do glorious things, which have not been done in all the earth, or in any nation; and all the people among whom thou art shall see the works of the Lord, that they are wonderful, which I will do for thee.

11 And thou shalt take heed to all things which I have commanded thee; thou shalt keep and do them.

12 And the Lord said to Moses, See, I have come to make a covenant with thee in the presence of all thy people; and thou shalt make a covenant with them also, and bring them to Me, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them.

13 And Moses said to the Lord, Behold, I am in the midst of thy people; and thou hast sent me to be a prophet to them, and to bring them to thee, and to make a covenant with them, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them.

14 And the Lord said to Moses, Art thou sure that thou shalt make a covenant with them, and bring them to Me, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them?

15 And Moses answered, I will go and be a prophet to them, and I will bring them to thee, and I will make a covenant with them, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them.

16 And the Lord said to Moses, Art thou sure that thou shalt make a covenant with them, and bring them to Me, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them?

17 And Moses answered, I will go and be a prophet to them, and I will bring them to thee, and I will make a covenant with them, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them.

18 And the Lord said to Moses, Art thou sure that thou shalt make a covenant with them, and bring them to Me, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them?

19 And Moses answered, I will go and be a prophet to them, and I will bring them to thee, and I will make a covenant with them, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them.

20 And the Lord said to Moses, Art thou sure that thou shalt make a covenant with them, and bring them to Me, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them?

21 And Moses answered, I will go and be a prophet to them, and I will bring them to thee, and I will make a covenant with them, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them.

22 And the Lord said to Moses, Art thou sure that thou shalt make a covenant with them, and bring them to Me, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them?

23 And Moses answered, I will go and be a prophet to them, and I will bring them to thee, and I will make a covenant with them, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them.

24 And the Lord said to Moses, Art thou sure that thou shalt make a covenant with them, and bring them to Me, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them?

25 And Moses answered, I will go and be a prophet to them, and I will bring them to thee, and I will make a covenant with them, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them.

26 And the Lord said to Moses, Art thou sure that thou shalt make a covenant with them, and bring them to Me, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them?

27 And Moses answered, I will go and be a prophet to them, and I will bring them to thee, and I will make a covenant with them, that they may keep the covenant of the Lord, and I will make them My people, and thou shalt be My prophet to them.

and forty nights; he did not eat bread, and he did not drink water; and he wrote upon the tables these words of the covenant, the ten sayings.

29 And when Moses went down from the mountain, there were the two tables in the hands of Moses, as then he went down from the mountain, Moses knew not that the appearance of the skin of his face was glorified, when God spoke to him. 30 And Aaron and all the elders of Israel saw Moses, and the appearance of the skin of his face was made glorious, and they feared to approach him. 31 And Moses called them, and Aaron and all the rulers of the synagogue turned towards him, and Moses spoke to them.

32 And afterwards all the children of Israel came to him, and he commanded them all things, whatsoever the Lord had commanded him in the mount of Sinai. 33 And when he was speaking to them, he put a veil on his face. 34 And whenever Moses went in before the Lord to speak to him, he took off the veil till he went out, and he went forth and spoke to all the children of Israel whatsoever the Lord commanded him. 35 And the children of Israel saw the face of Moses, that it was glorified; and Moses put the veil over his face, till he went in to speak with the Lord.

And Moses gathered all the congregation of the children of Israel together, and said, These are the words which the Lord has spoken for you to do them. 2 Six days shall thou perform works, but on the seventh day shall be rest—a holy sabbath—a rest for the Lord; every one that does work on it, let him die. 3 Ye shall not burn a fire in any of your dwellings on the sabbath-day; I am the Lord. 4 And Moses spoke to all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord has appointed you, saying, 5 Take of yourselves an offering for the Lord; every one that engages in his heart shall bring the firstfruits to the Lord; gold, silver, brass, 6 blue, purple, double scarlet spun, and fine linen spun, and goats’ hair, and ram’s skins dyed red, and skins dyed blue, and incorruptible wood, and sardine stones, and stones for engraving for the 7 shoulder-piece and full-length robe. 8 And every man that is wise in heart among you, let him come and work all things whatsoever the Lord has commanded. 9 The tabernacle, and the cords, and the covering, and the ram’s skins, and the goats’ hair, and the cloth of the Tent, and the curtains of the court, and the posts, 10 and the ark of the testimony, and its staves, and its propitiatory, and the veil, 11 and the curtains of the court, and its posts, and the emerald stones, and the incense, and the anointing oil, 12 and the table and all its furniture, 13 and the candlestick for the light and all its furniture, 14 and the altar and all its furniture, 15 and the holy garments of Aaron the priest, and the garments in which they shall do service; 16 and the garments of priesthood for his sons of Aaron and the anointing oil, and the compound incense.
20 And all the congregation of the children of Israel went out from Moses. And they brought, they whose heart prompted them, and they to whomsoever it seemed good in their mind, each an offering: 21 and they brought an offering to the Lord for all the works of the tabernacle of witness, and all the services in it, and for all the sanctuary. 22 And the men, even every one to whom it seemed good in his heart, brought, from the women, even brought seals and ear-rings, and finger-rings, and bracelets, and every article of gold. And all as many as brought ornaments of gold to the Lord, and with whomsoever fine linen was found; they brought skins dyed blue, and rams' skins dyed red. 23 And every one that offered an offering of silver and brass, the offerings to the Lord; and they with whom was found incorruptible wood; and they brought offerings for all the works of the preparation. 24 And every woman skilful in her heart to spin with her hands, y brought spun articles, the blue, and and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, 25 and every one that wove the woman whose mind and heart led them to come in and do all the works as many as the Lord appointed them to do by Moses— 26 the children of Israel, Behold, God has called by name Beseleel the son of Urias the son of Or, of the tribe of Juda, 27 and has filled him with a divine spirit of wisdom and understanding, and knowledge of all things, 28 to labour skilfully in all works of cunning workmanship, to form the gold and the silver and the brass, and to work in stone, and to fashion the wood, and to work in every work of wisdom. 29 And God gave improvement in understanding both to him, and to Eliab the son of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan. 30 And God had given to Beseleel understanding and perception, to understand to work all the works of the sanctuary, and to weave the woven and embroidered work with scarlet and fine linen, to do all work of curious workmanship and embroidery.
the sanctuary, each according to his own work, which they wrought. 11 And one said to Moses, The people bring me an abundance too great in proportion to all the works which the Lord has appointed them to do. 12 And Moses commanded, and proclaimed in the camp, saying, Let neither man nor woman any longer labour for the offerings of the sanctuary; and the people were restrained from bringing any more. 13 And they had done well to make the furniture, and they left some besides. 14 And every wise one among those that wrought made the robes of the holy places, which belong to Aaron the priest, as the Lord commanded Moses. 15 And he made the ephod of gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined. 16 And the plates were divided, the threads of gold, so as to interweave with blue and purple, and with the scarlet, and the fine linen twined, they made it a woven work; 17 shoulder-pieces joined from both sides, a work woven by mutual twisting of the parts into one another. 18 They made the same material according to the making of it, of gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined, as the Lord commanded Moses; 19 and they made the two emerald stones clasped together and set in gold, graven and cut after the cutting of a seal with the names of the children of Israel; 20 and he put them on the shoulder-pieces of the ephod, as stones of memorial of the children of Israel, as the Lord appointed Moses. 21 And they made the breastpiece, a work woven with embroidery, according to the work of the ephod, of gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined. 22 And they made the breastpiece square and double, the breadth of a span, and the length of a span. 23 And there was interwoven with it a woven work of four rows of stones, a series of stones, the first row, a sardius and topaz and emerald; 24 and the second row, a carbuncle and sapphire and jasper; 25 and the third row, a jasper and agate and amethyst; 26 and the fourth row a chrysolite and beryl and onyx set round about with gold, and fastened with a line; 27 and the stones were twelve according to the names of the children of Israel, graven according to their names 6 like seals, each according to his own name for the twelve tribes. 28 And they made the breastpiece turned wreaths, wreathen work of pure gold, 29 and they made two golden rings at either side of the breastpiece, at the top of the two upper corners of the ephod; 30 and they put the golden rings on the rings both on sides of the breastpiece, and the two wreaths into the two couplings. 31 And they put them on the two circles, and they put them on the shoulders of the ephod opposite each other in front of Moses. The people brought good gold rings, and put them on the two projections on top of the breastpiece, and on top of the hinder part of the ephod within. 32 And they made two golden rings, and put them on both the shoulders of the ephod under and curtains, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and a gilded cherub. 4 And they put it on the border of blue, so that it should be on the mitre above, as the Lord commanded Moses. 5 And they made the plate of gold, an enameled work, for Aaron and his sons, and the tibet of fine linen, and the mitre and the girdle, of fine linen and blue, and purple, and scarlet, the work of an embroiderer, according as the Lord commanded Moses. 6 And they made the golden plate, a dedicated thing of the sanctuary, of pure gold; and he wrote upon it graven letters as of a seal, Holiness to the Lord. 7 And they put it on the border of blue, so that it should be on the mitre above, as the Lord commanded Moses.

8 And they made ten curtains for the tabernacle; 9 of eight and twenty cubits the length of one curtain: the same measure was to all, and the breadth of one curtain was of four cubits. 10 And they made the veil of blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen twined, the woven work with cherubs. 11 And they put it on four posts of incorruptible wood overlaid with gold; and their chapiters were gold, and their four sockets were silver. 12 And they made the veil of the door of the tabernacle of witness of blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen twined, woven work with cherubs, 13 and their posts five, and the rings; and they gilded their chapiters and their clasps with gold, and they had five sockets of brass.

And they made the court toward the south: the curtains of the court of fine linen twined, a hundred cubits every way, and their posts twenty, and their sockets twenty; 15 and on the north side a hundred every way, and on the south side a hundred every way, and their posts twenty and their sockets twenty. 16 And on the west side curtains of fifty cubits, their posts ten and their sockets ten. And on the east side curtains of fifty cubits of fifteen cubits behind, 17 and their pillars three, and their sockets three. 18 And at the second back on this side and on that by the gate of the court, curtains of fifteen cubits, their pillars three and their sockets three; all the curtains of the tabernacle of fine linen twined.

And the sockets of their pillars of brass, and their hooks of silver, and their chapiters overlaid with silver, and all the posts of the court overlaid with silver; and the veil of the gate of the court, the work of an embroidered考核, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen twined; the length of twenty cubits, and the height and the breadth of five cubits, made equal to the curtains of the court; their pillars four, and their sockets four of brass, and their hooks of silver, and their chapiters overlaid with silver. And the posts of the court round about of brass, and they were overlaid with silver. And this was the construction of the tabernacle of witness, accordingly as it was appointed to Moses; so that the public service should belong to the Levites, through Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

And Bezaleel the son of Urias of the tribe of Judah, did as the Lord commanded Moses. And Eliah the son of Achishama of the tribe of Dan was there, who was chief artificer in the woven works and needleworks and embroideries, in weaving with the scarlet and fine linen.

And Bezaleel made the ark, and overlaid it with pure gold within and without: and he cast for it four golden rings, two on the one side, and two on the other, wide enough for the staves, so that men should bear the ark with them. And he made the propitiatory over the ark of pure gold, and the two cherubs of gold; one cherub on the one end of the propitiatory, and another cherub on the other end of the propitiatory, overshadowing the propitiatory with their wings. And he made the set table of pure gold, and cast for it four rings; two on the one side and two on the other side, broad, so that men should lift it with the staves in them. And he made the staves of the ark and of the table with gold. And he made the furniture of the table, both the dishes, and the censers, and the cups, and the bowls with which he should offer drink-offerings of gold. And he made the candlestick which gives light, of gold; the stem solid, and the branches from both its sides; and blossoms proceeding from its branches three on this side, and three on the other, made equal to each other. And as to their lamps, which are on the ends, knops proceeded from them; and sockets proceeding from them, that the lamps might be upon them; and the seventh socket, on the top of the candlestick, on the summit above, entirely of solid gold. And on the golden bases, and on the golden rings, and on the golden bands, he overlaid the post with gold, and made the hooks of gold. He made also the rings of the tabernacle of gold; and the rings of

and the rings for drawing out the veil above of brass. 20 He cast the silver chippers of the tabernacle, and the brazen chippers of the door of the tabernacle, and the gate of the court; and he made silver hooks for the posts, he overlaid them with silver on the posts. 21 He made the pins of the tabernacle and the pins of the court of brass.

22 He made the brazen altar of the brazen censers, which belonged to the men engaged in sedition with the gathering of Core. 23 He made the holy anointing oil and the composition of the incense, the pure work of the perfumer. 24 He made the brazen altar, and the brazen base of it of the mirrors of the women that fasted, which passed by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, in the day in which he set it up.

27 And he made the laver, that yeit it Moses and Aaron and his sons might wash their hands and their feet: when they went into the tabernacle of witness, or whencesoever they should advance to the altar to do service, they washed yeit it, as the Lord commanded Moses.

All the gold that was employed for the works according to all the fabrication of the holy things, was of the gold of the first-born of all the men of Israel, a thousand talents and an hundred and twenty shekels according to the holy shekel. 2 And the offering of silver from the men that were numbered of the congregation a hundred talents, and a thousand seven hundred and seventy-five shekels, one drachma apiece; even half the shekel, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, which was a shekel of silver, a half shekel, 3 that passed the survey from twenty years old and upwards to the number of six hundred thousand, and three thousand five hundred and fifty. 4 And the hundred talents of silver went to the casting of the hundred chippers of the tabernacle, and to the chippers of the veil; 5 a hundred chippers to the hundred talents, a talent to a chiper. 6 And the thousand seven hundred and seventy-five shekels he formed into hooks for the pillars, and he gilt their chippers and adorned them.

7 And the brass of the offering was seventy talents, and a thousand five hundred shekels; 8 and they made of it the bases of the door of the tabernacle of witness, 9 and the bases of the court round about, and the bases of the gate of the court, and the pins of the tabernacle, and the pins of the court round about; 10 and the brazen appendage of the altar, and all the vessels of the altar, and all the instruments of the tabernacle of witness. 11 And the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded Moses, so did they. 12 And of the gold that remained of the offering they made vessels to minister with before the Lord. 13 And the blue that was left, and the purple, and the scarlet, they made into garments of ministry for Aaron, so that he should minister with them in the sanctuary; 14 and the pure gold he made the ark of the testimony, and the table of shewbread, and all his furniture, and the shewbread upon it, 15 and the garments of the sanctuary which belong to Aaron, and the garments of his sons, for the priestly ministry; 16 and the curtains of the court, and the posts, and the veil of the door of the tabernacle, and the gate of the court, 17 and all the instruments; and the skins, even rams skins dyed red, and the blue coverings, and the coverings of the other things, and the pins, and all the instruments for the works of the tabernacle of witness. 18 Whatever things the Lord appointed Moses, so did the children of Israel make all the work. 19 And Moses saw all the works; and they had done them all as the Lord commanded Moses, so had they made them; and Moses blessed them.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 20 On the first day of the first month, at the new moon, thou shalt set up the tabernacle of witness, and thou shalt place in it the ark of the testimony, and thou shalt set the table and all its furniture, and the shewbread upon it, 21 and thou shalt bring in the table and shewbread every seventh day which is to be set forth on it; and thou shalt bring in the candlestick and place its lamps on it. 22 And thou shalt place the golden altar, to burn incense before the ark; and thou shalt put a covering of a veil on the door of the tabernacle of witness. And thou shalt set up the altar of burnt-offerings by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and thou shalt set up the tabernacle round about; and thou shalt hallow all that belongs to it round about. 23 And thou shalt take the anointing oil, and shalt anoint the tabernacle, and all its furniture, and shalt sanctify it, and all its furniture, and it shall be holy. 24 And thou shalt anoint the altar of burnt-offerings, and all its furniture, and thou shalt hallow the altar, and the altar shall be most holy. 25 And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons to the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and thou shalt wash them with water. 26 And thou shalt put on Aaron the holy garments, and thou shalt anoint him, and thou shalt sanctify him, and he shall minister to me as priest. 27 And thou shalt bring up his sons, and shall put garments on them. 28 And thou shalt anoint them as thou didst anoint their father, and they shall minister to me as priests; and it shall be that they shall have an everlasting anointing of priesthood, throughout their life.

28 Moshe's tent, the tabernacle, or the holy place; so this word is used several times throughout the book of Exodus.
6 And Moses did all things whatsoever the Lord commanded him, so did he.

7 And it came to pass in the first month, in the second year after their going forth out of Egypt, at the new moon, that the tabernacle was set up. Then Moses and Aaron and all the elders of the children of Israel set up the tabernacle of the congregation.

8 And they brought every contribution that they had brought for the service of the tabernacle, and all the people presented themselves.

9 And they set up all the service of the tabernacle in the camp, as Moses had commanded according to the commandment of the Lord.

10 And Moses and Aaron and all the elders of the children of Israel set up the tabernacle.

11 And they brought every contribution that they had presented for the service of the tabernacle, and Aaron and his sons brought every contribution of the children of Israel that were presented for the service of the tabernacle.

12 And they set up all the service of the tabernacle, as Moses had commanded, according to the commandment of the Lord, as they had been commanded.

13 And Aaron and his sons were clothed with all the holy appurtenances of the tabernacle, as the Lord commanded Moses.

14 And there was an cloud above the tabernacle by day and by night, so that all the children of Israel saw the cloud when it went with them by day and by night.

15 When the cloud was up from the tabernacle, then the children of Israel journeyed: but whether the cloud stood still above the tabernacle or whether it was hid, the children of Israel journeyed.

16 And when the cloud was up from the tabernacle, then they journeyed: and whether the cloud stood still above the earth, they journeyed.

17 When the cloud was upon the tabernacle, they rested in the place where the cloud stood, even by day and by night.

18 And it came to pass, as soon as the cloud went up from the tabernacle, the children of Israel went in all their journeys by the commandment of the Lord.

19 And the cloud of the Lord was upon the tabernacle by day, and fire was upon it by night, in the sight of all the children of Israel in all their journeys.

7 And he shall break it off from the altar toward the east to the place of the ashes. And he shall pour oil upon it, and shall put frankincense upon it: it is a sacrifice, a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord.

And if a soul bring a gift, a sacrifice to the Lord, his gift shall be fine flour; and he shall pour oil upon it, and shall put frankincense upon it: it is a sacrifice.

And he shall bring it to the priests the sons of Aaron: and having taken from it a handful of the fine flour with the oil, and all its frankincense on it, the priest shall put the memorial of it on the altar: it is a sacrifice, an odour of sweet savour to the Lord.

And the remainder of the sacrifice shall be for Aaron and his sons, a most holy portion from the sacrifices of the Lord. And if he bring as a gift a sacrifice baked from the oven, a gift to the Lord of fine flour, he shall bring unleavened bread kneaded with oil, and unleavened wafers."

take away that which is on the thighs, and the caul above the liver together with the kidneys. 5 And the priests the sons of Aaron shall offer them on the altar, the burnt-sacrifice, on the wood which is on the fire, upon the altar: it is a burnt-offering to the Lord. 6 And if his gift be of the sheep, a peace-offering to the Lord, male or female, he shall bring it unblemished. 7 If he bring a lamb for his gift, he shall bring it before the Lord. 8 And he shall lay his hands on the head of his offering, and shall slay it by the doors of the tabernacle of witness; and the priests the sons of Aaron shall pour out the blood on the altar round about. 9 And he shall bring of the peace-offering a burnt-sacrifice to the Lord: the fat and the hinder part unblemished he shall take away with the loins, and having taken away all the fat that covers the belly, and all the fat that is on the belly, 10 and both the kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and that which is on the thighs, and the caul which is on the liver with the kidneys, 11 the priest shall offer these on the altar: it is a sacrifice of sweet savour, a burnt-offering to the Lord.

And if his offering be of the goats, then shall he bring it before the Lord. 12 And he shall lay his hands on its head; and they shall slay it before the Lord by the doors of the tabernacle of witness; and the priests the sons of Aaron shall pour out the blood on the altar round about. 13 And he shall offer of it a burnt-offering to the Lord, even the fat that covers the belly, and all the fat that is on the belly. 14 And both the kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and that which is upon the thighs, and the caul which is on the liver with the kidneys, he shall take away. 15 And the priest shall offer it upon the altar: it is a burnt-offering, a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. 16 It is a perpetual statute throughout your generations, in all your habitations: ye shall eat no fat and no blood.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 17 Speak to the children of Israel, saying, If a soul shall sin unwillingly before the Lord, in any of the commandments of the Lord concerning things which he ought not to do, and shall do some of them; if the anointed priest sin, so as to cause the people to sin, then shall he bring for his sin, which he has sinned, an unblemished calf of the herd to the Lord for his sin. 18 And he shall bring the calf of the door of the tabernacle of witness before the Lord, and he shall put his hand on the head of the calf before the Lord, and shall slay the calf in the presence of the Lord. 19 And the anointed priest, who has been consecrated having received of the blood of the calf, shall then bring it into the tabernacle of witness. 20 And the priest shall dip his finger into the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seven times before the Lord, over against the holy veil. 21 And the priest shall put of the blood of the calf on the horns of the altar of the compound incense which is before the Lord, which is in the tabernacle of witness; and shall take the blood of the calf shall he pour out by the foot of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, which is by the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 8 And all the fat of the calf of the sin-offering shall be taken off from it; the fat that covers the inwards, and all the fat that is on the inwards, 9 and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is on the thighs, and the caul that is on the liver with the kidneys, 10 them shall he take away, 11 as he takes it away from the calf of the sacrifice of peace-offering, so shall the priest offer it on the altar of burnt-offering. 12 And they shall make the skin of the calf, and all his flesh with the head and the extremities and the belly that is under it, which is on the thighs, and the caul that is on the liver with the kidneys, shall carry out of the whole calf out of the camp into a clean place, where they pour out the ashes, and they shall consume it there on wood with fire: it shall be burnt on the 7 ashes poured out.

And if the whole congregation of Israel trespass ignorantly, and a thing should escape the notice of the congregation, and they should do one thing forbidden of any of the commands of the Lord, 3 which ought not to be done, and should transgress: 4 and the sin wherein they have sinned should become known to them, then shall the congregation bring an unblemished calf of the herd for a sin-offering, and they shall bring it to the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 5 And the elders of the congregation shall lay their hands on the head of the calf before the Lord, and they shall slay the calf before the Lord. 6 And the anointed priest shall bring in of the blood of the calf into the tabernacle of witness. 7 And the priest shall dip his finger into some of the blood of the calf, and shall sprinkle it seven times before the Lord, in front of the veil of the sanctuary. 8 And the priest shall put some of the blood on the horns of the altar of the incense of composition, which is before the Lord, which is in the tabernacle of witness; and he shall pour out all the blood at the bottom of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, which is by the door of the tabernacle of witness. 9 And he shall take away all the fat from the calf, and shall sprinkle it seven times before the Lord. 10 And he shall do to the calf as he did to the calf of the sin-offering, so shall it be done; and the priest shall make atonement for them, and the trespass shall be forgiven them. 11 And they shall carry forth the calf whole without the camp, and they shall burn the calf as they burnt the former calf: it is the sin-offering of the congregation.

22 And if a ruler sin, and break one of all the commands of the Lord his God, doing the thing which ought not to be done, unwillingly, and shall sin and trespass, and his trespass wherein he has sinned, be known to him.—then shall he offer for his gift a kid of the goats, a male without blemish. 24 And he shall lay his hand on the head of the kid, and they shall kill it in the place where they kill the victims for whole-burnt-offerings before the Lord; it is a sin-offering. 25 And the priest shall put some of the blood of the sin-offering with his finger on the horns of the altar of whole-burnt-offering;
and he shall pour out all its blood by the bottom of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings. 28 And he shall offer up all his fat on the altar, as the fat of the sacrifice of peace-offering; and the priest shall make atone-ment for him concerning his sin, and it shall be forgiven him.

And if a soul of the people of the land should sin unwillingly, in doing a thing con-trary to any of the commandments of the Lord, which ought not to be done, and shall transgress, 29 and his sin should be known to him, wherein he has sinned, then shall he bring a kid of the goats, a female without blemish shall he bring for his sin, which he has sinned. 30 And he shall lay his hand on the head of his sin-offering, and they shall slay the kid of the sin-offering in the place where they slay the victims for whole-burnt-offerings. 31 And the priest shall take of its blood with his finger, and shall put it on the horns of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings; and all its blood shall be poured forth at the foot of the altar. 32 And he shall take away all the fat, as the fat is taken away from the sacrifice of peace-offering, and the priest shall offer it on the altar for a smell of sweet savour to the Lord; and the priest shall make atone-ment for him, and his sin shall be forgiven him.

And if he should offer a lamb for his sin-offering, he shall offer it a female without blemish. 33 And he shall lay his hand on the head of the sin-offering, and they shall kill it in the place where they kill the victims for whole-burnt-offerings. 34 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin-offering with his finger, and shall put it on the horns of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, and he shall pour out all its blood by the bottom of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings. 35 And he shall take away all his fat, as the fat of the lamb of the sacrifice of peace-offering is taken away, and the priest shall put it on the altar for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord; and the priest shall make atone-ment for him concerning his sin, which he sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

And if a soul sin, and hear the voice of swearing, and he is a witness or has seen or been conscious, if he do not report it, he shall bear his iniquity. 2 That soul which shall touch any unclean thing, or carcarse, or that which is unclean being taken of beasts, or the dead bones of unclean reptiles which are unclean, or carcasses of unclean cattle, or should touch the uncleanness of a man, of whatever kind, which he may touch and be defiled by, and it should have escaped him, but afterwards he knew, then he shall have transgressed. 4 That unrighteous soul, which determines with his lips to do evil or to do good according to whatsoever a man may determine with an oath, and it shall have escaped his notice, and he shall afterwards know it, and so he should sin in some one of these things: 5 then shall he declare his sin in the things wherein he has sinned by that sin. 6 And he shall bring for his transgres-sions against the Lord, for his sin which he has sinned, a ewe lamb of the flock, or a kid of the goats, for a sin-offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him for his sin which he has sinned, and his sin shall be forgiven him.

"And if he has sinned against the Lord, in any of these things, he shall bring his trespass-offering to the Lord for a sin-offering, 8 and he shall bring one of the males of the flock, a lamb or a kid of the goats, for a trespass-offering, and shall offer it for a trespass-offering with his own hand before the Lord; 9 and the priest shall make atonement for him with the trespass-offering for sin, and it shall be forgiven him: and he shall make atonement for him for an unclean thing, and he shall be forgiven him. 10 The priest shall take of the trespass-offering one-tenth part of the horn of its blood, and put it on the altar; and the priest shall take of the blood of the trespass-offering in a vessel, and sprinkle its blood against the altar seven times; 11 and the priest shall turn away the horns of the trespass-offering into the fire on the altar of burnt-offerings before the Lord; and it shall be forgiven the man, and there shall be a trespass-offering made for him. 12 And the priest shall put all his fat in the fire, which is on the altar, which is on the brasen fire-hearth: and it shall be a sin-offering for sin, and it shall be a trespass-offering for the priest; and it shall be most holy. 13 And he shall take of the blood of the trespass-offering, and sprinkle it against the altar round about, and the blood of the trespass-offering shall be forgiven him for his sin; and it shall be a sin-offering for sin, and it shall be a trespass-offering for the priest; and it shall be most holy. 14 And he shall make atonement for the holy place of the children of Israel, and it shall be forgiven them; and the priest shall make atonement for them for a sin-offering, and it shall be forgiven them. 15 And you shall take the male heifer for a sin-offering; and he shall kill it before the Lord; and the priest shall take of its blood, and sprinkle it against the altar round about; 16 and he shall turn away its blood with its entrails from the altar. And he shall bring all its flesh to the priest, and the priest shall make atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them. And the priest shall burn it on the brasen fire-hearth: it is a sin-offering. 17 And if any soul sin, and have done any one of these evil things which the Lord has commanded not to be done, and the soul of him who does such things has sinned, and he has done one of these evil things which the Lord has commanded not to be done; 18 then shall he bring for his trespass one of the males of the flock, a lamb or a kid of the goats, as a trespass-offering; and the priest shall make atonement for him with the trespass-offering for sin, and it shall be forgiven him.
7 And he shall bring them to the priest, and the priest shall make atonement for his sin which he has sinned, and it shall be forgiven him. 8 And if he cannot afford a pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, then shall he bring as his gift for his sin, the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a sin-offering; he shall not pour oil upon it, nor shall he put frankincense upon it, because it is a sin-offering. 9 And he shall bring it to the priest; and the priest having taken a handful of it, shall lay the memorial of it on the altar of whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord; it is a sin-offering. 10 And the priest shall make atonement for him for his sin, and it shall be forgiven him; and that which is left shall be the priest's, as an offering of fine flour.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, "The soul which shall be really unconscious, and shall sin unwillingly in any of the holy things of the Lord, shall even bring to the Lord for his transgression, a ram of the flock without blemish, valued according to the shekel of silver according to the shekel of the sanctuary, for his transgression wherein he transgressed.

And he shall make compensation for that wherein he has sinned in the holy things; and he shall add the fifth part to it, and give it to the priest; and the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of the flock for his transgression; and it shall be forgiven him.

And the soul which shall sin, and do one thing against any of the commandments of the Lord, which it is not right to do, and has not known it, and shall have transgressed, and shall have contracted guilt, 12 he shall even bring a ram without blemish from the flock, valued at a price of silver for his transgression to the priest; and the priest shall make atonement for his trespass of ignorance, wherein he ignorantly trespassed, and he knew it not; and it shall be forgiven him.

For he has surely been guilty of transgression before the Lord.
to pass, whosoever he shall have sinned, and transgressed, that he shall restore the plagues which he hath occasioned, or redress the injury which he has committed, or restore the deposit which was entrusted to him, or the lost article which he has found of any kind, about which he was unaware, he shall even restore it in full; and he shall add to it a fifth part besides; he shall restore it to him whose it is in the day in which he happened to trespass. And he shall bring to the Lord for his trespass, a ram of the flock, without blemish, of value to the amount of the thing in which he trespassed.

And the priest shall make atonement for him before the Lord, and he shall be forgiven for any one of the things which he did and trespassed in it.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

"Charge Aaron and his sons, saying, 'This is the law of whole-burnt-offering: this is the whole-burnt-offering $\gamma \pi \nu $ of its burning on the altar all the night till the morning; and the fire of the altar shall burn on it, it shall not be put out. And the priest shall put on the linen tunic, and he shall put on the linen drawers on his body; and shall take away that which has been thoroughly burnt, which the fire shall have consumed, even the whole-burnt-offering from the altar, and he shall put it near the altar. And he shall put off his robe, and put on another robe, and he shall take forth the offering that has been burnt without the camp into a holy place. And the fire on the altar shall be kept burning on it, and shall not be extinguished; and the priest shall burn on it wood every morning, and shall heap on it the whole-burnt-offering, and shall lay on it the fat of the peace-offering. And the fire shall always burn on the altar; it shall not be extinguished. This is the law of the sacrifice, which the sons of Aaron shall bring near before the Lord, before the altar. And he shall take from it a handful of the fine flour of the sacrifice with its oil, and with all its frankincense, which are upon the sacrifice; and he shall offer up on the altar a burnt-offering as a sweet-smelling savour, a memorial of it to the Lord. And Aaron and his sons shall offer that which is left of it; it shall be eaten without leaven in a holy place, they shall eat it in the court of the tabernacle of witness. It shall not be baked with leaven. I have given it as a portion to them of the burnt-offerings of the Lord: it is most holy, as the offering for sin, and as the offering for trespass. Every offering of the priest shall eat it: it is a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations of the burnt-offerings of the Lord; whosoever shall touch them shall be hallowed.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, "This is the gift of Aaron and of his sons, which they shall offer to the Lord in the day in which he is anointed, or the tenth of an ephah of fine flour for a sacrifice continually, the half of it in the morning, and the half of it in the evening. It shall be made with oil in a frying-pan; he shall offer it kneaded and in rolls, an offering of fragments, an offering of a sweet savour unto the Lord. 22 The unanointed priest who is in his place, one of his sons, shall offer it: it is a perpetual statute, it shall not be consumed. 23 And every sacrifice of a priest shall be thoroughly burnt, and shall not be eaten. 24 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 25 Speak to Aaron and to his sons, saying, This is the law of the sin-offering:— in the place where they slay the whole-burnt-offering, they shall slay the sin-offerings before they are most holy. 26 The priest that offers it shall eat it: in a holy place it shall be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of witness. 27 Every one that touches the flesh of it shall be holy, and whosoever garment any of its blood shall have been sprinkled, whosoever he hath sprinkled, shall be washed in the holy place. 28 And the earthen vessel, in whichsoever it shall have been sodden, shall be broken; and if it shall have been sodden in a brazen vessel, he shall scour it and wash it with water. 29 Every male among the priests shall eat it: it is most holy to the Lord. 30 And no offering for sin, of whose blood there shall be brought any into the tabernacle of witness to make atonement in the holy place, shall be eaten: the whole burnt-offering, it is most holy. 31 And this is the law of the trespass-offering: it is most holy. 32 In the place where they slay the whole-burnt-offering, they shall slay the ram of the trespass-offering before the Lord, and he shall pour out the blood at the bottom of the altar round about. 33 And he shall offer all the fat from it; and the veins, and all the fat that covers the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, that which is upon the thighs, and the caul upon the liver with the kidney, he shall take them away. 34 And the priest shall offer them on the altar a burnt-offering to the Lord; it is for trespass. 35 Every male of the priest shall eat them, in the holy place, they shall eat it, which is in the tabernacle of the congregation. 36 And this is the law of the sin-offering, so also is the trespass-offering. There is one law of them; the priest who shall make atonement with it, his it shall be. 37 And as for the priest who offers a man’s whole-burnt-offering, the skin of the whole-burnt-offering which he offers, shall be his. 38 And every sacrifice which shall be prepared in the oven, and every one which shall be prepared on the hearth, or on a frying-pan, is the property of the priest that offers it; it shall be his. 39 And every sacrifice made up with oil, or not made up with oil, shall belong to the sons of Aaron, an equal portion to each. This is the law of the sacrifice of peace-offering, which they shall bring to the Lord. 40 If a minister of the house, or a prince, or a priest, or a servant of the house, or a stranger, or a stranger, or a priest, or a servant of the house, or a stranger, or a stranger.

pours forth the blood of the peace-offering. 4 And the flesh of the sacrifice of the peace-offering of praise shall be his, and it shall be eaten in the day in which it is offered: they shall eat it even till the morrow. 5 And if it be a day of rest, or holy day, he shall eat it even till the morrow: and if the priest neglect to eat it even till the morrow, then shall the soul of him that eateth of it be cut off from his people. 6 And if any person of the house of Israel, or of the stranger, shall eat of the flesh, he shall put to death that soul, which eateth of it, and he shall cut off his hand. 7 And he shall eat none of the flesh, which he offerings: for it shall be an atonement for the soul: but the sin offering shall be eaten by fire. 8 And the priest shall eat it in the holy place: for it is very holy by reason of the offered peace-offering. 9 And every one that toucheth any unclean thing, whether it be man or beast, and which is unclean for any person shall eat thereof, it shall be a sin offering. 10 Ye shall eat none of it in the place of offerings, or in the holy place: but ye shall bring it unto the priest, and the priest shall eat it, and it shall be holy unto him. 11 And if it be offered for peace offerings, it shall not be eaten in the holy place: it shall be eaten by the priest: and if it be offered for a freewill offering, it shall be eaten by the priest who offered it. 12 And he that eateth thereof shall put to death that soul, which eateth thereof, and he shall cut off his hand. 13 In that day shall they take away thy fair vessels, with thy good things, in the house of thy gods: thou shalt leave thy vestry and thy dung, which art left, when they shall enter into the house of which thou wast ashamed. 14 And he shall spread it upon the brazen altar, and pour thereon all the fat thereof; and she shall receive the fat thereof, and burn it upon the altar. 15 And he shall break it in pieces: and he shall take of the blood, and put it upon theacula, and upon the horns of the altar. 16 And he shall burn of the flesh of the peace-offering, and of the head thereof, in the presence of the Lord: it is a burnt-offering. 17 And the priest shall make an atonement for him, and it shall be sin, and it shall be sin. 18 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 19 Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Ye shall eat no blood, of ox, or sheep, or goat, 20 Ye shall not eat of any flesh, which hath not been dressed for you, whether it be fowl, or beast, or fish, 21 Ye shall not eat of the flesh of an ox, or sheep, or goat, unless they be offered in sacrifice for your peace-offerings, in the place which the Lord shall choose. 22 And ye shall not eat of the flesh of your sacrifices, the flesh of your peace-offerings, until it be torn in pieces. 23 And ye shall eat the flesh thereof in the place of your peace-offerings, and in the holy place.
And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

"Take Aaron and his sons, and his robes and the anointing oil, and the calf for the sin-offering, and the whole burnt-offerings, and of sacrifice, and of sin-offering, and of offering for transgression, and of the sacrifice of consecration, and of the sacrifice of peace-offering; 2 as the Lord commanded Moses in the mount Sin, in the day in which he commanded the children of Israel to offer their gifts before the Lord in the wilderness of Sin.

And Moses took of the anointing oil, and sprinkled of it seven times on the altar;

and anointed the altar, and hallowed it, and all things 5 on it, and the laver, and its foot, and sanctified them; 6 and anointed the tabernacle and all its furniture, and hallowed it.

And Moses poured of the anointing oil on the head of Aaron, and he anointed him and sanctified him. 7 And Moses brought the sons of Aaron near, and put on them coats and girded them with girdles, and put on them bonnets. 8 And the Lord commanded Moses.

And Moses took near the ram for a whole-burnt-offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the
And Moses took of the anointing oil, and of the blood that was on the altar, and sprinkled it on Aaron, and on his garments, and his sons, and the garments of his sons with him. 29 And he sanctified Aaron and his garments, and his sons, and the garments of his sons with him. 30 And Moses said to Aaron and to his sons, Boil the flesh in the tent of the tabernacle of witness in the holy place; and there ye shall eat it and the loaves in the basket of consecration, as it has been appointed me, the Lord saying, Aaron and his sons shall eat them. 31 And that which is left of the flesh and of the loaves burn ye with fire. 32 And ye shall not go out from the door of the tabernacle of witness for seven days, until the day be fulfilled, the day of your consecration; for in seven days shall he consecrate you, as he did in this day on which the Lord commanded me to do so, to make an atonement for you. 33 And ye shall remain seven days at the door of the tabernacle of witness, day and night; ye shall observe the ordinances of the Lord, that ye die not; for so has the Lord commanded Moses.

And Moses brought the second ram, the ram of consecration, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram, and he slew him; and Moses took his blood, and put it upon the tip of Aaron's right ear, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot. 3 And Moses brought near the sons of Aaron; and Moses put of the blood on the tips of their right ears, and on the thumbs of their right hands, and on the great toes of their right feet, and Moses parted out the blood on the altar round about. 4 And he made a dressing with the blood, and one cake; and put them upon the fat, and the right shoulder: 5 and put them all on the hands of Aaron, and on the hands of his sons, and offered them up for a wave-offering before the Lord. 27 And Moses took them at their hands, and Moses anointed them on the altar, on the whole-burnt-offering of consecration, which is a smell of sweet savour: it is a burnt-offering to the Lord. 28 And Moses took the breast, and separated it for a heave-offering to the Lord, from the ram of consecration; and it became Moses' portion, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And Moses took the blood of the ram, and the blood of the goat, and put it upon the right ear of Aaron, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot, and Moses parted it out upon the altar round about. 20 And he divided the ram by its limbs, and Moses offered the head, and the limbs, and the fat; and he washed the belly and the feet with water. 21 And Moses offered up the whole ram on the altar: it is a whole-burnt-offering for a sweet-smelling savour: it is a burnt-offering to the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And Moses brought the second ram, the ram of consecration, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram, and he slew him; and Moses took his blood, and put it upon the tip of Aaron's right ear, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot. 2 And Moses brought near the sons of Aaron; and Moses put of the blood on the tips of their right ears, and on the thumbs of their right hands, and on the great toes of their right feet, and Moses parted out the blood on the altar round about. 3 And he took the fat, and the rump, and the fat of the liver, and the kidneys, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder. 4 And from the basket of consecration, which was before the Lord, he also took one unlearned loaf, and one loaf made with oil, and one cake; and put them upon the fat, and the right shoulder: 5 and put them all on the hands of Aaron, and on the hands of his sons, and offered them up for a wave-offering before the Lord. 27 And Moses took them at their hands, and Moses anointed them on the altar, on the whole-burnt-offering of consecration, which is a smell of sweet savour: it is a burnt-offering to the Lord. 28 And Moses took the breast, and separated it for a heave-offering to the Lord, from the ram of consecration; and it became Moses' portion, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And it came to pass on the eighth day, that Moses called Aaron and his sons, and the elders of Israel, and Moses said to Aaron, Take to thyself a young calf of the herd for a sin-offering, and a ram for a whole-burnt-offering, unblemished, and offer before the Lord. And speak to the elders of Israel, saying, Take one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, and a young calf, and a lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, spotless, and a calf and a ram for a peace offering before the Lord, and fine flour mingled with oil, for to-day the Lord will appear among you. And they took as Moses commanded them before the tabernacle of witnesses, and all the congregation drew nigh, and they stood before the Lord. And Moses said, This is the thing which the Lord has spoken; do it, and the glory of the Lord shall appear among you. And Moses said to Aaron, Draw nigh to the altar, and offer thy sin-offering, and thy whole-burnt-offering, and make atonement for thee and for thy house; and make atonement for them, as the Lord commanded Moses. And Aaron drew nigh to the altar, and slew the calf of his sin-offering. And the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he dipped his finger into the blood, and put it on the horns of the altar, and he poured out the blood at the bottom of the altar. And he offered up on the altar the fat and the kidneys and the lobe of the liver of the sin-offering, according as the Lord commanded Moses. And the flesh and the hide he burnt with fire outside of the camp. And he slew the whole-burnt-offering; and the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he poured it on the border of the altar, and he drew the blood with his finger, and he brought the whole-burnt-offering, according to its pieces; them and the head he put upon the altar. And he washed the belly and the feet with water, and he put them on the whole-burnt-offering on the altar.

And he brought the gift of the people, and took the goat of the sin-offering of the people, and slew it, and purified it as also the first. And he brought the whole-burnt-offering, and offered it in due form. And he brought the sacrifice and filled his hands with it, and laid it on the altar, besides the morning whole-burnt-offering. And he slew the calf, and the ram of the sacrifice of peace-offering of the people, and the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he poured it on the border of the altar; and they brought the whole-burnt-offering, according to its pieces; them and the head he put upon the altar. And he washed the belly and the feet with water, and he put them on the whole-burnt-offering on the altar.

shoulder, as a choice-offering before the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses. 2And Aaron lifted up his hands on the people and blessed them; and after that he offered the sin-offerings and the whole-burnt-offerings, and the peace-offerings, he came down. 3And Moses and Aaron entered into the tabernacle of witness. And they came out and blessed all the people, and the glory of the Lord appeared to all the people. 4And fire came forth from the Lord, and devoured the offering and the altar, both the whole-burnt-offerings and the fat; and all the people saw, and were amazed, and fell upon their faces.

And the two sons of Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, took each his censer, and put fire therein, and threw incense thereon, and offered strange fire before the Lord, and the Lord did not command them. 2And fire came forth from the Lord, and devoured them, and they died before the Lord. 3And Moses said to Aaron, This is the thing which the Lord spake, saying, I will be sanctified among them that draw nigh to me; and they shall be sanctified in me, and I will be sanctified among them. 4And Moses called Mishael, and Elisaphan, sons of Oziel, sons of the brother of Aaron’s father, and said to them, Draw near and take your brethren from before the sanctuary out of the camp. 5And they came near and took them in the coats out of the camp, as Moses said. 6And Moses said to Aaron, and Eleazar and Ithamar his sons that were left, Ye shall not make bare your heads, and ye shall not tear your garments; that ye die not, and so there should be wrath on all the congregation: but your brethren, even all the house of Israel, shall lament for the burning, with which they were burnt by the Lord. 7And ye shall not go forth from the door of the tabernacle of witness, that ye die not; for the Lord’s anointing oil is upon you: and they did according to the word of Moses.

And the Lord spake to Aaron, saying, 2Ye shall not drink wine nor strong drink, thou and thy sons with thee, whensoever ye enter into the tabernacle of witness, or when ye approach the altar, so shall ye not die; it is a perpetual statute for your generations, 3to distinguish between sacred and profane, and between clean and unclean, 4and to teach the children of Israel all the statutes, which the Lord spake to them by Moses. 5And Moses said to Aaron, and to Eleazar and Ithamar, the sons of Aaron who survived, Take the sacrifice that is left of the burnt-offerings of the Lord, and ye shall eat unleavened bread by the altar: it is most holy. 6And ye shall eat it in the holy place; for this is a statute for thee and a statute for thy sons, of the burnt-offerings to the Lord; for so it has been commanded me. 7And ye shall eat the breast of separation, and the shoulder of the choice-offering in the holy place, thou and thy sons and thy brother; but Aaron hath been given as an ordinance for thee and an ordinance for thy sons, of the sacrifices of peace-offering of the children of Israel. 8They shall
The words κατά προσώπον are of doubtful authority.

And Moses diligently sought the goat of the sin-offering, but it had been consumed by fire; and Moses was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar the sons of Aaron that were left, saying, Why did ye not eat the sin-offering in the holy place? for because it is most holy he has given you this to eat, that ye might take away the sin of the congregation, and make atonement for them before the Lord. For the blood of it was not brought into the holy place: ye shall eat it within, before the Lord, as the Lord commanded me. And Aaron spoke to Moses, saying, If they have brought nigh to-day their sin-offerings, and their whole burnt-offerings before the Lord, and these events have happened, shall it be done to-day of the sin-offerings? would it be pleasing to the Lord? And Moses heard it, and it pleased him.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, Speak ye to the sons of Israel, saying, These are the beasts which ye shall eat of all beasts that are upon the earth. Every beast parting the hoof and making divisions of two claws, and chewing the cud among beasts, these ye shall eat. But of these ye shall not eat, of those that chew the cud, and of those that part the hoofs, and divide claws; the camel, because it chews the cud, but does not divide the hoof, this is unclean to you. And the rabbit, because it chews the cud, but does not divide the hoof, this is unclean to you. And the hare, because it does not chew the cud, and does not divide the hoof, this is unclean to you. And the swine, because this animal divides the hoof, and makes claws of the hoof, and it does not divide the hoof, this is unclean to you. Ye shall not eat of their flesh, and ye shall not touch their carcases; these are unclean to you.

And these are what ye shall eat of all that are in the waters: all things that have fins and scales in the waters, and in the seas, and in the brooks, these ye shall eat. And all things which have not fins or scales in the water, or in the seas, and in the brooks, of all which the waters produce, and of every soul living in the water, that is not a living creature of the air, are an abomination to you. Ye shall not eat of their flesh, and ye shall abhor their carcases.

And all things that have not fins or scales of those that are in the waters, these are an abomination to you. And these are the things which ye shall abhor of birds, and they shall not be eaten, they are an abomination: the eagle and the ossifrage, and the sea-eagle. And the vulture, and the kite, and the like to it; and the sparrow, and the owl, and the sea-mew, and the like to it: and every raven, and the birds like it, and the hawk and his like, 9 and the night-raven and the cormorant and the stork, 10 and the red-bill, and pelican, and swan, 11 and the heron, and the flaying, and the like to it, and the hoopoe and the bat. 12 And all winged creatures that creep, which go upon four feet, are abominations to you. 13 But these ye shall eat: the enter-piller and his like, and the attacca and his like, and the geantaw and his like, and the locust and his like. 14 Every creeping thing from among the birds, which has four feet, is an abomination to you. 15 And by these ye shall be defiled: every one that touches their carcasses shall be unclean till the evening. 16 And every one that takes of their dead bodies shall wash his garments, and shall be unclean till the evening. 17 And whichever among the beasts divides the hoof and makes not a difference between the clean and the unclean, 18 or that cleaves the flesh with his sword, or is unclean, 19 these ye shall not eat, 20 they shall be an abomination; and he that eats thereof shall be unclean. 21 But every thing clean, which divides the hoof, and cleaves the flesh, 22 of these shall ye take to eat: 23 even the ox, the sheep, the goat, 24 the bullock, and the camel, and their flesh shall ye eat; the carcases thereof and the blood thereof shall ye not eat. 25 But these ye shall not eat: the sow and her young, 26 and the ass, and the mule, and the camel, and their flesh shall ye not eat; their carcases shall ye give to the alien that is within your gates, because with his money he bought it. 27 And ye shall not eat their flesh, nor their blood. 28 And of all flesh, whatsoever moveth upon the earth is clean. 29 And he that toucheth an unclean animal shall be unclean until evening. 30 And he that toucheth the carcases of a clean animal shall be unclean. 31 But to water that he toucheth not, he shall be clean: 32 when he goes down, he shall be clean, though he toucheth the carcases of a clean animal. 33 And a vessel that containeth water, and he dipeth thereof into an unclean carcase, shall be unclean, 34 and the water shall be poured out, and he shall wash his garments, and shall be unclean until evening. 35 They shall not dip into the water, until evening. 36 And everything that dies naturally and is unclean, and is not speak of in the law of the sanctuary, shall be unclean; and whosoever toucheth them shall be unclean. 37 "For the hound, and for the porcupine, and for the weasel, and for the mouse, 38 and for any thing that creepeth on the earth, and is not clean; 39 and for any beast, or for any fowl, that may be either good, or bad, 40 which the Lord hath given to the people for food, 41 shall be clean. 42 But, if a man kill any beast, 43 he shall restore five shekels of silver to his owner. 44 And if a man kill an unclean beast, 45 he shall restore the value thereof to his owner, and shall add the fifth thereto. 46 And if a man kill a clean beast, 47 then he shall restore the value thereof, and shall add the fifth thereto. 48 And if a man kill a tame beast, 49 he shall restore the value thereof. 50 And he that sinketh down into a pit, 51 shall bear the iniquity thereof: 52 and if there be in the pit bread and water, 53 he that sinketh down shall bear the iniquity thereof. 54 And if a man strike his father or mother, 55 he shall be put to death. 56 And he that slayeth a man, 57 he shall be put to death. 58 And he that dieth in the house of his brother, 59 he shall not endanger his life by taking an oath to his brother: 60 but his blood shall be upon his own head. 61 And he that striketh his brother with a stone, 62 let him be put to death: 63 he that hateth his brother, and sleweth him, 64 he shall be put to death. 65 And he that striketh his father or mother, 66 let him be put to death. 67 And he that sacrificeth to any god, whom he hath not known, 68 or he that calleth on a name, which he hath not known, 69 he shall be put to death, and all that are with him, and all that hear thereof, in their place. 70 "And he that setteth a stumbling-block before the blind, 71 or that setteth a trip for his enemy, 72 he shall bear the iniquity thereof. 73 And if any man take unaware any of his kinsmen’s robes, 74 and it shall be sold, or be rent, or be washed, 75 and the buyer know not, and swear that he knew them not, 76 then shall he bring back what he bought of, and shall not swear falsely. 77 And if a man giveth to his kinsman anything that is stolen, or that is kept back, and sweareth falsely, 78 in that which is taken of, he shall be put to death, and all that hear thereof shall say, Herein is he guilty. 79 And he that sacrificeth to any god, whom he hath not known, 80 or he that calleth on a name, which he hath not known, 81 he shall be put to death, and all that are with him, and all that hear thereof, in their place. 82 "And he that goeth about that which is consecrated, 83 and profaneth it, shall be put to death; and all that are with him shall be put to death. 84 And he that sacrificeth to any god, whom he hath not known, 85 or he that calleth on a name, which he hath not known, 86 he shall be put to death, and all that are with him, and all that hear thereof, in their place. 87 And he that slayeth a beast, or a fowl that is cleanly, 88 shall lay it open, and let it burst upon it. 89 And he that sacrificeth, or offereth a sacrifice, 90 shall be put to death, and all that are with him, and all that hear thereof, in their place.
of their carcases shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean till evening.

And every reptile that creeps on the earth, this shall be an abomination to you; it shall not be eaten.

And every animal that creeps on its belly, and every one that goes on four feet continually, which abounds with feet among all the reptiles creeping upon the earth—ye shall not eat it, for it is an abomination to you.

And ye shall not defile your souls with any of the reptiles that creep upon the earth; and ye shall not be polluted with them, and ye shall not be unclean by them.

For I am the Lord your God; and ye shall be sanctified, and ye shall be holy, because I the Lord your God am holy.

For I am the Lord that brought you up out of the land of Egypt to be your God; and ye shall be holy, for I the Lord am holy.

This is the law concerning beasts and birds and every living creature moving in the water, and every living creature creeping on the earth; to distinguish between the unclean and the clean; and between those that bring forth alive, such as should be eaten, and those that bring forth alive, such as should not be eaten.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whatever woman shall have conceived and born a male child shall be unclean seven days, she shall be unclean according to the days of separation for her monthly courses.

And on the eighth day she shall circumcise the flesh of his foreskin.

And for thirty-three days she shall continue in her unclean blood; she shall touch nothing holy, and shall not enter the sanctuary, until the days of her purification be fulfilled.

But if she should have born a female child, then she shall be unclean twelve seven days, according to the time of her monthly courses; and for sixty-six days shall she remain in her unclean blood.

And when the days of her purification shall have been fulfilled for a son or a daughter, she shall bring a lamb of a year old without blemish for a whole-burnt-offering, and a young pigeon or turtle-dove for a sin-offering to the door of the tabernacle of witness, to the priest.

And he shall present it before the Lord, and the priest shall make atonement for her, and shall purify her from the fountain of her blood; this is the law of her who bears a male or a female.

And if she cannot afford a lamb, then shall she take two turtle-doves or two young pigeons, one for a whole-burnt-offering, and one for a sin-offering; and the priest shall make atonement for her, and she shall be purified.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,
If any man should have in the skin of his flesh a bright clear spot, and there should be in the skin of his flesh a plague of leprosy, he shall be brought to Aaron the priest, or to one of his sons the priests.

And the priest shall view the spot in the skin of his flesh; and if the hair in the spot...
be changed to white, and the appearance of the spot be 8 below the skin of the flesh, it is a plague of leprosy; and the priest shall look upon it, and pronounce him unclean. 9 But if the spot is above the skin of his flesh, yet the appearance of it be not deep below the skin, and its hair have not changed itself for white hair, but it is dark, then the priest shall separate him that has the spot seven days; 10 and the priest shall look on the spot the seventh day; and, behold, if the color remains unaltered, if the spot has not spread in the skin, then the priest shall separate him the second time seven days. 11 And the priest shall look upon him the second time on the seventh day; and, behold, if the spot be dark, and the spot have not spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him clean; for it is a mere mark, and the man shall wash his garments and be clean. 12 But if the bright spot should have changed and spread in the skin, after the priest has seen him for the purpose of purifying him, then shall he appear the second time to the priest, 13 and the priest shall look upon him, and, behold, if the mark have spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a leprosy. 14 And if a man have a plague of leprosy, then he shall come to the priest; 15 and the priest shall look, and, behold, if it is a white spot in the skin and it has changed the hair to white, and there be some part of the quick flesh in the spot — 16 it is a leprosy waxing old in the skin of the flesh; and the priest shall pronounce him unclean, and shall separate him, because he is unclean. 17 And if the leprosy should have come out very evidently in the skin, and the leprosy should cover all the skin of the patient from the head to the feet, 18 whereas the priest shall look; 19 then the priest shall look, and, behold, the leprosy has covered all the skin of the flesh; and the priest shall pronounce him clean of the plague, because it has changed all to white, and it is evident on what day the quick flesh shall appear on him, he shall be pronounced unclean. 20 And the priest shall look upon the sound flesh, and the sound flesh shall prove him to be unclean; for it is unclean, it is a leprosy. 21 But if the sound flesh be restored and changed to white, then shall he come to the priest; 22 and the priest shall see him, and, behold, if the plague is turned white, then the priest shall pronounce the patient clean: he is clean. 23 And if the flesh should have become an ulcer in his skin, and should be healed, and there should be in the place of the ulcer a white sore, or one looking white and bright, or there shall be seen by the priest; 24 then the priest shall look, and, behold, if the appearance be beneath the skin, and its hair has changed to white, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; because it is a leprosy, it has broken out in the ulcer. 25 But if the priest shall look, and, behold, there is no sore on the skin, nor is there below the skin of the flesh, and it be dark-coloured, then the priest shall separate him seven days. 26 But if it

24 And if a man or a woman have in them a plague of leprosy in the head or the beard, 25 or in the temples, and it spread over their head, or on their beard:
26 then the priest shall look upon him, and, behold, if the hair be white, and the skin be black, it is the plague of leprosy:
27 and the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a plague of leprosy.
28 But if the spot be white, and the skin under it be black, it is a scab, and behold, it is a scab; and the priest shall pronounce him unclean.
29 And if the scab spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean:
30 and it shall be unto him an unclean thing, according to the leprosy of the skin.
31 But if it remain in the skin, and spread not in the skin, there is no leprosy in him; he shall be cleansed.
32 And if the scab remain in the skin, and spread not in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean:
33 and it shall be unto him an unclean thing, according to the leprosy of the skin.
34 But if the scab spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean:
35 and it shall be unto him an unclean thing, according to the leprosy of the skin.
36 And the priest shall look upon him, and, behold, if the hair be white, and the skin be black, it is the plague of leprosy:
37 and the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a plague of leprosy.
38 But if the hair be white, and the skin black, it is a scab; and behold, it is a scab; and the priest shall pronounce him unclean.
39 And if the scab spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean:
40 and it shall be unto him an unclean thing, according to the leprosy of the skin.
41 But if it remain in the skin, and spread not in the skin, there is no leprosy in him; he shall be cleansed.
42 And if the scab remain in the skin, and spread not in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean:
43 and it shall be unto him an unclean thing, according to the leprosy of the skin.
44 But if the scab spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean:
45 and it shall be unto him an unclean thing, according to the leprosy of the skin.
46 And the priest shall look upon him, and, behold, if the hair be white, and the skin be black, it is the plague of leprosy:
47 and the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a plague of leprosy.
48 But if the hair be white, and the skin black, it is a scab; and behold, it is a scab; and the priest shall pronounce him unclean.
49 And if the scab spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean:
50 and it shall be unto him an unclean thing, according to the leprosy of the skin.
51 But if it remain in the skin, and spread not in the skin, there is no leprosy in him; he shall be cleansed.
priest shall look; and, behold, there being bright spots of a bright whiteness in the skin of their flesh, it is a letter; it bursts forth in the skin, and it is clean. "

And if any one's head should lose the hair, he is only bald, he is clean. "

And if his head should lose the hair in front, he is forehead bald: he is clean. "

And if there should be in his baldness of head, or his baldness of forehead, a white or fiery plague, it is leprosy in his baldness of head, or baldness in front. "

And the priest shall look upon him, and, behold, if the appearance of the plague be white or inflamed in his baldness of head or baldness in front, as the appearance of leprosy in the skin of his flesh, "

he is a leprous man; the priest shall surely pronounce him unclean, his plague is in the head, and the leper in whom the plague is, let his garments be unguirt, and his head uncovered; and let him have a covering put upon his mouth, and he shall be called unclean. "

All the days in which the plague shall be upon him, being unclean, he shall be esteemed unclean; he shall dwell apart, his place of dwelling shall be without the camp. "

And the priest shall look upon the plague on the seventh day; and if the plague be spread in the garment, either in the warp or in the woof, or in the skin, in whatsoever things skins may be used in their workmanship, the plague is a confirmed leprosy; it is unclean. "

He shall burn the garment, either the warp or woof in woollen garments or in flaxen, or in any utensil of skin, there may be the plague, because it is a confirmed leprosy; it shall be burnt with fire. "

And if the priest should see, and the plague not spread in the garments, either in the warp or in the woof, or in any utensil of skin, "

then the priest shall give directions, and one shall wash that on which there may have been the plague, and the priest shall set it aside a second time for seven days. "

And the priest shall look upon it after the plague has been washed; and if this, even the plague, has not changed its appearance, and the plague does not spread, it is unclean; it shall be burnt with fire: it is fixed in the garment, in the warp, or in the woof. "

And if the priest should look, and the spot be dark after it has been washed, he shall tear it off from the garment, either from the warp or from the woof, or from the skin. "

And if it should still appear in the garment, either in the warp or in the woof, or in any part of flesh, it is a leprosy bursting forth: that wherein is the plague shall be burnt with fire. "

Let us consider the text from Leviticus 13:59-XIV:17. This passage describes various procedures for the purification of a leper, the cleaning of garments, and the offering of sacrifices. The text mentions the use of a red goatskin, the purification of garments, and the use of sacrificial animals for different types of offerings. The Lord speaks to Moses, providing instructions for the priests and the people regarding their responsibilities in maintaining a clean and holy environment.

The text also highlights the importance of proper cleanliness and purification, including the use of hyssop, living water, and scarlet thread. These details underscore the intricate nature of religious practices and the emphasis on maintaining a holy and clean environment.

Moreover, the text mentions the provisions of sacrifices, emphasizing the role of priests in performing these rituals. It also touches upon the moral implications of these practices, stressing the importance of right behavior and the consequences of defilement.

In summary, this passage from Leviticus 13:59-XIV:17 is a comprehensive guide to the religious and practical aspects of maintaining a holy and clean environment, underscoring the significance of purification and the role of priests in performing these sacred duties.

and, and on the great toe of his right foot, on the place of the blood of the trespass-offering. And the remaining oil that is on the hand of the priest, the priest shall put on the head of the cleansed leper, and the whole burnt-offering for a sacrifice upon the altar before the Lord; and the priest shall make atonement for him before the Lord. And the priest shall sacrifice the sin-offering, and the priest shall make atonement for the person under purification to cleanse him from his sin, and afterwards the priest shall slay the whole-burnt-offering. And the priest shall offer the one lamb of the sin-offering, and the one for a whole-burnt-offering, and the cup of oil, and two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, as he can afford; and the one shall be for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering. And he shall bring them on the eighth day, to purify him, to the priest, to the tabernacle of the congregation, before the Lord. And the priest shall take the lamb of the trespass-offering, and the cup of oil, and place them for a set-offering before the Lord. And he shall slay the lamb of the trespass-offering; and the priest shall take of the blood of the trespass-offering, and put it on the tip of the right ear of him that is under purification, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot. And the priest shall pour of the oil on his own left hand. And the priest shall sprinkle with the 5 finger of his right hand some of the oil that is in his left hand seven times before the Lord. And the priest shall put of the oil that is on his hand on the tip of the right ear of him that is under purification, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot, on the place of the blood of the trespass-offering. And that which is left of the oil which is on the hand of the priest he shall put on the head of him that is purged, and the priest shall make atonement for him before the Lord. And he shall offer one of the turtle-doves or of the young pigeons, as he can afford it, the one for a sin-offering, the other for a whole-burnt-offering with the meat-offering, and the priest shall make an atonement before the Lord for him that is under purification. This is the law for him in whom is the plague of leprosy, and who cannot afford the offerings for his purification. And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron saying, "Whensoever ye shall enter into the land of the Canaanites, which I give you for a possession, and I shall put the plague of leprosy in the houses of the land of your possession; then the owner of the house shall come and report to the priest, saying, I have seen as it were a plague in the house. have an issue out of his body, his issue is unclean. 4 And this is the law of his uncleanness; whoever has a zoronoron out of his body, this is his uncleanness in him by reason of the issue, by which his body is affected through the issue; all the days of the issue of his body, by which his body is affected through the issue, there is his uncleanness. 5 Every bed on which he that has the issue shall happen to lie, is unclean; and every β seat on which he that has the issue may happen to sit, shall be unclean.

6 And the man who shall touch his bed, shall wash his garments, and bath himself in water, and shall be unclean until even. 7 And he that touches the skin of him that has the issue, shall wash his garments and bath himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening. 8 And whosoever sits on the β seat on which he that has the issue may have sat, shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening. 9 And he that touches the skin of him that has the issue shall wash his garments and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

10 And every ass's saddle, on which the man with the issue shall have mounted, shall be unclean until evening. And every one that touches whatsoever shall have been under him shall be unclean until evening; and he that takes them up shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening. 11 And whosoever he that has the issue shall touch, if he have not rinsed his hands in water, he shall wash his garments and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

12 And the earthen vessel which he that has the issue shall happen to touch, shall be broken; and a wooden vessel shall be washed with water, and shall be clean. 13 And if he that has the issue should cleanse of his issue, then shall he wash him of his body, and shall be for his purification; and he shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and shall be clean. 14 And on the eighth day he shall take to himself two turtle-doves or two young pigeons, and he shall bring them before the Lord to the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and shall give them to the priest.

15 And the priest shall offer them one for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering; and the priest shall make atonement for him before the Lord for his issue.

16 And the man whose seed of copulation shall happen to go forth from him, shall wash his whole body, and shall be unclean until evening. And every garment, and every skin on which there shall be the seed of copulation shall both be washed with water, and be unclean until evening. 17 And a woman, if a man shall lie with her with seed of copulation—they shall both bathe themselves in water and shall be unclean until evening. 18 And the woman, whose seed shall have an issue of blood, when her issue is in her body, shall be seven days in her separation; every one that touches her shall be unclean until evening.

19 And every thing whereon she shall lie in her separation, shall be unclean; and what-
21 And in the tabernacle the priest shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and shall be unclean until evening.
22 And every one that touches any vessel on which she shall sit, shall wash his garments and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.
23 And whether it be while she is on her bed, or on a seat which she may happen to sit upon when he touches her, he shall be unclean till evening.
24 And if any one shall lie with her, and her uncleanness be upon him, he shall be unclean seven days; and every bed on which he shall have lain shall be unclean.
25 And if a woman have an issue of blood many days, not in the time of her separation; if the blood should also flow after her separation, all the days of the issue of her uncleanness shall be as the days of her separation: she shall be unclean.
26 And every bed on which she shall lie all the days of her flux shall be to her as the bed of her separation, and every seat whereon she shall sit shall be unclean according to the uncleanness of her separation.
27 Every one that touches it shall be unclean; and he shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and shall be unclean until evening.
28 But if it flow out after she is cleansed from her flux, then she shall number to herself seven days, and afterwards she shall be esteemed clean.
29 And on the eighth day she shall take two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, and shall bring them to the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of witness.
30 And the priest shall offer one for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering, and the priest shall make atonement for her before the Lord for her unclean flux.
31 And ye shall cause the children of Israel to beware of their uncleannesses; so they shall not die for their uncleannesses, in polluting my tabernacle that is among them.
32 And if there be a man who has an issue, and if one discharge of seed be pestilential to him, so that he should be polluted by it.
33 And this is the law for her that has the issue of blood in her separation, and as to the person who has an issue of seed, in his issue: it is a law for the male and the female, and for the man who shall have lain with her that is set apart.

And the Lord spoke to Moses after the two sons of Aaron died in bringing strange fire before the Lord, so they died. And the Lord said to Moses, Speak to Aaron thy brother, and let him not come in at all times into the holy place within the veil before the propitiatory, which is upon the ark of the testimony; and he shall not die; for I will appear in a cloud on the propitiatory.

Thus shall Aaron enter into the holy place; with a calf of the herd for a sin-offering, and a heifer for a whole-burnt-offering. And he shall put on the consecrated linen tunic, and he shall have on his flesh the linen drawers, and shall gird himself with a linen girdle, and shall put on the linen cap, they are holy garments; and he shall bathe all even she shall sit upon, shall be unclean.
And he shall take of the congregation of the children of Israel two kids of the goats for a sin-offering, and one lamb for a whole-burnt-offering. And Aaron shall bring the calf for his own sin-offering, and shall make atonement for himself, and for his house, and shall offer him for a sin-offering. And he shall take the two goats, and place them before the Lord by the door of the tabernacle of witness. And Aaron shall cast lots upon the two goats, one lot for the Lord, and the other for the scape-goat. And Aaron shall bring forward the goat upon which the lot fell; and he shall offer it for a sin-offering.

And the goat upon which the lot of the scape-goat came, he shall present alive before the Lord, to make atonement upon him, so as to send him away as a scape-goat, and he shall send him into the wilderness.

And Aaron shall bring the calf for a sin-offering, and shall make atonement for himself and for his house; and he shall kill the calf for his sin-offering. And he shall take his censer full of coals of fire off the altar, which is before the Lord; and he shall fill his hands with fine compound incense, and shall bring it within the veil; and he shall put the fire before the Lord, and the smoke of the incense shall cover the mercy-seat over the testimony, and he shall not die. And he shall take of the blood of the calf, and sprinkle with his finger on the mercy-seat eastward: before the mercy-seat shall he sprinkle seven times of the blood with his finger.

And he shall kill the goat for the sin-offering that is for the people, before the Lord; and he shall bring in of its blood within the veil, and shall do with its blood as he did with the blood of the calf, and shall sprinkle its blood on the mercy-seat, in front of the mercy-seat.

And there shall be no man in the tabernacle of witness, when he goeth in to make atonement in the holy place, until he shall have come out: and he shall make atonement for himself, and for his house, and for all the congregation of the children of Israel. And he shall come forth to the altar that is before the Lord, and shall make atonement for it, and he shall take of the blood of the calf, and of the blood of the goat, and shall put it on the horns of the altar round about. And he shall sprinkle some of the blood upon it seven times with his finger, and shall purge it, and hallow it from the uncleanness of the children of Israel. And he shall finish making atonement for the sanctuary and for the tabernacle of witness, and for the altar; and he shall make a cleansing for the priests, and he shall bring the living goat; and Aaron shall lay his hands on the head of the live goat, and he shall declare over him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their unrighteousnesses, and all their sins; and he shall put his hands on the head of the sin-offering, and he shall lay both hands on it; and he shall kill the sin-offering for sin, and it shall be sin unto the Lord.

For the Lord will have blood to drink, and an atonement to make.
and et cetera attend, and et cetera, and et cetera.

And lo, ye shall bear the unrighteousnesses upon him into a desert land; and Aaron shall send away the goat into the wilderness.
tabernacle of the Lord; blood shall be imputed to that man, he has shed blood; that soul shall be cut off from his people. 1 That the children of Israel may offer their sacrifices, all that they shall slay in the fields, and bring them to the Lord in the door of the tabernacle of witness to the priest, and they shall sacrifice them as a peace-offering to the Lord. And the priest shall pour the blood on the altar round about before the Lord by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and shall offer the fat for a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord.

And with this shall no man offer their sacrifices to vain gods after which they go a whooping; it shall be a perpetual statute to you for your generations. 8 And thou shalt say to them, Whatever man of the children of Israel, or of the sons of the proselytes abiding among you, shall offer a whole burnt-offering, or a sacrifice, the life shall not bring it to the door of the tabernacle of witness to sacrifice it to the Lord, that man shall be destroyed from among his people. 10 And whatever man of the children of Israel, or of the strangers abiding among you, shall eat any blood, I will even set my face against that soul which eats blood, and I will cut it off from among his people. 11 For the life of flesh is the life; and I have given it to you on the altar to make atonement for your souls; for its blood shall make atonement for the soul. Therefore I said to the children of Israel, No soul of you shall eat blood, and the stranger among you shall not eat blood, 13 among the children of Israel, or of the strangers abiding among you shall take any animal in hunting, beast, or bird, which is eaten, then shall he pour out the blood, and cover it in the dust. 14 For the blood of all flesh is its life: and I said to the children of Israel, Ye shall not eat blood. 15 And every soul which eats that which has died of itself, or is taken of beasts, either among the natives or among the strangers, shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening: then shall he be clean. 16 But if he do not wash his garments, and do not bathe his body in water, then shall he bear his iniquity.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying,
1 Speak to the children of Israel; thou shalt say to them, I am the Lord your God. 2 Ye shall not do according to the devices of Egypt, in which ye dwelt; and according to the devices of the land of Canaan, into which I bring you. 3 Ye shall observe my judgments, and shall keep my ordinances, and shall walk in them: I am the Lord your God. 4 So ye shall keep all my commandments, and all my judgments: and ye shall do them; which if a man do, he shall live in them: I am the Lord your God. 5 No man shall draw nigh to any of his near kindred to uncover their nakedness; I am the Lord. 6 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father, or the nakedness of thy mother; for she is thy mother; thou

shall not uncover her nakedness. 8 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's wife; it is thy father's nakedness. 9 The nakedness of thy sister by thy father shall not be uncovered; nor by thy mother, born at home or abroad their nakedness thou shalt not uncover. 10 The nakedness of thy son's daughter, or thy daughter's daughter, their nakedness thou shalt not uncover; because it is thy nakedness. 11 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of the daughter of thy father's wife; she is thy sister by the same father: thou shalt not uncover her nakedness. 12 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister, for she is near akin to thy father. 13 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister, for she is near akin to thy mother. 14 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's brother, and thou shalt not go in to his wife; for she is thy relation. 15 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy daughter-in-law, for she is thy son's wife, thou shalt not uncover her nakedness. 16 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy brother's wife: it is thy brother's nakedness. 17 The nakedness of a woman and her daughter shalt thou not uncover; her son's daughter, and her daughter's daughter, shalt thou not take, to uncover their nakedness, for they are thy kin-women: it is impious. 18 Thou shalt not take a wife in addition to her sister, as a rival, to uncover her nakedness in opposition to her, while she is yet living. 19 And thou shalt not go in to a woman under separation for her uncleanness, to uncover her nakedness. 20 And thou shalt not lie with thy neighbour's wife, to defile thyself with her. 21 And thou shalt not give of thy seed to serve a ruler; and thou shalt not profane my holy name: I am the Lord. 22 And thou shalt not lie with a man as with a woman, for it is an abomination. 23 Neither shalt thou lie with any quadruped for copulation, to be polluted with it: neither shall a woman present herself before any quadruped to have connexion with it; for it is an abomination. 24 Do not pollute thy selves with any of these things: for all these things the nations are defiled, which I drive out before you, and the land is polluted; and I have recompensed their iniquity to them because of it, and the land is aggrieved with them that dwell upon it. 25 And ye shall keep all my statutes and all my ordinances, and ye shall do none of these abominations; neither thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy brother, nor thy sister, nor thy brother's daughter, nor thy sister's daughter, nor thy daughter-in-law, nor thy son-in-law. 26 Neither shalt thou have intercourse with any beast of the earth, which is given to yield up the spirit of life by virtue of spirit: neither shall it be yours to bear seed. 27 For the stranger that joins himself with you (for all these abominations the men of the land did who were before you, and the land was defiled,) 28 and lest the land be aggrieved with you in your polluting it, as it was aggrieved with the nations before you. 29 For whosoever shall do any of these abominations, the souls that do them shall be destroyed from among their people. 30 And ye shall keep mine ordinances, that ye may not do any of the abominable practices, which have been done before your time: and ye shall not be polluted in them; for I am the Lord your God.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying
Speak to the congregation of the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Ye shall be holy; for I the Lord your God am holy.

10 Let every one of you reverence his father and his mother; and ye shall keep my sabbaths: I am the Lord your God.

11 Ye shall not follow idols, and ye shall not make to yourselves molten gods; for I the Lord your God am a jealous God.

12 And if ye shall offer a sacrifice to the Lord, ye shall offer it acceptable from yourselves. 13 In what day soever ye shall sacrifice it, it shall be eaten; and on the following day, and if any of it should be left till the third day, it shall be thoroughly burnt with fire. 14 And if it should be left on the third day, it is unclean, for sacrifice: it shall not be accepted.

15 And he that eats it shall bear his iniquity, because he has profaned the holy things of the Lord, and that soul shall be destroyed from among their people.

16 And when ye reap the harvest of your land, and have gathered in the ears of your harvest; 17 then ye shall bind the sheaf near at hand, that thou mayest go on, and if thou shalt leave the sheaf, the poor man may gather it: thou shalt not itch it away from the poor. 18 Thou shalt not beat thy neighbour deceitfully among thy people; 19 thou shalt not sit up against thy neighbour: I am the Lord your God.

20 Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart; thou shalt not rebuke thy neighbour: but thou shalt be mindful of his good deeds in thine heart.

21 And thy hand shall not avenge thee; and thou shalt not be angry with the children of thy people; 22 and thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself; I am the Lord.

23 Ye shall observe my law: thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with one of a different kind: and thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with diverse seed: and thou shalt not put upon thyself a mingled garment woven of two materials. 24 And if any one lie carnally with a woman, and she should be a house-servant kept for a man, and she has not been ransomed, and her freedom has not been given to her, then they shall be visited with punishment; but they shall not die, because she was not set at liberty.

25 And he shall bring for his trespass to the Lord to the door of the tabernacle of witnesses, a ram for a trespass-offering; 26 And if any one offer a sacrifice to the Lord, and offer none of the fat of it to the Lord, then he has transgressed; and it shall not be accepted. 27 And he shall bring for his trespass a ram for a trespass-offering to the Lord. 28 And the man shall sin, and he shall be guilty; and he shall be cut off from among his people.

29 And if any one offer to the Lord a sacrifice of fellowship, of peace-offerings, of thank-offerings, or of sin-offerings, or of trespass-offerings; 30 and any one take to himself of that, and offer none of it to the Lord: 31 then he has transgressed, and he shall bear his iniquity. 32 And he shall bring for his trespass to the Lord a ram without blemish for a trespass-offering.
the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of the trespass-offering, before the Lord, for the sin which he sinned; and the sin which he sinned shall be forgiven him. 23 And whenever ye shall enter into the land which the Lord your God gives you, and shall plant any fruit-tree, then shall ye purge away its uncleanness; its fruit shall be three years uncleaned to you, it shall not be eaten, but in the fourth year all its fruit shall be holy, 24 a subject of praise to the Lord. 25 And in the fifth year ye shall eat the fruit, its produce is an increase to you. I am the Lord your God.

26 Eat not on the mountains, nor shall ye employ auguries, nor divine by inspection of birds. 27 Ye shall not make a round cutting of the hair of your head, nor disfigure your beard. 28 And ye shall not make cuttings in your body for a dead body, and ye shall not inscribe on yourselves any marks. 29 I am the Lord your God. 30 Thou shalt not profane thy daughter to prostitute her; so the land shall not go a whoring, and the land be filled with iniquity. 31 Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sabbaths: I am the Lord. 32 Ye shall not attend to those who have in them divining spirits, nor attach yourselves to enchanters; to pollute yourselves with them: I am the Lord your God. 33 Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honour the face of the old man, and shall fear thy God: I am the Lord your God. 34 And if there should come to you a stranger in your land, ye shall not afflict him. 35 The stranger that comes to you shall be among you as the native, and thou shalt love him as thyself; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God. 36 Ye shall not act unrighteously in judgment, in measures and weights and scales. 37 There shall be among you just balances and just weights and a just liquid measure. I am the Lord your God. 38 And ye shall keep all my law and all my ordinances, and ye shall do them: I am the Lord your God.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 2 Thou shalt also say to the children of Israel, If there shall be any of the children of Israel, or of those who have become proselytes in Israel, who shall give of his seed to Moloch, let him be surely put to death; the nation upon the land shall stone him with stones. And I will set my face against that man and will cut him off from among his people, because he has given of his seed to Moloch, to defile my sanctuary, and profane the name of them that are consecrated to me. 4 And if the natives of the land should in any wise overlook that man in giving of his seed to Moloch, so as not to put him to death; 5 then will I set my face against that man and his family, and I will destroy him, and all of one mind with him, so that he should go a whoring to the princes, from their people.

6 And the soul that shall follow those who have in them divining spirits, or enchanters, so as to go a whoring after them; I will set my face against that soul, and will destroy it from among its people. 7 And ye shall be holy, for I am the Lord your God am holy.
8 And ye shall observe my ordinances, and do them: I am the Lord that sanctifies you.
9 Every man who shall speak evil of his father or his mother shall die, he has spoken evil of his father or his mother? he shall be guilty.
10 Whatever man shall commit adultery with the wife of a man, or whoever shall commit adultery with the wife of his neighbour, let them die the death, the adulterer and the adulteress shall die. 11 And if any one should lie with his father's wife, he has uncovered his father's nakedness: let them both die the death, they are guilty. 12 And if any one should lie with his daughter-in-law, let them both be put to death; for they have wrought impiety, they are guilty. 13 And whoever shall lie with a male as with a woman, they both shall be put to death: they shall burn them, and them and fire; so there shall not be iniquity among you. 14 And whoever shall lie with a beast, let him die the death; and ye shall kill that beast. 15 And whatever woman shall approach any beast, so as to have connexion with it, ye shall kill the woman and the beast: let them die the death, they are guilty. 16 Whosoever shall take his sister by her father or by his mother, and see her nakedness, and she see her nakedness, and they shall be destroyed before the children of their family; he has uncovered his sister's nakedness, they shall bear their sin. 17 And whatever man shall lie with a woman that is set apart for a flux, and shall uncover her nakedness, he has uncovered her fountain, and she has uncovered the flux of her blood: they shall both be destroyed from among their generation. 18 And thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister, or of the sister of thy mother; for that man has uncovered the nakedness of one near skin: they shall bear their iniquity. 19 Whosoever shall lie with his near kinswoman, have uncovered her nakedness, she has uncovered one near skin to him: they shall die childless. 20 Whosoever shall take his brother's wife, it is uncleanness; he has uncovered his brother's nakedness; they shall die childless.
21 And keep ye all my ordinances, and my judgments; and ye shall do them, and the land shall not be defiled with you, into which I bring you. 22 And walk ye not in the customs of the nations which I drive out from before you; for they have done all these things, and I have abhorred them: 23 and I said to you, Ye shall inherit their land, and I will give it to you for a possession, even a land flowing with milk and honey: I am the Lord your God, who have separated you from all people. 24 And ye shall make a distinction between the clean and the unclean cattle, and between clean and unclean birds: and ye shall not defile your souls with cattle, or with birds, or with any creeping things of 26 And ye shall be holy: for I the LORD your God am holy, who separated you from all nations, to be mine.

27 And the man or woman whomsoever of them shall have in them a divine spirit, or be an enchanter, let them both die the death: ye shall stone them with stones, they are guilty.

28 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the priests the sons of Aaron, and thou shalt tell them that they shall not defile themselves through the dead, but they may mourn for the dead, 2

29 and for a relative who is very near to them, for a father and mother, and sons and daughters, for a brother, and for a virgin sister that is near to one, that is not espoused to a man; for these one shall defile himself. 3

30 He shall not defile himself suddenly among his people to profane himself. 4 And ye shall not shave your head for the dead, 5

31 neither shall they shave their beard, neither shall they make cresses on their flesh. 6

32 They shall be holy to their God, and they shall not profane the name of their God; for they offer the sacrifices of the Lord as the gifts of their God, and they shall be holy.

33 They shall not take a woman whose father is dead and profaned, nor a woman whose mother is dead and profaned.

34 For in that which is dead and profaned defileth the woman; and for her profanation she shall be cut off from her people, 6

35 and she defileth the people: she shall be cut off from among her people. 7

36 And the priest that is chief among his brethren, the oil having been poured upon the head of the anointed one, and he having been consecrated to put on the garments, shall not take the mitre off his head, and shall not rend his garments: 9

37 neither shall he go in to any dead body, neither shall he defile himself for his father or his mother.

38 And he shall not go out of the sanctuary, and he shall not profane the sanctuary of his God, because the holy anointing oil of God is upon him; I am the Lord. 10

39 And he shall take for a wife a virgin of his own tribe. 4

40 But a widow, or one that is put away, or profaned, or a harlot, these he shall not take; but he shall take for a wife a virgin of his own people.

41 And he shall not profane his seed among his people: I am the Lord that sanctifies him. 6

42 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 7

43 Say to Aaron, A man of thy tribe throughout your generations, who shall have a blemish on him, shall not draw nigh to offer the gifts of his God. 10

44 No man who has a blemish on him shall draw nigh: a man blind, lame, with his nose deformed, or his ear unequal, or he who has a broken hand or a broken foot, 5

45 or hump-backed, or blind-eyed, or that has lost his eye-lashes, or a man who has a malignant ulcer, or tetter, or one that has lost a testicle. 11

46 Whoever of the seed of Aaron the priest has a blemish on him, shall not draw nigh to offer sacrifices to thy God, because he has a blemish on him; he shall not draw nigh to offer the gifts of God.
2 Then the gifts of God are most holy, and he shall eat of the holy things. 3 Only he shall not approach the veil, and he shall not draw nigh to the altar, because he has a blemish; and he shall not profane the sanctuary of his God, for I am the Lord that sanctifies them.
4 And Moses spoke to Aaron and his sons, and to all the children of Israel.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
5 Speak to Aaron and to his sons, and let them take heed concerning the holy things of the children of Israel, so they shall not profane my holy name in any of the things which they consecrate to me: I am the Lord.
6 So say to them, Every man throughout your generations, whoever of all your seed shall approach to the holy things which I have given the children of Israel, shall be for an uncleanness;
7 and while his uncleanness is upon him, that soul shall be cut off from me; I am the Lord.
8 And the man of the seed of Aaron the priest, if he should have leprous or issue of the reins, shall not eat of the holy things, until he be cleansed;
9 and he that touches any uncleanness of a man, and of the seed of Israel, when he has go out from him,
10 or whosoever shall touch any unclean reptile, which will defile him, or who shall touch a man, whereby he shall defile him according to all his uncleanness: whatsoever soul shall touch them shall be unclean until evening;
11 and shall bathe his body in water, and the sun go down, and then he shall be clean; and then shall he eat of all the holy things, for they are his bread.
12 He shall not eat that which dies of itself, or is taken of beasts, so that he should be polluted by them: I am the Lord.
13 And they shall keep my ordinances, that they do not be iniquity because of them, and die because of them, that they shall profane them: I am the Lord that sanctifies them.
14 And no stranger shall eat the holy things: one that sojourns with a priest, or a hireling, shall not eat the holy things.
15 But a priest's daughter that is an ignominy, shall eat of his bread; and they that are born in his house, they also shall eat of his bread.
16 And if the daughter of a priest should marry a stranger, she shall not eat of the offerings of the sanctuary.
17 And if the daughter of a priest should be a widow, or put away, and have no seed, she shall return to her father's house, as in her youth; she shall eat of her father's bread, but no stranger shall eat of it.
18 And the man who shall ignorantly eat holy things, shall add the fifth part to it, and give the holy thing to the priest.
19 And they shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer to the Lord.
20 So shall they bring upon themselves the iniquity of trespass in their eating their holy things: for I am the Lord that sanctifies them.
21 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
22 Speak to Aaron and his sons, and to all the congregation of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Any man of the children of Israel, or

Let us consider the seasons. Convocations, rest, but which shall you of ye flesh day of the Lord, or your broken slay cut for ulcer, is you there Lord to choice, all Israel, of Lord to free-will-offerings.

As the feasts, whenever it is burnt, shall it be seven days under its mother; and on the eighth day and after they shall be accepted for sacrifices, a burnt-offering to the Lord. And a bullock and a ewe, it and its young, thou shalt not kill in one day. And if thou shouldest offer a sacrifice, a vow of rejoicing to the Lord, ye shall offer it so as to be accepted for you.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, As for a calf, or a sheep, or a goat, whenever it is burnt, then shall it be seven days under its mother; and on the eighth day and after they shall be accepted for sacrifices, a burnt-offering to the Lord. And a bullock and a ewe, it and its young, thou shalt not kill in one day.

And if thou shouldest offer a sacrifice, a vow of rejoicing to the Lord, ye shall offer it so as to be accepted for you. If that which has broken testicles, or is bruised or gelt or mutilated,—thou shall not offer these to the Lord; neither shall ye offer any of them for a burnt-offering on the altar of the Lord. And a calf or a sheep with the ears cut off, or that has lost its tail, thou shalt slay them for thyself; but they shall not be accepted for thy vow. That which has broken testicles, or is bruised or gelt or mutilated,—thou shall not offer these to the Lord; neither shall ye sacrifice them upon your land.

Neither shall ye offer the gifts of your God of all these things by the hand of a stranger, because there is corruption in them, a blemish in them: these shall not be accepted for you.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, As for a calf, or a sheep, or a goat, whenever it is burnt, then shall it be seven days under its mother; and on the eighth day and after they shall be accepted for sacrifices, a burnt-offering to the Lord.

And a bullock and a ewe, it and its young, thou shalt not kill in one day.

And if thou shouldest offer a sacrifice, a vow of rejoicing to the Lord, ye shall offer it so as to be accepted for you.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say unto them, The feasts of the Lord which ye shall call holy assemblies, these are my feasts.

Six days shalt thou do works, but on the seventh day is the sabbath; a rest, a holy convocation to the Lord: thou shalt not do any work, it is a sabbath to the Lord in all your dwellings.

These are the feasts to the Lord, holy convocations, which ye shall call in their seasons.

In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, between the evening times is the Lord’s passover.

And on the fifteenth day of this month is the feast of unleavened bread to the Lord; seven days shall ye eat unleavened bread.

And the first day shall be a holy convocation to you: ye shall do no servile work.

And ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord.
seven days; and the seventh day shall be a holy convocation to you; ye shall do no servile work therein.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, "Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, When ye shall enter into the land which I give you, and reap the harvest of it, then shall ye bring a sheaf, the first-fruits of your harvest, to the priest; and he shall lift up the sheaf before the Lord, to offer a burnt-offering to the Lord, the first-fruits of all the produce of the field, to be a memorial before the Lord. And ye shall offer on the day on which ye bring the sheaf, a lamb without blemish of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord. And its meat-offering two tenth portions of fine flour mingled with oil; it is a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord, and its drinking-offerings the fourth part of a hin of wine. And ye shall not eat bread, or the new parched corn, until this same day, until ye offer the sacrifices to your God: it is a perpetual statute throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

And ye shall number to yourselves from the day after the sabbath, from the day on which ye shall offer the sheaf of the harvest-offering, seven full weeks: until the morrow after the last week ye shall number fifty days, and shall bring a new meat-offering to the Lord. Ye shall bring from your dwellings, as a meat-offering to the Lord, two leaven loaves, and two leaven loaves of fine flour mingled with oil; they shall be of two tenth portions of fine flour, they shall be baked with leaven of the first-fruits to the Lord. And ye shall bring with the leaven seven unblenmed lambs of a year old, and one cally of the herd, and two rams without blemish, and they shall be a meat-offering, and the service of the lambs, and the meat-offerings and their drink-offerings shall be a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. And they shall sacrifice one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, and two lambs of a year old for a peace-offering, with the leaves of the first-fruits; And the priest shall slay them with the leaves of the first-fruits an offering before the Lord with the two lambs, they shall be holy to the Lord; they shall belong to the priest that brings them. And ye shall call this day a convocation: it shall be holy to you; ye shall do no servile work on it: it is a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations in all your habitations. And when ye shall reap the harvest of your land, ye shall not fully reap the remainder of the harvest of your field when thou requistest, and thou shalt not gather that which falls from thy reaping: thou shalt leave it for the poor and the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, "Speak to the children of Israel, saying. In the seventh month, on the first day of the month, ye shall have a rest, a memorial of trumpets: it shall be to you a holy convocation. Ye shall do no servile work, and ye shall offer a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, also on the tenth day of this seventh month is a day of atonement: it shall be a holy convocation to you; and ye shall humble

28. And ye shall offer a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord; 29. Ye shall offer no work on this selfsame day: for this is a day of atonement for you, to make atonement for you before the Lord your God. 30. Every soul that shall not be humbled in that day, shall be cut off from among its people. 31. And every soul which shall do work on that day, that soul shall be destroyed from among its people.

32. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 33. Speak to the children of Israel, saying, On the fifteenth day of this seventh month, there shall be a feast of tabernacles seven days to the Lord. 34. And on the first day shall be a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work. 35. Seven days shall ye offer whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord, and the eighth day shall be a holy convocation; ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord; and ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord: it is a time of release, ye shall do no servile work. 36. These are the feasts to the Lord, which ye shall call holy convocations, to offer burnt-offerings to the Lord, whole-burnt-offerings and their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, that for each day on its day; besides the sabbaths of the Lord, and besides your gifts, and besides all your vows, and besides your freewill-offerings, which ye shall give to the Lord. 37. And on the fifteenth day of this seventh month, when ye shall have completely gathered in the fruits of the earth, ye shall keep a feast to the Lord seven days; on the first day there shall be a rest, and on the eighth day a rest. 38. And on the first day ye shall take goodly fruit of trees, and branches of palm trees, and thick boughs of trees, and willows, and branches of osiers from the brook, to rejoice before the Lord your God seven days in the year. 39. It is a perpetual statute for your generations: in the seventh month ye shall keep it. 40. Seven days ye shall burn lamps: even a native in Israel shall dwell in tents, 41. that your posterity may see, that I made the children of Israel to dwell in tents, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God. 42. And Moses reckoned the feasts of the Lord to the children of Israel.
And there went forth a son of an Israelitish woman, and he was son of an Egyptian man among the sons of Israel; and they found in the camp, the son of the Israelitish woman, and a man who was an Israelite. 2 And the son of the Israelitish woman named JEHONADAB, and cursed; and they brought him to Moses: and his mother's name was Samoith, daughter of Dabri of the tribe of Dan. 3 And they put him in ward, to judge him by the command of the Lord. 4 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, Bring forth him that cursed outside the camp, and all who heard shall lay their hands upon his head, and all the congregation shall stone him. 5 And speak to the sons of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whosoever shall curse his neighbour, let him die the death: let all the congregation stone him with stones: whether he be a stranger or a native, let him die for naming the name of the Lord. 6 And whosoever shall smite a man, and he die, let him die the death. 7 And whosoever shall smite a beast, and it die, let him render life for life. 8 And whosoever shall inflict a blemish on his neighbour, as he has done to him, so shall it be done to himself in return; bruise for bruise, eye for eye, tooth for tooth: as any one may inflict a blemish on a man, so shall it be rendered to him. 9 And whosoever shall smite a beast, and it die, let him die the death. 10 And there shall be one judgment for the stranger and the native, for I am the Lord your God. 11 And Moses spake to the children of Israel, and they brought him that had cursed out of the camp, and stoned him with stones; and the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded Moses.

And the Lord spake to Moses in the mount Sinai, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whensoever ye shall have entered into the land, which I give to you, then the land shall rest which I give to you, for its sabbaths to the Lord. 2 Six years shall thou sow thy field, and six years thou shalt prune thy vine, and gather in its fruit. 3 But in the seventh year shall be a sabbath, it shall be a rest to the land, a sabbath to the Lord: thou shalt not sow thy field, and thou shalt not prune thy vine. 4 And thou shalt not gather the spontaneous produce of thy field, and thou shalt not gather fully the grapes of thy dedication: it shall be a year of rest to the land. 5 And the sabbaths of the land shall be food for thee, and for thy man-servant, and for thy maid-servant, and thy 10 And ye shall put on each row pure frankincense and salt; and these things shall be for loaves for a memorial, set forth before the Lord. 11 On the sabbath-day they shall be set forth before the Lord continual before the children of Israel, for an everlasting covenant. 12 And they shall be for Aaron and his sons, and they shall eat them in the holy place: for this is their most holy portion of the offerings made to the Lord, a perpetual statute.

7 And leviathan, and the stranger that abides with thee. 7 And for thy cattle, and for the wild beasts that are in thy land, shall every fruit of it be for food.

And thou shalt reckon to thyself seven sabbaths of years, seven times seven years; and they shall be to thee seven weeks of years, nine and forty years. In the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, ye shall make a proclamation with the sound of a trumpet in all your land; on the day of atonement ye shall make a proclamation with a trumpet in all your land. And ye shall sanctify the fiftieth year, and ye shall proclaim a release upon the land to all that inhabit it; it shall be given a year of release, a jubilee for you; and each one shall depart to his possession, and ye shall go each to his family. This is a jubilee of release, the year shall be to you the fiftieth year: ye shall not sow, nor reap the produce that comes of itself from the land, neither shall ye plant vines, nor gather its fruits. For it is a jubilee of release; it shall be holy to you, ye shall eat its fruits off the fields. In the year of the release even the jubilee of it, shall each one return to his possession.

And if thou shouldst sell a possession to thy neighbour, or if thou shouldest buy of thy neighbour, let not a man oppress his neighbour. According to the number of years after the jubilee shall thy neighbour buy of thy neighbour, according to the number of years of the fruits shall he sell to thee. According as there may be a greater number of years he shall increase the value of his possession, and according as there may be a less number of years he shall lessen the value of his possession; for according to the number of his crops, so shall he sell to thee. Let not a man oppress his neighbour, and thou shalt fear the Lord thy God: I am the Lord thy God.

And ye shall keep all my ordinances, and all my judgments; and do ye observe them, and ye shall keep them, and dwell securely in the land. And the land shall be fielded for him who sowed it, and in the year of Jubilee ye shall let it rest. And if you should say, What shall we eat in this seventh year, if we do not sow nor gather in our fruits? Then will I send my blessing upon you in the sixth year, and the land shall produce its fruits for three years. And ye shall sow in the eighth year, and eat old fruits till the ninth year: until its fruit come, ye shall eat old fruits of the old. And the land shall not be sold for a permanence; for the land is mine, because ye are strangers and sojourners before me. And in every land of your possession, ye shall allow ransoms for the land. And if thy brother who is with thee be poor, and should have sold part of his possession, and his kinsman who is poor is with him, then he shall redeem the part which his brother has sold. And if one have no near kinsman, and he prosper with his hand, and he find sufficient money, even his ransom; then shall he calculate the years of his sale, and he shall give what is due to the man to whom he sold it, and he shall return to his possession. 28 But if his hand have not prospered sufficiently, so as that he should restore the money to him, then he that bought the possessions shall have them till the sixth year of the release; and it shall go out in the release, and the owner shall return to his possession.
29 And if any one should sell an inhabited house in a walled city, then there shall be the ransom of it, until the time is fulfilled:
its time of ransom shall be a full year.
30 And if it be not ransomed until then be completed of its time a full year, the house which is in the walled city shall be surely confirmed to him that bought it, throughout his generations; and it shall not go out in the release. 31 But the houses in the villages which have not a wall round about them, shall be reckoned as the fields of the country: they shall always be redeemable, and they shall go out in the release. 32
And the cities of the Levites, the houses of the cities in their possession, shall be always redeemable in the cities of the Levites. And if one shall redeem a house of the Levites, then shall their sale of the houses of their possession go out in the release; because the houses of the cities of the Levites are their possession in the midst of the children of Israel. 33 And the lands set apart for their cities shall not be sold; because this is their perpetual possession.
34 And if thy brother who is with thee become poor, and he fail in 6 resources with thee, thou shalt help him as a stranger and a sojourner, and thy brother shall live with thee.
35 Thou shalt not receive from him interest, nor increase; and thou shalt give to thy God: I am the Lord: and thy brother shall live with thee. 36 Thou shalt not lend thy money to him at interest, and thou shall not lend thy meat to him to be returned with increase. 37 I am the Lord thy God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, to give you the land of Canaan,
so as to be your God.
38 And if thy brother by thee be lowered, and be sold to thee, he shall not serve thee with the servitude of a slave. 39 He shall be with thee as a hireling or a sojourner, he shall work for thee till the year of release; 40 and he shall go out in the release, and his family, and he shall hasten back to his patri-mony. 41 Because these are my servants, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt;
such an one shall not be sold as a common servant. 42 Thou shalt not oppress him with labour, and shalt fear the Lord thy God. 43 And whatsoever maid-servants and maid-servants thou shalt have, thou shalt purchase male and female servants from the nations that are round about thee. 45 And of the sons of the sojourners that are among you, of these ye shall buy and of their relations, all that shall be in your land; let them be to you for a posse-sion. 46 And ye shall distribute them to your children after you, and they shall be to you permanent possessions for ever: but of your brethren the children of Israel, one shall not oppress his brother in labours.

And if \( \beta \) a stranger or sojourner with thee wax rich, and thy brother in distress be sold to the stranger or the sojourner that is with thee, or to a proselyte by extraction: 42 after he is sold to him there shall be redemption for him; one of his brethren shall redeem him, or his father, or his brother, or one of his father's brother shall redeem him; or let one of his near kin of his tribe redeem him; and if he should be rich and redeem himself, 43 then shall he calculate with his purchaser from the year that he sold himself to him until the year of release; and the money of his purchase shall be as that of a hireling, he shall be with him from year to year. 44 And if any have a greater number of years than enough, according to these he shall pay his ransom out of his purchase-money. 45 And if but a little time be left of the years to the year of release, then shall he reckon to him according to his years, and shall pay his ransom as a hireling; he shall be with him from year to year; 46 and if he do not pay his ransom accordingly, he shall go out in the year of his release, he and his children with him. 47 For the children of Israel are my servants: they are my attendants, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt.

I am the Lord your God: ye shall not make to yourselves gods made with hands, or graven; neither shall ye rear up a pillar for yourselves, neither shall ye set up a stone image; any likeness of any figure ye shall not set up for yourselves. 2 Ye shall make me a pillar of burnt offering, an altar of sacred stones, and upon the altar I will offer my sacrifices in all places. 3 And I will come down upon the mountain to talk with thee, and I will give thee this people that are thine for a inheritance. 4 And thou shalt break down the altars of the heathen, and cut down the groves, and utterly destroy the stone images. 5 And thou shalt offer my sacrifices in one place upon the altar that I shall name unto thee.
them, and your son shall loathe the judgments, so that ye should not keep all my commands, as so as to break my covenant, then will I do this to you: I will even bring upon you perplexity and the fever that causes your eyes to waste away, and disease that consumes your life; and ye shall sow your seeds in vain, and your enemies shall eat them. And I will set my face against you, and ye shall fall before your enemies, and they that hate you shall pursue you; and ye shall flee, no one pursuing you. And if ye still refuse to hearken to me, then will I chasten you yet seven times more for your sins. And I will break down the haughtiness of your pride; and I will make your heaven iron, and your earth as it were brass. And your strength shall be in vain; and your land shall not yield its seed, and the tree of your field shall not yield its fruit.

And if after this ye should walk perversely, and not be willing to obey me, I will further bring upon you seven plagues according to your sins. And I will send upon you wild beasts of the land, and they shall devour you, and shall consume your cattle: and I will make you few in number, and your ways shall be desolate. And if hereupon ye are not corrected, but walk perversely towards me, I also will walk with you with a perverse spirit, and I also will smite you seven times for your sins. And I will bring upon you a sword avenging the cause of my covenant, and ye shall flee for refuge to your cities; and I shall send out death against you, and ye shall be delivered into the hands of your enemies. When I afflict you with famine of bread, then ten women shall bake your loaves in one oven, and they shall rend your loaves by weight; and ye shall eat, and not be satisfied.

And if hereupon ye will not obey me, but walk perversely towards me, then will I walk with you with a froward mind, and I will chasten you sevenfold according to your sins. And ye shall eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters shall be eaten by the land. And I will render your pillars desolate, and will utterly destroy your wooden images made with hands; and I will lay your carcases on the carcases of your idols, and my soul shall loathe you. And I will lay your cities waste, and will make your sanctuaries desolate, and I will not suffer your altars of your sacrifices. And I will lay your land desolate, and your enemies who dwell in it shall wonder at it. And I will scatter you among the nations, and the sword shall come upon you and consume you; and your land shall be desolate, and your cities shall be desolate.

Then the land shall enjoy its sabbaths all the days of its desolation; and ye shall dwell in the land of your enemies; then the land shall keep its sabbaths, and the land shall enjoy its sabbaths all the days of its desolation: it shall keep sabbaths which it kept not among your sabbaths, when ye dwelt in it. And to those who are left of offer one of these to the Lord, it shall be holy.

10 He shall not change it, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good; and if he do at all change it, a beast for a beast, and the substitute shall be holy.

11 And if it be any unclean beast, of which none are offered as a gift to the Lord, he shall set the beast before the priest, and the priest shall make a valuation between the good and the bad, and accordingly as the priest shall value it, so shall it stand.

12 And if the worshipper will at all redeem it, he shall add the fifth part to its value.

13 And whatsoever man shall consecrate his house as holy to the Lord, the priest shall make a valuation between the good and the bad: as the priest shall value it, so shall it stand.

14 And if he that has sanctified it shall redeem his house, he shall add to it the fifth part of the money of the valuation, and it shall be his.

15 And if a man should hallow to the Lord a part of his field of his possession, then the valuation shall be according to its seed, fifty shekels of silver for a homer of barley.

16 And if he should sanctify his field from the year of release, it shall stand according to its valuation.

17 And if he should sanctify his field in the latter time after the release, the priest shall reckon to him the money for the remaining years, until the next year of release, and it shall be deducted as an equivalent from his full valuation.

18 And if he that sanctified the field would redeem it, he shall add to its value the fifth part of the money of the valuation, and it shall be his.

19 But the field shall be holy to the Lord after the release, as separated land; the priest shall have possession of it.

20 And if he should consecrate to the Lord a field which he has bought, which is not of the field of his possession, 21 the priest shall reckon to him the full valuation from the year of release, and he shall pay the valuation in that day as holy to the Lord.

22 And in the year of release the land shall be restored to the man of whom the other bought it, whose the land was, and if the man of whom the land was bought does not redeem it, every valuation shall be by holy weights: the didrachm shall be twenty obols.

23 And every first-born which shall be produced among thy cattle shall be the Lord's, and no man shall sanctify it: whether calf or sheep, it is the Lord's.

24 But if he should redeem an unclean beast, according to its valuation, he shall add to it the fifth part to it, and it shall be his: and if he redeem it not, it shall be sold according to its valuation.

25 And every dedicated thing which a man shall dedicate to the Lord of all that he has, whether man or beast, or of the field of his possession, he shall not redeem it: every devoted thing shall be most holy to the Lord.

26 And whatever shall be dedicated of men, shall not be ransomed, but shall be surely put to death.

27 Every tithe of the land, both of the seed of the land, and of the fruit of trees, is the Lord's,

28 of the first-fruits of thy land which thou shalt reap, thou shalt surely give thereof the tenth part to the Lord.

29 And if the land of thy possession be not sufficient to thee, for the paying of the tenth part thereof,

30 then shalt thou measure off thy tithe in the presence of the Lord thy God, in the place which he shall choose to set his name there;

31 And thou shalt eat before the Lord thy God, in the place which he shall choose, thou and thy servant, and the Levite that is with thee, and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow which are within thy gates.

32 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God redeemed thee; therefore I command thee this thing this day.

33 And if a Levite come from abroad to thee, and setteth himself to minister unto the Lord thy God,

34 then shalt thou lift up thine hand, and shalt open thine hand widely,

35 and shalt take of his wives, and of his children, of his land, and of his inheritance, and shall give unto him the tenth part, and so shall he dwell with thee.

36 But the Levites shall have no part in thine inheritance, for they are the priests of the Lord, and shall eat at the altar; and thou shalt lift up thine hand no more,

37 for the Lord thy God has given thee a land, a great over against the nations that are round about thee.

38 And thou shalt surely give the Levites the tithe of all the increase of thy seed, that which the fruit of thy land bringeth forth.

39 And thou shalt eat before the Lord thy God, in the place which he shall choose to set his name there, thou and thine servants, and the Levite that is with thee, and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow which are within thy gates;

40 and ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God in all your increase, 41 and shall speak in your ears every good word, as this day.

42 And when the Lord shall have hedged thee in against thine enemies round about, as he hath hedged thee this day and hath delivered thee;

43 then shalt thou say in your heart, as the Lord my God is a great king over all the earth, 44 for the Lord thy God is walking in the midst of thee, he will not leave thee nor forsake thee.

of the month in the second year; and they registered them after their lineage, after their families, after the number of their names, from twenty years old and upwards, every male according to their number, as the Lord commanded Moses, so they were numbered in the wilderness of Sinai.

And the sons of Ruben the first-born of Israel according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their heads and all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that went out with the host—21 the numbering of them of the tribe of Ruben, was forty-six thousand and four hundred. 22 For the children of Simeon according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes out with the host, 23 the numbering of them of the tribe of Simeon, was fifty-nine thousand and three hundred. 24 For the sons of Judah according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 25 the numbering of them of the tribe of Judah, was seventy-four thousand and six hundred. 26 For the sons of Issachar according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 27 the numbering of them of the tribe of Issachar, was fifty-four thousand and four hundred. 28 For the sons of Zabulon according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 29 the numbering of them of the tribe of Zabulon, was fifty-seven thousand and four hundred. 30 For the sons of Joseph, the sons of Ephraim, according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 31 the numbering of them of the tribe of Ephraim, was forty thousand and five hundred. 32 For the sons of Manasse according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 33 the numbering of them of the tribe of Manasse, was thirty-two thousand and one hundred. 34 For the sons of Benjamin according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 35 the numbering of them of the tribe of Benjamin, was thirty-five thousand and six hundred. 36 The sons of Levi were not included in the numbering, 37 for the Lord had said to Moses, say to the children of Israel, you shall not number the males of Levi, neither shall you take them up in their number. 38 You shall have them to serve in the tabernacle of the testimony to do the work of the service; they shall be in the tabernacle of the testimony and shall do the service of the service; they shall not set up their own divisions, they shall not take possession of the land of Israel; 39 or, the Lord said, the children of Levi shall be kept for the service of the tabernacle of the testimony. 40 So the children of Israel did according to the Word of the Lord, as it is written, they numbered one by one, thirty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 41 whether of the sons of Israel, or of the son of bondservitude of them of the children of Israel, according to their kindred, according to their number, according to their polls; 42 every male, every one that goes forth with the host, 43 who was numbered, that he might receive the inheritance of his fathers; 44 that the congregation of the children of Israel, might have an inheritance among them.
according to the houses of their kindreds, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, male and female from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 35 the numbering of them of the tribe of Benjamin, was thirty-two thousand and four hundred. 36 For the sons of Gad according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 37 the numbering of them of the tribe of Gad, was forty and five thousand and six hundred and fifty. 38 For the sons of Dan according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 39 the numbering of them of the tribe of Dan, was sixty and two thousand and seven hundred. 40 For the sons of Aser according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, 41 the numbering of them of the tribe of Aser, was forty and one thousand and five hundred. 42 For the sons of Nephthali according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, every one who goes forth with the host, 43 the numbering of them of the tribe of Nephthali, was fifty-three thousand and four hundred. 44 This is the numbering which Moses and Aaron and the rulers of Israel, being twelve men, conducted: there was a man for each tribe, they were according to the tribe of the houses of their family. 45 All the children of Israel with their host from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes out to himself in battle array in Israel, came to 46 six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty. 47 But the Levites of the tribe of their family were not counted among the children of Israel. 48 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 49 See, thou shalt not muster the tribe of Levi, and thou shalt not take their numbers, in the midst of the children of Israel. 50 And do thou set the Levites over the tabernacle of witness, and over all its furniture, and over all things that are in it; and they shall do service in it, and they shall encamp round about the tabernacle. 51 And in the tabernacle the Levites shall take it down, and in pitching the tabernacle they shall set it up: and let the stranger that advances to touch it die. 52 And the children of Israel shall encamp, every man in his own order, and every man according to his company, with their host.
And the children of Israel did according to all that the Lord commanded Moses and Aaron, so did they.

And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron, saying, 2 Let the children of Israel encamp each other, every man keeping his own rank, according to their standards, according to the houses of their families; the children of Israel shall encamp round about the tabernacle of witness. 3 And they shall encamp first toward the east shall be the order of the camp of Judah with their host, and the prince of the sons of Judah, Naasson, the son of Aminadab. 4 His forces that were numbered, were seventy-four thousand and six hundred. 5 And they that encamp next shall be of the tribe of Issachar shall be Nathanael the son of Sogar. 6 His forces that were numbered, were fifty-four thousand and four hundred. 7 And they that encamp next shall be of the tribe of Zablon, and the prince of the sons of Zabulon shall be Eleazar, the son of Shemuel. 8 His forces that were numbered, were fifty-seven thousand and four hundred. 9 All that were numbered of the camp of Judah were a hundred and eighty thousand and eight hundred and four thousand and four hundred: they shall move first with their forces. 10 This is the order of the camp of Ruben; their forces shall be toward the east. 11 The princes of the children of Ruben shall be Elizur the son of Sediu. 12 His forces that were numbered, were forty-six thousand and five hundred. 13 And they that encamp next to him shall be of the tribe of Simeon, and the prince of the sons of Simeon shall be Shemuel the son of Nemuel. 14 His forces that were numbered, were fifty-nine thousand and three hundred. 15 And they that encamp next to them shall be the tribe of Gad; and the prince of the sons of Gad, Elieaph the son of Raguel. 16 His forces that were numbered, were forty-five thousand and six hundred. 17 All who were numbered of the camp of Ruben were a hundred and fifty-six thousand and four hundred and fifty: they with their forces shall proceed in the second place.

And then the tabernacle of witness shall be set forward, and the camp of the Levites shall be between the camps: as they shall encamp, so also shall they encamp about the tabernacle of witness; one prince each in order to his fellow according to their companies. 19 The station of the camp of Ephraim shall be by westward with their forces, and the head of the children of Ephraim shall be Elissam the son of Endud. 20 His forces that were numbered, were forty thousand and five hundred. 21 And they that encamp next shall be of the tribe of Manasse, and the prince of the sons of Manasse, Gamaliel the son of Phadassur. 22 His forces that were numbered, were thirty-two thousand and two hundred. 23 And they that encamp next shall be of the tribe of Benjamin, and the prince of the sons of Benjamin, Abidan the son of Gedeon. 2 His forces that were numbered, were thirty-five thousand and four hundred.

24 All that were numbered of the camp of Ephraim, were one hundred and eight thousand and one hundred: they with their forces set out third.

25 The order of the camp of Dan shall be northward with their forces; and the prince of the sons of Dan, Achizezer the son of Amsadai. 2 His forces that were numbered, were sixty-two thousand and seven hundred.

26 But the sons of Dan were not numbered, for they were not to set camp next to the priesthood, because the Lord commanded Moses. 24 And the children of Israel did all things that the Lord commanded Moses; thus they encamped in their order, and thus they began their march in succession each according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families.

And these are the generations of Aaron and Moses, in the day in which the Lord spoke to Moses in mount Sina.

And these are the names of the sons of Aaron; Nadab the first-born, and Abiad, Eleazar and Ithamar. 2 These are the names of the sons of Aaron, the anointed priests whom the Lord commanded to be secrated to him.

And Nadab and Abiad died before the Lord, when they offered strange fire before the Lord, in the wilderness of Sina; and they had no children; and Eleazar and Ithamar ministered in the priest's office with Aaron their father.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 1 Take the tribe of Levi, and thou shalt set them before Aaron the priest, and they shall minister to him, and shall keep his charges, and the charges of the children of Israel, before the tabernacle of witness, to do the works of the tabernacle. 5 And they shall keep all the furniture of the tabernacle of witness, and the charges of the children of Israel as to all the works of the tabernacle.

And thou shalt give the Levites to Aaron, and to his sons, the Levites, as a gift of the children of Israel. 12 And thou shalt appoint Aaron and his sons over the tabernacle of witness; and they shall keep their charge of priesthood, and all things belonging to the altar, and within the veil; and the stranger that touches them shall die. 13 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 12 Behold, I have taken the Levites from the midst of the children of Israel, instead of every male that openeth the womb from among the children of Israel: they shall be their ransom, and the Levites shall be mine. 13 For every first-born is mine; in the day in which I smote every first-born in the land of Egypt, I sanctified to myself every first-born in Israel: both of man and beast, they shall be mine: i am the Lord.

And the Lord spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sin, saying, 14 Take the number of the sons of Levi, according to the houses of their families, according to their divisions; number ye them every male from a month old and upwards. 15 And Moses and Aaron numbered them by the word of the Lord, as the Lord commanded them. 16 And these were the sons of Levi by their names; Gedor, Caath, and Merari. 17 And these are the names of the sons of Gedor according to their families; Lobeni and Semei. 18 And the sons of Caath according to their families; Amram and Issaar, Chebron, and Joel, were the heads of the families of Caath. 19 And these are the names of the families of Merari according to their families; Mooli and Musi; these are the families of the Levites according to the houses of their families. 20 To Gedor belongs the family of Lobeni, and the family of Semei; these are the families of Gedor. The numbering of them according to the number of every male from a month old and upwards, their numbering was seven thousand and five hundred. 21 And the sons of Gedor shall encamp westward behind the tabernacle. 22 And the ruler of the household of the family of Gedor was Elisaph the son of Dael. 23 And the charge of the sons of Gedor in the tabernacle of witness was the tent and the veil, and the covering of the door of the tabernacle of witness, and the curtains of the court, and the veil of the door of the court, which is by the tabernacle, and the remainder of all its works.

To Caath belonged one division, that of Amram, and another division, that of Issaar, and another division, that of Chebron, and another division, that of Oziel: these are the divisions of Caath, according to number. 25 Every male from a month old and upward, eight thousand and six hundred, keeping the charges of the holy things. The families of the sons of Caath shall encamp beside the tabernacle toward the south. 26 And the chief of the house of the families of the divisions of aath, was Elisaphan the son of Oziel. 27 And their charge was the ark, and the table, and the candlestick, and the altar, and all the vessels of the sanctuary, with the work of them, the screen and all the vessels of the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the tent of meeting, and all their works. 28 And the chief over the chief of the Levites, was Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, appointed to keep the charges of the holy things. 29 To Merari belonged the family of Mooli, and the family of Musi; these are the families of Merari.

The musing of them according to number, every male from a month old and upwards, was six thousand and fifty. 31 And the head of the house of the families of the division of Merari, was Suriel the son of Abichai: they shall encamp by the side of the tabernacle northward. 36 The oversight of the charge of the sons of Merari included the charge of all the tent curtains, and its pillars, and its sockets, and all their furniture, and their works, 37 and the pillars of the court round about, and their bases, and their pins, and their cords.

38 They that encamp before the tabernacle of witness on the east shall be Moses and Aaron and his sons, keeping the charges of the sanctuary according to the charges of the children of Israel; and the stranger that touches them, shall die. 39 All the numbering of the Levites, whom Moses and Aaron numbered by the word of the Lord, according to their families, every male from a month old and upwards, were two and twenty thousand.

40 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Count every first-born male of the children of Israel from a month old and upwards, and take the number by name. 41 And thou shalt take the Levites for me—I am the Lord—instead of all the first-born of the sons of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites instead of all the first-born among the cattle of the children of Israel. 42 And Moses counted, as the Lord commanded him, every first-born among the children of Israel. 43 And all the male first-born in number by name, from a month old and upwards, were according to their numbering twenty-two thousand and two hundred and seventy-three.

44 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 45 Take the Levites instead of all the first-born of the sons of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites instead of all the first-born among the cattle of the children of Israel. 46 And for the ransoms of the two hundred and seventy-three which exceed the Levites in number of the first-born of the sons of Israel; 47 thou shalt even take five shekels a head; thou shalt take them according to the holy obol to the shekel. 48 And thou shalt give the money to Aaron and to his sons, the ransom of those who exceed in number among them. 49 And Moses took the silver, the ransom of those that exceeded in number 50 the redemption of the Levites. 50 He took the silver from the first-born of the sons of Israel, a thousand three hundred and sixty-five shekels, according to the holy shekel. 51 And Moses gave the ransom of them that were over to Aaron and his sons, by the word of the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, 52 Take the sum of the children of Caush from the midst of the sons of Levi, after their families, according to the houses of their fathers' households; 53 from twenty-five years old and upward until fifty years, every one that goes in to minister, to do all the works in the tabernacle of witness.

And these are the works of the sons of Caush in the tabernacle of witness; it is most holy. 54 And Aaron and his sons shall go in, when the camp is about to move and they shall take down the shadowing veil, and shall cover it with the ark of the testimony. 4 And they shall put on it a cover, even a blue skin, and put on it above a garment all of blue, and shall put the staves through the rings.

7 And they shall put on the table set forth for shew-bread a cloth all of purple, and the dishes, and the censers, and the cups, and the vessels with which one offers drink-offerings, and the continual loaves shall be upon it. 8 And they shall put upon it a scarlet cloth, and they shall cover it with a blue covering of skin, and they shall put the staves into it. 9 And they shall take a blue covering, and cover the candlestick that saveth light, and its lamps, and its snuff, and its tongs, and its vessels, and oil with which they minister. 10 And they shall put it, and all its vessels, into a blue skin cover; and they shall put it on bearess. 11 And they shall put a blue cloth for a cover on the golden altar, and shall cover it with a blue skin cover, and put in its staves.

13 And he shall put the covering on the altar, and they shall cover it with a cloth all of purple. 14 And they shall put upon it all the vessels with which they minister upon it, and the fire-pans, and the flesh-hooks, and the cups, and the cover, and all the vessels of the altar; and they shall put on it a blue cover of skins, and shall put in its staves; and they shall take a purple cloth, and cover the laver and its foot, and they shall put it into a blue cover of skin, and put it on bars. 15 And Aaron and his sons shall finish covering the holy things, and all the holy vessels, when the camp begins to move; and afterwards the sons of Caath shall go in to take up the furniture: but shall not touch the holy things, lest they die: these shall the sons of Caath bear in the tabernacle of witness.

16 Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, is overseer—the oil of the light, and the incense of composition, and the daily meat-offering and the anointing oil, are his charge; even the oversight of the whole tabernacle, and all things that are in it in the holy place, in all the works.

17 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, 18 Ye shall not destroy the family of Caath out of the tabernacle of witness: This do ye to them, and they shall live and not die, when they approach the holy of holies: Let Aaron and his sons advance, and they shall place them each in his post for bearing. 19 And so they shall by no means go in to look suddenly upon the holy things, and die.

20 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 21 Take the sum of the children of Gedson, and these according to the houses of their lineage, according to their families.

22 Take the number of them from fire and twenty years old and upwards until the age of fifty, every one that goes in to minister, to do his business in the tabernacle of witness. This is the public service of the family of Gedson, to minister and to bear. And they shall bear the skins of the tabernacle, and the tabernacle of witness, and its veil, and the blue cover that was on it above, and the cover of the door of the tabernacle of witness. And all the curtains of the court which were upon the tabernacle of witness, and the curtains and all the vessels that they minister with, they shall attend to. According to the direction of Aaron and his sons shall be the ministry of the sons of Gedson, in all their ministries, and in all their works; and thou shalt take account of them by name in all things borne by them. This is the service of the sons of Gedson in the tabernacle of witness, and their charge by the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

39 The sons of Merari according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, take ye the number of them. Take the number of them from five and twenty years old and upwards until fifty years old, every one that goes in to perform the services of the tabernacle of witness. And these are the charges of the things borne by them according to all their works in the tabernacle of witness: they shall bear the chapters of the tabernacle, and the bars, and its pillars, and its sockets, and the veil, and there shall be their sockets, and their pillars, and the curtain of the door of the tabernacle. And the pillars of the court round about, and there shall be their sockets, and they shall bear the pillars of the veil of the door of the court, and their sockets and their pins, and their cords, and all their furniture, and all their instruments of service: take ye their number by name, and all the articles of the charge of the things borne by them. This is the ministry of the family of the sons of Merari in all their works in the tabernacle of witness, by the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

40 And Moses and Aaron and the rulers of Israel took the number of the sons of Caath according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, from five and twenty years old and upwards until the age of fifty years, every one that goes in to minister and do service in the tabernacle of witness. And the numbering of them according to their families was two thousand, seventeen hundred and fifty. This is the numbering of the family of Caath, every one that ministers in the tabernacle of witness, according to the word of the Lord, by the hand of Moses.

41 And the sons of Gedson were numbered according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, from five and twenty years old and upward till fifty years old, every one that goes in to minister and to do the services in the tabernacle of witness, according to the number of them according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, was two thousand six hundred and thirty. This is the numbering of the family of the sons of Caath according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage.

42 And also the family of the sons of Merari were numbered according to the divisions, according to the number of their fathers, from five and twenty years old and upward till fifty years old, every one that goes in to minister in the services of the tabernacle of witness. 43 And the number of them according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage was three thousand and two hundred. 44 This is the numbering of the family of the sons of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron numbered by the β word of the Lord, by the hand of Moses. 45 All that were numbered, whom Moses and Aaron and the rulers of Israel numbered, namely, the Levites, according to the house of their lineage, 46 from five and twenty years old and upward till fifty years old, every one that goes in to the γ service of the works, and the charge of the things that are carried in the tabernacle of witness. 47 And they that were numbered were eight thousand one hundred and eighty, 48 He reviewed them by the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses, appointing each man severally over their respective work, and over their burdens; and they were numbered, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 49 Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Every man or woman who shall commit any sin that is common to man, or if that soul shall sin against his own family, and have transgressed the commandment and transgressed; that person shall confess the sin which he has committed, and shall make satisfaction for his trespass: he shall pay the principal, and shall add to it the fifth part, and shall make restitution to him against whom he has trespassed. 50 But if a man have no near kinsman, so as to make satisfaction for his trespass to him, the trespass-offering paid to the Lord shall be for the priest, beside the ram of atonement, by which he shall make atonement with it for him.

And every first-fruits in all the sanctified things among the children of Israel, whatsoever they shall offer to the Lord, shall be for the priest himself. 52 And the hallowed things of every man shall be his; and whatever man shall give any thing to the priest, the gift shall be his.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 53 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whosoever wife shall 13 And the priest shall bring her and cause her to stand before the Lord. And the priest shall take pure running water in an earthen vessel, and he shall take of the dust that is on the floor of the tabernacle of witness, and the priest having taken it shall cast it into the water. And the priest shall cause the woman to stand before the Lord, and shall uncover her hands and her head and her face; and there shall stand two women, spotters, appointed for the priest, and they shall be virgins. And the priest shall cause her to stand and to swear a solemn oath that she hath done none of these things. And the priest shall say to her, Nay, my daughter; if these things be not so, then is the curse upon thee; and he shall cause her to swear a solemn oath. And the priest shall say to her, Swear that thou hast not put on heart to eat of the fruit of the tree, which thou knewest was good for food, and pleasant to the eyes, and desirable to make one wise. And the woman shall say, Nay, my lord, as the Lord liveth, and as my lord the priest liveth, there dwelleth not a man, neither is there any woman, which hath done these things. And the priest shall say to the woman, Nay, my daughter; if these things be not so, then is the curse upon thee. And the priest shall cause the woman to stand, and to command the spotters that they should spurn her. And the spotters shall spurn her, and say, Nay, my sister, if the curse of the Lord be upon thee, or if thine iniquity be upon thee; be thou defiled; and let us not take thee to witness. And she shall say, Nay, my lord, let not my lord the priest accuse his servant, for that I am not defiled, neither have I gone down to do any evil thing in Israel. And she shall say, Nay, my lord, let not my lord the priest set this cruel and bitter thing to me, seeing the Lord hath made me iniquity, and hath added unto me severity, that I should have no place of habitation in this city. And the priest shall say to her, Behold, I set thee before the Lord, and before witnesses; and the priest that is set before the Lord shall set his hand upon thee. And the priest shall say to the woman, Swear a solemn oath by the Lord, that thou hast not eaten of the fruit of the tree, whereof the Lord God commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it. And the woman shall say, Nay, my lord, the Lord liveth, and as my lord the priest liveth, there dwelleth not a man, neither is there any woman, which hath eaten of it; but, behold, it was not found in her mouth; she hath not eaten of it. And he shall say to her, Nay, my daughter, if thou hast not eaten thereof, let this be a sin unto thee; and may the Lord set thee a curse, and may the Lord set thee a curse upon thy house, and may the Lord set the curse of jealousy upon all that thou art called after. And he shall say to her, Swear a solemn oath by the Lord, that thou hast not eaten thereof, neither hath any man been with thee, neither hast thou been defiled; and as surely as the Lord liveth, the God of Israel, there dwelleth not a man upon earth that hath heard thy voice, and is not defiled by thee. And she shall say, Nay, my lord, let not my lord the priest accuse his servant, for that I am not defiled; neither have I gone down to any man; but, behold, thou knowest all that I have done, because of the manner of this thing. And he shall say to her, Nay, my daughter, if thou hast not eaten thereof, let this be a sin unto thee; and may the Lord set thee a curse, and may the Lord set thee a curse upon thy house, and may the Lord set the curse of jealousy upon all that thou art called after. And he shall say to her, Swear a solemn oath by the Lord, that thou hast not eaten thereof, neither hast any man been with thee, neither hast thou been defiled; and as surely as the Lord liveth, the God of Israel, there dwelleth not a man upon earth that hath heard thy voice, and is not defiled by thee. And she shall say, Nay, my lord, let not my lord the priest accuse his servant, for that I am not defiled; neither have I gone down to any man; but, behold, thou knowest all that I have done, because of the manner of this thing.

in the midst of her people. 29 But if the woman have not been polluted, and be clean, then shall she be guilty and shall 30 conceive seed. 31 This is the law of jealousy, wherein a man shall therefore take his wife, and be defiled; 32 or in the case of a man on whomsoever the spirit of jealousy should come, and he should be jealous of his wife, and he should place his wife before the Lord, and the priest shall execute towards her all this law. 33 Then the man shall be clear from sin, and that woman shall bear her sin.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 1 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whatsoever man or woman shall specially vow a vow to separate oneself with purity to the Lord, 2 he shall purely abstain from wine and strong drink; and he shall drink no vinegar of wine or vinegar of strong drink; and whatever is made of the grape he shall not drink; neither shall he eat fresh grapes or raisins, 4 all the days of his vow: he shall eat no one of all the things that come from the vine, wine from the grape-stones to the Yhus, 5 all the days of his vow shall not come upon his head, until the days be fulfilled which he vowed to the Lord: he shall be holy, cherishing the long hair of the head, 6 all the days of his vow to the Lord: he shall not come nigh to any dead body, to his father or his mother, or to his brother or his sister; he shall not defile himself for them, when they have died, because the vow of God is upon him on his head.

All the days of his vow he shall be holy to the Lord. 9 And if any one should die suddenly by him, immediately the head of his vow shall be defiled; and he shall shave his head in whatever day he shall be purified: on the seventh day he shall be purified. 10 And on the eighth day he shall bring two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, to the priest, to the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 11 And the priest shall offer one for a sin-offering; and the other for a whole-burnt-offering: and the priest shall make atonement for him to the Lord for the things wherein he sinned respecting the dead body, and he shall sanctify his head in that day, 12 in which he was consecrated to the Lord, all the days of his vow: and he shall bring a lamb of a year old for a trespass-offering, and the former days shall not be reckoned, because the vow is polluted. 13 And this is the law of him that has vowed: in whatever day he shall have fulfilled the days of his vow, he shall himself bring his gift to the doors of the tabernacle of witness. 14 And he shall bring his gift to the Lord; one he-lamb of a year old without blemish for a sin-offering, and one ewe-lamb of a year old without blemish for a peace-offering: 15 and a basket of unleavened bread of fine flour, even loaves kneaded with oil, and unleavened cakes spiced with oil, and their meat-offering, and the priest shall bring them before the Lord, and shall offer his sin-offering, and his whole-burnt-offering. 17 And he shall offer the ram as a sacrifice of peace-offering to the Lord with the basket of unleavened bread; and the priest shall offer its meat-offering and its drink-offering. 18 And he that has vowed shall shave the head of his consecration by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and shall put the hairs on the fire which is under the sacrifice of peace-offering.

And the priest shall take the solid shoulder of the ram, and one unleavened loaf from the basket, and one unleavened cake, and shall put them on the hands of the votary after he has shaved off his holy hair. 20 And the priest shall present them as an offering before the Lord; it shall be the holy portion for the priest beside the breast of the wave-offering, and beside the shoulder of the wave-offering; and afterwards the votary shall drink wine. 21 This is the law of the votary who shall have vowed to the Lord his gift to the Lord, concerning his vow, besides what he may be able to afford according to the value of his vow, which he may have vowed according to the law of sacrifice.

22 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 23 Speak to Aaron and to his sons, saying, Thus ye shall bless the children of Israel, saying to them, 24 The Lord bless thee and keep thee; 25 the Lord make his face to shine upon thee, and have mercy upon thee; 26 the Lord lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace. And they shall put this name upon the children of Israel, and I the Lord will bless them.

And it came to pass in the day in which Moses finished the setting-up of the tabernacle, that he anointed it, and consecrated it, and all its furniture, and the altar and all its furniture, he even anointed them, and consecrated them. 2 And the princes of Israel brought gifts, twelve princes of their fathers' houses: these were the heads of tribes, twelve princes. 3 And they brought their gift before the Lord, six covered wagons, and twelve oxen; a wagon from two princes, and a calf from each; and they brought them before the tabernacle. 4 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 5 Take of them, and they shall be for the works of the services of the tabernacle of witness: and thou shalt give them to the sons of Aaron the priests according to his ministration. 6 And Moses took the wagons and the oxen, and gave them to the Levites. 7 And he gave two wagons and four oxen to the sons of Gedson, according to their ministrations. 8 And four wagons and eight oxen he gave to the sons of Merari according to their ministrations, by them to the tabernacle of the priests.

But to the sons of Caath he gave them not, because they have the ministrations of the sacred things: they shall bear them on their shoulders.

10 And the rulers brought gifts for the dedication of the altar, in the day in which he anointed it, and the rulers brought their gifts before the altar. 11 And the Lord said to Moses, One chief each day, they shall offer their gifts a chief each day for the dedication of the altar.

12 And he that offered his gift on the first day, was Naasson the son of Aminadab, prince of the tribe of Juda. 13 And he brought his gift, one silver charger of a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. 14 One golden censer of ten shekels full of incense.

16 And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Naasson the son of Aminadab.

17 On the second day Nathanael son of Sogar, the prince of the tribe of Issachar, brought his offering. 18 And he brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. 19 One censer of ten golden shekels, full of incense. 20 One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering.

21 And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Nathanael the son of Sogar.

22 On the third day the prince of the sons of Zabulon, Eliab the son of Chamuel. 23 He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. 24 One golden censer of ten shekels full of incense.

26 And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Eliab the son of Chamuel.

27 On the fourth day Elisir the son of Seiul, the prince of the children of Ruben. 28 He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. 29 One golden censer of ten shekels full of incense.

30 One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering.

32 On the fifth day the prince of the children of Symeon, Salamiel the son of Surissadai. 33 He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight one hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. \(2\) One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense. \(3\) One call of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering. \(4\) One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense. \(5\) And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Elisaph the son of Raguel. \(6\) On the seventh day the prince of the sons of Oad, Elisaph the son of Raguel. \(7\) He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. \(8\) One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense. \(9\) One call of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. \(10\) And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Elisaph the son of Raguel. \(11\) On the seventh day the prince of the sons of Ephraim, Elisaph the son of Emiud. \(12\) He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. \(13\) One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense. \(14\) One call of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. \(15\) And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Elisaph the son of Emiud. \(16\) On the eighth day the prince of the sons of Manasse, Gamaliel the son of Phadassur. \(17\) He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. \(18\) One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense. \(19\) One call of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. \(20\) And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Gamaliel the son of Phadassur. \(21\) On the ninth day the prince of the sons of Benjamin, Abidan the son of Gedeon. \(22\) He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. \(23\) One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense. \(24\) One call of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. \(25\) And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Abidan the son of Gedeon. \(26\) On the tenth day the prince of the sons of Dan, Achizere the son of Amisadai. \(27\) He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering. One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense. One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old. This was the gift of Achier the son of Amias.

On the eleventh day the prince of the sons of Aser, Phugael the son of Echran. He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour mingled with oil. One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense. One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Phugael the son of Echran.

On the twelfth day the prince of the sons of Nepthali, Achir the son of Eman. He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels; one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour mingled with oil. One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense. One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering. And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Achir the son of Eman.

This was the dedication of the altar in the day in which Moses anointed it, by the princes of the sons of Israel: twelve silver chargers, twelve silver bowls, twelve golden censers: each charger of a hundred and thirty shekels; each bowl of seventy shekels; each shkel according to the holy shekel; all the silver of the vessels was two thousand four hundred shekels, the censers according to the holy shekel. Twelve golden censers full of incense: all the gold of the shekels, a hundred and twenty shekels. All the 7 rattle for whole-burnt-offerings, twelve bills, twelve he-lamb of a year old, and their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings: and twelve kids of the goats for sin-offering. All the bill for the sacrifice of peace-offering, twenty-four heifers, sixty rams, sixty he-goats of a year old, sixty ewe-lambs of a year old without blemish: this was the dedication of the altar, after it was consecrated Aaron, and after he anointed him.

When Moses went into the tabernacle of witness to speak to God, then he heard the voice of the Lord speaking to him from off the mercy-seat, which is upon the ark of the testimony, between the two cherubims; and he spoke to him.
And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to Aaron, and thou shalt say to him, Whenever thou shalt set the lamps in order, the seven lamps shall give light opposite the candlestick. And Aaron did so: on one
5 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 6 Take the Levites out of the midst of the children of Israel, and thou shalt purify them. 7 And thus shalt thou perform their purification: thou shalt sprinkle them with water of purification, and a razor shall come upon the whole of their body, and they shall wash their garments, and shall be clean.

8 And they shall take one calf of the herd, and its meat-offering, fine flour mingled with oil: and thou shalt take a calf of a year old of the herd for a sin-offering.

9 And thou shalt bring the Levites before the tabernacle of witness: and thou shalt assemble all the congregation of the sons of Israel. 10 And thou shalt bring the Levites before the Lord; and the Levites shall stand before the Lord, and the Levites shall be before the Lord; and the Levites shall be before the Lord, and the Levites shall be before the Lord. 11 And Aaron shall separate the Levites for a gift before the Lord from the children of Israel: and they shall be prepared to perform the works of the Lord.

12 And the Levites shall lay their hands on the heads of the calves; and thou shalt offer one for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord, to make atonement for them.

13 And thou shalt set the Levites before the Lord, and before Aaron, and before his sons; and thou shalt give them as a gift before the Lord. 14 And thou shalt separate the Levites from the midst of the sons of Israel, and they shall be mine. 15 And afterwards the Levites shall go in to perform the works of the tabernacle of witness: and thou shalt purify them, and present them before the Lord. 16 For these are given to me for a present out of the midst of the children of Israel: I have taken them to myself instead of all the first-born of the sons of Israel that open every womb. 17 For every first-born among the children of Israel is mine, whether of man or beast: in the day in which I smote every first-born in the land of Egypt, I sanctified unto myself all the first-born of the children of Israel. 18 And I took the Levites in the place of every first-born among the children of Israel.

19 And I gave the Levites presented as a gift to Aaron and his sons out of the midst of the children of Israel, to do the service of the children of Israel in the tabernacle of witness, and to make atonement for the children of Israel: thus there shall be none among the sons of Israel to draw nigh to the holy things.

20 And Moses and Aaron, and all the congregation of the children of Israel, did to the Levites as the Lord commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so the sons of Israel did to them. 21 So the Levites purified themselves and washed their garments; and Aaron presented them as a gift before the Lord, and Aaron made atonement for them to purify them. 22 And afterwards the Levites went in to minister in their service in the tabernacle of witness before Aaron, and before his sons: as the Lord appointed opposite the candlestick he lighted its lamps, as the Lord appointed Moses. 23 And this is the construction of the candlestick: it is solid, golden—itself, and its lilies—all solid; according to the pattern which the Lord shewed Moses, so he made the candlestick.
Moses concerning the Levites, so they did to them. 22 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 23 This is the ordinance for the Levites: from twenty-five years old and upward they shall go in to minister in the tabernacle of the testimony; and from fifty years old and upward they shall not minister any more. 24 And his brother shall be in charge of the tabernacle of the testimony, so shall he minister, but he shall not enter into the sanctuary, lest he die. For the tabernacle of the testimony shall be a sanctuary. 25 And thus shall they minister in the tabernacle of the testimony by their charges. And this shall be a statute for ever: 26 When there is an offering made by fire, an burnt offering, a holocaust offering, or a sin offering, or a guilt offering; 27 Any one of the children of Israel, or of any stranger, which shall give an offering in the Lord shall keep the Lord’s charge. 28 They shall eat the most holy things, in the place, or out of the presence of the Lord; 29 But they shall not go in to the sanctuary, lest they die, seeing that the most holy things are holy, even the charge of the Lord. 30 This is the law of the Levites, an inheritance for them from among the children of Israel; 31 And the Levites shall be an inheritance for the children of Israel, and you shall take the Levites from among the children of Israel as an inheritance for Aaron and his sons, the Levites, who shall minister to Me in the tabernacle of the testimony. 32 And you shall speak to the children of Israel, saying, Take the Levites from among the children of Israel, 33 And you shall give to the Levites as an inheritance from the children of Israel, from the settlements of the children of Israel, each and every man, the tithes of the children of Israel. 34 And you shall give the Levites, for the sake of their ransom, the tithes of the children of Israel, which is reckoned to the children of Israel, that you may give them for the Levites. 35 And you shall take the Levites from the children of Israel, and you shalt give them in place of the tithes of the children of Israel, for the Levites are mine that they may minister to me, and I am their ransom. 36 And the Levites shall be an inheritance for you, as I gave you the children of Israel and the land of your possession; 37 And you shall keep the charge of the Levites in the tabernacle of the testimony, and shall give them a share of the children of Israel, and you shall give them as an inheritance, for the sake of their ransom. 38 Now this is what shall be the share of the Levites from among the children of Israel. 39 Out of the house of the brother of the firstborn a firstborn shall be taken from every family, and out of the house of the second-born shall be taken the first of every family, and out of the house of the third-born the first of every family, and out of the house of the fourth-born shall be taken the first of every family; 40 According to the children of Israel shall their share be taken in the first month of the year. 41 And the first-born among all the animals of the congregation shall be the Lord’s. 42 And any one of the first-born among the children of Israel, or any one of the first-born among the animals shall not be redeemed, but they shall be an offering of the Lord. 43 And they shall not be bought or sold, for the Lord’s is their ransom. 44 And they shall be a holy thing to the Lord, as well as the Levites, who minister to Me in the tabernacle of the testimony, speaking to the children of Israel. 45 Now this is what shall be their Ordinance: From twenty-five years old and upward they shall minister, and from fifty years old and upward they shall not minister any more. 46 And this shall be their due: from the children of Israel they shall take a tenth part of the hundred, fifty shekels of fine flour, and ten horns of fine wheat, and ten Horns of mixed oil of a homer, 47 And ten dozenns of wine, of the wine of the first vintage; 48 To be a perpetual offering, a gift accepted of the Lord, to be burnt in the fire; a perpetual offering in the Lord’s presence. 49 Moreover they shall have no inheritance among the children of Israel. For I am their inheritance, as I gave to Aaron, and to his sons, the sacrifice of the Lord, burnt in the fire. 50 This shall be their share, the most holy things of the Lord, 51 And the children of Israel, who on the day of the offering of the burnt offering, of the sin offering, and of the guilt offering, offer the food of the offerings of their God, they shall have no inheritance among the children of Israel, for I am their inheritance, as I gave to Aaron. 52 And the children of Israel shall give the Levites for their inheritance in the midst of the children of Israel, in the cities and the places of habitation of the children of Israel. 53 And the Levites shall take no possession among the children of Israel, but they shall have no inheritance among them. 54 But they shall have the tithes of the children of Israel, and the offerings of their worship in the tabernacle of the testimony, from the children of Israel; and they shall have the first-fruits of holy things, and of all that the children of Israel offer by gift. 55 It is theirs, and they shall have no other possession among the children of Israel. 56 And the Levites shall be relieved by the children of Israel; 57 And the Levites shall minister, to the charge of the Lord, in the tabernacle of the testimony, and they shall have no other inheritance among the children of Israel, for I am their inheritance, as I gave them, saying, I am the Lord your God. 58 And the children of Israel did as it was ordained, according to the word of the Lord which he spoke by Moses.
18 These are the days appointed for the service of the sons of Levi, in which the sons of Levi were relieved from the service of the tabernacle of the congregation. 19 They have the same service when the tabernacle of the congregation goes up. And when the tabernacle of the congregation goes up they rest; and when the tabernacle of the congregation is stationed they are stationed. 20 When the cloud rests over the tabernacle, the sons of Levi have the same service as when it moves. 21 And when the cloud moves the sons of Levi set out; and when the cloud rests the sons of Levi settle down. In the same manner shall they camp and in the same manner shall they set out. 22 In the camp there is the cloud by day and fire by night. 23 And in the morning the sons of Israel went forward, and in the evening they set out. 24 And these are the days appointed for the service of the sons of Levi, and the sons of Levi are relieved from the service of the tabernacle. 25 And if any man comes out of the camp, he must be put to death; and the body shall be stoned; because he went out of the tabernacle and he is guilty of rebellion against the Lord. 26 And if the cloud does not go from the tent of meeting, then they shall not depart from the camp. 27 And the sons of Israel did as the Lord commanded; they camped by day and they moved on by night. 28 And when the cloud went up from the tent of meeting, then the sons of Israel went forward. 29 And when the cloud rested, there the children of Israel encamped. 30 And the cloud rested over the tabernacle, the children of Israel encamped. 31 And when the cloud moved, the children of Israel went forward. 32 And when the cloud remained, the children of Israel encamped. 33 And when the cloud moved, the children of Israel went forward. 34 And the children of Israel encamped by day and they moved on by night. 35 And whenever the cloud rested over the tabernacle, the children of Israel rested, and kept the charge of God, and they did not remove. 36 And it shall be, whenever the cloud moves over the tabernacle, the children of Israel shall encamp. And whenever the cloud remains, the children of Israel shall encamp, and keep the charge of God, and they shall not move. 37 And it shall be, whenever the cloud moves over the tabernacle, a number of days, they shall encamp by the word of the Lord, and shall remove by the command of the Lord. 38 And it shall come to pass, whenever the cloud moves over the tabernacle, that the children of Israel shall encamp, and shall not depart. 39 For they shall depart by the command of the Lord; they shall keep the charge of the Lord, they shall keep the charge of the Lord. 40 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 41 Make two trumpets of silver; thou shalt make them of beaten work; and they shall be to thee for the purpose of calling the assembly, and of removing the camps. 42 And thou shalt sound an alarm, and the camps pitched toward the east shall begin to move. 43 And ye shall sound an alarm, and the camps pitched toward the west shall begin to move. 44 And ye shall sound a second alarm, and the camps pitched toward the south shall begin to move. 45 And ye shall sound a fourth alarm, and they shall encamp toward the north shall move forward; and ye shall sound an alarm at their departure. 46 And whenever ye shall gather the assembly, ye shall sound, but not an alarm. 47 And the priests the sons of Aaron shall sound with the trumpets; and it shall be a perpetual ordinance for you throughout your generations. 48 And if ye shall go forth to war in your land against your enemies that are opposed to you, then ye shall sound with the trumpets; and ye shall be had in remembrance before the Lord, and ye shall be saved from your enemies. 49 And in the days of your gladness, and in your feasts, and in your new moons, ye shall sound with the trumpets at your whole-burnt-offerings, and at the sacrifices of your peace-offerings; and there shall be joy to you before your God: I am the Lord your God.

was kindled among them from the Lord.
3 And the mixed multitude among them
4 lusted exceedingly; and they and the chil-
5 dren of Israel sat down and wept and said,
6 Who shall give us flesh to eat?
7 We remember the fish which we ate in 8 Egypt freely; and the cucumbers, and the 9 melons, and the leeks, and the garlic, and the 10 onions.
11 But now our soul is dried up; our eyes 12 turn to nothing but to the manna. And 13 the manna is as coriander seed, and the 14 appearance of it the appearance of hoar-15 frost. And the people went through the 16 field, and, and, and, and, and, and, and, and,
17 or pounded it in a mortar, and baked it in 18 pan, and made cakes of it; and the sweetness
19 of it was as the taste of wafer made with oil.
20 And when the dew came upon the camp
21 by night, the manna came down upon it.
22 And Moses heard them weeping by their 23 families, every one in his door: and the Lord 24 was angry. And the Lord said to Moses, 25 Why hast thou affliction thy servant, and 26 why have I not found grace in thy sight, that 27 thou shouldest lay the weight of this people
28 upon me?
29 Have I conceived all this people, or have I 30 born them? that thou sayest to me, Take 31 them into thy bosom, as a nurse would take 32 her sucking, into the land which thou
33 swearest to give to their fathers, wherefore 34 have I flesh to give to all this people? for 35 they weep to me, saying, Give us flesh, that 36 we may eat.
37 I shall not be able to bear this people
38 alone, for this thing is too heavy for me.
39 And if thou dost thus to me, slay me
40 utterly, if I have found favour with thee, that 41 I may not see my affliction.
42 And the Lord said to Moses, Gather
43 me seventy men from the elders of Israel, 44 whom thou knowest that they are the 45 elders of the people, and their scribes;
46 and thou shalt bring them to the tabernacle
47 of witness, and they shall stand there with 48 thee. And I will go down, and speak there 49 with thee; and I will take of the spirit that 50 is upon thee, and will put it upon them;
51 and they shall tell to the people all that 52 the burden of the people, and thou shalt not 53 bear them alone. And to the people thou 54 shalt say, Purify yourselves for the morrow,
55 and ye shall eat flesh; for ye wept before 56 the Lord, saying, Who shall give us flesh to 57 eat? for it was well with us in Egypt: and 58 the Lord shall allow you to eat flesh, and 59 ye shall eat flesh: ye shall not eat one day, 60 nor two, nor five years, nor twenty days;
61 ye shall eat for a full month, until the flesh
62 come out at your nostrils; and it shall be a 63 sickness to you, because ye disobeysed the 64 Lord, who is among you, and wept before him, 65 saying, What had we to do to come out of 66 Egypt?
67 And Moses said, The people among whom 68 I am are six hundred thousand free men, 69 and the men of a month old, not forty 70 years old; and the Lord said to Moses, 71 Shall all the fish of the sea be gathered 72 together for them, and shall it suffice them?
73 And the Lord said to Moses, Shall not the hand of the Lord be fully sufficient? now shalt thou know whether my word shall come to thee or not.

And Moses went out, and spoke the words of the Lord to the people; and he gathered seventy men of the elders of the people, and he set them round about the tabernacle. And the Lord came down in a cloud, and spoke to him, and stood in the spirit that was upon him, and put it upon the seventy men that were elders; and when the spirit rested upon them, they prophesied and ceased. And there were two men left in the camp, the name of the one was Eldad, and the name of the other Modad; and the spirit rested upon them, and there were of the number of them that were enrolled, but they did not come to the tabernacle; and they prophesied in the camp. And a young man ran and told Moses, and spoke, saying, Eldad and Modad prophesy in the camp. And Joshua the son of Nun, who attended on Moses, the chosen one, said, My lord Moses, forbide them. And Moses said to him, Art thou jealous on my account? and would that all the Lord's people were prophets; whenever the Lord shall put his spirit upon them. And Moses departed into the camp, himself and the elders of Israel.

And there went forth a wind from the Lord, and brought quails over the sea; and it brought them down upon the camp a day's journey on this side, and a day's journey on that side, round about the camp, as it were two cubits from the earth. And the people rose up all the day, and all the night, and all the next day, and gathered quails; he that gathered least, gathered ten measures; and they refreshed themselves round about the camp. The flesh was yet between their teeth, before it failed, when the Lord was wroth with the people, and the Lord smote the people with a very great plague. And the name of that place was called the Graves of Lust; for there they buried the people that lusted. The people departed from the Graves of Lust to Aseroth; and the people halted at Aseroth.

And Mariam and Aaron spoke against Moses, because of the Ethiopian woman whom Moses took; for he had taken an Ethiopian woman. And they said, Has the Lord spoken to Moses only? has he not spoken to us? and the Lord heard it. And the man Moses was very meek beyond all the men that were upon the earth. And the Lord said immediately to Moses and Aaron and Mariam. Come forth with all three of you to the tabernacle of witness. And the three came forth to the tabernacle of witness; and the Lord descended in a pillar of cloud, and stood at the door of the tabernacle of witness; and Aaron and Mariam were called; and both came forth.

And he said to them, Hear my words: If there should be of you a prophet to the Lord, I will be made known to him in a vision, and in sleep will I speak to him. My servant Moses is not so; he is faithful in all my house. 8 I will speak to him mouth to mouth apparently, and not in dark speeches; and he has seen the glory of the Lord; and why were ye not afraid to speak against my servant Moses? 9 And the great anger of the Lord was upon them, and he departed. 10And the cloud departed from the tabernacle; and, behold, Mariam stood up, and Aaron looked upon Mariam, and, behold, she was leporous. 11 And Aaron said to Moses, I beseech thee, my lord, do not lay sin upon us, for we were ignorant wherein we sinned.

Let her not be as it were like death, as an abortion coming out of his mother's womb, when the disease devours the half of the flesh. 12 And Moses cried to the Lord, saying, O God, I beseech thee, heal her. 13 And the Lord said to Moses, If her father had only spit in her face, would she not be ashamed seven days? let her be set apart seven days without the camp, and afterwards she shall come in.

And Mariam was separated without the camp seven days; and the people moved not forward till Mariam was cleansed.

And afterwards the people set forth from Aseroth, and encamped in the wilderness of Pharan. 2And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 3Send for thee men, and let them spy the land of the Chananites, which I give to the sons of Israel for a possession; one man for a tribe, thou shalt send them according to their families, every one of them a prince. 4And Moses sent them out of the wilderness of Pharan by the word of the Lord; all these were the princes of the sons of Israel. 5 And these are their names: of the tribe of Ruben, Samuel the son of Zachur.

6 Of the tribe of Simeon, Saphat the son of Souri. 7 Of the tribe of Levi, Ishma. 8 Of the tribe of Issachar, Tols. 9 Of the tribe of Efraim, Asaiah the son of Naum. 10 Of the tribe of Benjamin, Palti the son of Rafoth. 11 Of the tribe of Dan, Gedeon the son of Soubi. 12 Of the tribe of Aser, Bachur the son of Zachur. 13 Of the tribe of Asher, Hebron the son of Asaiah. 14 Of the tribe of Naphtali, Gaddi the son of Semah. 15 Of the tribe of Gad, Amlah the son of Nebo. 16 Of the tribe of Zebulun, Asaph the son of Naum. 17 Of the tribe of Joseph, Amram the son of Naum. 18 Of the tribe of Suth, Phalti the son of Phebosheth. 19 Of the tribe of Asher, Zebulun the son of Japheth. 20 Of the tribe of Zebulun, Aran the son of Sobhel. 21 Of the tribe of Joseph, Asaph the son of Saphit. 22 Of the tribe of Manasses, Gaddi the son of Samsi. 23 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Asaph the son of Phebosheth. 24 Of the tribe of Manasses, Gaddi the son of Samsi. 25 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Asaph the son of Phebosheth. 26 Of the tribe of Joseph, Asaph the son of Phebosheth. 27 Of the tribe of Manasses, Gaddi the son of Samsi. 28 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Asaph the son of Phebosheth. 29 Of the tribe of Manasses, Gaddi the son of Samsi. 30 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Asaph the son of Phebosheth. 31 Of the tribe of Manasses, Gaddi the son of Samsi. 32 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Asaph the son of Phebosheth. 33 Of the tribe of Manasses, Gaddi the son of Samsi. 34 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Asaph the son of Phebosheth. 35 Of the tribe of Manasses, Gaddi the son of Samsi. 36 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Asaph the son of Phebosheth.
And they went up and surveyed the land from the wilderness of Sin to Khorab, as men go in to Emath. And they went up by the wilderness, and departed as far as Chebron; and there was Achiman, and Sessa, and there the interposition of Enam. Now Chebron was built seven years before Tanin of Egypt. And they came to the valley of the cluster and surveyed it; and they cut down thence, a boough and one cluster of grapes upon it, and bore it on staves, and they took of the pomegranates and the figs. And they said to the children of Israel, what meaneth, the children of Israel cut down the land, after forty days. And they returned from thence, having surveyed the land, after forty days. And they proceeded and came to Moses and Aaron and all the congregation of the children of Israel, the children of Pharaoh's Cades and they brought word to them and to all the congregation, and they showed the fruit of the land; and they reported to him, and said, We came into the land into which thou sentest us, a land flowing with milk and honey; and this is the fruit of it. And the nation that dwelleth upon it is tall, and they have very great and strong walled towns, and we saw there the children of Enam. And Amalec dwells in the land toward the south: and the Chetite and the Evite, and the Jebusite, and the Amorite dwells in the hill country: and the Chamite dwells by the sea, and by the rivers of Egypt. And the Lord said, The people from speaking before Moses, and said to him, Nay, but we will go up by all means, and will inherit it, for we shall surely prevail against them. But the men that went up together with him said, We will not go up, for we shall not by any means be able to go up against the nation, for it is too strong for us. And they brought a horror to that land which they surveyed among the children of Israel, saying, The land which we passed by to survey it, is a land that cats up its inhabitants; and all the people whom we saw in it are men of extraordinary stature. And there we saw the giants; and we were before them as locusts, yea even as we were before them. And all the congregation lifted up their voice and cried; and the people went all that night. And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron; and all the congregation said to them, Would we had died in the land of Egypt! or in this wilderness, would we had died! and why does the Lord bring us into this land to fall into war? our wives and our children shall be for a prey: now then it is better to return into Egypt. And they said one to another Let us make a ruler, and return into Egypt. And Moses and Aaron fell upon their face before all the congregation of the children of Israel. But Joshua the son of Naue, and Chaleb the son of Eliphomne, of the number of them that spied out the land, rent their garments, and spoke to all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, The land which

The Lord brought in thine enemies in thine days, and said, I will deliver them into thine hand. But they rose up early in the morning, and went up into the appointed mountain, saying, We will go up to the place of which the Lord spake unto us; for we have seen it. And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, Whither art thou going up unto? and Moses and Aaron fell upon their face before the Lord. And the Lord said unto him, Get thee up into the mount, and thence I will speak unto thee. And the Lord shall give you a song, and a dance, and there shalt be a sacrifice, and victory. And thou shalt eat it in the land, and shalt keep the passover in the land. And the Lord said unto them, Why have ye not eaten the sinew of the calf which I gave you in the wilderness? and they did eat, and gave unto the children of Israel, which were among them, and the Lord sent a fiery flame among them, which burnt up the children of Israel.
8 In the morning Moses went and bruises the altar and all the congregation of Israel. 9 He put the staves of the congregation in the tent of meeting. 10 "According to the word of the Lord, you shall bring the Chocolate into the land of milk and honey. 11 And it shall come to pass, when you have brought it into the land and have blessed it, then you shall offer from it a tithe to the Lord, you shall offer it with your mitt and your hand. 12 For the Lord has blessed you in the land, for the Lord has blessed you with bread and milk, and for the season of prosperity is departed from you, but the Lord is among you: fear them not. 13 And all the congregation bade stone them with stones; and the glory of the Lord appeared in the cloud on the tabernacle of witness to all the children of Israel. 14 And the Lord said to Moses, How long does this people provoke me? and how long do they refuse to believe with all the signs which I have wrought among them? 15 And I will smite them with death, and destroy them; and I will make thee and of thy father's house a great nation, and much greater than this. 16 And Moses said to the Lord, So Egypt shall hear, for thou hast brought up this people by thy might. 17 Moreover all the dwellers upon this land have heard that thou art Lord, and are of the midst of this people, who, O Lord, art seen from heaven, and thy cloud rests upon them, and thou goest before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, and by night in a pillar of fire. 18 And if thou shalt destroy this nation as one man: then all the nations that have heard this shall speak, saying, Because the Lord could not bring this people into the land which he swears to them, he has overthrown them in the wilderness. 19 And now, the Lord, let thy strength be exalted, as thou spakest, saying, 20 The Lord is long-suffering and merciful, and true, removing transgressions and iniquities and sins, and he will by no means clear the guilty, visiting the sins of the fathers upon the children to the third and fourth generation. 21 Forgive this people their sin according to thy great mercy, as thou wast favourable to them from Egypt until now. 22 And the Lord said to Moses, I am gracious to them according to thy word. 23 But as I live, and my name is living, so the glory of the Lord shall fill all the earth. 24 For all the men who see my glory, and the signs which I wrought in Egypt, and in the wilderness, and have tempted me this tenth time, and have not hearkened to my voice, 25 surely they shall not see the land, which I swore to their fathers; but their children, which are with me here, as many as know not good or evil, every inexperienced youth to them I will give the land; but none who have provoked me shall see it. 26 But my servant Chaleb, because there was another spirit in him, and he followed me; I will bring him into the land into which he entered, and his seed shall inherit it. 27 But Amaele and the Shannite dwell in the valley; to-morrow turn and depart for the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea. 28 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, How long shall I endure this wicked congregation? for I have heard their murmuring against me, since they murmuring of the children of Israel, which they have surveyed is indeed extremely good. 3 If the Lord choose us, he will bring us into this land, and give it us; a land which flows with milk and honey. 3 Only depart not from the Lord; and fear ye not the people of the land, for they are meat for us; for the season of prosperity is departed from them, but the Lord is among us: fear them not. 3 And the Lord said to Moses, How long does this people provoke me? and how long do they refuse to believe with all the signs which I have wrought among them? 3 I will smite them with death, and destroy them; and I will make thee and of thy father's house a great nation, and much greater than this. 3 And Moses said to the Lord, So Egypt shall hear, for thou hast brought up this people by thy might. 3 Moreover all the dwellers upon this land have heard that thou art Lord, and are of the midst of this people, who, O Lord, art seen from heaven, and thy cloud rests upon them, and thou goest before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, and by night in a pillar of fire. 3 And if thou shalt destroy this nation as one man: then all the nations that have heard this shall speak, saying, Because the Lord could not bring this people into the land which he swears to them, he has overthrown them in the wilderness. 3 And now, the Lord, let thy strength be exalted, as thou spakest, saying, 3 The Lord is long-suffering and merciful, and true, removing transgressions and iniquities and sins, and he will by no means clear the guilty, visiting the sins of the fathers upon the children to the third and fourth generation. 3 Forgive this people their sin according to thy great mercy, as thou wast favourable to them from Egypt until now. 3 And the Lord said to Moses, I am gracious to them according to thy word. 3 But as I live, and my name is living, so the glory of the Lord shall fill all the earth. 3 For all the men who see my glory, and the signs which I wrought in Egypt, and in the wilderness, and have tempted me this tenth time, and have not hearkened to my voice, 3 surely they shall not see the land, which I swore to their fathers; but their children, which are with me here, as many as know not good or evil, every inexperienced youth to them I will give the land; but none who have provoked me shall see it. 3 But my servant Chaleb, because there was another spirit in him, and he followed me; I will bring him into the land into which he entered, and his seed shall inherit it. 3 But Amaele and the Shannite dwell in the valley; to-morrow turn and depart for the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea. 3 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, How long shall I endure this wicked congregation? were murmured concerning you. 29 Say to them, As I live, saith the Lord; surely as ye spoke into my ears, so will I do to you.
Your carcases shall fall in this wilderness, and ye shall make an explanation concerning the carcases of them that were reviewed, and those of you that were numbered from twenty years old and upward, all that murmured against me, ye shall not enter into the land for which I stretched out my hand to establish you upon it; except only Chaleb the son of Jephonne, and Joshua the son of Nun; 31 And your little ones, who ye should said be a prey, them will I bring into the land; and they shall inherit the land, of which ye rejected. 32 And your carcases shall fall in this wilderness forty years, and they shall bear your forefathers the sinners forty years, and ye shall know my fierce anger. 33 And the Lord have spoken. Surely will I do thus to this evil congregation which went against me in this wilderness; in this wilderness they shall be utterly consumed, and there they shall die.

And the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land, and who came and murmured against it to the assembly so as to bring out evil words concerning the land, 34 The men that spake against the land, died of the plague before the Lord. 35 And Joshua the son of Nun and Chaleb the son of Jephonne still lived of those men that went to spy out the land. 36 And Moses spoke these words to all the children of Israel; and the people mourned exceedingly. 37 And they rose early in the morning and went up on the top of the mountain, saying, Behold, we that are here will go up to the place of which the Lord has spoken, because we have sinned. 38 And Moses said, Why do ye transgress the word of the Lord? ye shall not prosper. 39 Go not up, for the Lord is not with you; so shall ye fail before the enemy. 40 For Amaleck, and the Canaanite are there before you, and ye shall fall by the sword; because ye have disobeyed the Lord and turned aside, and the Lord will not be among you. 41 And having forced their passage, they went up to the top of the mountain; but the ark of the covenant of the Lord and Moses stood not out of the camp. 42 And Amaleck and the Canaanite that dwelt in that mountain came down, and routed them, and destroyed them unto Herman; and they returned to the camp.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 43 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say unto them, When ye come into the land of your habitation, which I give to you, and thou wilt offer whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord, a whole-burnt-offering or a meat-offering to 5 perform a vow, or a free-will-offering, or to offer in your feasts a sacrifice of sweet savour to the Lord, whether of the flock or of the herd that offers his gift to the Lord shall bring a meat-offering of fine flour, a tenth part of an

And it shall be forgiven as respects all the congregation of the children of Israel, and the stranger that is abiding among you, because it is involuntary to all the people.

And if one soul sin unwillingly, he shall bring one she-goat of a year old for a sin-offering. And the priest shall make atonement for the soul that consulted the trespas willingly, and that sinned unwillingly before the Lord, to make atonement for him. There shall be one law for the native among the children of Israel, and for the stranger that abides among them, whosoever shall commit a trespass unwillingly.

And whatever soul either of the natives or of the strangers shall do any thing with a presumptuous hand, he will provoke God; that soul shall be utterly destroyed, his sin is upon him.

And the children of Israel were in the wilderness, and found a man gathering sticks on the sabbath-day. And they who found him gathering sticks on the sabbath-day brought him to Moses and Aaron, and to all the congregation of the children of Israel. And they placed him in custody, for they did not determine what they should do to him. And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, Let the man be by all means put to death: do ye all the congregation, stone him with stones. And all the congregation brought him forth out of the camp; and all the congregation stoned him with stones outside the camp, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt tell them; and let them make for themselves fringes upon the borders of their garments throughout their generations: and ye shall put upon the fringes of the borders a lace of blue. And it shall be on thy fringes, and ye shall look on them, and ye shall remember all the commands of the Lord; and ye shall not turn back after your imaginations, and after the sight of your eyes in the things after which ye go whoring; that ye may remember and perform all my commands, and ye shall be holy unto your God. I am the Lord your God that brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: I am the Lord your God.

And Core the son of Issar the son of Caath the son of Levi, and Nathan and Abirom, sons of Eliab, and Aun the son of Phaleth the son of Ruben, spoke; and rose up before Moses, and two hundred and fifty men of the sons of Israel, chief of the assembly, chosen councillors, and men of renown. They rose up against Moses and Aaron, and said, Let it be enough for you that all the congregation are holy, and the Lord is among them; and why do ye set up yourselves against the congregation of the Lord? And when Moses heard it, he fell on his face, and spake to Core and all his assembly, saying, God has visited and known those that are his and who are holy, and has brought them to himself; and whom he has chosen for himself, he has brought to himself. 4 This do ye: take to yourselves censers, Core, and all his company, and put fire on them, and put incense on them before the Lord to-morrow; and it shall come to pass that the man whom the Lord has chosen, he shall be holy; let it be enough for you, ye sons of Levi. 且 Moses said to Core, Hearken to me, ye sons of Levi. 5 Is it a little thing for you, that the God of Israel has separated you from the congregation of Israel, and brought you near to himself to minister in the services of the tabernacle of the Lord, and to stand before the tabernacle to minister for them? 且 he has brought thee near and all thy brethren the sons of Levi with thee, and do ye seek to be priests also? 且 Thus it is with the

and all thy congregation which is gathered together against God: and who is Aaron, that ye murmur against him? 且 And Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiron sons of Eliab; and they said, We will not go up. 且 Is it a little thing that thou hast brought us up to a land flowing with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness, and that thou altogether rulest over us? 且 thou art a prince, and has thou sought to be a prince of our company? Bring thy little thing, milk and honey, and hast thou given us an inheritance of land and vineyards? wouldst thou have 5 put out the eyes of those men? we will not go up. 且 And Moses was exceedingly ingignant, and said to the Lord. Do thou take no heed to their sacrifice: I have not taken away the desire of any one of them, neither have I hurt any one of them. 且 And Moses said to Core, Sanctify thy company, and be ready before the Lord, thou and Aaron and they, to-morrow.
7 And take each man his censer, and ye shall put incense upon them, and shall bring each one his censer before the Lord, two hundred and fifty censers, and thou and Aaron shall bring each his censer.
8 And each man took his censer, and they put one censer on one of you; and Moses and Aaron stood by the doors of the tabernacle of witness.
9 And Core raised up against them all his company by the door of the tabernacle of witness; and the glory of the Lord appeared to all the congregation. 且 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, Separate yourselves from midst of this congregation, and I will consume them at once. 且 they fell on their faces, and said, O God, the God of spirits and of all flesh, if one man has sinned, shall the wrath of the Lord be upon the whole congregation? 且 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the congregation, saying, Depart from the company of Core round about; and Dathan and Abiron went forth and stood by the doors of their tents, and their wives and their children and their store.

And Moses said, Hereby shall ye know that the Lord has sent me to perform all these works, that I have not done them of myself. If these men shall die according to the death of all men; if they be consumed by the earth, the Lord shall show according to the visitation of all the Lord, then the Lord has not sent me. But if the Lord shew by a wonder, and the earth shall open her mouth and swallow them up, and their houses, and all the tents, and all that belongs to them, and the Lord shall bring them down into Hades, then ye shall know that these men have provoked the Lord.

And when he ceased speaking all these words, the ground clave asunder beneath them. And the ground opened, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that were with Core, and their cattle. And they went down and all that they had, alive into Hades; and the ground covered them, and they perished from the midst of the congregation. And all Israel round about them fled from the sound of them, for they said, Lest the earth swallow us up also. And fire went forth from the Lord, and devoured the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense.

And the Lord said to Moses, and to Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, Take up the brazen censors out of the midst of the men that have been burnt, and scatter the strange fire yonder, for they have sanctified themselves, and these censers shall be a covering on the altar, because they were brought before the Lord and hallowed; and they became a sign to the children of Israel. And Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest took the brazen censors, which the men who had been burnt brought up, and put them in the midst of censers against the altar, as a memorial to the children of Israel that no stranger might draw nigh, who is not of the seed of Aaron, to offer incense before the Lord; so he shall not be as Core and as they that conspired with him, as the Lord spoke to him by the hand of Moses.

And the children of Israel murmured the next day against Moses and Aaron, saying, Ye have killed the people of the Lord. And it came to pass when the congregation combined against Moses and Aaron, that they ran impetuously to the tabernacle of witness; and the cloud covered it, and the glory of the Lord appeared. And Moses and Aaron went in, in front of the tabernacle of witness.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, Depart out of the midst of this congregation, and I will consume them at once: and they fell upon their faces.

And Moses said to Aaron, Take a censer, and put on it fire from the altar, and put incense on it, and carry it away quickly into the camp, and make atonement for them; for wrath is gone forth from the presence of the Lord, it has begun to destroy the people. And Aaron took as Moses spoke to him,
And Moses spake to the children of Israel, and to the priests, the sons of Aaron, saying,

Speak to the children of Israel, and take rods of them, according to the houses of their families, a rod from all their princes, according to the houses of their families, twelve rods, and write the name of each on his rod.

And write the name of Aaron on the rod of Levi; for it is one rod for each; they shall give them according to the tribe of the house of their families.

And thou shalt put them in the tabernacle of witness, before the testimony, where I will be made known to thee.

And it shall be, the man whom I shall choose, his rod shall blossom; and I will remove from me the murmuring of the children of Israel, which they murmur against you.

And Moses spake to the children of Israel, and all their chiefs gave him a rod each, for one chief a rod, according to the houses of their families, twelve rods; and the rod of Aaron was in the midst of the rods.

And Moses laid up the rods before the Lord in the tabernacle of witness. And it came to pass on the morrow, that Moses gave the rod of Aaron to the children of Levi, saying, Bring thou the rod of Aaron, and put it with the rods of the sons of Levi, and let it be there for a sign of my witness.

And Moses did so; as the Lord commanded him, so did he.

Every one that touches the tabernacle of the Lord, die: shall we die utterly?

And the Lord said to Moses, Lay up the rod of Aaron before the testimonies to be kept as a sign for the children of the disobedient; and let their murmuring cease from me, and they shall not die. And Moses and Aaron went into the tabernacle of witness; and, behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi blossomed, and put forth a bud, and bloomed blossoms and produced almonds. And Moses brought forth all the rods from before the Lord to all the sons of Israel; and they looked, and each one took his rod.

And the Lord said to Moses, Lay up the rod of Aaron before the testimonies to be kept as a sign for the children of the disobedient; and let their murmuring cease from me, and they shall not die. And Moses and Aaron went into the tabernacle of witness; and, behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi blossomed, and put forth a bud, and bloomed blossoms and produced almonds. And Moses brought forth all the rods from before the Lord to all the sons of Israel; and they looked, and each one took his rod.
the tabernacle; and a stranger shall not approach to thee. 6 And ye shall keep the charges of the holy things, and the charges of the altar, and so there shall not be anger among the children of Israel. 7 And I have taken your brethren the Levites out of the midst of the children of Israel, a present given to the Lord, to minister in the services of the tabernacle of witness. 8 And thou and thy sons after thee shall keep up your priestly munistration, according to the whole manner of the altar, and that which is within the veil; and ye shall minister in the services of the tabernacle of your priesthood; and the stranger that comes near shall die.

And the Lord said to Aaron, And, behold, I have given you the charge of the first-fruits of all things consecrated to me by the children of Israel; and I have given them to thee as an honour, and to thy sons after thee for a perpetual ordinance; 12 and let this be to you from all the holy things that are consecrated to me, even the burnt-offerings, from all their gifts, and from all their sacrifices, and from every trespass-offering of theirs, and from all their sin-offerings, whatever things they give to me, of all their holy things shall be thy hire, and the hire of thy sons with thee for a perpetual ordinance; 13 and this shall be to you of the first-fruits of their gifts, of all the wave-offerings of the children of Israel; to thee have I given them and to thy sons and thy daughters with thee, a perpetual ordinance; every clean person in thy house shall eat them. 14 Every first-offering of oil, and every first-offering of wine, their first-fruits of corn, whatsoever they may give to the Lord, to thee have I given them. 15 All the first-fruits that are a peculiar land-ordainance, 16 and shall offer to the Lord, shall be thine; every clean person in thy house shall eat them. 17 Every devoted thing among the children of Israel shall be thine. 18 And every thing that opens the womb of all flesh, whatsoever they bring to the Lord, whether man or beast, shall be thine, the first-born of the first-born of every thing that is born by man shall be surely redeemed, and thou shalt redeem the first-born of unclean cattle. 19 And the redemption of them shall be from a month old; their valuation shall be five shekels—it is twenty obols according to the holy shekel. 20 But thou shalt not redeem the first-born of calves and the first-born of sheep and the first-born of goats; they are holy: and thou shalt pour their blood upon the altar, and thou shalt offer the fat as a burnt-offering for a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. 21 And the flesh shall be thine, as also the breast of the wave-offering and as the right shoulder. It shall be thine and thine sons and to thy daughters with thee, a perpetual ordinance: it is a covenant of salt for ever before the Lord, for thee and thy seed after thee.
And the Lord said to Aaron, Thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shall thou have any portion among them; for I am thy portion and thine inheritance in the midst of the children of Israel.

And, behold, I have given to the sons of Levi every tithe in Israel for an inheritance for their services, whereassoever they perform ministry in the tabernacle of witness. And the children of Israel shall no more draw nigh to the tabernacle of witness to incur fatal guilt. And the Levite himself shall perform the service of the tabernacle of witness; and they shall bear their iniquities, it is a perpetual statute throughout their generations; and in the midst of the children of Israel they shall not receive an inheritance. Because I have given as a distinct portion to the Levites for an inheritance the tithes of the children of Israel, whatsoever they shall offer to the Lord; therefore I said to them, In the midst of the children of Israel they shall have no inheritance.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Thou shalt also speak to the Levites, and shalt say to them, If ye take the tithes from the children of Israel, which I have given you from them for an inheritance, then shall ye separate from it a heave-offering to the Lord, a tenth of the tenth. And your heave-offerings shall be reckoned to your sons from the tithe, and an offering from the wine-press. So shall ye also separate them from all the offerings of the Lord out of all your tithes, whatsoever ye shall receive from the children of Israel; and ye shall give of them an offering to the Lord to Aaron the priest. Of all your gifts ye shall offer an offering to the Lord, and of every first-fruit the consecrated part from it. And thou shalt say to them, When ye shall offer the first-fruits from it, then shall it be reckoned to the Levites as produce from the threshing-floor, and as produce from the wine-press. And ye shall eat it in any place, ye and your families; for this is your reward for your services in the tabernacle of witness, and ye shall not bear it by reason of it, for ye shall have offered an offering of first-fruits from it, and ye shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, that ye die not.

And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, This is the constitution of the law, as the Lord has commanded, saying, Speak to the sons of Israel, and let them take for thee a red heifer without spot, which has no斑点 on her, and the yoke has not been put. And thou shalt give her to Eleazar the priest; and they shall bring her out of the camp into a clean place, and shall kill her before his face. And Eleazar shall take of her blood, and sprinkle of her blood seven times in front of the tabernacle of witness. And they shall burn her to ashes before them; and the skin and her flesh, and her blood, with her dung, shall be consumed. And the priest shall take cedar wood and hyssop and scarlet wool, and they shall cast them into the midst of the burning of the heifer.
And the priest shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and afterwards he shall go into the camp, and the priest shall be unclean until evening. 8 And he that burns her shall wash his garments, and bathe his body, and shall be unclean until evening. 9 And a clean man shall gather up the ashes of the heifer, and lay them up in a clean place outside the camp; and they shall be for the congregation of the children of Israel to keep: it is a purifying sacrifice. 10 And he that gathers up the ashes of the heifer shall wash his garments, and shall be unclean until evening; and it shall be a perpetual statute for the children of Israel and for the stranger joined to them.

9 He that touches the dead body of any man, shall be unclean seven days. 12 He shall be purified on the third day and the seventh day, and shall be clean; but if he be not purified on the third day and the seventh day, he shall not be clean. 13 Every one that touches the carcass of the person of a man, if he should have died, and the other be not purified, has defiled the tabernacle of the Lord: that soul shall be cut off from Israel, because the water of sprinkling has not been sprinkled upon him: he is unclean; his uncleanness is yet upon him. 14 And this is the law, if a man die in a house, every one that goes into the house, and all things in the house of the person, shall be unclean seven days. 15 And every open vessel which has not a covering bound upon it, shall be unclean. 16 And every one who shall touch a man slain by violence, or a corpse, or human bone, or sepulchre, shall be unclean seven days.

17 And they shall take for the unclean of the burnt garments, and water, and dip it into the water, and sprinkle it upon the house, and the furniture, and all the souls that are therein, and upon him that touched the human bone, or on the slain man, or on the unclean soul, shall be unclean. 18 And the clean man shall sprinkle the water on the unclean on the third day and on the seventh day, and on the seventh day he shall purify himself; and the other shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening. 19 And whatsoever man shall be defiled and shall not purify himself, that soul shall be cut off from the midst of the congregation, because he has defiled the holy things of the Lord, because the water of sprinkling has not been sprinkled upon him: he is unclean.

20 And it shall be to you a perpetual statute, and he that sprinkles the water of sprinkling shall wash his garments; and he that touches the water of sprinkling shall be unclean until evening. 21 And whatsoever the unclean man shall touch shall be unclean, and the soul that touches it shall be unclean till evening.

And the children of Israel, even the whole congregation, came into the wilderness of Sin; and they abode in Cades; and Mariani died there, and was buried there. 2 And there was no water for the congregation: and they gathered themselves together against Moses and Aaron.

3 And the people reviled Moses, saying, Would we have died in the destruction of our brethren before the Lord!
4 And wherefore have ye brought up the congregation of the Lord into this wilderness, to kill us and our cattle?
5 And they said, "Have ye indeed gathered this congregation, to slay us and our cattle at one stroke?"
6 And Moses and Aaron went before the assembly to the tabernacle of witness, and they fell upon their faces; and the glory of the Lord appeared to them.
7 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,
8 Take thy rod, and call the assembly, thou and Aaron thy brother, and speak to the rock before them, and it shall give forth its waters; and ye shall bring forth for them water out of this rock.
9 And Moses lifted up his hand and struck the rock with his rod; and there came forth waters from it, and the congregation and their beasts drank.
10 And the Lord commanded, And Moses and Aaron assembled the congregation before the rock, and said to them, Hear me, ye disobedient ones; must we bring you water out of this rock?
11 And Moses sent messengers from Cades to the king of Edom, saying, Thus says thy brother Edom, Thou knowest all the distress that has come upon us, and upon our fathers. We went down into Egypt, and we sojourned in Egypt many days, and the Egyptians afflicted us and our fathers.
12 And we cried to the Lord, and the Lord heard our voice, and sent an angel, and brought us out of Egypt; and now we are in the city of Cades, at the extremity of thy coasts.
13 And we will pass through thy land, we will not go through the fields, nor through the vineyards, nor will we drink water out of thy cistern; we will go by the king's highway; we will not turn aside to the right hand or to the left, until we have passed thy borders.
14 And Edom said to him, Thou shalt not pass through me, and if otherwise, I will go forth to meet thee in war.
15 And the children of Israel said to him, We will pass by the mountain; and if I and my cattle drink of thy water, I will pay thee: but it is no matter of importance, we will go by the mountain.
16 And he said, Thou shalt not pass through me; and Edom went forth to meet him with a great host, and a mighty army.
17 So Edom refused to allow Israel to pass through his borders, and Israel turned away from him, and they went by the way of the mountain.
18 And they went from Sepharad in the south, and watered their cattle in the brook of Arad; and the children of Israel called the name of the brook Zoar.
19 And they also went up from Zoar and watered their cattle at the brook of Salt; and the children of Israel called the name of the brook Zoar; for it is a most charming brook.
And the Lord spake to Moses and Aaron in the mount of Edom, saying, 22 Let Aaron be added to his people; for ye shall certainly not go into the land which I have given the children of Israel, because ye provoked me at the water of strife. 3 Take Aaron, and Eleazar his son, and bring them up to the mount Or before all the congregation; 4 and take Aaron's apparel from off him, and put it on Eleazar his son; and let Aaron die there and be added to his people. 5 And Moses did as the Lord commanded him, and took him up to mount Or, before all the congregation. 6 And he took Aaron's garments off him, and put them on Eleazar his son, and Aaron died on the top of the mountain; and Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountain. 7 And all the congregation saw that Aaron was dead: and they wept for Aaron thirty days, even all the house of Israel.

And Amad the Chananitish king who dwelt by the wilderness, heard that Israel came by the way of Athirah: and he made war on Israel, and carried off some of them captives. 2 And Israel vowed a vow to the Lord, saying, If thou shalt deliver this people into my power, I will devote it and its cities to thee. 3 And the Lord hearkened to the voice of Israel, and delivered the Chananite into his power; and Israel devoted him and his cities, and they called the name of that place Anathema.

And having departed from mount Or by the way leading to the Red sea, they compassed the land of Edom, and the people lost courage by the way. 2 And the people spoke against God and against Moses, saying, Why is this? Hast thou brought us out of Egypt to slay us in the wilderness? For there is no bread nor water: and we loathe this bread. 3 And the Lord sent among the people deadly serpents, and they bit the people, and much people of the children of Israel died. 4 And the people came to Moses and said, We have sinned, for we have spoken against the Lord, and against thee: pray therefore to the Lord, and let him take away the serpents from us. 5 And Moses prayed to the Lord for the people; and the Lord said to Moses, Make thee a serpent, and put it upon a signal-staff: and it shall come to pass that whenever a serpent shall bite a man, every one see that it looks upon it shall live. 6 And Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a signal-staff: and it came to pass, that whenever a serpent bit a man, and he looked on the brazen serpent, he lived.

And the children of Israel departed, and encamped in Oboth. 10 And having departed from Oboth, they encamped in Achalga, on the farther side in the wilderness, which is opposite Moab toward the east. 11 And thence they departed, and encamped in the valley of Zared. 12 And they departed thence and encamped on the other side of Arnon in the wilderness, the country which extends from the coasts of the Amorites; for Arnon is the borders of Moab, between Moab and the Amorites. Therefore it is

Numbers XXI. 15—35.

15. He appointed brooks to cause Er to dwell there; and it lies near to the coasts of Moab.
16. And therefore they came to the well; this is the well of which the Lord said to Moses, Gather the people, and I will give them water to drink. Then Israel sang this song at the well. Begin to sing 22 of the well.
17. The princes digged it, the kings of their kingdom, in their lordship sunk it in the rock: and they went from the well to Manhamin, and from Manhamin to Naliel, and from Naliel to Bamiow, and from Bamiow to Ylanen, which is in the plain of Moab as seen from the top of the quarried rock that looks toward the wilderness.
18. And Moses sent ambassadors to Seon king of the Amorites, with peaceable words, saying: We will pass through thy land, we will go by the road: we will not turn aside to the field or to the vineyard. We will not drink water out of thy well; we will go by the king's highway, until we have past thy boundaries. And Seon did not allow Israel to pass through his borders, and Seon gathered all his people, and went out to meet them, and the battle was arrayed against Israel into the wilderness; and he came to Jassa, and set the battle in array against Israel. And Israel smote him with the slaughter of the sword, and they became possessors of his land, from Arvon to Jaboc, as far as the children of Amman, for Jazer is the borders of the children of Amman. And Israel took all their cities, and Israel dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites, in Esebon, and in all cities belonging to it. For Esebon is the city of Seon king of the Amorites; and he before fought against the king of Moab, and they took all his land, from Arsero to Arvon. Therefore say they who deal in dark speeches, Come to Esebon, that all the city be delivered, collected and prepared. For a fire hath gone forth from Esebon, a flame from the city of Seon, and is consumed as far as Moab, and devoured the pillars of Arvon. Woe to thee, Moab; thou art lost, thou people of Chamos: their sons are sold for preservation, and their daughters are captives to Seon king of the Amorites. And their seed shall perish from Esebon to Debon; and their women have yet farther kindled a fire against Moab.

8 Or. of the well for it. 7 Or. Jamb, but the reading is uncertain.
And the children of Israel departed, and encamped on the west of Moab by Jordan toward Jericho. 2 And when Balac son of Sepphor saw all that Israel did to the Amorite, 3 then Moab feared the people exceedingly because they were many; and Moab was grieved because of the children of Israel. 4 And Moab said to the elders of Midian, Now shall this assembly lick up all that are round about us, as a calf would lick up the green 3-erbs of the field: and Balac son of Sepphor was king of Moab at that time. 5 And he sent ambassadors to Balaam the son of Beor, to Pha- thurah, which is on a river of the land of the sons of his people, to call him, saying, Be- hold, Balac is come out of Egypt, and behold it has covered the face of the earth, and it has encamped close to me. 6 And now come, curse me this people, for it is stronger than we; if we may be able to smite some of them, and I will cast them out of the land: for I know that whosoever they bless, are blessed; and whosoever they curse, are cursed. 7 And the elders of Moab went, and the elders of Midian, and their divining instruments were in their hands; and they came to Balaam, and spoke to him the words of Balac. 8 And he said to them, Tarry here this night, and I will tell you the things which the Lord shall say to me; and the princes of Moab stayed with Balaam. 9 And God came to Balaam, and said to him, Who are these men, with thee? 10 And Balaam said to God, Balac son of Sepphor, king of Moab, sent them to me, saying, 11 And Balac, a people has come forth out of Egypt, and has covered the face of the land, and it has encamped near me; and now come, curse it for me, if indeed I shall be able to smite it, and cast it out of the land. 12 And God said to Balaam, Thou shalt not go with them, neither shalt thou curse the people; for they are blessed. 13 And Balaam rose up in the morning, and said to the princes of Balac, Depart quickly to your lord; God does not permit me to go with you. 14 And the princes of Moab rose, and came to Balac, and said, Balam will not come with us. 15 And Balac yet again sent more princes and more honourable than they. 16 And they came to Balaam, and they say to him, Thus says Balac the son of Sepphor: I beseech thee, delay not to come to me. 17 For I will greatly honour thee, and will do for thee whatsoever thou shalt say; come then, curse me this people. 18 And Balaam said to Balac, I swear to thee, if Balac give me his house full of silver and gold, I shall not be able to go beyond the word of the Lord God, to make it little or great in my mind. 19 And now do ye also tarry here this night, and I shall know what the Lord will yet say to me. 20 And God came to Balaam by night, and said to him, If these men are come to call thee, rise and follow them; nevertheless the word which I shall speak to thee, it shall trust do. 21 And Balaam rose up in the morning, 22 Moab pará tôn 'Irodónn kathá 'Ieríchóús. 22 and Balaam said to Balak, and saddled his ass, and went with the princes of Moab.
23 And God was very angry because he went;
and the angel of the Lord rose up to withstand him.
24 And when the ass saw the angel of God standing opposite in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, then the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field; and Balaam smote the ass with his staff to direct her in the way.
25 And the angel of the Lord stood in the avenue of the city, having a sword being on this side and a fence on that.
26 And when the ass saw the angel of God, she thrust herself against the wall, and crushed Balaam's foot against the wall, and he smote her again.
27 And the angel of the Lord went farther, and came and stood in a narrow place where it was impossible to turn to the right or to the left,
28 and the ass saw the angel of God, she lay down under Balaam; and Balaam was angry, and struck the ass with his staff.
29 And God opened the mouth of the ass, and she said to Balaam, What have I done to thee, that thou hast smitten me this third time?
30 And Balaam said to the ass, Because thou hast mocked me; and if I had had a sword in my hand, I would now have killed thee.
31 And the ass says to Balaam, Am I not thine ass on which thou hast ridden since thy youth till this day? did I ever do thus to thee, utterly disregarding thee? and he said, No.
32 And God opened the eyes of Balaam, and he sees the angel of the Lord standing by the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, and he stopped down and worshipped on his face.
33 And the angel of God said to him, Why hast thou smitten thine ass this third time? and, behold, I came out to withstand thee, for thy way was not seemly before me; and when the ass saw me, she turned away from me this third time.
34 And if she had not turned out of the way, surely now, I should have slain thee, and should have cursed thee now, and Balaam said to the angel of the Lord, I have sinned, for I did not know that thou wert standing opposite in the way to meet me; and now if it shall not be pleasing to thee for me to go on, I will return.
35 And the angel of the Lord said to Balaam, Go with the men: nevertheless the word which I shall speak to thee, that thou shalt take heed to speak. And Balaam went with the princes of Balak.
36 And when Balaam heard that the Balaam was come, he went out to meet him, to a city of Moab, which is on the borders of Arnon, which is on the extreme parts of the borders.
37 And Balac said to Balaam, Did I not send to thee to call thee? why hast thou not come to me? shall I not indeed be able to honour thee?
38 And Balac said to Balaam, I am now come to thee: shall I be able to say any thing that the word which God shall put into my mouth, that I shall speak.
39 And Balaam went with Balac, and they came to the cities of streets.
40 And Balac offered shepherds and calves, and sent to Balaam and to his princes.
who were with him. 41 And it was morning; and Balac took Balac, and brought him up to the pillars of Bial, and shewed him thence a part of the people.

And Balam said to Balac, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven calves, and seven rams. 4 And Balac did as Balam told him; and he offered, and a ram on every altar. 5 And Balam said to Balac, Stand by thy sacrifice, and I will go and see if God will appear to me and meet me, and the word which he shall show me, I will report to thee. And Balam stood by his sacrifice. 6 And Balam went to enquire of God; and he went straight forward, and took and appeared to Balabam; and Balam said to him, I have prepared the seven altars, and have offered a calf and a ram on every altar. 7 And God put a word into the mouth of Balam, and said, Thou shalt return to Balac, and thus shalt thou speak. 8 And he returned to him, and more over he stood over his whole-burnt-offerings, and all the princes of Moab with him; and the Spirit of God came upon him. 9 And he took up his parable, and said, Balac king of Moab sent for me out of Mesopotamia, out of the mountains of the east, saying, Come, curse me Jacob, and Come, call for the nations upon Leuel. How can I curse whom the Lord curses not? or how can I devote whom God devotes not? 10 For from the top of the mountains I shall see him, and from the hills I shall observe him; behold, the people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations. 11 Who has exactly calculated the seed of Jacob, and numbered the sons of Israel? let my soul die with the souls of the righteous, and let my seed be as their seed.

12 And Balac said to Balam, What hast thou done to me? I called thee to curse my enemies, and behold thou hast greatly blessed them. 13 And Balam said to Balac, Whatsoever the Lord shall put into my mouth, shall I not take heed to speak this? 14 And Balam said to him, Come yet with me to another place where thou shalt not see the people, but only thou shalt see a part of them, and shalt not see them all; and curse me them from thence.

15 And he took him to a high place of the field to the top of the quarried rock, and he built there seven altars, and offered a calf and a ram on every altar. 16 And Balam said to Balac, Stand by thy sacrifice, and I will go to enquire of God. 17 And God met Balac, and put a word into his mouth, and said, Go to Balac, and thus shall thou speak. 18 And he returned to him; and he also was standing by his whole-burnt-sacrifice, and all the princes of Moab with him; and Balac said to him, What has the Lord spoken? 19 And he took up his parable, and said, Rise up, Balac, and hear; hearken, my learned one, thou son of Sepphor. 20 God is not as man to be threatened; shall he say and not perform? shall he speak and not keep to his word? 21 Behold, I have received commandment to bless: I will bless,
24 And Balac said to Balaam, Neither curse 5 the people at all for me, nor bless them at all. 6 And Balaam answered and said to Balac, Shout I shout thus to the king,:

Whatsoever thing God shall speak to me, that will I say? And Balac said to Balaam, Come and I will remove thee to another place, if it shall please God, and curse me them from thence. And Balac took Balaam to the top of Phogor, which extends to the wilderness. 2 And Balaam said to Balac, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me, and seven rams. 3 And Balac did as Balaam told him, and offered a calf and a ram on every altar.

And when Balaam saw that it pleased God to bless Israel, he did not go according to his custom to meet the omens, but turned his face toward the wilderness. 2 And Balaam lifted up his eyes, and sees Israel encompassed as it were the picture by the waters. 7 There shall come a man out of his seed, and he shall rule over many nations; and the kingdom of God shall be exalted, and his kingdom shall be increased. 8 God led him out of Egypt; he has as it were the glory of a unicorn: he shall consume the nations of his enemies, and shall drain their marrow, and with his breath he shall strike terror.

9 He lay down, he rested as a lion, and as a young lion; who shall stir him up? they that bless thee are blessed, and they that curse thee are cursed.

And Balac was angry with Balaam, and clapped his hands together; and Balac said to Balaam, I called thee to curse my enemy, and behold thou hast decidedly blessed him this third time. 11 Now therefore flee to thy place: I said, I will honour thee, but now the Lord has deprived thee of glory. 12 And Balaam said to Balac, Did I not speak to thy messengers also whom thou sentest to me, saying, 13 If Balac should give me his house full of silver and gold, I shall not be able to transgress the word of the Lord and make it go other than my soul desires me: whatsoever things God shall say, them will I speak. 14 And now, behold, I return to my place; come, I will advise thee of what this people shall do to thy people in the last days.

15 And he took up his parable and said, Balaam the son of Boor says, the man who sees truly says, hearing the oracles of God, 8God revealed to him from the Most High, and having seen a vision of God in sleep: his eyes were opened. 9I will point to him, but not now; I bless him, but he draws not near: a star shall rise out of Jacob, a man shall spring out of Israel, and shall crush the princes of Moab, and shall spoil all the sons of Seth. 10And Edom shall be an inheritance, and Esaus his enemy shall be an inheritance of Israel, and Israel wrought valiantly. 11And one shall arise out of Jacob, and destroy out of the city him that escapes. 12And having seen Amale, he took up his parable and said, Amalec is the first of the sons of Seth. 13And, having seen the Kenite, he took up his parable and said, Thy dwelling-place is strong; yet though thou shouldst put thy nest in a rock, 14And though Boor should have a skilfully contrived hiding-place, the Assyrians shall carry thee away captive. And he looked up, and said to the right and the left, 15Oh, oh, when shall I live, when shall I see these things? 16And one shall come forth from the hands of the Citians, and shall afflict Assur, and shall afflict the Hebrews, and they shall perish together. 17And Balaam rose up and departed and returned to his place, and Balac went up to his own house in Sattin, and the people profaned itself by going a-whoring after the daughters of Moab. 18And they called them to the sacrifices of their idols: and the people ate of their sacrifices, and worshipped their idols. 19And Israel consecrated themselves to Beel-phegor; and the Lord said to Moses, Take all the princes of the people, and make them examples of judgment for the Lord in the face of the sun, and the anger of the Lord shall be turned away from Israel. 20And Moses said to the tribes of Israel, Lay ye every one his friend unto a friend, and his brother unto his brother, 21And behold, a man of the children of Israel came and brought his brother to a Madianitish woman before Moses, and before all the congregation of the children of Israel; and they were weeping at the door of the tabernacle of witness. 22And Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, saw it, and rose out of the midst of the congregation, and took a javelin in his hand, 23And went in after the Israelitish man into the chamber, and pierced them both through, both the Israelitish man, and the woman through her womb; and the plague was stayed from the children of Israel. 24And those that died in the plague were four and twenty thousand.

I did not consume the children of Israel in my jealousy. 12 Thus do thou say to him, Behold, I give him a covenant of peace: 13 and he and his seed after him shall have a perpetual covenant of priesthood, because he was zealous for his God, and made atonement for the children of Israel. 14 Now the name of the smitten Israelitish man, who was smitten with the Madianitish woman, was Zambri; son of Salman, prince of a house of the tribe of Simeon. 15 And the name of the Madianitish woman who was smitten, was Chabdi, daughter of Sir, a prince of the nation of Ommoth; it is a chief house among the people of Madian.

16 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, saying, 17 Plague the Madianites as enemies, and smite them, 18 for they are enemies to you by the treachery wherein they ensnare you through Phogor, and through Chasbi their sister, daughter of a prince of Madian, who was smitten in the day of the plague because of Phogor.

And it came to pass after the plague, that the Lord spoke to Moses and Eleazar the priest, saying, "Take the sum of all the congregations according to their families, twenty years old and upward, according to the houses of their lineage, every one that goeth to battle in Israel.

And Moses and Eleazar the priest spoke in Araboth of Moab at the Jordan by Jericho, saying, "This is the numbering from twenty years old and upward as the Lord commanded Moses. And the sons of Israel that came out of Egypt are as follows: 2 Ruben was the first-born of Israel: and the sons of Ruben, Enoch, and the family of Enoch; to Phallu belongs the family of the Phalluites. 3 To Aseron, the family of Asroni: to Charmi, the family of Charmi. These are the families of Ruben; and their numbering was forty-three thousand and seven hundred and thirty.

4 And the sons of Phallu were Elia, 5 and the sons of Elia, Namuel, and Dathan, and Abiron: these are renowned men of the congregation; these are they that rose up against Moses and Aaroun in the gathering of Core, in the rebellion against the Lord. 6 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up and Core, when their assembly perished, when the fire devoured the two hundred and fifty, and they were made a sign. 7 But the sons of Core died not.

8 And the sons of Symeon: the family of the sons of Symeon: to Namuel, belonged the family of the Namuelites; to Jamin the family of the Jaminites; to Chachin the family of the Jachinites. 9 To Zara the family of the Zaraites; to Saul the family of the Saulites. These are the families of Symeon according to their numbering, two and twenty thousand and two hundred.

10 And the sons of Juda, Er and Anan: 11 and Er died in the land of Canaan; 12 and these were the sons of Juda: according to their families: to Selm belonged the family of the Salmite; to Phares, the family of the Pharesites; to Zara, the family of the Zaraïtes. 17 And the sons of Phares were, to Asron, the family of the Aserites; to Jamin, the family of the Zaraïites. 18 These are the families of Juda according to their numbering, seventy-six thousand and five hundred.

19 And the sons of Issachar according to their families: to Thola, the family of the Tholaites; to Phuss, the family of the Phusaites. 20 To Jassub, the family of the Jasubites; to Samrum, the family of the Samramites. 21 These are the families of Issachar according to their numbering, sixty-four thousand and four hundred.

22 The sons of Zabulou according to their families: to Sadad, the family of the Sadaites; to Allon, the family of the Allonites; to Alisle, the family of the Alleites. 22 These are the families of Zabulon according to their numbering, sixty thousand and five hundred.

23 The sons of Gad according to their families: to Saphon, the family of the Saphonites; to Ang, the family of the Angites; to Suni, the family of the Sunites; 24 to Azenit, the family of the Azenites; to Addi, the family of the Addites; 25 to Arong, the family of the Arongites; to Ariel, the family of the Arielites. 26 These are the families of the children of Gad according to their numbering, forty-four thousand and four hundred.

27 The sons of Aser according to their families: to Jamin, the family of the Jaminites; to Jesu, the family of the Jesuites; to Baras, the family of the Barasites. 28 To Chober, the family of the Cheberites; to Melchiel, the family of the Melchietes. 29 And the name of the daughter of Aser, Sara. 30 These are the families of Aser according to their numbering, forty-three thousand and four hundred.

31 The sons of Joseph according to their families, Manasse and Ephraim. 32 The sons of Manasse: To Machir the family of the Machirites; and Machir begot Galaad: to Galaad, the family of the Galaadites. 33 And these are the sons of Galaad: to Achiezer, the family of the Achiezrites; to Chelug, the family of the Chelugites. 34 To Esriel, the family of the Esrielites; to Shechem, the family of the Shechemites. 35 To Symua, the family of the Symuairets; and to Opher, the family of the Opherites. 36 And to Salpaad the son of Opher there were no sons, but daughters: and these were the names of the daughters of Salpaad: Malata, and Nuna, and Eglia, and Mecheke, and Thare. 37 These are the families of Manasse according to their numbering, fifty-two thousand and seven hundred.

38 And these are the children of Ephraim: to Suthula, the family of the Suthulaites; to Tanach, the family of the Tanachites. 39 These are the sons of Suthula: to Eden, the family of the Edinites. 40 These are the families of Ephraim according to their numbering, thirty-two thousand and five hundred: these are the families of Joseph according to their families.

41 The sons of Benjamin according to their families: to Bale, the family of the Balaites; to Assyber, the family of the Assybertes; to Jachir, the family of the Jachhaim.
43, 44 To Sophan, the family of the Sophanites.
45 And the sons of Bule were Adar and Noemant; to Adar, the family of the Adarites; and to Noemant, the family of the Noemantites. These are the sons of Benjamin by their families according to their numbering, thirty-three thousand and five hundred.
46 And the sons of Dan according to their numbering, sixteen and four thousand and three hundred.
47 The sons of Nephthali according to their families; to Asiel, the family of the Asrielites; to Gaumi, the family of the Gaumites. To Jeser, the family of the Jeserites; to Sellem, the family of the Sellemites. These are the families of Dan according to their families. All the families of Nephthali according to their numbering, forty thousand and three hundred.
48 According to the numbering of the children of Israel, six hundred and one thousand and seven hundred and thirty.
49 And the Lord spake to Moses saying, To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: that each one, as they have been numbered, shall inherit their inheritance.
50 This is the numbering of the children of Israel, six hundred and one thousand and seven hundred and thirty.
51 And the Lord spake to Moses saying, To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: that each one, as they have been numbered, shall inherit their inheritance.
52, 53 To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: that each one, as they have been numbered, shall inherit their inheritance.
54 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: that each one, as they have been numbered, shall inherit their inheritance.
55 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: that each one, as they have been numbered, shall inherit their inheritance.
56 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: that each one, as they have been numbered, shall inherit their inheritance.
57 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: that each one, as they have been numbered, shall inherit their inheritance.
58 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: that each one, as they have been numbered, shall inherit their inheritance.
59 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: that each one, as they have been numbered, shall inherit their inheritance.
60 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names. To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: that each one, as they have been numbered, shall inherit their inheritance.
Opher, the son of Galnaad, the son of Maccir, of the tribe of Manasseh, of the sons of Joseph, came near; and he was their name. And Mallon, and Naa, and Eglh, and Meleha, and Thersa; and they stood before Moses, and before Eleazar the priest, and before the princes, and before all the congregation at the door of the tabernacle of witness, saying, 3 Our father died in the wilderness, and he was not in the sight of all the congregation that rebelled against the Lord in the gathering of Core; for he died for his own sin, and he had no sons. Let not the name of our father be blotted out of the midst of his people, because he has no son: give us an inheritance in the midst of our father's brethren. 4 And Moses brought the case before the Lord.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 5 The daughters of Juslsap have spoken rightly: thou shalt surely give them a possession of inheritance in the midst of their father's brethren, and thou shalt assign their father's inheritance to them. 6 And thou shalt speak to the children of Israel, saying, If a man die, and have no son, ye shall assign his inheritance to his daughter. 7 And if he have no daughter, ye shall give his inheritance to his brother. 8 And if he have no brethren, ye shall give his inheritance to his father's brother. 9 And if there be no brethren of his father, ye shall give the inheritance to his nearest relation of his tribe, to inherit his possessions; and this shall be to the children of Israel an ordinance of judgment, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And the Lord said to Moses, Go up to the mountain that is in the country beyond Jordan, to the mount Hanaan, which I give to the sons of Israel for a possession. 12 And thou shalt see it, and thou also shalt add to thy people, as Aaron thy brother was added to them in mount Or: because ye transgressed my commandment in the wilderness of Sin.

And Moses said to the Lord, Let the Lord God of spirits and of all flesh look out for a man over this congregation, who shall go out before them, and who shall come in before them, and who shall lead them out, and who shall bring them in; so the congregation of the Lord shall not be as sheep without a shepherd. 13 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Take to thyself Joshua the son of Naa, a man who has the Spirit in him, and thou shalt lay thy hands upon him. 14 And he shall stand before thee, and thou shalt give him a charge before all the congregation, and thou shalt give a charge concerning him before them. 15 And thou shalt put of thy glory upon him, that the children of Israel may hearken to him. 16 And he shall stand before the Lord, and he shall ask of him before Eleazar the priest, and thou shalt give him a charge before all the congregation, and thou shalt give a charge concerning him before them.

And Moses did as the Lord commanded.
he took Joshua, and set him before Eleazar the priest, and before all the congregation. And he laid his hands upon him, and appointed him as the Lord ordained Moses. And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 2 Charge the children of Israel, and thou shalt speak to them, saying, Ye shall observe to offer to me in my feasts my gifts, my presents, my burnt-offerings for a sweet-smelling savour. And thou shalt say to them, These are the burnt-offerings, all that ye shall bring to the Lord; two lambs of a year old, and a young goat, and a male bullock every morning; for a whole-burnt offering perpetually. Thou shalt offer one lamb in the morning, and thou shalt offer the second lamb towards evening. And thou shalt offer the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a meat-offering, mingled with oil, with the fourth part of a hin. It is a perpetual whole-burnt-offering, a sacrifice offered in the mount of Sina for a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord. And its drink-offering, the fourth part of a hin to each lamb; in the holy place shalt thou pour strong drink as a drink-offering to the Lord. And the second lamb thou shalt offer toward evening; thou shalt offer it according to its meat-offering and according to its drink-offering for a smell of sweet savour to the Lord. And on the sabbath day ye shall offer two lambs of a year old without blemish, and two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat-offering, and a drink-offering. It is a whole-burnt-offering of the sabbaths on the sabbath days, besides the continued whole-burnt-offering, and its drink offering.

And at the new moons ye shall bring a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord, two calves of the herd, and one ram, seven lambs of a year old without blemish. Three tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil for one calf, and two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil for one ram. A tenth deal of fine flour mingled with oil for each lamb, as a meat-offering, a sweet-smelling savour, a burnt-offering to the Lord. Their drink-offering shall be half a hin for one calf; and the third of a hin for one ram; and the fourth part of a hin of wine for one lamb: this is the whole-burnt-offering monthly throughout the months of the year.

And he shall offer one kid of the goats for a sin-offering to the Lord; it shall be offered besides the continual whole-burnt-offering and its drink-offering.

And in the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, is the passover to the Lord. And on the fifteenth day of this month is a feast; seven days ye shall eat unleavened bread. And the first day shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work. And ye shall bring whole-burnt-offerings, a sacrifice to the Lord, two calves of the herd, and five rams, and seven lambs of a year old; they shall be to you without blemish. And their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil; three tenth deals for one calf, and two tenth deals for one ram. Thou shalt offer a tenth for each lamb, for the seven lambs. And they shall offer one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, to make atonement for you. 2 Beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering in the holy enclosure, which is a whole-burnt-sacri-cifice for a continuance, 3 these shall ye thus offer daily for seven days, a gift, a sacrifice for a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering, thou shalt offer its drink-offering. 25 And the seventh day shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work in it.
26 And on the day of the new corn, when ye shall offer a new sacrifice at the festival of weeks to the Lord, there shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work, 27 and ye shall bring whole-burnt-offerings for a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord, two calves of the herd, one ram, seven lamb without blemish. 2 Their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil;
there shall be three tenth deals for one calf, and two tenth deals for one ram. 29 A tenth for each lamb separately, for the seven lamb; and a kid of the goats for a sin-offering for you; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering: and 30 ye shall offer to me their great-offering. They shall be to you unblemished, and ye shall offer their drink-offerings.

And in the seventh month, on the first day of the month, there shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work: it shall be to you a day of blowing the trumpets. 2 And ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings for a sweet savour to the Lord, one calf of the herd, one ram, seven lamb without blemish. 3 Their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil; there shall be two tenth deals for each calf, and two tenth deals for each ram. 4 A tenth deal for each of the seven lamb; and a kid of the goats for a sin-offering, to make atonement for you. 6 Beside the whole-burnt-offerings for the new moon, and their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, and their perpetual whole-burnt-offerings and their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings according to their ordinance for a sweet-smelling savour to the Lord.

7 And on the tenth of this month there shall be to you a holy convocation; and ye shall afflict your souls, and ye shall do no work. 8 And ye shall bring near whole-burnt-offerings and their meat-offering: and burnt-offerings to the Lord; burnt-sacrifices to the Lord, one calf of the herd, one ram, seven lamb of a year old; they shall be to you without blemish. 9 Their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil; there shall be three tenth deals for each calf, and two tenth deals for each ram. 10 A tenth deal for each of the seven lamb; and a kid of the goats for a sin-offering, to make atonement for you; beside the sin-offering for atonement, and the continual whole-burnt-offering, its meat-offering, and its drink-offering according to its ordinance for a smell of sweet savour, a burnt-sacrifice to the Lord. 11 And on the fourteenth day of this seventh month ye shall have a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work; and ye shall keep it a feast to the Lord seven days. 12 And ye shall bring near whole-burnt-offerings, a

Numbers XXIX. 14—35.

217 sacrifice for a smell of sweet savour to the Lord, on the first day thirteen calves of the herd, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old; they shall be without blemish. 16 Their meat-offerings shall be fine flour mingled with oil; there shall be three tenth deals for one calf, for the thirteen calves; and two tenths deals for the two rams. 17 A tenth deal for every lamb, for the fourteen lambs. 18 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering: there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

And on the second day twelve calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish. 19 Their meat-offering and their drink-offering shall be for the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. 20 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering: there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

On the third day eleven calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish. 21 Their meat-offering and their drink-offering shall be to the calves and to the rams and to the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. 22 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering: there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

On the fourth day ten calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without spot. 23 There shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings to the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. 24 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering: there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

On the fifth day nine calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without spot. 25 Their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings shall be to the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. 26 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering: there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

On the sixth day eight calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish. 27 There shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings to the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. 28 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering: there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

On the seventh day seven calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish. 29 Their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings shall be to the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. 30 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering: there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings. 31 And on the eighth day there shall be to you a release: ye shall do
And ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings as sacrifices to the Lord, one calf, one ram, seven lambs of a year old without spot. 3 And ye shall offer their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings for their own self and the ram and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance. 4 And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; besides the continual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

And Moses spake to the children of Israel according to all that the Lord commanded him. 6 He spake also to the heads of the tribes of the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded. 7 Whatsoever man shall vow a vow to the Lord, or swear an oath, or bind himself with an obligation upon his soul, he shall not break his word; all that shall come out of his mouth he shall do. 8 And if a woman shall vow a vow to the Lord, or swear an oath, or bind herself with an obligation upon her soul in her father's house; and her father should hear her vows and her obligations, where-with she has bound her soul, and her father should hold his peace at her, then all her vows shall stand, and all the obligations with which she has bound her soul, shall remain to her. 9 But if her father strictly forbid her in the day in which he should hear all her vows and her obligations, which she has contracted upon her soul, they shall not stand; and the Lord shall hold her guiltless, because her father forbade her.

And the vow of a widow and of her that is put away, whatsoever she shall bind upon her soul, shall stand to her. 11 And if her vow or the obligation upon her soul with an oath, 12 and her husband should hear, and hold his peace at her, and not disallow her, then all her vows shall stand, and all the obligations which she contracted against her soul, shall stand against her. 13 But if her husband should utterly cancel the vow in the day in which he should hear it, none of the things which shall proceed out of her lips in her vows, and in the obligations contracted upon her soul, shall stand to her; her husband shall cancel them, and the Lord shall bear her guiltless. 14 And she shall not make void the words of her lips, which she hath bound upon her soul, for whatsoever is in her lips shall stand against her. 15 But if she spake in an ignorance, and her husband heard her vows in her ignorance, and disallowed her, then all the vows and the obligations upon her soul shall stand. 16 And if she spake in an ignorance, and her husband should not disallow her vows in her ignorance, then all the vows and the obligations upon her soul shall stand.

And Moses spake to the children of Israel, saying: These are the oblations which ye shall offer unto the Lord. 3 And if a man offer a sacrifice of peace-offerings unto the Lord; if the peace-offerings be of a ram; then he shall offer with his peace-offering of the peace-offerings one-fifth, of the blood of the peace-offerings, in a holy place. 4 And ye shall offer with the blood of the peace-offerings one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; and ye shall offer with the blood of the peace-offerings the meat-offerings and the drink-offerings. 5 And the flesh of the peace-offerings shall ye eat in a holy place: within the court of the tabernacle of the congregation shall ye eat it. 6 Only his bone of his neck shall ye burn with fire without the camp. 7 And if it be of a sheep; then he shall offer with the blood thereof one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; and the fat thereof of the peace-offerings, he shall offer in the fire, a sweet smell unto the Lord; as the sin-offering and the peace-offerings. 8 And the flesh of the peace-offerings shall ye eat in a holy place: within the court of the tabernacle of the congregation shall ye eat it. 9 And if it be of a kid of the goats; then he shall offer with the blood thereof one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; and the fat thereof of the peace-offerings shall he burn in the fire, a sweet smell unto the Lord; and the flesh of the peace-offerings shall ye eat in a holy place: within the court of the tabernacle of the congregation shall ye eat it. 10 And if his offering be of corn; whether fine flour mingled with oil, or dry-meal mingled with oil, 11 then he shall offer with his offering of corn one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; and the fat thereof of the peace-offerings shall he burn in the fire, a sweet smell unto the Lord; as the sin-offering and the peace-offerings. 12 And the flesh of the peace-offerings shall ye eat in a holy place: within the court of the tabernacle of the congregation shall ye eat it. 13 And if his offering be of new wheat, mingled with oil, or dry-meal mingled with oil, 14 then he shall offer with his offering of new wheat one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; and the fat thereof of the peace-offerings shall he burn in the fire, a sweet smell unto the Lord; as the sin-offering and the peace-offerings. 15 And the flesh of the peace-offerings shall ye eat in a holy place: within the court of the tabernacle of the congregation shall ye eat it. 16 And if his offering be of new wine, or blood of oxen, or blood of sheep, or blood of goats; then he shall offer with his offering of blood one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; and the fat thereof of the peace-offerings shall he burn in the fire, a sweet smell unto the Lord; as the sin-offering and the peace-offerings. 17 And the flesh of the peace-offerings shall ye eat in a holy place: within the court of the tabernacle of the congregation shall ye eat it. 18 And if his offering be of corn mingled with new wine, or of new meal mingled with new wine; 19 then he shall offer with his offering of corn mingled with new wine one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; and the fat thereof of the peace-offerings shall he burn in the fire, a sweet smell unto the Lord; as the sin-offering and the peace-offerings. 20 And the flesh of the peace-offerings shall ye eat in a holy place: within the court of the tabernacle of the congregation shall ye eat it. 21 And if his offering be of corn mingled with new wine, or of new meal mingled with new wine; and if it be of oxen, of sheep, or of goats; 22 then he shall offer with his offering of corn mingled with new wine one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; and the fat thereof of the peace-offerings shall he burn in the fire, a sweet smell unto the Lord; as the sin-offering and the peace-offerings. 23 And the flesh of the peace-offerings shall ye eat in a holy place: within the court of the tabernacle of the congregation shall ye eat it. 24 And if his offering be of corn mingled with new wine, or of new meal mingled with new wine; and if it be of oxen, of sheep, or of goats; and if it be of the fruits of the land; 25 then he shall offer with his offering of corn mingled with new wine one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; and the fat thereof of the peace-offerings shall he burn in the fire, a sweet smell unto the Lord; as the sin-offering and the peace-offerings. 26 And the flesh of the peace-offerings shall ye eat in a holy place: within the court of the tabernacle of the congregation shall ye eat it.
And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 Avenge the wrongs of the children of Israel on the Madianites, and afterwards thou shalt be added to thy people. 3 And Moses spoke to the people, saying, Arm some of you, and set yourselves in array before the Lord against Madian, to inflict vengeance on Madian for Israel. 4 And they numbered the thousands of Israel a thousand of each tribe from all the tribes of the children of Israel to set themselves in array. 5 And they came from the cities of Israel, twelve thousand; these were armed for war. 6 And Moses sent them away a thousand of every tribe with their forces, and Phineas the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest; and the holy instruments, and the signal trumpets were in their hands.

7 And they set themselves in array against Madian, as the Lord commanded Moses; and they slew every male. 8 And they slew the kings of Madian together with their slain subjects, even Evi and Rezon, and Sur, and Ur, and Roboc, five kings of Madian; and they slew with the sword Balaam the son of Beor with their other slain. 9 And they made a prey of the women of Madian, and their store, and their cattle, and all their possessions; and they spoiled their forces. 10 And they burnt with fire all their cities in the places of their habitations, and they burnt their villages with fire. 11 And they took all their plunder, and all their spoils, and all their cattle, and they brought to Moses and to Eleazar the priest, and to all the children of Israel, the captives, and the spoils, and the plunder, to the camp to Arboth Moab, which is at Jordan by Jericho. 12 And Moses and Eleazar the priest and all the rulers of the synagogue went forth out of the camp to meet them.

13 And Moses and Eleazar and the captains of the host, the heads of thousands and the heads of hundreds who came from the battle-array. 14 And Moses said to them, Why have ye saved every female alive? 15 For they were the occasion to the children of Israel by the word of Balaam of their revolting and despising the word of the Lord, because of Phozor; and there was a plague in the congregation of the Lord. 16 Now then slay every male in all the spoil, slay every woman, who has known the lying with man. 17 And as for all the captivity of women, who have not known the lying with Lord shall hold her guiltless. Every vow and every binding oath to afflict her soul, her husband shall confirm it to her, or her husband shall cancel it. But if he be wholly silent at her from day to day, then shall he bind upon her all her vows; and he shall confirm to her the obligations which he has bound upon herself, because he held his peace at her in the day in which he heard her. And if his husband should in any wise cancel them after the day in which he heard them, then he shall bear his iniquity. These are the ordinances which the Lord commanded Moses, between a man and his wife, and between a father and daughter in youth in the house of her father.

And ye shall encamp outside the great camp seven days; every one who has slain and who touches a dead body, seven shall be purified on the third day, and the seventh day shall all purify yourselves. And ye shall purify every garment and every leathern utensil, and all furniture of goat skin, and every wooden vessel.

And Eleazar the priest, said to the men of the host that came from the battle array, This is that which the Lord has commanded Moses.

And the gold and the silver, and the brass, and the iron, and lead, and tin, every thing that shall pass through the fire shall so be clean, nevertheless it shall be purified with the water of sanctification; and whatsoever shall not pass through the fire shall pass through the fire; and on the seventh day ye shall wash your garments, and be clean; and afterwards ye shall come into the camp.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Take the sum of the spoils of the captivity, both of man and beast, thou and Eleazar the priest, the heads of the families of the congregation.

And ye shall divide the spoils between the warriors that went out to battle, and the whole congregation. And ye shall take a tribute for the Lord from the warriors that went out to battle; one soul out of five hundred, from the men, and from the cattle, even from the oxen, and from the asses, and ye shall take from their half. And thou shalt give them to Eleazar the priest as the first-fruits of the Lord. And from the half belonging to the children of Israel thou shalt take one fifth in fifty from the men, and from the oxen, and from the sheeple, and from the asses, and thou shalt give them to the Levites that keep the charges in the tabernacle of the Lord.

And Moses and Eleazar the priest did as the Lord commanded Moses. And that which remained of the spoil which the warriors took, the sheeple and ass, the half of the hundred and seventy-five thousand: and oxen, seventy-two thousand: and asses, sixty-one thousand. And persons of women who had not known lying with man, all the souls, thirty-two thousand. And the half, even the portion of them that went out to war, from the sheeple, was three hundred and thirty-seven thousand and five hundred. And the sheeple from the sheep was six hundred and seventy-five. And the oxen, six and thirty thousand, and the oxen, sixty-one thousand. And the half, even the portion of them that went out to war, from the oxen, was thirty-seven thousand and five hundred. And the asses, thirty thousand and five hundred, and the half, even the portion of them that went out to war, from the asses, was sixty-one thousand. And the sheeple from the sheep was six hundred and seventy-five.

And Moses gave the tribute to the Lord, the heave-offering of God, to Eleazar the priest, as the Lord commanded Moses; from the half belonging to the children of Israel, whom Moses separated from the men of war. And the half taken from the sheep, belonging to the congregation, was three hundred and thirty-seven thousand and five hundred. 44 And the oxen, thirty-six thousand; 45 asses, thirty thousand and five hundred; 46 and persons, sixteen thousand. 47 And Moses took of the half belonging to the children of Israel 48 the fiftieth part, of men and of cattle, and he gave them according to the charge of the Levites who keep the charges of the tabernacle of the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses.

And all those who were appointed to be officers of thousands of the host, captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, approached Moses, and said to Moses, 50 Thy servants have taken the sum of the men of war with us, and not one is missing. 51 And we have brought our gift to the Lord, every man who has found an article of gold, whether an armlet, or a chain, or a ring, or a bract, or a clasp for hair, to make atonement for us before the Lord. 52 And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from them, even every wrought article. 53 And all the wrought gold, even the offering that they offered, and the gold of the thousand and seven hundred and fifty shekels from the captains of thousands and the captains of hundreds. 54 For the men of war took plunder every one for himself. 55 And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and brought it into the tabernacle of witness, a memorial of the children of Israel before the Lord.

And the children of Ruben and the children of Gad had 56 a multitude of cattle, very great; and they saw the land of Jazer, and the land of Gilead; and the land of Bashan, and the land of all that kingdom, a land that floweth with milk and honey. 57 And they said to Moses, saying, 58 Our sires have spoken to us, saying, 59 What ye have said ye shall do, as we have heard. 60 And go up, and possess the land, which we have heard a good land and exceeding mighty; go up, and possess it, that we may give thanks unto the Lord. 61 And the children of Gad and the children of Ruben spake, saying, 62 Our sires have told us, saying, 63 What ye have spoken ye shall do, as we have heard. 64 And rise up, take your journey, and go into the land of Canaan, the possession of the Lord; and possess it, and give thanks unto the Lord. 65 And now we will come in, 66 and possess it, that we may give thanks unto the Lord; and it shall be, when we have possessed it, that we will give thanks to the Lord. 67 And the children of Gad and the children of Ruben spake, saying, 68 Our sires sent us forth to speak unto thee, saying, 69 What ye have spoken ye shall do, as we have heard in the ears of our sires; thou shall speak, saying, 70 The Lord our God went up from Kadesh-barnea into the wilderness, 71 and led us through many days, through the wilderness; and he gave us rest 72 on this land, whose inhabitants we destroyed. 73 And it was good in our eyes to bring forth all this people, and we are able to bear it, and go up into this land; and why should the land of our fathers 74 fall to our portion? 75 Our sires have spoken to us, saying, 76 What ye have spoken ye shall do, as we have heard. 77 And now, if ye will give us these cities of pasture, in the land of Jordan, we will go up and possess it; 78 and will leave our brethren, 79 the children of Israel, of whom only half a tribe, 80 to possess it with us for a possession; our sires have spoken to us, saying, 81 What ye have spoken ye shall do, as we have heard.
And Moses said to them, If ye will do according to these words, if ye will arm yourselves before the Lord for battle, and every one of you will pass over Jordan fully armed before the Lord, until his enemy be destroyed from before his face, and the land be subdued before the Lord, then afterwards ye shall return, and be guiltless before the Lord and as regards Israel; and this land shall be to you for a possession before the Lord. But if ye will not do so, ye will sin against the Lord; and ye shall know your sin, when afflictions shall come upon you. And ye shall build for yourselves cities for your store, and folds for your cattle; and ye shall do that which proceeds out of your mouth.

And Moses appointed to them for judges Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nau, and the chiefs of the families of the tribes of Israel. And Moses said to them, If the sons of Ruben and the sons of Gad will pass over Jordan with you, every one armed for war before the Lord, and ye shall subdue the land before you, then ye shall give to them the land of Galad for a possession. But if they will not pass over armed with you to war before the Lord, then shall ye cause to pass over their possessions and their wives and their cattle before you into the land of Chanaan, and they shall inherit with you in the land of Chanaan. And the sons of Ruben and
And Moses gave to them, even to the sons of Gad and the sons of Ruben, and to the half tribe of Manasse of the sons of Joseph, the kingdom of Seon king of the Amorites, and the kingdom of Og king of Basan, the land and its cities with its coast, the cities of the land round about.

And the sons of Gad and the sons of Ruben and the half tribe of Manasse crossed the Jordan; and the land, which they encamped in, they possessed of the Amorites.

And Moses gave to the sons of Gad and to the sons of Ruben and the half tribe of Manasse cities on this side Jordan eastward, even as Moses had spoken them.

And Moses gave them Medeba and its villages, and Jordan eastward, even as far as Abel-shaph on the side eastward.

And the altar stood on the process of Medeba.

And the altar that was before the Lord was of brass:

And he gave to the sons of Gad, and to the sons of Ruben, and the half tribe of Manasse cities, with their villages, even as Moses had spoken them.

And they departed from the land of Moab, and encamped in Medeba.

And Moses gave to the sons of Gad, and to the sons of Ruben, and the half tribe of Manasse cities on this side Jordan eastward, even as Moses had spoken them.

And Moses gave them the cities of Jabin king of Canaan, and the country thereof, even as far as the sea of Chinnereth eastward, and the cities of half the land of Canaan, even as far as Tabor eastward.

they departed from Raphidim, and encamped in the wilderness of Sina. 18 And they departed from the wilderness of Sina, and encamped at the Graves of Lust. 19 And they departed from the Graves of Lust, and encamped in Aseroth. 20 And they departed from Aseroth, and encamped in Ratham. 21 And they departed from Ratham, and encamped in Remmon Phares. 22 And they departed from Remmon Phares, and encamped in Lebna. 23 And they departed from Lebna, and encamped in Rassan. 24 And they departed from Rassan, and encamped in Makellath. 25 And they departed from Makellath, and encamped in Saplar. 26 And they departed from Saplar, and encamped in Cheradath. 27 And they departed from Cheradath, and encamped in Makeloth. 28 And they departed from Makeloth, and encamped in Kataath. 29 And they departed from Kataath, and encamped in Tarrath. 30 And they departed from Tarrath, and encamped in Mathbeca. 31 And they departed from Mathbeca, and encamped in Selmona. 32 And they departed from Selmona, and encamped in Masuruth. 33 And they departed from Masuruth, and encamped in Banea. 34 And they departed from Banea, and encamped in the mountain Gadgad. 35 And they departed from the mountain Gadgad, and encamped in Etebath. 36 And they departed from Etebath, and encamped in Ebron. 37 And they departed from Ebron, and encamped in Geshon Gaber. 38 And they departed from Geshon Gaber, and encamped in the wilderness of Sin; and they departed from the wilderness of Sin, and encamped departed from Saplar, Pharan; this is Cades. 39 And they departed from Cades, and encamped in mount Or near the land of Edom.

And Aaron the priest went up by the command of the Lord, and died there in the fortieth year of the departure of the children of Israel from the land of Egypt, in the plains of Paran, in the wilderness of Edom, on the first day of the month. 41 And Aaron was a hundred and twenty-three years old, when he died in mount Or. 42 And Arad the Chananites king (he too dwelt in the land of Chanaan) having heard when the children of Israel were entering the land—43 then they departed from mount Or, and encamped in Selmona. 44 And they departed from Selmona, and encamped in Phino. 45 And they departed from Phino, and encamped in Oboh. 46 And they departed from Oboth, and encamped in Gai, on the other side Jordan on the borders of Moab. 47 And they departed from Gai, and encamped in Dabo Gab. 48 And they departed from Dabo Gab, and encamped in Gelmon Debathaim. 49 And they departed from Gelmon Debathaim, and encamped on the mountains of Abarim, over against Nabau. 50 And they departed from the mountains of Abarim, and encamped on the west of Moab, at Jordan by Jericho. 51 And they encamped by Jordan between Oesmoth, as far as Belsa to the west of Moab.

52 And the Lord spoke to Moses at the west of Moab by Jordan at Jericho, saying,
51 Then Jordan toward Iericho, going, entering upon that land, which ye shall inherit, before your face, ye shall abolish their high places, and all their molten images ye shall destroy, and ye shall demolish all their pillars. 52 And ye shall destroy all the inhabitants of the land, and ye shall dwell in it, for I have given their land to you for an inheritance. 53 And ye shall inherit their land according to your tribes; to the greater number of your tribes shall ye give the lands of the greater number; and to the smaller ye shall give the less possession; to whatsoever part a man's name shall go forth by lot, there shall his property: ye shall inherit according to the tribes of your families. 54 But if ye will not destroy the dwellers in the land from before you, then it shall come to pass that whatsoever ye shall receive shall be thorns in your eyes, and darts in your sides, and ye shall be enemies to you on the land on which ye shall dwell; 55 and it shall come to pass that as I determined to do to them, so I will do to you. 56 And the Lord spake to Moses, saying, 57 Charge the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Ye are to pass over Jordan into the land of Chanaan. 58 And ye shall destroy all that dwell in the land, before your face, ye shall destroy the high places, and all their molten images ye shall destroy, and ye shall demolish all their pillars. 59 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Ye are to pass over Jordan into the land of Chanaan. 60 And ye shall destroy all that dwell in the land before your face; ye shall abolish their high places, and all their molten images ye shall destroy, and ye shall demolish all their pillars.
according to their families; and the half tribe of Manasse have received their inheritances. Two tribes and half a tribe have received their inheritance beyond Jordan by Jericho from the south eastward.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, These are the names of the men who shall divide the land to the tribe for an inheritance in the land of Canaan; and Joshua the son of Nun. And ye shall take one ruler from each tribe to divide the land to you by lot.

And these are the names of the men; of the tribe of Judah Caleb the son of Jephunneh. Of the tribe of Simeon, Salum the son of Semnad. Of the tribe of Levi, Eliaa the son of Cisun. Of the tribe of Dan the prince was Bacebr the son of Egli. Of the sons of Joseph, the tribe of Manasse, the prince was Aniel the son of Sapup. Of the tribe of the sons of Ephraim, the prince was Camuel the son of Sabatban. Of the tribe of Zabulon, the prince was Elizaph of the sons of Phunu. Of the tribe of Issachar, the prince was Phaltiel the son of Oza. Of the tribe of the children of Aser, the prince was Achitor the son of Selem. Of the tribe of Nephthin, the prince was Phadael the son of Jamid.

These did the Lord command to distribute the inheritances to the children of Israel in the land of Chanaan.

And the Lord spoke to Moses to the west of Moab by Jordan near Jericho, saying, Give orders to the children of Israel, and they shall give to the Levites cities to dwell in from the lot of their possession, and they shall give to the Levites the suburbs of the cities round about. And the cities shall be for them to dwell in, and their enclosures shall be for their cattle and all their beasts. And the suburbs of the cities which ye shall give to the Levites, shall be from the wall of the city and outwards two thousand cubits round about. And thou shalt measure off the city from the east side, two thousand cubits, and on the south side two thousand cubits, and on the west side two thousand cubits, and on the north side two thousand cubits; and your city shall be in the midst of this, and the suburbs of the cities as described. And ye shall give the cities to the Levites, the six cities of refuge which ye shall give for the slayer to flee thereto, and in addition to these, forty-two cities. Ye shall give to the Levites in all forty-eight cities, them and their suburbs.

And as for the cities which ye shall give out of the possession of the children of Israel, from those that have much ye shall give much, and from those that have less ye shall give less: they shall give of their cities to the Levites one according to his inheritance which they shall inherit.

And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Ye are to cross over Jordan into the land of Canaan. And ye shall appoint to yourselves cities: they shall be to you cities of refuge for the slayer to flee to, every one who has killed another unintentionally. And the cities shall be

B Or, the houses of their families.
C Or, inherit the land for you.
D Or, lots.
E Or, the Levites.
F Or, districts, i.e. spaces marked off. Or, special offerings of land, e.g. d. glebe lands. This latter sense is probably the right one here.
G Or, smite a life.
And let the cities, which ye shall assign, even the six cities, shall be places of refuge for you. Ye shall assign three cities on the other side of Jordan, and ye shall assign to the cities of refuge, which ye shall assign, all the cities of Chanaan.

It shall be a place of refuge for the children of Israel, and for the stranger, and for him that sojourns among you; these cities shall be for a place of refuge, for every one to flee thither who has killed a man unintentionally.

And if he should smite him with an iron instrument, and the man should die, he is a murderer; let the death of the slayer by all means be put to death. And if he should smite him with a stone thrown from his hand, whereby a man may die, and he thus die, he is a murderer; let the slayer by all means be put to death. And if he should smite him with an instrument of wood from his hand, whereby he may die, and he thus die, he is a murderer; let the slayer by all means be put to death.

The avenger of blood himself shall slay the murderer; whosoever he shall meet him he shall slay him. And if he should thrust him through enmity, or cast any thing upon him from an ambuscade, and the man should die, or if he have smitten him with his hand through anger, and the man should die, he shall put the slayer to death by all means; but he is a murderer; let the murderer by all means be put to death; the avenger of blood shall slay the murderer when he meets him.

But if he should thrust him suddenly, not through enmity, or cast any thing upon him, not from an ambuscade, or smite him with any stone, whereby a man may die, unawares, and it should fall upon him, and he should die, but he was not his enemy, nor sought to hurt him; then the assembly shall judge between the smiter and the avenger of blood, according to these judgments. And the congregation shall rescue the slayer from the avenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the city of refuge whither he fled for refuge; and he shall abide there among the high priest, whom they anointed with the holy oil.

But if the slayer should in any wise go out beyond the bounds of the city whither he fled for refuge, and the avenger of blood should find him without the bounds of the city of his refuge, and the avenger of blood should kill the slayer, he is not guilty. For he ought to have remained in the city of refuge till the high priest died; and after the death of the high priest the slayer shall return to the land of his possession.

And these things shall be to you for an ordinance of judgment throughout your generations in all your dwellings. Whoever slays a man, thou shalt slay the murderer upon the testimony of witnesses: and one witness shall not testify against a soul that he should die.

And ye shall not accept ransoms for life from a murderer who slays a man; but he shall give at the judgment of his blood, as he slew a man, so shall his own blood be taken.

And the city of refuge was to thee, that he might flee thither, and take him; and he might live. And if a seducer seduces any man from his inheritance, he hath committed a capital sin: and he shall be cut off from Israel, and the congregation shall put away from among themselves him that commits seduction with his neighbor's wife: and they shall put away the seducer from among Israel. And they shall not deliver him into the hand of his enemy: for he hath done to his neighbor an unrighteous and a very sinfull thing: he is guilty of sinning against his neighbor; therefore they shall put away from among themselves him that commits seduction.

And they shall deliver him into the hand of the congregation, and they shall stone him with stones, that he die, because he hath done a thing that is quite wicked, and hath committed a sin against his neighbor. And they shall not deliver the slayer into the hand of his enemy: for he is the avenger to shed blood; wherefore ye shall take away his life from his hand. When ye shall beget seed in the land, and ye shall multiply, and ye shall walk in the land, then ye shall take ye shall take away from your seed the blood of any of your seed, because he hath murdered, and cursed the blood of an innocent person, whereof ye shall take away his life from his hand.
is worthy of death, for he shall be surely put to death. Ye shall not accept a ransom to excuse his fleeing to the city of refuge, so that he should again dwell in the land, until the death of the high priest. So shall ye not defile with murder the land, upon which ye dwell; for this blood pollutes the land, and the land shall not be purged from the blood shed upon it, but by the blood of him that shed it. And ye shall not defile the land wherein ye dwell, on which I dwell in the midst of you; for I am the Lord dwelling in the midst of the children of Israel.

And the heads of the tribe of the sons of Gilead the son of Machir the son of Manasse, of the tribe of the sons of Joseph, drew near, and spoke before Moses, and before Eleazar the priest, and before the heads of the houses of the families of the children of Israel: and they said, The Lord commanded our lord to render the land of inheritance by lot to the children of Israel; and the Lord appointed our lord to give the inheritance of Salpaad our brother to his daughters. And they will become wives in one of the tribes of the children of Israel; so their inheritance shall be taken away from the possession of our fathers, and shall be added to the inheritance of the tribe into which the women shall marry, and shall be taken away from the portion of our inheritance. And if there shall be a release of the children of Israel, then shall their inheritance be added to the inheritance of the tribe into which the women shall marry, and their inheritance shall be taken away from the inheritance of our family's tribe.

And Moses charged the children of Israel by the commandment of the Lord, saying, Thus says the Lord to the children of Joseph. This is the thing which the Lord has appointed the daughters of Salpaad, saying, Let them marry where they please, only let them marry men of their father's tribe. So shall not the inheritance of the children of Israel go about from tribe to tribe, for the children of Israel shall stead- fastly continue each in the inheritance of his family's tribe. And whatever daughter is heir to a property of the tribes of the children of Israel, such women shall be married each to one of her father's tribe, that the sons of Israel may each inherit the property of his father's tribe. And the inheritance shall not go about from one tribe to another, but the children of Israel shall steadfastly continue each in his own inheritance.

As the Lord commanded Moses, so did they to the daughters of Salpaad. So Tharsis, and Eglah, and Milcah, and Nama, and Malak, the daughters of Salpaad, married their cousins; they were married to men of the tribe of Manasse of the sons of Joseph; and their inheritance was attached to the tribe of their father's family. These are the commandments, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, at the west of Moab, at Jordan by Jericho.

These are the words which Moses spoke to all Israel on this side Jordan in the desert towards the west near the Red Sea, between Pharan Tophol, and Lobon, and Aulon, and the gold works. 2 It is a journey of eleven days from Choreb to mount Seir as far as Cades Barne. 3 And it came to pass in the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first day of the month, Moses spake to all the children of Israel, according to all things which the Lord commanded him for them: 4 after he had smitten Seon king of the Amorites who dwelt in Esebon, and Og the king of Basan who dwelt in Astaroth and in Edrain; 5 beyond Jordan in the land of Moab, Moses began to declare this law, saying, 6 The Lord your God spake to us in Choreb, saying, Let it suffice you to have dwelt so long in this mountain. 7 Turn ye and depart and enter into the mountain of the Amorites, and go to all that dwell near about Arba, to the mountain and the plain and to the south, and the land of the Channanites near the sea, and Antilibanus, as far as the great river, the river Euphrates. 8 Behold, God has delivered the land before you; go in and inherit the land, which I spake to your fathers, Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob, to give it to them and to their seed after them. 9 And I spake to you at that time, saying, I shall not be able by myself to bear you. 10 The Lord your God has multiplied you, and, behold, ye are to-day as the stars of heaven for multitude. 11 The Lord God of your fathers yodd you to you a thousandfold more than you are, and bless you as he has spoken to you. 12 How shall I alone be able to bear your labour, and your burden, and your gainsayings? 13 I take to yourselves wise and understanding and prudent men for your tribes, and I will set your leaders over you. 14 And ye answered me and said, The thing which thou hast told us is good to do. 15 So I took of you wise and understanding and prudent men, and I set them to rule over you as rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, and rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens, and officers to your judges. 16 And I charged your judges at that time, saying, Hear causes between your brethren, and judge rightly between a man and his brother, and the stranger that is with him. 17 Thou shalt not have respect to persons in judgment, thou shalt judge small and great equally; thou shalt not shrink from before the person of a man, for the judgment is God's; and whatsoever matter shall be too hard for you, ye shall bring it to me, and I will hear it. 18 And I charged upon you at that time all the commands which ye shall perform.

19 And we departed from Choreb, and went through all that great wilderness and terrible, which ye saw, by the way of the mountain of the Amorite, as the Lord our God charged us, and we came as far as Cades Barne. 20 And I said to you, Ye have come as far as the mountain of the Amorite, which the Lord our God gives to you: 21 behold, the Lord your God has delivered to us the land before you: go up and inherit it as the Lord God of your fathers said to you: fear not, neither be afraid. 22 And ye all came to me, and said, Let us send men before us, and let them go up and of the cities into which we shall enter. 23 And the saying pleased me, and I took of the twelve men, one man of a tribe. 24 And they turned and went up to the mountain, and they came as far as the valley of the cluster, and surveyed it. 25 And they took in their hands of the fruit of the land, and brought it to you, and said, The land is good which the Lord our God gives us.

26 Yet ye would not go up, but rebelled against the words of the Lord our God. 27 And ye murmured in your tents, and said, Because the Lord hated us, he has brought us out of the land of Egypt to deliver us into the hands of the Amorites, to destroy us. 28 Whither do we go up? and your brethren drew away your heart, saying, It is a great nation and populous, and mightier than we; and there are cities great and walled up to heaven: moreover we saw there the sons of the giants. 29 And the Lord turned, and said, I will destroy them. 30 Go therefore, ye men of the tribe, and choose you captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties and captains of tens, and every man his man, and let them come over to me here. 31 And I took the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and the captains of fifties and captains of tens, and every man his man, and let them come to me here. 32 And in this matter ye believed not the Lord God who goes before you, he shall fight against them together with you effectually, according to all that he wrought for you in the land of Egypt; and in this wilderness which ye saw, by the way of the mountain of the Amorite; 33 show the Lord thy God that he will hear thee as a nursing mother, as any man should nurse his child, through all the way which ye have gone until ye came to this place.

34 And in this matter ye believed not the Lord our God, who goes before you in the way to choose you a place, guiding you in fire by night, shewing you the way by which ye go, and a cloud by day.

40 And we departed from Choreb, and went through all that great wilderness and terrible, which ye saw, by the way of the mountain of the Amorite, as the Lord our God charged us, and we came as far as Cades Barne. 41 And I said to you, Ye have come as far as the mountain of the Amorite, which the Lord our God gives to you: 42 behold, the Lord your God has delivered to us the land before you: go up and inherit it as the Lord God of your fathers said to you: fear not, neither be afraid. 43 And ye all came to me, and said, Let us send men before us, and let them go up and of the cities into which we shall enter. 44 And the saying pleased me, and I took of the twelve men, one man of a tribe. 45 And they turned and went up to the mountain, and they came as far as the valley of the cluster, and surveyed it. 46 And they took in their hands of the fruit of the land, and brought it to you, and said, The land is good which the Lord our God gives us.

47 Yet ye would not go up, but rebelled against the words of the Lord our God. 48 And ye murmured in your tents, and said, Because the Lord hated us, he has brought us out of the land of Egypt to deliver us into the hands of the Amorites, to destroy us. 49 Whither do we go up? and your brethren drew away your heart, saying, It is a great nation and populous, and mightier than we; and there are cities great and walled up to heaven: moreover we saw there the sons of the giants. 50 And the Lord turned, and said, I will destroy them. 51 Go therefore, ye men of the tribe, and choose you captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties and captains of tens, and every man his man, and let them come over to me here. 52 And I took the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and the captains of fifties and captains of tens, and every man his man, and let them come to me here. 53 And the Lord heard the voice of your words, and being greatly provoked he swore, saying, 54 Not one of these men shall see this good land, which I swore to their fathers, except Chaleb the son of Jephonne, he shall see it; and to him I will give the land on which he went up, and to his sons, because he attended to the things of the Lord. And the Lord was angry with me for my sake, saying, Neither shalt thou thou by any means enter therein. 9 And to the son of Nave, who stands by thee, he shall enter in there; do thou strengthen him, for he shall cause Israel to inherit it. 10 And every young child who this day knows not good or evil,—they shall enter therein, and to them I will give it, and they shall inherit it.

And ye turned and marched into the wilderness, in the way by the Red Sea.

And ye answered and said, We have sinned before the Lord our God; we will go up and fight according to all that the Lord our God has commanded us: and having taken every one his weapons of war, and being gathered together, ye went up to the mountain. And the Lord said to me, Tell them, Ye shall not go up, neither shall ye fight, for I am not with you; thus shall ye not be destroyed before your enemies. And I spoke to you, and ye did not hearken to me; and ye transgressed the commandment of the Lord our God, and ye for your own way and went up into the mountain.

And the Amorites, who dwelt in that mountain came out to meet you, and pursued you as bees do, and wounded you from Seir even to Horma. And ye sat down and wept before the Lord our God, and the Lord hearkened not to your voice, neither did he take heed to you.

And ye dwelt in Cades many days, as many days as ye dwelt there.

And we turned and departed into the wilderness, by the way of the Red Sea, as the Lord spoke to me, and we compassed mount Seir many days. And the Lord said to me, Ye have compassed this mount long enough; turn therefore toward the north. And ye obedience the people, saying, Ye are going through the borders of your brethren the children of Esau, who dwell in Seir; and they shall fear you, and dread you greatly. Do not engage in war against them, for I will not give you of their land even enough to set your foot upon, for I have given mount Seir to the children of Esau as an inheritance. Buy food of them for money and eat, and ye shall receive water of them by measure for money, and drink. For the Lord our God has blessed thee in every work of thy hands. Consider how thou wentest through that great and terrible wilderness; behold, the Lord thy God has been with thee forty years; thou didst not lack any thing.

And we passed by our brethren the children of Esau, who dwelt in Seir, by the way of Arabs from Azlon and from Geseon Gaber; and we turned and passed by the way of the desert of Moab.

And the Lord said to me, Do not ye quarrel with the Moabites, and do not engage in war with them; for I will not give you of their land for an inheritance, for I have given Aror to the children of Lot to inherit. Formerly the Omnim dwelt in...
And the days in which we travelled from Cades Barne till we crossed the valley of Zaret, were thirty and eight years, until the whole generation of the men of war failed, dying out of the camp, as the Lord God spake to them. And the hand of the Lord was upon them to destroy them out of the midst of the camp, until they were consumed.

And it came to pass when all the men of war dying out of the midst of the people had fallen, that the Lord spake to me, saying, Thou shalt pass over this day the borders of Ashhur. And ye shall draw nigh to the children of Ammon: do not quarrel with them, nor wage war with them; for I will not give thee of the land of the children of Ammon for an inheritance, because I have given it to the children of Lot for an inheritance. It shall be accounted a land of Raphan, for the Raphan dwelt there before, and the Ammonites call it Zochonimin. A great nation and populous, and mighty than you, as also the Enakim: yet the Lord destroyed them from before them, and they inherited their land, and they dwelt there instead of them until this day. As they did to the children of Esau that dwell in Seir, even as they destroyed the Chorhite from before them, and inherited their country, and dwelt therein instead of them until this day. And the Evites who dwell in Asedoth to Gaza, and the Cappadocians who came out of Cappodocia, destroyed them, and dwelt in their room.

Now then arise and depart, and pass the valley of Arnon, behold, I have delivered into thy hand Seion the king of Esbon the Amorite, and his land: begin to inherit it: engage in war with him this day. Begin to put thy terror and thy fear on the face of all the nations under heaven, who shall be troubled when they have heard thy name, and shall be in anguish before thee.

And I sent ambassadors from the wilderness of Kedemoth to Seion king of Esbon with peaceable words, saying, I will pass through thy land: I will go by the road, I will not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. Thou shalt give me food for money, and I will eat; and thou shalt give me water for money, and I will drink; I will only go through on my feet: as the sons of Esau did to me, who dwell in Seir, and I dwelt in Seir, until I shall have passed Jordan into the land which the Lord our God gives us. And it, a great and numerous nation and powerful, like the Enakim. These also shall be accounted Raphan like the Enakim; and the Moabites call them Omnim. And the Chorhite dwelt in Seir before, and the sons of Esau destroyed them, and utterly consumed them from before them; and they dwelt in their place, as Israel did to the land of his inheritance, which the Lord gave to them. Now then, arise ye, and I, and depart, and cross the valley of Zaret.

Seon king of Esebon would not that we should pass by him, because the Lord our God hardened his spirit, and made his heart stubborn, that he might be delivered into thy hands, as on this day.

31 And the Lord said to me, Behold, I have begun to deliver before that Seon the king of Esebon the Amorite, and his land, and do thou begin to inherit his land. 32 And Seon the king of Esebon came forth to meet us, and all his people to war at Jassa. 33 And the Lord our God delivered him before our face, and we smote him, and his sons, and all his people. 34 And we took possession of all his cities at that time, and we utterly destroyed every city in succession, and their wives, and their children; we left no living prey. 35 Only we took the cattle captive, and took the spoil of the cities. 36 From Aror, which is by the brink of the brook of Arnon, and the city which is in the valley, and as far as the mount of Galaad; there was not a city which escaped us, all the cities we utterly destroyed all of them into our hands. 37 Only we did not draw near to the children of Amman, even all the parts bordering on the brook Jaboc, and the cities in the mountain country, as the Lord our God charged us.

And we turned and went by the way leading to Basan; and Og the king of Basan came out to meet us, he and all his people, to battle at Edraim. 3 And the Lord said to me, Fear him not, for I have delivered him, and all his people, and all his land, into thy hands; and thou shalt do to him as thou didst to Seon king of the Amorites who dwelt in Esebon. 4 And the Lord our God delivered him into our hands, even Og the king of Basan, and all his people; and we smote him until we left none of his seed.

4 And we mastered all his cities at that time; there was not a city which we took not from the hand of Og in Basan: 5 all strong cities, lofty walls, gates and bars; besides the very many cities of the Pherezites. 6 We utterly destroyed them as we dealt with Seon the king of Esebon, so we utterly destroyed every city in order, and the women and the children, 7 and all the cattle; and we took for a prey to ourselves the spoil of the cities.

8 And we took at that time the land out of the hands of the two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond Jordan, extending from the brook of Arnon even unto Aeron. 9 The Phænicians call Aeron Sanior, but the Amorite has called it Sanir. 10 All the cities of Misor, and all Galaad, and all Basan as far as Elotus (unto Edraim, cities of the kingdom of Og in Basan). 11 For only Og the king of Basan was left of the Ra-phain: behold, his bed was a bed of iron; behold, it is in the chief city of the children of Ammon; the length of it is nine cubits, and the breadth of it four cubits, according to the cubit of a man. 13 And we inherited that land at that time from Aroer, which is by the border of the torrent Arnon, and half the mount of Gilead; and I gave his cities to Ruben and to Gad. 14 And the rest of Gilead, and all Bashan the kingdom of Og I gave to the half-tribe of Manasseh, and all the country about Aroab, all that the Lord our God gave them; for it should be accounted the land of Raphaim. 15 And Jair the son of Manasseh took all the country round about Argoab as far as the borders of Gerges and Machaithi; he called them by his name Basan Thothoth Jair until this day. 16 And to Mefilir I gave Gilead. 17 And to Ruben and to Gad I gave the land under Gilead as far as the brook of Arnon, the border between the brook and as far as Jaboc; the brook is the border to the children of Amman. 18 And Araba and Jordan are the boundary of Machacathar, even to the sea of Araba, the salt sea under Asedoth Phaisga eastward.

13 And I charged you at that time, saying, The Lord your God has given you this land by lot; arm yourselves, everyone one that is powerful, and go before your brethren the children of Israel. 14 Only your wives and your children and your cattle (I know that you have much cattle), let them dwell in your cities which I have given you; 15 until the Lord your God give your brethren rest, as also he has given to you, and they also shall inherit the land, which the Lord our God gives them on the other side of Jordan; then ye shall return, each one to his inheritance which I have given you.

21 And I commanded Joshua at that time, saying, Your eyes have seen all things, which the Lord our God did to these two kings: so shall the Lord our God do to all the kingdoms against which thou crossest over thither. 22 Ye shall not be afraid of them, because the Lord our God himself shall fight for you.

23 And I besought the Lord at that time, saying, Lord God, thou hast begun to shew thy servant thy strength, and thy power, and thy mighty hand, and thy high arm; for what God is there in heaven or on the earth, who will do as great things as our God has done? 24 And I will therefore go over and see this good land that is beyond Jordan, this good mountain and Antilibanus.

25 And the Lord because of you did not regard me, and hearkened not to me; and the Lord said, It sufficeth thee, speak not of this matter to me any more. 26 Go up to the top of the quarried rock, and look with thine eyes westward, and northward, and southward, and eastward, and behold it with thine eyes, for thou shalt not go over this Jordan. 27 And charge Joshua, and strength him, and encourage him; for he shall go before the face of this people, and he shall give them the inheritance of all the land which thou hast seen. 28 And we abode in the valley near the house of Phigor.
And now, Israel, hear the ordinances and judgments, all that I teach you this day to do: that ye may live, and be multiplied, and that ye may go in and inherit the land, which the Lord God of your fathers giveth you. Ye shall not add to the word which I command you, and ye shall not take from it: keep the commandments of the Lord your God, all that I command you this day.

Your eyes have seen all that the Lord our God did in the case of Beel-phegor; for every nation that went before you the Lord your God has utterly destroyed him from among you. But ye that kept close to the Lord your God are all alive to-day.

Behold, I have shown you ordinances and judgments as the Lord commanded me, that ye should do so in the land which ye go to inherit it. And ye shall keep and do them: for this is your wisdom and understanding before all nations, as many as shall hear all these ordinances; and they shall say, Behold, this great nation is a wise and understanding people.

For what manner of nation is so great, which has God so near to it, as to hear his words whereby he commandeth them this day? for plenteous things in whatsoever we may call upon him? And what manner of nation is so great, which has righteous ordinances and judgments according to all this law, which I set before you this day?

Take heed to thyself, and keep thy heart diligently: forget not any of the things, which thine eyes have seen, and let them not depart from thine heart all the days of thy life; and thou shalt teach thy sons and thy sons' sons, even the things that happened in the day in which ye stood before the Lord our God in Choreb.

And ye drew nigh and stood under the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire up to heaven: there was darkness, blackness, and tempest.

And the Lord spoke to you out of the midst of the fire: ye heard not the voice of words, which ye heard; and ye saw no likeness, only ye heard a voice. And he announced to you his covenant, which he commanded you to keep, even the ten commandments; and he wrote them on two tables of stone.

And the Lord commanded me at that time, to teach you ordinances and judgments, that ye should do them on the land, into which ye go to inherit it. And take good heed to your hearts, for ye saw no similitude in the day in which the Lord spoke to you in Choreb in the mountain out of the midst of the fire: lest ye transgress, and make to yourselves a carved image, any kind of figure, the likeness of male or female, the likeness of any beast of those that are on the earth, the likeness of any winged bird which flies under heaven, the likeness of any reptile which creeps on the earth, the likeness of any fish of those which are in the waters under the earth; and last having looked upon the sky, and having seen the sun and its light and the mountains and the stars, and all the heavenly bodies, thou shouldst go astray and worship them, and serve them, which the Lord thy God has distributed to all the nations under heaven. But God took you, and led you forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the iron furnace, out of Egypt, to be to him a people of inheritance, as at this day.

21 And the Lord God was angry with me for the things said by you, and I said, that I should not go over this Jordan, and that I should not enter into the land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance. For 40 I am to die in this land, and shall not pass over this Jordan; but ye are to pass over, and shall inherit this good land. Take heed to yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the Lord our God, which he made with you, and ye transgress, and make to yourselves a graven image of any of the things concerning which the Lord thy God commanded thee. For the Lord thy God is a consuming fire, a jealous God.

And when thou shalt have begotten sons, and shalt have sons' sons, and ye shall have dwelt a long time on the land, and shall have transgressed, and made a graven image of any thing, then shall ye stand and pronounced before the Lord your God to provoke him; I call heaven and earth this day to witness against you, that ye shall surely perish from off the land, into which ye go across Jordan to inherit it there; ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall be utterly cut off. And the Lord shall scatter you among all nations, and ye shall be left few in number among all the nations, among which the Lord shall bring you. And ye shall there serve other gods, the works of the hands of men, wood and stones, which cannot see, nor can they hear, nor eat, nor smell. And there ye shall seek the Lord your God, and ye shall find him whenever ye shall seek him with all your heart, and with all your soul in your affliction. And all these things shall come upon thee in the last days, and thou shalt turn to the Lord thy God, and shalt hearken to his voice. Because the Lord thy God is a God of pity; he will not forsake thee, nor destroy thee; he will not forget the covenant of thy fathers, which the Lord swears to them.

Ask of the former days which were before thee, from the day when God created man upon the earth, and beginning at the one end of heaven to the other end of heaven, if there was anything like to this great event, if such a thing has been heard: if a nation have heard the voice of the living God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard and last lived; if God has assayed to go and take himself, a nation out of the midst of another nation, and trial, and with signs, and with wonders, and with war, and with a mighty hand, and with a high arm, and with great sights, according to all the things which the
Deuteronomy

Lord our God did in Egypt in thy sight. So that thou shouldst know that the Lord thy God he is God, and there is none beside him. His voice was made audible from heaven to instruct thee, and he shewed thee upon the earth his great fire, and thou hearest his words out of the midst of the fire.

Because he loved thy fathers, he also chose thee their seed after them, and he brought thee himself with his great strength out of Egypt, to destroy nations great and strong that were before thy face, to bring them in, to give thee their land to inherit, as thou hast it this day.

And thou shalt know this day, and shalt consider in thine heart, that the Lord thy God he is God in heaven above, and on the earth beneath, and there is none else but he. And keep ye his commandments, and his ordinances, all that I command you this day; that it may be well with thee, and with thy children after thee, unto the uttermost part of the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee for ever.

Then Moses separated three cities beyond Jordan on the east, that the slayer might flee thither, who should have slain his neighbour unintentionally, and should not have hated him in times past, and he shall flee to one of these cities and live: Besor in the wilderness to the plain of country of Ruben, and Ramoth in Gilead belonging to Sihon, and Golan in Bashan belonging to Masanass.

This is the law which Moses set before the children of Israel. These are the testimonies, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which Moses spake to the sons of Israel, when they came out of the land of Egypt: on the other side of Jordan, in the valley near the house of Phobor, in the land of Seon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Esebon, whom Moses and the sons of Israel smote when they came out of the land of Egypt. And they inherited the land, and the land of Og king of Bashan, two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond Jordan eastward. From Asero, which is on the border of the brook Armon, even to the mount of Seon, which is Aserom. All Araba beyond Jordan eastward under Asadoth hewn in the rock.

And Moses called all Israel, and said to them, Hear Israel, the ordinances and judgments, all that I speak in your ears this day, and ye shall learn them, and observe to do them. The Lord your God made a covenant with you in Choreb. The Lord did not make this covenant with your fathers, but with you: ye are all here alive this day. The Lord spake to you face to face in the mountain out of the midst of the fire. And I stood between the Lord and you at that time to repeat the words of the Lord, (because ye were afraid before the fire, and ye went not up to the mountain,) saying, I am the Lord thy God, who brought

238 ΔΕΥΤΕΡΟΝΜΙΟΝ.

Thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

7 Thou shalt have no other gods before my face. 8 Thou shalt not make to thyself an image, nor likeness of any thing, whatsoever things are in the heaven above, and whatsoever are in the earth beneath, and whatsoever are in the waters under the earth. 9 Thou shalt not bow down to them, nor shalt thou serve them; for I am the Lord thy God, a jealous God, visiting the sins of the fathers upon the children to the third and fourth generation to them that hate me, and doing mercifully to thousands of them that love me, and that keep my commandments. 10 Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain, for the Lord thy God will certainly not acquit him that takes his name in vain.

11 Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God commanded thee. Six days thou shalt work, and thou shalt do all thy works; but on the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: thou shalt not do in it any work, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, thy man-servant, and thy maid-servant, thy ox, and thy ass, and all thy cattle, and the stranger that sojourns in the midst of thee; that thy man-servant may rest, and thy maid, and thine ox, as well as thou. And thou shalt remember that thou wast a slave in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God brought thee out thence with a mighty hand, and a high arm; therefore the Lord appointed thee to keep the sabbath day and to sanctify it. 12 Honour thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God commanded thee; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest live long upon the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee. 13 Thou shalt not commit murder. 14 Thou shalt not steal. 15 Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.

These words the Lord spoke to all the assembly of you in the mountain out of the midst of the fire—there was darkness, blackness, storm, a loud voice—and he added no more and he wrote them on two tables of stone, and he gave them to me. And it came to pass when ye heard the voice out of the midst of the fire, that ye came to me, even all the heads of your tribes, and your elders: and ye said, Behold, the Lord our God has shewn us his glory, and we have heard his voice out of them on the midst of the fire: this day we have seen that God shall speak to man, and he shall live. And now let us not die, for this great fire will consume us, if we shall hear the voice of the Lord our God any more, and we shall die. For that the fire is there which has heard the voice of the living God, speaking out of of the midst of the fire, as we have heard, and

The scribe has transcribed the text of Deuteronomy from the original Hebrew manuscript, which includes the Ten Commandments. The text is written in Greek, indicating the translation or the copying process. The content is consistent with the religious and legal prescriptions outlined in the biblical text, emphasizing the importance of the Sabbath, the honor of parents, and the prohibition of murder and theft. The passage reflects the narrative of the Israelite history, emphasizing the commandments given by God to the people through Moses. The scribe has noted that honor of parents is a key commandment, and the text is marked with the mention of historical and cultural references, such as the Ten Commandments and the Mount Sinai event.

27 Then shall ye return, and bring up all the people of thy congregation, which were under thy curse, unto Mount Sinai, thou, and all the people of Israel with thee...

28 And the Lord heard the voice of your words as ye spoke to me; and the Lord said to me, I have heard the voice of the words of this people, even all things that they have said to thee. There have no their words, that they

30 Go, say to them, Return ye to your houses; but stand thou here with me, and I will tell thee all the commands, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which thou shalt teach them, and let them do so in the land which I give them for an inheritance.

31 And ye shall take heed to do as the Lord thy God commanded thee; ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left, according to all the way which the Lord thy God commanded thee to walk in, that he may give thee rest; and that it may be well with thee, and ye may prolong your days on the land which ye shall inherit.

32 Hear, therefore, O Israel, and observe to do them, that it may be well with thee, and that ye may be greatly multiplied, as the Lord God of thy fathers said that he would give thee a land flowing with milk and honey, and great and beautiful cities, which thou didst not build; houses full of all good things which thou didst not find; wells dug in the rock which thou didst not dig, vine-and oliveyards which thou didst not plant, then having eaten and been filled, be before lest thou forget the Lord thy God, that brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, through the midst of the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God was very angry with thee, and destroy thee from off the face of the earth.

Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God, as thou tempted him in the temptation.

Thou shalt by all means keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, the feasts, and the ordinances, which he commanded thee. And thou shalt do that which is pleasing and good before the Lord thy God, that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and inherit the good land, which the Lord sware to your fathers, to chase all thine enemies from before thee, as the Lord said.

And it shall come to pass when thy son shall ask thee at a future time, saying, What are the testimonies, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which the Lord our God has commanded us?

Then shalt thou say to thy son: We were enslaved in Egypt, and the Lord brought us forth thence with a mighty hand, and with a high arm. And the Lord sware to our fathers, and brought us out thence to give us this land, which he charged us to observe all these ordinances; to fear the Lord our God, that it may be well with us for ever, that we may live, as ever to-day. And there shall be mercy to us, if we take heed to keep all these commands before the Lord our God, as he has commanded us.

And when the Lord thy God shall bring thee into the land, into which thou goest to possess it, and shall remove great nations from before thee, the Chittite, and Gergesite, and Amorite, and Channahite, and Pherezite, and Jebusite, seven nations more numerous and stronger than you, and the Lord thy God shall deliver them into thy hands, then thou shalt smite them: thou shalt utterly destroy them: thou shalt not make a covenant with them, neither shall ye pity them: neither shall ye contract marriages with them: thou shalt not give thy daughter to his son, and thou shalt not take his daughter to thy son. For he will draw away thy son from me, and he will serve other gods; and the Lord will be very angry with you, and will soon utterly destroy thee. But thus shall ye do to them: ye shall destroy their altars, and shall break down their pillars, and shall cut down their groves, and shall burn with fire the graven images of their gods. For thou art a holy people to the Lord thy God; and the Lord thy God chose thee to be him a peculiar people beyond all nations that are upon the face of the earth.

It was not because ye are more numerous than all other nations that the Lord preferred you, and the Lord made choice of you: for ye are fewer in number than all other nations.

But because the Lord loved you, and as keeping the oath which he sware to your fathers, the Lord brought you out with a strong hand, and the Lord redeemed thee from the house of bondage, out of the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt.

Thou shalt know therefore, that the Lord thy God, he is God, a faithful God, who keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him, and for those that keep his commandments to a thousand generations, and who recompenses them that hate him to their face, to destroy them utterly; and will not be slack with them that hate him: he will recompense them to their face.

Thou shalt keep therefore the commandments, and the ordinances, and these judgments, which I command thee this day, and it shall come to pass when ye shall have heard these ordinances, and shall have kept and done them, that the Lord thy God shall keep for thee the covenant and the mercy, which he sware to your fathers.

And he will love thee, and bless thee, and multiply thee: and he will bless the offspring of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, and the corn, and thy wine, and thine oil, the herds of thine oxen, and the flocks of thine sheep, on the land which the Lord sware to thy fathers to give to thee.

Thou shalt be blessed beyond all nations; there shall not be among you an impotent or barren one, nor among thy cattle.

And the Lord thy God shall remove from thee all sickness; and none of the evil diseases of Egypt, which thou hast seen, and all that thou hast known, will he lay upon thee; but he will lay them upon all that hate thee.

And thou shalt eat all the spoils of the nations which the Lord thy God gives thee; thine eye shall not spare them, and thou shalt not serve their gods; for this is an abomination to the Lord thy God.

But if thou shouldst say in thine heart, This nation is greater than I, how shall I be able to destroy them utterly?

thou shalt not fear them; thou shalt surely remember all that the Lord thy God did to Pharaoh and to all the Egyptians:

the great temptations which thine eyes have seen, those signs and great wonders, the strong hand, and the high arm; how the Lord thy God brought thee forth: so the Lord your God will do to all the nations, whom thou, fearest in their presence.

And the Lord thy God shall send against them the horns, until they that are left and they that are hidden from thee be utterly destroyed.

Thou shalt not be wounded before them, because the Lord thy God is in the midst of thee, a great and powerful God.

And the Lord thy God shall consume these nations before thee by little and little: thou shalt not be able to consume them speedily, lest the land become desert.
and the wild beasts of the field be multiplied against thee. And the Lord thy God shall deliver them into thy hands, and thou shalt destroy them with a great destruction, until ye shall have utterly destroyed them. And he shall deliver their kings into your hands, and ye shall destroy their name from that place; none shall stand up in opposition before thee, until thou shalt have utterly destroyed them. Ye shall take some of the fire of the graven images of their gods: thou shalt not covet their silver, neither shalt thou take to thyself gold from them, lest thou shouldst offend thereby, because it is an abomination to the Lord thy God. And thou shalt not bring an abomination into thine house, so shouldest thou be an accursed thing like unto thee: thou shalt utterly hate it, and altogether abominable it, because it is an accursed thing.

Ye shall observe to do all the commands which I charge you to-day, that ye may live, and be multiplied, and enter in and inherit the land, which the Lord your God spareth to give to your fathers; a land flowing with milk and honey, wherein thou shalt dwell. burst in a good and extensive land, where there are torrents of waters, and fountains of deep places issuing through the plains and through the mountains: a land of wheat and barley, wherein are vines, figs, and pomegranates; a land of olive oil and honey; a land on which thou shalt not eat thy bread with poverty, and thou shalt not want any thing upon it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of its mountains thou shalt dig brass.

And thou shalt eat and be filled, and shalt bless the Lord thy God on the good land, which he has given thee. Take heed to thyself that thou forget not the Lord thy God, as so as not to keep his commands, and his judgments, and ordinances, which I command thee this day: lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein; and thy horses be multiplied, and thy silver and thy gold be multiplied to thee, and all thy possessions are multiplied to thee, thou shouldst be exalted in heart, until thou forget the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

Deuteronomy VIII. 15—IX. 10.

The Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, brought thee through that great and terrible wilderness, where is the biting serpent, and scorpion, and drought, where there was no water; who brought thee a fountain of water out of the flinty rock; who fed thee with manna in the wilderness, which thou knewest not, and thy fathers knew not; that he might afflict thee, and try thee, and do thee good in thy latter days.

Lest thou shouldst say in thine heart, My strength, and the power of mine hand have wrought for me this great wealth. But thou shalt remember the Lord thy God, that he gives thee strength to get wealth; even that he may establish his covenant, which the Lord swore to thy fathers, as at this day.

And it shall come to pass if thou do at all forget the Lord thy God, and shalt go after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall surely perish. As also the other nations which the Lord God destroys before your face, so shall ye perish, because ye have hearkened not to the voice of the Lord your God.

Hear, O Israel! Thou goest this day across Jordan to inherit nations greater and stronger than yourselves, cities great and walled up to heaven; a people great and many and tall, the sons of Enac, whom thou knowest, and concerning whom thou hast heard, who can stand before the children of Enac? And thou shalt know to-day, that the Lord thy God he shall go before thy face: he is a consuming fire; he shall destroy them, and he shall turn them back before thee, and shall destroy them quickly, as the Lord said to thee.

Speak not in thine heart, when the Lord thy God has destroyed these nations before thy face, that the Lord brings me in to inherit this good land. But for thy righteousness, nor for the holiness of thy heart, dost thou go in to inherit their land, but because of the wickedness of these nations the Lord will destroy them from before thee, and that he may establish the covenant, which the Lord swore to our fathers, to Abraam, and to Isaac, and to Jacob.

And thou shalt know to-day, that it is not for thy righteousnesses the Lord thy God gives thee this good land to inherit, for thou art a stiff-necked people. Remember, forget not, how much thou provokedst the Lord thy God in the wilderness: from the day that ye came forth out of Egypt, even till ye came into this place, ye continued to be disobedient toward the Lord.

Also in Choreb ye provoked the Lord, and the Lord was angry with you to destroy you; when I went up into the mountain to receive the tables of stone, the tables of the covenant, which the Lord made with you, and I was in the mountain forty days and forty nights, I ate no bread and drank no water. And the Lord gave me the two tables of stone written with the finger of God, and on them there had been written all the words which the Lord spoke to you in the mountain in the day of the assembly.

ΔΕΥΤΕΡΟΝΟΜΙΟΝ

3 And it came to pass after forty days and forty nights, the Lord gave me the two tables of stone, the tables of the covenant. 4 And the Lord spake to me, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiff-necked people. 5 And now suffer me utterly to destroy them, and I will blot out their name from under heaven, and will make of thee a nation great and strong, and more numerous than they, whom I sent unto thee. 6 And I turned and went down from the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire to heaven; and the two tables of the testimonies were in my hands. 7 And when I saw that ye had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made to yourselves a molten image, and had gone astray out of the way which I commanded you, and have made yourselves a molten image.

8 And the Lord spake to me, saying, I have spoken to thee once and again, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiff-necked people. 9 And now suffer me utterly to destroy them, and I will blot out their name from under heaven, and will make of thee a nation great and strong, and more numerous than they, whom I sent unto thee. 10 And I turned and went down from the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire to heaven; and the two tables of the testimonies were in my hands. 11 And when I saw that ye had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made to yourselves a molten image, and had gone astray out of the way which I commanded you, and have made yourselves a molten image.

12 And the Lord spake to me, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiff-necked people. 13 And now suffer me utterly to destroy them, and I will blot out their name from under heaven, and will make of thee a nation great and strong, and more numerous than they, whom I sent unto thee. 14 And I turned and went down from the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire to heaven; and the two tables of the testimonies were in my hands. 15 And when I saw that ye had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made to yourselves a molten image, and had gone astray out of the way which I commanded you, and have made yourselves a molten image.

16 And the Lord spake to me, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiff-necked people. 17 And now suffer me utterly to destroy them, and I will blot out their name from under heaven, and will make of thee a nation great and strong, and more numerous than they, whom I sent unto thee. 18 And I turned and went down from the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire to heaven; and the two tables of the testimonies were in my hands. 19 And when I saw that ye had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made to yourselves a molten image, and had gone astray out of the way which I commanded you, and have made yourselves a molten image.

20 And the Lord spake to me, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiff-necked people. 21 And now suffer me utterly to destroy them, and I will blot out their name from under heaven, and will make of thee a nation great and strong, and more numerous than they, whom I sent unto thee. 22 And I turned and went down from the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire to heaven; and the two tables of the testimonies were in my hands. 23 And when I saw that ye had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made to yourselves a molten image, and had gone astray out of the way which I commanded you, and have made yourselves a molten image.

24 And the Lord spake to me, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiff-necked people. 25 And now suffer me utterly to destroy them, and I will blot out their name from under heaven, and will make of thee a nation great and strong, and more numerous than they, whom I sent unto thee. 26 And I turned and went down from the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire to heaven; and the two tables of the testimonies were in my hands.

10 In my sight, what is to be done for this people that has sinned?
11 And I said, If you will give the land to their kinsmen, and they will accept it and live in it, then give it to them.
12 And if you will not give it to them, then judge it, and bring it before the priests, and with the priests present divide the land among you.

13 And the land is to be divided among the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, according to the number of their people.

14 And the wilderness by which you have gone will be your inheritance, and it will be your land for a possession.

15 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

16 And you shall not train your sons to be idolaters, nor shall you bring gifts to their gods.

17 And you shall not make for yourself a idol in secret, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

18 And you shall not take the name of the Lord your God in vain, for the Lord will not hold him guiltless who takes his name in vain.

19 And you shall keep the statutes of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

20 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

21 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

22 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

23 And you shall not make for yourself a idol in secret, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

24 And you shall keep the statutes of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

25 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

26 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

27 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

28 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

29 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

30 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

31 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

32 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

33 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

34 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

35 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

36 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

37 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

38 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

39 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

40 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

41 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

42 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

43 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

44 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

45 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

46 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

47 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

48 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

49 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

50 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

51 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

52 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.

53 And you shall not make any idols for yourselves, nor shall you worship the Lord your God with your heart and with your soul.

54 And you shall keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and you shall walk in his ways, and serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

55 And you shall not go after other gods, nor shall you worship them.
for the stranger and orphan and widow, and he loves the stranger to give him food and garment. 10 And ye shall love the stranger; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.

And ye shall fear the Lord thy God, and serve him, and shalt cleave to him, and shall swear by his name. 11 He is thy boast, and he is thy God, who hath wrought in the midst of thee these great and glorious things, which thine eyes have seen. 12 With seventy souls your fathers went down into Egypt; but the Lord thy God has made thee as the stars of heaven in multitude.

Therefore thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and shalt observe his appointments, and his ordinances, and his commandments, and his judgments, always. 2 And ye shall know this day; for I speak not to your children, who know not and have not seen the discipline of the Lord thy God, and his wonderful works, and his strong hand, and his high arm, 3 and his miracles, and his wonders, which he wrought in the midst of Egypt on Pharaoh king of Egypt, and all his land; 4 and what he did to the host of the Egyptians, and to their chariots, and their canons, and to their host; how he made the water of the Red Sea to overwhelm the face of them as they pursued after you, and the Lord destroyed them until this day; 5 and all the things which he did to you in the wilderness until ye came into this place; 6 and all things that he did to Dathan and Abiram the sons of Eliab the son of Ruben, whom the earth opening her mouth swallowed up, and their houses, and their tents, and all their substance that was with them, in the midst of all Israel: 7 for your eyes have seen all the mighty works of the Lord, which he wrought among you to-day.

8 And ye shall keep all his commandments, as many as I command thee to-day, that ye may live, and be multiplied, and that ye may go in and inherit the land, into which ye go across Jordan to inherit it: 9 that ye may live long upon the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee for an inheritance, him and his children after him, many days; 10 that thou goest to inherit it, is not as the land of Egypt, whence ye came out, whatsoever they sow the seed, and water it with their feet, as a garden of herbs: 11 but the land into which thou goest to inherit it, is a land of mountains and plains; it shall drink water of the rain of heaven. 12 A land which the Lord thy God surveys continually, the eyes of the Lord thy God are upon it from the beginning of the year to the end of the year.

13 Now if ye will indeed hearken to all the commandments which I charge thee this day, to love the Lord thy God, and to serve him with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, 14 then he shall give thee thy land the early and latter rain in its season, and thou shalt bring in thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil, and all fruit of thy fields to thy cattle; and when thou hast eaten and art full, 15 take heed to thyself that thy eyes may not be satiated with ease, and that thou forget the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

16 Therefore thou shalt remember the Lord thy God, that he brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, 17 and thou shalt have no other gods before the Lord.

18 Ye shall remember the Lord thy God, for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth, that he may establish his covenant which he swore to thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. 19 And he said, I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and thy seed after thee in their generation, for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee. 20 And I will give unto thee the land of the heathen, and of their亶s, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates. 21 And I will make thy seed like the dust of the earth; so that if a man can number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seed also be numbered. 22 Fear the Lord thy God, and serve him, and keep his commandments, and his statutes, and his judgments, that thy soul may be long-lived in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee after thy fathers, a land flowing with milk and honey. 23 And he said, Behold, I have given thee this day the land, to be thy inheritance; from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates, 24 to the great sea toward the west, and to all the land of the Chanaanites, and to the Lebanon toward the north, and to all the Hittites, and to all the Jebusites, and to all the Canaanites, from the river of Egypt unto the great sea toward the west.

25 And the Lord appeared unto Jacob at Luz, in the land of Canaan, and sanctified it for an inheritance: 26 and said unto the oxen, I am the God of thy father, Isaac; and thou shalt do me service, and shalt serve me with thy strength in the day of my age. 27 And thou shalt serve my father Isaac, and he shall bless thee. 28 And the Lord took knowledge of Abraham. 29 And the Lord appeared unto him in the supper of time, and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac; and he shall inherit the land before me: and I will give it thee. 30 And the Lord said, Unto thy seed shall it be given. 31 And he builded an altar there, and called upon the name of the Lord. 32 And he went into the land of Egypt, because of a famine which was in the land of Canaan; and Aaron died there. 33 And Pharaoh dealt unjustly unto the Hebrews; and they cried, and the Lord heard their cry. 34 And Pharaoh said, I will deal no more unjustly unto the Hebrews; and he hasted them out of his land. 35 And the Lord said unto Moses, Lo, I will send my might upon Pharaoh, and upon Egypt, and will bring out my people the children of Israel from the land of Egypt. 36 And Pharaoh shall not let you go, except ye shall bring his servants, your children, your flocks, your herds, and your land. 37 And I will give this people favour in the sight of the Egyptians: and it shall come to pass, when ye go, that ye shall not go empty: 38 but ye shall take of the cattle of the Egyptians, which I shall give unto you, of all sorts of beasts, even of the cattle of Pharaoh, and of the cattle of his servants. 39 And thou shalt bring up my people the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt. And thou shalt give them inheritance and land. 40 And the Lord said unto Moses, Lo, I come down into thee, and will speak with thee, and will take of thy spirit, and will give it unto the people that are in thy sight, and they shall hear. 41 And the Lord said unto Moses, I will be with thee, and will shew mine abundance upon thee in the sight of Pharaoh, and in the sight of his servants, and shall turn the waters of Egypt into blood. 42 And I will put a smothering upon the heaven thereof, and the earth shall not deliver up her fruit, and there shall be no bread in all the land of Egypt; and I will cast live Plagues upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, that the land of Egypt may know that I am the Lord. 43 And the Lord said unto Moses, When thou hast done all those things, go into the land of Canaan, which I will give thee, for a possession. 44 And I will make thy name great upon the earth, and there shall be men that shall bring out of all nations my name, and shall say of thee, The Lord hath done great things for them. 45 And I will bless them that bless thee, and him that curseth thee will I curse: and in thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed.

And ye shall teach them to your children, so as to speak about them when thou sittest in the house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou sleepest, and when thou risest up. And ye shall write them on the gates of thy house, and on thy gates;... that your days may be long, and the days of your children, upon the land which the Lord... to your fathers to give to them, as the days of heaven upon the earth. And it shall come to pass that if ye will indeed hearken to all these commandments, which I charge thee to observe this day, to love the Lord your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to cleave close to him;... then the Lord shall cast out all these nations before you, and ye shall inherit great nations and other than yourselves. Every place whereon the sole of your foot shall tread shall be yours;... the wilderness and Anti-libanus, and from the great river, the river Euphrates, even as far as the west sea shall be your coasts. No one shall stand before you... and ye shall have brought thee into the land into which thou goest over to inherit it, then thou shalt put blessing on Mount Garizim, and the curse upon Mount Ebal. Lo!... are not these beyond Jordan, behind, westward in the land of Chanaan, which lies westward near Golgoth, by the high oak... For ye are passing over Jordan, to go in and possess the land, which the Lord our God gives you to inherit always, and ye shall dwell in it.

... Behold, I set before you this day... the blessing and the curse;... the blessing, if ye hearken to the commands of the Lord your God, all that I command you this day;... and the curse, if ye do not hearken to the commands of the Lord our God, as many as I command you this day, and ye wander from the way which I have commanded you, having gone to serve other gods, which ye know not, and shall come to pass when the Lord thy God shall have brought thee into the land into which thou goest over to inherit it, then thou shalt put blessing on Mount Garizim, and the curse upon Mount Ebal. Lo!... are not these beyond Jordan, behind, westward in the land of Chanaan, which lies westward near Golgoth, by the high oak... For ye are passing over Jordan, to go in and possess the land, which the Lord our God gives you to inherit always, and ye shall dwell in it.

... And ye shall take heed to do all his ordinances, and these judgments, as many as I set before you to-day. And these are the ordinances and the judgments, which ye shall observe to do in the land, which the Lord God of your fathers gives you for an inheritance, all the days which ye live upon the land. Ye shall utterly destroy all the places in which they served their gods, whose land ye inherit, on... the high mountains and on the hills, and under the thick tree. 2 And ye shall destroy their altars, and break in pieces their pillars, and ye shall cut down their groves, and ye shall burn with fire the graven images of their gods, and ye shall abolish their name out of that place. 3 Ye shall not do so to the Lord your God. 4 But in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose in one of your cities to name his name there, and to be called upon, ye shall even seek him out and go thither. 5 And ye shall carry thither your whole burnt-offerings, and your sacrifices, and your first-fruits, and your vows-offerings, and your freewill-offerings, and your offerings of thanksgiving, the first-born of your herds, and of your flocks. 6 And ye shall eat there before the Lord your God, and ye shall rejoice in all the things on which ye shall lay your hand, ye and your houses, as the Lord your God has blessed you.

9 Ye shall not do altogether as we do here to-day, every man that is pleasing in his own sight. 10 For hitherto ye have not arrived at the rest and the inheritance, which the Lord our God gives you. 11 And ye shall go over Jordan, and shall dwell in the land, which the Lord our God takes as an inheritance for you; and he shall give you rest from all your enemies round about, and ye shall dwell safely. 12 And there shall be a place which the Lord thy God shall choose for his name to be called there, thither shall ye bring all things that I order you to-day; your whole burnt-offerings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and the first-fruits of your hands, and every choice gift of yours, whatsoever ye shall vow to the Lord your God. 13 And ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God, ye and your sons, and your daughters, and your men-servants and your maid-servants, and the Levite that is at your gates; because he has no portion or inheritance with you. 14 Take heed to thyself that thou offer not thy whole burnt-offerings and thy sacrifices at any place, which the Lord thy God shall choose, in one of thy tribes, there shall ye offer your whole burnt-offerings, and there shall thou do all things whatsoever I charge thee this day. 15 But thou shalt kill according to the all thy desire, and shalt eat flesh according to the blessing of the Lord thy God, which he has given thee in every city; the unclean that is within thee and the clean shall eat it on equal terms, as the doe or the stag. 16 Only ye shall not eat the blood; ye shall pour it out on the ground as water.

17 Thou shalt not be able to eat in thy cities the tithes of thy corn, and of thy wine, and of thine oil, the first-born of thine herd and of thy flock, and all thy vows as many as ye shall have vowed, and your thank-offerings, and the first-fruits of thine hand. 18 But before the Lord thy God thou shalt eat it, in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose for himself, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the aytous, eti twn orwewn twn vsikwn, kai eti twn thwn, kai uppokaw deyndrou dasewos. Deuteronomy XII. 19—XIII. 4.

stranger that is within thy gates; and thou shalt rejoice before the Lord thy God, on whatsoever thou shalt lay thine hand.

19 Take heed to thyself that thou do not desert the Levite all the time that thou livest upon the earth. 20 And if the Lord thy God shall enlarge thy borders, as he said to thee, and thou shalt say, I will eat flesh; if thy soul should desire to eat flesh, thou shalt eat flesh according to all the desire of thy soul. 21 And if the place be far from thee, which the Lord thy God shall choose to give thee, to the name be called upon it, then thou shalt kill of thy herd and of thy flock which God shall have given thee, even as I commanded thee, and thou shalt eat in thy cities according to the desire of thy soul. 22 As the dove and the stag are eaten, so shall thou eat it; the unclean in thee and the clean shall eat it in like manner. 23 Take diligent heed that thou eat not of thy blood, for the life of all flesh is the blood; and if the life be not taken away, it is not eaten with the flesh. 24 Ye shall not eat it; ye shall pour it out on the ground as water. 25 Thou shalt not eat it, that it may be well with thee and with thy sons after thee, if thou doest that which is good and pleasing before the Lord thy God. 26 But thou shall take thy holy things, if thou hast any, and thy vowed-offerings, and come to the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to give, thou shalt choose his name upon it. 27 And thou shalt sacrifice thy whole-burnt-offerings, thou shalt offer the flesh upon the altar of the Lord thy God; but the blood of thy sacrifices thou shalt pour out at the foot of the altar of the Lord thy God, but the flesh thou shalt eat. 28 Be- ware and hearken, and thou shalt do all the commands which I charge thee, that it may be well with thee and with thy sons for ever, if thou shalt do that which is pleasing and good before the Lord thy God.

29 And if the Lord thy God shall utterly destroy the nations, to whom thou goest, in thither to inherit their land, from before thee, and thou shalt inherit it, and dwell in their land; 30 take heed to thyself that thou seek not to follow them after them, as they are destroyed before thee, saying, How do these nations act towards their gods? I will do likewise. 31 Thou shalt not do so to thy God; for they have sacrificed to their gods the abominations of the Lord which he hates, for they burn their sons and their daughters in fire to their gods. 32 Every word that I command thee this day, it shall thou observe to do: thou shalt not add to it, nor diminish from it.

And if there arise within thee a prophet, or one who dreams a dream, and he gives thee a sign or a wonder, 2 and the sign or the wonder cometh to pass, which he spoke to thee, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which ye know not; 3 ye shall not hearken to the words of that prophet, or the dreamer of that dream, because the Lord thy God tries you, to know whether ye love your God with all your heart and with all your soul. 4 Ye shall follow the Lord your God, and fear him, and ye shall hear his voice, and attach yourselves to him. And that prophet or that dreamer of a dream, shall die; for he has spoken to make thee err from the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, who redeemed thee from bondage, to thrust thee out of the way which the Lord thy God commanded thee to walk in: so shalt thou abolish the evil from among you.

And if thy brother by thy father or mother, or thy son, or daughter, or thy wife in thy bosom, or friend who is equal to thine own soul, entreat thee secretly, saying, Let us go and worship other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, of the gods of the nations that are round about you, which are near thee or at a distance from thee, from one end of the earth to the other; thou shalt not consent to him, neither shalt thou hearken to him; and thine eye shall not spare him, thou shalt feel no regret for him, nor protect him; thou shalt surely report concerning him, and thy hands shall be upon him among the first to slay him, and the hands of all the people at the last. And they shall stone him with stones, and he shall die, because he sought to draw thee away from the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

And all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall not again do according to this evil thing among you.

And if in one of the cities which the Lord God gives thee to dwell therein, thou shalt hear men saying, Evil thing have been done among you, and all the inhabitants of the land of the fall away, saying, Let us go and worship other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, of the gods of the nations that are round about you. Thou shalt not consent to him, neither shalt thou hearken to him, but thou shalt utterly destroy all the inhabitants of their land to fall away, saying, Let us go and worship other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, of the gods of the nations that are round about you, and abominate the thing which the Lord thy God hath commanded thee not (near thee or at a distance from thee, from one end of the earth to the other).

And it shall come to pass, when he calleth thee as his servant, as the Lord thy God shall call thee, that thou shalt obey him with all thy heart, and with all thy soul.

And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt have set in the midst of thee the Holy Place, that thou shalt bring in the Levite of thy brother the Levite from the midst of thee, whom thou shalt take out of thy midst; thou shalt take him from thy midst, from the gate of thy place, which the Lord thy God shall give thee. Thou shalt anoint him with oil, and thou shalt set him before the Levite, whom thou shalt take out of thy midst; he shall be to thee as a priest, and thou shalt offer up after him the sacrifice of the Lord, which is thine.

And thou shalt not let his presence depart from thee, day or night, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee for inheritance, that thou mayest learn to fear the Lord thy God, evermore.

Moreover, the Levite, whom thou shalt take out of thy midst, thou shalt take him from thy brother the Levite, from the gate of thy place, which the Lord thy God shall give thee. Thou shalt give him a portion of thy inheritance, as well as thy sons and thy daughters, as well as thy Levites that are within thy gates. And thou shalt remember the Lord who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and thou shalt not do evil in his sight.

And the Lord shall rebuke thee and smite thee, and trouble thee, and give thee none of the desires of thine heart, none of thy labors, none of thy labors, and none of the good things of thy heart. Only thou shalt remember the Lord who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and thou shalt do evil in his sight, and rebuke thee and smite thee, and give thee none of the desires of thine heart, none of thy labors.

And the Lord shall rebuke thee and smite thee, and trouble thee, and give thee none of the desires of thine heart, none of thy labors, none of the good things of thy heart. Only thou shalt remember the Lord who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and thou shalt do evil in his sight, and rebuke thee and smite thee, and give thee none of the desires of thine heart, none of thy labors.
divides the hoofs, and makes claws of two divisions, and that chews the cud among beasts, these ye shall eat. 7 And these ye shall not eat of them that chew the cud, and of those that divide the hoofs, and make distinct claws; the camel, and the hare, and the rabbit; because they chew the cud, and do not divide the hoof, these are unclean to you;

8 Ye shall not eat the swine, because he divides the hoof, and makes claws of the hoof, yet he chews not the cud, he is unclean to you; ye shall not eat of their flesh, ye shall not touch their dead bodies.

9 And these ye shall eat of all that are in the water, ye shall eat all that have fins and scales. 10 And all that have not fins and scales ye shall not eat; they are unclean to you. 11 Ye shall eat every clean bird. 12 And these of them ye shall not eat; the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the sea-eagle, 13 and the vulture, and the kite, and the like to it, 14 and the sparrow, and the owl, and the swan, 15 and the heron, and the stork, and the cormorant, and the hawk, and its like, and the hoopoe, and the raven, 16 and the pelican, and the Tydor and the like to it, and the red-bill and the bat.

17 All winged animals that creep are unclean to you; ye shall not eat of them. 18 Ye shall not eat anything that dies of itself; it shall be given to the sojourner in thy cities and he shall eat it, or thou shalt sell it to a stranger, because thou art a holy people to the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not boil a lamb in his mother’s milk.

19 Thou shalt tithe a tenth of all the produce of thy seed, the fruit of thy field year by year. 20 And thou shalt eat it in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to have his name called there; ye shall bring the tithe of thy corn and of thy wine, and of thine oil, the first-born of thy herd and of thy flock, that thou mayest learn to fear the Lord thy God always. 21 And if the journey be too far for thee, and thou art not able to bring them, because the place is far from thee which the Lord thy God shall choose to put his name there, then thou shalt sell them for money, and thou shalt take the money in thy hands, and thou shalt go to the place which the Lord thy God shall choose. 22 And thou shalt give the money for whatsoever thy soul shall desire, for oxen or for sheep, or for wine, or thou shalt lay it out on strong drink, or on whatsoever thy soul may desire, and thou shalt eat there before the Lord thy God, and thou shalt rejoice and thy house, 23 and the Levite that is in thy cities, because he has not a portion or inheritance with thee.

24 After three years thou shalt bring out all the tithes of thy fruits, in that year thou shalt lay it up in thy cities. 25 And the Levite shall come, because he has no part or lot with thee, and the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow which is in thy cities; 26 and they shall be filled, that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the works which thou shalt do.
Every seven years thou shalt make a release. 2 And this is the ordinance of the release: thou shalt remit every private debt which thy neighbour owes thee, and thou shalt ask no pledge of it from thy brother; for it hath been called a release to the Lord thy God. 3 Of a stranger thou shalt ask again whatsoever he has of thine, but to thy brother thou shalt remit his debt to thee. 4 For thus there shall not be a poor person in the midst of thee, for the Lord thy God has surely blessed thee in the land which the Lord thy God gives thee by inheritance, that thou shouldst inherit it. 5 And if ye shall indeed hearken to the voice of the Lord your God, to keep and do all these commandments, as many as I charge thee this day, 6 (for the Lord thy God has blessed thee in the way of which he spoke to thee today, and all these nations, but thou shalt not borrow; and thou shalt rule over many nations, but they shall not rule over thee. 7 And if there shall be in the midst of thee a poor man of thy brethren in one of thy cities which the Lord thy God gives thee, 8 Thou shalt surely open thine hand to him, and shalt lend to him as much as he wants according to his need. 9 Take heed to thyself that there be not a secret thing in thine heart, an iniquity, saying, The seventh year, the year of release, is come near me; and thine eye shall be evil to thy brother that is in want, and thou shalt not give to him, and he shall cry against thee to the Lord, and there shall be great sin in thee. 10 Thou shalt surely give to him, and thou shalt lend him as much as he wants, according to his need, 11 not grudge in thine heart as thou givest to him, because on this account the Lord thy God will bless thee in all thy works, and in all things on which thou shalt lay thine hand. 12 For the poor shall not fall off thy land, therefore I charge thee to do this thing, saying, Thou shalt surely open thine hands to thy poor brother, and to him that is distressed upon thy land. 13 And if thy brother or sister, a Hebrew man or a Hebrew woman, be sold to thee, he shall serve thee six years, and in the seventh year thou shalt send him out free from thee. 14 And when thou shalt send him out free from thee, thou shalt not send him out empty. 15 Thou shalt give him provision for the way from thy flock, and from thy corn, and from thy wine; as the Lord thy God has blessed thee, thou shalt give to him. 16 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God redeemed thee; therefore I charge thee to do this thing; 17 And if he should say to thee, I will not go out from thee, because he continues to love thee and thy house, because he is well with thee; 18 then thou shalt take an awl, and bore his ear through to the door, and shall put his slave mark on him; and in like manner shalt thou do to thy maid-servant. 19 It shall not seem hard to thee when they are sent out free from thee, because they servent has served thee six years according to the annual hire of a hireling; so the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all things whatsoever thou mayest do.

19 Every first-born that shall be born among thy kindred and thy herd, thou shalt sanctify the males to the Lord thy God; thou shalt number the males with thy first-born calf, and thou shalt not shear the first-born of thy herd.

20 Thou shalt eat it before the Lord thy God in the place where the Lord thy God shall choose, thou and thy house.

21 And if there be in it a blemish, if it be lame or blind, an evil blemish, thou shalt not sacrifice it to the Lord thy God.

22 Thou shalt eat it in thy cities; the unclean in thee and the clean shall eat it in like manner, as the doe or the stag.

23 Only ye shall not eat the blood; thou shalt pour it out on the earth as water.

Observe the month of new corn, and thou shalt sacrifice the passover to the Lord thy God; because in the month of new corn thou comest out of Egypt by night.

And thou shalt sacrifice the passover to the Lord thy God, sheep and oxen for burnt-offerings, in the place where the Lord thy God shall choose to have his name called upon it.

3 Thou shalt not eat leaven with it; seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread with it, bread of affliction, because ye came forth out of Egypt in haste; that ye may remember the day of your coming forth out of the land of Egypt all the days of your life.

4 Leaven shall not be seen with thee in all thy borders for seven days, and there shall not be left of the flesh which thou shalt sacrifice at even on the first day until the morning.

5 Thou shalt not have power to sacrifice the passover in any of the cities, which the Lord thy God give thee.

6 But in the place where the Lord thy God shall choose, to have his name called there, thou shalt sacrifice the passover at even at the setting of the sun, at the time when thou camest out of Egypt.

7 And thou shalt boil and roast and eat it in the place, which the Lord thy God shall choose; and thou shalt return in the morning, and go to thy house.

8 Six days shalt thou eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day is a holiday, a feast to the Lord thy God: thou shalt not do in it any work, save what must be done by any one.

9 Seven weeks shalt thou number to thyself; when thou hast begun to put the sickle to the corn, thou shalt begin to number seven weeks.

10 And thou shalt keep the feast of weeks to the Lord thy God, accordingly as thy hand has power in all things according as the Lord thy God shall give thee.

11 And thou shalt rejoice before the Lord thy God, thou and thy son, and thy daughter, thy man-servant, and thy maid-servant, and the Levite, and the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow which dwells among you, in whatsoever place the Lord thy God shall choose, that his name should be called there.

12 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and thou shalt observe and do these commands.

13 Thou shalt keep for thyself the feast of tabernacles seven days, when thou gatherest in thy produce from thy corn-floor and thy wine-press. 14 And thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, thy man-servant, and thy maid-servant, and the Levite, and the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow that is in thy cities. 15 Seven days shalt thou keep a feast to the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose for himself; and if the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thy fruits, and in every work of thy hand, then thou shalt rejoice.

16 Three times in the year all the males appear before the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord shall choose; in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles: thou shalt not appear before the Lord thy God empty. 17 Each one according to his blessing of the Lord thy God which he has given thee.

18 Thou shalt make for thyself judges and officers in thy cities, which the Lord thy God gives thee in thy tribes, and they shall judge the people with righteous judgment: 19 they shall not wrest judgment; they shall not consider a gift for gifts blind the eyes of the wise, and pervert the words of the righteous. 20 Thou shalt justly purge justice, that ye may live, and go in and inherit the land which the Lord thy God gives thee.

21 Thou shalt not plant for thyself a vineyard; thou shalt not set up for thyself any tree near the altar of thy God. 22 Thou shalt not set up for thyself a pillar, which the Lord thy God hates.

23 Thou shalt not sacrifice to the Lord thy God a calf or a sheep, in which there is a blemish, or any evil thing; for it is an abomination to the Lord thy God.

24 And if there should be found in any one of thy cities, which the Lord thy God gives thee, a man or a woman who shall do that which is evil before the Lord thy God, so as to transgress his covenant, 25 and they should go and serve other gods, and worship them, the sun, or the moon, or any of the host of heaven, which I have not commanded them, 26 and it be told thee, and thou shalt have enquired diligently, and, behold, the thing really took place, this abomination has been done in Israel; then shalt thou bring out that man, or that woman, and ye shall stone them with stones, and they shall die. 27 He shall die on the testimony of two or three witnesses; a man who has put to death shall not be put to death for one witness. 28 And the hand of the witnesses shall be upon him among the first to put him to death, and the hand of the people at the last; so shalt thou remove the evil one from among yourselves.

29 And if a matter shall be too hard for thee in judgment, between blood and blood, and between cause and cause, and between stroke and stroke, and between contradiction and contradiction, matters of judgment in your cities; then thou shalt arise and go up to the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, and thou shalt come to the priests the Levites, and to the judge who Deuteronomy XVII. 10—XVIII. 5.

10 And thou shalt enter into the land which the Lord God giveth thee, and shalt inherit it and dwell in it, and shalt say, I will set a ruler over me, as also the other nations round about me; 11 but the man whosoever shall act in haughtiness, so as not to hearken to the priest who stands to minister in the name of the Lord thy God, or the judge who shall preside in those days, that man shall die, and thou shalt slay the evil one out of Israel. 12 And all the people shall hear and fear, and shall no more commit impiety.

13 And when thou shalt enter into the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt set a ruler over thee whom the Lord thy God shall choose: of thy brethren shalt thou set a ruler over thee; 14 that he may fear thee, to keep all the law of the Lord thy God, as this law is written, that thou mayest have continued prosperity in the land, which thou goest in to possess.

15 And they shall not set a ruler over them, which may lift up his heart to be a king over them; neither shall they set себе a man of the people to be their ruler: he shall be near unto thee, that he may fear thee, to keep all the law of the Lord thy God, as this law is written.

16 And he shall not set him a people over thee, which is so far from thee, that he may lift up his heart against thee. 17 But he shall set him near unto thee, that he may fear thee, to keep all the law of the Lord thy God, as this law is written, that thou mayest have continued prosperity and long life.

18 And it shall be, when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall set him a head over Israel; a man over the people of the Lord thy God, according to all these words for ever.

19 And the Levites shall dwell among all thy colleges as all the holy things of the Lord, and shall eat in all the chief places of all the people.

20 And the Levites shall have no inheritance among their brethren; the Lord himself is their portion, as he said to him. 21 And this is the due of the priests in the things coming from the people who offer sacrifices, whether it be bread or a calf; and thou shalt give the shoulder to the priest, and the cheeks, and the great intestine.

22 And the first-fruits of thy corn, and of thy wine, and of thy oil, and the firstlings of thy sheep and oxen, shall he have as thy hire; thou shalt give to him the first-fruits of the fleeces of thy sheep: because the Lord has chosen him out of all thy tribes, to stand before the Lord thy God, to minister and bless in his name, himself and his sons among the children of Israel.
And if a Levite come from one of the cities of all the children of Israel, where he himself dwells, accordingly as his mind desires, to the place which he shall have chosen, he shall minister to the name of the Lord his God, as all his brethren the Levites, who stand there present before the Lord thy God; and he shall not inherit an allotted portion besides the sale of his hereditary property. And when thou shalt have entered into the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not learn to do according to the abominations of those nations.

There shall not be found in thee one who purges his son or his daughter with fire, one who deals with omens, and augury, a soothsayer employing incantation, one who has in him a divine spirit, an observer of signs, questioning the dead. For every one that does these things is an abomination to the Lord thy God; for because of these abominations the Lord will destroy them from before thy face. Thou shalt be perfect before the Lord thy God. For all these nations whose land thou shalt inherit, they will listen to omens and divinations; but the Lord thy God has not permitted thee so to do.

The Lord thy God shall raise up to thee a prophet of thy brethren, like me; him shall ye hear: according to all things which thou didst desire of the Lord thy God in Choræb in the day of the assembly, saying, We will not again hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and we will not any more see this great fire, and so we shall not die. Of whom there is not one that is so blind as he shall have spoken; they have spoken right all that they have said to thee. I will raise up to them a prophet of their brethren, like thee; and I will put my words in his mouth, and he shall speak to them as I shall command him. And whatever man shall not hearken to whatsoever words which prophet shall speak in my name, I will utterly destroy him.

But the prophet whosoever shall impiously speak in my name a word which I have not commanded him to speak, and whosoever shall speak in the name of other gods, that prophet shall die. But if thou shalt say in thine heart, How shall we know the word which the Lord has not spoken? Whatsoever words that prophet shall speak in the name of the Lord, and they shall not come true, and not come to pass, this is the thing which the Lord has not spoken; that prophet has spoken wickedly: ye shall not spare him.

And when the Lord thy God shall have destroyed the nations, which God gives thee, even the land, and ye shall inherit them, and dwell in their cities, and in their houses, thou shalt separate for thyself three cities in the midst of thy land, which the Lord thy God gives thee. Take a survey of thy way, and thou shalt divide the coasts of thy land, which the Lord thy God apportioneth to thee, into three parts, and there shall be there a refuge for every manslayer.

For every one that does these things is an abomination to the Lord thy God; for because of these abominations the Lord will destroy them from before thy face. Thou shalt be perfect before the Lord thy God. For all these nations whose land thou shalt inherit, they will listen to omens and divinations; but the Lord thy God has not permitted thee so to do.

The Lord thy God shall raise up to thee a prophet of thy brethren, like me; him shall ye hear: according to all things which thou didst desire of the Lord thy God in Choræb in the day of the assembly, saying, We will not again hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and we will not any more see this great fire, and so we shall not die. Of whom there is not one that is so blind as he shall have spoken; they have spoken right all that they have said to thee. I will raise up to them a prophet of their brethren, like thee; and I will put my words in his mouth, and he shall speak to them as I shall command him. And whatever man shall not hearken to whatsoever words which prophet shall speak in my name, I will utterly destroy him.

But the prophet whosoever shall impiously speak in my name a word which I have not commanded him to speak, and whosoever shall speak in the name of other gods, that prophet shall die. But if thou shalt say in thine heart, How shall we know the word which the Lord has not spoken? Whatsoever words that prophet shall speak in the name of the Lord, and they shall not come true, and not come to pass, this is the thing which the Lord has not spoken; that prophet has spoken wickedly: ye shall not spare him.

And when the Lord thy God shall have destroyed the nations, which God gives thee, even the land, and ye shall inherit them, and dwell in their cities, and in their houses, thou shalt separate for thyself three cities in the midst of thy land, which the Lord thy God gives thee. Take a survey of thy way, and thou shalt divide the coasts of thy land, which the Lord thy God apportioneth to thee, into three parts, and there shall be there a refuge for every manslayer.

6 And if a Levite come from one of the cities of all the children of Israel, where he himself dwells, accordingly as his mind desires, to the place which he shall have chosen, he shall minister to the name of the Lord his God, as all his brethren the Levites, who stand there present before the Lord thy God; and he shall not inherit an allotted portion besides the sale of his hereditary property. And when thou shalt have entered into the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not learn to do according to the abominations of those nations.

There shall not be found in thee one who purges his son or his daughter with fire, one who deals with omens, and augury, a soothsayer employing incantation, one who has in him a divine spirit, an observer of signs, questioning the dead. For every one that does these things is an abomination to the Lord thy God; for because of these abominations the Lord will destroy them from before thy face. live, whosoever shall have smitten his neighbour ignorantly, whereas he hated him not in times past. 2 And whosoever shall enter among them, and his heart soothed the thicket, to gather wood, if the hand of him that cuts wood with the axe should be violently shaken, and the axe head falling off from the handle should light on his neighbour, and he should die, he shall flee to one of these cities, and live. 3 Lest the avenger of blood pursue after the slayer, because his heart faint, and he slay him, though he were not worthy of death; because he hated him not in time past. 4 Therefore I charge thee, saying, Thou shalt separate for thyself three cities.

And if the Lord shall enlarge thy borders, as he spake to thy fathers, and the Lord shall give to thee all the land which he said he would give to thy fathers; if thou shalt hearken to do all these commandments, which I charge thee this day, to love the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, continually; thou shalt add for thyself yet three cities to these. 5 So innocent blood shall not be split in the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee to inherit, and there shall not be in thee one guilty of blood.

But if there should be in thee a man hating his neighbour, and he should lay his hand to him, and smite him, that he die, and he should flee to one of these cities, 6 then shall the elders of his city send, and take him thence, and they shall deliver him into the hands of the avengers of blood, and he shall die. 7 Thine eye shall not spare him; so shalt thou purge innocent blood from Israel, and it shall be well with thee.

Thou shalt not move the landmarks of thy neighbour, which thy fathers set in the inheritance which I give thee this day, upon which thou hast obtained a share in the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee to inherit. 10 One witness shall not stand against a man for any iniquity, or for any fault, or for any sin which he may commit; 11 by the mouth of two witnesses, or by the mouth of three witnesses, shall every word be established. 12 And if an unjust witness rise up against a man, alleging iniquity against him; 13 then shall the two men between whom the controversy is, stand before the Lord, and before the priests, and before the judges, who may be in those days. 14 And the judges shall make diligent inquiry, and, behold, if an unjust witness has borne unjust testimony; and has stood up against his brother; 15 then shall ye do to him as he wickedly devised to do against his brother, and thou shalt remove the evil from yourselves. 16 And the rest shall hear and fear, and do no more according to this evil thing in the midst of you. 17 Thine eye shall not spare him: thou shalt exact life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

And the scribes shall speak to the people, saying, What man is he that has built a new house, and has not dedicated it? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the war, and another man dedicate it. 6 And what man is he that has planted a vineyard, and not been made merry with it? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man eat it. 7 And what man is he that has betrothed a wife, and has not taken her? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man take her. 8 And the scribes shall speak further to the people, and say, What man is he that fears and is afraid in his heart? let him go and return to his house, lest he make the heart of his brother fail, as his own. 9 And it shall come to pass when the scribes shall have ceased speaking to the people, that they shall appoint generals of the army to be leaders of the people.

And if thou shalt draw nigh to a city to overcome them by war, then call them out peaceably. 11 If then they should answer peaceably to thee, and open to thee, it shall be that all the people found in it shall be tributary and subject to thee. 12 But if they will not hearken to thee, but wage war against thee, thou shalt invest it; until the Lord thy God shall give it into thine hand, and thou shalt smite every male of it with the edge of the sword: 13 except the women and the stuff, and all the cattle, and whatsoever shall be in the city, and all the plunder thou shalt take as spoil for thyself, and shalt eat all the plunder of thine enemies whom the Lord thy God gives thee.

Thus shalt thou do to all the cities that are very far off from thee, not being of the cities of these nations which the Lord thy God gives thee to inherit their land. 16 Of these ye shall not take any thing alive; 17 but ye shall surely curse them, the Chettite, and the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, and the Jebusite, and the Amalekite, and all the nations which the Lord thy God commanded thee: 18 that they may not teach you to do all their abominations, which they did to their gods, and so ye should sin before the Lord thy God.

And if thou shouldest besiege a city many days to prevail against it by war to take it, thou shalt not destroy the trees thereof, 19 applying an iron tool to them, but thou shalt eat of it, and shalt not cut it down: Is the tree that is in the field a man, to enter before thee into the work of the

And if any man has a dispute with his father or his mother, and they should correct him, and he should not hearken to them; then shall his father and his mother take hold of him, and bring him forth to the elders of his city, and to the gate of his city. Then shall the men of their city say to the man of their city, This our son is disobedient and contentious, he hearkens not to our voice, he is a reveller and a drunkard. And the men of his city shall stone him with stones, and he shall die; and thou shalt remove the evil one from yourselves, and the rest shall hear and fear.

And if there be sin in any one, and the judgment of death be upon him, and he be put to death, and ye hang him on a tree: his body shall not remain all right upon the tree, but ye shall by all means bury it in that day; for every one that is hanged on a tree is abhorred of God; and ye shall not defile the land which the Lord thy God gives thee for an inheritance.

When thou seest the calf of thy brother or his sheep wandering in the way, thou shalt not overlook them; thou shalt by all means turn them back to thy brother, and thou shalt restore them to him. And if thy brother do not come forth to take them, and thou dost not know him, thou shalt bring it into thy house within; and it shall be with thee until thy brother shall seek them, and thou shalt restore them to him. Thus shalt thou do to his ass, and thus shalt thou do to every thing that thy brother has lost; whatsoever shall have been lost by him, and thou shalt have found, thou shalt not have power to overlook. Thou shalt not see the ass of thy brother, or his calf, fallen in the way: thou shalt not overlook them, thou shalt surely help him to raise them up.

The apparel of a man shall not be on a woman: neither shall a man put on a woman's dress; for every one that does these things is an abomination to the Lord thy God.

And if thou shouldst come upon a brood of birds before thy face in the way or upon any tree, or upon the earth, young or eggs, and the mother be brooding on the young or the eggs, thou shalt not take the dam with the young one. Thou shalt not by all means let the mother go, but thou shalt take the young to thyself; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest live long.

If thou shouldest build a new house, then shalt thou make a parapet to thy house; so thou shalt not bring blood-guiltiness upon thy house, if one should in any wise fall from it. Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with diverse seed, lest the fruit be devoted, and whatsoever seed thou mayest sow, with the fruit of thy vineyard.

Thou shalt not plough with an ox and an ass together. Thou shalt not wear a mingled garment, woollen and linen together.

And thou shalt make fringes on the four borders of thy garments, with which soever thou mayest be clothed.

The Ammonite and Moabite shall not enter into the assembly of the Lord, even until the tenth generation he shall not enter into the assembly of the Lord, even for ever: because they met you not with bread and water by the way, when ye went out of Egypt; and because they hired against you out of the land of Mesopotamia to curse thee. But the Lord thy God would not hearken to Balaam; and the Lord thy God changed the curses into blessings, because the Lord thy God loved thee. Thou shalt not speak peaceable or profitably to them all thy days for ever. Thou shalt not abhor an Egyptian, because thou wast a stranger in his land. If sons be born to them, in the third generation they shall enter into the assembly of the Lord. And if thou shouldest go forth to engage with thine enemies, then thou shalt keep thee from every wicked thing. If there should be in thee a man who is not clean by reason of his issue by night, then he shall go forth out of the camp, and he shall not enter into the camp. And it shall come to pass toward evening he shall wash his body with water, and when the sun is gone down, and the day is ended, then he shall go into thee. But the defiled thing thou shalt have a place outside of the camp, and thou shalt go out thither, and thou shalt have a tent on thy girdle; and it shall come to pass when thou wouldst relieve thyself abroad, that thou shalt dig with it, and shalt bring back the earth and cover thy nuisance. Because the Lord thy God walk in thy camp, to deliver thee, and to give up thine enemy before thy face: and thy camp shall be holy, and there shall not appear in thee a disgraceful thing, and so he shall turn away from thee. Thou shalt not deliver a servant to his master, who coming from his master attaches himself to another wicked with thee, he shall dwell among you where he shall please; thou shalt not afflict him. There shall not be a harlot of the daughters of Israel, and there shall not be a fornicator of the sons of Israel; there shall not be a fornicator of the daughters of Israel, and there shall not be an initiated person of the sons of Israel. Thou shalt not bring the hire of a harlot, nor the price of a dog into the house of the Lord thy God, for any vow; because even both are an abomination to the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not lend to thy brother on usury of silver, or usury of meat, or usury of any thing: but thou shalt lend out thine usury to all thy brethren. Thou mayest lend on usury to a stranger, but to thy brother thou shalt not lend on usury; that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all thy works upon the land, into which thou art entering to inherit it. And if thou wilt give a vow to the Lord thy God, thou shalt not delay to pay it; for the Lord thy God will surely require of thee, and otherwise it shall be sin in thee. But if thou shouldest be unwilling to vow, it is not sin in thee. Thou shalt observe the words that proceed from between thy lips; for his own sin. Thou shalt not wrest the judgment of the stranger and the fatherless, and widow; thou shalt not take the widow's garment for a pledge. 21 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God redeemed thee from thence; therefore I charge thee this thing.

And when thou shalt have reaped corn in thy field, and shalt have forgotten a sheaf, thou shalt not return to take it; it shall be for the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, to glean after thee in thy field. 22 And when thou shalt gather olives, thou shalt not glean what thou hast left; it shall be for the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow: and thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt; therefore I command thee to do this thing.

And if there should be a dispute between men, and they should come to judgment before the judges, and justify the righteous, and condemn the wicked: 2 then it shall come to pass, if the unrighteous should be worthy of stripes, thou shalt lay him down before the judges, and they shall scourge him before them according to his iniquity. 3 And if they shall scourge him with forty stripes in number, they shall not inflict more; for if thou shouldest scourge him with more stripes beyond these stripes, thy brother will be disgraced before thee. 4 Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treads out the corn.

And if brethren should live together, and one of them should die, and should not have seed, the wife of the deceased shall not marry out of the family to a man not related: her husband's brother shall go in to her, and shall take her to himself for a wife, and shall dwell with her. 5 And it shall come to pass that the child which she shall bear shall be named by the name of the dead; and his name shall not be blotted out of Israel.

And if the man should not be willing to take his brother's wife, then shall the woman go up to the gate to the elders, and she shall say, My husband's brother will not raise up the name of his brother in Israel, my husband's brother will not relieve me; and the elders of his city shall call him, and speak to him; and if he stand and say, I will not take her: 9 then his brother's wife shall come forward before the elders, and shall loose one shoe from off his foot, and shall spit in his face, and shall answer and say, Thus shall they do to the man who will not build his brother's house in Israel. And his name shall be called in Israel. The house of him that has had his shoe loosed.

12 Thou shalt not have in thy bag divers weights, a great and a small. 13 Thou shalt not have in thine house divers measures, a great and a small. 14 Thou shalt have a true and just weight, and a true and just measure: I the Lord your God give thee for an inheritance. For every one that doeth this is an abomination to the Lord thy God, even every one that does injustice.

15 Remember what things Amalec did to thee by the way, when thou wentest forth out of the land of Egypt: 16 how he withstood thee in the way, and harassed thy rear, even those that were weary behind thee, and thou didst hunger and wast weary; and he did not fear God. 17 And it shall come to pass whenever the Lord thy God shall give thee rest from all thine enemies round about thee, in the land which the Lord thy God gives thee to inherit, thou shalt blot out the name of Amalec from under heaven, and shalt not forget to do it.

18 And it shall be with him that entered into the land, which the Lord thy God gives thee to inherit, thou shalt say unto him, 19 And it shall be, when thine eyes shall see that which is written above these words, 20 thou shalt bless him, and say unto him, 21 And it shall come to pass, when the Lord your God shall enlarge thy border, as he hath sworn unto thee, saying, 22 And it shall come to pass, when the Lord shall establish thee upon thy people, as he hath sworn unto thee and to thy fathers, 23 that thou shalt arise and take all the male of thine seed, which are blesséd with thee, and go unto the place which the Lord shall choose in today.

24 And it shall be, if there be among you a poor of thy brethren, which are within any of thy gates, in thy land which the Lord thy God gives thee, 25 thou shalt not harden thine heart, nor shut thine hand from thy poor brethren; 26 but thou shalt open thine hand freely unto thy brethren, and toward all that are in want among thee.

27 When there shall be any poor among thee, and any of thy brethren be in want within any gates of thine, thou shalt not say unto him, Return again; but open thine hand freely unto him, and bless him; for it is because of the Lord thy God that he is given thee. 28 And thou shalt give unto him, and shalt surely give unto him, because that thine hand is open unto him, to give him, that he may live with thee, and be a witness against thee before the Lord thy God.

29 And it shall be, if thy brother that dwelleth by thee be poor, and sell himself unto thee, thou shalt not make him to serve as a bondman; 30 but thou shalt surely open thine hand unto him; and shalt lend him sufficient for his need, in such number of Shekalims, as is according to the measure of a congregation.

31 And it shall be, that when he calleth unto thee, 32 thou shalt open thine hand unto him, and shalt surely lend unto him sufficient for his need, in such number of Shekalims, as is according to the measure of a congregation.

33 And it shall be, if it be exceeding great unto thee, so that thou hast no power to give, if the man for whom thou art to give is one of thy brethren, thou shalt nevertheless give unto him on every year of the seven years, even of the land that thou dwell in, that he may live with thee.

34 And all that is exceeding that thou hast not power to give, thy brother shall come unto thee, and sell himself unto thee, or be hired by thee, or be a bondman of thy hand. 35 And it shall not seem to thee to be reproach to give him for his name is for life; and thou shalt not put him to death.

37 Thus shall thy brethren become to thee a burden, and the burden of thy sons, and thou shalt be wearied, and it shall be a sign against thee; 38 and thou shalt say in thine heart, I have not eaten herb, and I have not drunk wine: 39 neither have I clothed me in sumptuary, but the poor of my brother dwelt in my house. 40 And I was the servant of my brethren, and did keep my father's sheep; 41 and they压迫 me, and I said unto them, Why do ye oppress me? and they said, We see thee as a stranger, and we are not answerable for thy brother; put him from amongst us, and we will not see him.

42 And he shall say, He shall answer me for this evil; he is not better than I. 43 And he shall answer, He was my brother, and I was his helper: and the Lord may requite thee according to all these things. 44 He shall answer, It was my desire to help thee, and thou saidst not so: and I am this day a burden to thee. 45 He shall answer, For what hast thou not been a burden to me? I have been a helper to thee all the time; and thou hast not dealt with me according to the desire of thine heart. 46 And he shall answer, What have I sinned against thee, that thou shouldst have cast me out of thy presence?

47 And he shall answer, For what have I sinned, that thou mayest be a rejector of me? 48 He shall speak unto thee, and thou shalt see that it is so; and thou shalt say, I have sinned against the Lord, and I am a transgressor and a liar.

49 And it shall come to pass, when the Lord shall molest thee in all these things, or in all that I spake unto thee, and shalt return to God thine Elohim, 50 and shalt be will ing to hear his voice, and shalt do all that his voice shall command thee, according to all the covenant that I establish with thee this day.

51 And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt have gone in all these things diligently, saying, I have found favour in the sight of the Lord my Elohim, 52 I have turned back, and have observed thy commandments, which the Lord hath commanded thee; 53 and the Lord thy God shall thrust out all these nations from before thee; and thou shalt possess their land, as the Lord thy God hath promised thee, 54 if thou observest the commandments of the Lord thy God, which I establish with thee this day. 55 And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt not hear these words that the Lord thy God speaks unto thee, and shalt not do the commandments of the Lord thy God, and the statutes and judgments that he shall establish with thee by a prophet, 56 that the Lord may remove thee from the way which thou shalt go, and thy soul shall perish, and thou shalt be cut off among this people, because thou wast not willing to hear the voice of the Lord thy God.
And when thou shalt have completed all the tithings of thy fruits in the third year, thou shalt give the second tenth to the Levite, and stranger, and fatherless, and widow; and they shall eat it in thy cities, and be merry.

And thou shalt say before the Lord thy God, I have fully collected the holy things out of my house, and I have given them to the Levite, and the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow, according to all the commands which thou didst command me; I did not transgress thy command, and I did not forget it. And in my distress I did not eat of them, I have not gathered of them for an unclean purpose, I have not given of them to the dead; I have hearkened to the voice of the Lord our God, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

On this day the Lord thy God charged thee to keep all the ordinances and judgments, and ye shall observe and do them, with all your heart, and with all your soul.

And Moses and the elders of Israel command me, saying, Keep all the holy commandments, all that I command you this day.

And it shall come to pass in the day when ye shall cross over Jordan into the land which the Lord thy God gives thee, that thou shalt set up for thyself great stones, and shalt plaster them with plaster.

And thou shalt write on these stones all the words of this law, as soon as ye have crossed Jordan, when ye are entered into the land, which the Lord God of thy fathers gives thee, a land flowing with milk and honey, according as the Lord God of thy fathers said to thee.

And it shall be as soon as ye are gone over Jordan, ye shall set up these stones, which I command thee this day, on mount Gerizel, and thou shalt plaster them with plaster.

And thou shalt build there an altar to the Lord thy God, an altar of stones; thou shalt not lift up iron upon it. Of whole stones shalt thou build an altar to the Lord thy God, and thou shalt offer upon it whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord thy God. And thou shalt eat and be filled, and rejoice before the Lord thy God.

And thou shalt write upon the stones all this law very plainly.

And Moses and the priests the Levites spoke to all Israel, saying, Be silent and hear, O Israel; this day thou art become a people to the Lord thy God. 10 And thou shalt hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and shalt do all his commands, and his ordinances, as many as I command thee this day.

11 And Moses charged the people on that day, saying, 12 These shall stand to bless the people on mount Garizim having gone over Jordan; Symeon, Levi, Judas, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin. 13 And these shall stand for cursing on mount Gezel; Ruben, Gad, and Asier, Zabalon, Dan, and Nephthali.

14 And the Levites shall answer and say to all Israel with a loud voice, 15 Cursed is the man whomsoever shall make a graven or molten image, an abomination to the Lord, the work of the hands of craftsmen, and shall put it in a secret place: and all the people shall answer and say, So be it. 16 Cursed is he that removes his neighbour’s landmarks: and all the people shall say, So be it. 17 Cursed is he that makes the blind to wander in the way: and all the people shall say, So be it.

18 Cursed is he that lies with his father’s wife, because he has uncovered his father’s skirt: and all the people shall say, So be it. 19 Cursed is he that lies with any beast: and all the people shall say, So be it. 20 Cursed is he that lies with his sister by his father or his mother: and all the people shall say, So be it. 21 Cursed is he that lies with his daughter-in-law: and all the people shall say, So be it. 22 Cursed is he that puts a beast to the bed of a man: and all the people shall say, So be it. 23 Cursed is he who takes a bribe to slay an innocent man: and all the people shall say, So be it.

And it shall come to pass, if thou wilt indeed hear the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and do all these commands, which I charge thee this day, that the Lord thy God shall set thee on high above all the nations of the earth; 2 and all these blessings shall come upon thee, and shall find thee. If thou wilt indeed hear the voice of the Lord thy God, 3 blessed shall thou be in the city, and blessed shall thou be in the field. 4 Blessed shall be the offspring of thy body, and the fruits of thy land, and the herbs of thy oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep. 5 Blessed shall be thy barns, and thy stores. 6 Blessed shalt thou be in thy coming in, and blessed shalt thou be in thy going out.

7 The Lord deliver thine enemies that withstand thee utterly broken before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and they shall flee seven ways from before thee. 8 The Lord send upon thee his blessing in thy barns, and on all on which thou shalt put thine hand, in the land which the Lord thy God shall give thee. 9 The Lord shall raise thee up for himself a holy people, as he sware to thy fathers; and if thou wilt hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and walk in all his ways. 10 And all the nations of the earth shall see thee, and shalt not hear to the voice of the Lord thy God, and shall stand in awe of thee. 11 And the Lord thy God shall multiply thee for good in the offspring of thy body, and in the fruits of thy land, on thy land which the Lord sware to thy fathers to give to thee.

12 May the Lord open to thee his good treasure, the heaven, to give rain to thy land in season: may he bless all the works of thy hands: so shalt thou lend to many nations, but they shall not lend to thee; and thou shalt rule over many nations, but they shall not rule over thee. 13 The Lord thy God make thee the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt then be above and thou shalt not be below, if thou wilt hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, in all things that I charge thee this day.

14 Thou shalt not turn aside from any of the commandments, which I charge thee this day, to the right hand or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them.

15 But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe all his commandments, as I charge thee this day, that the Lord may utterly destroy thee quickly from the good land, which he sware to thy fathers.

16 Cursed shall he be in thy city, and cursed shall he be in thy field.

17 Cursed shall be thy barns and thy stores.

18 Cursed shall be the offspring of thy body, and the fruits of thy land, the herds of thine oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep.

19 Cursed shall thou be in thy coming in, and cursed shalt thou be in thy going out.

20 The Lord send upon thee want, and famine, and consumption on all things on which thou shalt put thy hand, until thou shalt have utterly destroyed thee, and until he shall have consumed thee quickly because of the evil devices, in which thou hast forsaken me.

21 The Lord cause the pestilence to cleave to thee, until he shall have consumed thee off the land into which thou goest to inherit it. 22 The Lord smite thee with distemper, and fever, and cold, and in-flammation, and blighting, and paleness, and they shall pursue thee until they have destroyed thee. 23 And thou shalt have over thine head a sky of brass, and the earth under thee shall be iron.

24 The Lord thy God make the rain of thy land dust; and dust shall come down from heaven, until it shall have destroyed thee, and until it shall have quickly consumed thee. 25 The Lord shall give thee up to thine enemies before whom thou shalt go out against them one way, and flee from their face seven ways; and thou shalt be a dispersion in all the kingdoms of the earth. 26 And thy dead men shall be food to the birds of the sky, and to the beasts of the earth: and there shall be none to scare them away.

Deuteronomy XXVIII. 28—47.

Lord smite thee with the bottch of Egypt in the seat, and with a malignant scab, and itch, so that thou canst not be healed. 29 The Lord smite thee with insanity, and blindness, and astonishment of mind. 30 And thou shalt grope at mid-day, as a blind man would grope in the darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways; and then thou shalt be unjustly treated, and plundered continually, and there shall be no helper.

31 Thou shalt take a wife, and another man shall have her; thou shalt build a house, and thou shalt not dwell in it; thou shalt plant a vineyard, and shalt not gather the grapes of it. 32 Thy calf shall be slain before thee, and thou shalt not eat of it; thine ass shall be violently taken away from thee, and shall not be restored to thee: thy sheep shall be given to thine enemies, and thou shalt have no helper. 33 Thy sons and thy daughters shall be given to another nation, and thine eyes wasting away shall look for them; thine hand shall have no strength.

34 A nation which thou knowest not shall eat the produce of thy land, and all thy labours; and thou shalt be injured and crushed always. 35 And thou shalt be distracted, because of the sights of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

36 The Lord smite thee with an evil sore, on the knees and the legs, so that thou shalt not be able to be healed from the sole of thy foot to the crown of thy head.

37 The Lord carry away thee and thy princes, whom thou shalt set over thee, to a nation which neither thou nor thy fathers know; and thou shalt there serve other gods, wood and stone. 38 And thou shalt be there for a wonder and a parable, and a tale, among all the nations, to which the Lord thy God shall carry thee away.

39 Thou shalt carry forth much seed into the field, and thou shalt bring in little, because the locust shall devour it. 40 Thou shalt plant a vineyard, and dress it, and shalt not drink the wine, neither shalt thou delight thyself with it, because the way of the Lord thy God shall be very high; and thou shalt not be exalted.

41 Thou shalt have olive trees in all thy borders, and thou shalt not anoint thee with oil, because thine olive shall utterly cast its fruit. 42 Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, and they shall not be thine; for thou shalt depart into captivity.

43 All thy trees and the fruits of thy land shall be blight consumed. 44 The stranger that is within thee shall get up very high, and thou shalt come down very low. 45 He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail.

46 And all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and shall overtake thee, until he shall have consumed thee, and until he shall have destroyed thee; because thou didst not hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep his commands, and his ordinances which he has commanded thee.

47 And these things shall be signs in thee, and wonders among thy seed for ever; because thou didst not serve the Lord thy God with gladness and a good heart, because of the abundance of all things.
And thou shalt serve thine enemies, which the Lord will send forth against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in the want of all things; and thou shalt wear upon thy neck a yoke of iron until he shall have destroyed thee. The Lord shall bring upon thee a nation from the north, a nation whose voice thou shalt not understand; a nation bold in countenance, which shall not respect the person of the aged, and shall not pity the young. And it shall eat up the young of thy cattle, and the fruits of thy land, so as not to leave to thee corn, wine, oil, the herds of thy oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep, until it shall have destroyed thee; and have utterly crushed thee in thy cities, until the high and strong walls be destroyed, in which thou trustest, in all thy land; and it shall afflict thee in thy cities, which he has given to thee. And thou shalt eat the fruit of thy groves, the flesh of thy sons and of thy daughters, all that he has given thee, in thy straitness and thy affliction, with which thine enemy shall afflict thee. He that is tender and very delicate within thee shall look with an evil eye upon his brother, and the wife in his bosom, and the eye that is left, and may have been left to him; so as not to give to one of them of the flesh of his children, whom he shall eat, because of his having nothing left him in thy straitness, and in thy affliction, with which thine enemy shall afflict thee in all thy cities. And she that is tender and delicate among you, whose foot has not assayed to go upon the earth for delicacy and tenderness, shall look with an evil eye upon her husband in his bosom, and her son and her daughter, and her offspring that comes out between her feet, and the child which she shall bear; for she shall eat them because of the lack of all things, secretly, in thy straitness, and in thy affliction, with which thine enemy shall afflict thee in thy cities. If thou wilt not hearken to do all the words of this law, which have been written in this book, to fear this glorious and wonderful name, the Lord thy God; thou shalt magnify thy plagues, and the plagues of thy seed, great and wonder-ful plagues, and evil and abiding diseases. And he shall bring upon thee all the evil pari of Egypt, of which thou wast afraid, and they shall cleave to thee. And the Lord shall bring upon thee every sickness, and every plague that is not written, and every thing that is not written in this book of the law, until he shall have destroyed thee. And ye shall be left few in number, whereas ye were as the stars of the sky in multitude, because thou didst not hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God. And it shall come to pass that as the Lord has loved thee, to do good to thee, and to multiply thee, so the Lord will rejoice over you to destroy you; and ye shall be quickly removed from the land, into which ye go to inherit it. And the Lord thy God shall scatter thee among all nations, from

And one end of the earth to the other; and thou shalt there serve other gods, wood and stone, which thou hast not known, nor thy fathers.

16 And the nations which thou hast not known, thou shalt be afraid of, and do them service. 17 And in the morning shall thou say, Would it be even ing! and in the evening thou shalt say, Would it be morning! for the fear of thine heart which thou shalt fear, and for the sights of thine eyes which thou shalt see. 18 And the Lord shall bring thee back to Egypt in ships, by the way of which I said. Thou shalt not see it again; and ye shall be sold there to your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and none shall buy you.

These are the words of the covenant, which the Lord commanded Moses to make with the children of Israel in the land of Moab, besides the covenant which he made with them in Horeb.

And Moses called all the scribes of the Lord, and saidunto them, Ye have seen all things that the Lord did in the land of Egypt before you to Pharaoh, and his servants, and all his land; the great plagues which thine eyes have seen, the signs, and those great wonders. 19 Yet the Lord God has not given you a heart to know, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, until this day.

And he led you forty years in the wilderness, to prov induced them, and to shew thee their iniquities; 20 that thou shouldest see their iniquities by the way which they went through, and in the wilderness. 21 And the Lord commanded that thou shouldst set a watch upon thyself tonight; 22 for the Lord shall make thee to return to Egypt this same year; 23 though ye may say in thine heart, After I have gone over Jordan, then surely the Lord shall cause me to return to my land, which thy fathers did occupy: and thou shalt serve other gods, wood and stone.

14 And I will bring you unto the land which thy fathers possessed, and ye shall possess it: I will do to you better than at the beginning, for I will make the sons of Israel to return to their former manners, and I will love them with an everlasting love; and I will bring them again with pity.

which are among them. 13Lest there be among you man, or woman, or family, or tribe, whose heart has turned aside from the Lord your God, having gone to serve the gods of these nations; lest there be in you a root springing up and bitter among your seeds, 14And if one shall hear the words of this curse, and shall slumber himself in his heart, saying, 15Let good happen to me, for I will walk in the error of my heart, lest the sinner destroy the guiltless with him. 16God shall by no means be willing to pardon him, but then the wrath of the Lord and his jealousy shall flame out against that man; and all the curses of this covenant shall attach themselves to him, which are written in this book, and the Lord shall blot out his name from under heaven. 17And the Lord shall separate that man for evil of all the children of Israel, according to all the curses of this covenant that are written in the book of this law.

And another generation shall say—every your sons who shall rise up after you, and the stranger who shall come from a land afar off, and shall see the plagues of that land and their diseases, which the Lord has sent upon it, and upon the wretches and burning salt, (the whole land shall not be sown, neither shall any green thing spring, nor rise upon it, as Sodom and Gomorrah were overthrown, Adama and Seboim, which the Lord overthrew in his wrath and anger:) and all the nations shall say, Why has the Lord done thus and shut this land in with anger of fire? 18And men shall say, Because they forsook the covenant of the Lord their God of fathers, the things which he appointed to their fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt: and they went and served other gods, which they knew not, neither did he at all sign to them the things which he did to the land and as present. 19And the Lord was exceedingly angry with that land to bring upon it according to all the curses which are written in the book of this law. 20And the Lord removed them from their land in anger, and wrath, and very great indignation, and cast them out into another land and as present. 21The former things belong to the Lord our God, but the things that are revealed belong to us and to our children for ever, to do all the words of this law.

And it shall come to pass when all these things shall have come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thee, the fear of the Lord, and the constancy and the curse, which I have set before thee, 2 and shalt return to the Lord thy God, and shalt hearken to his voice, according to all things which I charge thee this day, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul; 3 then the Lord shall heal thee iniquities, and shall pity thee, and shall again gather thee out from among the nations, from which the Lord has scattered thee. 4 If thy dispersion be from one end of heaven to the other, thench shall the Lord thy God gather thee, and thence will the Lord thy God take thee. 5 And the Lord thy God shall bring thee in from thence into the land without any fathers have
Deuteronomy XXX. 6—XXXI. 2.

6 And the Lord thy God will put these curses upon thine enemies, and upon those that hate thee, who have persecuted thee.
7 And thou shalt return and hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and shall keep his commandments, all that I charge thee this day.
8 And the Lord thy God shall bless thee in every work of thine hands, in the offspring of thy body, and in the offspring of thy cattle, and in the fruits of thy land, because the Lord thy God will again rejoice over thee for good, as he rejoiced over thy fathers: 9 if thou wilt hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep his commandments, and his ordinances, and his judgments written in the book of this law, if thou turn to the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul.
10 For this commandment which I command thee this day is not grievous, neither is it far from thee.
11 It is not in heaven above, as if there were one saying, Who shall go up for us into heaven, and shall take it for us, and we will hear and do it? 12 Neither is it beyond the sea, saying, Who will go over for us to the other side of the sea, and take it for us, and make it audible to us, and we will do it?
13 The word is very near thee, in thine mouth, and in thine heart, that thou mayest inherit it, and thou shalt inherit it; and thou shalt inherit it; and he will do thee good, and multiply thee above thy fathers. 14 And the Lord shall purge thy heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayest live.

15 Behold, I have set before thee this day life and death, good and evil. 16 If thou wilt hearken to the commands of the Lord thy God, which I command thee this day, to love the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to keep his ordinances, and his judgments; then ye shall live, and shall be multiplied; and the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all the land into which thou goest to inherit it.
17 But if thy heart shall turn away, and if thou wilt not hear the voice of the Lord thy God, saying, I will not serve thee, nor will I keep thy commandments:
18 And it come to pass, when all these things befall thee, in the latter days; when thou shalt confound many nations, and Lord shall smite thee with Consumption, and with the nails of boils, and with other grievous plagues, such as thou hast not experienced.
19 And thou shalt return and hearken to the Lord thy God; for thy heart shall return, and thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and thou shalt hearken to his voice, and cleave to him; for this is life, and the length of thy days, that thou shouldest dwell upon the land, which the Lord swear to thy fathers, Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob, to give to them.

And Moses finished speaking all these words to all the children of Israel; 2 and said to them, I am this day a hundred and twenty years old; I shall not be able any longer to come in or go out; and the Lord said to me, Thou shalt not go over this

I. The Lord thy God, who goes before thee, shall destroy these nations before thee, and thou shalt inherit them, and it shall be Joshua that goeth before thee, as the Lord has spoken. And the Lord thy God shall do to them as he did to Seon and Oa, the two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond Jordan, and to their land, as he destroyed them. And the Lord has delivered them to you; and ye shall do to them, as I charged you. Be courageous and strong; for thou shalt go in and possess the land which the Lord your God shall give to you, and thou shalt shew it to their inheritance. And the Lord that goeth with thee shall not forsake thee nor abandon thee; for he will not be afraid before thee.

9 And Moses wrote the words of this law in a book, and gave it to the priests the sons of Levi who bear the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and to the elders of the sons of Israel.

10 And Moses charged them in that day, saying, After seven years, in the time of the year of release, in the feast of tabernacles, 11 when all Israel come together to appear before the Lord your God, in the place which the Lord shall choose, ye shall read this law before all Israel in their ears, having assembled the people, the men, and the women, and that stranger that is in your cities, that they may hear, and that they may learn to fear the Lord your God; and they shall hearken to do all the words of this law. And their sons who have not known shall hear, and shall learn to fear the Lord thy God all the days that they live upon the land, into which ye go over Jordan to inherit it.

And the Lord said to Moses, Behold, the days of thy death are at hand; call Joshua, and stand ye by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony, and I will give him a charge. And Moses and Joshua went to the tabernacle of testimony, and stood by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony. And the Lord descended in a cloud, and stood by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony; and the pillar of the cloud stood by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony. And the Lord said to Moses, Behold, thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, and this people will arise and go a whoring after the strange gods of the land, into which they are entering: and they will forsake me, and break my covenant, which I made with them.

And I will be very angry with them in that day, and I will leave them and turn my face from them, and they shall be devoured; and many evils and afflictions shall come upon them; and they shall save in that
And now write the words of this song, and teach it to the children of Israel, and ye shall put it into their mouth, that this song may witness for me among the children of Israel to their face. For I will bring them into the good land, which I swore to their fathers, to give to them a land flowing with milk and honey; and they shall eat and be filled and satisfy themselves; then will they turn aside after other gods, and serve them, and they will provoke me, and break my covenant. And this song shall stand up to witness against them; for they shall not forget it out of their mouth, or out of the mouth of their seed; for I know their wickedness, what they are doing here this day, before I have brought them into the good land, which I swear to their fathers.

And Moses wrote this song in that day, and taught it to the children of Israel. And he charged Joshua, and said, Be courageous and strong, for thou shalt bring the sons of Israel into the land, which the Lord sware to them, and he shall be with thee.

And when Moses finished writing all the words of this law in a book, even to the end, then he charged the Levites who bear the ark of the covenant of the Lord, saying, Take the book of this law, and ye shall put it in the side of the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God; and it shall be there among you for a testimony. For I know thy provocation, and thy stiff neck; for yet during my life with you at this day, ye have been provoking in your conduct toward God: how shall ye not also be so after my death? Gather together to me the heads of your tribes, and your elders, and your judges, and your officers, that I may speak in their ears all these words; and I call both heaven and earth to witness against them.

For I know that after my death ye will utterly transgress, and turn aside out of the way which I have commanded you; and evils shall come upon you in the latter days, because ye will do evil before the Lord, to provoke him to anger by the works of your hands.

And Moses spoke all the words of this song even to the end, in the ears of the whole assembly.

Attend, O heaven, and I will speak; and let the earth hear the words out of my mouth. Let my speech be looked for as the rain, and my words come down as dew, as the shower upon the herbage, and as snow upon the grass. For I have called on the name of the Lord; assign ye. greatness to our God. As for God, his word is true, and all his ways are judgment: God is faithful, and there is no unrighteousness in him; just and holy is the Lord.
have sinned, not pleasing him; spotted children, a forward and perverted generation. 7 Doth the Lord impune the people? is the people thus foolish and unwise? did not he himself thy father purchase thee, and make thee, and form thee? 8 Remember the days of old, consider the years for past ages: ask thy father, and he shall relate to thee, thine elders, and they shall tell thee.

9 And his people Jacob became the portion of the Lord, Israel was the line of his inheritance. 10 He maintained him in the wilderness, in burning thirst and hunger, led him about, and instructed him, and kept him as the apple of an eye. 11 As an eagle would watch over his brood, and yearns over his young, receives them having spread his wings, and takes them up on his back: the Lord alone led them, there was no strange god with them. 12 He brought them up on the high way, he fed them with the fruits of the fields; they sucked honey out of the rock, and oil out of the solid rock. 13 Butter of cows, and milk of sheep, with the fat of lambs and rams, of calves and kids, with fat of kidneys of wheat; and he drank wine, the blood of the grape. 14 So Jacob ate and prospered, and the beloved one kicked; he grew fat, he became thick and broad: then he forsook the God that made him, and departed from God his Saviour.

15 They provoked me to anger with strange gods; with their abominations they bitterly angered me. 16 They sacrificed to devils, and not to God; to gods whom they knew not; and I knew not their fathers. 17 Thou hast forsaken God that begot thee, and forgotten God who feeds thee. 18 And the Lord saw, and was jealous; and was provoked by the anger of his sons and daughters, and said, I will turn away my face from them, and will show what shall happen to them in the last days; for it is a perverse generation, sons in whom is no faith.

19 They have provoked me to jealousy with that which is not God, they have exasperated me with their idols; and I will provoke them to jealousy with them that are no nation, I will anger them with a nation of understanding. 20 For a fire has been kindled out of my wrath, it shall burn to hell below; it shall devour the land, and the fruits of it; it shall set on fire the foundations of the mountains. 21 I will gather evils upon them, and will fight with my weapons against them. 22 They shall be consumed with hunger and devouring, and the devouring of birds, and there shall be irreparable destruction: I will send forth against them the teeth of wild beasts, with the rage of serpents creeping on the ground. 23 Without, the sword shall bereave them of children, and terror shall issue out of the secret chambers; the young man and the virgins with the virgin, the sucking with him who has grown old. 24 I said, I will scatter them, and I will cause their memorial to cease from

27 "And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul? 28 To keep the commandments of the Lord, and his statutes, which I command thee this day, for thy own good, and for thy children's good, throughout all the days of thy life, that thou mayest long to live. 29 And when thou liftest up this stone for an ensign to the people of Israel, as I commanded thee on this mountain, even eastward toward the sunrising, and westward toward the sunsetting, 30 In the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to set his name there, thou shalt come, and thou shalt burn incense upon the altar of the Lord thy God, and thou shalt offer burnt-offerings, and sacrifice peace-offerings, 31 And thou shalt rejoice before the Lord thy God in all the good things which thy hands have wrought, for thou hast taken from the hand of thy God this good heritage. 32 Thou shalt embrace him, and thou shalt serve him, and thou shalt swear by his name. 33 And the Lord shall cause his angel to go before thee, and shall deliver thee from the hand of thine enemies, and from the hand of the wilderness, and from the hand of the Amalekites: 34 And he shall set thee up kings over thy children, as many kings as the Lord shall choose for his own inheritance: 35 But he shall not make thee a king over them, lest he exalt his heart above thee: that he may put thee to a snare, to anger, to偏差, and to perdition: 36 Neither shall they be one ruler over thee, lest they say, "We have no king: let us go and return to our former state, which we were in under the house of Egypt." 37 For he will not have thee to go back again, neither will he suffer thee to go back: 38 But he will give him a king that understandeth not, that he may learn therewith to cause his people to err. 39 For they are a very stubborn people, and will not hear the voice of the Lord their God, lest he should take them again into the land of Egypt, and should give them to destroy them with the sword. 40 Now therefore, take wisdom, and understand, and hearken, and take this heart. 41 And it shall be, if ye will obeys the voice of the Lord your God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which I command you this day, that ye may live, and that ye may go in, and Possess the good land, which the Lord sware to your fathers. 42 And ye shall despise none of these things, neither shall ye say, "I am not going up, for I am poor", or "I will not go up, for I am feeble."

live long upon the land, into which ye go over Jordan to inherit it. And the Lord spoke unto Moses this day, saying, (to go up to the mount Ararim, this mount Nun of the land of Moab above Jericho, and behold the land of Chanaan, which I give to the sons of Israel: and in the wilderness thou shalt go up, and be added to thy people; as Aaron the son of Mara, was added to his people.

Because ye disobeyed my word among the children of Israel, at the waters of strife of Cades in the wilderness of Sin; because ye sanctified me not among the sons of Israel. Thou shalt see the land before thee, but thou shalt not enter into it.

And this is the blessing of Judah; Hear, Lord, the voice of Judah, and do thou visit his people: his hands shall contend for him, and thou shalt be a help from his enemies. And to Levi he said, Give to Levi his manifestation; his hands shall perform thy word; and thy word shall be as the light of the moon, and as the light of the new moon, as the holy and holy: when he shall be täglich, and shall be to thee as a son with thee, and shall dwell in thy tent, and thou shalt set his heritage before thee for ever.

And to Joseph he said, He shall be the head of the congregation; in the land of his possession shall he have dominion. And to Benjamin he said, My son, if I should speak in visions to the sons of Jacob, and if I should utter to Israel his excellency, and if I should lift up his savior above the sons of Israel; Benjamin shall dwell among his brethren; and the children of his youth shall be to him a two- headed bow; and out of him shall come a ruler, and he shall deal with the people of Jacob.
Deut. XXXIII. 18—XXXIV. 9

Ephraim, and these are the thousands of Manasse. And to Zabulon he said, Rejoice, Zabulon, in thy going out, and Issachar in his tents. They shall utterly destroy the nations, and ye shall call men there, and there offer the sacrifice of righteousness; for the wealth of the sea shall succide thee, and so shall the martis of them that dwell by the sea-coast.

And to Gad he said, Blessed be he that enlarges Gad; as a lion he rested, having broken the arm and the ruler. And he saw his first-fruits, that there the land of the princes gathered with the chiefs of the people was divided; the Lord wrought righteousness, and his judgment with Israel.

And to Dan he said, Dan is a lion's whelp, and shall leap out of Basan. And to Nephthali he said, Nepthali hast the fulness of good things; and let him be filled with blessing from the Lord; he shall inherit the west and the south. And to Aser he said, Aser is blessed with children; and he shall be acceptable to his brethren: he shall dip his foot in oil. His sandal shall be iron and brass; as thy days, so shall be thy strength.

There is not any such as the God of the beloved; he who rides upon the heaven is thy helper, and the magnificent One of the firmament. And the rule of God shall protect thee, and that under the strength of the everlasting arms; and he shall cast forth the enemy before thy face, saying, Perish. And Israel shall dwell in confidence alone on the land of Jacob, with corn and wine; and the sky shall be misty with dew upon thee. Blessed art thou, O Israel; who is like to thee, O people saved by the Lord? thy helper shall hold his shield over thee, and his sword is thy boast; and thine enemies shall speak falsely to thee, and thou shalt tread upon their neck.

And Moses went up from Ararthob Moab to the mount of God, which is Mount Phasga, which is before Jericho; and the Lord shewed him all the mount of Galaad to Dan, and all the land of Nepthali, and all the land of Ephraim and Manasse, and all the land of Judah to the farthest sea; and the wilderness, and the country round about Jericho, the city of palm-trees, to Soger. And the Lord said to Moses, This is the land of which I spake to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, saying, To your seed will I give it: and I have shewed it to thine eyes, but thou shalt not go in thither.

So Moses the servant of the Lord died in the land of Moab by the word of the Lord. And they buried him in Gai near the house of Phoger: and no one has seen his sepulchre to this day. And Moses was a hundred and twenty years old at his death; his eyes were not dimmed, nor were his natural strength abated.

And the children of Israel wept for Moses in Araroth of Moab at Jordan near Jericho thirty days; and the days of the sad mourning for Moses were completed. And Joshua the son of Nave was filled with the spirit of knowledge, for Moses had laid his hands upon him; and the children of Israel hearkened to him; and they did as the Lord commanded Moses.
And there rose up no more a prophet in Israel like Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face; 11 in all the signs and wonders, which the Lord sent him to work in Egypt on Pharaoh, and his servants, and all his land; 12 the great wonders, and the mighty hand which Moses displayed before all Israel.

12 And to Ruben, and to Gad, and to the half tribe of Manasseh, Joshua said, Remember the word which Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you, saying, The Lord your God has caused you to rest, and has given you this land, the land of the _Ebrei_ (the Amorites, the _Jebusites_, and the _J莅mmites_, and the __Ailmites_, and the __Hermites_, and the _Ezrites_, and the _Ephraimites_, and the _Gilites_, and the __Sidmites_, and the __Hermites_, and the __Hivites_, and the __Babonites_, and the __Punites_). 13 The Lord shall drive them out before you, and you shall possess their land; and _you shall do_ unto them as your soul desires; you shall divide their land for an inheritance among yourselves. 14 Be strong, and very courageous: be not afraid, neither be discouraged; for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go.

15 And Joshua called for _Aarons_ _son_ Elizaphan, 16 and for Zaccur the son of Ithni, the(_Phoebus_), and for Nethaneel the son of Zikreiah, and for Obadiah the son of Eileathath, and for Shammua the son of Galgal, 17 and for Shual the son of Dabney, and for Zaccur the son of Meraiah, and for Uzzi the son of Uziel, 18 and for Ahuren the son of Maltiel, and for Eliab the son of Shaphan, and for Obadiah the son of Besulan, and for Shekaniah the son of Rehob, and for Hashabiah the son of Amaziah, and for Zichri the son of Anak. 19 And Joshua sent them from thence, and they went to the camp to _Ruben_, and to _Gad_, and to the half tribe of _Manasseh_.

10 And they answered Joshua and said, We will do all things which thou commandest us, and we will go to every place whither thou shalt send us. Whereinsoever we hearken to Moses the servant of the Lord, we will do it. 11 According to all that we heard, we will do all things which the Lord our God shall command us, and we will go and fight on the side of the Lord. And afterward every one of you shall return to his possession. 12 So the sons of _Ruben_, and of _Gad_, and of half the tribe of _Manasseh_, went out, armed with weapons of war.

13 And they came up to the _Jordan_, both _Ruben_, and _Gad_, and half the tribe of _Manasseh_, and proclaimed before all the congregation of the children of _Israel_, saying, 14 If only the Lord shall give us the land, whereunto he hath said that he will give us: then will we go up, and fight for the land, as thou saidst. 15 And the Lord said to _Joshua_, Fear not them, neither be amazed at their number, for they are thine servants: they will be _slain_ before thee. 16 And the Lord said to _Joshua_, This shall be a sign unto you, that the _Lord_ will give the _Israelites_ the land: the _Joshuas_ shall shout, and the _Israelites_ shall say, The _Lord_ shall not give it into our hands: therefore shall _Joshua_ shout, and _Israel_ shall say, The _Lord_ shall give it unto our hands.

17 So _Joshua_ and the _Israelites_ did as the Lord had commanded them: and they went up into the _Jordan_, he, and all the sons of _Israel_, and the _Israelites_ fought against the people of _Amorites_, and they fell down before _Joshua_. 18 And _Joshua_ said, Speak ye not anymore unto the people of _Israel_, saying, The _Lord_ will go before you, and he shall fight for you. 19 And _Joshua_ said to the _Israelites_, Be _strong_, and very courageous: be not afraid, neither be discouraged, for the _Lord_ is with you, where ye go. 20 And _Joshua_ sent the two men, saying, Go, spy out the land of _Canaan_, and _Jericho_, which is _Canaanite_: go, and see the _land_, and the _cities_ thereof, and the men thereof, and the land they dwell in, and the land which they lodge in, and come again, and tell us of the land.

21 And they went from thence, and came into the wilderness of _Edom_._Edom_, and _Edom_ was toward the rising of the sun. 22 And they came unto the men of _Seion_, and asked them of the way to _Jericho_. And they replied to them, The way toward _Jericho_ is straight, and go up from _Edom_. And they went up, and came unto _Jericho_. And _Ruben_, and _Gad_, and half the tribe of _Manasseh_, returned, and spake unto _Joshua_. 23 And _Joshua_ sent them from thence, and they went into the camp, and spake to _Joshua_ the son of _Nun_, the _Israelites_.

11 And he shrugged his shoulders, and said to _Gad_, and to _Ruben_, and to the half tribe of _Manasseh_, by saying, What answer shall I give you which you have given me? 12 For you have spoken well in the sight of the _Israelites_, and in the sight of _Joshua_. 13 And you shall speak thus to the _Israelites_, saying, _Joshua_ said, that which ye have spoken is good before the _Lord_. 14 And the _Israelites_ said to _Joshua_, We will go up and fight for the land, but ye shall give us one dividing of the land as inheritance. 15 And the _Israelites_ were exceedingly jealous of the sons of _Ruben_, and of _Gad_, and of half the tribe of _Manasseh_, when they heard the things which they spake to _Joshua_. 16 Then _Joshua_ sent them from thence, and they went to the camp, and spake to _Joshua_, and to the _Israelites_. 17 And they said, We have come from _Ruben_, and from _Gad_, and from half the tribe of _Manasseh_, out of the camp of _Israel_, to speak word to one of all the congregation, saying, 18 We have made our _journey_ out of all the camp of _Israel_, to deliver you out of the hand of the _Israelites_. For we are many in number; the _Israelites_ have said, Their land is broad, and it dwelleth under heaven. Now therefore give us land, we pray thee, across the river Jor-deal mercifully with you, so do ye also deal mercifully with the house of my father: and as Israel alive the house of my father, my mother, and my brethren, and all my house, and all that they have, and ye shall rescue my soul from death.

14 And the men said to her, Our life for yours even to death: and she said, When the Lord shall have delivered the city to you, ye shall deal mercifully and truly with me. 15 And she let them down by the window: and she said to them, Depart into the hill-country, lest the pursuers meet you, and ye shall be hidden there three days until your pursuers return from after you, and afterwards ye shall depart on your way.

16 And the men said to her, We are clear of this thine oath. 17 Behold, we shall enter into a part of the city, and thou shalt set thy sign; thou shalt bind this scarlet cord in the window, by which thou hast let us down, and thou shalt bring in to thyself, into thy house, thy father, and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all the family of thy father. 18 And it shall be, when they go outside the door of thy house, his guilt shall be upon him, and we shall be quit of this thine oath; and we will be responsible for all that shall be found with thee in thy house. 19 But if any one should injure us, or betray these our matters, we shall be quit of this thine oath. 20 And she said to them, Let it be according to your word; and she sent them out, and they departed. 21 And they came to the hill-country, and remained there three days: and the pursuers searched all the roads, and found them not.

22 And the two young men returned, and came down out of the mountain; and they went over to Joshua the son of Nau, and told him all things that had happened to them. 23 And they said to Joshua, The Lord has delivered all the land into our power, and all the inhabitants of that land tremble because of us. And Joshua rose up early in the morning, and departed from Sattin; and they came as far as Jordan, and lodged there before they crossed over.

24 And it came to pass after three days, that the three men went through the camp: and they charged the people, saying, When ye shall see the ark of the covenant of the Lord our God, and our priests the Levites bearing it, ye shall depart from your places, and ye shall go after it. 25 But let there be a distance between you and it; ye shall stand as much as two thousand cubits from it. Do not draw nigh to it, that ye may know the way which ye are to go; for ye have not gone the way before. 26 And Joshua said to the people, Sanctify yourselves against to-morrow, for to-morrow the Lord will do wonders among you.

And Joshua said to the priests, Take up the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and go before the vessels; and the priests took up the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and went before the people. 27 And the Lord said to Joshua, This day do I begin to exalt thee before all the children of Israel, that they may know that as I was with Moses, so will I also be with thee. 8 And now charge the priests that bear the ark of the covenant, saying, As soon as ye shall enter on a part of the land of Israel, then ye shall stand in Jordan. 9 And Joshua said to the children of Israel, \(C\)ome hither, and hearken to the word of the Lord our God. 10 Hereby ye shall know that the living God is among you, and will utterly destroy from before our face the Canaanite, and the Chettite, and the Pherezite, and the Hagrites, and the Chanaanite, and the Hittite, and the Jebusite. 11 Behold, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth passes over Jordan. 12 Choose for yourselves twelve men of the sons of Israel, one of each tribe. 13 And it shall come to pass, when the feet of the priests that bear the ark of the covenant of the Lord shall stand in Jordan, the water of Jordan shall be held, and the water coming down from above shall stop. 14 And the people removed from their tents to cross over Jordan, and the priests bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord before the people. 15 And when the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord entered upon Jordan, and the feet of the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord were dipped in part of the water of Jordan; (now Jordan overflowed \(y\) all its banks \(b\) about the time of wheat harvest:) 16 then the waters that came down from above stopped; there stood one solid heap very far off, as far as \(b\) the region of Karia-thiriam, and \(b\) the lower part came down to the sea of Arba, the salt sea, till it completely failed; and the people stood opposite Jericho. 17 And the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord stood on dry land in the midst of Jordan; and all the children of Israel went through on dry land, until all the people had completely gone over Jordan.

And when the people had completely passed over Jordan, the Lord spoke to Joshua, saying, \(b\) Take men from the people, one of each tribe, \(b\) and charge them; and ye shall take out of the midst of Jordan twelve \(b\) of them, and having carried them across together with yourselves, place them in your camp, where ye shall encamp for the night. 19 And Joshua having called twelve men \(b\) of distinction among the children of Israel, one of each tribe, \(b\) said to them,Advance before me in the presence of the Lord into the midst of Jordan, and each having taken up a stone from thence, let him carry it on his shoulders, according to the number of the twelve tribes of Israel: that these may be to you continually for an appointed sign, that when thy son asks thee \(b\) in future, saying, What are these stones to us? 20 then thou mayest explain to thy son, saying, The river Jordan \(b\) was dried...
And the children of Israel did so, as the Lord commanded Joshua; and they took up twelve stones out of the midst of Jordan, (as the Lord commanded Joshua, when the children of Israel had completely passed over,) and carried these stones with them into the camp, and laid them down there. 3 And Joshua set also other twelve stones in Jordan itself, in the place that was under the feet of the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord; and there they are to this day.

And the priests that bore the ark of the covenant stood in Jordan, until Joshua had finished all that the Lord commanded to speak to the people; and the people hasted and passed over. And it came to pass when all the people had passed over, that the ark of the Lord passed over before the people, and the priests went on before them. And the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse passed over armed before the children of Israel, as Moses commanded them. 8 Forty thousand armed for battle went over before the Lord to war, to the city of Jericho. 9 In that day the Lord magnified Joshua before all the people of Israel; and they feared him, as they did Moses, as long as he lived.

And the Lord spoke to Joshua, saying, 10 Charge the priests that bear the ark of the covenant of the testimony of the Lord, to pass before the people, and the priests go before them, and the priests that bear the ark of the Lord pass over before the ark of the Lord, saying, Go up out of Jordan. And it came to pass when the priests who bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord were gone up out of Jordan, and set their feet upon the land, that the water of Jordan returned impetuously to its place, and went as before over all its banks. 12 And the people went up out of Jordan on the tenth day of the first month; and the children of Israel encamped in Galgala in the region eastward from Jericho. 13 And Joshua set these twelve stones which he took out of Jordan, in Galgala, saying, When your sons ask you, saying, What are these stones? Tell your sons, that Israel went over this Jordan on dry land, 14 when the Lord our God had dried up the water of Jordan from before them, until they had passed over; as the Lord our God did to the Red Sea, which the Lord our God dried up from before us, until we passed over. 15 That all the nations of the earth might know, that the power of the Lord is mighty, and that ye might worship the Lord our God in every work.

And it came to pass when the kings of the Amorites who were beyond Jordan heard, and the kings of Phoenicia by the sea, that the Lord God had dried up the river-Jordan from before the children of Israel when they passed over, that their hearts failed, and they feared greatly for the children of Israel ever for.

8 Or, equipped. 7 Or, in good order.
they were terror-stricken, and there was no sense in them because of the children of Israel.

And about this time the Lord said to Joshua. Make the stone knaves of sharp stone and sit down and circumcise the children of Israel the second time. 3 And Joshua made sharp stone knives of stone, and circumcised the children of Israel at the place called the "Hill of Foreskins." 4 And this is the way in which Joshua purified the children of Israel; as many as were born in the wilderness, and as many as were uncircumcised of them that came out of Egypt, all these Joshua circumcised; for forty and two years Israel wandered in the wilderness of Mabdaris—Wherefore most of the fighting men that came out of the land of Egypt, were uncircumcised, who disobeyed the commands of God; concerning whom also he determined that they should not see the land, unless they would give their fathers, even a land flowing with milk and honey. 6 And in their place he raised up their sons, whom Joshua circumcised, because they were uncircumcised, having been born by the way. 7 And when they had been circumcised they rested continuing there in the camp till they were healed. 8 And the Lord said to Joshua the son of Naue. On this day have ye entered the land of Canaan, the inheritance of the children of Israel, which ye did espy when ye spied it out of Jordan, and come near to my people, and I will make thy name great, as great as any other name. 9 And it came to pass when Joshua was in Jericho, that he looked up with his eyes, and saw a man standing before him, and there was no man knew him. 10 And Joshua said unto the man, art thou for us or for our enemies? And he said to him, I am now come, the chief captain of the host of the Lord. 11 And Joshua fell on his face upon the earth, and said to him, Lord, what commandest thou thy servant? And the captain of the Lord's host said to Joshua, Loose thy shoe off thy feet, for the place whereon thou now standest is holy. 12 Now Jericho was closely shut up and besieged, and none went out of it, and none came in. 13 And the Lord said to Joshua, Behold, I deliver Jericho into thy power, and its king into it, 14 And Joshua and all the people, etc. 15 And when they have shouted, the walls of the city shall fall of themselves; and all the people shall enter, each one rushing direct into the city. 16 And Joshua the son of Naue went in to the priests, and spoke to them, saying, Charge
And the priests blew the trumpets once, and Joshua said to the people, Shout; for the Lord has given you the city.

And the city shall be devoted to the Lord; only the silver and gold, and brass, and iron, shall be holy to the Lord; and they shall be carried into the treasury of the Lord.

And the priests sounded the trumpets once, and Joshua said to the people, Shout; for the Lord has given you the city.

And the city was burnt with fire, and all the people of it, and all that was therein, with all the cities thereof, to the Lord: only the silver and gold, and brass, and iron, were dedicated to the Lord; and they were brought into the city of David, which is Jerusalem.

And the men of Israel wandered round about the city, and burned it with fire, and all the cities thereof, and all the orchards, and vineyards, and olive-groves, and the cities of the kings of the land they took.

And the men of Israel burned the city, and all that was therein, with fire, and all the people of it; and they took all the spoil thereof, and all the cattle thereof.

And the cities of the hill-country, and the plain, and the valley, and all the coast of the sea, from the wilderness unto the great sea eastward, the men of Israel possessed; and they destroyed every city, and all the inhabitants thereof; they left none to survive, as the Lord commanded them; but they took the spoil of them, and the cattle, and the goods of the cities; even the spoil thereof, and all the goods thereof, they carried away into the city of Jerusalem.

And the men of Israel took possession of the land of Canaan, and settled in it, and possessed it, according to the commandment of the Lord given by Moses.

And they brought in the spoil of the land, and the cattle, and the goods, and the cities, which they took out of the land of Canaan, and of the cities thereof, and of the kings thereof; and they set them in the city of David, which is Jerusalem.

And Joshua, the son of Nun, and all Israel, and the captives who were spoil of the land, and the cattle, and the goods, and the cities, and all that they possessed, and all the cities thereof, and all the goods thereof, they set them in the city of David, which is Jerusalem.

And the men of Israel laid up the spoil of the land, and the cattle, and the goods, and the cities, and all the spoil thereof, and all the goods thereof, in the city of David, which is Jerusalem.

And the captives of the land, and the captives who were spoil of the land, and the cattle, and the goods, and the cities, and all the spoil thereof, and all the goods thereof, they set them in the city of David, which is Jerusalem.

And the men of Israel laid up the spoil of the land, and the cattle, and the goods, and the cities, and all the spoil thereof, and all the goods thereof, in the city of David, which is Jerusalem.

Joshua VI. 25—VII. 13.

And Joshua saved alive Raab the harlot, and all the house of her father, and caused her to dwell in Israel until this day, because she hid the spies which Joshua sent to spy out Jericho. 2 And Joshua adjured them on that day before the Lord, saying, Cursed be the man who shall build that city; he shall lay the foundation of it in his first-born, and he shall set up the gates of it in his youngest son. And so did Hozan of Bethel; he laid the foundation in Abiram his first-born, and set up the gates of it in his youngest surviving son.

And the Lord was with Joshua, and his name was in all the land.

But the children of Israel committed a great trespass, and purloined part of the accursed thing; and Achur the son of Charmi, the son of Zambri, the son of Zam, of the tribe of Judah, took of the accursed thing; and the Lord was very angry with the children of Israel.

And Joshua sent men to Gai, which is by Bethel, saying, Spy out Gai; and the men went up and spied Gai. And they returned to Joshua, and said to him, Let not all the men go up; but let about two or three thousand men go up and take the city by siege: carry not up thither the whole people, for the enemy are few. And there went up about three thousand men, and they fled from before the men of Gai. And the men of Gai slew of them to the number of thirty-six men, and they pursued them from the gate, and destroyed them from the steep hill; and the heart of the people was alarmed and became as water.

And Joshua tore his garments; and Joshua fell on the earth on his face before the Lord until evening, he and the elders of Israel; and they cast dust on their heads. And Joshua said, I pray, Lord, wherefore hath thy servant brought this people over Jordan to deliver them to the Amorite to destroy them? would we had been content to dwell still in our own places: but their heart is treacherous; now therefore turn, I beseech thee, and bring us into the land whither thou sentest us: for we will enter into it to possess it.

And the Chananite that dwelleth on mount Ephraim in Gailean, said, Howbeit the Lord will not be able to stand before their enemies; they will turn their back before their enemies, for they have become an accursed thing: I will not any longer be with you, unless ye remove the cursed thing from yourselves. 13 Rise, sanctify the people and tell them to sanctify themselves for the morrow: thus says the Lord God of Israel. The accursed thing is among you; ye shall not be able to stand before your enemies, iron, they gave to be brought into the treasury of the Lord.
until ye shall have removed the cursed thing from among you. And ye shall all be gathered together by your tribes in the morning, and it shall come to pass that the tribe which the Lord shall show shall ye bring by households; and the household which the Lord shall show, ye shall bring by man. And the man who shall be pointed out, shall be burnt with fire, and all that he has; because he has transgressed the covenant of the Lord, and has wrought wickedness in Israel.

And Joshua rose up early, and brought the people by their tribes; and the tribe of Juda was pointed out. And it was brought by their families, and the family of the Zaraites was pointed out. And it was brought man by man, and Achar the son of Zambri the son of Zara was pointed out.

And Joshua said to Achar, Give glory this day to the Lord God of Israel, and make confession. Why hast thou hid him from me? And Achar answered Joshua, and said, Indeed I have sinned against the Lord God of Israel: thus and thus have I done; I saw in the spoil an embroidered mantle, and two hundred didrachms of silver, and one golden wedge of fifty didrachms, and I desired them and took them; and, behold, they are hid in my tent, and the silver is hid under them. And Joshua sent messengers, and they ran to the tent into the camp; and these things were hidden in his tent, and the silver under them. And they brought them out of the tent, and brought them to Joshua and the elders of Israel, and they laid them before the Lord.

And Joshua took Achar the son of Zara, and brought him to the valley of Achor, and his sons, and his daughters, and his calves, and his asses, and all his sheep, and his tent, and all his property, and all the people were with him; and he brought them to Ehem Achor. And Joshua said to Achar, Why hast thou destroyed us? the Lord destroy thee this day. And all Israel stoned him with stones. And they set up over him a great heap of stones; and the Lord ceased from his fierce anger. Therefore he called the place Ehem Achor until this day.

And the Lord said to Joshua, Fear not, nor be timorous: take with thee all the men of war, and arise, go up to Gai; behold, I have given into thy hands the king of Gai, and his land. And thou shalt do to Gai, as thou didst to Jericho and its king; and thou shalt take to thyself the spoil of its cattle; set now for thyself an ambush for the city behind. And Joshua and all the men of war rose to go up to Gai; and Joshua chose out thirty thousand mighty men, and he sent them away by night. And he charged them, saying, Do ye lie in ambush behind the city: do not go far from the city, and ye shall all be ready. And I and all with me will draw near to the city: and it shall come to pass and the inhabitants of Gai shall come forth to meet us, as before, that we will flee from before them. And when they shall come out after us, we will draw them away from the city; and we will pursue them; when they flee before us, as also before. And ye shall rise up out of the ambuscade, and go into the city. Ye shall do according to this word, lo! I have commanded you. And Joshua sent them, and they went to lie in ambush; and they lay between Bethel and Gai, westward of Gai.

10 And Joshua rose up early in the morning, and numbered the people; and he went up, he and the elders before the people to Gai. And all the men of war went up with him, and they went forward and came over against the city eastward. And the ambuscade was on the west side of the city. And it came to pass when the king of Gai saw it, he hasted and went out to meet them directly to the battle, he and all the people that were with him: and he knew not that there was an ambuscade formed against him behind the city. And Joshua and Israel the people, the ambassadors were seated by the city, and they pursued after the children of Israel, and they themselves went a distance from the city. There was no one left in Gai who did not pursue after Israel; and they left the city open, and pursued after Israel.

18 And the Lord said to Joshua, Stretch forth thy hand with the spear that is in thy hand toward the city, for I have delivered it into thy hands; and the liers in wait shall rise up quickly out of their place. And Joshua stretched out his hand and his spear toward the city, and the ambuscade rose up quickly out of their place; and they came forth when he stretched out his hand; and they entered into the city, and took it; and they hasted and burnt the city with fire.

20 And when the inhabitants of Gai looked round behind them, then they saw the smoke going up out of the city to heaven, and they were no longer able to flee this way or that way. And Joshua and all Israel saw that the ambuscade had taken the city, and that the smoke of the city went up to heaven; and they turned and smote the men of Gai. And these came forth out of the city to meet them; and they were in the midst of the army, some being on this side, and some on that; and they smote them until there was not left of them one who survived and escaped. And they took the king of Gai alive, and brought him to Joshua.

24 And when the children of Israel had ceased slaying all that were in Gai, and in the fields, and in the mountain on the descent, from whence they pursued them even to the end, then Joshua returned to Gai, and smote it with the edge of the sword. And they that fell in that day, men and women, were twelve thousand: they slew all the inhabitants of Gai. Beside the spoils that were in the city, all things which the children of Israel took as spoil for themselves according to the command of the Lord, as the Lord commanded Joshua.

And Joshua burnt the city with fire: he made it an uninhabited heap for ever, even to this day. And he hanged the king of Gai on a gallows; and he remained on the tree till evening: and when the sun went down, Joshua gave charge, and they took down his body from the tree, and cast it into a pit, and they set over him a heap of stones until this day.

And when the kings of the Amorites on the other side of Jordan, who were in the mountain country, and in the plain, and in all the coast of the great sea, and those who were near Antilbanus, and the Chettites, and the Chananites, and the Peradamen, and the Jebusites, heard of it, they came all together at the same time to make war against Joshua and Israel.

Then Joshua built an altar to the Lord God of Israel in mount Gilgal, as Moses the servant of the Lord commanded the children of Israel, as it is written in the law of Moses, an altar of unhewn stones, on which iron had not been lifted up; and he offered there whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord, and peace-offerings. And Joshua wrote upon the stones a copy of the law, even the law of Moses, before the children of Israel. And all Israel, and their elders, and their judges, and their scribes, passed on one side and on the other before the ark; and the priests and the Levites took up the ark of the covenant of the Lord; and the stranger and the native were there, who were half of them near mount Garizin, and half near mount Gilgal, as Moses the servant of the Lord commanded at first, to bless the people.

And afterwards Joshua read accordingly all the words of this law, the blessings and the curses, according to all things written in the law of Moses. There was not a word of all that Moses charged Joshua, which Joshua read not in the ears of all the assembly of the children of Israel, the men, and the women, and the children, and the strangers that joined themselves to Israel.

And the inhabitants of Gabaon heard of all that the Lord did to Jericho and Gai.

And they also wrought craftily, and they went and made provision and prepared themselves; and having taken old sacks on their shoulders, and old and rent and patched shoes on the soles of their feet, and their garments old upon them—and the bread of their provision was dry and mouldy and corrupt.

And they came to Joshua into the camp of Israel to Galga, and said to Joshua and Israel, We are come from a far land: now then make a covenant with us. And the children of Israel said to the Chorhean, Peradventure thou dwellest amongst us; and not he.

And he wrote for the sons of Gabaon these things in the book of the law of Moses, in the place where they dwelt.

290 ἸΗΣΟΥΣ ΝΑΥΗ.
And Joshua made peace with them, and they made a covenant with them to preserve them; and the princes of the congregation swore to them.

And it came to pass after three days after they had made a covenant with them, they heard that they were near neighbours, and that they dwelt among them. And the children of Israel journeyed, and came to their cities; and their cities were Gabaon, and Kephirah, and Berot, and the cities of Jarin. And the children of Israel fought not with them, because all the princes swore to them by the Lord God of Israel; and all the congregation murmured at the princes.

And the princes said to all the congregation: We have sworn to them by the Lord God of Israel, and now we shall not be able to touch them. This we will do: take them alive, and we will preserve them; so they shall not be a reproach against us by reason of the oath which we swore to them. They shall live, and shall be hewers of wood and drawers of water to all the congregation, as the princes said to them.

And Joshua called them together and said to them, Why have ye deceived me, saying, We live very far from you; whereas ye are fellow-countrymen of those who dwell among us? And now ye are cursed: there shall not fail of you a slave, or a hewer of wood, or a drawer of water to me and my God. And they answered Joshua, saying, It was reported to us what the Lord thy God charged his servant Moses, to give it to those that dwelt on it from before you; and we feared very much for our lives because of you, and therefore we did this thing. And now, behold, we are in your power; do to us as it is pleasing to you, and as it seems good to you.

And they did so to them; and Joshua rescued them in that day out of the hands of the children of Israel, and they did not slay them. 2 And Joshua made them in that day hewers of wood and drawers of water to the whole congregation, and for the altar of God: therefore the inhabitants of Gabaon became hewers of wood and drawers of water for the altar of God until this day, even for the place which the Lord should choose.

And when Adoni-bezek king of Jerusalem heard that Joshua had taken Gibeon, and had destroyed it, as he did to Jericho and its king, even so they did to Gibeon and its king, and that the inhabitants of Gabaon had gone over to Joshua and Israel, then the children of Israel greatly terrified them, for the king knew that Gabaon was a great city, as one of the chief cities, and all its men were mighty. 3 So Adoni-bezek-king of Jerusalem sent to Elam king of Hebron, and to Phidon king of Jerimoth, and to Jephthah king of Lachis, and to Dabin king of Odollam, saying, Come up hither to me, and help me, that I may take Gabaon; for the Gabaonites have gone over to Joshua and to the children of Israel. 4 And the five kings of the Jebusites went up, the king of Jerusalem, and the king of Chebron, and the king of Jerimoth, and the king of Lachis, and the king of Odollam, and they all their people, and encamped around Gabaon, and besieged it.

And the inhabitants of Gabaon sent to Joshua into the camp to Galgala, saying, Slack not thy hands from thy servants: come up quickly to us, and help us, and rescue us: for all the kings of the Amorites who dwell in the hill country are gathered together against us. 7 And Joshua went up from Galgala, he and all the people of war with him, every one mighty in strength.

And the Lord said to Joshua, Fear them not, for I have delivered them into thy hand; there shall not one of them be left before you.

And when Joshua came suddenly upon them, he had advanced all the night out of Galgala. 9 And the Lord struck them with terror before the children of Israel; and the Lord destroyed them with a great slaughter at Gabaon; and they pursued them by the way of the going up of Oronim, and they smote them to Azeza and to Makeda. 11 And when they fled from the face of the children of Israel at the descent of Oronim, then the Lord cast upon them hailstones from heaven to Azeza; and they were more that died by the hailstones, than those whom the children of Israel slew with the sword in the battle.

Then Joshua spoke to the Lord, in the day in which the Lord delivered the Amorite into the power of Israel, when he destroyed them in Gabaon, and they were destroyed from before the children of Israel: and Joshua said, Let the sun stand over against Gabaon, and the moon over against the valley of Aelon. 13 And the sun and the

And these five kings fled, and hid themselves in a cave that is in Makeda. And it was told Joshua, saying, The five kings have been found hid in the cave that is in Makeda. And Joshua said unto the Lord God of Israel, 20 And there was not such a day either before or after, so that God should hearken to a man, because the Lord fought on the side of Israel.

And all the people returned safe to Joshua to Makeda; and no one of the children of Israel murmured with his tongue. And Joshua said, Open the care, and bring out these five kings out of the care. And they brought out the five kings out of the care, the king of Jerusalem, and the king of Chebron, and the king of Jericho, and the king of Lachis, and the king of Odoallam. And when they brought them out to Joshua, then Joshua called together all Israel, and the chiefs of the army that went with him, saying to them, Come forward and set your feet on their necks; and they came and set their feet on their necks. And Joshua said to them, Do not fear them, neither be cowardly; be courageous and strong, for thus the Lord will do to all your enemies, against whom ye fight. And Joshua slew them, and hanged them on five trees; and they hung upon the trees until the evening. And it came to pass, when the sun went down, that Joshua commanded, and they took them down from the trees, and cast them into the cave into which they had fled for refuge, and rolled stones to the cave, which remain till this day.

And they took Makeda on that day, and slew the inhabitants with the edge of the sword, and they utterly destroyed every living thing that was in it; and there was none left in it that was preserved and had escaped; and they did to the king of Makeda, as they did to the king of Jericho.

And Joshua and all Israel with him departed out of Makeda to Lebra, and besieged Lebra. And the Lord delivered it into the hands of Israel: and they took it, and its king, and slew the inhabitants with the edge of the sword, and every living thing breathing in it; and there was not left in it any that survived and escaped; and they did to its king, as they did to the king of Jericho.
And Joshua and all Israel with him departed from Lachis to Lebna, and he encamped about it, and besieged it. And the Lord delivered Lachis into the hands of Israel; and they took it on the second day, and they put the inhabitants to death with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed it, as they had done to Lachis. Then Elam the king of Gazee went up to help Lachis; and Joshua smote him and his people with the edge of the sword, as they did to Lachis.

And Joshua and all Israel with him departed from Lachis to Odollam, and he besieged it and took it. And the Lord delivered it into the hands of Israel; and he took it on that day, and slew the inhabitants with the edge of the sword, and slew every thing breathing in it, as they did to Lachis.

And Joshua and all Israel returned to Dabor; and they encamped about it; and they took it, and its king, and its villages; and he smote it with the edge of the sword, and they destroyed it, and every thing breathing in it; and they did not leave in it any one that was preserved; as they did to Chebron and her king, so they did to Dabor and her king.

And Joshua smote all the land of the hill country, and all Nageb and the plain country, and Asedoth, and her kings, they did not leave of them one that was saved; and they utterly destroyed every thing that had the breath of life, as the Lord God of Israel commanded, from Hebron to Gaza, all Gibon, as far as Gabaon. And Joshua smote, once for all, all their kings, and their land, because the Lord God of Israel fought on the side of Israel.

And when Jabia the king of Asor heard, he sent to Jobab king of Maon, and to the king of Symon, and to the king of Aziph, and to the kings who were by the great Sidon, to the hill country and to Arba opposite Keneroth, and to the plain, and to Phenecod, and to the Channites on the coast eastward, and to the Amorites on the coast, and the Chettites, and the Pherezites, and the Jebusites in the mountain, and the Erites, and those dwelling under mount Aermon in the land Massuma. And they and their kings with them went forth, as the sand of the sea in multitude, and horses, and very many chariots. And all the kings assembled in person, and came to the same place, and encamped at the waters of Maron to war with Israel.

I will put them to flight before Israel: thou shalt hough their horses, and burn their chariots with fire. 7 And Joshua and all the men of war came upon them by the water of Maron suddenly; and they attacked them in the hill country. 8 And the Lord delivered them into the power of Israel; and they smote them and pursued them to great Sidon, and to Masour, and to the plains of Massoach eastward; and they destroyed them till there was not one of them left that survived. 9 And Joshua did to them, as the Lord commanded him: he houghed their horses, and burned their chariots with fire.

10 And Joshua returned at that time, and took Asor and her king; now Asor in former time was the chief of these kingdoms. 11 And they slew with the sword all that breathed in it, and utterly destroyed them all, and there was no living thing left in it; and they burnt Asor with fire. 12 And Joshua took all the cities of the kingdoms, and their kings, and slew them with the edge of the sword; and utterly slew them, as Moses the servant of the Lord commanded. 13 But all the walled cities Israel burnt not; but Israel burnt Asor only. 14 And the children of Israel took all its spoils to themselves; and they slew all the men with the edge of the sword, until he destroyed them; they left not one of them to breathe. 15 As the Lord commanded his servant Moses, even so Moses commanded Joshua; and so Joshua did, he transgressed no precept of all that Moses commanded him.

16 And Joshua took all the hill country, and all the land of Nageb, and all the land of Gosome, and the plain country, and that toward the west, the mountain of Israel and the low country by the mountain; 17 from the mountain of Chelcha, and that which goes up to Seir, and as far as Balagad, and the plains of Libanus, under mount Aeron; and he took all their kings, and destroyed them, and killed them. 18 And for many days Joshua waged war with these kings.

19 And there was no city which Israel took not; they took all in war. 20 For it was of the Lord to harden their hearts to go forth to war against Israel, that they might be utterly destroyed, and that there should not be granted to them, but that they should be utterly destroyed, as the Lord said to Moses.

21 And Joshua came at that time, and utterly destroyed the Enakim out of the hill country, from Chebron and from Dabar, and from Anaboth, and from all the race of Enakim, from the rest of Israel, and from all the mountain of Juda with their cities; and Joshua utterly destroyed them. 22 There was not any one left of the Enakim by the children of Israel, only there was left of them in Gaza, and in Gath, and in Aseldo.

23 And Joshua took all the land, as the Lord commanded Moses; and Joshua gave them for an inheritance to Israel by division.
accord ing to their tribes; and the land ceased from war.

And these are the kings of the land, whom the children of Israel slew, and inherited their land beyond Jordan from the east, from the valley of Arnon to the mount of Aeron, and all the land of Araba on the east. 2 Seon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Esebon, ruling from Arnon, which is in the valley, on the side of the valley, and half the Gadd Canal as far as Jordan, the border of the children of Ammon. 3 And Araba as far as the sea of Cheneroth eastward, and as far as the sea of Araba; the salt sea eastward by the way to Asimoth, from Theman under Asedoth Phasga. 4 And Og king of Basan, who dwelt in Ashtaroth and in Edrin, was left of the giants, 5 ruling from mount Armond and from Secchta, and ever all the land of Basan to the borders of Gergesi, and Machi, and the half of Galdab of the borders of Seon king of Esebon. 6 Moses the servant of the Lord and the children of Israel smote them; and Moses gave them by way of inheritance to Ruben, and to Gad, and to the half tribe of Manasses. 7 And these are the kings of the Amorites, whom Joshua and the children of Israel slew beyond Jordan by the sea of Balas, as far as the mountain of Chelche, as men go up to Seir; and Joshua gave it to the tribes of Israel to inherit according to their portion; 8 in the mountain, and in Arnon, in Arnon, and in the wilderness, and Nageb; the Chettite, and the Amorite, and the Chhananite, and the Pherezite, and the Ethite, and the Jebusite.

9 The king of Jericho, and the king of Gai, which is near Bethel; 10 the king of Jerusalem, the king of Chedron, 11 the king of Jerim, the king of Lachis; 12 the king of Elam, the king of Gazer; 13 the king of Dabir, the king of Gader; 14 the king of Hermath, the king of Ader; 15 the king of Leba, the king of Oddolam, the king of Elati, the king of Taphut, the king of Ophe, the king of Aroc, the king of Asom, the king of the Mountains of Ephraim, the king of the Gadd Canal as far as Jordan, the border of the children of Ammon, and in Asedoth, and in the wilderness, and Nageb; the Chettite, and the Amorite, and the Chhananite, and the Pherezite, and the Ethite, and the Jebusite: all these were twenty-nine kings.

And Joshua was old and very advanced in years; and the Lord said to Joshua, Thou art advanced in years, and there is much land left to inherit. 2 And this is the land that is left; the borders of the Phylistines, the Gesrite, and the Chhananite, 3 from the wilderness before Egypt, as far as the borders of Accaron on the left of the Chhananites the land is reckoned to the five principalities of the Phylistines, to the in-habitant of Gaza, and of Azotus, and of Asealon, and of Geth, and of Accaron, and to the Ethite; 4 from Theman even to all the land of Chisam as far as Hazor, and the Sidonians as far as Aphe, as far as the borders of the Amorites. 5 And all the land of Gaddafoth of the Phylistines, and all Libanus them by inheritance to Israel, as I charged thee.

And now divide this land by lot to the nine tribes, and to the half tribe of Manasse.
8 From Jordan to the great sea westward thou shalt give the half tribe of Manasse.
9 And to Ruben and to Gad Moses gave an inheritance beyond Jordan: Moses the servant of the Lord gave it to them eastward, from Aroer, which is on the bank of the brook of Arnon, and the city in the midst of the valley, and all Misor from Maelabah.

and all the land of Basan to Acha.

who reigned in Ashtaroth and in Edraim: he was left of the giants; and Moses smote him, and destroyed him. 14 But the children of Israel destroyed not the Gessirite and the Machaitite and the Chanaite; and the king of the Gessiri and the Machaitite dwelt among the children of Israel until this day.
15 Only no inheritance was given to the tribe of Levi: the Lord God of Israel, he is their inheritance, as the Lord said to them; and this is the division which Moses made to the children of Israel in Araboth Moab, on the other side of Jordan, by Jericho.

Ammon to Araba, which is before Arad.
And from Ebron to Araboth by Masseph, and Botanim, and Maan to the borders of Debron, and Ennom, and Otztargi, and Benthanabara, and Socoth, and Saphan, and the rest of the kingdom of Seon king, and Jordan shall be the boundary as far part of the sea of Chene-reth beyond Jordan eastward.
This is the inheritance of the children of God according to their families and according to their cities: according to their families they will turn their backs before their enemies, because their families and their villages were according to their families.
And Moses gave to half the tribe of Manasse according to their families.
And their borders were from Maan, and all the kingdom of Og king of Basan, and all the vilages of Jair, which are in the region of Hasei sixty miles:
and the half of Galaad, and in Asstath, and in Edrain, royal cities of Og in the land of Basan, Moses gave to the sons of Machir, the sons of Manasse, even to the half-tribe sons of Machir, the sons of Manasse, according to their families.
These are they of whom Moses caused the inhabitants of Jordan, and in Arabor, Moab, beyond Jordan by Jericho eastward.
And these are they of the children of Israel that received their inheritance in the land of Chanaan, to whom Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Naue, and the heads of the families of the tribes of the children of Israel, gave.
Their inheritance was according to their lots, as the Lord commanded by the hand of Joshua to the nine tribes and the half tribe, on the other side of Jordan.
But to the Levites he gave no inheritance among them.
For the sons of Joseph were two tribes, Manasse and Ephraim;
and there was not given to the Levites, only cities to dwell in, and their suburbs separated for the cattle, and their cattle.
As the Lord commanded Moses, so did the children of Israel; and they divided the land.
And the children of Juda came to Joshua in Galgal, and Chisheb the son of Jephone the Kenite said to him, Thou knowest the word that the Lord spoke to Moses the man of God concerning me and thee in Cades Barne.
For I was forty years old when Moses the servant of God sent me out of Cades Barne to spy out the land; and I returned him an answer according to his mind.
My brother went up with me, and I turned away the heart of the people, but yelled myself to follow the Lord my God.
And Moses spake on that day, saying,
The land on which thou art gone up, it shall be thy inheritance and thy children's for ever, because thou hast applied thyself to follow the Lord our God.
And the Lord has kept me alive, and he has dealt with me well; this is the forty-fifth year since the Lord spoke that word to Moses; and Israel journeyed in the wilderness; and now, behold, I am this day eighty-five years old.
I am still strong this day, as when the Lord sent me:
just so strong am I now to go out and to 12 And now of thee this mountain, as the Lord said in that day; for thou heardest this word on that day; and now the Enakim are there, cities great and strong: if then the Lord should be with me, I will utterly destroy them, as the Lord said to me.

13 And Joshua blessed him, and gave Chelab the son of Jephone the son of Kenez for an inheritance. Therefore Chelab became the inheritance of Chelab the son of Jephone the Kenezite until this day; because he followed the commandment of the Lord God of Israel. And the name of Chelab before was the city Arghob, it is the metropolis of the Enakim; and the land rested from war.

And the borders of the tribe of Judah according to their families were from the borders of Idumea from the wilderness of Sin, as far as Cades southward.

And their borders were from the south as far as a part of the salt sea from the high country that extends southward. And they proceed before the ascent of Acrabin, and go out round Sina, and go up from the south to Cades Barne; and go out to Aseron, and proceed up to Sarada, and go out by the way that is west of Cades. And they go out to Selinoma, and issue at the valley of Egypt; and the termination of its boundaries shall be at the sea: these are their boundaries southward.

And their boundaries eastward are all the salt sea as far as Jordan; and their borders from the north, and from the border of the sea, and from part of Jordan— the borders go up to Bethaglaam, and they go along from the north to Betharabah; and the borders go on up to the stone of Beon the son of Ruben. And the borders continue on to the fourth part of the valley of Achor, and go down to Galgal, which is before the approach of Adammin, which is southward in the valley, and terminate at the water of the fountain of the sun; and their going forth shall be the fountain of the lion.

And it terminatethat the bottom of the valley of Ennom, behind Jebus southward; this is Jerusalem: and the borders terminate at the top of the mountain, which is before the valley of Ennom toward the sea, which is by the side of the land of Raphain northward. And the border going forth from the top of the mountain terminates at the fountain of the water of Naphtho, and terminates at mount Ephron; and the border will lead to Baal; this is the city of Jarim. And the border will go round from Baal to the sea, and will go on to the mount of Assar behind the city of Jarim northward; this is Chaslon: and it will come down to the city of Sun, and will go on to the south. And the border terminates behind Accaron northward, and the borders terminate at Socchoth, and the borders will go on to the south, and will terminate at Leba, and the issue of the borders will be at the sea; and their borders shall be toward the sea, the great sea shall be the boundary. These are the borders of the children of Judah round about according to their families.

And to Caleb the son of Jephone he gave a portion in the midst of the children of Juda by the command of God; and Joshua gave him the city of Arboe the metropolis of Enac; this is Chebron. And Caleb the son of Jephone destroyed thence the three sons of Enac, Sus, and god Tholami, and Chalma, and Caleb went up thence to the inhabitants of Dabir; and the name of Dabir before was the city of Letters.

And Caleb said, Whosoever shall take and destroy the city of Letters, and master it, to him will I give my daughter Ascha to wife. And Gothonial the son of Chenez the brother of Caleb took it; and he gave him Ascha his daughter to wife.

And it came to pass as she went out that she counselled him, saying, I will ask of my father a field; and she cried from off her ass; and Caleb said to her, What is it? And she said to him, Give me a blessing; for thou hast given me the land of my inheritance; give me also Bottisham; and he gave her Gometh the upper, and Gometh the lower.

This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Juda. And their cities were cities belonging to the tribe of the children of Juda on the borders of Edom by the wilderness, and Bassel, and Aram, and Apple, and Anan, and Aruel, and Cades, and Asorion, and Maimam, and Balman, and their villages; and the cities of Aseron, this is Asor, and Sen, and Saltam, and Molada, and Seri, and Abaphal, and Cholasoea, and Beer-sababe; and their villages, and their hamlets.

And the Jebusite dwelt in Jerusalem, and the children of Judah could not destroy them; and the Jebusites dwelt in Jerusalem to this day.

And the borders of the children of Joseph were from Jordan by Jericho eastward; and they will go up from Jericho to the hill country, to the wilderness, to Bethel. 3 And they will go out to Bethel, and will proceed to the borders of Achataroth. 4 And they will come to Bethhoron the lower, and the going forth of them shall be to the sea. 5 And the sons of Joseph, Ephraim and Manasse, took their inheritance.

And the borders of the children of Ephraim according to their families, their borders, and the inheritance of the tribe of Ephraim, had their inheritance; and they received their inheritance, and the children of Manasse, and their families, by lot; for the children of Manasse had their inheritance, and the sons of Joseph, Ephraim and Manasse, took their inheritance.

And the cities separated to the sons of Ephraim were in the midst of the inheritance of the sons of Manasse, all the cities of their villages. 9 And Ephraim did not destroy the Canaanites, who dwelt in Gazer; and the Canaanites dwelt in Ephraim until this day, until Pharaoh the king of Egypt went up and took it, and burnt it with fire; and the Canaanites, and Pheresites, and the dwellers in Gazer they destroyed, and Pharaoh gave them for a dowry to his daughter.

And the borders of the tribe of the children of Manasse, (for he was the first-born of Joseph,) assigned to Machir the first-born of Manasse the father of Galaad, for he was a warrior, were in the land of Galaad and of Basan. 2 And there was land assigned to the other sons of Manasse according to their families; to the sons of Jezi, and to the sons of Kelez, and to the sons of Jeziel, and to the sons of Sychem, and to the sons of Sychar, and to the sons of Tamar, and to the sons of Opher: these are the males according to their families.
And Salpaad the sons of Opher had no sons but daughters: and these are the names of the daughters of Salpaad; Maala, and Nua, and Eglah, and Melecha, and Thersa. 2 And they stood before Eleazar the priest, and before the judge of the land, to whom was given the rule of the Lord, and before the ruler of the children of Israel; and they gave a charge by the hand of Moses, to give us an inheritance in the midst of our brethren: so there was given to them by the command of the Lord an inheritance among the brethren of their father. 3 And their lot fell to them from Anaas, and to the plains of the land of Galed, which is beyond Jordan. 4 For the daughters of the sons of Manasse inherited a portion in the midst of their brethren, and the land of Galed was assigned to the remainder of the sons of Manasse.

And the borders of the sons of Manasse were Bersannah and its borders, which is before the sons of Anath, and it proceeds to the borders even to Jamin and Jassib to the fountain of Thaphthoth. 5 It shall belong to Manasse, and Thapheth on the borders of Manasse shall belong to the sons of Ephraim. 6 And the borders shall go down to the valley of Chenaan, to the southward of the city of Jareb; (there being a tree belonging to Ephraim between that and the city of Manasse:) and the borders of Manasse are northward to the brook; and the sea shall be its termination. 7 Southward the land belongs to Ephraim, and northward to Manasse; and the sea shall be their coast: and northward the border of Manasse is Seba, and eastward upon Issachar. 8 And Manasses shall have in the portion of Issachar and Aser Bethsan and their villages, and the inhabitants of Dor, and its villages, and the inhabitants of Mageddo, and its villages, and the third part of Maphis, and its villages.

And the sons of Joseph answered Joshua, saying, Wherefore hast thou caused us to inherit but one inheritance, and one line? whereas I am a great people, and God has blessed me. 12 And Joshua said to them, If thou be a great people, go up to the forest, and clear the land for thyself, if mount Ephraim be too little for thee. 13 And they said, The mount of Ephraim does not please us, and the Chanamite dwelling in it in Bethhs, and in its villages, and in the valley of Jezrael, has choice cavalry and iron. 14 And Joshua said to the sons of Joseph, If thou art a great people, and hast great strength, thou shalt not have only one inheritance. 15 For thou shalt have the wood, for the wood is thine. And thou shalt clear it, and the land shall be thine: even when thou shalt have utterly destroyed the Chanamite, for he has chosen cavalry; yet thou art stronger than he.

And all the congregation of the children of Israel were assembled at Selo, and there they pitched the tabernacle of witness; and the land was subdued by them.
And the sons of Israel remained, even those who had not received their inheritance, seven tribes. And Joshua said to the sons of Israel, How long will ye be slack to inherit the land, which the Lord our God has given you?

2 And appoint three men of each tribe, and let them rise up and go through the land, and let them describe it before me, as it will be proper to divide it. And they came to him: and he divided to them seven portions, saying, Juda shall stand to them a border southward, and the sons of Joseph shall stand to them northward. And do ye divide the land into seven parts, and bring the description hither to me, and I will give you a lot before the Lord on God. For the sons of Levi have no part among you; for the priesthood of the Lord is his portion; and Gad, and Ruben, and the half tribe of Manasses, have received their inheritance beyond Jordan eastward, which Moses the servant of the Lord gave to them.

3 And the men rose up and went; and Joshua charged them with an exhortation. And he said to them, Go and explore the land, saying, Go and explore the land, and come to me, and I will give you a lot before the Lord in the land.

4 And they went, and explored the land: and they viewed it, and described it according to the cities, seven parts in a book, and brought the book to Joshua. And Joshua cast the lot for them in Selo before the Lord.

5 And the lot of the tribe of Benjamin came forth first according to their families: and the borders of their lot came forth between the children of Juda and the children of Joseph.

6 And their borders were northward: the borders shall go up from Jordan behind Jericho northward, and shall go up to the mountain westward, and the issue of it shall be Bethon of Mabbata.

7 And the borders shall go up from Bethon northward, and the borders shall be up from Bethon, and go up to the mountain, and the borders shall be up from the south of it; this is Bethel: and the borders shall go down to Maatarob Orecth, to the hill country, which is southward of Bethoron the lower.

8 And the borders shall pass through and proceed to the part that looks toward the south, from the mountain in front of Bethoron southward, and its termination shall be at Cariath-Baal, this is Cariath-Jarin, a city of the children of Juda; this is the part toward the west.

9 And the south side on the part of Cariath-Baal; and the borders shall go across to Gassin, to the fountain of the water of Naphtho. And the borders shall extend down on the east side, this is in front of the forest of Sonnam, which is on the side of Emec Raphain northward, and it shall come down to Geenna behind Jebusai southward: it shall come down to the fountain of Rogel.

10 And the borders shall go across to the fountain of Bethansys: and shall proceed to Gailloth, which is in front by the going up of Bethaniam; and they shall come down to the story of Becon of the sons of Ruben; and shall pass over behind Betharaba northward, and shall go down to the borders behind the sea northward.

11 And the borders shall be up from the river of Ayron northward, and it shall come down to the mountain, and the borders shall be up from the south of it; this is Betel: and the borders shall go down to the river of Ayron: and the borders shall be up from the south of it, to the sea northward.

12 And the borders shall be up from Shebon northward, and it shall come down to the mountain, and the borders shall be up from the south of it; this is Shebon: and the borders shall go down to the river of Ayron: and the borders shall be up from the south of it, to the sea northward.

13 And the borders shall be up from the river of Ayron northward, and it shall come down to the mountain, and the borders shall be up from the south of it; this is Bethon: and the borders shall go down to the river of Ayron: and the borders shall be up from the south of it, to the sea northward.

14 And the borders shall be up from the river of Ayron northward, and it shall come down to the mountain, and the borders shall be up from the south of it; this is Bethon: and the borders shall go down to the river of Ayron: and the borders shall be up from the south of it, to the sea northward.

15 And the borders shall be up from the river of Ayron northward, and it shall come down to the mountain, and the borders shall be up from the south of it; this is Bethon: and the borders shall go down to the river of Ayron: and the borders shall be up from the south of it, to the sea northward.

16 And the borders shall be up from the river of Ayron northward, and it shall come down to the mountain, and the borders shall be up from the south of it; this is Bethon: and the borders shall go down to the river of Ayron: and the borders shall be up from the south of it, to the sea northward.

17 And the borders shall be up from the river of Ayron northward, and it shall come down to the mountain, and the borders shall be up from the south of it; this is Bethon: and the borders shall go down to the river of Ayron: and the borders shall be up from the south of it, to the sea northward.

18 And the borders shall be up from the river of Ayron northward, and it shall come down to the mountain, and the borders shall be up from the south of it; this is Bethon: and the borders shall go down to the river of Ayron: and the borders shall be up from the south of it, to the sea northward.

19 And the borders shall be up from the river of Ayron northward, and it shall come down to the mountain, and the borders shall be up from the south of it; this is Bethon: and the borders shall go down to the river of Ayron: and the borders shall be up from the south of it, to the sea northward.
And the termination of the borders shall be at the creek of the salt sea northward to the side of Jordan southward: these are their southern borders.

And their southern border shall be their boundary on the east: this is the inheritance of the children of Benjamin, these are their borders according to their families.

And the cities of the children of Benjamin according to their families were Jericho, and Bethgegoth, and Anemog. 11 And Loth and Sura, and Besanah, 12 and Zeco, and Phara, and Ephraha, 13 and Campha, and Cephira, and Moni, and Gabaa, twelve cities and their villages: 14 Gabbaa, and Rana, and Beerotha, 15 and Massema, and Miron, and Amoke, 16 and Phira, and Caphan, and Nanc, and Selecan, and Tharela, 17 and Jebus (this is Jerusalem); and Gabaresh, darim, thirteen cities, and their villages: this is the inheritance of the sons of Benjamin according to their families.

And the second lot came out for the children of Simeon: and their inheritance was in the midst of the lots of the children of Judah. And their lot was Bemebee, and Saua, and Singem, and Arsam and Bola, and Jason, 1 and Erthula, and Bula, and Herma, 2 and Sikelne, and Bethmachereb, and Sarasun, 3 and Batharoth, and their fields, thirteen cities, and their villages, 4 Eremmon, and Thatela, and Jether, and Asor, 5 and their cities and their villages; round about their cities as far as Baale on the south, and Bethmuth southward: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families. 6 The inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon was a part of the lot of Judah, for the portion of the children of Judah was greater than theirs; and the children of Simeon inherited in the midst of their lot.

And the third lot came out to Zabulon according to their families: the bounds of their inheritance shall be—Esedekgoela shall be their border, 7 the sea and Magelda, and it shall reach to Betharaba in the valley, which is opposite Dekman. 8 And the border returned, and made a circular direction eastward from Bethanyms, to the borders of Chaselothaith, and shall pass on to Dabiroth, and shall proceed upward to Phongai. 9 And thence it shall come round in the opposite direction eastward to Gecbore to the city of Catasem, and shall go on to Remmonaa Mathareon as far as the borders shall come round northward to Amon, and going out shall be at Gaphad, 10 and Catanaath, and Nabeal, and Symmon, and Jericho, and Bathman. 11 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Zabulon according to their families, these cities and their villages.

And the fourth lot came out to Issachar. 12 And their borders were Jazel, and Chassloth, and Sunam, 13 and Agin, and Sion, and Reereth, 14 and Amacheth, and Dabiron, and Kison, and Rebes, 15 and Remmas, and Jeon, and Tomman, and Simeere, and Bersaphs. 16 And the boundaries shall border upon Getthor, and upon Salim westward, and Bethanymus; and the extremity

And the termination of the borders shall be at the creek of the salt sea northward to the side of Jordan southward: these are their southern borders.

And their southern border shall be their boundary on the east: this is the inheritance of the children of Benjamin, these are their borders according to their families.

And the cities of the children of Benjamin according to their families were Jericho, and Bethgegoth, and Anemog. 11 And Loth and Sura, and Besanah, 12 and Zeco, and Phara, and Ephraha, 13 and Campha, and Cephira, and Moni, and Gabaa, twelve cities and their villages: 14 Gabbaa, and Rana, and Beerotha, 15 and Massema, and Miron, and Amoke, 16 and Phira, and Caphan, and Nanc, and Selecan, and Tharela, 17 and Jebus (this is Jerusalem); and Gabaresh, darim, thirteen cities, and their villages: this is the inheritance of the sons of Benjamin according to their families.

And the second lot came out for the children of Simeon: and their inheritance was in the midst of the lots of the children of Judah. And their lot was Bemebee, and Saua, and Singem, and Arsam and Bola, and Jason, 1 and Erthula, and Bula, and Herma, 2 and Sikelne, and Bethmachereb, and Sarasun, 3 and Batharoth, and their fields, thirteen cities, and their villages, 4 Eremmon, and Thatela, and Jether, and Asor, 5 and their cities and their villages; round about their cities as far as Baale on the south, and Bethmuth southward: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families. 6 The inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon was a part of the lot of Judah, for the portion of the children of Judah was greater than theirs; and the children of Simeon inherited in the midst of their lot.

And the third lot came out to Zabulon according to their families: the bounds of their inheritance shall be—Esedekgoela shall be their border, 7 the sea and Magelda, and it shall reach to Betharaba in the valley, which is opposite Dekman. 8 And the border returned, and made a circular direction eastward from Bethanyms, to the borders of Chaselothaith, and shall pass on to Dabiroth, and shall proceed upward to Phongai. 9 And thence it shall come round in the opposite direction eastward to Gecbore to the city of Catasem, and shall go on to Remmonaa Mathareon as far as the borders shall come round northward to Amon, and going out shall be at Gaphad, 10 and Catanaath, and Nabeal, and Symmon, and Jericho, and Bathman. 11 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Zabulon according to their families, these cities and their villages.

And the fourth lot came out to Issachar. 12 And their borders were Jazel, and Chassloth, and Sunam, 13 and Agin, and Sion, and Reereth, 14 and Amacheth, and Dabiron, and Kison, and Rebes, 15 and Remmas, and Jeon, and Tomman, and Simeere, and Bersaphs. 16 And the boundaries shall border upon Getthor, and upon Salim westward, and Bethanymus; and the extremity of his bounds shall be Jordan. 23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Issachar according to their families, the cities and their villages.

24 And the fifth lot came out to Aser according to their families. 25 And their borders were Exaleketh, and Aleph, and Bathok, and Kasaf, and Elimelech, and Amele, and Maasm, and Synaia to the Karmel, and their borders, and the Zebal, and Labanad. 26 And they possessed the cities of the Amorite, that dwelt in the land. 27 And the borders were from Labanad, and they possessed far and near, and Baalbak, and Ophel, and Loab, and the borders of the Amorite, and the borders of the children of Israel, according to their families.

32, 33 And the sixth lot came out to Nephthali. 34 And their borders were Moalam, and Moal, and Bethcad, and Kereth, and Scarin, and Anathoth; and to these the border was the Jordan. 35 And the coast was from Bethhan to the sea of Chinnereth, and to the coast of the Arabah northward.

36 And this was the inheritance of the children of Nephthali according to their families, the cities and their villages.

37 And the seventh lot came out to Dan. 38 And their borders were Samlah, and Asa, and his bound was their border, and Eleph and Asaph, and they possessed the following cities: 39 And the borders were from Eleph, the border was from Bethhan, and the border was the sea of Chinnereth, and the border was the coast of Capernaum, and the border was the coast of the sea. 40 And these were the cities of the children of Dan, according to their families, the cities and their villages.

41 And the eighth lot came out to Joshuah the son of Nau, according to his bounds. 42 And his border was from the river westward, and the border was the sea, and the border was from the south westward, and the river, and the border was to the sea. 43 And these were the bounds of the land according to their families, the cities and their villages.

44 And the sons of Joshuah the son of Nau possessed the following cities: 45 And the bound was from the river westward, and the border was the sea, and the bound was from the south westward, and the bound was to the sea. 46 And these were the bounds of the land according to their families, the cities and their villages.

47 And the sons of Joshuah the son of Nau possessed the following cities: 48 And the bound was from the river westward, and the border was the sea, and the bound was from the south westward, and the bound was to the sea. 49 And these were the bounds of the land according to their families, the cities and their villages.

50 And these were the bounds of the land according to their families, the cities and their villages.
the city which he asked for, Thamnasarach, which is in the mount of Ephraim; and he built the city, and dwelt in it.

51 These are the divisions which Eleazar the priest divided by lot, and Joshua the son of Naue, and the heads of families among the tribes of Israel, according to the lots, in Selo before the Lord by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony, and they went to take possession of the land.

And the Lord spake to Joshua, saying,

2 Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Assign the cities of refuge, of which I spoke to you by Moses.

3 Even a refuge to the slayer who has smitten a man unintentionally, and the cities shall be to you a refuge, and the slayer shall not be put to death by the avenger of blood, until he have stood before the congregation for judgment.

And Joshua separated Cades in Galilee in the mount Napthali, and Sychem in the mount Ephraim, and the city of Arboe: this is Chebron, in the mountaine of Juda.

And beyond Jordan he appointed Bosor in the wilderness in the plain out of the tribe of Ruben, and Aremoth in Galad out of the tribe of Gad, and Saulon in the country of Bashan out of the tribe of Manasse.

These were the cities selected for the sons of Israel, and for the stranger abiding among them, that every one who smites a soul unintentionally shall flee thither, that he should not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he should stand before the congregation for judgment.

And the heads of the families of the sons of Levi drew near to Eleazar the priest, and to Joshua the son of Naue, and to the heads of the families of the tribes of Israel. And they spoke to them in Selo in the land of Chanaan, saying, The Lord gave commandment by Moses to give us cities to dwell in, and the pillows round about for our cattle.

So the children of Israel gave to the Levites in their inheritance by the command of the Lord the cities and the country round.

And the lot came out for the children of Caath; and the sons of Aaron, the priests the Levites, had by lot thirteen cities out of the tribe of Juda, and out of the tribe of Simeon, and out of the tribe of Benjamin.

And to the sons of Caath that were left were given by lot ten cities, out of the tribe of Ephraim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the half tribe of Manasse.

And the sons of Gideon had thirteen cities, out of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Asher, and out of the tribe of Napthali, and out of the half tribe of Manasse in *Basan.

And the sons of Merari according to their families had by lot twelve cities, out of the tribe of Ruben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zabulon.

And the children of Israel gave to the Levites the cities and their suburbs, as the Lord commanded Moses, by lot.

And the tribe of the children of Juda, and the tribe of the children of Symeon, and part of the tribe of the children of Benjamin gave these cities, and they were assigned to the sons of Aaron of the family of Caath of the sons of Levi, for the lot fell to these. And they gave to them Cariatharboc the metropolis of the sons of Enac; this is Chebron in the mountain country of Juda, and the suburbs round it. But the lands of the city, and its villages Joshua gave to the sons of Caleb the son of Jephunne for a possession.

And to the sons of Aaron he gave the city of refuge for the slayer, Chebron, and the suburbs belonging to it; and Lema and the suburbs belonging to it; and Holom and its suburbs; and Temo and its suburbs; and Gella and its suburbs; and Dibor and its suburbs; and Asa and its suburbs; and Tany and its suburbs; and Bethsany and its suburbs; nine cities from these two tribes. And from the tribe of Benjamin, Gabon and its suburbs; and Gatheth and its suburbs; and Aanathoth and its suburbs; and Gamala and its suburbs; four cities. All the cities of the sons of Aaron the priests, thirteen.

And to the families, even the sons of Caath the Levites, that were left of the sons of Caath, there was given their priests' city, out of the tribe of Ephraim; and they gave them the slayer's city of refuge, Syched, and its suburbs, and Gazara and its suburbs, and Kabul, and its suburbs.

To the sons of Gaddah, to the family of Manasse, to their part, for their inheritance, and its suburbs, and Bethhoron and its suburbs; four cities, and the half tribe of Manasse, and its suburbs; and Jabesh and its suburbs; and its villages.

And Joshua gave to the sons of Gideon the Levites out of the other half tribe of Manasse cities set apart for the slayers, Gaulon in the country of Basan, and its suburbs; and Bosora and its suburbs; two cities. And out of the tribe of Issachar, Kison and its suburbs; and Debbas and its suburbs; and Remmath and its suburbs; and the well of Letters, and its suburbs; four cities. And out of the tribe of Aser, Basella and its suburbs; and Dabbon and its suburbs; and Chelet and its suburbs; and Kas and its suburbs; and its villages; four cities.

And of the tribe of Nebthali, the city set apart for the slayer, Cades in Galilee, and its suburbs; and Nemmath, and its suburbs; and Themmon and its suburbs; three cities.

All the cities of Gideon according to their families were thirteen cities.
And to the family of the sons of Merari the Levites that remained, he gave out of the tribe of Zabuon, Maan and its suburbs; and Cades and its suburbs; and Sella and its suburbs: three cities. 35 And beyond Jordan over against Jericho, out of the tribe of Ruben, the city of refuge for the slayer, Bosor in the wilderness, Miso and its suburbs; and Jazer and its suburbs; and Decmon and its suburbs; and Maphia and its suburbs: four cities. 36 And out of the tribe of Gad the city of refuge for the slayer, both Ramoth in Galaad, and its suburbs; Camin and its suburbs; and Ebon and its suburbs; and Jazer and its suburbs: the cities were four in all. 37 All these cities were given to the sons of Merari according to the families of them that were left out of the tribe of Levi; and their limits were the twelve cities.

All the cities of the Levites in the midst of the possession of the children of Israel, were forty-eight cities, and their suburbs round about these cities: a city and the suburbs round about the city to all these cities, and Joshua ceased dividing the land by their borders: and the children of Israel gave a portion to Joshua because of the commandment of the Lord: they gave him the city which he asked: they gave him Thammasachar in mount Ephrain; and Joshua built the city, and dwelt in it: and Joshua took the knives of stone, wherewith he circumcised the children of Israel that were born in the desert by the way, and put them in Thammasachar.

So the Lord gave to Israel all the land which he sware to give to their fathers: and they inherited it, and dwelt in it. 2 And the Lord gave them rest round about, as he sware to their fathers: not one of all their enemies maintained his ground against them; the Lord delivered all their enemies into their hand. 3 There failed not one of the good things which the Lord spoke to the children of Israel; all came to pass.

Then Joshua called together the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse, 4 and said to them, Ye have heard all that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you, and ye have hearkened to all that he commanded you. 5 Ye have not deserted your brethren these many days: until this day ye have kept the commandment of the Lord your God. 6 And now the Lord our God has given our brethren rest, as he told them: now then return and depart to your homes, and to the land of your possession, which Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you to do: to love the Lord our God, to walk in all his ways, to keep his commands, and to cleave to him, and serve him with all your mind.
6 the division of the land, and you shall divide the land by lot among the Israelites, as I commanded you. And the Levites, the descendants of Levi, you shall give to them no part among your inheritance, for the Levites have no inheritance in the land of Israel.

7 And you shall assign to the descendants of Levi the tithes of everything, which the Israelites bring as a tithe of everything, an inheritance for the Levites from among the Israelites. And the Levites shall have no inheritance among the land of Israel, because the Levites have no portion among the Israelites. Therefore the Levites shall have all the offerings made by fire of the Israelites, and all the tithes of the Israelites, which they present by vow or by freewill offerings, are given to the Levites.

8 The children of Aaron the priest shall have the firstborn of the Israelites, and all their firstborn males, and all the firstborn of the oxen, and all the firstborn of the sheep belongs to the Levites, as the Lord commanded Moses.

9 Now those who are exempt from the work they are to do in the tabernacle of the Lord, from the Levites, are of the other tribes of Israel, and they shall all receive the same shares as the other Levites.

10 So the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron and to the children of Israel, saying:

11 "If a man of the house of Israel or of the house of the Levites gives himself to another man or to another woman, as a slave shall he be to him, and to her, for they have given themselves to the Lord. And they shall be male or female for their fellow servant, because they have consecrated themselves to the Lord.

12 "And you shall not make a wife of her former husband, even after the divorce has been granted for her, even if her former husband marries her again. She is not to go back to her former husband, who divorced her. For this is an abomination before the Lord, and you shall not make yourselves abominable by this.

13 "For I am the Lord your God. Do not make yourselves abominable by any thing that I have commanded you to be abominable.

14 "And you shall be holy, as I am holy, because I the Lord your God am holy. You shall therefore be holy, for I am holy.

15 "Whoever makes a vow to the Lord shall make it holy, or whoever consecrates an offering to the Lord shall make it holy. If it is consecrated by a man to the Lord, then it shall be holy.

16 "And you shall not defile yourselves by making yourselves holy, for I am holy. You shall therefore be holy, as I am holy.

17 "You shall not make yourselves abominable by any thing that I have commanded you to be abominable. You shall not make yourselves abominable by the things that I have said in this law.

18 "For I the Lord your God am holy, and I have set you apart from all the peoples of the earth as your own, in order that you may be holy; for I am holy.

19 "Therefore you shall be holy, for I the Lord your God am holy. You shall therefore be holy, as I am holy.

20 "And you shall keep my statutes and my judgments, and do them, so that you may live, and go in and possess the land which I have given you.

21 "And you shall not make yourselves abominable by any thing that I have commanded you to be abominable, neither shall you defile yourselves by all the abominable things that they have done in the land which they were going to possess, and so defile yourselves.

22 "For I the Lord your God am holy. You shall therefore be holy, as I am holy.

23 "Whoever makes a vow to the Lord shall fulfill it, or whatever consecrated offering he makes to the Lord shall not be broken.

24 "For I the Lord your God am holy, and I have set you apart from all the peoples of the earth as your own, in order that you may be holy; for I am holy.

25 "And you shall therefore be holy, as I am holy, for I am holy, the Lord your God.

26 "You shall be holy to me, for I the Lord your God am holy.

27 "You shall therefore be holy, as I am holy, for I the Lord your God am holy.

28 "For I the Lord your God am holy. You shall therefore be holy, as I am holy.

29 "Whoever makes a vow to the Lord shall fulfill it, or whatever consecrated offering he makes to the Lord shall not be broken.

30 "For I the Lord your God am holy. You shall therefore be holy, as I am holy, for I am holy, the Lord your God.

31 "You shall therefore be holy, as I am holy, for I the Lord your God am holy.
there was wrath on the whole congregation of Israel? and he himself died alone in his own sin.

And the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse answered, and spoke to the captains of the thousands of Israel, saying, 21 God even God is the Lord, and God even God himself knows, and Israel he shall know; if we have transgressed before the Lord by apostasy, let him, we so to swear, let him also intercede for us himself.

And hereafter ye shall have no portion in the Lord God of Israel? whereas the Lord has set boundaries between us and you, even Jordan, and ye have no portion in the Lord: so your sons shall alienate our sons, that they shall not worship the Lord, and we will build another altar, not for burnt-offerings, nor for meat-offerings; but that this may be a witness between you and us, and between our posterity after us, that we may do service to the Lord before him, with our burnt-offerings and our meat-offerings and our peace-offerings, so your sons shall not say to our sons;

And we said, If ever it should come to pass that they should speak so to us, or to our posterity hereafter; then shall they say, Behold the likeness of the altar of the Lord, which our fathers made, not for the sake of burnt-offerings, nor for the sake of meat-offerings, but it is a witness between you and us, and between our posterity.

And be it from us therefore that we should turn away from the Lord this day so as to apostatize from the Lord, so that we should build an altar for burnt-offerings, and for peace-offerings, besides the altar of the Lord which our fathers made to offer sacrifices thereunto.

And Phinees the priest and all the chiefs of the congregation of Israel who were with him heard the words which the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse spoke; and it pleased them.

And Phinees the priest said to the sons of Ruben, and to the sons of Gad, and to the half tribe of Manasse, To-day we know that the Lord is with us, because ye have not trespassed grievously against the Lord, and because ye have delivered the children of Israel out of the hand of the Lord.

So Phinees the priest and the princes departed from the children of Ruben, and from the children of Gad, and from the half tribe of Manasse out of Galaad into the land of Chanaan to the children of Israel; and reported the words to them.

And it pleased the children of Israel; and they spoke to the children of Israel, and blessed the God of the children of Israel, and told them to go up no more to war against the others to destroy the land of the children of Ruben, Gad, and Half Manasse, and they dwelt in that land.

And the children of Israel made no war against the children of Ruben, and against the children of Gad, and against the children of Half Manasse; these three tribes dwelt in the towns which were given them in Galilee.

And Phinees the priest answered the sons of Ruben, and of Gad, and of Half Manasse, saying: It is good the word which the Lord your God has spoken.

And if you consent to do the Lord your God, and enter in to possess the land which the Lord your God gives you, then ye must keep every word which is written in this law of the Lord your God; only turn not aside to serve other gods, and worship them.

And the children of Israel did as Phinees the priest, and as the princes of the congregation, and as the captains of the tribes of Israel, which were in the congregation, did; they turned not aside from the words of the children of Ruben, and Gad, and Half Manasse, saying: It is good the word which the Lord your God has spoken.

And the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, and they took not of the inheritance of the children of Ruben, and of the children of Gad, and of the children of Half Manasse.

And the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and of Half Manasse gave their towns to the children of Israel for a possession, in the midst of which they dwelt in the towns which they gave to the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and of Half Manasse; these three tribes dwelt in the towns which they gave to them.

And the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, and they took not of the inheritance of the children of Ruben, and of the children of Gad, and of the children of Half Manasse.

And the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and of Half Manasse gave their towns to the children of Israel for a possession, in the midst of which they dwelt in the towns which they gave to the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and of Half Manasse; these three tribes dwelt in the towns which they gave to them.

And the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, and they took not of the inheritance of the children of Ruben, and of the children of Gad, and of the children of Half Manasse.

And the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and of Half Manasse gave their towns to the children of Israel for a possession, in the midst of which they dwelt in the towns which they gave to the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and of Half Manasse; these three tribes dwelt in the towns which they gave to them.
Joshua XXII. 34—XXIII. 15.

and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse: so they dwelt upon it.

34 And Joshua gave a name to the altar of the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and of the half tribe of Manasse: and said, It is a testimony in the midst of them, that the Lord is their God.

And it came to pass after many days after the Lord had given Israel rest from all his enemies round about, that Joshua was old and advanced in years.

And Joshua called together all the children of Israel, and their elders, and their chiefs, and their judges, and their officers; and said to them, I am old and advanced in years. And ye have seen all that the Lord our God has done to all these nations that are left to you by lots to your tribes, all the nations beginning at Jordan; and some I have destroyed; and the boundaries shall be at the great sea westward.

And the Lord our God, he shall destroy them before you, until they utterly perish, and he shall send among them wild beasts, until he shall have utterly destroyed them and their kings from before you; and ye shall inherit their land, as the Lord our God said to you. Do ye therefore strive diligently to observe and do all things written in the book of the law of Moses that ye turn not to the right hand or to the left; that ye go not in among these nations that are left; and the names of their gods shall not be named among you. neither shall ye serve them, neither shall ye bow down to them. But ye shall cleave to the Lord our God, as ye have done until this day.

And the Lord shall destroy them before you, even great and strong nations, and no nation has stood before you until this day.

One of you has chased a thousand, for the Lord our God, he fought for you, as he said to us.

And take ye great heed to love the Lord your God.

For if ye shall turn aside and attach yourselves to these nations that are left with you, and make marriages with them, and become mingled with them and their gods, then ye shall pass to serve other gods, of the nations whom ye shall destroy, as they are evil.

But I hasten to go the way of death, as all that are upon the earth, also ye know that your soul, that not one word has fallen to the ground of all the words which the Lord our God has spoken respecting all that concerns us; there has not one of them failed. And it shall come to pass, that as all the good things are come upon us which the Lord spoke concerning you, so the Lord God will bring upon you all the evil things, until he shall have destroyed you from off this good land, which the Lord has given you, when ye transgress the covenant of the Lord our God, which he has charged us, and go and serve other gods, and bow down to them.

And Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel to Shebron, and convoked their elders, and their officers, and their judges, and set them before God.

And Joshua said to all the people, Thus says the Lord God of Israel, Your fathers at first sojourned beyond the river, even Thara, the father of Abraam and the father of Nachor; and they served other gods.

And I took your father Abraam from the other side of the river, and I guided him through all the land, and I multiplied his seed; and I gave to him Isaac, and to Isaac Jacob; and I gave to Esau mount Seir for him to inherit: and Jacob and his sons went down to Egypt, and became there a great and populous and mighty nation; and the Egyptians afflicted them. And I smote Egypt with the wonders that I wrought among them.

And afterwards God brought out our fathers from Egypt, and ye entered into the Red Sea; and the Egyptians pursued after our fathers with chariots and horses into the Red Sea. And we cried aloud to the Lord; and he yput a cloud and darkness between us and the Egyptians, and he brought the sea upon them, and covered them; and your eyes have seen all that the Lord did in the land of Egypt; and ye were in the wilderness many days.

And he brought us into the land of the Amorites that dwelt beyond Jordan, and the Lord delivered them into our hands; and ye inherited their land, and utterly destroyed them from before you.

And Balac, king of Moab, son of Sepphor, rose up, and made war against Israel, and sent and called Balaam to curse us. But the Lord thy God would not destroy thee; and he greatly blessed us, and rescued us out of their hands, and delivered them to us.

And ye crossed over Jordan, and came to Jericho; and the inhabitants of Jericho fought against us, the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Jebusite, and the Ammonite, and the Hittite, and the Sidonite, and the Hivite, and the Jebusite; and the Lord delivered them into our hands.

And he sent forth the hornet before you; and he drove them out from before you, even twelve kings of the Amorites, not with thy sword, nor with thy bow.

And he gave you a land on which ye did not labour, and cities which ye did not build, and ye were settled in them; and ye eat of vineyards and oliveyards which ye did not plant.

And Joshua spoke concerning you, so the Lord God will bring upon you all the evil things, until he shall have destroyed you from off this good land, which the Lord has given you, when ye transgress the covenant of the Lord our God, which he has charged us, and go and serve other gods, and bow down to them.

Joshua xxiv. 14—30.

14 And now fear the Lord, and serve him, in righteousness and justice; and remove the gods, whose your fathers served beyond the river, even in Egypt; and serve the Lord. 15 But if it seem not good to you to serve the Lord, choose to yourselves this day whom ye will serve, whether the gods of your fathers that were on the other side of the river, or the gods of the Amorites among whom ye dwell upon their land: but I and my house will serve the Lord, for he is holy.

16 And the people answered and said, Far be it from us to forsake the Lord, so as to serve other gods. 17 The Lord our God, he is God; he brought us up and our fathers from Egypt, and kept us in all the way wherein we walked, and among all the nations through whom we passed. 18 And the Lord cast out the Amorite, and all the nations that inhabited the land from before us: yea, we will serve the Lord, for he is our God.

19 And Joshua said to the people, Indeed ye will not be able to serve the Lord, for he is holy; and he being jealous will not forgive your sins and your transgressions.

20 Whencesoever ye shall forsake the Lord and serve other gods, then he shall come upon you and consume you; yea, ye; because he has done you good. 21 And the people said to Joshua, Nay, but we will serve the Lord.

22 And Joshua said to the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves, that ye have chosen the Lord to serve him. 23 And now take away the strange gods that are among you, and set your heart right toward the Lord God of Israel. 24 And the people said to Joshua, We will serve the Lord, and we will hearken to his voice.

25 So Joshua made a covenant with the people on that day, and gave them a law and an ordinance in Selo before the tabernacle of the Lord God of Israel. 26 And he wrote these words in the book of the laws of God: and Joshua took a great stone, and set it up under the oak before the Lord; 27 And Joshua said to the people, Behold, this stone shall be among you for a witness, for it has heard all the words that have been spoken to it by the Lord; for he has spoken to you this day; and this stone shall be among you for a witness in the last days, whenever ye shall deal falsely with the Lord my God. 28 And Joshua dismissed the people, and they went every man to his place. 29 And Israel served the Lord all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that lived after Joshua, and all that knew all the works of the Lord which he wrought for Israel.

30 And it came to pass after these things that Joshua the son of Naue the servant of the Lord died, at the age of a hundred and ten years. 31 And they buried him by the borders of his inheritance in Thamnasa-rach in the mount of Ephraim, northward of the mount of Galaad: there they put him into the tomb in which they buried him, the knives of stone with which

them in Shechem, in the portion of the land

23 And it came to pass afterwards that Eleazar the high-priest the son of Arnon died, and was buried in Gabaar of Phinees his son, which he gave him in mount Ephraim.

In that day the children of Israel took the ark of God, and carried it about among them; and Phinees exercised the priest's

he died, and he was buried in his own place
Gabaar: but the children of Israel departed

Joshua, that the children of Israel enquired of the Lord, saying, Who shall go up for us

And the children of Judas fought against Jerusalem, and took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and they burnt the city with fire. And afterwards the children of Judas went down to fight with the Chananite dwelling in the hill country, and the south, and the plain country. And Judas went to the Canaanites who dwelt in Chebron: and Chebron came out against him; and the name of Chebron before was Cariaathbarcbespe: and they smote Sassi, and Achiman, and Tholmi, children of Enac. And they went up thence to the inhabitants of Dabir; but the name of Dabir was before Cariaathsheipher, the city of Letters.

And Chaleb said, Whosoever shall smite the city of Letters, and shall first take it, I will give him his daughter Achai to wife. And Gontelien the younger son of Kenez the brother of Chaleb took it; and Chaleb gave him his daughter Achai to wife. And it came to pass as she went in, that Gontelien urged her to ask a field of her father; and she murmured and cried out of her ass, Thou hast sent me forth into a south land: and Chaleb said to her, What is thy request? And Achai spake to him, Give me, I pray thee, a blessing, for thou hast sent me forth into a south land, and thou shalt give me the ransom of water: and Chaleb gave her according to her heart the ransom of the upper springs and the ransom of the low springs.

And the children of Jothor the Kenite the father-in-law of Moses went up from the city of palm-trees with the children of Judas, to the wilderness that is in the south of Judah, which is at the descent of Arad, and they dwelt with the people.

And Judas went with Symeon his brother, and smote the Chananite that inhabited Sepheth, and they utterly destroyed them; and they called the name of the city Ana-thema. But Judas did not inherit Gaza nor her coasts, nor Asalon nor her coasts, nor Azor nor her coasts, nor Azotus nor the lands about it. And the Lord was with Judas, and he inherited the mountain; for they were not able to destroy the inhabitants of the valley, for he Chaleb prevented them. And they gave Chebron to Chaleb, as Moses said; and hence he inherited the three cities of the children of Enac.

But the children of Benjamin did not take the inheritance of the Judaeus who dwelt in Jerusalem; and the Jebusites dwelt with the children of Benjamin in Jerusalem until this day.

And the sons of Joseph, they also went up to Bethel; and the Lord was with them. And they encamped and surveyed Bethel: and the name of the city before was Luza.

And the spies looked, and behold, a man... went out of the city, and they took him; and they said to him, Shew us the way into the city, and we will deal mercifully with thee. 2 And he shewed them the way into the city: and they smote the city with the edge of the sword; but they let go the man and his family. 3 And the man went into the land of Chanaan, and built there a city, and called the name of it Luza; this is its name until this day.

4 And Mannasse did not drive out the inhabitants of Bethsamys, which is a city of Scythians, nor her towns, nor her suburbs; nor Thanach, nor her towns; nor the inhabitants of Dor, nor her towns; nor the inhabitant of Balac, nor her suburbs; nor the inhabitants of Magelo, nor her suburbs, nor her towns; nor the inhabitants of Jebalma, nor her suburbs, nor her towns; and the Chananite began to dwell in this land. 5 And it came to pass when Israel was strong, that he made the Chananite tributary, but did not utterly drive them out. 6 And Ephraim did not drive out the Chananite that dwelt in Gazer; and the Chananite dwelt in the midst of him in Gazer, and became tributary. 7 And Zabulon did not drive out the inhabitants of Kedron, nor the inhabitants of Domna; and the Chananite dwelt in the midst of them, and became tributary to them. 8 And Asser did not drive out the inhabitants of Acheo, and that people became tributary to him, nor the inhabitants of Dor, nor the inhabitants of Sidon, nor the inhabitants of Dalaph, nor Ashchati, nor Chebda, nor Nai, nor Ereco. 9 And asser dwelt in the midst of the Chananite who inhabited the land, and became tributary to them. 10 And Asser did not drive out the inhabitants of Achesh, nor the inhabitants of Bethsamys, nor the inhabitants of Bethanach; and Nephthali dwelt in the midst of the Chananite who inhabited the land: but the inhabitants of Bethsamys and of Betheneth became tributary to them.

11 And the Amorite drove out the children of Dan into the mountain, for they did not suffer them to come down into the valley. 12 And the Amorite began to dwell in the mountain of shells, in which are bears, and foxes, in Myrsison, and in Thalabin; and the land of the house of Joseph was heavy upon the Amorite, and he became tributary to them. 13 And the border of the Amorite was from the going up of Acrabin, from the rock and upwards.

And an angel of the Lord went up from Galgal to the place of weeping, and to Bethel, and to the house of Israel, and said to them, Thus says the Lord, I brought you up out of Egypt, and I brought you into the land which I sware to your fathers; and I said, I will never break my covenant that I have made with you. 15 And ye shall make no covenant with them that dwell in this land, neither shall ye worship their gods; but ye shall destroy their graven images, ye shall pull down their altars; but ye shall heartened not to my voice, for ye did these things. 16 And I said, I will not drive them tis puleus, or, and elabo auton, or, ei ton autou, deicin hymen eis ton puleus eis ton iedoson, or, poiousmen metata sou eileos. They and the people served the Lord all the days of Joshua, and also all the days of the elders that lived many days after Joshua, as many as knew all the great work of the Lord, what things he had wrought in Israel.

And Joshua the son of Nave, the servant of the Lord, died, was hundred and ten years old.

And they buried him in the border of his inheritance, in Thamaathares, in mount Ephraim, on the north of the mountain of Gaas.

And all that generation were laid to their fathers: and another generation rose up after them, who knew not the Lord, nor yet the work which he wrought in Israel.

And the children of Israel wrought evil before the Lord, and served Baalim.

And they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and walked after other gods, of the gods of the nations round about them; and they worshipped them.

And they provoked the Lord, and forsook him, and served Baal and the Asartes.

And the Lord was very angry with Israel; and he gave them into the hands of the spoilers, and they spoiled them; and he sold them into the hands of their enemies, and they served them.

And because the Lord raised up judges, so the Lord was with the judge, and saved them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge: for the Lord wrought miracles, which he wrought in Egypt.

And it came to pass, when the judge was die, that they went back, and again corrupted themselves worse than their fathers went after other gods to serve them and to worship them: they abandoned not their devices nor their stubborn ways.

out a man of the nations from before their face, which Joshua the son of Naam left in the land.

And the Lord left them, 22 that they would keep the way of the Lord, to walk in it, as their fathers kept it, or no. 23 So the Lord will leave these nations, so as not to cast them out suddenly; and he delivered them not into the hand of Joshua.

And these are the nations which the Lord left to prove Israel with them, all that had not known the wars of Chanan. Only for the sake of the generations of Israel, to teach them war, only the men before them knew them not. 3 The five lordships of the Phyllistines, and every Chananite, and the Sidonian, and the Evite who dwelt in Libanus from the mount of Arenon to Laebomath. 4 And this was done in order to prove Israel by them, to know whether they would obey the commands of the Lord, which he charged their fathers by the hand of Moses.

And the children of Israel dwelt in the midst of the Chananite, and the Chettite, and the Amorite, and the Pherexite, and the Evite, and the Jebusite. 5 And they took their daughters for wives to themselves, and they gave their daughters to their sons, and they served their gods. 6 And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord, and forgot the Lord God of their fathers, and served Baalim and the groves. 7 And the Lord was very angry with Israel, and sold them into the hand of Chusarsathaim king of Syria of the rivers; and the children of Israel served Chusarsathaim eight years.

And the children of Israel cried to the Lord; and the Lord raised up a saviour to Israel, and he saved them, Gethoniel the son of Kenez, the brother of Caleb younger than himself. 8 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he judged Israel; and he went out to war against Chusarsathaim: and the Lord delivered into his hand Chusarsathaim king of Syria of the rivers, and his hand prevailed against Chusarsathaim. 9 And the land was quiet forty years; and Gethoniel the son of Kenez died.

10 And the children of Israel continued to do evil before the Lord; and the Lord strengthened Eglom king of Moab against Israel, because they had done evil before the Lord. 11 And he gathered to himself all the children of Ammon and Amalec, and went and smote Israel, and took possession of the city of Palm-trees. 12 And the children of Israel served Eglom the king of Moab eighteen years.

13 And the children of Israel cried to the Lord; and he raised up to them a saviour, Aod the son of Gera a 5 son of Jemeni, a man 5 who used both hands alike; and the children of Israel sent gifts by his hand to Eglom king of Moab. 14 And Aod made himself a dagger of two edges, of a span long, and he girded it under his cloak upon his right thigh. 15 And he went, and brought the present of Eglom king of Moab, and Eglom was a very handsome man.

16 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 17 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

18 And the children of Israel sent gifts by the hand of Eglom the king of Moab, and Eglom was a very handsome man.

19 And the children of Israel sent gifts by the hand of Eglom the king of Moab, and Eglom was a very handsome man.

20 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 21 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

22 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 23 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

24 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 25 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

26 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 27 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

28 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 29 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

30 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 31 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

32 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 33 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

34 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 35 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

36 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 37 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

38 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 39 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.

40 And the Lord sent his angel to smite the Midian. 41 So they served Eglom the king of Moab forty years.
18 And then the king, hearing the words of the prophet, sent, and they brought him in quickly into the house, and let him down upon the bed of the man of God.
19 And the priest took the bag of meal, and the leaven, and the oil, and poured them into the hands of Elisha his servant.
20 And the man of God answered, and said, Where will you have me to go, that I may make an end there?
21 And he said, Go to Bethel; and he went to Bethel, and came into a house from the way.
22 And there was a large flaxen缄 which the women had gathered together. And he took it, and bound the young man with it. So the young man got up on his bed.
23 Then he went to the gate of the city, and talked with the gatekeeper, saying, Tell them, saying, Say, let him come in.
24 And the man of God came in, and sat in the place of the gate.
25 And all the people of the city asked, saying, Why is this? And they said, He is the prophet that was in Samaria.
26 And it came to pass, as the man was sitting in the gate, behold, a poor woman brought in a bottle of oil in her hand, and a couple of measures of meal in her hand.
27 And she said, Will you not, before we come to your house, give to your servant a little残 to make me a pledge, that I may not go down to my lord's house empty?
28 And the prophet answered, Go in, and make me a little残 to eat; for the Lord delayed me. And he said, I have reserve in the house.

23 And And went out to the porch, and passed out by the appointed guards, and shut the doors of the chamber upon him, and locked them. 24 And he went out: and Eglom's servants came, and saw, and beheld, the doors of the upper chamber were locked; and they said, Does he not uncover his seat in the summer-chamber?

25 And they waited till they were ashamed, and, behold, there was no one that opened the doors of the upper chamber; and they took the key, and opened them; and, behold, their lord was fallen down dead upon the earth.

26 And And escaped while they were in a tumult, and no one paid attention to him; and he passed the quarrries, and escaped to Siboth.
And she sat under the palm-tree of Debora between Ramah and Bethel in mount Ephraim; and the children of Israel went up to her for judgment. And Debbora sent and called Barac the son of Abineem out of Cades Nephthali; and she said to him, Has not the Lord God of Israel commanded thee? And thou shalt depart to mount Thabor, and shalt take with thyself ten thousand men of the sons of Nephthali, and of the sons of Zabulon. And I will bring to thee to the torrent of Kison Sisara the captain of the host of Jabin, and his chariots, and his multitude, and I will deliver them into thine hands. And Barac said to her, If thou wilt go with me, I will go; and if thou wilt not go, I will not go: for I know not the day on which the Lord prospereth his messenger with me. And she said, I will surely go with thee: but know that thy honour shall not attend on the expedition on which thou goest, for the Lord shall sell Sisara into the hands of a woman: and Debbora arose, and went with Barac out of Cades. And Barac called Zabulon and Nephthali out of Cades, and there went up at his feet ten thousand men, and Debbora went up with him.

And Chaber the Kenite had removed from Caina, from the sons of Jobab the father-in-law of Moses, and pitched his tent by the oak of the covetous ones, which is near Kedes. And it was told Sisara that Barac the son of Abineem was gone up to mount Thabor. And Sisara summoned all his chariots, nine hundred chariots of iron and all the people with him, from Arisoth of the Gentiles to the brook of Kison.

And Debbora said to Barac, Rise up, for this day on which the Lord hath delivered Sisara into thy hand, for the Lord shall go forth before thee: and Barac went down from mount Thabor, and ten thousand men after him. And the Lord discomfited Sisara and all his chariots, and all his army, with the edge of the sword before Barac: and Sisara descended from off his chariot, and fled on his feet. And Barac pursued after the chariots and after the army, into Arisoth of the Gentiles; and the whole army of Sisara fell by the edge of the sword, before Barac, and the tent of Jael, the wife of Chaber the Kenite: for there was peace between Jabin king of Asor and the house of Chaber the Kenite. And Jael went out to meet Sisara, and said to him, Turn aside, my lord, turn aside to me, fear not: and he turned aside to her into the tent; and she covered him with a mantle. And Sisara said to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water to drink, for I am thirsty; and she opened him a bottle of milk, and gave him to drink, and covered him. And Sisara said to her, Stand now by the door of the tent, and it shall come to pass if any man come to thee, and ask of thee, and say, Is there any man here? then thou shalt...
Praise be to God, who gave us light on the day of life, and who, with you, Lord our God, has shown us His great mercy.

Ephraim was weak in Israel, and the people chose not the Righteous One, even the scribe's son, in whose feet was the strength of God of Jacob.

She-Ass and Jael:

And Jael, the wife of Caleb, took a pin of the tent, and took a hammer to her hand, and went secretly to him, and fastened the pin in his tent, and it went through to the earth, and he fled away, and darkness fell upon him and he died.

And, behold, Barac was pursuing Sisara; and Jael went out to meet him, and he said to him, Come, and I will show thee the man's house where the man is, and, behold, he came in to her; and, behold, Sisara was fallen dead, and the pin was in his temple.

So God routed Jabin king of Canaan in that day before the children of Israel.

And the hand of the children of Israel prevailed more and more against Jabin king of Canaan, until they utterly destroyed Jabin king of Canaan.

And Deborah and Barac son of Abineem sang in that day, saying,

A revelation was made in Israel when the people were made willing: Praise ye the Lord.

Hear, ye kings, and hearken, rulers: will sing, it is I who will sing to the Lord, it is I, I will sing a psalm to the Lord, the God of Israel, in the day when he went forth on Sion, when thou wentest forth out of the land of Edom, the earth quaked and the heavens dropped dews, and the clouds dropped water.

The mountains were shaken before the face of the Lord Elon, this Sina before the face of the Lord God of Israel.

In the days of Samgar son of Amin, in the days of Jael, they desolated the ways, and sought paths in crooked paths.

The mighty men in Israel failed; they failed until Debora arose, until she arose a mother in Israel.

They chose new gods; then the cities of rulers fought.

There was not a shield or spear seen among forty thousand in Israel.

My heart inclines to the orders given in Israel; ye that are willing among the people, come and help the Lord.

V. 17.

Ye shall go up against Amalek, ye shall not mount a she-ass at noon-day, ye that sit on the judgment-seat, and walk by the roads of them that sit in judgment by the way; declare ye that are delivered from the noise of disturbers among the drawers of water; there shall they relate righteous acts of the Lord, increase righteous acts in Israel: then the people of the Lord went down to the cities.

Awake, awake, Debora awake, awake, utter a song: arise, Barac, and lead thy captivity captive, son of Abineem.

Then went down the remnant to the strong, the people of the Lord went down for him among the mighty ones from me.

Ephraim rooted them out in Amalek, behind thee was Benjamin among thy people, the inhabitants of Machir came down with me searching out the enemy, and from Zabulon came they that drew with the scribe's pen of record.

And princes in Issachar were with Debora and Barac, thus she sent Barac on his feet in the valleys into the portions of Ruben; great pangs reached to the heart. Why did they sit between the sheep-folds to hear the singing of Ruben? there were great searchings of heart.

he pitched his tents; and why does Dan remain in ships? Aser stood down on the sea-coasts, and he will tabernacle at his boards. 18 The people Zabulon exposed their soul to death, and Nephthali came to the high places of their land.

19 Kings set themselves in array, then the kings of Chanaan fought in Thammach at the water of Mageddo; they took no gift of money; 20 they trusted in their own horses, and they set themselves in array, they set themselves to fight with Sisara out of their paths. 21 The book of Kison swept them away, the ancient brook, the book Kison: my mighty soul will trample him down. 22 When the hoofs of the horse were entangled, his mighty ones earnestly hasted. 23 The Lord said the angel of the Lord: cursed is every one that dwells in it, because they came not to the help of the Lord, to his help among the mighty.

Blessed among women be Jael wife of Chaber the Kenite; let her be blessed above women in tents. 24 She took an peg of water, she laid it under her feet, she bowed down to her feet; 25 she stretched forth her right hand to the gate, her left hand to the mill; she bowed out princes. 26 She stretched forth her left hand to the nail, and her right hand to the workman's hammer, and she s mothe Sisara with it, she nailed through his head and smote him; she nailed through his temples. 27 He rolled down between her feet; he bowed and fell; where he bowed, there he fell dead.

28 The mother of Sisara looked down through the window out of the looole, saying, Why was his chariot ashamed? why did the wheels of his chariots tumble? 29 Her wise ladies answered her, and she returned answers to her self, saying, Will they be afraid of him dividing the spoil? he will surely be gracious to every man: there are spoils of dyed garments for Sisara, spoils of various dyed garments, dyed embroidered garments, they are the spoils for his neck. 30 Thus let all thine enemies perish, O Lord; and they that love him shall be as the sun in his strength.

31 And the land had rested forty years. And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord, and the Lord gave them into the hand of Madiam seven years. 2 And the hand of Madiam prevailed against Israel: and the children of Israel made for themselves because of Madiam the caves in the mountains, and the dens, and the holes in the rocks. 3 And it came to pass when the children of Israel sowed, that Madiam and Amalee went up, and the children of the east went up together with them. 4 And they encamped against them, and destroyed their fruits until they came to Ophra; and they left not the support of life in the land of Israel, not even ox or ass among the herds. 5 For they and their stock came up, and their tents were with them, as the locust in multitude, and there was no number to them and their camels; and they came to the land of Israel, and laid it waste. 6 And Israel was greatly impoverished because of Madiam. 7 And the children of Israel cried to the Lord because of Madiam.

8 And the Lord sent a prophet to the children of Israel; and he said to them, Thus says the Lord God of Israel, I am he that brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and I brought you up out of the house of your bondage. 9 And I delivered you out of the hand of Egypt, and out of the hand of all that afflicted you, and I cast them out before you; and I gave you their land. 10 And I said to you, I am the Lord your God: ye shall not fear the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell; but ye hearkened not to my voice.

11 And an angel of the Lord came, and sat down under the fir tree, which was in Ephrathah in the land of Joab father of Esdrai; and Gideon his son was threshing wheat in a wine-press in order to escape from the face of Madiam. 12 And the angel of the Lord appeared to him and said to him, The Lord is with thee, thou mighty in strength. 13 And Gideon said to him, Be gracious with me, my Lord: but if the Lord is with us, why then hath not the spirit of the Lord come upon me, and taken me? And where are all his miracles, which our fathers related to us, saying, Did not the Lord bring us up out of Egypt? and now hath he cast us out, and given us into the hand of Madiam. 14 And the angel of the Lord turned to him, and said, Go in this thy strength, and thou shalt save Israel out of the hand of Madiam: behold, I have sent thee. 15 And Gideon said to him, Be gracious with me, my Lord: whereby shall I save Israel out of the hand of Madiam, when I am but a son of my father's house.

16 And the angel of the Lord said to him, Go in this thy might, and thou shalt smite Madiam as one man.

17 And Gideon said to him, If now I have found mercy in thy eyes, and thou wilt bring forth an offering and offer it before thee: and he said, I will remain until thou return.

18 And Gideon went in, and prepared a kid of the goats, and an ephah of fine flour unleavened; and he put the flesh in the basket, and poured the broth into the pot, and brought it under the tent, and said, Let it be my lord's servant under the tent. 19 And the angel of God said to him, Take the flesh, and the unleavened cakes, and put them on that rock, and pour out the broth close by: and he did so. 20 And the angel of the Lord stretched out the end of the rod that was in his hand, and touched the flesh and the unleavened bread; and fire came up out of the rod, and consumed the flesh and the unleavened bread, and the angel of the Lord vanished from his sight.

21 And Gideon saw that he was an angel of the Lord; and Gideon said, Ah, ah, Lord my God! for I have seen the angel of the Lord face to face. 22 And the Lord said to him, Peace be to thee, fear not, thou shalt not die.

23 And Gideon built there an altar to the Lord, and called it The peace of the Lord: until this day, as it is still in Ephrathah of the father of Esdrai. 24 And it came to pass

in that night, that the Lord said to him, Take the young bullock which thy father has, even the second bullock of seven years old, and thou shalt destroy the altar of Baal which thy father has, and the grove which is by it thou shalt destroy. 21 And thou shalt build an altar to the Lord thy God on the top of this Mizpeh in the ordered it, and thou shalt take the second bullock, and shalt offer up whole-burnt-offerings with the wood of the grove, which thou shalt destroy. 22 And Gideon took ten men of his servants, and did as the Lord spoke to him, and passed thereby in the house of his father and the men of the city yf he should do it by day, that he did it by night.

23 And the men of the city rose up early in the morning; and behold, the altar of Baal had been demolished, and the grove by it had been destroyed; and they said to the second bullock, which Gideon offered on the altar that had been built. 24 And a man said to his neighbour, Who has done this thing? and they enquired and searched, and learnt that Gideon the son of Joas had done this thing. 25 And the men of the city said to Joas, Bring out thy son, and let him die, because he has destroyed the altar of Baal, and because he has destroyed the grove that is by it. 26 And Gideon the son of Joas said to all the men who rose up against him, Do ye now plead for Baal, or will ye save him? whoever will plead for him, let him be slain this morning; if he be a god, let him save himself, because he has thrown down his altar. 27 And he called it in that day Jeroboam, saying, Let Baal plead thereby, because his altar has been thrown down.

28 And all Midian, and Amalek, and the sons of the east gathered themselves together, and encamped in the valley of Jezreel. 29 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon Gideon, and he blew with the horn, and Abiezer came to help after him. 30 And Gideon sent messengers into all Manasseh, and into Aser, and into Zabulon, and into Naphthali; and he went up to meet them.

31 And Gideon said to God, If thou wilt save Israel by my hand, as thou hast said, 32 behold, I put the fleece of wool in the threshing-floor; if there be dew on the fleece only, and drought on all the ground, I shall know that thou wilt save Israel by my hand, as thou hast said. And it was so; and he rose up early in the morning, and wrung the fleece, and dew cropped from the fleece, a bowl full of water. 33 And Gideon said to God, Let not, I pray thee, thine anger be kindled with me, and I will speak yet once; I will even yet make one trial more with the fleece. 34 And God did so in that night; and there was drought on the fleece only, and on all the ground there was dew. 35 And Jeroboam rose early, the same is Gideon, and all the people with him, and encamped at the fountain of Arab; and the camp of Madian was to the north of him, reaching from Gabaaathmori, in the valley.

2 And the Lord said to Gideon, The people with thee are many, so that I may not deliver Madian into their hand, lest at any time Israel boast against me, saying, My hand has saved me. 3 And now speak in the ears of the people, saying, Who is afraid and fearful? let him return and depart from Mount Gabaam, and the Lord has delivered Madian into the hand of his servant the people of Gabaam.

And Gideon said, And the Lord has delivered Madian into the hand of his servant the people of Gabaam. 8 And it came to pass when Gideon heard the account of the dream and the interpretation of it, that he worshipped the Lord, and returned to the camp of Israel, and said, Rise, for the Lord has delivered the camp of Midian into our hand. 18 And he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and put horns in the hands of all, and empty pitchers, and torches in the pitchers: and he said to them, Shave your beards, and shall you stand ready, behold, I will go into the host, and I shall come to pass that as I do, so shall ye do. 18 And I will sound with the horn, and all ye with me shall sound with the horn round about the whole camp, and ye shall say, For the Lord and Gedeon.

3 And Gedeon and the hundred men that were with him came to the extremity of the army in the beginning of the middle watch; and they completely roused the guards, and sounded with the horns, and they broke the pitchers that were in their hands, 3 and the three companies sounded with the horns, and broke the pitchers, and held the torches in their left hands, and in their right hands their horns to sound with; and they cried out, A sword for the Lord and for Gedeon. 4 And every man stood in his place round about the host: 5 and all the host ran, and sounded an alarm, and fled. 24 And they sounded with the three hundred horns; and the Lord set every man's sword in all the host against his neighbour.

23 And the host fled as fast as Bethshean Tagarmatha Abel-mealu to Tabath; and the men of Israel from Nephilim, and from Aser, and from all Manasse, came to help, and followed after Midian.

24 And Gedeon sent messengers into all mount Ephraim, saying, Come down to meet Midian, and take to yourselves the water as far as Beithera and Jordan; and every man of Ephraim cried out, and they took the water before hand unto Beithera and Jordan. 25 And they took the princes of Midian, even Oreb and Zeb; and they slew Oreb, and they slew Zeb in Jephthep; and they pursued Midian, and brought the heads of Oreb and Zeb to Gedeon from beyond Jordan.

And the men of Ephraim said to Gedeon, What is this that thou hast done to us, in that thou didst not call us when thou wentest to fight with Midian? and they chose him sharply. 2 And he said to them, What have I now done in comparison of you? is not the gleaming of Ephraim better than the vintage of Abarim? 3 The Lord has delivered into your hand the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeb; and what could I do in comparison of you? Then was his spirit calmed toward him, when he spoke this word.

4 And Gedeon came to Jordan, and went over, himself and the three hundred with him, hungry, yet pursuing. 5 And he said to the men of Socchoth, Give, I pray you, bread to feed this people that follow me, because they are faint, and behold, I am following after Zebee and Samalk, princes of Midian. 6 And the princes of Socchoth said, Are the hands of Zebee and Samalk now in thy hand, that we should give bread to thy host? 7 And Gideon said, Therefore when the Lord gives Zebee and Salmana into my hand, then will I slay thy flesh with the thorns of the wilderness, and the Barkenim. 8 And he went up thence to Phanuel, and spoke to them likewise: and the men of Phanuel answered him as the men of Socchoth had answered him. 9 And Gideon said to the men of Phanuel, When I return in peace, I will y break down this tower.

10 And Zebee and Saldana were in Carcaz, and their host was with them, about fifteen thousand, all that were left of all the host of the aliens; and they that fell were a hundred and twenty thousand men that drew the sword. 11 And Gideon went up by the way of them that dwelt in tents, eastward of Naibai and Jegebal; and he smote the host, and the host was secure. 12 And Zebee and Salmana fled; and he pursued after them, and took the two kings of Madiam, Zebee and Salmana, and discomfited all the army.

13 And Gideon the son of Joas returned from the battle, down from the battle of Ares. 14 And he took prisoner a young lad of the men of Socchoth, and questioned him; and he wrote the names of the princes of Socchoth and of their elders, seventy-seven men. 15 And Gideon came back to the princes of Socchoth, and said, Behold, Zebee and Salmana, about whom ye reproached me, saying, Are the hands of Zebee and Salmana now in thy hand, that we should give bread to thy men that are faint? 16 And he took the elders of the city with the thorns of the wilderness and the Barkenim, and with them he tore the men of the city. 17 And he overthrew the tower of Phanuel, and slew the men of the city.

18 And he said to Zebee and Salmana, Where are the men whom ye slew in Thabor? and they said, As thou, so were they, according to the likeness of the son of a king. 19 And Gideon said, They were my brethren and the sons of my mother: as the Lord lives, if ye had preserved them alive, I would not have slain you. 20 And he said to Jether his first-born, Rise and slay them; but the lad drew not his sword, for he was afraid, for he was yet very young.

21 And Zebee and Salmana said, Rise thou and fall upon us: for thus have we dealt with them that of a man; and Gideon arose, and slew Zebee and Salmana; and he took the sword ornaments that were on the necks of their camels.

22 And the men of Israel said to Gideon, Rule, my lord, over us, both thou, and thy son, and thy son's son; for thou hast saved us out of the hand of Madiam. 23 And Gideon said to them, I will not rule, and my son shall not rule among you; the Lord shall rule over you. 24 And Gideon said to them, I will make a request of you, and do give me every man an earring out of his spoil: for they were golden earrings, for they were Ismaelites. 25 And they said, We
And Madiam was straitened before the children of Israel, and they did not lift up their head any more; and the land had rest forty years in the days of Gedeon. And Jerobaal the son of Joas went and sat in his house. And Gedeon had seventy sons begotten of his body, for he had many wives.

And his concubine was in Sychem, and she also bore him a son, and gave him the name Abimelech. And Gedeon son of Joas, and his concubine, and his hundred in the sepulchre of Joas his father in Ephratha of Abi-Eadri.

And it came to pass when Gedeon was dead, that the children of Israel turned, and went a whoring after Baal, and made for themselves a covenant with Baal that he should reign over them. And the children of Israel rendered not the Lord that God who had delivered them out of the hand of all that afflicted them round about.

And they did not deal mercifully with the house of Jerobaal, (the same is Gedeon) according to all the good which he did to Israel.

And Abimelech son of Jerobaal went to Sychem to his mother's brethren; and he spoke to them and to all the kindred of the house of his mother's father, saying, Speak, I pray you, in the ears of all the men of Sychem, saith. Which is better for you, that seventy men, even all the sons of Jerobaal, should reign over you, or that one man should reign over you? and remember that I am your bone and your flesh. And his mother's brethren spoke concerning him in the ears of all the men of Sychem all these words; and their heart turned after Abimelech, for they said, He is our brother.

And they gave him seventy pieces of silver out of the house of Baalberith; and Abimelech hired for himself valiant men and cowardly men, and they went after him. And he went to the house of his father to Ephratha, and slew his brethren the sons of Jerobaal, seventy men upon one stone; but Joatham the youngest son of Jerobaal was left, for he hid himself.

And all the men of Sicima, and all the house of Bethmaalo, were gathered together, and they went and made Abimelech king by the oak of Sedition, which was at Sicima.

And it was reported to Joatham, and he went and stood on the top of mount Garius, and lifted up his voice, and wept, and said to them, Hear me, ye men of Sicima, and God shall hear you.

And now, if ye have done it in truth and integrity, and have made Abimelech king, and if ye have wrought well with Jerobaal, and with his house, and if ye have done to him according to the reward of his hand; 19 as my father fought for you, and put his life in jeopardy, and delivered you out of the hand of Midian; 14 and ye are risen up this day against the house of my father, and have slain his sons, being seventy men, upon one stone, and have made Abimelech the son of his bondwoman king over the men of Shicmar, because he is your brother; 20 if then ye have done truly and faithfully with Jerobaal, and with his house this day, rejoice ye in Abimelech, and let him also rejoice over you; 21 but if not, let fire come out from Abimelech, and devour the men of Shicmar, and the house of Beth-maalo; and let fire come out from the men of Shicmar and from the house of Beth-maalo, and devour Abimelech.

21 And Joasham fled, and ran away, and went as far as Beer, and dwelt there out of the way of his brother Abimelech.

22 And Abimelech reigned over Israel three years.

23 And God sent an evil spirit between Abimelech and the men of Shicmar; and the men of Shicmar dealt treacherously with the house of Abimelech: 24 to bring the injury done to the seventy sons of Jerobaal, and to lay their blood upon their brother Abimelech, who slew them, and upon the men of Shicmar, because they strengthened his hands to slay his brethren. 25 And the men of Shicmar set liers in wait against him on the top of the mountains, and robbed every one who passed by them on the way; and it was reported to the king Abimelech.

26 And Gaal son of Jobel came, and his brethren, and passed by Shicmar, and the men of Shicmar trusted in him. 27 And they went out into the field, and gathered their grapes, and trod them, and made merry; and they brought the grapes into the house of their god, and ate and drank, and cursed

8 The trees went forth on a time to amend a king over them; and they sent gifts to the olive, Rehijam over us. 9 But the olive said to them, Shall I leave my fatness, with which men shall glorify God, and go to be promoted over the trees? 10 And the trees said to the fig-tree, Come, reign over us. 11 But the fig-tree said to them, Shall I leave my sweetness and my good fruits, and go to be promoted over the trees? 12 And the trees said to the vine, Come thou and reign over us. 13 And the vine said to them, Shall I leave my good clusters of grapes, which are sweet to my lord God, and go to be promoted over the trees? Then all the trees said to the bramble, Come thou and reign over us.

16 And now, if ye have done it in truth and integrity, and have made Abimelech king, and if ye have wrought well with Jerobaal, and with his house, and if ye have done to him according to the reward of his hand; 17 as my father fought for you, and put his life in jeopardy, and delivered you out of the hand of Midian; 18 and ye are risen up this day against the house of my father, and have slain his sons, being seventy men, upon one stone, and have made Abimelech the son of his bondwoman king over the men of Shicmar, because he is your brother; 19 if then ye have done truly and faithfully with Jerobaal, and with his house this day, rejoice ye in Abimelech, and let him also rejoice over you; 20 but if not, let fire come out from Abimelech, and devour the men of Shicmar, and the house of Beth-maalo; and let fire come out from the men of Shicmar and from the house of Beth-maalo, and devour Abimelech.

Abimelech. And Gaal the son of Jobel said, Who is Abimelech, and who is the son of Sychem, that we should serve him? He is not the son of Jerobeam, and is not Zebul his steward, his servant with the son of Emnor the father of Sychem? and why should we serve him? And would that this people were under my hand? then would I remove Abimelech, and I would say to him, Multiply thy host, and come out. And Zebul and the ruler of the city heard the words of Gaal the son of Jobel, and he was very angry. And he sent messengers to Abimelech secretly, saying, Behold, Gaal, the son of Jobel and his brethren are come to Sychem; and behold, they have besieged the city against thee. And now rise up by night, thou and the people with thee and lay wait in the field. And it shall come to pass in the morning at sunrise, thou shalt rise up early and draw toward the city; and behold, he and the people with him will come forth against thee, and thou shalt do to him according to thy power. And Abimelech and all the people with him rose up, by night, and formed an ambush against Sychem in four companies. And Gaal the son of Jobel went forth, and stood by the door of the gate of the city; and Abimelech and the people with him rose up from the ambush. And Gaal the son of Jobel saw the people, and said to Zebul, Behold, a people come down out of the top of the mountains. And Zebul said to him, Thou seest the shadow of the mountains as men. And Gaal continued to speak and said, Behold, a people comes down westward from the part bordering on the middle of the land, and another company comes by the way of Helon Moneaxim. And Zebul said to him, And where is thy mouth as thou spakest, Who is Abimelech that we should serve him? Is not this the people whom thou despisest? go forth now, and set the battle in array against him. And Gaal went forth before the men of Sychem, and set the battle in array against Abimelech. And Abimelech pursued him, and he fled from him; and many fell down slain as far as the door of the gate. And Abimelech entered into Arema, and Zebul cast out Gaal and his brethren, so that they should not dwell in Sychem. And it came to pass on the second day that the people rose up against Abimelech in the field, and one brought word to Abimelech. And he took the people, and divided them into three companies, and formed an ambush in the field; and he looked, and beheld, the people went forth out of the city, and he rose up against them, and smote them. And Abimelech and the chief of companies that were with him rushed forward, and stood by the door of the gate of the city; and the two other companies rushed forward upon all that were in the field, and smote them. And Abimelech fought against the city all that day, and took the city, and slew the people that were in it, and destroyed the city, and sowed it with salt.

Abimelech. Kαι ἔπε τάς ἀνθρώπους, ἐν ᾧ διεμόρφωσαν αὐτῶν; μὴ συγκεκριμένως ἐν τῷ πόλει, καὶ ἀνέστη ἔπε αὐτοῖς, καὶ ἐπέτατον αὐτοῖς. Καὶ Αβίμελης καὶ οἱ ἀρχηγοὶ οἱ μετ' αὐτοῦ ἔξεταν, καὶ ἐγείρθησαν πάρα τῷ ἔθνει τῆς πόλεως; καὶ ἀνέστη ἔπε αὐτοῖς, καὶ ἐπέτατον αὐτοῖς. Καὶ Αβίμελης παρετάτουσεν ἐν τῷ πόλει ἄλλην τῷ ἥμεραν ἐκείνην, καὶ κατελάβετο τῷ πόλει, καὶ τῷ λαῷ τον ἐν αὐτῇ ἀπέκτεινε, καὶ τῷ πόλει καθήλει, καὶ ἐπεσεῖρεν αὐτήν ἀλάς.
And the men of the tower of Sychem heard, and came to the gathering of Bæthal-berith. And it was reported to Abimelech, that all the men of the tower of Sychem were gathered together. And Abimelech went up to the mount of Sehon, and all the people that were with him; and Abimelech took an axe in his hand, and cut down a branch of a tree, and took it, and laid it on his shoulders; and said to the people that were with him, What ye see me doing, do quickly as I. And they cut down likewise every man a branch, and went after Abimelech, and laid them against the place of gathering, and burnt the place of gathering over them with fire; and they died, even all the men of the tower of Sicim, about a thousand men and women.

And Abimelech went out of Bæthalberith, and encamped against Thebes, and took it. And there was a strong tower in the midst of the city; and thither all the women of the city fled, and shut the door without them, and went up on the roof of the tower. And Abimelech drew near to the tower, and they besieged it; and Abimelech drew near to the door of the tower to burn it with fire. And a woman cast a piece of a millstone upon the head of Abimelech, and broke his skull.

And he cried out quickly to the young man his armor-bearer, and said to him, Draw thy sword, and slay me, lest at any time they should say, A woman slew him, and his young man thrust him through, and he died. And the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead; and they went each to his place.

So God required the wickedness of Abimelech, which he wrought against his father, in slaying his seventy brethren. And all the wickedness of the men of Sychem God required upon their head; and the curse of Jotham the son of Jerobaal came upon them.

And after Abimelech Thola the son of Phua rose up to save Israel, being the son of his father's brother, a man of Issachar; and he dwelt in Samir in mount Ephraïm.

And he judged Israel twenty-three years, and died, and was buried in Samir.

And after him rose Jair of Galaad, and he judged Israel twenty-two years. And he had thirty-two sons riding on thirty-two colts, and they had thirty-two cities; and they called them Jair's towns until this day in the land of Galaad. And Jair died, and was buried in Ramnon.

And the children of Israel did evil again in the sight of the Lord, and served Baalim, and Astaroth, and the gods of Aram, and the gods of Sidon, and the gods of Moab, and the gods of the children of Ammon, and the gods of the Phylistines; and they forsook the Lord, and did not serve him. And the Lord was very angry with Israel, and sold them into the hand of the Phylistines, and into the hand of the children of Ammon. And they afflicted and bruised the children of Israel at that time eighteen years, all the children of Israel beyond Jordan in the land of the Amorite in Galaad. And the children of Ammon went over Jordan to fight with Juda, and Benjamin, and with Ephraim; and the children of Israel were greatly afflicted.

And the children of Israel cried to the Lord, saying, We have sinned against thee, because we turned aside and served Baalim. And the Lord said to the children of Israel, Did I not save you from Egypt and from the Amorite, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Phylistines, and from the Sidonians, and Amalek, and Madian, which afflicted you? and ye cried to me, and I saved you out of their hand. Yet ye have chosen to yourselves all gods which ye have chosen to yourselves, and let them save you in the time of your affliction.

And the children of Israel said to the Lord, We have sinned: do thou to us according to all that is in thine hand; only deliver us this day. And they put away the strange gods from the midst of them, and served the Lord only, and his soul was pained for the trouble of Israel.

And the children of Ammon went up, and encamped in Galaad; and the children of Israel were gathered together and encamped on the hill. And the people of the princes of Galaad said every man to his neighbour, Who is he that shall begin to fight against the children of Ammon? he shall even be head over all that dwell in Galaad. And Jephthae the Galaadite was a mighty man; and he was the son of a harlot, who bore Jephthae to Galaad. And the wife of Galaad bore him sons; and the sons of his wife grew up, and they cast out Jephthae, and said to him, Thou shalt not inherit in the house of our father, for thou art the son of a concubine.

And Jephthae fled from the face of his brethren, and dwelt in the land of Tob; and vain men gathered to Jephthae, and went with him. And it came to pass when the children of Ammon prepared to fight with Israel, that the elders of Galaad went to fetch Jephthae from the land of Tob. And they said to Jephthae, Come, and be our head, and we will fight with the sons of Ammon. And Jephthae said to the elders of Galaad, Did ye not hate me, and cast me out of my father's house, and banish me from you? and wherefore are ye come to me now when ye want me? And the elders of Galaad said to Jephthae, Therefore have we now turned to thee, that thou shouldest go with us, and fight against the sons of Ammon, and be our head over all the inhabitants of Galaad. And Jephthae said to the elders of Galaad, If ye go to fight with the children of Ammon, and the Lord should deliver them before me, then will I be your head. And the elders of Galaad said to Jephthae, The Lord be witness between us, if we shall not do according to thy word.

K R T A I .

The judges of Israel are appointed.

2 And Jephthae went over to the children of Ammon, and said to them, Why ye are come against me? And they answered, Because the children of Galaad have overthrown our land, and have slain our kine, and our vineyards, and our press; and they have slain our sons, and our daughters, and have said, Go, and be you our servants.

And Jephthae said to the elders of Galaad, Is it not your case that ye have wronged us, in that ye have sold yourselves to be servants to the children of Ammon? and the Lord delivered you into their hand, and ye were slain today.

And Jephthae sent messengers to the children of Ammon, saying, What good thing will ye give me, that I may tarry with you? And the messengers of the children of Ammon answered, We will give thee seven cakes out of the seven cakes of bread, and two bottles of wine out of the two bottles of wine, which ye shall eat when ye be present with us; for thus we do at our feast. And ye shall eat the bread of my table, and shalt be my sons, and I will be your father; and ye shall be the sons of the children of Ammon to me, because ye have dealt kindly with me; but go ye away.

And he came to the people, and spake to them. And they said, Stand still, that we may hear the word of the Lord.

And Jephthae said to the people, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I dwelt among you, and ye served me, and ye went not after the Baalim, as these nations do; and ye were good to me.

And now, go and serve the Lord your God; and I will serve the Lord my God. And the people went to serve the Lord.

And Jephthae judged Israel six years. And Jephthae said to the Lord, My mouth shall speak iniquity against mine enemies, if the Lord shall deliver them into mine hands. And the Lord delivered the children of Ammon into the hand of Jephthae.

And it came to pass when Jephthae was old and sick, that he turned unto his sons, and said, Take me to the gloss, that I may die with a man's death. And his sons brought him to the gloss, and he died with a man's death.

And Jephthae was sixty years old when he judged Israel.

And Jephthae had two daughters; Jephthae's daughters were harlots. And when Jephthae was old, he turned to his daughters, and said, Why have ye brought me into this evil day? for ye have multiplied my reproach; for I have this day brought reproach on myself. Behold, I was this day brought into the gloss, and ye have brought reproach on me; I was not brought into the gloss to have them for my harlots, neither brought I them to be honored with me; but when ye went away, and were sick and weak, then I sold myself to the children of Ammon, and delivered them into their hand; and when the Lord delivered them into my hands, I smote them. And ye, if ye be in Jericho, go with me into the gloss, and I will give you every woman of the gloss, as my reward, that ye have reproached me thus in my reproach. Was not Jephthae great in Israel? and Jephthae was the son of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh, which camped over against the city Are, and dwelt in Gibbethon.

And Jephthae had a daughter; and her name was Jetë. And it came to pass, when she was seven years old, that she went up, yearly with her sister, to pray before the Lord. And she said to her father, Let me make one more circuit in the tents of the gloss, and in the gloss. And he said, Go not. And she made one circuit in the gloss, and returned, and pruned her head, and her sister, and brought her dead into the gloss, and cast it upon her father's altar; and he prayed for her. And he had set her up a pillar until this day: therefore she was called Jetë, a memorial. And Jephthae judged Israel sixty years. And Jephthae died, and was buried in Nachal Mephaath; for in that day he was buried in the gloss. And there was peace among the children of Ammon and the children of Israel all the days of Jephthae. And Jephthæ was forty years old when he judged Israel.
11 And Jephthae went with the elders of Gabaad, and the people made him head and ruler over them: and Jephthae spoke all his words before the Lord in Massepha.

12 And Jephthae sent messengers to the king of the children of Ammon, saying, What have I to do with thee, that thou hast come against me to fight in my land?

13 And the king of the children of Ammon said to the messengers of Jephthae, Because Israel took my land when he went up out of Egypt, from Arnon to Jaboc, and to Jordan; now then return them peaceably and I will depart.

14 And Jephthae again sent messengers to the king of the children of Ammon, and said to him, Thus says Jephthae, Israel took not the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon; 15 for in their going up out of Egypt Israel went in the wilderness as far as the sea of Siph, and came to Cades.

16 And Israel sent messengers to the king of Edom, saying, I will pass, if it please thee, by thy land: and the king of Edom 17 complied not: and Israel also sent to the king of the Amorite, king of Sisebon, and Israel said to him, Let us pass, we pray thee, by thy land to our place.

18 And Seon did not trust Israel to pass by his coast; and Seon gathered all his people, and they encamped at Jaza; and he set the battle in array against Israel.

19 And the Lord God of Israel delivered Seon and all his people into the hand of Israel, and they smote him; and Israel inherited the land of the Amorite, who dwelt in that land, 20 from Arnon to Cades, and from the wilderness to Jordan.

21 And now the Lord God of Israel has removed the Amorite from before his people Israel, and shalt thou inherit his land? Wilt thou not inherit those possessions which Chamos thy god shall cause thee to inherit; and shall not we inherit the land of all those whom the Lord our God has removed from before us? 22 And now art thou any better than Balac son of Sepphor, king of Moab? Did he indeed fight with Israel, or indeed make war with him, 23 when Israel dwelt in Sisebon and in its coasts, and in the land of Aror and in its coasts, and in all the cities by Jordan, three hundred and twenty years, and therefore didst thou not recover them in that time?

24 And now I have not sinned against thee, but thou wrongest me in preparing war against me: may the Lord the Judge judge this day between the children of Israel and the children of Ammon.

25 But the king of the children of Ammon hearkened not to the words of Jephthae, which he sent to him.

And the Spirit of...
And Jephthah gathered all the men of Gelaad, and fought with Ephraim; and the men of Gelaad smote Ephraim, because they came upon Jephthah, and he passed over Galaad, and Manasse, and passed by the watch-tower of Galaad to the other side of the children of Ammon.

32 And Jephthah advanced to meet the sons of Ammon to fight against them; and the Lord delivered them into his hand.

And he departed thence to be with the princes of Geshur and the princes of Maacah; and he Judges of Ammon.

And he departed thence, and came to Zibma; and there he passed over the border of Ammon.

And he came and sang this song: And he said, Go, and pass over to the children of Ammon, and fight against them; for I will deliver them into your hand.

And he said, Go, and pass over to the children of Ammon, and fight against them; for I will deliver them into your hand.

And he said, Go, and pass over to the children of Ammon, and fight against them; for I will deliver them into your hand.

And he said, Go, and pass over to the children of Ammon, and fight against them; for I will deliver them into your hand.

And he said, Go, and pass over to the children of Ammon, and fight against them; for I will deliver them into your hand.

And he said, Go, and pass over to the children of Ammon, and fight against them; for I will deliver them into your hand.

And he said, Go, and pass over to the children of Ammon, and fight against them; for I will deliver them into your hand.

Ephraim, that it was upon them that the Philistines did not come, but Ephraim upon them. And Ephraim judged Israel six years, and Jephthae the Galadite died, and was buried in his city Galad.

And after him Abbaissan of Bethlehem judged Israel. And he had forty sons, and thirty daughters, whom he sent forth; and he brought in thirty daughters for his sons from without; and he judged Israel seven years. And Abbaissan died, and was buried in Bethlehem.

And after him Elemon of Zabulon judged Israel ten years. And Elemon of Zabulon died, and was buried in Elemon in the land of Zabulon.

And after him Abdon the son of Ellev, the Pharathonite, judged Israel. And he had forty sons, and thirty grandsons, that rode upon seventy colts; and he judged Israel eight years. And Abdon the son of Ellev, the Pharathonite, died, and was buried in Pharathon in the land of Ephraim in the mount of Amalec.

And the children of Israel yet again committed iniquity before the Lord; and the Lord delivered them into the hand of the Phillistines forty years.

And there was a man of Sarai, of the family of the kindred of Dan, and his name was Manoah, and his wife was barren, and bare not. And an angel of the Lord appeared to the woman, and said to her, Behold, thou art barren and hast not born; yet thou shalt conceive a son. And now be very cautious, and drink no wine nor strong drink, and eat no unclean thing; for behold, thou art with child, and shalt bring forth a son; and there shall come no razor upon his head, for the child shall be a Nazarite to God from the womb; and he shall begin to save Israel from the hand of the Phillistines.

And the woman went in, and spoke to her husband, saying, A man of God came to me, and his appearance was as of an angel of God, very dreadful; and I did not ask him whence he was, and he did not tell me his name. And he said to me, Behold, thou art with child, and shalt bring forth a son; and now drink no wine nor strong drink, and eat no unclean thing; for the child shall be holy to God from the womb until the day of his death.

And Manoah prayed to the Lord and said, I pray thee, Lord my Lord, concerning the must of God which thou hast spoken; let him now come to us once more, and teach us what we shall do to the child about to be born.

and the angel of God came yet again to the woman; and she sat in the field, and Manoë her husband was not with her. 10 And the woman hasted, and ran, and brought word to her husband, and said to him, Behold the man which came in the other day to us has appeared to me. 11 And Manoë rose and followed his wife, and came to the man, and said to him, Art thou the man that spoke to the woman? and the angel said, I am. 12 And Manoë said, Now shall thy word come to pass: what shall be the ordering of the child, and our dealings with him. And the angel said to Manoë, Of all things concerning which I spoke to the woman, she shall beware. 13 She shall eat of nothing that comes of the vine yielding wine, and let her not drink wine or strong liquor, and let her not eat anything unclean: all things that I have charged her she shall observe. 14 And Manoë said to the angel of the Lord, Let us detain thee here, and prepare before thee a kid of the goats. 15 And the angel of the Lord said to Manoë, If thou shouldest detain me, I will not eat of thy bread; and if thou wouldst offer a whole-burnt-offering, to the Lord, let it be offered. 16 And the angel said of the meat-offering, and offered it on the rock to the Lord; and the angel wrought a distinct man, and Manoë and his wife were looking on. 17 And it came to pass when the flame went up above the altar toward heaven, that the angel of the Lord went up in the flame; and Manoë and his wife were looking on, and they fell upon their face to the earth. 18 And the angel appeared no more to Manoë and to his wife: then Manoë knew that this was an angel of the Lord. 19 And Manoë said to his wife, We shall surely die, because we have seen God. 20 But his wife said to him, If the Lord were pleased to slay us, he would not have received of our hand a whole-burnt-offering and a meat-offering: and he would not have shewn us all these things, neither would he have caused us to hear all these things as at this time. 21 And the woman brought forth a son, and called him after the name of the angel, and of the Lord, and of Manoë; and the Spirit of the Lord began to go out with him in the camp of Dan, and between Samara and Bethshol. 22 And Samson went down to Timnatha, and saw a woman in Timnatha of the daughters of the Philistines. 23 And he went up and told his father and his mother, and said, I have seen a woman in Timnatha of the daughters of the Philistines: and now take her to me for a wife. 24 And his father and his mother said to him, Are there no daughters of brethren, and no daughters of wine, and no daughters of barley, and no daughters of thyme, and no daughters of thyme, and no daughters of thyme?
there not a woman of all my people, that thou goest to take a wife of the uncircumcised Philistines?

And Sampson said to his father, Take her for me, for she is right in my eyes. And his father and his mother knew not that it was of the Lord, that he sought to be revenged upon the Philistines. And at that time the Philistines lorded it over Israel.

And Sampson and his father and his mother went down to Thammatha, and he came to the vineyard of Thammatha; and behold, a young lion roared in meeting him. And the Spirit of the Lord came powerfully upon him, and he crushed him as he would have crushed a kid of the goats, and there was nothing in his hands: and he told not his father and his mother what he had done. And they went down and spoke to the woman, and she was pleasing in the eyes of Sampson.

And after some time he returned to take her, and he turned aside to see the carcass of the lion; and behold, a swarm of bees, and honey were in the mouth of the lion. And he took it into his hands, and went on eating, and he went to his father and his mother, and gave to them, and they did eat; but he told them not that he took the honey out of the mouth of the lion.

And his father went down to the woman, and Sampson made there a banquet for seven days, for so the young men are used to do. And it came to pass when they saw him, that they took thirty guests, and they were with him.

And Sampson said to them, I propose you a riddle: if ye will indeed tell it me, and discover it within the seven days of the feast, I will give you thirty napkins and thirty changes of raiment. And if ye cannot tell it me, ye shall give me thirty napkins and thirty changes of apparel: and they said to him, Propound thy riddle, and we will hear it. And he said to them, Meat came forth of the eater, and sweetness out of the strong: and they could not tell the riddle for three days.

And it came to pass on the fourth day, that they said to the wife of Sampson, Deceive now thy husband, and let him tell thee the riddle, lest we burn thee and thy father's house with fire: did ye invite us to do us violence? And Sampson's wife wept before him, and said, Thou dost but hate me, and lovest me not; for the riddle which thou hast propounded to the children of my people, thou hast not told me: and Sampson said to her, If I have not told it to my father and my mother, shall I tell it to thee? And she wept before him the seven days, during which their banquet lasted: and it came to pass on the seventh day, that he told her, because she troubled him; and she told it to the children of her people. And the men of the city said to him on the seventh day, before sunrise, What is sweeter than honey? and what is stronger than a lion? and Sampson said to them, If ye had not ploughed with my
And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him powerfully, and he went down to Ascalon, and destroyed of φ the inhabitants thirty men, and took their garments, and gave the changes of raiment to them that told the riddle; and Sampson was very angry, and went up to the house of his father. 7 And the wife of Sampson was given to one of his friends, with whom he was on terms of friendship.

And it came to pass after a time, in the days of wheat harvest, that Sampson visited his wife with a kid, and said, I will go in to my wife even into the chamber: but her father did not suffer him to go in. 2 And her father spoke, saying, I said that thou didst surely hate her, and I gave her to one of thy friends: is not her younger sister better than she? let her be to thee instead of her.

And Sampson said to them, Even for once am I guileless with regard to the Philistines, in that I do mischief among them.

And Sampson went and caught three hundred foxes, and took torches, and turned tail to them, and put a torch between the tails, and fastened it. 5 And he set fire to the torches, and sent the foxes into the corn of the Philistines; and every thing was burnt from the threshing floor to the standing corn, and even to the vineyard and olives. 6 And the Philistines said, Who has done these things? and they said, Sampson the son-in-law of the Thamitme, because he has taken his wife, and given her to one of his friends; and the Philistines went up, and burnt her and her father’s house with fire.

And Sampson said to them, Though ye may have dealt thus with her, verily I will be avenged of you, and afterwards I will cease. 8 And he smote them leg on thigh with a great overthrow; and went down and dwelt in a cave of the rock Etam.

And the Philistines went up, and encamped in Judah, and spread themselves abroad in Lechi. 9 And the four men of Judah said, We will go up to Etam, and to the Philistines said, We are come up to bind Sampson, and to do to him as he has done to us. 10 And the three thousand men of Judah went down to the hole of the rock Etam, and they said to Sampson, Knowest thou not that the Philistines rule over us? and what is this that thou hast done to us? and Sampson said to them, As they did to me, so have I done to them. 11 And they said to him, We are come up to bind thee to deliver thee into the hand of the Philistines: and Sampson said to them, Swear to me that ye will not fall upon me yourselves. 12 And they spoke to him, saying, Nay: but we will only bind thee, and deliver thee into their hand, and will by no means slay thee: and they bound him with two new ropes, and brought him from that rock.

And they came to Lechi: and the Philistines shouted, and ran to meet him: and the Spirit of the Lord came mightily upon him, and the ropes that were upon his arms became as tow which is burnt with fire; and his bonds were consumed from off his hands. 13 And he found the jaw-bone of an ass that had been cast away, and he put forth his hand and took it, and smote with it a thousand men. 14 And Sampson said, With the jaw-bone of an ass have I utterly destroyed them, for with the jaw-bone of an ass I have smitten a thousand men. 15 And it came to pass when he ceased speaking, that he cast the jaw-bone out of his hand; and he called that place the Place of the Lifting of the jaw-bone.

And he was very thirsty, and wept before the Lord, and said, I have done foolishly in keeping this great deliverance in the hand of thy servant, and now shall I die for thirst, and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised? 16 And God broke open a hollow place in the jaw, and there came thence water, and he drank; and his spirit returned and he revived: therefore the name of it was called [The Well of the invoker], which is in Lechi, until this day.

And Sampson went to Gaza, and saw there a harlot, and went in to her. 2 And it was reported to the Gazites, saying, Sampson is come hither; and they compassed him and laid wait for him all night in the gate of the city, and they were quiet all the night, saying, Let us wait till the dawn appear, and we will slay him. 3 And Sampson slept till midnight, and rose up at midnight, and took hold of the doors of the gate of the city with the two posts, and lifted them up with the bar, and laid them on his shoulders, and he went up to the top of the mountain that is before Chebron, and laid them there.

4 And it came to pass after this that he loved a woman in Olsorech, and her name was Dalida. 5 And the princes of the Philistines came up to her, and said to her, Beguile him, and see wherein his great strength is, and wherewith we shall prevail against him, and bind him to humble him; and we will give thee and each eleven hundred pieces of silver.

6 And Dalida said to Sampson, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein is thy great strength, and wherewith thou shalt be bound that they mayest be humbled. 7 And Sampson said to her, If they bind me with seven moist cords that have not been spoiled, then shall I be weak and be as one of ordinary men. 8 And the princes of the Philistines brought to her seven moist cords that had not been spoiled, and she bound him with them.

9 And the lords in wait remained with her in the chamber; and she said to him, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson: and he broke the cords as if any one should break a thread of tow when it has touched the fire, and his strength was not known.

10 And Dalida said to Sampson, Behold, thou hast cheated me, and told me lies; now then tell me wherewith thou shalt be bound. 11 And he said to her, If they should bind me fast with new ropes with which work has not been done, then shall I be weak, and shall be as another man. 13 And Dalida took new ropes, and bound him with them, and the liers in wait came out of the chamber, and she said, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson: and he broke them off his arms like a thread.

14 And Dalida said to Sampson, Behold, thou hast deceived me, and told me lies; tell me, therefore, what thou hast made with them, that thou mayest be bound: and she said to him, If thou shouldest weave the seven locks of my head with the web, and shouldest fasten them with the pin into the wall, then shall I be weak as another man. 15 And it came to pass when he was asleep, that Dalida took the seven locks of his head, and wove them with the web, and fastened them with the pin into the wall, and she said, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson: and he awoke out of his sleep, and carried away the pin of the web out of the wall.

16 And Dalida saw that he told her all his heart, and she sent and called the princes of the Philistines, saying, Come up yet this once; for he has told me all his heart. And the chiefs of the Philistines went up to her, and brought the money in their hands. 17 And Dalida made Sampson sleep upon her knees; and she called a man, and he shaved the seven locks of his head, and she began to mock him, and his strength departed from him. 18 And Dalida said, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson: and he awoke out of his sleep and said, I will go out as at former times, and shake myself: and he knew not that the Lord was departed from him. 19 And the chiefs of the Philistines met to offer a great sacrifice to their god Dagon, and to make merry; and God said to God, God has given into our hand our enemy Sampson. 20 And the people saw him, and sang praises to their god; for our god, said they, has delivered into our hand our enemy, who wasted our land, and who multiplied our slain. 21 And when their heart was merry, then they called Sampson out of the prison-house, and let him play before them: and they called Sampson out of the prison-house, and he played before them; and they smote him with the palms of their hands, and he learned not that the Lord was departed from him.

19 And Dalida called Sampson, and said to him, Lo, I have a great sacrifice of my lord Dagon, and there is a feast prepared for me. 20 And she said, Call me not Sampson, call me Dalida, for I have learned that the Lord is departed from thee. 21 And she put on the seven locks of hair which she had shaved, and said, Let the Philistines come, and they will cry out for joy, and I shall lead out the Philistines into thine hand. 22 And when she had made him sleep upon her lap, she said, I shall4 lead out the Philistines. And she entered into Sampson's lap, and laid hold of the pin of the web, and pulled Sampson down with the pin. 23 And he cried to the Lord, saying, Oh Lord God of hosts, remember me, I beseech thee, and do not forget thy servant, in how I have wrought for thee, and in how I have left neither blade nor staff, neither have I eaten bread. 24 And he said, I have not eaten bread nor drank water, nor have I lain all night in fetters, but only when I was played at with the Philistines did my heart grow merry. 25 And he said to the man who told him that he came, I will not drink of the wine of Samaria, neither will I enter into Samaria. 26 And he cried to his father and to his mother, and said, I will not drink of the wine of Samaria, neither will I enter into Samaria. And the father and the mother of Sampson said to him, Is not this a word of God? Then he began to be weak from his youth. 27 And when his heart was merry, then he played on the pin of the web. And when he told it to his father and to his mother, they said unto him, Is not this a word of God? And the heart of Sampson was merry.
26...and Sampson said to the young man that held his hand, Suffer me to feel the pillars on which the house rests, and I will stay myself upon them. 27 And the house was full of men and women, and there were all the chiefs of the Philistines, and on the roof were about three thousand men and women looking at the sports of Sampson.

28 And Sampson went before the Lord, and said, O Lord, my Lord, remember me, I pray thee, and strengthen me, O God, yet this once, and I will revenge myself upon the Philistines. 29 And Sampson took hold of the two pillars of the house on which the house stood, and leaned on them, and laid hold of one with his right hand, and the other with his left. 30 And Sampson said, Let my life perish with the Philistines: and he bowed himself mightily, and the house fell upon the princes, and upon all the people that were in it: and the dead were more than those whom he slew in his life.

31 And his brethren, and the children of his father, gathered themselves together after him, and wept, and mourned him, as one doth mourn for his mother.

32 And there was a man of mount Ephraim, whose name was Michail. 33 And he said to his mother, The eleven hundred pieces of silver which thou tookest to thyself, and about which thou cursedst me, and spakest in mine ears, and didst not tell me, who might have given me ten pieces of silver, and I had given them to my mother: 34 I would have given thee ten pieces of silver; and would have fed thee in my mother’s house. 35 And his mother said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul lieth, I will not give thee the ten pieces of silver. 36 And he said, Then the mother of Michail gave birth to a son, and she called his name Samson. 37 And the spirit of the Lord began to move him in Mahanechath, and he judged Israel twenty years.

38 And there was a man of mount Ephraim, whose name was Michail. 39 And he said to his mother, The eleven hundred pieces of silver which thou tookest to thyself, and about which thou cursedst me, and spakest in mine ears, and didst not tell me, who might have given me ten pieces of silver, and I had given them to my mother: 40 I would have given thee ten pieces of silver; and would have fed thee in my mother’s house. 41 And his mother said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul lieth, I will not give thee the ten pieces of silver. 42 And he said, Then the mother of Michail gave birth to a son, and she called his name Samson. 43 And the spirit of the Lord began to move him in Mahanechath, and he judged Israel twenty years.
2 And Michiaias consecrated the Levite, and he became to him a priest, and he was in the house of Michiaias.
3 And Michiaias said, Now, I know that the Lord will do me good, because a Levite has become my priest.

In those days there was no king in Israel; and in those days the tribe of Dan sought for itself an inheritance to inhabit, because no inheritance had fallen to it until that day in the midst of the tribes of the children of Israel.
4 And the sons of Dan sent from their father's house six men of valor, from Zophah and from Esthaoal, to spy out the land and to search it; and they said to them, Go and search out the land. And they came as far as the mount of Ephraim to the house of Michiaias and they lodged there, 5in the house of Michiaias, and they recognised the voice of the young man the Levite, and turned in thither; and said to him, Who brought thee hither? and what doest thou in this place? and what hast thou done?
6And he said to them, Thus and thus did Michiaias to me, and he hired me, and I became his priest.
7And they said to him, Enquire now of God, and we will know whether our way will prosper, or which we are going.
8And the priest said to them, Go in peace; your way in which ye go, is before the Lord.

7 And the five men went on, and came to Laisa; and they saw the people in the midst of it dwelling securely, at ease as is the manner of the Sidonians, and there is no one perverting or shaming a matter in the land, no heir extorting treasures; and they are far from the Sidonians, and they have no intercourse with any one.
8 And the five men came to their brethren to Sarasa and Esthaoal, and said to their brethren, Why sit ye here idle?
9And they said, Arise, and let us go up against them, for we have seen the land, and, behold, it is very good, yet ye are still: delay not to go, and to enter in to possess the land.
10And when the men of Ephraim came upon a people secure, and the land is extensive, for God has given it into your hand; a place where there is no want of anything that the earth affords.

11And there departed thence of the families of Dan, from Sarasa and from Esthaoal six hundred men, girted with weapons of war.
12And they went up, and encamped in Cariathairim in Juda; therefore it was called in that place the camp of Dan, until this day: behold, it is behind Cariathairim.

13And they went on thence to the mount of Ephraim, and came to the house of Michiaias.
14And the five men who went to spy out the land of Laisa answered, and said to their brethren, Ye know that there is in this place an ophod, and theraphin, and a graven and a molten image; and now consider what ye shall do.
15And they turned aside there, and went into the house of the young man, the Levite, even into the house of Michiaias, and asked him 5how he was.
16And the six hundred men of the sons of Dan who were girted with their weapons of 21 And stood by the door of the gate. And the five men who went to spy out the land went up, and entered into the house of Michiaias, and the priest stood. And they took the graven image, and the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image; and the priest said to them, What are ye doing? And they said to him, Be silent, lay thine hand upon thy mouth, and come with us, and be with us, and let us go. And they sent after a priest and a prophet, and said to them, Is it better for thee to be the priest of the house of one man, or to be the priest of a tribe and house for a family of Israel? And the heart of the priest was glad, and he took the ephod, and the teraphim, and the graven image, and the molten image, and went in the midst of the people.

22 So they were buried and departed, and put their children and their property and their baggage before them.

23 They went some distance from the house of Michiaias, and, behold, Michiaias and the men in the houses near Michiaias' house, cried out, and overtook the children of Dan.

24 And the children of Dan turned their face, and said to Michiaias, What is the matter with thee? What is the matter that thou hast cried out?

25 And Michiaias said, Because ye have taken my graven image which I made, and my priest, and are gone; and what have I remaining? and what is this that ye say to me, Why criest thou? And the children of Dan said to him, Let not thy voice be heard with us, lest angry men run upon thee, and take away thy life, and the lives of thy house. And the children of Dan went their way; and Michiaias saw that they were stronger than himself, and he returned to his house.

26 And the children of Dan took what Michiaias had made, and the priest that he had, and they came to Laisa, to a people quiet and secure; and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and burnt the city with fire. And there was no deliverer, because the city is far from the Sidonians, and they have no intercourse with men, and it is in the valley of the house of Raab; and they built the city, and dwelt in it. And they called the name of the city Dan, after the name of Dan their father, who was born to Israel; and the name of the city was Ulamis, being the name of a man.

27 And the children of Dan set up the graven image for themselves; and Jonathan son of Gerson son of Manasse, he and his sons were priests to the tribe of Dan till the time of the carrying away of the nation. And they set up for themselves the graven image which Michiaias made, all the days that the house of God was in Selm; and it was so in those days that there was no king in Israel.

And there was a Levite sojourning in the sides of mount Ephraim, and he took to himself a concubine from Bethleem Juda. And his concubine departed from him, and went away from him to the house of her father to Bethleem Juda, and she was there two months.

And her husband rose up, and went after her to speak kindly to her, to recover her to himself; and he had his young man with him, and a pair of asses; and she brought him into the house of her father, and the father of the damsel saw him, and was pleased to meet him. And his father-in-law, the father of the damsel, constrained him, and he stood with him for three days; and they ate and drank, and lodged there. And it came to pass on the fourth day that they rose early, and he stood up to depart; and the father of the damsel said to his daughter in-law, Strengthen thy heart with a morsel of bread, and afterwards ye shall go. So they two sat down together and ate and drank; and the father of the damsel said to her husband, Tarry now the night, and let thy heart be merry. And the man rose up to depart; but his father-in-law constrained him, and he staid and lodged there.

And he rose early in the morning on the fifth day to depart; and the father of the damsel said, Strengthen now thine heart, and quit thyself as a soldier till the day decline; and the two ate. And the man rose up to depart, and his father and his young man: but his father-in-law the father of the damsel said to him, Behold now, the day has declined toward evening; lodge here, and let thy heart rejoice; and ye shall rise early to-morrow for your journey, and thou shalt go to thy habitation.

But the man would not lodge there, but he arose and departed, and came to the part opposite Jebus, (this is Jerusalem,) and there was with him a pair of asses saddled, and his concubine was with him.

And they came as far as Jebus; and the day had far advanced, and the young man said to his master, Come, I pray thee, and let us turn aside to this city the Jebusites, and let us lodge in it. And his master said to him, We will not turn aside to a strange city, where there is not one of the children of Israel, but we will pass on as far as Gaba. And he said to his young man, Come, and let us draw nigh to one of the places of refreshment, and be lodgings for us at Ramah. And they passed by and went on, and the sun went down upon them near Gaba, which is in Benjamin. And they turned aside thence to go in to lodge in Gaba; and they went in, and sat down in the street of the city, and there was no one who conducted them into a house to lodge.

And behold, an old man came out of the field from his work in the evening; and the man was of mount Ephraim, and he sojourned in Gaba, and the men of the place were sons of Benjamin. And he lifted up his eyes, and saw a traveller in the street of the city; and the old man said to him, Where is your master, and whither came he? And he said to him, We are passing by from Bethlem Judæa to the sides of mount Ephraim: I am from thence, and I went as far as Bethlem Judæa, and I am going home, and there is no man to take me into his house. Yet is there straw and food for our asses, and bread and wine for me and my handmaid and the young man with thy servants; there is no want of any

20 And the old man said, Peace be to thee; only be every want of thine upon me; only do to the man by me means lodge in the street. 21 And the man brought in his ass into the house, and made room for his ass; and they washed their feet, and ate and drank.

22 And they were comforting their hearts, when, behold, the men of the city, sons of transgressors, compassed the house, knocking at the door: and they spoke to the old man the owner of the house, saying, Bring out the man who came into thy house, that we may know him. 23 And the master of the house came out to them, and said, Nay, brethren, do not ye wrong, I pray you, after this man has come into my house; do not ye this folly. 24 Behold my daughter a virgin, and the man's concubine: I will bring them out, and humble ye them, and do to them that which is good in your eyes; but to this man do not ye this folly. 25 But the men would not consent to hearken to him; so the man laid hold of his concubine, and brought her out; and they knew her, and abused her all night till the morning, and let her go when the morning dawned.

26 And the woman came toward morning, and fell down at the door of the house where her husband was, until it was light. 27 And her husband rose up in the morning, and opened the doors of the house, and went forth to go on his journey; and, behold, the woman his concubine had fallen down by the doors of the house, and her hands were on the threshold. 28 And he said to her, Rise, and let us go; and she answered not, for she was dead: and he took her upon his ass, and went to his place.

29 And he took his sword, and laid hold of his concubine, and divided her into twelve parts, and sent them to every coast of Israel. 30 And it was so, that every one who saw it said, Such a thing was not seen in Ephraim, nor has been seen from the day of the going up of the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt until this day: take ye counsel concerning it, and speak.

And all the children of Israel went out, and all the congregation was gathered as one man, from Dan even to Bersabee, and in the land of Galad, to the Lord at Massepha. 3 And all the tribes of Israel stood before the Lord in the assembly of the people of God, four hundred thousand footmen that drew sword. 3 And the children of Benjamin heard that the children of Israel were gone up to Massepha; and the children of Israel came and said, Tell us, where did this wickedness take place? 4 And the Levite, the husband of the woman that was slain, answered and said, I and my concubine went to Gaba of Benjamin to lodge. 5 And the men of Gaba rose up against me, and compassed the house by night against me; they wished to slay me, and they have humbled my concubine, and she is dead. 6 And I laid hold of my concubine, and divided her in pieces, and sent the parts into every coast of the inheritance of the children of Israel; for they have wrought lewdness and abomination in Israel.

7 Behold, all ye are children of Israel; and consider and take counsel here among yourselves.

8 And all the people rose up as one man, saying, No one of us shall return to his tent, and no one of us shall return to his house. And now this is the thing which shall be done in Gabaah; we will go up against them by lot. Moreover we will take ten men for a hundred, and a hundred for a thousand, and a thousand for ten thousand, to take provision, to cause them to come to Gabaah of Benjamin, to do to it according to all the abomination which they wrought in Israel. 11 And all the men of Israel were gathered to the city as one man.

9 And the tribes of Israel sent men through the whole tribe of Benjamin, saying, What is this wickedness that has been wrought among you? 10 Now then give up the men the sons of transgressors that are in Gabaah, and we will put them to death, and purge out wickedness from Israel: but the children of Benjamin numbered not to hearken to the voice of their brethren the children of Israel. 14 And the children of Benjamin were gathered from their cities to Gabaah, to go forth to fight with the children of Israel. 15 And the children of Benjamin from their cities were numbered in that day, twenty-three thousand, every man drawing a sword, besides the inhabitants of Gabaah, who were numbered seven hundred chosen men of all the people, able to use both hands alike; all these could sling with stones at a hair, and not miss. 17 And the men of Israel, exclusive of Benjamin, were numbered four hundred thousand men that drew sword; all these were men of war.

18 And they arose and went up to Bethel, and enquired of God: and the children of Israel said, Who shall go up for us first to fight with the children of Benjamin? And the Lord said, Juda shall go up first as leaders. 19 And the children of Israel rose up in the morning, and encamped against Gabaah.

20 And they went out, all the men of Israel, to fight with Benjamin, and engaged with them at Gabaah. 21 And the sons of Benjamin went forth from Gabaah, and they destroyed in Israel on that day two and twenty thousand men down to the ground.

22 And the men of Israel strengthened themselves, and again engaged in battle in the place where they had engaged on the first day. 23 And the children of Israel went up, and went before the Lord till evening, and enquired of the Lord, saying, Shall we again draw nigh to battle with our brethren the children of Benjamin? and the Lord said, Go up against them. 24 And the children of Israel advanced against the children of Benjamin on the second day. 25 And the children of Benjamin went forth to meet them from Gabaah on the second day, and

And the children of Israel went up against the children of Benjamin on the third day; and arrayed themselves against Gabaia as before. And the children of Benjamin went out to meet the people, and were all drawn out of the city, and began to smite and slay the people as before in the roads; whereof one goes up to Bethel, and one to Gabaia in the field, about thirty men of Benjamin. And the children of Benjamin said, They fall before us as at the first; but the children of Israel said, Let us flee, and draw them out from the city into the roads; and they did so.

And all the men rose up out of their places, and engaged in Baal Thamar; and the liers in wait of Israel advanced from their place from Gabaia. And there came an order against Gabaia ten thousand chosen men out of all Israel; and the fight was severe; and they knew not that evil was coming upon them. And the Lord smote Benjamin before the children of Israel; and the children of Israel destroyed Benjamin in that day a hundred and twenty-five thousand men: all the children of Benjamin, were slain, men and women, and children. And Benjamin saw that they were smitten; and the men of Israel gave place to Benjamin, because they trusted in the ambush which they had prepared against Gabaia.

And when they retreated, then the liers in wait rose up, and they moved on toward Gabaia, and the whole ambush came forth, and they smote the city with the edge of the sword.

And the children of Benjamin had a signal of battle with the liers in wait, that they should send up a signal of smoke from the city. And the children of Israel saw that the liers in wait had seized Gabaia, and they stood in line of battle; and Benjamin began to smite down wounded ones among the men of Israel about thirty men; for they said, Surely they fall again before us, as in the first battle.

And the signal went up increasingly over the city as a pillar of smoke; and Benjamin looked behind him, and beheld the destruction of the city went up to heaven.

And the men of Israel turned back, and the men of Benjamin hastened, because they

Now the children of Israel were in Mas sephath, saying, No man of us shall give his dughter to Benjamin for a wife. 5 And the people came to Bethel, and said, Wherefore, O God of Israel, has this come to pass, that to-day one tribe should be counted as missing from Israel? 6 And it came to pass on the morrow that the people rose up early, and built there an altar, and offered up whole-burnt-offerings and the o peace-offerings.

And the children of Israel said, Who of all the tribes of Israel, went not up in the con gregation to the Lord? for there was a great careth concerning those who went not up to the Lord to Maspephath, saying, He shall surely be put to death.

And the children of Israel 8 relented to ward Benjamin their brother, and said, Today one tribe is cut off from Israel. 7 What shall we do for the rest that remain? whereas we have sworn by the Lord, not to give them of our daughters for wives. And they said, What one man is there of the tribes of Israel, who went not up to the Lord to Maspephath? and, behold, no man came to the camp from Jabis Gabaon, to report. And the people were numbered, and there was not there a man from the inhabitants of Jabis Gabaon.

And the congregation sent thither thirteen thousand men of the strongest, and they charged them, saying, Go ye and smite the inhabitants of Jabis Gabaon with the 11 edge of the sword. 1 And this shall ye do: every male and every woman that has known the lying with Benja min, ye shall devote to destruction, but the virgins ye shall save alive: and they did so.

Or, cut off as stragglers. Gr., gleaned, or picked straw.

See chap. 20. 26. 6 Or, comforted themselves, or were comforted.

Gr. sons of strength. 6 Or, mouth.
12 And they found among the inhabitants of Jabis Galaad four hundred young virgins, who had not known man by lying with him; and they brought them to Selom in the land of Channaan.

13 And all the congregation sent and spoke to the children of Benjamin in the rock Remmon, and invited them to make peace.

14 And Benjamin returned to the children of Israel at that time, and the children of Israel gave them the women whom they had saved alive of the daughters of Jabis Galaad; and they were content.

15 And the people relented for Benjamin, because the Lord had made a breach in the tribes of Israel.

16 And the elders of the congregation said, What shall we do for wives for them that remain? for the women have been destroyed out of Benjamin. 17 And they said, There must be an inheritance of them that are escaped of Benjamin; and so a tribe shall not be destroyed out of Israel. 18 For we shall not be able to give them wives of our daughters, because we spewed among the children of Israel, saying, Cursed is he that gives a wife to Benjamin.

19 And they said, Lo! now there is a feast of the Lord 5 from year to year in Selom, which is on the north of Bethl, eastward on the way that goes up from Bethel to Sychem, and from the south of Lebanon.

20 And they charged the children of Benjamin, saying, Go and lie in wait in the vineyards; 21 and ye shall see; and lo! if there come out the daughters of the inhabitants of Selom to dance in dances, then shall ye go out of the vineyards and seize for yourselves every man a wife of the daughters of Selom, and go ye into the land of Benjamin. 22 And it shall come to pass, when their fathers or their brethren come to dispute with us, that we will say to them, Grant them freely to us, for we have not taken every man his wife in the battle: because ye did not give to them according to the occasion, ye transgressed.

23 And the children of Benjamin did so; and they took wives according to their number from the dancers whom they seized: and they went and returned to their inheritance, and built the cities, and dwelt in them. 24 And the children of Israel went thence at that time every man to his tribe and his kindred; and they went thence every man to his inheritance. 25 And in those days there was no king in Israel; every man did that which was right in his own sight.
And it came to pass when the judges ruled, that there was a famine in the land; and a man went from Bethleem Judah to sojourn in the land of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sons. And the man's name was Elimelech, and his wife's name Naomi, and the names of his two sons Mahlon and Chilion, Ephrathites of Bethleem of Judah; and they came to the land of Moab, and remained there.

And Elimelech the husband of Naomi died; and she was left, and her two sons. And they took to themselves wives, women of Moab; the name of the one was Orpah, and the name of the second Ruth; and they dwelt there about ten years. And both Mahlon and Chilion died also; and the woman was left of her husband and her two sons.

And she rose up and her two daughters-in-law, and they returned out of the country of Moab, for she heard in the country of Moab that the Lord had visited his people to give them bread. And she went forth out of the place where she was, and her two daughters-in-law with her: and they went by the way to return to the land of Judah.

And Naomi said to her daughters-in-law, Go now, return each to her mother's house: the Lord deal mercifully with you, as ye have dealt with the dead, and with me. The Lord grant you that ye may find rest each of you in the house of your husband: and she kissed them; and they lifted up their voice, and wept. And they said to her, We will return with thee to thy people.

And Naomi said, Return, now, my daughters; and why do ye go with me? have I yet sons in my womb to be your husbands? Turn now, my daughters, for I am too old to be married: for I said, Suppose I were married, and should bear sons; would ye wait for them till they should be grown? or would ye refrain from being married for their sakes? Not so, my daughters: for I am grieved for you, that the hand of the Lord has gone forth against me. And they lifted up their voice, and wept again; and Orpah kissed her mother-in-law and returned to her people; but Ruth followed her.

15 And Noemín said to Ruth, Benoid, thy sister-in-law has returned to her people and to her gods; turn now thou also and return to thy mother's house. 16 And Ruth said, Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following thee; for whithersoever thou goest, I will go, and wheresoever thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God. 17 And wherever thou diest, I will die, and there will I be buried. And may the Lord do so to me, and more also, if I leave thee, for thy departing shall be as bitter to me as death.

18 And Noemí seeing that she was determined to go with her, ceased to speak to her any more. 19 And they went both of them until they came to Bethleem; and it came to pass, when they arrived at Bethleem, that all the city rang with them, and they said, Is this Noemí? 20 And she said to them, Nay, do not call me Noemí; call me 'Bitter,' for the Mighty One has dealt very bitterly with me. 21 I went out full, and the Lord has brought me back empty: and why call ye me Noemí, whereas the Lord has humbled me, and the Mighty One has afflicted me?

22 So Noemí and Ruth the Moabitess, her daughter-in-law, returned from the country of Moab; and they came to Bethleem in the beginning of barley harvest.

And Noemí had a friend an acquaintance of her husband, and the man was a mighty man of the kindred of Elimelech, and his name was Booz. 2 And Ruth the Moabitess said to Noemí, Let me go now to the field, and I will glean among the ears behind the reapers; and she shall come and glean after me. 3 And she said, Go, my daughter. And she went; and came and gleaned in the field behind the reapers; and she happened by chance to come on a portion of the land of Booz, of the kindred of Elimelech.

4 And, behold, Booz came from Bethleem, and said to the reapers, The Lord be with you. 5 And they answered, And the Lord bless thee. 6 And Booz said to his servant who was set over the reapers, Whose is this damsel? 7 And his servant who was set over the reapers answered and said, It is the Moabitish damsel who returned with Noemí out of the land of Moab. 8 And she said, I pray you, let me glean and gather among the sheaves after the reapers: and she came and stood from morning till evening, and rested not even a little in the field.

9 And Booz said to Ruth, Hast thou not heard, my daughter? go not to glean in another field; and depart not thou hence, join thyself here with my damsels. 10 Let thine eyes be on the field where my men shall reap, and thou shalt go after them; and there shall the Lord open the hand of Benjamin before thee. 11 And Booz answered and said to her, It has fully been told me how thou hast dealt with thy mother-in-law after the death of thy husband; and how thou didst leave thy father and thy mother, and the land of thy birth, and camest to a people whom thou knewest not before. 12 The Lord recompense thy work; may a full reward be given thee of the Lord God of Israel, after whom thou hast come to trust under his wings. 13 And she said, Let me find grace in thy sight, my lord, because thou hast comforted me, and because thou hast spoken kindly to thy handmaid, and beheld, I shall be as one of thy servants. 14 And Boaz said to her, Now it is time to eat; come hither, and thou shalt eat of the bread, and thou shalt dip thy morsel in the vinegar. 15 And Ruth sat by the reapers, and Boaz gave her meat, and she ate, and was satisfied, and left. 16 And she rose up to glean, and Boaz charged his young men, saying, Let her even glean among the sheaves, and reproach her not. 17 And ye shall surely let fall some of the ear, and she shall glean it. 18 And Ruth gathered gleanings in the field until evening, and she beat not her head, and she came, and sat down in the place of the reapers. 19 And Boaz said to Ruth, Whither goest thou? and whither dost thou come from? And she answered him, From Beth-lehem. 20 And he said, Hast thou not heard, that Timnath-shereth is in the land of Ephraim? Now go thou there. 21 And she said to him, Where shall I go, and what shall I do? 22 And he said, Do I yet speak to thee, before I have brought thee to him, who is more than I? Boaz said to her, Behold, thou shalt drink of the wine, and eat of the bread, and hide roaring within the vineyard until evening. 23 And she said, And where shall I(user input not visible to me)?
5 And Ruth said to her, All that thou shalt say, I will do.
6 And she went down to the threshing-floor, and did according to all that her mother-in-law enjoined her. 7 And Booz ate and drank, and his heart was glad, and he came to lie down by the side of the heap of corn; and she came secretly, and lifted up the covering of his feet. 8 And it came to pass at midnight that the man was amazed, and troubled, and beheld, a woman lay at his feet. 9 And he said, Who art thou? and she said, I am thine handmaid Ruth; spread therefore thy skirt over thine handmaid, for thou art a near relation.
10 And Booz said, Blessed be thou of the Lord God, my daughter, for thou hast made this greater kindness than the former, in that thou followest not after young men, whether any be poor or rich. 11 And now I am truly akin to thee; nevertheless there is a kinsman nearer than I. 12 Lodge here for the night, and it shall be in the morning, if he will do the part of thee, well—let him do it: but if he will not do the part of a kinsman to thee, I will do the kinsman's part to thee, as the Lord lives; lie down till the morning.

And she lay at his feet until the morning; and she rose up before a man could know his neighbour; and Booz said, Let it not be known that a woman came into the floor.

And he said to her, Bring the apron that is upon thee: and she held it, and he measured six measures of barley, and put them upon her, and she went into the city. 16 And Ruth went in to her mother-in-law, and she said to her, My daughter! and Ruth told her all that the man had done to her. And she said to her, He gave me these six measures of barley, for he said to me, Sit here, sit down here, such a one; and he turned aside and sat down. 18 And Booz took ten men of the elders of the city, and said, Sit ye here; and they sat down.

And Booz said to the relative, The matter regards the portion of the field which was our brother Elimelech's which was given to Noemin, now returning out of the land of Moab; and I said, I will inform thee, saying, Buy it before any other be present, and before the elders of my people: if thou wilt redeem it, redeem it, but if thou wilt not redeem it, tell me, and I shall know; for there is no one besides thee to do the office of a kinsman, and I am after thee: and he said, I am here, I will redeem it. 19 And Booz said, In the day of thy buying the field of the hand of Noemin and of Ruth... the Moabitess the wife of the deceased, thou must also buy her, so as to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance. 9 And the kinsman said, I shall not be able to redeem it for myself, lest I mar my own inheritance; do thou redeem my right for thyself, for I shall not be able to redeem it.

And this was in former time the ordinance in Israel for redemption, and for a bargain, to confirm every word: A man loosed his shoe, and gave it to his neighbour that redeemed his right; and this was a testimony in Israel. 10 And the kinsman said to Booz, Buy my right for thyself: and he took off his shoe and gave it to him.

And Booz said to the elders and to all the people, Ye are this day witnesses, that I have bought all that was Elimelech's, and all that Boaz belonged to Chelain and Maalon, of the hand of Noemin. 11 Moreover I have bought for myself a wife Ruth the Moabitess, the wife of Maalon, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance; so that the name of the dead shall not be destroyed from among his brethren, and from the tribe of his people: ye are this day witnesses.

And all the people who were in the gate said, We are witnesses: and the elders said, The Lord make thy wife who goes into thy house, as Rachel and as Lia, who both together built the house of Israel, and wrought mightily in Ephratha, and there shall be a name to thee in Bethlennen. 12 And let thy house be as the house of Phares, whom Thamar bore to Juda, of the seed which the Lord shall give thee of this handmaid.

And Booz took Ruth, and she became his wife, and he went in to her; and the Lord gave her conception, and she bore a son. 14 And the women said to Noemin, Blessed is the Lord, who has not suffered a redeemer to fail thee this day, even to make thy name famous in Israel. 15 And he shall be to thee a restorer of thy soul, and one to cherish thy old age; for thy daughter-in-law which has loved thee, who is better to thee than seven sons, has born him. 16 And Noemin took the child and laid it in her bosom, and became a nurse to it.

And the neighbours gave it a name, saying, A son has been born to Noemin; and they called his name Obed; this is the father of Jesse the father of David. 17 And these are the generations of Phares: Phares begot Esrom: 18 Esrom begot Aram; and Aram begot Aminadab. 19 And Aminadab begot Naasson; and Naasson begot Salmon. 20 And Salmon begot Booz; and Booz begot Obed. 21 And Obed begot Jesse; and Jesse begot David.

There was a man of Armahaim Sipha, of mount Ephraim, and his name was Helkana, a son of Jeremeel the son of Elias the son of Thoke, in Nasib Ephraim. 2 And he had two wives; the name of the one was Anna, and the name of the second Phenanna. And Phenanna had children, but Anna had no child.

3 And the man went up from year to year from his city, from Armathaim, to worship and sacrifice to the Lord God of Sabaoth at Selom: and there were Heli and his two sons Ophni and Elisha, the priests of the Lord.

4 And the day came, and Helkana sacrificed, and gave portions to his wife Phenanna and her children. And to Anna he gave γα prime portion, because she had no child, only Helkana loved Anna more than the other; but the Lord had closed her womb. 5 For the Lord gave her no child in her affliction, and according to the despondency of her affliction; and she was dispirited on this account, that the Lord shut up her womb so as not to give her a child.

6 So she did year by year, in going up to the house of the Lord; and she was dispirited, and wept, and did not eat.

7 And Helkana her husband said to her, Anna: and she said to him, Here am I, my lord: and he said to her, What ails thee that thou wastest? and why dost thou not eat? and why doth thy heart smite thee? am I not better to thee than ten children? 8 And Anna rose up after they had eaten in Selom, and stood before the Lord: and Heli the priest was on a seat by the δ threshold of the temple of the Lord.

9 And she was very much grieved in spirit, and prayed to the Lord, and wept abundantly. 10 And she vowed a vow to the Lord, saying, O Lord God of Sabaoth, if thou wilt indeed look upon the humiliation of thine handmaid, and remember me, and give to thine handmaid a δ man-child, then will I indeed dedicate him to thee till the day of his death; and he shall drink no wine nor strong drink, and no razor shall come upon his head.

11 And it came to pass, while she was long praying before the Lord, that Heli the priest marked her mouth. 12 And she was speaking... in her heart, and her lips moved, but her voice was not heard: and Heli accounted it a drunken woman. 14 And the servant of Heli said to her, How long wilt thou be drunken? take away thy wine from thee, and go out from the presence of the Lord. 15 And Anna answered and said, Nay, my lord, I lée thee in a hard day, and I have my drunken and strong drink, and I pour my soul before the Lord. 16 Count not thy handmaid for a pestilent woman, for by reason of the abundance of my importunity I have continued my prayer until now. 17 And Heli answered and said to her, Go in peace: the God of Israel give thee thy petition, which thou hast asked of him. 18 And she said, Thine handmaid has found favour in thine eyes: and the woman went her way, and entered into her lodging, and ate and drank with her husband, and her countenance was no more sad. 19 And they rise early in the morning, and worshiped the Lord, and they go their way; and brought all his house and his house to Bethlehem at Armathaim, and knew his wife Anna; and the Lord remembered her, and she conceived. 20 And it came to pass, when the time was come, that she brought forth a son, and called his name Samuel, and said, Because I asked him of the Lord God of Sabaoth. 21 And the man Hekamah and all his house went up to offer in Selom the yearly sacrifice, and his vows, and all the tithes of his land. 22 But Anna did not go up with him, for she said to his husband, I will not go up until the child goes up, when I have weaned him, and he shall be presented before the Lord, and he shall abide there continually. 23 And Hekamah and his husband said to her, Do that which is good in thine eyes, abide still until thou shalt have weaned him; but may the Lord establish that which comes out of thy mouth: and the woman tarried, and snuckled her son until she had weaned him. 24 And she went up with him to Selom with a calf of three years old, and loaves, and an ephah of flour, and a bottle of wine; and she entered into the house of the Lord in Selom, and the child with them. 25 And they brought him before the Lord; and his father slew his offering which he offered from year to year to the Lord; and he brought near the child, and slew the calf; and Anna the mother of the child brought him to Heli. 26 And she said, I pray thee, my lord, as thy soul liveth, I am the woman that stood in thy presence with thee while praying to the Lord. 27 For this child I prayed; and the Lord has given me my request that I asked of him. 28 And I lend him to the Lord all his days that he lives, a loan to the Lord: and she said, My heart is established in the Lord, my horn is exalted in my God; my mouth is enlarged over my enemies, I have rejoiced in thy salvation. 29 For there is none holy as the Lord, and there is none righteous as our God; there is none that knows these things. 30 Boast not, and utter not high things; let not high-sounding words come out of your mouth, for the Lord is a God of knowledge, and God prepares his own designs.

6 The bow of the mighty has waxed feeble, and the weak have girded themselves with strength.

7 They that were full of bread are brought low; and the hungry have forsaken the land; for the barren has born seven, and she that was despised has waxed rich.

8 The Lord kills and makes alive; he brings down to the earth, and brings up.

9 The Lord makes poor, and makes rich; he lifts up, and he brings down.

10 He lifts up the poor from the earth, and raises the needy from the dunghill; to seat him with the princes of the people, and causing them to inherit the throne of glory;

11 granting his petition to him that prays; and he blesses the years of the righteous, for by strength cannot man prevail.

12 The Lord will weaken his adversary; the Lord is holy.

13 Let not the wise man boast in his wisdom, nor let the mighty man boast in his strength, and let not the rich man boast in his wealth; but let him that boasts boast in this, to understand and know the Lord, and to execute judgment and justice in the midst of the earth.

14 The Lord has gone up to the heavens, and has thundered: he will judge the extremities of the earth, and will exalt the horn of his Christ.

15 And she left him there before the Lord, and departed to Armathaim: and the child ministered in the presence of the Lord before Heli the priest. And Heli the priest were evil sons, not knowing the Lord.

16 And the priest's claim from every one of the people that sacrificed was this: the servant of the priest came when the flesh was in seething, and a flesh-hook of three teeth was in his hand.

17 And he struck it into the great caldron, or into the brazen vessel, or into the pot, and whatever came up with the flesh-hook, the priest took for himself: so they did to all Israel that came to sacrifice to the Lord in Selom.

18 And before the fat was burnt for a sweet savour, the servant of the priest would come, and say to the man that sacrificed, Give flesh to roast for the priest, and I will by no means take of thee sodden flesh out of the caldron.

19 And the man that sacrificed said, First let the fat be burnt, as it is fit, and take for thyself of all things which thy soul desires: then would he say, Nay, for thou shalt give me it now; and if not, I will take it by force.

20 So the sin of the young men was very great before the Lord, for they set at nought the offering of the Lord.

21 And Samuel ministered before the Lord, a child, and speech came to him, and his mother said, And his mother made him a little doublet, and brought it to him from year to year, in her going up in company with her husband to offer the yearly sacrifice.

22 And Heli blessed Helcana and his wife, saying, The Lord recompense to thee seed of this woman, in return for the loan which thou hast lent to the Lord, and she has lent it to his place.

23 And the Lord visited Anna, and she bore yet three sons, and two daughters.

24 And the child Samuel grew before the Lord.
and the report which I hear is not good; do not so, for the reports which I hear are not good, so that the people do not serve God. If thou shalt be held at all sin against another, then shall they pray for him to the Lord; but if a man sin against the Lord, who shall interreat for him? But they hearkened not to the voice of their father, because the Lord would by all means destroy them. And the child Samuel advanced, and was in favour with God and with men.

And a man of God came to Heli, and said, Thus says the Lord, I plainly revealed myself to the house of thy father, when they were servants in Egypt to the house of Pharaoh. And I chose the house of thy father out of all the tribes of Israel to be minister to me, to stand in the presence of the Lord, and to burn incense, and to serve an ephod. And I gave to the house of thy father all the offerings by fire of the children of Israel for food. And wherefore hast thou looked upon my incense-offering and my meat-offering with a shameless eye, and hast said, What if I had eaten of the first-fruits of Israel before me? Therefore thus says the Lord God of Israel, I say, Thy house and the house of thy father shall pass before me for ever: but now the Lord says, That be far from me; for I will only honour them that honour me, and he that sets me at nought shall be despised.

Behold, the days come when I will destroy thy seed and the seed of thy father's house. And thou shalt not have an old man in my house for ever. And if I do not destroy a man of thine from my altar, it shall be because his sin may perish; and every one that remains in thy house shall fall by the sword of men. And this which shall come upon thy two sons Ophni and Phinees shall be a sign to thee: in one day they shall both die. And I will raise up to myself a faithful priest, who shall do all that is in my heart, and in my mind; and I will build him a sure house, and he shall walk before my Christ for ever. And it shall come to pass that he that survives in thy house, shall come to do obeisance before him for a little piece of silver, saying, Put me into one of thy priests' offices to eat bread.

And that which the Lord ministered to the Lord before Heli the priest; and the word of the Lord was precious in those days, there was no such distinct vision.

And it came to pass at that time that Heli was sleeping in his place; and his eyes began to fail, and could not see. And the lamp of God failed before him, and was trimmed, and Samuel slept in the temple, where was the ark of God. And the Lord called, Samuel, Samuel; and he said, Here am I. And he ran to Heli, and said, Here am I, for thou didst call me: and

And he said, I did not call thee; return, go to sleep; and he returned and went to sleep.

6 And the Lord called again, Samuel, Samuel; and he went to Heli the second time, and said, Behold, here am I, for thou didst call me; and he said, I called thee not; return, go to sleep. 7 And it was before Samuel knew the Lord, and before the word of the Lord was revealed to him.

8 And the Lord called Samuel again for the third time; and he arose and went to Heli, and said, Behold, I am here, for thou didst call me: and Heli perceived that the Lord had called the child. 9 And he said, Return, child, go to sleep; and it shall come to pass if he shall call thee, that thou shalt say, Speak, for thy servant heareth: and Samuel went and lay down in his place. 10 And the Lord came, and stood, and called him as before: and Samuel said, Speak, for thy servant heareth.

11 And the Lord said to Samuel, Behold, I execute my words in Israel; whoever heareth them, both his ears shall tingle. 12 In that day I will raise up against Heli all things that I have told him; and I will make an end. 13 And I have told him that I will be avenged on his house perpetually for the iniquities of his sons, because his sons spoke evil against God, and he did not admonish them. 14 And it shall not go on so; I have sworn to the house of Eli, the iniquity of the house of Eli shall not be atoned for with incense or sacrifices for ever.

15 And Samuel slept till morning, and rose early in the morning, and opened the doors of the house of the Lord; and Samuel feared to tell Heli the vision. 16 And Heli said to Samuel, Samuel, my son; and he said, Behold, here am I. 17 And he said, What was the word that was spoken to thee? I pray thee hide it not from me: may God do these things to thee, and more also, if thou hide from me any thing of all the words that were spoken to thee in thine ears.

18 And Samuel reported all the words, and hid them not from him. And Heli said, He is the Lord, he shall do that which is good in his sight.

19 And Samuel grew, and the Lord was with him, and all that he did did not fail one of his words to the ground. 20 And all Israel knew from Dan even to Bersebe, that Samuel was faithful as a prophet to the Lord. 21 And the Lord manifested himself again in Selom, for the Lord revealed himself to Samuel; and Samuel was accredited to all Israel as a prophet to the Lord from one end of the land to the other end of the land. And Heli was very old, and his sons kept advancing in wickedness, and their way was evil before the Lord.

And it came to pass in those days that the Philistines gathered themselves together against Israel to war; and Israel went out to meet them and encamped at Aben-ezer, and the Philistines encamped in Aphec. And the Philistines prepare to fight with Israel, and the battle was turned against them; and the men of Israel fell before the Philistines, and there were smitten in the battle in the field four thousand men.

6 Gr. added and called. 7 Gr. once and once. 6 Gr. sleeps or lies down. 6 Gr. add these things. 6 Gr. gather. 6 Gr. the war.
And the people came to the camp, and the elders of Israel said, Why has the Lord caused us to fall this day before the Philistines? let us take the ark of our God out of Selom, and let it proceed from the midst of us, and it shall save us from the hand of our enemies.

And the people sent to Selom, and they take thence the ark of the Lord who dwells between the cherubs: and both the sons of Heli, Ophni and Phinees, were with the ark.

And it came to pass when the ark of the Lord entered into the camp, that all Israel cried out with a loud voice, and the earth resounded. And the Philistines heard the cry, and the Philistines said, What is this great cry in the camp of the Hebrews? and they understood that the ark of the Lord was come into the camp.

And the Philistines feared, and said, These are the Gods that are come to them into the camp.

Woe to us, O Lord, deliver us to-day, for such a thing has not happened aforetime; woe to us, who shall deliver us out of the hand of these mighty Gods? these are the Gods that smote Egypt with every plague, and in the wilderness.

Strengthen yourselves and behave yourselves like men, O ye Philistines, that ye may not serve the Hebrews as they have have served us, but be ye men and fight with them.

And they fought with them; and the men of Israel fell, and they fled every man to his tent; and there was a very great slaughter; and there fell of Israel thirty thousand y'fighting men. And the ark of God was taken, and both the sons of Heli, Ophni and Phinees, died.

And there ran a man of Benjamin out of the battle, and he came to Selom on that day: and his clothes were rent, and earth was upon his head. And he came, and beheld, Heli was upon the seat by the gate looking along the way, for his heart was greatly alarmed for the ark of God: and the man entered into the city to bring tidings; and the city cried out. And Heli heard the sound thereof, and said, What is this voice of this cry? and the man hasted and went in, and reported to Heli. Now Heli was sixty years old, and his eyes were fixed, and he saw not.

And Heli said to them that stood round about him, What is the voice of this sound? And the man hasted and advanced to Heli, and said to him, I am he that is come out of the camp of the Lord, and I have fled from the battle to-day: and Heli said, What is the event, my son?

And the young man answered and said, The men of Israel fled from the face of the Philistines, and there was a great slaughter among the people, and both thy sons are dead, and the ark of God is taken. And it came to pass, when he mentioned the matter of the ark of God, that he fell from the seat backward near the gate, and his back was broken, and he died; for he was an old man and heavy: and he judged Israel twenty years.

Gittites to upon Dagon were Dagon off God was taken, and that her father-in-law and her husband were dead; and she wept and was delivered, for her pains came upon her. And in her distress she was at the point of death; and the women that stood by her, said to her, Fear not, for thou hast born a son: but she answered not, and her heart did not regard it. 21 And she called the child Uebarchaboth, because of the ark of God, and because of her father-in-law, and because of her husband. And they said, "Geth, glory overmuch as the ark of the Lord is taken.
And the Philistines took the ark of God, and brought it from Abenezer to Azotus. 2 And the Philistines took the ark of the Lord, and brought it into the house of Dagon, and set it by Dagon. 3 And the people of Azotus rose early, and entered into the house of Dagon; and looked, and beheld, Dagon had fallen on his face before the ark of the Lord: and they lifted up Dagon, and set him in his place. And the hand of the Lord was heavy upon the Azotians, and he plagued them, and he smote them in their secret parts, Azotus and her coasts. 4 And it came to pass when they rose early in the morning, behold, Dagon had fallen on his face before the ark of the covenant of the Lord; and the head of Dagon and both the palms of his hands were cut off each before the threshold, and both the wrists of his hands had fallen on the floor of the porch; only the stump of Dagon was left. 5 Therefore the priests of Dagon, and every one that enters into the house of Dagon, do not tread upon the threshold of the house of Dagon in Azotus until this day, for they step over.
6 And the hand of the Lord was heavy upon Azotus, and he brought evil upon them, and it burst out upon them into the ships, and mice sprang up in the midst of their country, and there was a great and indiscriminate mortality in the city. 7 And the men of Azotus said that it was so, and they said, The hand of the God of Israel shall not abide with us, for his hand is heavy upon us and upon Dagon our god. 8 And they send and gather the lords of the Philistines to them, and say, What shall we do to the ark of the God of Israel? and the Gittites say, Let the ark of God come over to us; and the ark of the God of Israel came to Geth.
9 And it came to pass after it went about to Geth, that the hand of the Lord comes upon the city, a very great confusion; and he smote the men of the city small and great, and smote them in their secret parts: and the Gittites made to themselves images of emerods.
10 And they send away the ark of God to Ascalon, and it came to pass when the ark of God went into Ascalon, that the men of Ascalon cried out, saying, Why have ye brought back the ark of the God of Israel to us, to kill us and our people? 11 And they send and gather the lords of the Philistines, and they said, Send away the ark of the God of Israel, and let it lodge in its place; and let it not stay us and our people. For there was a very great confusion in all the city, when the ark of the God of Israel entered the city and those who lived and died not were smitten with emerods; and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

And the ark was seven months in the country of the Philistines, and their land brought forth swarms of mice. 2 And the Philistines call their priests and their prophets, and their enchanter, saying, What shall we do, what shall we do for the ark of the Lord? Shall we not send it away? 3 And they said, If ye send away the ark of the covenant of the Lord God of Israel, do not send it empty, but by all means render it to us for an offering for the plague; and then shall ye be healed, and an atonement shall be made for you: should not his hand be thus stayed from off you? 4 And they said, What is the offering for the plague which we shall return to it? and they said, According to the number of the lords of the Philistines, five golden emerods, for the plague was on you, and on your rulers, and on the people; and golden emerods shall be the price thereof to destroy your land: and ye shall give glory to the Lord, that he may lighten his hand from off you, and from off your gods, and from off your land. 5 And why do ye harden your hearts, as Egypt and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? was it not so when he mocked them, that they let the people go, and they departed?

And now take wood and make a new waggon, and take two cows, that have calved for the first time, without their calves; and ye yoke the cows to the waggon, and lead away the calves from behind them home. 6 And ye shall take the ark and put it on the waggon; and ye shall restore to it the golden articles for the trespass-offering in a vessel by the side of it; and ye shall let it go, and send it away, and ye shall depart. 7 And ye shall see, if it shall go the way of its coasts along by Bethsamys, he has brought us this great affliction; and if not, then we know that his hand has not touched us, but this is a chance which has happened to us.

And the Philistines did so; and they took two cows that had calved for the first time, and yoked them to the waggon, and shut up their calves at home. 10 And they set the ark of the Lord, and the coffer, and the golden mice, on the waggon. 11 And the cows went straight on the way to the way of Bethsamys, they went along one track; and laboured, and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left, and the lords of the Philistines went after it as far as the coasts of Bethsamys. 12 And the men of Bethsamys were reaping the wheat harvest in the valley; and they lifted up their eyes, and saw the ark of the Lord, and rejoiced to meet it. 13 And the waggon entered into the field of Osee, which was in Bethsamys, and they set there by it a great stone; and they split the wood of the waggon, and offered up the calf for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord. 14 And the Levites brought up the ark of the Lord, and the coffer with 11 And they said, What is the offering for the plague which we shall return to it? and they said, According to the number of the lords of the Philistines, five golden emerods, for the plague was on you, and on your rulers, and on the people; and golden emerods shall be the price thereof to destroy your land: and ye shall give glory to the Lord, that he may lighten his hand from off you, and from off your gods, and from off your land. 5 And why do ye harden your hearts, as Egypt and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? was it not so when he mocked them, that they let the people go, and they departed?

10 And the Philistines did so; and they took two cows that had calved for the first time, and yoked them to the waggon, and shut up their calves at home. 10 And they set the ark of the Lord, and the coffer, and the golden mice, on the waggon. 11 And the cows went straight on the way to the way of Bethsamys, they went along one track; and laboured, and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left, and the lords of the Philistines went after it as far as the coasts of Bethsamys. 12 And the men of Bethsamys were reaping the wheat harvest in the valley; and they lifted up their eyes, and saw the ark of the Lord, and rejoiced to meet it. 13 And the waggon entered into the field of Osee, which was in Bethsamys, and they set there by it a great stone; and they split the wood of the waggon, and offered up the calf for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord. 14 And the Levites brought up the ark of the Lord, and the coffer with it, and the golden articles upon it, and placed them on the great stone, and the men of Bethsamsys offered whole-burnt-offerings and meat-offerings on that day to the Lord. 18 And the five lords of the Philistines saw, and returned to Ascalon in that day.

And these are the golden emerods which the lords of the Philistines gave as a trespass-offering to the Lord; for Azotus one, for Gaza one, for Ascalon one, for Geth one, for Accaron one. 19 And the golden mice according to the number of all the cities of the Philistines, belonging to the five lords, from the fenced city to the un fenced, and from the hand of the Philistines, and to the great stone, on which they placed the ark of the covenant of the Lord, that was in the field of Osee the Bethsamsyite.

And the sons of Jechonias were not pleased with the men of Bethsamsys, because they saw the ark of the Lord; and the Lord remote the seventy men, and fifty thousand men, and made them turn back, because the Lord had inflicted on the people a very great plague. 20 And the men of Bethsamsys said, Who shall be able to pass before this holy Lord God? and to whom shall the ark of the Lord go up from us?

And they send messengers to the inhabitants of Carathiarim, saying, The Philistines have brought back the ark of the Lord, go down and take it home to yourselves.

And the men of Carathiarim came, and bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord: and they bring it into the house of Aminadab in the hill; and they sanctified Eleazar his son to keep the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

And it came to pass from the time that the ark was in Carathiarim, the days were multiplied, and the time was twenty years; and all the house of Israel looked after the Lord. 3 And Samuel spoke to all the house of Israel, saying, If ye do with all your heart return to the Lord, take away the strange gods from among you, and the groves, and proclaim your hearts to serve the Lord, and serve him only; and he shall deliver you from the hand of the Philistines.

And the children of Israel took away Baalim and the groves of Astaroth, and served the Lord only.

And Samuel said, Gather all Israel to Massaphath, and I will pray for you to the Lord. 4 And they were gathered together to Massaphath, and they drew water, and poured it out upon the earth before the Lord. And they fasted on that day, and said, We have sinned before the Lord. And Samuel judged the children of Israel in Massaphath.

And the Philistines heard that all the children of Israel were gathered together to Massaphath; and the lords of the Philistines were gathered again to the children of Israel heard, and they feared before the Philistines. 6 And the children of Israel said to Samuel, Cease not to cry to the Lord thy God for us, and he shall save us out of the hand of the Philistines. 7 And Samuel took a sucking lamb, and offered it up as a whole-burnt-offering with all the people to the Lord; and Samuel cried to the Lord for Israel, and the Lord turned thereunto Samuel on that day.
the Lord for Israel, and the Lord heard him. 18 And Samuel was offering the whole-burnt-offering; and the Philistines drew near to war against Israel; and the Lord thunders with a mighty sound in that day upon the Philistines, and they were confounded and overthrown before Israel. 19 And the men of Israel went forth out of Massephath, and smote them to the parts under Bethchor.

And Samuel took a stone, and set it up between Massephath and the old city; and he called the name of it Abenezer, stone of the helper; and he said, Hitherto has the Lord helped us.

12 So the Lord humbled the Philistines, and they did not any more come into the border of Israel; and the hand of the Lord was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel. 13 And the cities which the Philistines took from the children of Israel were restored; and they restored them to Israel from Ascalon to Azob: and they took the coast of Israel out of the hand of the Philistines; and there was peace between Israel and the Amorite.

14 And Samuel judged Israel all the days of his life. 15 And he went year by year, and went round Bethel, and Gilgal, and Massephath; and he judged Israel in all these consecrated places. 16 And his return was to Armathaim, because there was his house; and there he judged Israel, and built there an altar to the Lord.

And it came to pass when Samuel was old, that he made his sons judges over Israel. 2 And these are the names of his sons; Joel the first-born, and the name of the second Abin, judges in Bersabee. 3 And his sons did not walk in his ways; and they turned aside after Baal, and took gifts, and perverted judgments.

4 And the men of Israel gather themselves together, and come to Armathaim to Samuel; and they said to him, Behold, thou art grown old, and thy sons walk not in thy way; and now set over us a king to judge us, as also the other nations have.

5 And the thing was evil in the eyes of Samuel, when they said, Give us a king to judge us; and Samuel prayed to the Lord. And the Lord said to Samuel, Hear the voice of the people, in whatever they shall say to thee; for they have rejected thee, but they have rejected me from reigning over them. 8 According to all their doings which they have done to me, from the day that I brought them out of Egypt until this day, even as they have deserted me, and served other gods, so they do also to thee. 9 And now hearken to their voice; only thou shalt solemnly testify to them, and thou shalt describe to them the manner of the king who shall reign over them.

10 And Samuel spake every word of the Lord to the people who asked of him a king. 11 And he said, This shall be the manner of the king he spake of, 106:11

the king that shall rule over you: he shall take your sons, and put them in his chariots, and among his horsemen, and running before his chariots; 12. and his manner shall be to make them to himself captains of hundreds and captains of thousands; and to reap his harvest, and gather his vintage, and prepare his instruments of war, and the implements of his chariots. 13. And he will take your daughters to be perfumers, and cooks, and bakers. 14. And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your good land, and give it to his eunuchs, and to his servants. 15. And he will take the tithe of your seed and your vineyards, and give it to his eunuchs, and to his servants. 16. And he will take your servants, and your handmaids, and your good herds and your asses, and will take the tenth of them for his works. 17. And he will tithe your flocks; and ye shall be his servants. 18. And ye shall cry out in that day because of your king whom ye have chosen to yourselves, and the Lord shall not hear you in those days, because ye have chosen to yourselves a king.

But the people would not hearken to Samuel; and they said to him, Nay, but there shall be a king over us. 2. And we also will be like all the nations; and our king shall judge us, and go before us, and fight our battles. 3. And Samuel heard all the words of the people, and spoke them in the ears of the Lord. 4. And the Lord said to Samuel, Hearken to their voice, and appoint them a king. And Samuel said to the men of Israel, Let each man depart to his city. And there was a man of the sons of Benjamin, and his name was Kish, the son of Abiel, the son of Jared, the son of Bachir, the son of Abhek, the son of a Benjaminite, man of might. 2. And this man had a son, and his name was Saul, of great stature, a goodly man; and there was not among the sons of Israel a goodlier than he, high above all the people from his shoulders and upward.

And the asses of Kish the father of Saul were lost; and Kish said to Saul his son, Take with thee one of the young men, and arise, and go seek the asses. 3. And they went through mount Ephraim, and they went through the land of Selcha, and found them not; and they passed through the land of Segahim, and they were not there; and they passed through the land of Jamin, and found them not. 4. And when they came to Siph, then Saul said to his young man that was with him, Come and let us return, lest my father leave the asses, and take care for us. 5. And the young man said to him, Behold now, there is a man of God in this city, and the man is of high repute; all that he shall speak will surely come to pass. 6. And Saul said to his young man that was with him, Lo, then, we will go; but what shall we bring the man of God? for the loaves are spent out of our vessels, and we have nothing more with us that belongs to us to bring to the man of
And the young man answered Saul again, and said, Behold, there is found in my hand a fourth part of a shekel of silver; and thou shalt give it to the man of God, and he shall tell us our way. Now before time in Israel every one in going to enquire of God said, Come and let us go to the seer, for the people beforehand called the prophet, the seer. And Saul said to his servant, Well said, come and let us go: and they went to the city where the man of God was.

11 As they went up the ascent to the city, they and Saul came out to draw water; and they said to him, Is the seer here? And the virgins answered them, and they said to them, He is: behold, he is before you: now he is coming to the city, because of the day, for to-day there is a sacrifice for the people in Bama. As soon as ye shall enter into the city, so shall ye find him in the city, before he goes up to Bama to eat; for the people will not eat until he comes in, for he blesses the sacrifice, and afterwards the guests eat; now then go up, for ye shall find him because of the holiday. And they go up to the city; and as they were entering into the midst of the city, behold, Samuel came out to meet them, to go up to Bama.

12 And the Lord uncovered the ear of Samuel one day before Saul came to him, saying, At this time to-morrow I will send to thee a man out of the land of Benjamin, and thou shalt know that he is to be ruler over my people Israel, and he shall save my people out of the hand of the Philistines; for I have looked upon the humiliation of my people, for their cry is come unto me. And Samuel looked upon Saul, and the Lord answered him, Behold the man of whom I spoke to thee, This one shall rule over my people.

13 And Saul drew near to Samuel into the midst of the city, and said, Tell me now which is the house of the seer? And Samuel answered Saul, and said, I am he: go up before me to Bama, and eat with me to-day, and I will send thee away in the morning, and I will tell thee all that is in thine heart. And concerning thine assess that have been lost now these three days, care not for them, for they are found. And to whom does the excellency of Israel belong? does it not to thee and to thy father's house? And Saul answered and said, Am not I the son of a Benjamite, the least tribe of the people of Israel? and of the least family of the whole tribe of Benjamin? and why hast thou spoken to me according to this word?

14 And Samuel took Saul and his servant, and brought them to the inn, and set them there a place among the chief of those that were called, about seventy men. And Samuel said to the cook, Give me the portion which I gave thee, which I told thee to set by thee. Now the cook had boiled the shoulder, and he set it before Saul; and Samuel said to Saul, Behold that which is left: set it before thee, and eat; for it is set to the young man Saul. and the servant, and they ate. And they rose up early in the morning; and it came to pass that Samuel took a skin of oil, and poured it upon his head, and kissed him, and said, Is it not because the Lord said unto thy master, I have使我 to anoint thee king over Israel? And the Lord shall grow thee exceeding great, and turn this people to thee. And the Lord shall be with thee, and thou shalt go out and come in with his presence. And Samuel said, To-morrow shall the Lord show thee what he will do. And Samuel went to Ramah; and Saul went up to his house. But Samuel came no more to see Saul again; nevertheless he found him every year at the time of the offering of the fuller's wine, and Saul preferred him before his brother, and the Lord said, He shall be the one to rule over my people Israel; for he will be the one to turn back all my people from thee.
25 And he went down from Bama into the city; and they prepared a lodging for Saul on the roof, and he lay down.

26 And it came to pass when the morning dawned that Samuel called Saul on the roof, saying, Rise up, and I will dismiss thee. And Saul arose, and he and Samuel went out. As they went down to a part of the city, Samuel said to Saul, Speak to the young man, and let him pass on before us; and do thou stand as to-day, and hearken to the word of God. And Samuel took a vial of oil, and poured it on his head, and kissed him, and said to him, Has not the Lord anointed thee for a ruler over his people, over Israel? And thou shalt rule among the people of the Lord, and thou shalt save them out of the hand of their enemies; and this shall be the sign to thee that the Lord has anointed thee for a ruler over his inheritance: As soon as thou shalt depart from me, thou shalt find two men by the burying-place of Rachel on the mount of Benjamin, exulting greatly; and they shall say to thee, The asses are found which ye went to seek; and, behold, thy father has given up the matter of the asses, and he is anxious for you, saying, What shall I do for my son? And thou shalt depart from thence, and shalt go beyond that as far as the oak of Tabor, and thou shalt find there three men going up to God to Bethel, one bearing three kids, and another bearing three vessels of bread, and another bearing a bottle of wine. And they shall ask thee how thou doest, and shall give thee two presents of bread, and thou shalt receive them of their hand. And afterward thou shalt go to the hill of God, where is the encampment of the Philistines; there is Nasib the Philistine; and it shall come to pass when ye shall have entered into the city, that thou shalt meet a band of prophets coming down from the Bama; and before them will be lutes, and a drum, and a pipe, and a harp, and they shall prophesy. And the Spirit of the Lord shall come mightily upon thee, and thou shalt prophesy with them, and shalt be turned into another man. And it shall come to pass when these signs shall come upon thee, then do thou whatsoever thy hand shall find, because God is with thee. And thou shalt go down in front of Galgal, and behold. I come down to thee to offer a whole-burnt-offering and peace-offerings: seven days shalt thou wait until I come to thee, and I will make known to thee what thou shalt do.

And it came to pass when he turned his back to depart from Samuel, God gave him another heart; and all these signs came to pass in that day. And he comes thence to the hill, and behold a band of prophets opposite to him; and the Spirit of God came upon him, and he prophesied in the midst of them. And all that had known him before came, and saw, and, behold, he was in the midst of the prophets: and the people said every one to his neighbour, What is this that has happened to the son of Kis? 2 Saul also among the prophets? 3 And one of them answered and said, And who is his father? and therefore it became a proverb, Is Saul also among the prophets? 4 And he ceased prophesying, and comes to the hill.

14 And his kinsman said to him and to his servant, Whither went ye? and they said, To seek ass; and we saw that they were lost, and we went in to Samuel. 15 And his kinsman said to Saul, Tell me, I pray thee, What did Samuel say to thee? 16 And Saul said to his kinsman, He verily told me that the asses were found. But the matter of the kingdom he told him not.

7 And Samuel summoned all the people before the Lord to Massephath. 8 And he said to the children of Israel, Thus has the Lord God said, I will cut off from Israel your king that ye set your heart on, to make him evil before you. 9 And he shall reign over you, and ye shall serve your king which I will set over you.

14 And God said to Samuel, Take all that is needful of thy stuff, and go, I will shew thee what thou shalt do, and all that is wondrous which I will do with Saul. 15 And there shall come and tell thee, Behold, Samuel is come; and thou shalt go down, and anoint him king over all my people Israel, and they shall rise up to make war against the Amorites. 17 But Samuel said, What is it then? I pray thee, tell me. 18 And he said, Behold, there is come to the city a man of God, and now itself is the day of the firstfruits of wheat; and he shall come in, and certain of the scorners of thine house shall say to him, How hast thou answered the matter? 19 And he shall say, Go to Samuel, and he shall tell thee. And let him not keep anything back from thee. And Samuel will tell thee on a certain secret thing. 20 And it shall be, when he is come, and shall have sat down before Samuel, that Samuel shall declare to him, and shall tell him, to shew the matter on a certain secret thing. 21 But if Samuel tell not thee on a certain secret thing, it shall be, because thou hast not enquired of the Lord. 22 And Samuel took the horn of oil, and anointed him in the midst of his brethren; and his brethren knew not any thing, but Samuel.

24 And Samuel said to all the people, Behold, the Lord shall shew between me and you, and will take you a king over you. 25 And it is you who are oppressed and despised, and have borne the yoke of hard service, and heavy labour, no more; and the Lord shall deliver you out of the hand of all your oppressors. 26 And it shall be, when all these things are come upon thee, in the latter days, when thou shalt know that thy seed shall dwell in Egypt four hundred and thirty years; and the Lord shall give them into the hand of their enemies, and they shall oppress them. 27 And Israel shall cry out to the Lord, because of the Egyptians; and he shall deliver them out of their hand. 28 And he shall deliver Israel out of Egypt; and shall go up out of Egypt, he and his people; and shall possess the land of the Amorites. 29 And the children of Israel shall they answer, and say, We will not serve the Lord; we will not serve the Egyptians; we will serve God. 30 And the Lord shall deliver us out of all our afflictions, from our enemies, and from those that oppress us; for he is our God; and we will go into his tabernacles. 31 But Saul said to Samuel, Who is he of all thy servants, which shall be our king? 32 And Samuel answered Saul, Who am I, and what is my family in Israel? 33 And now, if thou wilt worship the Lord, put forth the hand of thine hand, and take a burnt offering to the Lord out of the two sheep; and Samuel will tell thee what thou shalt do. 34 And Samuel said, Take a sucking kid, and give it to me. 35 And Saul gave it to Samuel, and said, Behold, I have done what the Lord said. 36 And Samuel took the sucking kid, and slew it in the midst of the termes, and they burned it to the Lord, and there was peace between Samuel and Saul. 37 And Samuel took a stone, and set it between the two cities, and said, As the Lord doth set a king over you. 38 And he called the name of it Ramah, and said, Let there be no enmity between my people, and between my God; and let there be peace between us. 39 And Saul took the stone and set it at the termes, and called it the stone of help. 40 And Samuel returned unto his dwelling. 41 But Saul took the kingdom, and was thirty years old when he began to reign over Israel, and he reigned there forty years. 42 And he took the kingdom out of the hand of the Lord, and brought it to himself.
3 And Israel. And they joined themselves together, and the king said, ring them together, and bring them against me, and I will go forth in battle against them. And the king said, I will be with you, and the people shall go forth in battle against them.

4 And the king gathered together all the people: and they went forth in troops against them, and passed over Jordan after them, every man armed with his weapons.

5 And the king said on the day of battle, If any man be hungry, let him pass through the host, and take of the brocaded garments of the robbers, and let them be for a covering in the day of battle.

6 And the people heard the voice of the king, and came together after the king, every man armed with his weapons, whose heart God had made willing to go with him.

7 And the king said, If any man be unwilling to go with me, let him go back; and they came and went back: but the people were willing to go with their king.

8 And the king said to his servants, What thing say ye, that we shall do to the people that are come unto us from all the tribes of Israel?

9 And his servants said unto him, The people be beguiled, and are gone away from the king, as the people go to their tents.

10 And the king came forth, and all his people with him, and came out, and stood by the river side opposite Beth-aven, and said one to another, Wherefore are we come up to this people to cause us to perish? shall we bring on ourselves a sin greater than our first sin?

11 And Saul reposed upon the sword, and Abner the son of Ner took his place. And when Abner had spoken after Saul, and the king had said to Abner, Say ye to the people, Let them go back to their tents.

12 And Abner spake after Saul, saying, Let not my Lord be grieved, because the people have sinned against the king; for as an ox goeth before the cart, and the mule before the yoke, so is the people that goeth before the king.

13 Then the king said to Abner, Go now, and make a league with the rulers of Judah, and with the rulers of Benjamin; and bring me back to Jerusalem.

14 And Abner went to the rulers of Judah, and said to them, Is it well with king Saul? and will you go with him? and he answered, Let not my lord, whom the Lord delivered into the hand of the Philistines, say, Why have ye not accompanied me?

15 Then said the rulers of Judah, Is the king of Israel slain? and his servants conspire against his life, and say, Two kings shall reign: and the servants of the king are conspired against him.

16 Now Abner the son of Ner, and the rulers of Judah, and the rulers of Benjamin, were come to the house of Saul, and said unto him, Why have the king and his servants conspired against him? and they came up and laid hands on Saul by night, and put him to death, and struck the men of Jabesh Gilead with the edge of the sword, and also the kings of the Hittites and the kings of the Canaanites; and the land was in rest.

17 And when David heard of the number of the men of Jabesh Gilead, he sent messengers to them, saying, If ye be willing to come with me into Jerusalem, I will feed you; and ye shall be covered with my tabernacle, and with my tent, and with my house, and with the house of my father; and I will provide for you a place in Israel.

18 Then came the men of Jabesh Gilead, and said to him, To morrow we will come to Jerusalem with strength.

19 And David said to them, If ye come with me to Jerusalem, then shall it be: for why should any man say to me, Wherefore came ye to me? and shall I receive you into my house? and ye shall be covered with my tabernacle, and with my tent, and with my house, and with the house of my father, and I will provide for you a place in Israel.

20 And they said unto him, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, so we will do this thing.

21 And he took them, and fed them, and covered them with his tabernacle, and with his tent, and with the tabernacle of his father, and with the tabernacle of his grandfather, Abinadab, and with his own house, and they did eat and drink in Jerusalem.

22 And she sent messengers to her son, saying, Which manner of man was this man that came unto thee tonight? and the servants of the man of God said to her, This is one of the men that come out of the land of Israel.

23 And she said, Did he come to prophesy to thee? and she said, No; but to enquire of the Lord for me.

24 And she said, Whence camest thou? and he said, I am of Bethel, which is in the land of Canaan. And she said, He said unto me also, thou shalt keep the king's house.

25 And she said, Why did ye not tell me that he was your brother?

make restitution to you. 4 And they said to Samuel, Thou hast not injured us, and thou hast not oppressed us; and thou hast not afflicted us, and thou hast not taken anything from any one's hand.

And Samuel said to the people, The Lord is witness among you, and his anointed is witness this day, that ye have not found anything in my hand: and they said, He is witness.

And Samuel spoke to the people, saying,
The Lord, who appointed Moses and Aaron is witness, who brought our fathers up out of Egypt. 7 And now stand still, and I will judge you before the Lord; and I will relate to you all the righteousness of the Lord, the things which he has wrought among you and your fathers. 8 When Jacob and his sons went into Egypt, and Egypt humbled them, then our fathers cried to the Lord, and the Lord sent Moses and Aaron; and they brought our fathers out of Egypt, and he made them dwell in this land.

And they forgot the Lord their God, and he sold them into the hands of Siar the captain of the host of Jabin king of Asor, and into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the kings of Moab, and he fought with them. 10 And they cried to the Lord, and said, We have sinned, for we have forsaken the Lord, and have served Baalim and the groves: and now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, and we will serve thee.

And he sent Jeroham, and Barac, and Jephthae, and Samuel, and he sent them out of the land of the Philistines round about, and ye dwelt in security. 12 And ye saw that Naas king of the children of Ammon came against you, and ye said, Nay, none but a king shall reign over us; whereas the Lord our God is our king.

And now behold the king whom ye have chosen, and behold, the Lord has set a king over you. 13 If ye should fear the Lord, and serve him, and hearken to his voice, and not resist the mouth of the Lord, ye and ye king that reigns over you should follow the Lord, well. 14 But if ye should not hearken to the voice of the Lord, ye and ye should resist the mouth of the Lord, then shall the hand of the Lord be upon you and upon your king.

And now stand still, and see this great thing, which the Lord will do before your eyes. 15 Is it not wheat-harvest to-day? I will call upon the Lord, and he shall send thunder and rain; and know ye and see, that your wickedness is great which ye have wrought before the Lord, having asked for yourselves a king.

And Samuel called upon the Lord, and the Lord sent thunders and rain in that day; and all the people feared greatly the Lord and Samuel. 19 And all the people said to Samuel, Pray for thy servants to the Lord thy God, and let us not die; for we have added to all our sins this iniquity, in asking for us a king.

And Samuel said to the people, Fear not:

story, that he was not present as thou purposed according to the set time of the days, and the Philistines were gathered to Machmas. Then I said, Now will the Philistines come down to me to Galgala, and I have not sought the face of the Lord: so I forced myself and offered the whole-burnt-offering. And Samuel said to Saul, Thou hast done foolishly; for thou hast not kept my command, which the Lord commanded thee, as now the Lord would have confirmed thy kingdom over Israel for ever.

But now thy kingdom shall not stand to thee, and the Lord shall seek for himself a man after his own heart; and the Lord shall appoint him to be a ruler over his people, because thou hast not kept all that the Lord commanded thee.

And Samuel arose, and departed from Galgala, and the remnant of the people went after Saul to meet him after the men of war, when they had gone out of Galgala to Gaba of Benjamin. And Saul numbered the people that were found with him, about six hundred men.

And Saul and Jonathan his son, and the people that were found with them, halted in Gaba of Benjamin; and they went: and the Philistines had encamped in Machmas.

And men came forth to destroy out of the land of the Philistines in three companies; one company turning by the way of Gophera toward the land of Sogal, and another company turning the way of Bethoron, and another company turning by the way of Gabae that turns aside to Gai of Sabim.

And there was not found a smith in all the land of Israel, for the Philistines said, Lest the Hebrews make themselves sword or spear.

And all Israel went down to the land of the Philistines to forge every one his reaping-hook and his tool, and every one his axe and his sickle.

And it was near the time of harvest, and their tools were valued at three sickels for a像素, and there was the same rate for the axe and the sicle.

And it came to pass in the days of the war of Machmas, that there was not a sword or spear found in the hand of all the people, that were with Saul and Jonathan; but with Saul and Jonathan his son only was there found.

And there went out some from the camp of the Philistines to the place beyond Machmas.

And when a certain day arrived, Jonathan the son of Saul said to the young man that bore his armour, Come, and let us go over to Machmas of the Philistines that is on the other side of thee, but he was not his father.

And Saul sat on the top of the hill under the pomegranate tree that is in Magdon, and there were with him about six hundred men.

And Achia son of Achnab, the brother of Jochabed the son of Phinees, the son of Helel, was the priest of God in Selom wearing an ephod: and the people knew not that Jonathan was gone.

And in the midst of the passage whereby Jonathan sought to pass over to the encampment of the Philistines, there was both a sharp rock on this side, and a sharp rock on the other side: the name of the one was Basan, and the name of the other Senna.

The one way was northward to one coming to Machmas, and the other way was southward to one coming to Gabae.

And Jonathan said to the young man that bore his armour, Come, let us go over to Messaab of these uncircumcised, if peradventure the Lord may do something for us; for the Lord is not straitened to save Kýrios, ὡς νῦν ἤτοιμασε Κύριος τὴν βασιλείαν σου ἐπὶ Ισα-

7 and the army inclined toward: behold, I am with thee, my heart is as thy heart. 8 And Jonathan said, Behold, we will go over to the men, and γ will come down suddenly upon them. 9 If they should say thus to us, Stand aloof there until we shall send you word; then we shall stand still by ourselves, and will not go up against them. 10 But if they should say thus to us, Come up to us: then we will go up, for the Lord has delivered them into our hands; this shall be a sign to us.

11 And they both went in to Messab of the Philistines: and the Philistines said, Behold, the Hebrews come forth out of their caves, where they had hidden themselves.

12 And the men of Messab answered Jonathan and his armour-bearer, and said, Come up to us, and we will shew you a thing: and Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Come up after me, for the Lord has delivered them into the hands of Israel.

13 And Jonathan said, Come up after me: and Jonathan went up after him, and his armour-bearer; and they looked on the face of Jonathan, and he smote them, and his armour-bearer did smite them after him.

14 And the first slaughter which Jonathan and his armour-bearer effected was twenty men, with darts and slings, and pebbles of the field.

15 And there was dismay in the camp, and in the field; and all the people in Messab, and the spoilers were amazed; and they would not act, and the land was terror-struck, and there was dismay from the Lord.

16 And the watchmen of Saul behold in Gabaa of Benjamin, and, behold, the army was thrown into confusion on every side.

17 And Saul said to the people with him, Number yourselves now, and see who has gone out from you: and they numbered themselves, and behold, Jonathan and his armour-bearer were not found. 18 And Saul said to Achish, Bring the ephod: for he wore the ephod in that day before Israel. 19 And it came to pass when Saul was speaking to the priest, that the sound in the camp of the Philistines continued to increase greatly; and Saul said to the priest, Withdraw thy hands.

20 And Saul went up and all the people that were with him, and they came to the battle: and, behold, every man's sword was against his neighbour, a very great confusion.

21 And the servants who had been before the archers, who had gone up to the army, turned themselves also to be with the Israelites who were with Saul and Jonathan. 22 And all the Israelites who were hidden in mount Ephraim heard also that the Philistines fied; and they also gathered themselves after them to battle: and the Lord saved Israel in that day; and the war passed through Bamoth; and all the people with Saul were about ten thousand men. 23 And the battle extended itself to every city in the mount Ephraim.
And Saul committed a great trespass of ignorance in that day, and he lays a curse on the people, saying, Cursed is the man who shall eat bread before the evening; so I will avenge myself on my enemy: and none of the people tasted bread, though all the land was dining. And Saul was a wood abounding in swarms of bees on the face of the ground. And the people went into the beehive, and, behold, they continued speaking; and, behold, there was none that put his hand to his mouth, for the people feared the oath of the Lord. And Jonathan had not heard when his father adjured the people; and he reached forth the end of the staff that was in his hand, and dipped it into the honeycomb, and returned his hand to his mouth, and his eyes recovered their sight. And one of the people answered and said, Thy father solemnly adjured the people, saying, Cursed is the man who shall eat bread to-day. And the people were very faint. And Jonathan knew it, and said, My father has destroyed the leaven of my eyes to receive a sight now that I have tasted a little of this honey. Surely if the people had this day eaten freely of the spoils of their enemies which they found, the slaughter among the Philistines would have been greater. And on that day he smote some of the Philistines in Maetzah, and the people were very weary. And the people turned to the spoil; and the people took flocks, and herds, and calves, and slew them on the ground, and the people ate with the blood. And it was reported to Saul, saying, The people have sinned against the Lord, eating with the blood; and Saul said, Out of Getthaim roll a great stone to me hither. And Saul said, Disperse yourselves among the people, and tell them to bring hither every one his calf, and every one his sheep; and let them slay it on this stone and sin not against the Lord in eating with the blood: and the people brought each one that which was in his hand, and they slew them there. And Saul built an altar there to the Lord: this was the first altar that Saul built to the Lord. And Saul said, Let us go down after the Philistines this night, and let us plunder among them till the day break, and let us not leave a man among them. And they said, Do all that is good in thy sight: and the priest said, Let us draw near hither to God. And Saul enquired of God, If I go down after the Philistines, wilt thou deliver them into the hands of Israel? And he answered him not in that day. And Saul said, Bring hither all the chiefs of Israel, and know and see by whom this sin has been committed this day. For as the Lord lives who has saved Israel, if answer should be against my son Jonathan, he shall surely die. And there was no one that answered out of all the people. And he said to all the men of Israel, Ye shall be under subjection, and I and Jonathan my
And Saul said to Jonathan, Tell me what thou hast done: and Jonathan told him, and said, I did indeed taste a little honey, with the end of my staff that was in my hand, and, lo! I am to die. And Saul said to Jonathan, Shall he that hath wrought this great salvation in Israel be put to death this day? As the Lord lives, there shall not fall to the ground one of the hairs of his head: for the people of God have wrought successfully this day. And the people prayed for Jonathan in that day, and he died not. And Saul went up from following the Philistines, and the Philistines departed to their place.

47 And Saul received the kingdom, by lot he inherits the office of ruling over Israel: and he fought against all his enemies round about, against Mosh, and against the children of Ammon, and against the children of Edom, and against Bithiaera, and against the king of Suba, and against the Philistines: whersoever he turned, he was victorious. And he wrought valiantly, and smote Amalec, and rescued Israel out of the hand of them that trampled on him.

And the war was vehement against the Philistines all the days of Saul; and when Saul saw a man mightily valiant, and any valiant man, then he took them to himself. And Samuel said to Saul, The Lord sent me to anoint thee king over Israel: and now hear the voice of the Lord. Thus said the Lord of hosts, Now will I take vengeance for what Amalec did to Israel, when he met him in the way as he came up out of Egypt. And now go, and thou shalt smite Amalec, and all the inhabitants thereof, and all that belongs to him, and thou shalt not save anything of him alive, but thou shalt utterly destroy him: and thou shalt devote him and all his to destruction, and thou shalt \[8\] Heb. דיבר. "that I or Jonathan are guilty, then let the people be considered guileless."  See v. 8.

In what is required by the Law, a man was not to be accused without good cause; nor should he be judged as guilty of sin, unless one witness or two, and a third, as God's witness, was also present. Hence the Lord said to His people, "I am a God to Israel. And Saul summoned the people, and he numbered them in Galgal, four hundred thousand regular troops, and Judah thirty thousand people. And Saul came to the cities of Amalec, and laid wait in the valley. And Saul said to the Kinite, Go, and depart out of the midst of the Amalceites, lest I put thee with them; for thou dealdest mercifully with the children of Israel when they went up out of Egypt. So the Kinite departed from the midst of Amalec. And Saul smote Amalec from Ebal to Sur fronting Egypt. And he took Agag the king of Amalec alive, and he slew all the people and 5 Hierim with the edge of the sword. And Saul and all the people saved Agag alive, and he 8 best of the flocks, and of the herds, and of the fruit of the earth, and of all the good things; and they would not destroy them: but every worthless and refuse thing they destroyed.

10 And the word of the Lord came to Samuel, saying, I have repented that I have made Saul to be king: for he hath turned his back from following me, and hath not kept my word. And Samuel was grieved, and cried to the Lord all night. And Samuel rose early and went to meet Israel in the morning, and it was told Saul, saying, Samuel has come to Carmel, and he has raised up help for himself: and he turned his chariot and came to Galgal. And the people said to Saul, and behold, he was offering up a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord, the chief of the spoils which he brought out of Amalec.

13 And Samuel came to Saul: and Saul said to him, Blessed art thou of the Lord: I have performed all that the Lord said: And Samuel said, What is the meaning of this, that the heart of the oxen which I hear? And Saul said, I have brought them out of the hand of Amalec, when the people preserved, even the best of the sheep, and of the cattle, that it might be sacrificed to the Lord thy God, and the rest have I utterly destroyed. And Samuel said to Saul, Stay, and I will tell thee what the Lord has said to me this night: and he said to him, Say on.

17 And Samuel said to Saul, Art thou not in my eyes, though a leader of xome of the tribes of Israel? and yet the Lord anointeth thee to be king over Israel. And the Lord sent thee on a journey, and said to thee, Go, and utterly destroy: thou shalt slay the sinners against me, even the Amalekites: and thou shalt war against them until thou have consumed them. And why didst thou not hearken to the voice of the Lord, but didst haste to fasten upon the spoils, and didst that which was evil in the sight of the Lord? And Saul said to Samuel, Because I listened to the voice of
I. KINGS XV. 21—XVI. 3.

The people: yet I went the way by which the Lord sent me, and I brought Agag the king of Amalec, and I destroyed Amalec.

But the people took of the spoils the best flocks and herds out of that which was destroyed, to sacrifice before the Lord our God in Galgal. And Samuel said, Does the Lord take pleasure in whole-burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in hearing the words of the Lord? behold, obedience is better than a sacrifice; and hearing than the fat of rams.

For sin is as divination; idols bring on pain and grief. Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, the Lord also shall reject thee from being king over Israel.

And Saul said to Samuel, I have sinned, in that I have transgressed the word of the Lord thy direction; for I feared the people, and I hearkened to their voice. And now remove, I pray thee, my sin. and turn back with me, and I will worship the Lord thy God. And Samuel said to Saul, I will not turn back with thee, for thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, and the Lord will reject thee from being king over Israel.

And Samuel turned his face to depart, and Saul caught hold of the skirt of his garment, and tore it. And Samuel said to him, The Lord has rent thy kingdom from Israel out of thy hand this day, and will give it to thy neighbour, that reigneth after thee, and shall be better than thou. And 2 and Israel shall be divided to two: and God will not turn nor repent, for he is not as a man to repent. And Saul said, I have sinned; I pray thee, honour me, I pray thee, before the elders of Israel, and before my people; and turn back with me, and I will worship the Lord thy God. So Samuel turned back after Saul, and he worshipped the Lord.

And Samuel said, Bring me Agag the king of Amalec: and Agag came to him trembling. And Agag said, Is death thus bitter? Or is it rather to be reproved of man? And Samuel said, As thy sword hath made women childless among women, so shall thy mother be made childless among women: and Samuel slew Agag before the Lord in Galgal.

And Samuel departed to Armathaim, and Saul went up to his house at Gabaa. And Samuel did not see Saul again till the day of his death, for Samuel mourned after Saul, and the Lord repented that he had made Saul king over Israel.

And the Lord said to Samuel, How long dost thou mourn for Saul, whereas I have rejected him from reigning over Israel? Fill thy horn with oil, and come, I will send thee to Jesse the Beth-lehemite: for I have seen among his sons a king for me. And Samuel said, How can I go? whereas Saul will hear of it, and slay me: and the Lord said, Take a heifer in thine hand, and thou shalt say, I am come to sacrifice to the Lord. And thou shalt call Jesse to the sacrifice, and I will make known to thee what thou shalt do; and thou shalt anoint him whom I shall mention to thee.

β Gr. doublet, or mantle. γ Wide variation from the Heb. δ Or. 'If it be thus, bitter is death.'
And Samuel said to Jesse, a Hast thou no more sons? And Jesse said, There is yet a little one; behold, he tends the flock. And Samuel said to Jesse, Send and fetch him, for we may not sit down till he comes. And he sent and fetched him: and he was ruddy, with beauty of eyes, and very goodly to behold. And the Lord said to Samuel, Arise, and anoint David, for he is good. And Samuel took the horn of oil, and anointed him in the midst of his brethren: and the Spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day forward: and Samuel arose, and departed to Amathaim.

And the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the Lord troubled him. And Saul's servants said to him, Behold now, an evil spirit from the Lord troubles thee. Let now thy servants speak before thee, and let them seek for our lord a man skilful to play on the harp; and it shall come to pass, when an evil spirit comes upon thee, and he shall play on his harp, that thou shalt be well, and he shall refresh thee. And Saul sent to his servants, to seek David, saying, Bring me that young man David who is with thy father. And Jesse took a homer of bread, and a bottle of wine, and one kid of the goats, and sent them by the hand of his son David to Saul.

And David went in to Saul, and stood before him; and he loved him greatly, and he became his armour-bearer. And Saul sent to Jesse, saying, Let David, I pray thee,

I. KINGS XVI. 23—XVII. 38.

And the Philistines gather their armies to battle, and gather themselves to Socchoth of Judæa, and encamp between Socchoth and Azem, Ephraim. And Saul and the men of Israel encamp in the valley of Elah, and set the battle in array against the Philistines. And the Philistines stand on the mountain on one side, and Israel stands on the mountain on the other side, and the valley was between them.

And there went forth a mighty man out of the army of the Philistines, Goliath, with a coat of mail, and the weight of his breast-plate was five thousand shekels of brass and iron. And he was armed with a greave of brass upon his leg, and a brazen target was between his shoulders. And the staff of his spear was like an overseer's beam, and the head thereof was like the weight of a man, and his armour-bearer went before him.

And he stood and cried to the army of Israel. And they said, and said, Stand thou up, choose thee a man, and let him go to morrow fight with Saul, and it shall be known whether it be of me, or of them. Why is it drawn out unto to set yourselves in battle array against us? Am not I a Philistine, and ye Hebrews of Saul? choose for yourselves a man, and let him come down to me. And if he shall be able to fight against me, then we will devise a thing for this Philistine. And Saul said to David, Thou wilt not in anywise be able to go against this Philistine to fight with him, for thou art a mere youth, and he a man of war from his youth.

And Saul and all Israel heard these words of the Philistine, and they were dismayed, and greatly terrified. And David said to Saul, Let not, I pray thee, the heart of my lord be dejected with me: thy servant will go, and fight with this Philistine. And Saul said to David, Thou wilt not in anywise be able to go against this Philistine to fight with him, for thou art a mere youth, and he a man of war from his youth. And David said to Saul, Thy servant was tending the flock for his father; and when a lion came and a she-bear, and took a sheep out of the flock, then I went forth after him, and smote him, and drew the spoils out of his mouth: and as he rose up against me, then I caught hold of his throat, and smote him, and slew him. Thy servant smote both the lion and the bear, and the uncircumcised Philistine shall be as one of them: shall I not go and smite him, and remove this day a reproach from Israel? for who is he uncircumcised one, who has defied the army of the living God?

The Lord who delivered me out of the paw of the lion and out of the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the hand of this uncircumcised Philistine. And Saul said to David, Go, and the Lord shall be with thee.

And Saul clothed David with a military coat, and put his brazen helmet on his head. And he girt David with his sword over his coat: and he made trial walking with them once and again: and David said to Saul, I shall not be able to go with these, for I have not proved them: so they removed them from him. And he took his staff in his hand, and he chose for himself five smooth stones out of the brook, and put them in the shepherd's scrip which he had for his store, and his sling was in his hand; and he approached the Philistine.

And Goliath saw David, and despised him: for he was but a lad, and ruddy, 28 with a fair countenance. And the Philistine said to David, Am I a dog, that thou comest against me with a staff and stones? [And David said, Nay, but worse than a dog.] And the Philistine cursed David by his gods. And the Philistine said to David, Come to me, and I will give thy flesh to the birds of the air, and to the beasts of the earth.

And David said to the Philistine, Thou comest to me with sword, and with spear, and with shield; but I come to thee in the name of the Lord God of hosts the army of Israel, which thou hast defied this day. And the Philistine drew his staff, and came nearer to David, and fell upon him.

And David delivered that day his hand, and I will slay thee, and take away thy head from off thee, and will give thy limbs and the limbs of the army of the Philistines this day to the birds of the air, and to the wild beasts of the earth; and all the earth shall know that there is a God in Israel. And all this assembly shall know that the Lord delivers not by sword or spear, for the battle is the Lord's, and the Lord will deliver you into our hands.

And the Philistine arose and went to meet David. And David stretched out his hand to his satchel, and took thence a stone, and slung it, and smote the Philistine on his forehead, and the stone penetrated through the helmet into his forehead, and he fell upon his face to the ground. And David ran, and stood upon him, and took his sword, and slew him, and cut off his head: and the Philistines saw that their champion was dead, and they fled.

And the men of Israel and Judah arose, and shouted and pursued them as far as the entrance to Gath, and as far as the gate of Ascalon: and the slain men of the Philistines fell in the way of the gates, both to Gath, and to Accaron. And the men of Israel returned from pursuing after the Philistines, and they destroyed their camp. And David took the head of the Philistine, and brought it to Jerusalem; but he put his armour in his tent.
And there came out women in dances to meet David out of all the cities of Israel, with timbrel, and with dances. And the women went before them, and joyed in dancing. And the men also of Simeon and Levi and Judah and Benjamin rejoiced at the return of their brothers. And the women danced, saying, "Saul the king has been slain in the battle of the Philistines at Gibeah." And the women answered them, saying, "Saul is dead and his sons are dead." And the women said, "Long live the king." And the king said, "The people have made me their king." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will be your servant." And the king said to them, "I will serve you, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will obey you, and I will be your servant." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will be your servant, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will serve you, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your servant, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will be your servant, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will serve you, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your servant, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will serve you, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your servant, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will serve you, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your servant, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will serve you, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your servant, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will serve you, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your servant, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will serve you, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your servant, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will serve you." And the king said to them, "I will serve you, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your servant, and I will obey your words." And the king said to them, "I will be your king, and I will server him, let not the king sin against thy servant David, for he has not sinned against thee, and his deeds are very good. And he put his life in his hand, and smote the Philistines, and the Lord wrought a great deliverance; and all Israel saw, and rejoiced: why then dost thou sin against innocent blood, to slay David without a cause? And Saul hearkened to the voice of Jonathan; and Saul swore, saying, As the Lord lives, he shall not die. And Jonathan called David, and told him all these words; and Jonathan brought David in to Saul, and he was before him as in former times.

And there was again war against Saul; and David did valiantly, and fought against the Philistines, and smote them with a very great slaughter, and they fled before him.

And an evil spirit from God was upon Saul, and he was vexing in his house, and a spear was in his hand, and David was playing on the harp with his hands. And Saul sought to smite David with the spear; and David withdrew suddenly from the presence of Saul; and he drove the spear into the wall; and David retired to the wall, and Saul sent messengers to watch him, in order to slay him in the morning; and Melchol, David's wife told him, saying, Unless thou save thy life this night, to-morrow thou shalt be slain. So Melchol lets David down by the window, and he departed, and fled, and escaped. And Melchol took images, and laid them on the bed, and she put the e'lever of a goat by his head, and covered them with clothes.

And Saul sent messengers to take David; and they say that he is sick. And he sends to David, saying, Bring him to me on the bed, that I may slay him. And the messengers come, and, behold, the images were on the bed, and the goat's head at his head.

And Saul said to Melchol, Why hast thou thus deceived me, and suffered my enemy to depart, and he has escaped? and Melchol said to Saul, He said, Let me go, and if not, I will slay thee.

So David fled, and escaped, and came to Samuel to Armathaim, and tells him all that Saul had done to him; and Samuel and David went, and dwelt in Navath in Ramah.

And it was told Saul, saying, Behold, David is in Navath in Ramah. And Saul sent messengers to take David, and they saw the assembly of the prophets, and Samuel stood as appointed over them; and the Spirit of God came upon the messengers of Saul, and they prophesied. And it was told Saul, and he sent other messengers, and they also prophesied; and Saul at again a third set of messengers, and they also prophesied. And Saul was very angry, and went himself also to Armathaim, and he comes as far as the well of the threshing-floor that is in Sephi; and he asked and 15 aposthano, ouk exarizes eloes sou apo tov oikou mou eis tou sou, said, Where are Samuel and David? And they said, Behold, in Navath in Rama. And he went thence to Navath in Rama; and there came the Spirit of God upon him also, and he went on prophesying till he came to Navath in Rama. And he took off his clothes, and prophesied before them; and lay down naked all that day and all that night; therefore they said, Is Saul also among the prophets?

And David fled from Navath in Rama, and comes into the presence of Jonathan; and he said, What have I done, and what is my fault, and wherein have I sinned before thy father that he seeketh my life? And Jonathan said to him, Far be it from thee: thou shalt not die: behold, my father will not do any thing great or small without discovering it to me; and why should my father hide this matter from me? this thing is not so. And David answered Jonathan, and said, Thy father knows surely that I have found grace in thy sight, and he said, Let not Jonathan know this, lest he refuse his consent: but as the Lord lives, and thy soul lives, as I said, the space is filled up between me and death. And Jonathan said to David, What does thy soul desire, and what shall I do for thee?

And David said to Jonathan, Behold, to-morrow is the new moon, and I shall not eat any thing that is set down to eat, but thou shalt let me go, and I will hide till the evening. And if thy father do in any wise enquire for me, then shalt thou say, David earnestly asked leave of me to run to Bethlehem his city, for there is there a yearly sacrifice for all the family. If he shall say thus, Well,—all is safe for thy servant; but if he shall answer harsily to thee, know that evil is determined by him. And thou shalt deal mercifully with thy servant; for thou hast brought thy servant into a covenant of the Lord with thyself: and if there is iniquity in thy servant, slay me thyself: but why dost thou thus bring me to thy father?

And Jonathan said, That be far from thee: for if I surely know that evil is determined by him, although it should not be against the truth, I will tell thee. And David said to Jonathan, Who can tell me if thy father should answer roughly? And Jonathan said to David, Go, and abide in the field. And they went out both into the field.

And Jonathan said to David, The Lord God of Israel knows that I will sound my father as I have an opportunity, three several times, and, behold, if good should be determined concerning David, and I do not send to thee to the field, God do so to Jonathan and more also: as I shall also report the evil to thee, and make it known to thee, and I will let thee go; and thou shalt depart in peace, and the Lord shall be with thee, as he was with my father. And if indeed I continue to live, then shalt thou deal mercifully with me; and if I indeed die, thou shalt not withdraw thy mercy from my house for ever: and if thou doest not, when the Lord cuts off the enemies of David each from the face of the earth, should it happen that the name of Jonathan be discovered by the house of David, then let the Lord seek out the enemies of David, and Jonathan sware yet again to David, because he loved the soul of him that loved him.

And Jonathan said, To-morrow is the new moon, and thou wilt be enquired for, because thy seat will be observed as vacant. And thou shalt stay three days, and watch an open country, and come to thy place where thou mayest hide thyself in the day of thy business, and thou shalt wait by that erarg. And I will shoot three arrows, aiming them at a mark. And behold, I will send a lad, saying, Go find me the arrow. If I should expressly say to the lad, The arrow is here, and on this side of thee, take it; then come, for it is well with thee, and there is no reason for fear, as the Lord lives: but if I say thus to the young man, The arrow is on that side of thee, and beyond; go, for the Lord hath sent thee away. And as for the word which thou and I have spoken, behold, the Lord will show thee good and bad. And Saul sent nothing on that day, for he said, It seems to have fallen out that he is not clean, because he has not purified himself.

And it came to pass on the morrow, on the second day of the month, that the place of David was empty; and Saul said to Jonathan his son, Why has not the son of Jesse attended, both yesterday and to-day, at the table of the Lord? And Jonathan answered Saul, and said to him, David asked leave of me to go as far as Bethlehem his city; and he said, Let me go, I pray thee, for we have a family sacrifice in the city, and my brethren have sent for me; and now, if I have found grace in thine eyes, I will even go over and see my brethren; therefore he is not present at the table of the king.

And Saul and Jonathan were exceedingly angry with Jonathan, and said to him, Thou son of traitorous damsels! for do I not know that thou art an accomplice with the son of Jesse to thy shame, and to the shame of thy mother's nakedness? For so long as the son of Jesse lives upon the earth, thy kingdom shall not be established: now then send and take the young man, for he shall surely die. And Jonathan answered Saul, Why is he to die, what has he done? And Saul lifted up his spear against Jonathan to slay him: so Jonathan knew that this day the Lord delivered up the power of the enemy to him. And Jonathan sprang up from the table in great anger, and did not eat.

And morning came, and Jonathan went out to the field, as he appointed to do for a signal to David, and a little boy was with him. And he said to the boy, Run, find me the arrows which I shoot: and the boy ran, and Jonathan shot an arrow, and sent it beyond him. And the boy came to the place where the arrow went. But Jonathan cried out after the lad, and said, The arrow is on that side of thee and beyond thee. And Jonathan cried out after his boy, saying, Make all speed, and stay not. And Jonathan’s boy gathered up the arrows, and brought the arrows to his master. And the boy knew nothing, only Jonathan’s boy. And Jonathan gave his weapons to his boy, and said to his boy, Go, enter into the city.

And when the lad went in, then David arose from the rock, and fell upon his face, and did obeisance to him three times, and they kissed each other, and went for each other, for a great while. And Jonathan said to David, Go in peace, and as we have both sworn in the name of the Lord, saying, The Lord shall be witness between me and thee, and between my seed and thy seed for ever—even so let it be. And David arose and departed, and Jonathan went into the city.

And David comes to Nob to Abimelech the priest: and Abimelech was amazed at meeting him, and said to him, Why art thou alone, and nobody with thee? And David said to the priest, The king gave me a command to-day, and said to me, Let no one know the matter on which I send thee, and concerning which I have charged thee: and I have charged my servants to be in the place that is called, The faithfulness of God, phellani maenoni. And now if there are under thy hand five loaves, give into my hand what is ready. And the priest answered David, and said, There are no common loaves under my hand, for I have none but holy loaves: if the young men have been kept at least from women, then they shall eat them. And David answered the priest, and said to him, Yea, we have been kept from women for three days: when I came forth for the journey all the young men were purified; but this contingency is unclean, wherefore it shall be sanctified this day because of my weapons.

So Abimelech the priest gave him the showbread; for there were no loaves there, but only the presence loaves which had been removed from the presence of the Lord; in order that he bread should be set on, on the day on which he took them.

And there was there on that day one of Saul’s servants detained before the Lord, and his name was Doec the Syrian, tending the mules of Saul. And David said to Abimelech, see if there is here under thy hand spear or sword, for I have not, brought in thy hand my sword or my weapons, for the word of the king was urging. And the priest brought the sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom thou smote in the valley of Elah; and it is wrapped in a yeloth; if thou wilt take it, take it for thyself, for there is no other except it here. And David said, Behold, there is none like it; give it me.

And he gave it him; and David arose, and fled in that day from the presence of Saul; and David came to Anachus king of Gath. And the servants of Anachus said to him, Is this not David the king of the land? Did not the dancing women begin the song to him, saying, Saul has smitten his thousands, and David his ten thousands? And David laid up the words in his heart, and was greatly afraid of Anachus king of Gath. And he changed his appearance before him, and feigned himself a false character in the day; and drummed upon the doors of the city, and used extravagant gestures with his hands, and fell against the doors of the gate, and his spittle ran down upon his beard. And Anachus said to his servants, Lo! ye see the man is mad: why have ye brought him in to me? Am I in want of madmen, that ye have brought him in to me to play the madman? he shall not come into the house.

And David departed thence, and escaped, and he comes to the care of Odollam, and his brethren hear, and the house of his father, and they go down to him there. And there gathered to him every one that was in distress, and every one that was in debt, and every one that was troubled in mind; and he was a leader over them, and there were with him about four hundred men.

And David departed thence to Massiphath of Moab, and said to the king of Moab, Let, I pray thee, my father and my mother be with thee, until I know what God will do to me. And he persuaded the king of Moab, and they dwelt with him continually, while David was in the hold. And God gave him success in all that he said, and David dwelt in the hold; and, thou shalt enter the land of Juda. So David went, and came and dwelt in the city of Saric.

And Saul heard that David was discovered, and his men with him: now Saul dwelt in the hill below the field that is in Rana, and his spear was in his hand, and all his servants stood near him. And Saul said to his servants that stood by him, Hear now, ye sons of Benjamin, will the son of Jesse indeed give all of you fields and vineyards, and will he make you all captains of hundreds and captains of thousands? that ye are all conspiring against me, and there is no one that informs me, whereas my son has made a covenant with the son of Jesse, and there is no one of you that is sorry for me, but inform me that my son has stirred up my servant against me for an enemy, as if it is this day?
I. Kings XXII. 9—XXIII. 4.

9 And Doec the Syrian who was over the mules of Saul answered and said, I saw the son of Jesse as he came to Nomba to Abimelech son of Achitob the priest. And the priest enquired of God for him, and gave him provisions, and gave him the sword of Goliath the Philistine.

10 And the king sent to call Abimelech son of Achitob and all his father's sons, the priests that were in Nomba; and they all came to the king.

11 And Saul said, Hear now, this is what Achitob said. And he said, Lo! I am here, speak, my lord. And Saul said to him, Why have thou and the son of Jesse conspired against me, that thou shouldest give him bread and a sword, and shouldst enquire of God for him, to raise him up against me as an enemy, as he is this day? And he answered the king, and said, And where is there among all thy servants such a one as this David is, the son of Jesse? Shall I go and bring charges against his servant, and against the whole of my father's house; for thy servant knew not in all these matters anything great or small.

12 And king Saul said, Thou shalt surely die, Abimelech, thou, and all thy father's house.

13 And the king said to the footmen that attended on Saul, and said, Say to David, Say to David, Arise and go back to the land of Judah; and further, let me see thee no more. For fear lest he make good his word, saying, I shall surely make good my word.

14 And the king said also, Raise thee and get thee to the land of Judah; and see if it be good or evil, that thou mayest return to me; for it is good for me to have thee to return to me. And David said to the king, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, even as I know the thoughts of David.

15 And he said, I have heard now of thine enemies, who would do evil to thee; and I am thy servant, and will yet do thee good.

16 And Saul said, And who is he that said this thing? And David said, An oracle came to me from the Lord, saying, Take heed to thine enemies, for they are plotting against thee.

17 And Saul said, Who told thee this? And David answered, An angel of the Lord said to me, Saul the king of Israel shall lie even where he is; and David arose and went down to the city of Keila.

18 And Saul heard that David was come to Keila; and Saul sent to the city of Keila and said, How is the son of Jesse? Is he now come to Keila? And the men of Keila answered and said, He is come to Keila today; and thou shalt hear the voice of the people that are come to Keila today, for there is a great commotion there.

19 And Saul said to Abner the captain of his host, Go, search the city of Keila, and see if David be there; and bring me word how it goes with him.

20 And Abner said to the men of Keila, Even so; is it well with the son of Jesse? Will the inhabitants of Keila speak to me evil or good?

21 And Abner took ten men, and fetched David, and brought him to Saul; and he was with him in Saul's presence for that day on. And Saul liked David, and he was good to him.
yet again of the Lord; and the Lord answered him, and said to him, Arise and go down to Keilah, for I will deliver the Philistines into thy hands. 4So David and his men went with him to Keilah, and fought with the Philistines; and they fled from before him, and he carried off their cattle, and smote them with a great slaughter: and David rescued the inhabitants of Keilah.

And when Abiathar the son of Achimelech fled to David, he went down with David to Keilah, having an ephod in his hand. 7And it was told Saul that David was come to Keilah; and Saul said, God has sold him into my hands; for he is shut up, having entered into a city that has gates and bars. And Saul charged all the people to go down to war to Keilah, to besiege David and his men. 9And David knew that Saul spoke openly of mischief against him: and David said to Abiathar the priest, Bring the ephod of the Lord. 10And David said, Lord God of Israel, thy servant has indeed heard, that Saul and the men of Israel have gone up to seek me to the city on my account. Will the place be shut up? and now will Saul come down, as thy servant has heard? Lord God of Israel, tell thy servant. 8And the Lord said, It will be shut up.

And David arose, and the men with him, in number about four hundred, and they went forth from Keilah, and went whither they could go: and it was told Saul that David had escaped from Keilah, and he forbore to come. 13And he dwelt in Mese-reem in the wilderness, in the narrow passes; and dwelt in the wilderness in mount Ziph, in the dry country: and Saul sought him continually, but the Lord delivered him not into his hands. 14And David perceived that Saul went forth to seek David; and David was in the dry mountain in the New Ziph.

And Jonathan son of Saul rose, and went to David to Cenes, and strengthened his hands to him. 15And David said to him, Fear not, for the hand of Saul my father shall not find thee; and thou shalt be king over Israel, and I shall be second to thee; and Saul my father knows it. 16So they both made a covenant before the Lord; and David dwelt in Cenes, and Jonathan went to his house.

And the Ziphites came up out of the dry country to Saul to the hill, saying, Behold, is not David hidden with us in Messara, in the narrows in Cenes in the hill of Kehele, which is on the right of Jessemon? 20And now according to all the king's desire to come down, let him come down to us: they have shut him up into the hands of the king. 21And Saul said to them, Blessed be ye of the Lord, for ye have been grieved on my account. 22Go, I pray you, and make preparations yet, and notice his place where his foot shall be, quickly, in that place which ye spoke of, lest, by any means he should deal hardly with us, take notice, then, and learn, and I will go with you; and it shall come to pass that if he is in the land, I will search him out among all the thousands of Juda.
24 And the Ziphites arose, and went before Saul: and David and his men were in the wilderness of Maon, westward, to the right of Jassimon.

25 And Saul and his men went to seek him: and they brought word to David, and he went down to the rock that was in the wilderness of Maon; and Saul heard, and followed after David to the wilderness of Maon. 26 And Saul and his men went to seek David; and when they found him, they encamped against David, and his men, in order to take them.

27 And there came a messenger to Saul, saying, Haste thee, and come hither, for the Philistines have invaded the land. 28 So Saul returned from following after David, and went to meet the Philistines; therefore that place was called The divided Rock.

And David rose up from thence, and dwelt in the narrow passes of Engaddi. 2 And it came to pass when Saul returned from pursuing after the Philistines, that it was reported to him, saying, David is in the wilderness of Engaddi. 3 And he took with him three thousand men, chosen out of all Israel, and went to seek David and his men in front of Sadaeem. 4 And he came to the flocks of sheep that were by the way, and there was a cave there; and Saul went in to make preparation, and David and his men were sitting in the inner part of the cave. 5 And the men of David said to him, Behold, this is the day of which the Lord spoke to thee, that he would deliver thine enemy into thy hands; and thou shalt do to him as it is good in thy sight. 6 So David arose and cut off the skirt of Saul's garment secretly.

6 And it came to pass after this that David's heart smote him, because he had cut off the skirt of his garment. 7 And David said to his men, The Lord forbid it me, that I should do this thing to my lord the anointed of the Lord, who is risen up today against the house of his servant; for the Lord anointed him, and showed him his hand against him; for he is the anointed of the Lord. 8 So David persuaded his men by his words, and did not suffer them to arise and slay Saul: and Saul arose and went his way.

9 And David rose up and went out of him out of the cave; and David cried after Saul, saying, My lord, 0 king! and Saul looked behind him, and David bowed with his face to the ground, and did obeisance to him.

10 And David said to Saul, Why dost thou hearken to the words of the people, saying, Behold, David seeks thy life? 11 Behold, thine eyes have seen this day how that the Lord has delivered thee this day into the hands of the men of my hand in the cave; and I would not slay thee, but spared thee, and said, I will not lift up my hand against my lord, for he is the Lord's anointed. 12 And behold, the skirt of thy mantle is in my hand, I cut of the skirt, and did not slay thee; know then and see to-day, there is no evil in my hand, nor impity, nor rebellion; and I have not sized against thee, yet thou bphetest saures for my soul to take it. 2 The Lord judge between me and thee, and the Lord requite thee on this thyself: but my hand shall not be upon thee. 3 As the old proverb saies, 'I rendered five loaves and two fishes, and the wicked did ones: but my hand shall not be upon thee. 4 And now after whom dost thou come forth, O king of Israel? after whom dost thou pursue after a dead dog, and after a sleet? 5 The Lord be judge and impire between me and thee, the Lord look upon and judge my cause, and rescue me out of thy hand.

6 And it came to pass when David had finished speaking these words to Saul, that Saul said, Is this thy voice, son David? and Saul lifted up his voice, and wept. 7 And Saul said to David, Thou art more righteous than I, for thou hast recomposed me good, but Saul punished the wicked. 8 And thou hast told me to-day what good thou hast done me, how the Lord shut me up into thy hands to-day, and thou didst not slay me. 9 And if any one should find his enemy in distress, and should send him forth in a good way, then the Lord will reward him good, as thou hast done this day. 10 And now, behold, I know that thou shalt surely reign, and the kingdom of Israel shall be established in thy hand. 11 Now then swear to me by the Lord, that thou wilt not destroy my seed after me, that thou wilt not blot out my name from the house of my father. 12 So David swore to Saul; and Saul departed to his place, and David and his men went up to the strong-hold of Messera.

And Samuel died, and all Israel assembled and bewailed him, and they bury him in his house in Ramah: and David arose, and went down to the wilderness of Maon. 2 And there was a man in Maon, and his flocks were in Carmel, and he was a very great man; and he had three thousand sheep, and a thousand sheep-geotes: and he happened to be shearing his flock in Carmel. 3 And the man's name was Nabal, and his wife was Abigaia: and his wife was of good understanding and very beautiful in person: but the man was harsh and evil in his doing's, and the man was churlish. 4 And David heard in the wilderness, that Nabal the Carmelite was shearing his sheep. 5 And David sent ten young men, and he said to the young men, go up to Carmel, and go to Nabal, and ask him in my name what he is. 6 And they shall ye say, May thou and thy house be in prosperity. 7 And now, behold, I have heard that thy shepherds which were with us in the wilderness are shearing thy sheep, and we hindered them not, neither did we demand any thing from them all the time they were in Carmel. 8 Ask thy servants, and they will tell thee. Let then thy servants find grace in thine eyes, for we are come on a good
And one of the servants reported to Abigala the wife of Nabal, saying, Behold, David sent messengers out of the wilderness to salute our lord; but he turned away from them. And the men were very good to us; they did not hinder us, neither did they demand from us any thing all the days that we were with them. And when we were in the field, they were as a wall round about us, both by night and by day, all the days that we were with them feeding the flock. And now do thou consider, and see what thou wilt do; for mischief is determined against our lord and against his house; and he is a vile character, and one cannot speak to him.

22 And Abigala hasted, and took two hundred loaves, and two vessels of wine, and five sheep ready dressed, and five ephahs of fine flour, and one homer of dried grapes, and two hundred eakes of figs, and put them upon asses. And she said to her servants, Go on before me, and behold I come after you: and I will come down to meet you. And it came to pass when she had mounted her ass and was going down by the covert of the mountain, behold, David and his men came down to meet her, and she met them. And David said, Perhaps I have kept all his possessions in the wilderness that he should wrong me, and we did not order the taking any thing of all his goods; yet he has rewarded me evil for good. So God do to David and more also, if I leave one mule of all that belong to Nabal until the morning.

23 And Abigala saw David, and she hasted, and alighted from her ass; and she fell before David on her face, and did obeisance to him, bowing to the ground. Even to his feet, and said, On me, my lord, be my wrong: let, I pray thee, thy servant speak in these ears, and hear thou the words of thy servant. Let not my lord, I pray thee, take to heart this pestilent man, for according to his name, so is he; Nabal is his name, and folly is with him; but I thy handmaid saw not the servants of my lord whom thou didst send.

391 9 So the servants came and spoke these words to Nabal, according to all these words in the name of David. And Nabal sprang up, and answered the servants of David, and said, Who is David? and who is the son of Jesse? now-a-days there is abundance of servants who depart every one from his master. And shall I take my bread, and my water, and the flesh which I have found, and give it unto men whom I know not whence they are? So the servants of David turned back, and returned, and came and reported to David according to these words. And David said to his men, Gird on every man his sword. And they went up after David, about four hundred men: and two hundred abode with the stuff.

14 And of the servants came to Abigala the wife of Nabal, saying, Behold, David sent messengers out of the wilderness to salute our lord; but he turned away from them. And the men were very good to us; they did not hinder us, neither did they demand from us any thing all the days that we were with them. And when we were in the field, they were as a wall round about us, both by night and by day, all the days that we were with them feeding the flock. And now do thou consider, and see what thou wilt do; for mischief is determined against our lord and against his house; and he is a vile character, and one cannot speak to him.

18 And Abigala hasted, and took two hundred loaves, and two vessels of wine, and five sheep ready dressed, and five ephahs of fine flour, and one homer of dried grapes, and two hundred eakes of figs, and put them upon asses. And she said to her servants, Go on before me, and behold I come after you: and I will come down to meet you. And it came to pass when she had mounted her ass and was going down by the covert of the mountain, behold, David and his men came down to meet her, and she met them. So God do to David and more also, if I leave one mule of all that belong to Nabal until the morning.

23 And Abigala saw David, and she hasted, and alighted from her ass; and she fell before David on her face, and did obeisance to him, bowing to the ground. Even to his feet, and said, On me, my lord, be my wrong: let, I pray thee, thy servant speak in these ears, and hear thou the words of thy servant. Let not my lord, I pray thee, take to heart this pestilent man, for according to his name, so is he; Nabal is his name, and folly is with him; but I thy handmaid saw not the servants of my lord whom thou didst send.

and the Ziphites come out of the dry country to Saul to the hill, saying, Behold, David hides himself with us in the hill Echela, opposite Jesemon. And Saul arose, and went down to the wilderness of Ziph; and with him went three thousand men chosen out of Israel, to seek David in the wilderness. And Saul encamped in the hill of Echela in front of Jesemon, by the way, and David dwelt in the wilderness: and David saw that Saul came after him into the wilderness.

And David sent spies, and ascertained that Saul was come prepared out of Keila.

And David arose secretly, and goes into the plain where Saul was sleeping, and there was Abenner the son of Ner, the captain of his host: and Saul was sleeping in a chariot, and the people had encamped round about him. And David answered and spoke to Abimelech the Chettite, and to Abessa the son of Sarula the brother of Joab, saying, Who will go in with me to Saul into the camp? And Abessa said, I will go with thee. So David and Abessa go in among the people by night: and behold, Saul was fast asleep in the chariot, and his spear was stuck in the ground near his head, and Abenner and his people slept round about him. And Abessa said to David, The Lord has this day shut up thine enemy into thine hands, and now I will smite him to the earth with the spear to the ground once for all, and I will not smite him again. And David said to Abessa, Do not lay him low, for who shall lift up his hand against the anointed of the Lord, and be guiltless?

And David said, As the Lord lives, if the Lord smite him not, or his day come and he die, or he go down to battle and be added to his foes and fall, the Lord did but bid me that I should lift up my hand against the anointed of the Lord; and now take, I pray thee, the spear from his bolster, and the pitcher of water, and let us return home. So David took the spear, and the pitcher of water from his bolster, and they went home: and there was no one that saw, and no one that knew, and there was no one that awoke, all being asleep, and for a stupor from the Lord had fallen upon them.

So David went over to the other side, and stood on the top of a hill afar off, and there was a good distance between them. And David called to the people, and spoke to Abenner, saying, Wilt thou not answer, Abenner, and thou and Abessa and me, who art thou that callest? And David said to Abenner, Art not thou a man? and who is like thee in Israel? Why then dost thou not guard thy lord the king? for one out of the people went in to destroy thy lord the king. And this thing is not good.

which thou hast done. As the Lord lives, ye are worthy of death, ye who guard your lord the king, the anointed of the Lord; and now behold, I pray you, the spear of the king, and the cruse of water; where are the articles that should be at his head? And Saul recognised the voice of David, and said to his son, David? And David said, I am thy servant, my lord, O king. And he said, Why doth my lord thus pursue after his servant? for in what have I sinned? and what unrighteousness has been found in me? And now let my lord the king hear the word of his servant. If God stir up against me, and take away this thing from me, let thine offering be acceptable, but if the sons of men, they are cursed before the Lord, for they have cast me out this day so that I should not be established in the inheritance of the Lord, saying, Go, serve other gods. And now let not my blood fall to the ground before the face of the Lord, for the king of Israel has come forth to seek thy life, as the night hawk pursues its prey in the mountains.

And Saul said, I have sinned: turn, son David, for I will not hurt thee, because my life was precious in thine eyes; and to-day, I have been foolish and have erred exceedingly. And David answered and said, Behold, the spear of the king; let one of the servants come over and take it. And the Lord shall recompense each according to his righteousness and his truth, since the Lord delivered thee this day into my hands, and I would not lift my hand against the Lord's anointed. And, when the Lord has hewn me off this day, 20 I will be precious before the Lord; and may he protect me, and deliver me out of all affliction. And Saul said to David, Blessèd be thou, my son; and thou shalt surely do valiantly, and surely prevail. And David went on his way, and Saul returned to his place.

And David said in his heart, Now shall I be one day delivered for death into the hands of Saul; and there is no good thing for me unless I should escape into the land of the Philistines, and Saul should cease from seeking me through every coast of Israel. So I shall escape out of his hand. So David arose, and the six hundred men that were with him, and he went to Achish, the son of Ammoch, king of Geth. And David dwelt with Achish, he and his men, each with his family; and David and both his wives, Achinna and the Jezerineltis, and Abigail the mother of Minon. And it was told Saul that David had fled to Geth; and he no longer sought after him.

And David said to Achish, If now thy servant has found grace in thine eyes, let them give me, I pray thee, a place in one of the cities of the country, and I will dwell there; for why does thy servant dwell with thee in the royal city? And he gave him Ziklag in that day; therefore Zekelac came into possession of the king of Judæa to this day. And the number of the days that David dwelt in the country of the Philistines was four months.

I. Kings XXVII. 8—XXVIII. 12.

And David and his men went up, and made an attack on all the Gersites and on the Amalekites: and behold, the land was inhabited, (even the land 8 from Gelapsurm) by those who come from the fortified cities even to the land of Egypt. And he smote the land, and saved neither man nor woman alive; and they took flocks, and herds, and asses, and camels, and raiment; and they returned and came to Anchus. 10 And Anchus said to David, On whom have ye made an attack to-day? And David said to Anchus, On the south of Judea, and on the south of Jeromag, and on the south of the Kenezite. 11 And I have not sought man or woman alive to bring them to Geth, saying, Lest they carry a report to Geth against us, saying, These things David does. And this was his manner all the days that David dwelt in the country of the Philistines.

So David had the full confidence of Anchus, who said, He is thoroughly disgraced among his people in Israel, and he shall be my servant for ever.

And it came to pass in those days that the Philistines gathered themselves together with their armies to go out to fight with Israel; and Anchus said to David, 6 Know surely, that thou shalt go forth to battle with me, thou, and thy men. 2 And David said to Anchus, Thus now then shalt thou know what thy servant will do. And Anchus said to David, So will I make thee captain of my body-guard continually.

3 And Samuel died, and all Israel lamented for him, and they bury him in his city, in Armathaim. And Saul had removed those who had in them divining spirits, and the wizards, out of the land. 4 And the Philistines assemble themselves, and come and encamp in Sonam; and Saul gathers all the men of Israel, and they encamp in Gelbue. 5 And Saul saw the camp of the Philistines, and he was alarmed, and his heart was greatly dismayed. 4 And Saul enquired of the Lord; and the Lord answered him not by dreams, nor by manifestations, nor by prophets.

7 Then Saul said to his servants, Seek for me a woman who has in her a divining spirit, and I will go to her, and enquire of her: and his servants said to him, Behold, there is a woman who has in her a divining spirit at Aendor.

8 And Saul disguised himself, and put on other raiment, and he goes, and two men with him, and they come to the woman by night; and he said to her, Divine to me, I pray thee, by the divining spirit within thee, and bring up to me him whom I shall name to thee. 9 And the woman said to him, Behold now, thou knowest what Saul has done, how he has cut off those who had in them divining spirits, and the wizards from the land, and they came to the woman by night; and he said to her, Divine to me, I pray thee, by the divining spirit within thee, and bring up to me him whom I shall name to thee. 5 And Saul was wroth to her, and said, As the Lord lives, no injury shall come upon thee on this account.

10 And the woman said, Whom shall I bring up to thee? and he said, Bring up to me Samuel.

12 And the woman saw Samuel, and cried out with a loud voice; and the woman said to Saul, Why hast thou deceived me? for thou art Saul.

13 And the king said to her, Fear not; tell me whom thou hast seen. And the woman said to him, I saw gods ascending out of the earth. 14 And he said to her, What didst thou perceive? and she said to him, An upright man ascending out of the earth, and he was clothed with a mantle. And Saul knew that this was Samuel, and he stooped with his face to the earth, and did obeisance to him.

15 And Samuel said, Why hast thou troubled me, that I should come up? And Saul said, I am greatly distressed, and the Philistines war against me, and God has departed from me, and no longer β hearkens to me either by the hand of prophets or by dreams: and now I have called thee to tell me what I shall do. 16 And Samuel said, Why askest thou me, whereas the Lord has departed from Saul, and is not the Lord's hand upon thee? 17 And the Lord has done to thee, as the Lord spoke by me; and the Lord will rend thy kingdom out of thy hand, and will give it to thy neighbour David, 18 because thou didst not hearken to the voice of the Lord, and didst not execute his fierce anger upon Amalec, therefore the Lord has done this thing to thee this day. 19 And the Lord shall deliver Israel with thee into the hands of the Philistines, and to-morrow thou and thy sons with thee shall fall, and the Lord shall deliver the army of Israel into the hands of the Philistines.

20 And Saul instantly fell at his full length upon the earth, and was greatly afraid because of the words of Samuel: and there was no longer any strength in him, for he had eaten no bread all that day, and all that night. 21 And the woman went in to Saul, and saw that he was greatly θ disquieted, and said to him, Behold now, thinne handmaid has hearkened to thy voice, and I have put my life in my hand, and have heard all that the Lord has spoken to me. 22 And now hearken, I pray thee, to the voice of thinne handmaid, and I will set before thee a morsel of bread, and eat, and thou shalt be strengthened, for thou wilt be going on thy way. 23 But he would not eat: so his servants and the woman constrained him, and he hearkened to their voice, and rose up from the earth, and sat upon a bench. 24 And the woman had a fat heifer in the house; and she hasted and slew it; and she took meal and kneaded it, and baked unleavened cakes. 25 And she brought the meat before Saul, and before his servants, and they ate, and rose up, and departed that night.

And the Philistines gather all their armies to Aphek, and Israel encamped in Aenor, which is in Jezreel. 2 And the lords of the Philistines went on α by hundreds and thousands, and David and his men went on in the rear with Achus. 3 And the lords of the Philistines said, Who are these? that pass by? And Achus said to the captains of the Philistines. Is not this David the

And the woman said to Saul, Why hast thou deceived me? for thou art Saul. And Saul said, I am greatly distressed, and the Philistines war against me, and God has departed from me, and no longer hearkens to me either by the hand of prophets or by dreams: and now I have called thee to tell me what I shall do. And Samuel said, Why askest thou me, whereas the Lord has departed from Saul, and is not the Lord's hand upon thee? And she brought the meat before Saul, and before his servants, and they ate, and rose up, and departed that night.

And the Philistines gather all their armies to Aphek, and Israel encamped in Aenor, which is in Jezreel. And the lords of the Philistines went on by hundreds and thousands, and David and his men went on in the rear with Achus. And the lords of the Philistines said, Who are these? that pass by? And Achus said to the captains of the Philistines. Is not this David the servant of Saul king of Israel; he has been with us some time, even this second year, and I have not found at all in him from the day that he attached himself to me, even until this day. And the captains of the Philistines were displeased at him, and they say to him, Send the man away, and let him return to his place, where thou didst set him; and let him not come with us to the war, lest he be a ruminator in the camp; and wherewith will he be reconciled to his master? will it not be with the heads of those men? Is not this David whom they celebrated in dances, saying, Saul has smitten his thousands, and David his ten thousands?

And Anchsus called David, and said to him, As the Lord lives, thou art right and approved in my eyes, and so is thy going out and thy coming in with me in the army, and I have not found any evil to charge against thee from the day that thou camest to me until this day: but thou art not approved in the eyes of the lords. Now then return and go in peace, thus thou shalt not do evil in the sight of the lords of the Philistines.

And David said to Anchsus, What have I done to thee? and what hast thou found in thy servant from the first day that I was before thee even until this day, that I should not come and war against the enemies of the lord my king?

And Anuchs answered David, I know that thou art good in my eyes, but the lords of the Philistines say, He shall not come with us to the war. Now then rise up early in the morning, thou and the servants of thy lord that are come with thee, and go to the place where I appointed you, and entertain no evil thought in thy heart, for thou art good in my sight: and rise early for your journey when it is light, and depart.

So David arose early, and he and his men, to depart and guard the land of the Philistines: and the Philistines went up to Jezreel to battle.

And it came to pass when David and his men had entered Sekelac on the third day, that Amalech had made an incursion upon the south, and upon Sekelac, and smitten Sekelac, and burnt it with fire. And as to the women and all things that were in it, great and small, they slew neither man nor woman, but carried them captives, and went on their way.

And David and his men came into the city, and, behold, it was burnt with fire; and their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, were carried away captive. And David and his men lifted up their voice, and wept till there was no longer any power within them to weep. And both the wives of David were carried captive, Achinam the Jezreelites, and Abigaia the wife of Nabal the Carmelite. And David was greatly distressed, because the people spoke of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was grieved, each for his son and his daughters: but David strengthened himself in the Lord his God.
And David said to Abiathar the priest the son of Achimelech, Bring near the ephod. And David enquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I pursue after this troop? shall I overtake them? and he said to him, Pursue, for thou shalt surely overtake them, and thou shalt surely rescue the captives. So David went, he and the six hundred men that were with him, and they came, as far as the brook Besor, and the superfluous ones stopped. And he pursued them with four hundred men; and there remained behind two hundred men, who tarried on the other side of the brook Besor.

And they find an Egyptian in the field, and they brought him to David, and he was with them a full three days. Then David said to his men, Whose art thou, and whence art thou? And they said, An Egyptian, and an young man, and his father and mother are dead. Then he said, Henceforth shall thou be with me, thou shalt eat bread with me, and shalt drink water with me; but with the young men thou shalt not eat bread. And they gave him bread, and he ate, and his spirit was restored in him; for he had not eaten bread, and had not drunk water three days and three nights. And David said to him, Whose art thou, and whence art thou? And he said, An Egyptian, and an young man, and my father and my mother are dead. And David said to him, How art thou escaped? And he said, Some men left me, because I was sickly, and they went not with me. Which I have in my hand I give thee; as the Lord liveth, surely none shall lack of this spoil. And David said to him, Whose art thou, and whence art thou? And he said, An Egyptian, and an young man, and my master spurned me. And David said to him, Whose art thou, and whence art thou? And he said, An Egyptian, and an young man, and my master spurned me; and, behold, I went after him four hundred men; and I overtook him only two hundred. And David said to him, Certain it is that thou shalt be with me in time to come; and I will cause thee to go whithersoever I go. This same ephod belongeth to the Lord, and it shall be a token for thee and for all Israel. And David said to the young man that had the ephod, Bring hither a little water from the brook. And the young man fetched water, and David drank, and anointed the head of Saul with the oil. And Saul was overcome with a very great fear; and the Lord was with David, and was not with the Saul and his house. And David said to Saul, Why art thou weeping? and who is this son of woman that thou art sore against me? for the LORD shall certainly deliver me out of thine hand to day. And Saul said to David, Whose art thou, and where art thou born? And David said to Saul, I am the son of a poor father, a crier of sheep, which was in the field. And Saul said, And where is thy father? And David said, He is dead. And Saul said, And where is thy mother? And David said to Saul, She is dead. And Saul said, And who art thou of thy father's house? and who art thou of thy mother's house? And David said to Saul, The sons of an uncle of the son of a hairy sheepman, a man of the hill-country. And Saul said, And how is it that I hear of mischief of David? And David said to Saul, His brethren were forward; for his father's family did follow him, and they were with him in time to come. And Saul said, And where is thy father? And David said to Saul, My father hath four hundred mean sons, and he left in the city, and he hath nothing but me and he son. And Saul said, And where is thy mother? And David said to Saul, She is dead. And Saul said, And where art thou of thy father's house? And David said to Saul, The eldest brother of my father's house was dead; and he had four sons; and I am the youngest. And I was nourished the son of a hairy sheepman, and the shepherd, and his brethren were forward. And Saul said, And how is it that I hear of mischief of David? And David said to Saul, His brethren were forward. And Saul said, And where is thy father? And David said to Saul, He is dead. And Saul said, And where is thy mother? And David said to Saul, She is dead. And Saul said, And where art thou of thy father's house? And David said to Saul, The eldest brother of my father's house was dead; and he had four sons; and I am the youngest. And I was nourished the son of a hairy sheepman, and the shepherd, and his brethren were forward. And Saul said, And how is it that I hear of mischief of David? And David said to Saul, His brethren were forward.
And, in Saul's battle, that died together and for his blessing and for his商圈s to the Philistines and to those in the cities of the Kenezite; and to those in Jerimuth, and to those in Bersabee, and to those in Nokem, and to those in Chebron, and to all the places which David and his men had passed through.

And the Philistines fought with Israel: and the men of Israel fled from before the Philistines, and they fell down wounded in the mountain of Gelboe. 2 And the Philistines press closely on Saul and his sons, and the Philistines smite Jonathan, and Amina-dab, and Melchias son of Saul. 3 And the battle prevails against Saul, and the shooters with arrows, even the archers find him, and he was wounded under the ribs. 4 And Saul said to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword and pierce me through with it; lest those uncircumcised come and pierce me through, and mock me. But his armour-bearer would not, for he feared greatly: so Saul took his sword and fell upon it. 5 And his armour-bearer said that Saul was dead, and he fell also himself upon his sword, and died with him. 6 So Saul died, and his three sons, and his armour-bearer, in that day together.

7 And the men of Israel who were on the other side of the valley, and those beyond Jordan, saw that the men of Israel fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead; and they leave their cities and flee: and the Philistines come and dwell in them.

8 And it came to pass in the morrow that the Philistines came to strip the dead, and they find Saul and his three sons fallen on the mountains of Gelboe.

9 And they turned him, and stripped off his armour, and sent it into the land of the Philistines, sending round glad tidings to their idols and to the people. 10 And they set up his armour at the temple of Astarte, and they fastened his body on the wall of Bethsam.

and rent them; and all the men who were with him rent their garments. And they lamed, and wept, and fasted till evening, for Saul and for Jonathan his son, and for the people of Judah, because they were smitten with the sword.

And David said to the young man who brought the tidings to him, Whence art thou? and he said, I am the son of an Amalekite sojourner.

And David said to him, How was it that thou was not afraid to lift up the hand to destroy the anointed of the Lord?

And David called one of his young men, and said, Go and fall upon him: and he smote him, and he died. And David said to him, Thy blood be upon thine own head; for thy mouth has testified against thee, saying, I have slain the anointed of the Lord.

And David lamented with this lamentation over Saul and over Jonathan his son.

And he gave orders to teach it the sons of Juda: behold, it is written in the book of Right.

Set up a pillar, O Israel, for the slain that died upon thy high places: how are the mighty fallen! Tell it not in Gath, and tell it not as glad tidings in the streets of Ascalon. O Daughters of Israel, slay not thy young men in thine midst.

Ye mountains of Gebhun, let not dew nor rain descend upon you, nor fields of first-fruits be upon you, for there the shield of the mighty ones has been grievously assailed; the shield of Saul was not anointed with oil. From the blood of the slain, and from the fat of the mighty, the bow of Jonathan returned not empty; and the sword of Saul turned not back empty.

Saul and Jonathan, the beloved and the beautiful, were not divided; they were in their life, and in their death they were not divided: they were swifter than eagles, and they were stronger than lions. Daughters of Israel, weep for Saul, who clothed thee with scarlet together with his coat, who decked thee in ornament, who adorned thee in thy apparel.

How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle! O Jonathan, even the slain ones among thee upon thy high places! I am grieved for thee, my brother Jonathan; thou wast very lovely to me; thy love to me was wonderful beyond the love of women. How are the mighty fallen, and the weapons of war perished!

And it came to pass after this that David enquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I go up into one of the cities of Judah? And the Lord said to him, Go up. And David said, Whither shall I go up? and he said, To Chebron. And David went up thither to Chebron, and both his wives, Achimma the Jezreelites, and Abigaia the wife of Nabal the Carmelite, and the men that were with him, every one and his family; and they dwelt in the cities of Chebron.

And the men of Judah came, and anointed David there to reign over the house of Juda; and they reported to David, saying, The men of Jabesh of the country of Gabaal have buried Saul. And David sent messengers to the rulers of Jabesh of the country of Gabaal, and David said to them, Blessed be ye of the Lord, because ye have wrought this mercy to your lord, even toward Saul the anointed of the Lord, and ye have buried him and Jonathan his son. And now may the Lord deal in mercy and truth towards you: and I also will require towards you this good deed, because ye have done this. And now let your hands be made strong; for your master Saul is dead, and moreover the house of Judah have anointed me to be king over them.

But Abner, the son of Ner, the commander-in-chief of Saul's army, took Jebosheth the son of Saul, and brought him up from Mahanaim, and made him king over the land of Gabaal, and over Thathir, and over Jezreel, and over Ephraim, and over Benjamin, and over all Israel. Jebosheth, Saul's son was forty years old, when he reigned over Israel; and he reigned two years, but not over the house of Judah, who followed David.

And the days which David reigned in Chebron over the house of Judah were seven years and six months.

And Abner the son of Ner went forth, and the servants of Jebosheth the son of Saul, from Mahanaim to Gabaal. And Joab the son of Sarunia, and the servants of David, went forth from Chebron, and met them at the fountain of Gabaal, at the same place: and these sat down by the fountain on one side, and those by the fountain on that side.

And Abner said to Joab, Let them now the young men arise, and play before us. And Joab said, Let them arise. And there arose threescore and ten men of Benjamin, belonging to Jebosheth the son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of David. And they seized every one the head of his neighbour with his hand, and his sword was thrust into the side of his neighbour, and they fell down together: and the name of that place was called The portion of the treacherous. Which is in Gabaal. And the battle was very severe on that day; and Abner and the men of Israel were worsted before the servants of David.

And there were there the three sons of Sarunia, Joab, and Abessa, and Asael: and Asael was swift in his feet as a roe in the field.

And Asael followed after Abner, and turned not to go to the right hand or to the left from following Abner. And Abner looked behind him, and said, Art thou Asael himself? and he said, I am. And Abner said to him, Turn thou to the right hand or to the left, and lay hold for thyself of the young men, and take to thyself his armour: but Asael would not turn back from following him. And Abner said yet again to Asael, Stand aloof from me, lest I smite thee to the ground: and how should I lift up my face to Joab?

And what does this mean? return to Joab thy brother. But he would not stand.
And the children of Benjamin who followed Abner gather themselves together, and they formed themselves into one body, and stood on the top of a hill. And Abner called Joab, and said, Shall the sword devour perpetually? knowest thou not that it will be bitter at last? How long then wilt thou refuse to tell the people to turn from following our brethren? And Joab said, As the Lord lives, if thou hadst not spoken, even from the morning the people had gone up every one from following his brother. And Joab sounded the trumpet, and all the people departed, and did not fight any longer.

And Abner and his men departed at evening, and went all that night, and crossed over Jordan, and went along the whole adjacent country, and they came to the camp. And Joab returned from following Abner, and he assembled all the people, and there were missing of the people of David, nineteen men, and Abner. And the servants of David smote of the children of Benjamin, of the men of Abner, three hundred and sixty men belonging to him. And they take up Asael, and bury him in the tomb of his father in Bethlehem. And Joab and the men with him went all the night, and the morning rose upon them in Chebron.

And there was war for a long time between the house of Saul and the house of David; and the house of David grew continually stronger; but the house of Saul grew continually weaker. And sons were born to David in Chebron: and his first-born was Amnon the son of Ahinoam the Jezreelites. And his second son was Dalua, the son of Abigail the Carmelitess; and the third, Abshalom the son of Maachah the daughter of Abishai the king of Gessua. And the fourth was Ornia, the son of Agith, and the fifth was Saphatia, the son of Abital. And the sixth was Jetherama, the son of Eglal the wife of David. These were born to David in Chebron.

And it came to pass while there was war between the house of Saul and the house of David, that Abner was governing the house of Saul. And Saul had a concubine, Respha, the daughter of Jol; and Jebosthe the son of Saul said to Abner, Why hast thou gone in to my father's concubine? And Abner was very angry with Jebosthe for this saying; and Abner said to him, Am I a dog's head? I have this day wrought kindness with the house of Saul thy father, and with his brethren and friends, and have not gone over to the house of David, and
And Abner sent messengers to David to Thelem where he was, immediately, saying, Make thy covenant with me, and, behold, I and all my people will bring back to thee all the house of Israel. 12 And David said, With a good will will I will make with thee a covenant: only I demand one condition of thee, saying, Thou shalt not see my face, unless thou bring Melchol the daughter of Saul, when thou comest to see my face. 13 And David sent messengers to Jeboths the son of Saul, saying, Restore me my wife Melchol, whom I took for a hundred foreskins of the Philistines. 14 And Jeboths sent, and took her from her husband, even from Phaltiel the son of Selle. 15 And her husband went with her weeping behind her as far as Barakim. And Abner said to him, Go, return; and he returned.

And Abner spoke to the elders of Israel, saying, In former days ye sought David to reign over you; 18 and now perform it: for the Lord has spoken concerning David, saying, By the hand of my servant David will I save Israel out of the hand of all their enemies. 19 And Abner spoke in the ears of Benjamin; and Abner went to speak in the ears of David at Chebron, all that seemed good in the eyes of Israel and in the eyes of the house of Benjamin. 20 And Abner came to David to Chebron, and with him twenty men; and David made for Abner and his men with him a banquet of wine. 21 And Abner said to David, I will arise and go, and gather all Israel to thee, and David, and let them reign over all whom thy soul desires. And David sent away Abner, and he departed in peace.

22 And, behold, the servants of David and Joab arrived from their expedition, and they brought much spoil with them: and Abner was not with David in Chebron, because he had sent him away, and he had departed in peace. 23 And Joab and all his army came, and it was reported to Joab, saying, Abner the son of Ner is come to David, and David has let him go, and he has departed in peace. 24 And Joab went in to the king, and said, What is this that thou hast done? Behold, Abner came to thee; and why hast thou let him go, and he has departed in peace? 25 And Joab and all his mischief of Abner the son of Ner, that he came to deceive thee, and to know thy going out and thy coming in, and to know all things that thou dost.

And Abner returned from David, and sent messengers to Abner after him; and they bring him back from the well of Selim: but David knew it not. 27 And he brought back Abenner to Chebron, and Joab caused him to turn aside from the gate to speak to him, laying wait for him: and he smote him there in the loins, and he died for the blood of Asael the brother of Joab.

28 And David heard of it afterwards, and said, I and my kingdom are guiltless before the Lord even for ever of the blood of Aben-ner the son of Ner. 29 But it fell upon the head of Joab, and upon all the house of his father; and let there not be wanting of the house of Joab one that has an issue, or a knepper, or a chief, or a staff; or that falls by the sword, or that wants bread. 30 For Joab and Abessa his brother laid wait continually for Abenner, because he slew Asael their brother at Gabaon in the battle.

31 And David said to Joab and to all the people with him, Rend your garments, and gird yourselves with sackcloth, and lament before Abenner. And king David followed the bier. 32 And they bury Abenner in Chebron: and the king lifted up his voice and wept at his tomb, and all the people wept for Abenner.

33 And the king mourned over Abenner, and said, Shall Abenner die according to the death of Nabal? 34 Thy hands were not bound, and thy feet were not put in fetters:
one brought thee not near as Nabal; thou didst fall before children of iniquity. 35 And all the people assembled to weep for him.
And all the people came to cause David to eat bread while it was yet day: and David spoke, and said, God do so to me, and more also, if I eat bread or any thing else before the sun goes down. 36 And all the people took notice, and all things that the king did before the people were pleasing in their sight. 37 So all the people and all Israel perceived in that day, that it was not of the king to slay Abenner the son of Ner.

38 And the king said to his servants,
Know ye not that a great prince is this day fallen in Israel? 39 And that I am this day a mere kinsman of his, and as it was not a subject of my heart to shed blood; that are too hard for me: the Lord reward the evil-doer according to his wickedness.

And Jebosthe the son of Saul heard that Abenner the son of Ner had died in Chebron; and his hands were paralysed, and all the men of Israel grew faint. 41 And Jebosthe the son of Saul had two women that were captains of bands: the name of the one was Banna, and the name of the other Rechab; sons of Remmon the Berothite of the children of Benjamin; for Beroth was reckoned to the children of Benjamin. 42 And the Berothites ran away to Gethaim, and were sojourners there until this day.

4 And Jonathan Saul's son had a son lame of his feet, five years old, and he was in the way when the news of Saul and Jonathan his son came from Jezrael, and his nurse took him up, and fed; and it came to pass as he hasted and retreated, that he fell, and was lamed. And his name was Memphibosthe.

And Rechab and Baana the sons of Remmnon the Berithite went, and they came in the heat of the day into the house of Jebothe; and he was sleeping on a bed at noon. And he, behold, the porter of the house winnowed wheat, and he slobbered and slept: and the brothers Rechab and Baana went in to the privacy into the house: and Jebothe was sleeping on his bed in the house: and they smite him, and slay him, and take off his head: and they took his head, and went all the night by the western road.

And they brought the head of Jebothe to David to Chebron, and they said to the king, Behold the head of the son of Saul the enemy, who sought thy life: and the Lord has executed for my lord the king vengeance on his enemies, as it is this day; even on Saul thy enemy, and on his seed.

And David answered Rechab and Baana his brother, the sons of Remmon the Berithite, and said to them, As the Lord lives, who has delivered me out of all distresses, and delivered me to deliver thee: he that reported to me that Saul was dead, even he was as one bringing glad tidings before me: but I seized him and slew him in Sekelac, to whom I ought, as he thought, to have given a reward for his tidings. And now evil men have slain a righteous man in his house on his bed: now then I will require his blood of your hand, and I will destroy you from off the earth.

And David commanded his young men, and they slay them, and cut off their hands and their feet; and they hung them up at the fountain in Chebron: and they buried the head of Jebothe in the tomb of Abner the son of Ner.

And all the tribes of Israel come to David to Chebron, and they said to him, Behold, we are thy bone and thy flesh.

And hereforesaul being king over us, thou wast he that didst lead out and bring in Israel: and the Lord said to thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be for a leader to my people Israel.

And all the elders of Israel come to the king to Chebron; and king David made a covenant with them in Chebron before the Lord; and he anoint David king over all Israel. David was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years. Seven years and six months he reigned in Chebron over Judah, and thirty-three years he reigned over all Israel and Judah in Jerusalem.

And David and his men departed to Jerusalem, to the Jebusite that inhabited the land: and it was said to David, Thou shalt not come in hither; for the blind and the lame withstood him, saying, David shall not come in hither. And David took first the hold of Sion: this is the city of David.

And David said on that day, Every one that smites the Jebusite, let him attack with the dagger both the lame and the blind, and those that hate the soul of David. Therefor they say, The lane and the oind shall not enter into the house of the Lord. 9 And David dwelt in the hold, and it was called the city of David, and he built the city itself round about from the citadel, and he built him a house. 10 And David advanced and became great, and the Lord Almighty was with him.

And Chiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar wood, and carpenters, and stone-masons: and they built a house for David. 12 And David knew that the Lord had prepared him to be king over Israel, and that his kingdom was exalted for the sake of his people Israel.

And David took again wives and concubines out of Jerusalem, after he came from Chebron: and David had still more sons and daughters born to him. 14 And these are the names of those that were born to him in Jerusalem: Sammums, and Sobab, and Nathan, and Solomon.

And Ebeear, and Elisue, and Naphech, and Jephies. 16 And Elisama, and Ehdae, and Eliphalath, Samae, Jessibath, Nabad, Galamawn, Ishbaar, Thepos, Eliphalat, Nahe, Na- fek, Iannathan, Leasamys, Babalath, Eliphalath.

And he said, Shall I go up against the Philistines? and will thou deliver them into my hands? and the Lord said to David, Go up, for I will surely deliver the Philistines into thine hands. 20 And David came from the Upper Breeches, and smote the Philistines there: and David said, The Lord has destroyed the hostile Philistines before me, as water is dispersed; therefore the name of that place was called the Valley of Breeches. 22 And they leave there their gods, and David and his men with him took them.

And the Philistines came up yet again, and assembled in the valley of Giants. 23 And David enquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I go up against the Philistines? and will thou deliver them into my hands? and the Lord said to David, Go up, for I will surely deliver the Philistines into thine hands. 25 And David did as the Lord commanded him, and smote the Philistines from Gabaon as far as the land of Gazer.

And David again gathered all the young men of Israel, about seventy thousand. 2 And David arose, and went, he and all the people that were with him, and some of the rulers of Juda, on an expedition to a distant place, to bring back thence the ark of God, on which the name of the Lord of Hosts who dwells between the cherubs upon it is called. 3
And they put the ark of the Lord on a new waggon, and took it out of the house of Aminadab who lived on the hill; and Oza and his brethren the sons of Aminadab drove the waggon with the ark. And his brethren went before the ark. And David and the children of Israel were playing before the Lord on well-tuned instruments mightily, and with songs, and with harps, and with lutes, and with drums, and with cymbals, and with pipes.

And they come as far as the threshing floor of Nachor: and Oza reached forth his hand to the ark of God to keep it steady, and took hold of it; for the ox shook it out of its place. And the Lord was very angry with Oza; and God smote him there; and he died there by the ark of the Lord before God. And David was displeased because the Lord made a breach upon Oza; and that place was called the breach of Oza until this day.

And David feared the Lord in that day, saying, How shall the ark of the Lord come in to me? And David would not bring in the ark of the covenant of the Lord unto him into the city of David, and David turned it aside into the house of Abeddara the Gethite. And the ark of the Lord lodged in the house of Abeddara the Gethite three months, and the Lord blessed all the house of Abeddara, and all his possessions.

And it was reported to king David, saying, The Lord has blessed the house of Abeddara, and all that he has, because of the ark of the Lord. And David sent, and brought up the ark of the Lord from the house of Abeddara to the city of David with gladness.

And there were with him bearing the ark seven bands, and for a sacrifice a calf and lambs. And David sounded with well-tuned instruments before the Lord, and David was clothed with a fine long robe. And David and all the house of Israel brought up the ark of the Lord with shouting, and with the sound of a trumpet.

And it came to pass as the ark arrived at the city of David, that Melchol the daughter of Saul looked through the window, and saw king David dancing and playing before the Lord; and she despised him in her heart.

And they bring the ark of the Lord, and set it in its place in the midst of the tabernacle which David pitched for it: and David offered whole-burnt-offerings for the Lord, and peace-offerings. And David made an end of offering all the whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and blessed the people in the name of the Lord of Hosts. And he distributed to all the people, even to all the host of Israel from Dan to Bersebe, both men and women, to every one a cake of bread, and a joint of meat, and a cake from the stone-press: and all the people departed every one to his home.

And David returned to bless his house. And Melchol the daughter of Saul came

And they departed from these things to sacrifice and offerings for the Lord. And David made him a name in the sight of the Lord. And he was a man of war, and a man of peace, and he did not depart out of the house of Saul until Saul died. And the Lord went before David all his days.

And David said, "The Lord has been my rock and my refuge: and my stronghold. And it is in him that my heart trusts; and I will seek refuge in him, so that I shall not be afraid. For he is my strength and my shield, and my heart trusts in him, and I am help to my God. And he shall be my glory and my fortress, my savior, and my strong hold. And he shall be my redeemer and my redeemer, my God, in whom I trust."

out to meet David and saluted him, and said, How was the king of Israel glorified to-day, who was to-day uncovered in the eyes of the handmaids of his servants, as one of the dancers wantonly uncovers himself! 21 And David said to Melchol, I will dance before the Lord. Blessed be the Lord who chose me before thy father, and before all his house, and to the Lord and to my father, even over Israel: therefore I will play, and dance before the Lord. 22 And I will again uncover myself thus, and I will be vile in thine eyes, and with the maid-servants by whom thou saidst that I was not had in honour. 23 And Melchol the daughter of Saul had no child till the day of her death.

And it came to pass when the king sat in his house, and the Lord had given him an inheritance on every side free from all his enemies round about him; 2 that the king said to Nathan the prophet, Behold now, I live in a house of cedar, and the ark of the Lord dwells in the midst of a tent.

And Nathan said to the king, Go and do all that is in thine heart, for the Lord is with thee. 4 And it came to pass in that night, that the word of the Lord came to Nathan, saying, Go, and say to my servant David, Thus says the Lord, Thou shalt not build me a house for me to dwell in. 5 For I have not dwelt in a house from the day that I brought up the children of Israel out of Egypt and to this day, but I have been walking in a lodge and in a tent, wheresoever I went with all Israel. Have I ever spoken to any of the tribes of Israel, which I commanded to tend my people Israel, saying, Why have ye not built me a house of cedar?

And now thus shalt thou say to my servant David, Thus says the Lord Almighty, I took thee from the sheep-cote, that thou shouldst be a prince over my people, over Israel. 9 And I was with thee wheresoever thou wentest, and I destroyed all thine enemies before thee, and I made thee renowned according to the renown of the great ones on the earth. 10 And I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, and they shall dwell by themselves, and shall be no more distressed, and the son of iniquity shall no more afflict them, as he has done from the beginning, 11 from the days when I appointed judges over my people Israel: and I will give thee rest from all thine enemies, and the Lord will tell thee that thou shalt build a house to him. 12 And it shall come to pass when thy days shall have been fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with fathers, that I will raise up thy seed after thee, even thine own issue, and I will establish his kingdom. 13 He shall build for me a house to my name, and I will set up his throne even for ever. 14 I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son. And when he happens to transgress, then will I chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of men of his sons. 15 But I will never take from him, as I took it from those whom I removed from my presence. 16 And his house shall be made sure, and his kingdom for ever.

17 According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so Nathan spoke to David.

18 And king David came in, and sat before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lord my Lord, and what is my house, that thou hast loved me after the manner of the Lord David, and for this great act of kindness.

19 Wheresoever I was very little before thee, O Lord my Lord, yet thou spakest concerning the house of thy servant for a long time to come. And this is the law of man, O Lord my Lord?

20 And what shall David yet say to thee now and now thou knowest thy servant, O Lord my Lord.

21 And thou hast wrought for thy servant a great act of kindness, and according to thy heart thou hast wrought all this greatness, to make it known thy servant, 22 that he may magnify thee, O my Lord; for there is no one ylike thee, and there is no God but thou amongst all of whom we have heard with our ears. 23 And what other nation in the earth is as thy people Israel, whereas God was their guide, to redeem for himself a people to make the name, to do mightily and nobly, so that thou shouldst cast out nations and their tabernacles from the presence of thy people, whom didst redeem for thyself out of Egypt? 24 And thou hast prepared for thyself thy people Israel to be a people forever, and thou Lord, art become thy God.

25 And now, O my Lord, the Almighty Lord God of Israel, confirm the word for ever which thou hast spoken concerning thy servant and his house: and now as thou hast said, 26 Let thy name be magnified for ever. 27 Almighty Lord God of Israel, thou hast united the house of thy servant, saying, I will build thee a house: therefore thy servant has found in his heart to pray this prayer to thee. And now, O Lord my Lord, thou art God; and thy words will be true, and thou hast spoken these good things concerning thy servant.

28 And now begin and bless the house of thy servant, that it may continue forever before thee: for thou, O Lord my Lord, hast spoken, and the house of thy servant shall be blessed with thy blessing so as to continue for ever.

And it came to pass after this, that David smote the Philistines, and put them to flight, and David took the tribute from out of the hand of the Philistines.

And David smote Moab, and measured them out with lines, having laid them down on the ground: and there were two lines for slaying, and two lines he kept alive: and Moab became servants to David, yielding tribute.

And David smote Adrazaar the son of Raab king of Suba, as he went to extend his power to the river Euphrates. 4 And David took a thousand of his chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen: and David houghed all his chariots from him himself an hundred chariots. 5 And Syria of Damascus comes to help Adrazaar king of Suba, and David smote twenty-two thousand men belonging to the Syrian. 6 And David placed
I. Kings VIII. 7—IX. 7.

A garrison in Syria near Damascus, and the Syrians became servants and tributaries to David: and he sold them whithersoever he went. And David took the golden bracelets which were on the servants of Adraazar king of Suba, and brought them to Jerusalem. And Susakim king of Egypt took them when he went up to Jerusalem in the days of Roboam son of Sollem. And king David took from Methoba, and from the cities of Adraazar, very much brass: with that Solomon made the brazen sea, and the pillars, and the lavers, and all the furniture.

And Thoët the king of Hemath heard that David had smitten all the host of Adraazar. And Thoët sent Jeduram his son to king David, to ask him of his welfare, and to congratulate him on his fighting against Adraazar and smiting him, for he was an enemy to Adraazar: and in his hands were vessels of silver and vessels of gold, and vessels of brass. And these king David consecrated to the Lord, with the silver and with the gold which he consecrated out of all the cities which he conquered, out of Idumea, and out of Moab, and from the Philistines, and from Amalec, and from the spoils of Adraazar son of Raab king of Suba.

And David made himself a name: and when he returned he smote Idumea in Gebelem to the number of eighteen thousand. And he set garrisons in Idumea, even in all Idumea: and all the Idumeans were servants to the king. And the Lord preserved David wherever he went.

And David reigned over all Israel: and David wrought judgment and justice over all his people. And Joab the son of Sarua was over the host; and Josaphat the son of Abia, the record of the court.

And David said, Is there yet any one left in the house of Saul, that I may deal kindly with him for Jonathan’s sake? And there was a servant of the house of Saul, and his name was Siba: and they called him to David; and the king said to him, Art thou Siba? and he said, I am thy servant. And the king said, Is there yet a man left of the house of Saul, that I may act towards him with the mercy of God? and Siba said to the king, There is yet a son of Jonathan, the lame of his feet. And the king said, Where is he? and Siba said to the king, Behold, he is in the house of Machir the son of Amiel of Lodabar. And king David sent, and took him out of the house of Machir the son of Amiel of Lodabar.

And Memphibosthe the son of Jonathan the son of Saul comes to king David, and he fell upon his face and did obeisance to him: and David said to him, Memphibosthe: and he said, Behold thy servant. And David said to him, Fear not, for I will surely deal mercifully with thee for the sake of Jonathan thy father, and I will restore to thee

all the land of Saul the father of thy father; and thou shalt eat bread at my table continually. 7 And Memphiboth that did obeisance and said, Who am I thy servant, that thou hast looked upon a dead dog like me?

3 And the king called Siba the servant of Saul, and said to him, All that # belonged to Saul, and to all his house have I given to the son of thy lord. 10 And thou, and thy sons, and thy servants, shall till the land for him; and thou shalt bring in bread to the son of thy lord, and he shall eat bread: and Memphiboth the son of the thy lord shall eat bread continually at my table. Now Siba had fifteen sons and twenty servants. 11 And Siba said to the king, According to all that my lord the king has commanded his servant, so will thy servant do. And Memphiboth did eat at the table of David, as one of the sons of the king. 13 And Memphiboth dwelt in Jerusalem, for he continually ate at the table of the king; and he was lame in both his feet.

And it came to pass after this that the king of the children of Ammon died, and Annon his son reigned in his stead. 2 And David said, I will shew mercy to Annon the son of Naas, as his father dealt mercifully with me. And David sent to comfort him concerning his father by the hand of his servants; and the servants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon.

And the princes of the children of Ammon said to Annon their lord, Is it to honour thy father before thee that David has sent comforters to thee? Has not David rather sent his servants to thee that they should search the city, and spy it out and examine it? 4 And Annon took the servants of David, and shaved their beards, and cut off their garments in the midst as far as their haunches, and sent them away.

5 And they brought David word concerning the men; and he sent to meet them, for the men were greatly dishonoured: and the king said, Remain in Jericho till your beards have grown, and then ye shall return.

6 And the children of Ammon saw that the people of David were ashamed; and the children of Ammon sent, and hired the Syrians of Bethraam, and the Syrians of Suba, and Roob, twenty thousand footmen, and the king of Amalec with a thousand men, and Istock with twelve thousand men.

7 And David heard, and sent Joab and all his host, even the mighty men. 8 And the children of Ammon went forth, and set the battle in array by the door of the gate: those of Syria, Suba, and Roob, and Istock, and Amalec, being by themselves in the field. 9 And Joab saw that the front of the battle was against him from that which was opposed in front and from behind, and he chose out some of all the young men of Israel, and they set themselves in array katastigmou soi pantas agnon Sasio patros tou patros sou, kai to fagei arton eti tis trapezeis mou diasaptos. 10 Kai prosecinase Melembosbhe, kai ete, tis eimi o doulos sou, eti epelefevas esti ton kinon ton thebaskota ton domon emblai.

And the rest of the people he gave into the hand of Abessah his brother, and they set the battle in array opposite to the children of Ammon. And he said, If Syria be too strong for me, then shall ye help me: and if the children of Ammon be too strong for thee, then will we be ready to help thee. 8 Be thou courageous, and let us be strong for our people, and for the sake of the cities of our God, and the Lord shall do that which is good in his eyes.

And Joab and his people with him advanced to battle against Syria, and they fled from before him. 14 And the children of Ammon saw that the Syrians were fled, and they fled from before Abessah, and entered into the city: and Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Jerusalem.

And the Syrians saw that they were worsted before Israel, and they gathered themselves together. 16 And Adraazar set and gathered the Syrians from the other side of the river Chalamak, and they came to Zelam; and Sobac the captain of the host of Adraazar was yat their head.

And it was reported to David, and he gathered all Israel, and went over Jordan, and came to Zelam; and the Syrians set the battle in array against David, and fought with him. 18 And Syria fled from before Israel, and David destroyed of Syria seven hundred chariots, and forty thousand horsemen, and he struck the captain of his host, and he died there. 19 And all the kings the servants of Adraazar saw that they were put to the worse before Israel, and they went over to Israel, and served them: and Syria was afraid to help the children of Ammon any more.

And it came to pass when the time of the year for kings going out to battle had come round, that David sent Joab, and his servants with him, and all Israel; and they destroyed the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabbath: but David remained at Jerusalem.

And it came to pass toward evening, that David arose off his couch, and walked on the roof of the king's house, and saw from the roof a woman bathing; and the woman was very beautiful to look upon. 3 And David sent and enquired about the woman: and one said, Is not this Boursabe the daughter of Eliab the son of Uriah the Hittite?

And David sent messengers, and took her, and went in to her, and he lay with her: and she was purified from her uncleanliness, and returned to her house. 5 And the woman conceived; and she sent and told David, and said, I am with child.

And David sent to Joab, saying, Send me Uriah the Hittite; and Joab sent Urias to David.

7 And Urias arrived and went in to him, and David asked him how Joab was, and how the people were, and how the war went on. 8 And David said to Urias, Go to thy house, and wash thy feet: and Urias...
And Joab sent, and reported to David all the events of the war, so as to tell them to the king. And he charged the messenger, saying, When thou hast finished reporting all the events of the war to the king, then it shall come to pass if the anger of the king shall arise, and he shall say to thee, Why did ye draw nigh to the city to fight? knew ye not that they would shoot from the wall? Who smote Abimelech the son of Jeroboam son of Ner? did not a woman cast a piece of a millstone upon him from above the wall, and he died in Thamasi? why did ye draw near to the wall? then thou shalt say, Thy servant Urias the Chettite is also dead.

And David sent to Urias the Chettite, and said to him, Go to the city, and dwell there. And Urias dwelt there, and went out to Jordan; and Urias the Chettite returned to Joab, and remained not there. And Urias said to Joab, Let me go, and fight in thy company. Why then didst thou not come from a journey? why hast thou not gone down to thy house? And Joab said to Urias, The ark, and Israel, and Juda dwell in tents; and my lord Joab, and the servants of my lord, are encamped in the open fields; and shall I go into my house to eat and drink, and lie with my wife? how should I do this? as thy soul lives, I will not do this thing. And David said to Urias. Remain here to-day also, and to-morrow I will let thee go. So Urias remained in Jerusalem that day and the day following.

And David called him, and he ate before him and drank, and he made him drunk: and he went out in the evening to lie upon his bed with the servants of his lord, and went not down to his house. And in the morning came, and David wrote a letter to Joab, and sent it by the hand of Urias. And he wrote in the letter, saying, Station Urias in front of the severe part of the fight, and retreat from behind him, so shall he be wounded and die.

And it came to pass while Joab was watching against the city, that he set Urias in a place where he knew that valiant men were. And the men of the city went out, and fought with Joab: and some of the people of the servants of David fell, and Urias the Chettite died also.

And David called Urias his servant, and asked him why he went not down to his house? And Urias answered, My lord, thou knowest well, how we have been taught by our lord Joab, saying, Beware that thou go not near the wall; lest thou be told, and say, I came to the wall, and they said unto me, Go down; why then wouldst thou go down to the wall? Therefore thou shalt not go down to the wall. Then Urias went out from the king's house, and went to the field, and followed the army.

And when Urias came to the pool of Gibeon, there was a wall five cubits high round about an altar, which was in the king's vineyard. And Urias went down to the pool, and washed his feet in it. And an officer of Joab stood by the pool. And Urias said to the officer of Joab, Would ye let me go to Joab? And the officer of Joab said unto Urias, Go up with me: and lo, thou shalt see Joab, and I will speak with him for thee. And Urias went to Joab, and said to him, Why are ye come hither? and why camest thou not with me? And Joab said to Urias, Go into the city, and lie with thy wife, and return. So Urias returned to his house to Joab. And Urias lay all this day in the court, and went not in to Joab's house. And Joab sent to Urias the Chettite, and said to him, Go to the king, and say, So and so said Joab, and so and so replied Urias, and so and so said Joab to Urias. And Urias rode on his ass, and came to Jerusalem: and he came and went in to the king, and said to the king, I came to the pool of Gibeon, and, lo, I saw a wall five cubits high round about an altar; and the king said to me, Go down into it. And I went down into it, and, lo, at the pool were women gathering slime; and I said to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water, for I am thirsty. And she said to me, Give me thy ass, and I will give thee water. And I gave my ass to her, and she gave me water. And I drank, and gave the ass to my lord's servant; and I went on, and came to Joab, and said, Look, I came to the pool of Gibeon, and, lo, I saw a woman gathering slime. And Joab said to me, Wherefore camest thou not with me? And I said unto him, Behold, thou hast counselled me well that I came not. And Joab said unto Urias, Why wentest thou not down to Joab? and why camest thou not in to the city? but thou wentest to thine house, and wentest to thine ass, and, lo, thou camest into the city. And David said to Urias, Go down to thy house, and wash thy feet. And Urias went out from the city, and went to his house. And Urias lay all this day and all that night in the court, and went not in to Joab's house. And they told David, Urias went not to his house. Then David said to Urias, Didst thou not come from a journey? why didst thou not go down to thy house? And Urias answered to David, The ark, and Israel, and Juda dwell in tents; and my lord Joab, and the servants of my lord, are encamped in the open fields; and shall I go into my house to eat and drink, and lie with my wife? how should I do this? as thy soul lives, I will not do this thing. And David said to Urias, Go to the city, and lie with thy wife, and return. And Urias went to the city. And Urias sat by the side of the king's house; and Urias said, I will go out to the field. And David said to Urias, Go down to the field. And Urias went down to the field. And Urias said, Shall I go down? And David answered, Go down. And Urias went down into the field; and there was a herd of sheep, and a herd of goats that belonged to a man of Beth-Lehem, who was a sheepman, and he came to the man of Beth-Lehem, and said, Willst thou give me my young beast to eat? And the man of Beth-Lehem said unto Urias, What willst thou? and I will give it to thee. And Urias said to the man of Beth-Lehem, Where is your領? And the man of Beth-Lehem said unto Urias, Not far from here, my lord and my lord's servant. And Urias went to the city, and he went to his house to his wife; and he lay not with his wife, for he was mourning, because of Urias the Chettite. And David said to Urias the Chettite, Go and return to the city. And Urias returned to the city. And Urias sat by the side of the king's house; and Urias said, Shall I go out to the field? And David answered, Go down. And Urias went down into the field; and there was a herd of sheep, and a herd of goats that belonged to a man of Beth-Lehem, who was a sheepman, and he came to the man of Beth-Lehem, and said, Willst thou give me my young beast to eat? And the man of Beth-Lehem said unto Urias, What willst thou? and I will give it to thee. And Urias said to the man of Beth-Lehem, Where is your領? And the man of Beth-Lehem said unto Urias, Not far from here, my lord and my lord's servant. And Urias went to the city, and he went to his house to his wife; and he lay not with his wife, for he was mourning, because of Urias the Chettite.
26 And the wife of Urias heard that Urias her husband was dead, and she mourned for her husband. 27 And David said to the messenger, Thus shalt thou say to Joab, Let not the matter be grievous in thine eyes, for the sword devours one way at one, and another way at another: strengthen thine army against the city, and destroy it, and strengthen him.

And the Lord sent Nathan the prophet to David; and he went in to him, and said to him. There were two men in one city; one rich, and the other rich not. 2 And the rich man had very many flocks and herds. 3 But the poor man had only one little ewe lamb, which he had purchased, and preserved, and reared; and it grew up with himself and his children in common; it ate of his bread and drank of his cup, and slept in his bosom, and was to him as a daughter. 4 And a traveller came to the rich man, and he spared to take of his flocks and of his herds, to dress for the traveller that came to him; and he took the poor man’s lamb, and dressed it for the man that came to him. 5 And David was greatly moved with anger against the man; and David said to Nathan, As the Lord lives, the man that did this thing shall surely die. 6 And he shall restore the lamb seven-fold, because he has not spared.

7 And Nathan said to David, Thou art the man that has done this. Thus says the Lord God of Israel, I appointed thee to be king over Israel, and I rescued thee out of the hand of Saul; 8 and I gave thee the house of thy lord, and the wives of thy lord into thy bosom, and I gave to thee the house of Israel and Juda; and if that had been little, I would have given thee yet more. 9 Why hast thou set at nought the word of the Lord, to do that which is evil in his eyes? thou hast slain Urias the Hittite with the sword, and thou hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and his servants to be thy servants. 10 Now therefore the sword shall not depart from thy house for ever, because thou hast set me at nought, and thou hast taken the wife of Urias the Hittite, to be thy wife. 11 Thus says the Lord, Behold, I will raise up against thee evil out of thy house, and I will take thy wives before thine eyes, and will give them to thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wives in the sight of this sun. 12 For thou didst it secretly, but I will do this thing in the sight of all Israel, and before this sun.

13 And David said to Nathan, I have sinned.
against the Lord. And Nathan said to David, And the Lord has put away thy sin; thou shalt not die. 14 Only because thou hast given great occasion of provocation to the enemies of the Lord by this thing, thy son also that is born to thee shall Surely die.

15 And Nathan departed to his house. And the Lord smote the child, which the wife of Uriah the Hittite bore to David, and it was ill. 16 And David enquired of God concerning the child, and David fasted, and went in and lay all night upon the ground. 17 And the elders of his house arose and went to him to raise him up from the ground, but he would not rise, nor did he eat bread with them.

18 And it came to pass on the seventh day that the child died: and the servants of David were afraid to tell him that the child was dead; for they said, Behold, while the child was yet alive we spoke to him, and he hearkened not to our voice; and how should we tell him that the child is dead?—so would he do himself harm. 19 And David understood that his servants were whispering, and David perceived that the child was dead: and David said to his servants, Is the child dead? and they said, He is dead.

20 Then David rose from the earth, and washed, and anointed himself, and changed his raiment, and went into the house of God, and worshipped him; and went into his own house, and called for bread to eat, and David did not eat bread before him all the days he lay sick. 21 And his servants said to him, What is this thing that thou hast done concerning the child? while it was yet living thou didst fast, and weep, and watch; and when the child was dead thou didst rise up, and didst eat bread, and drink. 22 And David said, While the child was yet alive, I fasted and wept: for I thought, when I came forth out of the house of my body shall be broken and I shall be cut off from the land. 23 But now it is dead, why should I fast thus? shall I be able to bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me.

21 And David comforted Bersabee his wife, and he went in to her, and lay with her; and she conceived and bore a son, and he called his name Solomon, and the Lord loved him. 25 And he sent by the hand of Nathan the prophet, and called his name Jedidie, for the Lord's sake.

26 And Joab fought against Rabbath of the children of Ammon, and took the royal city. 27 And Joab sent messengers to David, and said, I have fought against Rabbath, and taken the city of waters. 28 And now gather the rest of the people, and encamp against the city, and take it before me; lest I take the city first, and my name be called upon it.

29 And David gathered all the people, and went to Rabbath, and fought against it, and took it. 30 And he took the crown of Moloch their king off his head, and the weight of it was a talent of gold, with precious stones, and it was upon the head of David; and he carried forth very much spoil.

Nadab the son of David, and Abishai the son of Zerubbabel, and the men that were with them, went against Rabbath of the people of Ammon and took the city.

2 And David said to them, Who is there that is able to go down into the house of this city, and smite it for me?—David the son of Jesse doth valiantly war against the enemies of Israel.

3 And when they were gathered together, David said, Whom will I go to the house of this city? and whom will I go first? And they said, To thee, and with thee.

4 And David said to them, Whosoever goeth down with me to the city, him will I make chief over all that remaineth in Ziklag.

5 And he went with them down to the city, and fought against them, and smote the men of Rabbath, and took the city.

6 And he took the crown of king of Rabbath, the gold that was on his head, and the weight of it was a talent of gold, with precious stones, and it was upon the head of David; and he carried forth very much spoil.

7 And David said, Whosoever shall be hungry, let him come and eat; and whosoever shall be thirsty, let him come and drink; and whosoever shall be poor, let him take of the spoil.

8 And David dwelt in the land of the Philistines all the days of Nabal.

9 And there went out a man of the mountains, of the house of Rechab, named Baanah, and his companion Shamma, the sons of Rechab; and they went to the house of Nabal, while he was at his table at the winepress.

10 And they smote him in the neck, and brought him down to the ground; and he said to his companions, Smite him, and kill him: for he was bold against Israel. And they smote him, and killed him, and poured out the wine that was in the skin upon the ground.

11 And David spake to the people, saying, Whosoever is an heart to go up with me into this city, let him go.

12 And all the people rose up, and went up to the city, and fought against the men of the city, and smote them until they had utterly destroyed them.

13 And the spoil of the city, great in quantity, David looted for himself, because he thought, surely these people are zealous for the Lord.

14 And David dwelt in the land of the Philistines all the days of Nabal.
And it happened after this that Absalom the son of David had a very beautiful sister, and her name was Abigail; and Ammon the son of David loved her. And Ammon was distressed even to sickness, because of Themar his sister; for she was a virgin, and it seemed very difficult for Ammon to do anything toward her. And Ammon had a friend, and his name was Jonadab, the son of Samaa the brother of David; and Jonadab was a very cunning man. And he said to him, What ails thee that thou art thus weak, O son of the king, morning by morning? wilt thou not tell me? And Amnon said, I love Themar the sister of my brother. And Jonadab said to him, Lie upon thy bed, and make thyself sick, and thy father shall come in to see thee; and thou shalt say to him, Let, I pray thee, my sister Themar come to me, and make a couple of cakes in my sight, and I will eat them at thy hand. And David sent to Themar the house, saying, Go now to thy brother's house, and dress him food. And Themar went to the house of her brother Amnon, and he was lying down: and she took the dough and made cakes in his sight, and baked the cakes. And she took the frying-pan and poured them out before him, but he would not eat. And Amnon said, Send out every man from me about me. And they removed every man from about him. And Amnon said to Themar, Bring in the food into the closet, and I will eat of thy hand. And Themar took the cakes which she had made, and brought them to her brother Amnon into the chamber. And she brought them to him to eat, and he caught hold of her, and said to her, Come, lie with me, my sister. And she said to him, Nay, my brother, do not humble me, for it sought not to be so done in Israel; do not this folly. And I, whither shall I remove my reproach? and thou shalt be as one of the fools in Israel. And now, speak, I pray thee, to the king, for surely he will not keep me from thee. But Amnon would not hearken to her voice; and he prevailed against her, and humbled her, and lay with her.

Then Amnon hated her with very great hatred; for the hatred which he hated her with was greater than the hatred with which he had hated her for the last wickedness was greater than the first: and Ammon said of the city. And he brought forth the people that were in it, and put them under the saw, and under iron harrows, and axes of iron, and made them pass through the brick-kiln: and thus he did to all the cities of the children of Ammon. And David and all the people returned to Jerusalem.

II. Kings XIII. 16—31.

BASILEION B.

And Themar took ashes, and put them on her head; and she rent the variegated garment that was upon her; and she laid her hands on her head, and went crying continually. 21 And Absalom her brother said to her, Has thy brother Amnon been with thee? now then, my sister, be silent, for he is thy brother: be not careful to mention this matter. So Themar dwelt as a widow in the house of her brother Absalom.

And king David heard of all these things, and was very angry: but he did not grieve the spirit of his son Amnon, because he loved him, and his son Absalom was his first-born. 22 And Absalom spoke not to Amnon, good or bad, because Absalom hated Amnon, on account of his humbling his sister Themar. And it came to pass at the end of two whole years, that they were shearing sheep for Absalom in Belasor near Ephraim: and Absalom invited all the king's sons. 23 And Absalom came to the king, and said, Behold, thy servant has a sheep-shearing, let now the king and his servants go with thy servant. 24 And the king said to Absalom, Nay, my son, let us not all go, and let us not be burdensome to thee. And he pressed him; but he would not go, but blessed him. And the king said to Absalom, And if not, let, I pray thee, my brother Amnon go with us. And the king said to him, Why should he go with thee? 25 And Absalom pressed him, and he sent with him Amnon and all the king's sons; and Absalom made a banquet like the banquet of the king.

And Absalom charged his servants, saying, Mark when the heart of Amnon shall be merry with wine, and I shall say to you, Smite Amnon, and slay him: fear not; for I will not bid thee command to do. 26 Be courageous, and be valiant. 27 And the servants of Absalom did to Amnon as Absalom commanded them: and all the sons of the king rose up, and they mounted every man his mule, and fled.

And it came to pass, when they were in the way, that a report came to David, saying, Absalom has slain all the king's sons, and there is not one of them left. 28 Then 'Ammon, and nastheth, and one porter. Kaj eipen autoi Theimar peri 16

3 a. d. a two-year of days. 7 Gr. they are shearing for thy servant. 3 Gr. and become sons of strength.
the king arose, and rent his garments, and lay upon the ground; and all his servants that were standing round him rent their garments.

And Jonadab the son of Samaa brother of David, answered and said, Let not my lord the king say that he has slain all the young men the sons of the king, for Amnon only of them all is dead; for he was appointed to death by the mouth of Abessalom from the day that he humbled his sister Themar.

And now let not my lord the king take the matter to heart, saying, All the king's sons are dead: for Amnon only of them all is dead.

And Abessalom escaped: and the young man the watchman lifted up his eyes, and looked; and, behold, much people went in the way behind him from the side of the mountain in the desert: and the watchman came and told the king, and said, I have seen men by the way of Oronen, by the side of the mountain. And Jonadab said to the king, Behold, the king's sons are present: according to the word of thy servant, so has it happened. And it came to pass when he had finished speaking, that, behold, the king's sons came, and lifted up their voices and wept: and the king also and all his servants wept with a very great weeping.

But Abessalom fled, and went to Thohni son of Eminid king of Gedsur to the land of Elam. And king David mourned for his son Abessalom.

So Abessalom fled, and departed to Gedsur, and was there three years. And king David ceased to go out after Abessalom, for he was comforted concerning Amnon, touching his death.

And Joab the son of Saruia knew that the heart of the king was toward Abessalom.

And Joab sent to Theeco, and took thence a cunning woman, and said to her, Mourn, and put on mourning apparel, and anoint thee not with oil, and thou shalt be as a woman mourning for one that is dead thus for many days. And thou shalt go to the king, and speak to him according to this word. And Joab put the words in her mouth.

So the woman of Theeco went in to the king and fell upon her face to the earth, and did him obeisance, and said, Help, O king, help. And the king said to her, What is the matter with thee?

And she said, I am indeed a widow woman, and my husband is dead. And moreover thy handmaid had two sons, and they fought together in the field, and there was no one to part them; and the one smote the other his brother, and slew him. And behold, the whole family rose up against thine handmaid, and they said, Give up the one that smote his brother, and we will put him to death for the life of his brother, whom he slew, and we will take away even your heir; so they will quench my coal that is left, so as not to leave my husband remnant or name on the face of the earth.
And the king said to the woman, Go in peace to thy house, and I will give commandment concerning thee. And the woman of Thecoee said to the king, On me, my lord, O king, and on my father's house be the iniquity, and the king and his throne be guiltless. And the king said, Who was it that spoke to thee? thou shalt even bring him to me, and one shall not touch him any more. And she said, Let now the king remember concerning his Lord God in that the avenger of blood is multiplied to destroy, and let them not take away my son. And he said, As the Lord lives, not a hair of thy son shall fall to the ground.

And the woman said, Let now thy servant speak a word to my lord the king. And he said, Say on. And the woman said, Why hast thou devised this thing against the people of God? or is this word out of the king's mouth as a transgression, so that the king should not bring back his banished? For we shall surely die, and be as water poured upon the earth, which shall not be gathered up, and God shall take the life, even as he devises to thrust forth from him his outcasts. And now whereas I came to speak this word to my lord the king, the reason is that the people will see me, and thy handmaid will say, Let one now speak to my lord the king, if peradventure the king will perform the request of his handmaid; for the king will hear. Let him rescue his handmaid out of the hand of the man that seeketh to cast me out, and my son from the inheritance of God. And the woman said, if now the word of my lord the king be gracious, well: for as my lord the king, to hear good and evil: and the Lord thy God shall be with thee.

And the king answered, and said to the woman, I will not bring back his banished. And the woman said, Let my lord the king the king by his means speak. And the king said, Is not the hand of Joab in all this matter with thee? and the woman said to the king, As thy soul lives, my lord, O king, there is no turning to the right hand or to the left from all that my lord the king has spoken; for thy servant Joab himself charged me, and he put all these words in the mouth of thine handmaid. In order that this form of speech might come about it was that thy servant Joab has framed this matter: and my lord is wise as is the wisdom of an angel of God, to know all things that are in the earth.

And the king said to Joab, Behold now, I have done to thee according to this thy word: go, bring back the young man Abassalum. And Joab fell on his face to the ground, and did obeisance, and blessed the king: and Joab said, To-day thy servant knew that I have found grace in thy sight, my lord, O king, for my lord the king has performed the request of his servant. And Joab arose, and went to Gedser, and brought Abassalum to Jerusalem. And the king said, Let him return to his house, and not
And there was not a man in Israel so greatly beloved as Abbasalom; from the sole of his foot even to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him. And when he polled his head, (and it was at the begining of every year that he polled it, because the hair grew heavy upon him,) even when he polled it, he wept and shed tears from his own head.

And there were born to Abbasalom three sons and one daughter, and her name was Tamar; she was a very beautiful woman, and she becomes the wife of Ro-boam son of Solomon, and she bears to him Abia.

And Abba-
salom remained in Jerusalem two full years, and he saw not the king’s face. And Abbasalom sent to Joab to bring him in to the king, and he would not come to him; and he sent to him the second time, and Abbasalom said to his servants, Behold, Joab’s portion in the field is next to mine, and he has it in barley; go and set it on fire. And the servants of Abbasalom set the field on fire: and the servants of Joab came to him with their clothes rent, and they said to him, The servants of Abbasalom have set the field on fire. And Joab arose, and came to the king, and said to Abbasalom, Why have thy servants set my field on fire? And Abbasalom said to Joab, Behold, I sent to thee, saying, Come hither, and I will send thee to the king, saying, Why did I come out of Gederon? It would have been better for me to have remained there; and now, behold, I have not seen the face of the king; but if there is iniquity in me, then put me to death.

And Joab went in to the king, and brought him word: and he called Abbasalom, and he went in to the king, and did him obeisance, and fell upon his face to the ground at the feet of the king. And the king kissed Abbasalom.

And it came to pass after this that Abbasalom prepared for himself chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him. And Abbasalom rose early, and stood by the side of the way of the gate: and it came to pass that every man who had a cause, came to the king for judgment, and Abbasalom cried to him, and said to him, Of what art thou? And he said, Thy servant is of one of the tribes of Israel. And Abbasalom said to him, See, thy affairs are right and good, yet thou hast no one appointed of the king to hear thee. And Abbasalom said, O that one would make me a judge in the land; then every man who had a dispute or a cause would come to me, and I would judge him! And it came to pass when a man came near to do him obeisance, that he stretched out his hand, and took hold of him, and kissed him. And Abbasalom did this after this manner to all Israel that came to the king for judgment.
and Abessalom gained the hearts of the men of Israel.

And it came to pass after forty years, that Abessalom said to his father, I will go now, and pay my vows, which I vowed to the Lord, when I was seven years old. For the servant vowed a vow when I dwelt at Geder in Syrion, saying, If the Lord should indeed restore me to Jerusalem, then will I serve the Lord. And the king said to him, Go in peace. And he arose and went to Chebron.

And Abessalom sent spies throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, When ye hear the sound of the trumpet, then shall ye say, Abessalom is become king in Chebron. And there went with Abessalom two hundred chosen men from Jerusalem; and they went in their simplicity, and knew not anything.

And Abessalom sent to Achithophel the Theconite, the counsellor of David, from his city, from Gola, where he was sacrificing: and there was a strong conspiracy; and the people with Abessalom were increasingly numerous.

And there came a messenger to David, saying, The heart of the men of Israel is gone after Abessalom. And David said to all his servants who were with him in Jerusalem, Rize, and let us flee, for we have no refuge from Abessalom: make haste and go, lest he overtake us speedily, and bring evil upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword. And the king's servants said to the king, In all things which our lord the king chooses, behold, we are thy servants.

And the king and all his house went out on foot; and the king left ten women of his concubines to keep the house. And the king and all his servants went out on foot; and abode in a distant house. And all his servants passed on by his side, and every Chelethite, and every Phelethite, and they stood by the olive tree in the wilderness: and all the people marched near him, and all his court, and all the men of might, and all the men of war, six hundred: and they were present at his side: and every Chelethite, and every Phelethite, and all the six hundred Gittites that came on foot out of Geth, and five went on before the king.

And the king said to Ethi the Gittite, Why dost thou also go with us? return, and dwell with the king, for thou art a stranger, and thou hast come forth as a sojourner out of thy place. Whereas thou camest yesterday, shall I to-day cause thee to travel with us, and shalt thou thus change thy place? thou didst come forth yesterday, and to-day shall I set thee in motion to go along with us? I indeed will go whithersoever I may: return then, and cause thy brethren to return with thee, and may the Lord deal mercifully and truly with thee. And Ethi answered the king and said, As the Lord lives, the Lord lives and as my lord the king lives, in the place wheresoever my lord the king lives, in the place wheresoever my lord the king lives, the place wheresoever my lord the king lives, to the place wheresoever my lord the king lives, and Abessalom. And the king answered, Abessalom shall become king.

And they answered, go, and may the Lord show thee mercy, as thou hast done this day.

shall be, whether it be for death or life, there shall thy servant be. 22 And the king said to Ethi, Come and pass over with me. So Ethi the Gittite and the king passed over, and all his servants, and all the multitude with him. 23 And all the men of the country wept with a loud voice, and all the people passed by over the brook Kirion, and were gathered on the bank of the brook Kedron: and all the people and the king passed on toward the way of the wilderness. 24 And behold also Sadoc, and all the Levites were with him, bearing the ark of the covenant of the Lord from Bethab, and they set down the ark of God; and Abiathar went up, until all the people had passed out of the city. 25 And the king said to Sadoc, Carry back the ark of God into the city: if I should find favour in the eyes of the Lord, then will he bring me back, and he will shew me it and its beauty. 26 But if he should say thus, I have no pleasure in thee; behold, here I am, let him do to me according to that which is good in his eyes. 27 And the king said to Sadoc the priest, Behold, thou shalt return to the city in peace, and Achimass, thy son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar, your two sons with you. 28 Behold, I continue in arms in Arauboth of the desert, until there come tidings from you to repart to me. 29 So Sadoc and Abiathar brought back the ark of the Lord to Jerusalem, and it continued there. 30 And David went up by the ascent of the mount of Olives, ascending and weeping, and had his head covered, and went barefooted: and all the people that were with him covered every man his head; and they went up, ascending and weeping. 31 And it was reported to David, saying, Achitophel also is among the conspirators with Absalom. And David said, O Lord my God, disconnect, I pray thee, the counsel of Achitophel. 32 And David came as far as Ros, where he worshipped God: and behold, Chusi the chief friend of David came out to meet him, having rent his garment, and earth was upon his head. 33 And David said to him, If thou shouldst go over with me, then will thou be a burden to me: but if thou shall return to the city, and shalt say to Absalom, Thy brethren are passed over, and the king thy father is passed over after me: and now I am thy father, O king, suffer me to live: at one time even of late I was the servant of thy father, and now I am thy humble servant—so shall thou be pleased to do according to me, as the counsel of Achitophel. 34 And Saul said to David, and all Israel, Behold, there are there with them their two sons, Achimass the son of Sadoc, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar; and by them ye shall report to me every word which ye shall hear. 35 So Chusi the friend of David went into the city, and Absalom was late long gone into Jerusalem.
And David passed on a little way from Saul; and, behold, Siba the servant of Memphistothe came to meet him; and he had a couple of asses laden, and upon them two hundred loaves, and a hundred bunches of raisins, and a hundred eakes of dates, and a bottle of wine, and an ass, and brought them all to Siba. What meanest thou by these? and Siba said, The asses are for the household of the king to sit upon, and the loaves and the dates are for the young men to eat, and the wine is for them that are faint in the wilderness to drink. And the king said, And where is the son of Thy master? and Siba said to the king, Behold, he remains in Jerusalem; for he said, To-day shall the house of Israel restore to me the kingdom of my father.

And the king said to Siba, Behold, all Memphistothe's property is thine. And Siba did obeisance and said, My lord, O king, let me find grace in thine eyes.

And king David came to Bath-rim; and, behold, there came out from the house of the family of the house of Saul, and his name was Semei the son of Gera. He came forth and cursed as he went, and cast stones at David, and at all the servants of king David: and all the people and all the mighty men were on the right and left hand of the king. And thus Semei said when he cursed, Go out, go out, thou bloody man, and man of sin. The Lord has returned upon thee all the blood of the house of Saul, because thou hast reigned in his stead; and the Lord has given the kingdom into the hand of Abessalom thy son; and, behold, thou art taken in thy mischief, because thou art a bloody man.

And Abessalom the son of Sarrua said to the king, Why does this dog dare curse my lord the king? let me go over now and take off his head. And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Sarrua? even let him alone, and so let him curse, for the Lord has told him to curse David: and who shall say, Why hast thou done thus? And David said to Abessalom and to all his servants, Behold, my son who came forth out of my bowels seeks my life; still more now may the son of Benjamin; let him curse, because the Lord has told him. If by any means the Lord may look on my affliction, thus shall he return me good for his cursing this day.

And David and all the men with him went on the way; and Semei went by the side of the hill next to him, cursing as he went, and casting stones at him, and sprinkling him with dirt. And the king, and all the people with him, came away and refreshed themselves there.

And Abessalom and all the men of Israel went into Jerusalem, and Achithophel with him. And it came to pass when Chusi the chief friend of David came to Abessalom, that Chusi said to Abessalom, Let the king live. And Abessalom said to Chusi, Is this thy kindness to thy friend? why wastest thou not forth with thy friend? And Chusi said to Abessalom, Nay, but according to whom the Lord, and this people, and all Israel have chosen,—his will I be.
19 and with him will I dwell. 19 And again, whom shall I serve? should I not in the presence of my Father? And if I serve in the sight of thy father, so will I be in thy presence.

20 And Abshalom said to Achitophel, Deliberate among yourselves concerning what we should do. 21 And Achitophel said to Abshalom, Go in to thy father's concubines, whom he left to keep his house; and all Israel that knoweth thee be not dishonoured thy father; and the hands of all that are with thee shall be strengthened.

22 And they pitched a tent for Abshalom on the roof, and Abshalom went in to his father's concubines in the sight of all Israel.

23 And the counsel of Achitophel, which he counselled in former days, was as if one should enquire of the word of God: so was all the counsel of Achitophel both to David and also to Abshalom.

And Achitophel said to Abshalom, Let me now choose out for myself twelve thousand men, and I will arise and follow after David this night: 2 and I will come upon him when he is weary and weak-handed, and I will smite him with terror, and all the people with him shall flee: and I will smite the king only of all. 4 And I will bring back all the people to thee, as a bride returns to her husband: only thou seekest the life of one man, and all the people shall have peace. 5 And the saying was right in the eyes of Abshalom, and in the eyes of all the elders of Israel.

And Abshalom said to Chusai the Arachi, and let us hear what is in his mouth, even in his also. 6 And Chusai went in to Abshalom, and Abshalom spoke to him, saying, After this manner spake Achitophel: shall we do according to his word? but if not, do thou speak.

7 And Chusai said to Abshalom, This counsel which Achitophel hath counselled this one time to me, 8 And Chusai said, Thou knowest thy father and his men, that they are very mighty, and bitter in their spirit, as a bereaved bear in the field; 9 And thy father is a man of war, and will not give the people rest. 10 For, behold, he is now hidden in one of the hills or in some other place: and it shall come to pass when he is passed upon them at the beginning, that some one will certainly hear, and say, There has been a slaughter among the people that follow after Abshalom. 11 Then even he that is strong, whose heart is as the heart of a lion,—it shall utterly melt: for all Israel knows that thy father is mighty, and they that are with him are mighty men. 12 For thus the father of the Israelites knew, that all Israel be generally gathered to thee from Dan even to Bersabee, as the sand that is upon the sea-shore for multitude: and that thy presence go in the midst of them. 13 And we will come upon him in one of the places where we shall find him, and we will encamp against him, as the dew falls upon the earth; and we will not leave of him and of his men so much as one. 14 And if he shall have taken refuge with his army in a city then shall all Israel take ropes to that city, and we will draw it even into the river, that there may not be left there even a stone.

14 And Abassalom, and all the men of Israel, said, The counsel of Chus the Aramite is better than the counsel of Achitophel. For the Lord ordained to disconceret the good counsel of Achitophel, that the Lord might bring all evil upon Abassalom.

15 And Chus the Aramite said to Saul, and Abishar the priests, Thus and thus will Achitophel counselled Abassalom and the elders of Israel; and thus and thus have I counselled. 16 And now send quickly and report to David, saying, Lodge not this night in Abanboth of the wilderness: even go and make haste, lest one swallow up the king, and all the people with him.

17 And Jonathan and Achimaas stood by the well of Rogel, and a maid-servant went and reported to them, and they go and tell king David; for they might not be seen to enter into the city. 18 But a young man saw them and told Abassalom: and the two went quickly, and entered into the house of a man in Baourim; and he had a well in his court, and they went down into it. 19 And a woman took a covering, and spread it over the mouth of the well, and spread out ground corn upon it dry, and the thing was not known. 20 And the servants of Abassalom came to the woman into the house, and said, Where are Achimaas and Jonathan? and the woman said to them, They are gone a little way beyond the water. And they sought and found them not, and returned to Jerusalem. 21 And it came to pass after they were gone, that they came up out of the pit, and went on their way; and reported to king David, and said to David, Arise ye and go quickly over the water, for thus has Achitophel counselled concerning you.

22 And David rose up and all the people with him, and they passed over Jordan till the morning light; there was not one missing who did not pass over Jordan.

23 And Achitophel saw that his counsel was not followed, and he saddled his ass, and rose up and departed to his house into the city; and he gave orders to his household, and hanged himself, and died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father.

24 And David passed over to Manaim: and Abassalom crossed over Jordan, he and all the men of Israel with him. 25 And Abassalom appointed Amessai in the room of Joab over the host. And Amessai was the son of a man whose name was Jethar of Jezreel; he went in to Abigail the daughter of Naas, the sister of Sarun the mother of Joab. 26 And all Israel and Abassalom encamped in the land of Gadalath.

27 And it came to pass when David came to Manaim, that Uzbi the son of Naas of Rabbath of the sons of Ammon, and Machir son of Amiel of Lodabar, and Berzelli the Gallandite of Rogellim, brought ten em-
And David numbered the people with him, and set over them captains of thousands and captains of hundreds. 2 And David sent away the people, the third part under the hand of Joab, and the third part under the hand of Abishai, the brother of Joab, and the third part under the hand of Ethan the Gittite. And David said to the people, I also will surely go out with you. And they said, Thou shalt not go out: for if we should indeed flee, they will not care for us; and if half of us should die, they will not mind us; for thou art ten thousand of us: and now it is well that thou shalt be to us an aid to help us in the city. And the king said to them, Whatsoever shall seem good in your eyes I will do. And the king stood by the side of the gate, and all the people went out by hundreds and by thousands.

And the king commanded Joab and Abessa and Ethni, saying, Spare for my sake the young man Abessalom. And all the people heard the king charging all the commanders concerning Abessalom.

And all the people went out into the wood against Israel; and the battle was in the wood of Ephraim. And the people of Israel fell down there before the servants of David, and there was a great slaughter in that day, even twenty thousand men. And the battle there was scattered over the face of all the land: and the wood consumed more of the people than the sword consumed among the people in that day.

And Abessalom's servants fled to David: and Abessalom was mounted on his mule, and the mule came under the thick boughs of a great oak; and his head was entangled in the oak, and he was suspended between heaven and earth; and the mule passed on from under him.

And a man saw it, and reported to Joab, and said, Behold, I saw Abessalom hanging in an oak. And Joab said to the man who reported it to him, And, behold, thou didst not smite him there to the ground? and I would have given thee ten pieces of silver, and a girdle.

And the man said to Joab, Were I even to receive a thousand shekels of silver, I would not lift my hand against the king's son; for in our care the king charged the and Abessa and Ethni, saying, Take care of the young man Abessalom for me, so as to do no harm to his life: and nothing of the matter will be concealed from the king, and thou wilt set thyself against me.

And Joab said, I will begin this: I will not thus remain with thee. And Joab took darts in his hand, and thrust them into the heart of Abessalom, while he was yet alive.
in the heart of the oak. 18 And ten young men that bore Joab's armour compassed Abessalom, and smote him and slew him.

19 And Joab blew the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing Israel, for Joab spared the people. And he took Abessalom, and cast him into a great cavern in the wood, into a deep pit, and set up over him a very great heap of stones: and all Israel fled every man to his tent. 20 Now Abessalom while yet alive had taken and set up for himself the pillar Bahr near which he was taken, and set it up, so as to have the pillar in the king's dale; for he said he had no son to keep his name in remembrance: and he called the pillar, Abessalom's 5 hand, until this day.

19 And Achimaas the son of Sadoc said, Let me run now and carry glad tidings to the king, for the Lord has delivered him from the hand of his enemies. 20 And Joab said to him, Thou shalt not be a messenger of glad tidings this day: thou shalt bear them out, but on this day thou shalt bear no tidings, because the king's son is dead. 21 And Joab said to Chusi, Go, report to the king all that thou hast seen. And Chusi did obeisance to Joab, and went out. 22 And Achimaas the son of Sadoc said again to Joab, Nay, let me go and run after Chusi. And Joab said, Why wouldst thou thus run, my son? attend, thou hast no tidings for profit if thou go. 23 And he said, Why should I not run? and Joab said to him, Run. And Achimaas ran along the way of Kechar, and outran Chusi.

24 And David was sitting between the two gates: and the watchman went up on the top of the gate of the wall, and lifted up his eyes, and looked, and beheld a man running alone before him. 25 And the watchman cried out, and reported to the king. And the king said, If he be alone, there are good tidings in his mouth. And the man came and drew near. 26 And the watchman saw another man running: and the watchman cried at the gate, and said, And look, another man running alone. And the king said, He also brings glad tidings. 27 And the watchman said, I see the running of the first as the running of Achimaas the son of Sadoc: And the king said, He is a good man, and will come to report glad tidings.

28 And Achimaas cried out and said, to the king, Peace. And he did obeisance to the king with his face to the ground, and said, Blessed be the Lord thy God, who has delivered up the men that lifted up their hands against my lord the king. 29 And the king said, Is the young man Abessalom safe? And Achimaas said, I saw a great multitude at the time of Joab's sending the king's servant and thy servant, and I knew not what was there. 30 And the king said, Turn aside, stand still here. And he turned aside, and stood.

31 And, behold, Chusi came up, and said to the king, Let my lord the king hear glad tidings, for the Lord has avenged thee this Αὐτόριον μου ἤμεις, ὅτα μου καὶ σάρκας μου ἤμεις, ὅτα γίνεσθαι ἢσχατοι τοῦ ἐπιστρέψατο τῷ βασιλεῖ εἰς τὸν οἶκον αὐτοῦ; Καὶ τῷ Δαυίδ.

And it came to pass when he went into Jerusalem to meet the king, that the king said to him: Why didst thou not go with me, Memphibosthe? And Memphibosthe said to him, My lord, O king, my servant deceived me, for thy servant said to him, Saddlet me the ass, and I will ride upon it, and go with the king; and thy servant is lame. And he has dealt deceitfully with thy servant to my lord the king: but my lord the king is as an angel of God, and do thou that which is good in thine eyes.

For all the house of my father were but as dead men before my lord the king; yet thou hast set thy servant among them that eat at thy table: and what right have I any longer even to cry to the king? yet shall say to Amessai, Art thou not my bone and my flesh? and now God do so to me, and more also, if thou shalt not be commander of the host before me continually in the room of Jonam. And he bowed the heart of all the men of Judah as that of one man; and they sent to the king, saying, Return the king, all the all thy servants.

And the king returned, and came as far as Jordan. And the men of Judah came to Galgala on their way to meet the king, to cause the king to pass over Jordan.

And Semei the son of Gera, the Benjaminite, of Baurim, hasted and went down with the men of Judah to meet king David. And a thousand men of Benjamin were with him, and Siba the servant of the house of Saul, and his fifteen sons with him, and his twenty servants with him; and they went directly down to Jordan before the king, and they performed the service of bringing the king over; and there went over a ferry-boat to remove the household of the king, and to do that which was right in his eyes. And Semei the son of Gera fell down before the king as he went over Jordan; and said to the king, Let not my lord now impute iniquity, and remember not all the iniquity of thy servant in the day in which my lord went out from Jerusalem, so that the king should mind it.

For thy servant knows that I have sinned: and, behold, I am come to-day before all Israel and the house of Joseph, to go down and meet my lord the king.

And Absessai the son of Saruia answered and said, Shall not Semei therefore be put to death, because he cursed the Lord's anointed? And David said, What have I to do with ye sons of Saruia, that ye as it were lie in wait against me this day? to-day no man in Israel shall be put to death, for I know not if this day reign over Israel. And the king said to Semei. Thou shalt not die: and the king spurned him.

And Memphibosthe the son of Saul's son went down to meet the king, and had not dressed his feet, nor pared his nails, nor shaved himself, neither had he washed his garments, from the day that the king departed, until the day when he arrived in peace.

And it came to pass when he went into Jerusalem to meet the king, that the king said to him, Why didst thou not go with me, Memphibosthe? And Memphibosthe said to him, My lord, O king, my servant deceived me, for thy servant said to him, Saddlet me the ass, and I will ride upon it, and go with the king; for thy servant is lame. And he has dealt deceitfully with thy servant to my lord the king: but my lord the king is as an angel of God, and do thou that which is good in thine eyes.

For all the house of my father were but as dead men before my lord the king; yet thou hast set thy servant among them that eat at thy table: and what right have I any longer even to cry to the king?
29 And the king said to him, Why spakest thou any longer of thy matters? I have said, Thou and Siba shall divide the land.
30 And Memphiobotho said to the king, Yes, let him take all, since my lord the king has come in to his house.
31 And Berzelli the Galadite came down from Rogellim, and crossed over Jordan with the king, that he might conduct the king over Jordan. And Berzelli was a very old man, eighteenes years old; and he had maintained the king when he dwelt in Manaim; for he was a very great man.
32 And the king said to Berzelli, Thou shalt go over Jordan with me and shall dwell next to me in my old age with me in Jerusalem. And Berzelli said to the king, How many are the days of the years of my life, that I should go up with the king to Jerusalem? And I am this day eighty years old: can I then distinguish between good and evil? Can thy servant taste any longer what I eat or drink? can I any longer hear the voice of singing women? and wherfore shall thy servant any longer be a burden to my lord the king? And the king said, Lie Chamaa go over with me, and I will do to him what is good in mine eyes; and whatsoever shalt thou choose at my hand, I will do for thee.
33 And all the people went over Jordan, and the king went over; and the king kissed Berzelli, and blessed him; and he returned to his place. And the king went over to Galgala, and Chamaa went over with him: and all the men of Juda went over with the king, and also half the people of Israel.

34 And behold, all the men of Israel came to the king, and said to the king, Why have our brethren the men of Juda stolen thee away, and caused the king and all his house to pass over Jordan, and all the men of David with him? And all the men of Juda answered the men of Israel, and said, Because the king is near of kin to us: and why were you thus angry concerning this matter? have we indeed eaten of the king's food? or has he given us a gift, or has he sent as a present? And the king answered the men of Juda, and said, We have ten parts in the king, and we are older than you, we have also an interest in David above you: and why have ye thus insulted us, and why was not our advice taken before that of Juda, to bring back our king? And the speech of the men of Juda was sharper against the men of Israel.

And there was a transgresser so called there, and his name was Sabee, a Benjamite, the son of Bochor: and he blew the trumpet, and said, We have no portion in David neither have we any inheritance in the son of Jesse: to thy tents, O Israel, every one.
And all the men of Israel went up from following David after Sabee and Bochori; but the men of Juda adhered to their king, from Jordan even to Jerusalem.

And David went into his house at Jerusalem: and the king took the ten women his concubines, whom he had left to keep the house, and he put them in a place of custodie, and he ascended with them, and went not in to them; and they were kept living as widows, till the day of their death.

And the king said to Amessai, Call to me the men of Juda for three days, and do thou be present here. 5 And Amessai went to call Juda, and delayed beyond the time which David appointed him. 6 And David said to Amessai, Now shall Sabee the son of Bochori do us more harm than Abesselom: now thou take thou with thee the servants of thy lord, and follow after him, lest he find for himself strong cities, so will he blind our eyes. 7 And there went out after him Amessai and the men of Joab, and the Cherethites, and the Phelithites, and all the mighty men; and they went out from Jerusalem to pursue after the son of Bochori.

And they were by the great stone that is in Gabaon: and Amessai went in before them: and Joab had upon him a military cloak over his apparel, and over it he was girded with a dagger fastened upon his loins in its scabbard: and the dagger came out, it even came out and fell.

And Joab said to Amessai, Art thou in health, my brother? and the right hand of Joab took hold of the beard of Amessai to kiss him. 10 And Amessai observed not the dagger that was in the hand of Joab: and Joab smote him with it on the loins, and his five bowels were shed upon the ground, and he did not repeat the blow, and he died: and Joab and Abessalom his brother pursued after Sabee the son of Bochori. 11 And there stood over him one of the servants of Joab, and said, Who is he that is for Joab, and who is on the side of David following Joab? 12 And Amessai was waltering in blood in the midst of the way. And a man saw that all the people stood still; and he removed Amessai out of the path into a field, and he cast a garment upon him, because he saw every one that came to him standing still. 13 And when he was quickly removed from the road, every man of Israel passed after Joab to pursue after Sabee the son of Bochori.

And he went through all the tribes of Israel to Abel, and to Bethmacha; and all in Charriz were assembled, and followed after him. 15 And they came and besieged him in Abel and Phermacha: and they raised a mound against the city and it stood close to the wall; and all the people with Joab proposed to throw down the wall. 16 And a wise woman cried from the wall, and said, Hear, hear; say, I pray ye, to Joab, Draw near hither, and I will speak to him. 17 And he drew nigh to her, and the woman said to him, Art thou Joab? and he said, I am.

of the Lord that was between them, even between David and Jonathan the son of Saul.

And the king took the two sons of Respha the daughter of Aia, whom she bare to Saul, Herniothi and Memphibosthe, and the five sons of Michol daughter of Saul, whom she bore to Esdril, son of Berzelli the Moabite. 9And he gave them into the hand of the Gabaonites, and they hanged them up to the sun in the mountain before the Lord: and they fell under the sun seven days, and the seven days following. And the bodies of the air to rest upon them by day, and the beasts of the field by night.

And it was told David what Respha the daughter of Aia the concubine of Saul had done, 1And they were flayed, and Dan the son of Joa of the offspring of the giants overtaking Jonathan, and David went and took the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his son, from the men of the sons of Jabis Galahad, who stole them from the street of Bethsan: for the Philistines set them there in the day in which the Philistines smote Saul in Gelbue. 10And he carried up, then the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son, and gathered the bones of them that had been hanged. 11And they buried the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son, and the bones of them that had been hanged, in the land of Benjamin in the hill, in the sepulchre of Cis his father; and they did all things that the king of Israel had commanded God hearkened to the prayers of the land.

And there was war between the Philistines and Israel: and David went down and his servants with him, and they fought with the Philistines, and David went. 1And Jesbi, who was of the progeny of Rapha, and the head of those whose spear was three thousand of a weight, who also was girt with a club, even he thought to smite David. 1And Abessa the son of Saruia helped him and smote the Philistine, and slew him. Then the men of David awore, saying, Thou shalt not any longer go out with us to battle, and thou shalt not shalt the lamp of Israel.

And after this there was a battle again with the Philistines in Geth: then Sebocha the Astatothite slew Seph of the progeny of Rapha.

And there was a battle in Ram with the Philistines; and Eleanan son of Arorim the Bethleemite slew Goliath the Gittite; and the spear of his hand was as a weaver's beam. 2And there was yet a battle in Geth: and there was ya man of stature, and the fingers of his hands and the toes of his feet were six on each, four and twenty in number: and he also was born to Rapha. 2And he defied Israel, and Jonathan son of Semel brother of David, smote him.

These four were born descendants of the

II. KINGS XXII. 1—28.

And David spoke to the Lord the words of this song, in the day in which the Lord rescued him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul. And the song was thus:

O Lord, my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, my God; he shall be to me my guard, I will trust in him: he is my protector, and the horn of my salvation, my helper, and my sure refuge; thou shalt save me from the unjust man.

I will call upon the Lord who is worthy to be praised, and I shall be saved from my enemies. For the troubles of death compassed me, the floods of iniquity amazeth me:

the pangs of death surrounded me, the agoniies of death prevented me.

When I am afflicted I will call upon the Lord, and will cry unto my God, and he shall hear my voice out of his temple, and my cry shall come into his ears.

And the earth was troubled and quaked, and the foundations of heaven were confounded and torn asunder, because the Lord was wrath with them. There went up a smoke in his wrath, and fire out of his mouth devours; coals were kindled at it.

And he bowed the heavens, and came down, and there was darkness under his feet.

And he rode upon the cherubs and did fly, and was seen upon the wings of the wind.

And he made darkness his hiding-place; his tabernacle round about him was the darkness of waters, he condensed it with the clouds of the air.

At the brightness before him coals of fire were kindled.

The Lord thundered out of heaven, and the Most High uttered his voice.

And he sent forth arrows, and scattered them, and he flashed lightning, and dismayed them.

And the channels of the sea were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered, at the rebuke of the Lord, at the blast of his anger.

He sent from above, and took me out of many waters.

He delivered me from my strong enemies, from them that hated me, for they were stronger than I.

The days of my affliction prevented me; but the Lord was my stay. And he brought me into a wide place, and rescued me, because he delighted in me.

And the Lord recompensed me according to my righteousness; even according to the purity of my hands did he recompense me.

Because I kept the ways of the Lord, and did not wickedly depart from my God.

For all his judgments and his ordinances were before me: I departed not from them.

And I shall be blameless before him, and will keep myself from my iniquity.

And the Lord will recompense me according to my righteousness, and according to the purity of my hands in his eyesight.

With the holy thou wilt be holy, and with the perfect man thou wilt be perfect, and with the just thou wilt be excellent, and with the froward thou wilt be froward. And thou wilt save the poor people, and wilt bring down the eyes of thy haughtiness. 27 For thou, Lord, art my lamp, and the Lord shall shine forth to me in my darkness. 28 For by thee shall I run through a girded man, and by my God shall I leap over a wall. 29 As for the Mighty One, his way is blameless: the word of the Lord is strong and tried in the fire: he is a protector to all that put their trust in him. 30 Who is strong, but the Lord? and who will be a Creator except our God? 31 The Mighty One who strengthens me with might, and has prepared my way without fault. 32 He makes my feet like harts' feet, and sets me upon the high places. 33 He teaches my hands to war, and has broken a brazen bow by my arm. 34 And thou hast given me the shield of my salvation, and thy propitious children feigned obedience to me: so that I make room under me for my going, and my legs did not totter. 35 I will pursue my enemies, and will utterly destroy them; and I will not turn again till I have consumed them. 36 And I will crush them, and they shall not rise; and they shall fall under my feet. 37 And thou shalt strengthen me with power for the war; thou shalt cause them that rise up against me to bow down under me. 38 And thou hast caused mine enemies to flee before me, even them that hated me, and thou hast slain them. 39 They shall cry, and the Gentiles shall no longer be a terror to me, but he hearkens not to them. 40 And I ground them as the dust of the earth, I beat them small as the mire of the streets. 41 And thou shalt deliver me from the strivings of the peoples, thou shalt keep me to be the head of the Gentiles: a people which I knew not served me. 42 The strange children whom I have not known shall be cast away, and shall be overthrown out of their hiding-places. 43 The Lord lives, and blessed be my guardian, and my God, 44 my strong keeper, shall be exalted, and those who strive against me shall be strong, chastening the nations under me, 45 and bringing me out from my enemies: and thou shalt set me on high from among those that rise up against me: thou shalt deliver me from the violent man. 46 Therefore will I confess thee, O Lord, among the Gentiles, and sing to thy name, 47 magnifying the salvation of his king, and works mercy for his anointed, even for David and for his seed for ever.

And these are the last words of David.

Faithful is David the son of Jesse, and faithful the man whom the Lord raised up to be the anointed of the God of Jacob, and beautiful are the psalms of Israel. 2 The Spirit of the Lord spoke by me, and his word was upon my tongue. 3 The God of Israel says, A watchman out of Israel spoke to me a parable: I said among men, How will ye strengthen the fear of the anointed? 4 And in the morning light of God, let the sun arise in the morning, from the light of which the Lord passed on, and as it were from the rain of the tender grass upon the earth. 2 For my house is not so with the Mighty One: for he has made an everlasting covenant with me, ready, guarded at every time; for all my salvation and all my desire is, that the wicked should not flourish. 3 All these are as a thorn thrust forth, for they shall not be taken with the hand; and a man shall not labour among them; and one shall hate that which is fully armed with iron, and the staff of a spear, and he shall burn them with fire, and they shall be burnt in their shame.

8 These are the names of the mighty men of David: Jehoshaph the Chananite is a captain of the third part: Adinon the Asonite, he drew his sword against eight hundred soldiers at once. 9 And after him Eleanah the son of his uncle, son of Dudi who was among the three mighty men with David; and when he defended the Philistines they were gathered there to war, and the men of Israel went up. 10 He arose and smote the Philistines, until his hand was weary, and his hand clave to the sword: and the Lord wrought a great salvation in that day, and the people yrested behind him only to strip the slain.

11 And after him Samaia the son of Asa the Arachite: and the Philistines were gathered to Theria: and there was there a portion of ground full of lentiles: and the people fled before the Philistines. 12 And he stood firm in the midst of the portion, and rescued it, and smote the Philistines; and the Lord wrought a great deliverance.

13 And three out of the thirty went down, and came to Cason to David, to the cave of Odollam: and there was an army of the Philistines, and they encamped in the valley of Raphaim. 14 And David was then in the strong hold, and the garrison of the Philistines was then in Bethlehem. 15 And David longed, and said, Who will give me water to drink out of the well that is in Bethlehem by the gate? now the band of the Philistines was then in Bethlehem. And the three mighty men men broke through, of the host of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well that was in Bethlehem in the gate: and they took it, and brought it to David, and he would not drink it, but poured it out before the Lord. 16 And he said, O Lord, forbid that I should do this, that I should drink the blood of the men who went at the risk of their lives: and he would not drink it. These things did these three mighty men.

17 And the brother of Joab the son of Sariua, he was chief among the three: and he lifted up his spear against three hundred whom he slew; and he had a name among three. 18 Of those three he was most honourable, and he became a chief over them, but he reached not to the first three.

19 And Baneas the son of Jodae, he was abundant in mighty deeds, from Cabesel, and he smote the two sons of Ariel of Moab: and he went down and smote a lion in the midst of a pit on a snowy day. 20 He smote an Egyptian, a wonderful man, and in the hand of the Egyptian was a spear as the side of a ladder; and he went down to him with a staff, and smote the spear from the Egyptian's hand, and slew him with his own spear. 3 These things did Bamans the son of Jodae, and he had a name among the three mighty men. 4 He was honourable among the second three, but he reached not to the first three: and David yamide him his reporter.

And these are the names of king David's mighty men: 5 Asael Joab's brother; and he was among the thirty, Eleanam son of Dudi his uncle in Bethlehem. 6 Senn the Rudean. 7 Selles the Kelothite: Ira the son of Ica the Theocte. 8 Abiezer the Anothite, of the sons of the Anothite. 9 Elion the Arolite. 10 Nobre the Neophatite. 11 Enri the son of Ribah of Gabaon, son of Benjamin the Ephrathite: 12 Asmoth the Bardiamite; Emasu the Salabonite: 13 the sons of Asan, Jonathan; 14 Samman the Arodite; Amman the son of Aral the Sarrurite. 15 Alphaleth the son of Asbes, the son of the Machachachite; Eliaib the son of Achish. 16 Eliphelet the son of Rameb the Lamechite: 17 Gaal the son of Nathana. The son of much valour, the son of Galaddi. Elie the Ammanite. 18 Adroi of the brooks. 19 Gadabiel son of the Araborhite. 20 Gelore the Bithonte, armurer-bearer to Joab, son of Saruia. 21 Ira the Elurite, he called the Elarite. 22 Urias the Chettite: thirty-seven in all.

And the Lord caused his anger to burn forth again in Israel, and Satan stirred up David against them, saying, Go, number Israel and Juda. 2 And the king said to Joab commander of the host, who was with him, Go now through all the tribes of Israel and Juda, from Dan even to Bersabee, and number the people, and I will know the number of the people. 3 And Joab said to the king, Now may the Lord add to the people a hundred-fold as many as they are, and may the eyes of my lord the king's see it: but why does my lord the king desire this thing? 4 Nevertheless the word of the king prevailed against Joab and the captains of the host:

And Joab and the captains of the host went out before the king to number the people of Israel. 5 And they went over Jordan, and encamped in Aroer, on the right of the city which is in the midst of the valley of Gad and Eliezer. 6 And they came to Galad, and into the land of Thabason, which is Adasai, and they came to Damid and Udun, and compassed Sidon. 7 And they came to Mapsar of Tyre, and to all the cities of the Ekron and the Hapluate: and they came by the south of Juda to Bersabee. 8 And they compassed the whole land; and they arrived at Jerusalem at the end of nine months and twenty days. 9 And Joab gave in the number of the census of the people to the king: and Israel consisted of empires; thousand and thousand fighting men.
And the heart of David smote him after he had numbered the people; and David said to the Lord, I have sinned grievously: O Lord, in what have I now done? remove, I pray thee, the iniquity of thy servant, for I have been exceedingly foolish.

And David rose early in the morning, and the word of the Lord came to the prophet Gad, the seer, saying, Go, and speak to David, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I will bring one of thine household to thee, to one of them, and I will do it to them. And Gad went in to David, and told him, and said to him, Choose one of these things to befall thee, whether there shall come upon thee for three years famine in thy land; or that thou shouldst fleece three months before thine enemies, and they should pursue thee; or that there should be for three days mortality in thy land. Now then decide, and see what answer I shall return to him that sent me. And David said to Gad, On every side |I am much straitened: let me fall now into the hands of the Lord, for his compassions are very many; and let me not fall into the hands of man.

So David chose for himself the mortality: three days of famine; and the Lord sent a pestilence upon Israel from morning till | |seven, and the plague began among the people; and there died of the people from Dan even to Bersabee seventy thousand men. And the angel of the Lord stretched out his hand against Jerusalem to destroy it, and the Lord repented of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed the people, It is enough now, withhold thine hand. And the angel of the Lord was by the threshing-floor of Orah the Jebusite. And David spoke to the Lord when he saw the angel smiting the people, and he said, Behold, it is I that have done wrong; but these sheep what have they done? Let thy hand, I pray thee, be upon me, and upon my father's house.

And Gad came to David in that day, and said to him, Go up, and set up to the Lord an altar in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite. And David went up according to the word of Gad, as the Lord commanded him. And Orna |looked out, and saw the king and his servants coming on before him; and Orna went forth, and did obeisance to the king face to the earth. And Orna said, Why has my lord the king come to his servant? And David said, To buy of thee the threshing-floor, in order to build an altar to the Lord, that the plague may be restrained from off the people. And Orna said to David, Let my lord the king take and offer to the Lord that which is thine; behold, here are oxen for a whole-burnt-offering, and the wheels and furniture of the oxen for wood. Orna gave all to the king; and Orna said to the king, The Lord thy God bless thee. And the king said to Orna, Nay, but I will surely buy it of thee at a fair price, and I will not offer to the Lord my God a whole-burnt-offering for nothing. So David purchased the threshing-floor and

10 And the heart of David smote him after he had numbered the people; and David said to the Lord, I have sinned grievously: O Lord, in what have I now done? remove, I pray thee, the iniquity of thy servant, for I have been exceedingly foolish.

11 And David rose early in the morning, and the word of the Lord came to the prophet Gad, the seer, saying, Go, and speak to David, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I will bring one of thine household to thee, to one of them, and I will do it to them. And Gad went in to David, and told him, and said to him, Choose one of these things to befall thee, whether there shall come upon thee for three years famine in thy land; or that thou shouldst fleece three months before thine enemies, and they should pursue thee; or that there should be for three days mortality in thy land. Now then decide, and see what answer I shall return to him that sent me. And David said to Gad, On every side |I am much straitened: let me fall now into the hands of the Lord, for his compassions are very many; and let me not fall into the hands of man.

So David chose for himself the mortality: three days of famine; and the Lord sent a pestilence upon Israel from morning till | |seven, and the plague began among the people; and there died of the people from Dan even to Bersabee seventy thousand men. And the angel of the Lord stretched out his hand against Jerusalem to destroy it, and the Lord repented of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed the people, It is enough now, withhold thine hand. And the angel of the Lord was by the threshing-floor of Orah the Jebusite. And David spoke to the Lord when he saw the angel smiting the people, and he said, Behold, it is I that have done wrong; but these sheep what have they done? Let thy hand, I pray thee, be upon me, and upon my father's house.

And Gad came to David in that day, and said to him, Go up, and set up to the Lord an altar in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite. And David went up according to the word of Gad, as the Lord commanded him. And Orna |looked out, and saw the king and his servants coming on before him; and Orna went forth, and did obeisance to the king face to the earth. And Orna said, Why has my lord the king come to his servant? And David said, To buy of thee the threshing-floor, in order to build an altar to the Lord, that the plague may be restrained from off the people. And Orna said to David, Let my lord the king take and offer to the Lord that which is thine; behold, here are oxen for a whole-burnt-offering, and the wheels and furniture of the oxen for wood. Orna gave all to the king; and Orna said to the king, The Lord thy God bless thee. And the king said to Orna, Nay, but I will surely buy it of thee at a fair price, and I will not offer to the Lord my God a whole-burnt-offering for nothing. So David purchased the threshing-floor and
AND king David was old and advanced in days, and covered him with clothes, and he was not warmed. And his servants said, Let them seek for the king a young virgin, and she shall wait on the king, and cherish him, and lie with him, and let thy lord the king shall be warmed. So they sought for a fair damsel out of all the coasts of Israel; and they found Abisag the Somanite, and they brought her to the king. And the damsel was extremely beautiful, and she cherished the king, and ministered to him, but the king knew her not.

And Adonias the son of Aggith exalted himself, saying, I will be king; and he prepared for himself chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him. And his father never at any time checked him, saying, Why hast thou done thus? and he was also very handsome in appearance, and his mother bore him after Abessalom. And he conferred with Joab the son of Sarua, and with Abiathar the priest, and they followed after Adonias.

But Sadoc the priest, and Bameas the son of Joda, and Nathan the prophet, and Semei, and Resi, and the mighty men of David, did not follow Adonias. And Adonias sacrificed sheep and calves and lambs by the stone of Zoelothi, which was near to Rogel: and he called all his brethren, and all the adult men of Juda, servants of the king. But Nathan the prophet, and Bameas, and the prophet his brother, and the mighty men, and Solomon his brother, he did not call.

And Nathan spoke to Bersabee the mother of Solomon, saying, Hast thou not heard that Adonias the son of Aggith reigns, and our lord David knows it not? And now come, let me, I pray, give thee counsel, and thou shalt rescue thy life, and the life of thy son Solomon. Haste, and go in to

So Bersabee went in to the king into the chamber: and the king was very old, and Abisag the Somanite was ministering to the king. 16 And Bersabee bowed, and did obeisance to the king; and the king said, What is thy request? 17 And she said, My lord, thou didst swer by the Lord thy God to the house of David, saying, Thy son Solomon shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne? why then does Adonias reign? 18 And behold, while thou art still speaking there with the king, I also will come in after thee, and will confirm thy words.

And beheld, while she was yet talking with the king, Nathan the prophet came. And it was reported to the king. 19 And Nathan the prophet is here: and he came in to the king's presence, and did obeisance to the king with his face to the ground. 20 And Nathan said, My lord, O king, didst thou say, Adonias reigns after me, and he shall sit upon my throne? 21 For he has gone down to-day, and has sacrificed calves and lambs and sheep in abundance, and has called all the king's sons, and Abiathar the priest and Joab the commander-in-chief of the host; but Solomon thy servant has he not called. 22 And thou, my lord, O king,—the eyes of all Israel are upon thee, to tell them who shall sit upon the throne of my lord the king after him. 23 And it shall come to pass, when my lord the king shall sleep with his fathers, that I and Solomon my son shall be offenders.

And king David answered and said, Call me Bersabee; and she came in before the king, and stood before him. 24 And the king swore, and said, As the Lord lives who redeemed my soul out of all affliction, 25 as I swore to thee by the Lord God of Israel, saying, Solomon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne in my stead, so will I do this day. 26 And Bersabee bowed with her face to the ground, and did obeisance to the king, and said, Let my lord king David live for ever.

And the king said to them, Take the servants of your lord with you, and mount my son Solomon upon my own mule, and bring him down to Gion. And there let Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banaas the son of Joda: and they came in before the king. And the king said to them, What means the voice of the city in tumult? While he was yet speaking, behold, the son of Abinath the priest came in: and Adonias said, Come in, for thou art a mighty man, and thou comest to bring glad tidings. And Jonathan answered and said, Verily our lord king David has made Solomon king: and the king has sent with him Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banaas the son of Joda, and the Chereithite, and the Phelethite, and they have mounted Solomon upon the mule of king David, and led him away to Gion. that he will not slay his servant with the sword. And Solomon said, If he should be a valiant man, there shall not be a hair of his fall to the ground; but if evil be found in him, he shall die. And King Solomon sent, and they brought him away from the altar; and he went in and did obedience to king Solomon: and Solomon said to him, Go to thy house.

And the days of David drew near that he should die: and he addressed his son Solomon, saying, I go the way of all the earth: but thou, my son, keep my law and my judgments, and do them: that it may go well with thee, and thou mayest reign over Israel. And now, my son, observe that which I command thee: for it shall go well with thee, if thou observest to do the statutes and the judgments which are written in the law of Moses: that thou mayest understand what thou shalt do in all things that I command thee: that the Lord may confirm his word which he spoke, saying, If thy children shall take heed to their way to walk before me in truth with all their heart, I promise thee, saying, there shall not fail thee a man on the throne of Israel. Moreover thou knowest all that Joab the son of Saruia did to me, what he did to the two captains of the forces of Israel, to Abner the son of Ner, and to Amasa the son of Jether, that he slew them; and shed the blood of war in peace, and put innocent blood on his girdle that was about his loins, and on his sandal that was on his foot. Therefore thou shalt deal with him according to thy wisdom, and thou shalt not bring down his grey hairs in peace to the grave. But thou shalt deal kindly with the sons of Belzpholin the Galadite, and they shall be among those that eat at thy table; for thus they drew nigh to me when I fled from the face of thy brother Abassalom. And, behold, there is with thee Semei the son of Gera, a Benjamite of Baurim: and he cursed me with a grievous curse in the day when I went into the camp; and he came down to Jordan to meet me, and I swore to him by the Lord, saying, I will not put thee to death with the sword. And thou didst not put him to death; and he means hold him guiltless, for thou art a wise man, and wilt know what thou shalt do to him, and shalt bring down his grey hairs with blood to the grave.

And David slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David. And the days which David reigned over Israel were forty years; he reigned seven years in Hebron, and thirty-three years in Jerusalem. And Solomon sat on the throne of his father David, and his kingdom was established greatly. And Adonias the son of Aggith came in to Berebeche the mother of Solomon, and did obeisance to her; and she said, Dost thou enter peaceably? and he said, Peaceably: I have no business with thee. And Adonias said to Solomon, I beseech thee, he said to her, Thou knowest that the kingdom was mine, and all Israel turned their face toward me for a king; but the kingdom was turned from me and became my brother's: for it was appointed to him from the Lord. And now I make one request of thee, do not turn away thy face. And Ber-
And the king said to Abiathar the priest, Depart thou quickly to Anathoth to thy farm, for thou art worthy of death this day; but I will not slay thee, because thou hast borne the ark of the covenant of the Lord before my father, and because thou wast afflicted in all things wherein my father was afflicted. And Solomon removed Abiathar from being a priest of the Lord, lest the Lord should make the kingdom shift from David's house unto Solomon.

And the report came to Joab son of Seraiah; for Joab had turned after Adonias, and he went not after Solomon; and Joab fled to the tabernacle of the Lord, and caught hold of the horns of the altar. And it was told Solomon, saying, Joab hath fled to the tabernacle of the Lord, and lo! he hath hold of the horns of the altar. And king Solomon sent to Joab, saying, What ails thee, that thou hast fled to the altar? and Joab said, Because I was false of heart, and fled for refuge to the Lord. And Solomon sent Banaas son of Joda, saying, Go and slay him, and bury him.

And Banaas son of Joda came to Joab to the tabernacle of the Lord, and said to him, Thus says the king, Come forth. And Joab said, I will not come forth, for I will die here. And Banaas son of Joda returned and spoke to the king, saying, Thus has Joab spoken, and thus has he answered me. And the king said to him, Go, and

And Bersabee  went in to king Solomon to speak to him concerning Adonias; and the king rose up to meet her, and kissed her, and diademed her, and set her on the throne, and she was set for the mother of the king, and she sat on his right hand. And she said to him, I ask of thee one little request; turn not away my face from thee. And the king said to her, Ask, my mother, and I will not reject thee. And she said, Let, I pray thee, Abisag the Somanite be given to Adonias thy brother to wife. And king Solomon answered and said to his mother, And why hast thou asked Abisag for Adonias? for he is the king also; and for he is my elder brother, and he has for his companion Abiathar the priest, and Joab the son of Seraiah the commander-in-chief. And king Solomon sent by the hand of the Lord, saying, God do so to me, and more also, if it be not that Adonias has spoken this word against his own life. And now as the Lord lives who has established me, and set me on the throne of my father David, and he has made me a house, as the Lord spoke, this day shall Adonias be put to death. So king Solomon sent by the hand of Banaas the son of Joda, and he slew him, and Adonias died in that day.

And when David was yet living, he charged Solomon, saying, Behold, there is with thee Simeon the son of Gera, of the seed of Benjamin out of Chebron: he cursed me with a grieving curse in the day when I went into the camp; and he came down to meet me at Jordan, and I swore to him by the Lord, saying, 2 He shall not be slain with the sword. But now do not thou hold him guiltless, for thou art a man of understanding, and thou wilt know what thou shouldest do to him, and thou shalt bring down his grey hairs with blood to 3 the grave.

38 And the king called Semei, and said to him, Build thee a house in Jerusalem, and dwell there, and thou shalt not go out thence any whit. 39 And as the king came to pass in the day 4 that thou shalt go forth and cross over the brook Kedron, 5 know assuredly that thou shalt certainly die: thy blood shall be upon thine head. And the king caused him to swear in that day. 40 And Semei said to the king, Good is the word that thou hast spoken, my lord O king: thus will thy servant do. And Semei dwelt in Jerusalem three years.

41 And it came to pass after the three years, that two servants of Semei ran away to Ancho, son of Maacha king of Geth: and it was told Semei, saying, Behold, thy servants are in Geth. 42 And Semei rose up, and saddled his ass, and went to Geth to Ancho to seek out his servants: and Semei went, and brought his servants out of Geth. 43 And it was told Solomon, saying, Semei is gone out of Geth, and has brought back his servants. 44 And the king sent and called Semei, and said to him, Did I not adjure thee by the Lord, and testify to thee, saying, In whatsoever day thou shalt go out of Jerusalem, and go to the right or left, know certainly that thou shalt assuredly die? 45 And why hast thou not kept the oath of the Lord, and the commandment which I commanded thee?

46 And the king said to Semei, Thou knowest all thy mischief which thy heart knows, which thou didst to David my father: and the Lord has recompensed thy mischief on thine own head. 47 And king Solomon is blessed, and the throne of David shall be established before the Lord for ever. And Solomon commanded Baneas the son of Jodaie, and he went forth and slew him.

And king Solomon was very prudent and wise: and Juda and Israel were very many, as the sand which is by the sea, for multitude, eating, and drinking, and rejoicing; and Solomon was chief in all the kingsdoms, and they brought gifts, and served Solomon all the days of his life. And Solomon began to open the domains of Libanus, and he built Tharim in the wilderness. And this was the daily provision of Solomon, thirty measures of fine flour, and sixty measures of meal, andTwenty oxen from the pastures, and a hundred sheep, besides stags, and does, and choice fowl birds. For he ruled in all the country on this side the river, from Raph unto Gaza, over all the kings on this side the river: and he was at peace on all sides round about: and Juda and Israel dwelt safely, every one under his vine and under his fig tree, eating and drinking, and feasting, from Dan even to Bersabee, all the days of Solomon. And these were the princes of Solomon: Azariah son of Sadaee the priest, and Ormni son of Nathan chief of the officers, and he went to his house; And Basi son of Achithalam recorder, and Abi son of Joab commander-in-chief, and Ahire son of Edram was over the Ylevies, and Banaas son of Jodaee over the household and over the brickwork, and Cacur the son of Nathan was counsellor. And Solomon had forty thousand brood mares for his chariots, and twelve thousand horses. And he reigned over all the kings from the river and to the land of the Philistines, and to the borders of Egypt: so Solomon the son of David reigned over Israel and Judah in Jerusalem. 2 Nevertheless the people burnt incense on the high places, because a house had not yet been built for the name of the Lord; 3 And Solomon the son of David was the king over all Israel. 4 According to this Solomon judged all Israel, and his reign was strong over all Israel. 5 And the king loved Judah the more, for the people of Judah had kept the commandments of the Lord their God more than all Israel. 6 Solomon loved Judah so much that he made them judge all Israel; and he set over all Israel officers, priests, and Levites. 7 And Solomon went to Ephraim and Manasseh, and brought them to Judah. 8 And Solomon judged all Israel, and all of them brought gifts, and there came gold, silver, and clothing, and cattle, and oxen, and asses, and abundance of all manner of things; for he had tribute of gold and silver in abundance, and had brass and iron in abundance. 9 For the entering of the kings of Arabia brought spices and gold, and frankincense, and were abundance of all manner of precious stones. before the altar that was in front of the ark of the covenant of the Lord in Zion; and he offered whole-burnt-offerings, and sacrificed peace-offerings, and made a great banquet for himself and all his servants.

And the king said to them, Thou sayest, This is my son, even the living one, and this woman's son is the dead one: and thou sayest, No, but the living is my son, and the dead is thy son.  And the king said, Fetch a sword before the king.  And they brought a sword before the king.  And the king said, Divide the living child, the suckling, in two; and give half of it to one, and half of it to the other.

And the woman whose living child was, answered and said to the king, (for she bawled her yearned over her son) and she said, I pray thee, my lord, give her the child, and in nowise slay it. But the other said, Let it be neither mine nor hers: divide it.

Then the king answered and said, Give the child to her that said, Give it to her, and by no means slay it: she is his mother.

And all Israel heard this judgment which the king judged: and they feared before the king.  And all Israel dwelt in awe; and they saw that the wisdom of God was in him, to execute judgment.

And king Solomon reigned over Israel.

And these are the princes which he had; Azarias son of Sadoc.  Elisaph, and Achia son of Seba, scribes; and Josaphat son of Achijud, recorder.  And Banas son of Jocanah over the host; and Sadaque and Abia than were priests.  And Ornia the son of Nathan was over the officers; and Zabuth the son of Nathan was # the king's friend.

And Achias was steward; and Elina was the chief steward; and Elia the son of Saph was over the family; and Adoniram was the son of Audon over the tribute.

And Solomon had twelve officers over all Israel, to provide for the king and his household; each one's turn came to supply for a month in the year. And these were their names by their places of residence, the chief of the house of Dorc, of Ephraim, one.  The son of Duccar, in Makes, and in Salabim, and Bethamias, and Elon as far as Bethanah, one.  The son of Eski in Armboth; his was Socho, and all the land of Opher.  All Nephthodar belonged to the son of Aminadab, Tephath daughter of Solomon was his wife, one. 12 Bana son of Achialth and Ithamach, and Mageddo, and his was the whole house of San which was by Seathan below Esra, and from Bethsan as far as Sablemaul, as far as Maebber Lucam, one. 13 The son of Naber in Raboth Galaad, to him feld the lot of Ergab in Basan, sixty great cities with walls, and brazen bars, one. 14 Achilad son of Dado, son of Maniam. 15 Achimias was in Nephitalm, and he took Basennath daughter of Solomon to wife, one. 16 Bana son of Chusi, in Aser and in Bualoth; one, 17 Semei son of Eia, in Benjamin. 18 Gaber son of Adai in the land of Gad, the land of Seon king of Eabeon, and of Og king in Basan, and one officer in the land of Judea. 19 Josaphat son of Phuasud was in Issachar. 20 Thus and the officers provided king Solomon: and they execute every one in his month all the orders for the table of the king, they omit nothing. 21 And they carried the barley and the straw for the horses and the chariots to the place where the king might be, each according to his charge.

22 And these were the requisite supplies for Solomon: in one day thirty measures of fine flour, and sixty measures of fine pounded meal, 23 and a hundred choice oxen, and twenty pastured oxen, and a hundred sheep, besides stages, and choice fatted does. 24 For he had dominion on this side the river, and he was at peace on all sides round about.

25 And the Lord gave understanding to Solomon, and very much wisdom, and enlargement of heart, as the sand on the seashore. 26 And Solomon abounded greatly beyond the wisdom of all the ancients, and beyond all the wise men of Egypt. 27 And he was wiser than all other men: and he was wiser than Gaathan the Zarite, and than Anaan, and than Chald and Darala the sons of Mal. 28 And Solomon spoke three thousand proverbs, and his songs were five thousand. 29 And he spoke of trees, from the cedar in Libanus even to the hyssop which comes out through the wall; he spoke also of cattle, and of birds, and of reptiles, and of fishes. 30 And all the nations came to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and ambassadours from all the kings of the earth, as many as heard of his wisdom.

31 And Solomon took to himself the daughter of Pharaoh to wife, and brought her into the city of David until he had finished the house of the Lord, and his own house, and the wall of Jerusalem. Then went up Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and took Gazer, and burnt it and the Chananite dwelling in Megarab; and Pharaoh gave them as a dowry to his daughter the wife of Solomon: and Solomon rebuilt Gazer.

And Chiram king of Tyre sent his servants to anoint Solomon in the room of David his father, because Chiram always loved David. 4 And Solomon sent to Chiram, saying, 5 Thou knewest 5 my father
David, that he could not build a house to the name of the Lord my God 3 because of the wars that compassed him about, until the Lord put them under the yokes of his feet. 4 And now the Lord my God has given me rest round about; there is no one plotting against me, and there is no evil trespass against me. 5 And, behold, I intend to build a house to the name of the Lord my God, as the Lord spoke to my father David, saying, Thy son whom I will set on thy throne in thy place, he shall build a house to my name. 6 And now command, and let men cut wood for me out of Libanus: and, behold, my servants shall be with thy servants, and I will give thee the wages of thy service, according to all that thou shalt say, because thou knowest that we have no one skilled in cutting timber like the Sidonians. 7 And it came to pass, as soon as Chiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoiced greatly, and said, Blessed be the Lord God to-day, who has given to David a wise son over this numerous people. 8 And Solomon sent to Chiram, saying, I have listened concerning all that thou hast sent to me for: I will do all thy will: as for timber of cedars and fir, my servants shall bring them down from Libanus to the sea: I will form them into rafts, and bring them to the place which thou shalt send to me about: and I will stand thereon, and thou shalt take them up: and thou shalt do my will, in giving bread to my household. 9 So Chiram gave to Solomon cedars, and fir trees, and all his desire. 10 And Solomon gave to Chiram twenty thousand measures of wheat, 6 and twenty thousand baths of oil: thus Solomon gave to Chiram yearly. 11 And the Lord gave wisdom to Solomon as he promised him; and there was peace between Chiram and Solomon, and they made a covenant between them. 12 And the king raised a levy out of all Israel; and the levy was thirty thousand men. 13 And he sent them to Libanus, ten thousand taking turn every month: they were a month in Libanus and two months at home: and Adoniram was over the levy. 14 And Solomon had seventy thousand bearers of burdens, and eighty thousand hewers of stone in the mountain; besides the rulers that were appointed over the works of Solomon, there were three thousand six hundred masters who wrought in the works. 15 And they prepared the stones and the timber during three years. 16 And it came to pass in the fourth and fourth year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt, in the fourth year and second month of the reign of king Solomon over Israel, 17 that the king commanded that they should take great and costly stones for the foundation of the house, and hewn stones. 18 And the men of Solomon, and the men of Chiram hewed the stones, and laid them for a foundation.
In the fourth year he laid the foundation of the house of the Lord, in the month Ziu, even in the second month. 5 In the eleventh year, in the month Baal, this is the eighth month, the house was completed according to all its plan, and according to all its arrangement. And the house which the king built for the Lord 6 was forty cubit in length and twenty cubits in breadth, and its height five and twenty cubits. 7 And the porch in front of the temple—twenty cubits was its length according to the breadth of the house in front of the house: and he built the house, and finished it. 8 And he made to the house secret windows inward.

And 9 against the wall of the house he set chambers round about the temple and the ark. 10 The under side was five cubits broad, and the middle part six, and the third was seven cubits broad; for he formed an interval to the house round about without the house, that they might not touch the walls of the house. 11 And the house was built of hewn stone, and rough hewn stones; and neither was he heard in the house in the building of it hammer or axe, or any iron tool. 12 And the porch of the under side was below the right wing of the house, and there was a winding ascent into the middle chamber, and from the middle to the third story. 13 So he built the house and finished it; and he made the ceiling of the house with cedars. 14 And he made the partitions through all the house, each five cubits high, and enclosed each partition with cedar boards. 15 And he framed the walls of the house within with cedar boards, from the floor of the house and on to the inner walls and to the beams: he lined the parts enclosed with boards within, and compassed the inward parts of the house with planks of fir. 16 And he built the twenty cubits from the top of the wall, one side from the floor to the beams, and he made it from the 6 oracle to the most holy place. 17 And the temple was forty cubits in extent, in front of the oracle in the midst of the house within, in order to 7 put there the ark of the covenant of the Lord. 18 The length was twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits, and the height of it twenty cubits.

And he covered it with 8 perfect gold, and he made an altar in front of the oracle, and covered it with gold. 19 And he covered the whole house with gold, 9 till he had finished gilding the whole house. 20 And he made in the oracle two cherubs of ten cubits measured size. 21 And the wing of one cherub was five cubits, and his other wing was five cubits 10 from the tip of one wing to the tip of the other wing. 22 Thus it was with the other cherub, both were alike finished with one measure. 23 And the height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and so was it with the second cherub. 24 And both the cherubs were in the midst of the innermost part of the house; and they spread out their wings, and one wing touched the wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall; and their wings in the midst of the house touched each other. And he covered the cherubs with gold.

23 He graved all the walls of the house round about with the graving of cherubs, and palm trees, and open flowers, and pomegranates, and covered them with gold.

24 And for the door-way of the oracle he made doors of juniper wood: the door posts were one image, and the open doors of one image.

25 And he made two cherubim of olive wood: of a cubit and a half was the height of every cherub.

26 One cherub stretched out ten cubits from the wall to the other cherub.

27 And he made a mercy seat of olive wood: two cubits was the length thereof, and one cubit was the breadth thereof, and two cubits was the height thereof.

28 And he overlaid it with pure gold: and he made a covering for the mercy seat with curtains of blue and purple and scarlet, and of fine twined linen, wrought with figures of cherubim.

29 And he made a table of olive wood: three cubits was the length thereof, and one cubit was the breadth thereof, and two cubits was the height thereof.

30 And he overlaid it with pure gold, and made a mercy seat upon it: and he covered the mercy seat with pure gold.

31 And he made the vessels that were upon the table, of pure gold: the golden wick for the candlestick, and the golden tray, and the golden pouring-vessel, and the golden basin, with its stand.

32 And he made all the vessels that were for the temple of the tabernacle, of pure gold: the candlesticks, and their lampases, and the gold vessels, and the vessels of the sea, and the golden juglets, and the golden bowls, and the golden spoons, and the golden censers, and the dishes, and the censers, and the embroidered work, and the work in purple, and in fine twined linen, and of the curious embroidered work in purple, and in scarlet, and in fine twined linen, and of the cherubim, and of the vases, and of all the vessels that were for the service of the tabernacle, of priestly use, he made all in pure gold.
And he made ten brazen bases: five cubits was the length of one base, and four cubits the breadth of it, and its height was six cubits. And this work of the bases was overlaid with border, and its height was an handbreadth. And upon the top of the bases were lions, and oxen, and cherubim: and on the projections were cherubim, and oxen, and hangings, work. And there were four brazen wheels to one base; and there were brazen bases, and their four sides answering to them, side to side pieces under the bases. And there were twenty wheels in the wheels five under the bases. And the height of one wheel was a cubit and a half. And the work of the wheels was as the work of chariots: their axles, and their felloes, and the rest of their work, were all molten. The four side pieces were at the four corners of each base: its shoulders were formed of the base. And the crumbling stones were ten cubits on the base. And the height of the bases was three cubits and there was a border on the base round about, and its height was a handbreadth, and the border was formed all round the base above, and the height of the bases was a handbreadth. And there was an open work on the bases, and their height was a handbreadth. And the open work of the bases was cherubs, and lions, and palm-trees, upright, each was joined in front and within and round about. According to the same form he made all the ten bases, even one order above another. And one base was the size of it, there was a circle on the top of the base, and there was the top of its spaces and its borders: and it was open at the top of its spaces. And its borders were cherubs, and lions, and palm-trees, upright, each was joined in front and within and round about.

And Chiram made the caldrons, and the pans, and the bowls; and Chiram finished making all the works that he wrought for king Solomon in the house of the Lord: two pillars and the wreathen works of the pillars on the heads of the two pillars; and the two πνευματικά of pomegranates for both the πνευματικά, two rows of pomegranates for one πνευματικά, to cover both the wreathen works of the flowers that were upon the πνευματικά. The four hundred pomegranates for both the πνευματικά, two rows of pomegranates for one πνευματικά, to cover both the wreathen works of the flowers that were upon the πνευματικά. And one sea, and the twelve oxen under the sea. And the caldrons, and pans, and bowls, and all the furniture, which Chiram made for king Solomon for the house of the Lord: and there were eight and forty pillars of the house of the king and of the house of the Lord: all the works of the king which Chiram made were entirely of brass.
was no reckoning of the brass of which he made all these works, from the very great abundance, there was no end of the weight of the brass. 69 In the country round about Jordan did he cast them, in the 5th day land between Socchoth and Sirim.

48 And king Solomon took the furniture which Chiram made for the house of the Lord, the golden altar, and the golden table of shewbread. And he put the fire candlesticks on the left, and on the right, before the oracle, being of pure gold, and the lamp-stands, and the lamps, and the snuffers of gold. 50 And there were made the porch, and the nails, and the bowls, and the spoons, and the golden censers, 51 of pure gold; and the panels of the doors of the innermost part of the house, even the holy of holies, and the golden crown of the temple.

52 So the work of the house of the Lord which Solomon wrought was finished; and Solomon brought in the holy things of David his father, and all the holy things of Solomon; he put the silver, and the gold, and the furniture, into the treasures of the house of the Lord.

1 And Solomon built a house for himself in thirteen years. 2 And he built the house with the wood of Libanus; its length was a hundred cubits, and its breadth was fifty cubits, and its height was of thirty cubits, and it was made with three rows of cedar pillars, and the pillars had side-pieces of cedar. 3 And he made the house with chambers above on the sides of the pillars, and the number of the pillars was 50 each row forty and five, and there were three chambers, and space against space in three rows.

4 And all the doors and spaces formed like chambers were square, and from door to door was a correspondence in three rows. 5 And he made the porch of the pillars, they were fifty cubits long and fifty broad, the porch joining them in front; and the other pillars and the thick beam were in front of the house by the porches. 6 And there was the porch of seats where he would judge, the porch of judgment.

5 And their house where he would dwell, had one court communicating with these according to this work; and he built the house for the daughter of Pharaoh whom Solomon had taken, according to this porch.

9 All these were of costly stones, sculptured at intervals within even from the foundation even to the top, and outward to the great court, founded with large costly stones, stones of ten cubits and eight cubits long. 11 And above with costly stones, according to the measure of hewn stones, and with cedars. 12 There were three rows of hewn stone round about the great hall, and a row of sculptured cedar: and Solomon finished all his house.

And it came to pass when Solomon had finished building the house of the Lord and his own house after twenty years, then king Solomon assembled all the elders of Israel... and the fathers, my fathers, the priests of the Lord, that brought up the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the altar of the burnt offering, and they that ministered to the service of God, and their brethren, the Levites, and all that came from the tribe of Levi.

9 And David made two great courts, courts for the ark, and for the circus大面积的

10 And the priests said unto David, The Lord God of Israel hath given thee one house, to sit upon, as a king, and to build an house for the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and to build an house for Israel.

11 And the king said to the priests: The Lord God of Israel hath given me one house to sit upon, as I have spoken, and to build an house for the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and to build an house for Israel.

12 And the priests answered the king: Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, saying, I have given a rest to Israel, and I have given one of my houses to sit upon, as I have spoken, and to build an house for the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and to build an house for Israel.}

13 Then David perceived the word of the Lord had come to him, in the hands of the priests.

14 Then David said to all the congregation: To-morrow is the feast of the Lord in his tabernacle in Zion, and all the congregation shall be assembled to worship the Lord.}

15 Then said David: To-day shall the ark of the covenant of the Lord be brought into the tabernacle of the Lord.

16 So all the congregation came together to the tabernacle of the Lord: and the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

17 And David, in presence of all the congregation, offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerings, and presented incense to the Lord.

18 And, when the priest, when the ark of the covenant of the Lord was brought in, and had stood before the altar, David offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerings, and presented incense to the Lord, and said, O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heaven above, or on earth beneath, and in all that thou hast made, for in thine hand there is power and might: for thine empire is great, and thy strength is mighty. And now I have set up a house, an everlasting house of David, to build a house for the ark of the Lord, and to offer burnt sacrifices and peace offerings, and to make thine armour strong against thine enemies.

19 So David in presence of all the congregation dedicated the tabernacle of the Lord.

20 And David spake to all the congregation: My son Solomon, whom I have chosen to build an house for the ark of the Lord, and to build a house for Israel, shall be anointed king over Israel.}

21 And David spake further to the congregation: Solomon my son, whom I have chosen to build an house for the Lord, and to build a house for Israel, shall be anointed king over Israel.

22 And David spake further to the congregation: Solomon my son, whom I have chosen to build an house for the Lord, and to build a house for Israel, shall be anointed king over Israel.

23 And when all the congregation had been in presence of the Lord in the tabernacle of the Lord, and had eaten and drunk, and had rejoiced greatly, the Lord spake to David, and said: Solomon my son, whom I have chosen to build an house for the Lord, and to build a house for Israel, shall be anointed king over Israel.}

24 And the Lord spake further to David, and said: Solomon thy son, whom I have chosen to build an house for the Lord, and to build a house for Israel, shall be anointed king over Israel.

25 And the Lord spake further to David, and said: Solomon thy son, whom I have chosen to build an house for the Lord, and to build a house for Israel, shall be anointed king over Israel.

26 And the Lord spake further to David, and said: Solomon thy son, whom I have chosen to build an house for the Lord, and to build a house for Israel, shall be anointed king over Israel.

27 And the Lord spake further to David, and said: Solomon thy son, whom I have chosen to build an house for the Lord, and to build a house for Israel, shall be anointed king over Israel.
for thou hast spoken by thy mouth and thou hast fulfilled it with thine hands, as at this day. 25 And now, O Lord God of Israel, keep for thy servant David my father the promises which thou hast spoken to him, saying, There shall not be taken from thee a man sitting before thee on the throne of Israel, provided only thy children keep their way to walk before me as thou hast walked before me. 26 And now, O Lord God of Israel, let, I pray thee, thy word to David my father be confirmed.

But will God indeed dwell with men upon the earth? if the heaven and heaven of heavens will not contain thee, how much lesse will this house which I have builded to thy name? 28 Yet, O Lord God of Israel, shouldest thou look upon my petition, to hear the prayer which thy servant prays to thee in thy presence this day, 29 that thine eyes may be open toward this house day and night, even toward the place of which thou saidst, My name shall be there, to hear the prayer which thy servant prays at this place day and night. 30 And thou shalt hearken to the prayer of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, which they shall pray toward this place; and thou shalt hear in thy dwelling-place in heaven, and thou shalt do and be gracious.

When thou trespasst any one shall commit against his neighbour,—and if he shall take upon him an oath so that he should swear, and he shall come and make confession before thine altar in this house, 32 then shalt thou hear from heaven, and do, and thou shalt judge thy people Israel, that the righteous that are in thy sight thou holdest, may punishment compense his way upon his head; and to justify the righteous, to give to him according to his righteousness.

When thy people Israel falls before enemies, because they shall sin against thee, and they shall return and confess to thy name, and they shall pray and supplicate in this house; then shalt thou hear from heaven, and be gracious to the sins of thy people Israel, and thou shalt restore them to the land which thou gavest to their fathers. 35 When the heaven is restrained, and there is no rain, because they shall sin against thee, and they shall pray toward this place, and shall make confession to thy name, and shall turn from their sins when thou shalt have humbled them, 36 then thou shalt hear from heaven, and be merciful to the sins of thy servant and of thy people Israel; for thou shalt shew them the good way to walk in it, and thou shalt give rain upon the earth, when thou hast given to thy people for an inheritance. 37 If there should be famine, if there should be death, because there should be blasting, locust, or if there should be mildew, and if their enemy oppress them in any one of their cities, with regard to every calamity, every trouble, in which their prayer, every supplication whatever shall be made by any man, as they shall know each the plague of his heart, and shall spread abroad his hands to this house, 38 then shalt thou hearken from sou, and in every place where they shall set up an altar, and in every place where I shall remember my name, 39 that I may come to bless thee, if thou shalt walk before me to keep all my commandments, as thou commandest them, and thou shalt do them.

heaven, out of thine established dwelling-place, and shalt be merciful, and shalt do, and recompense to every man according to his ways, as thou shalt know in a land which thou hast given to the heart of all the children of men: 46 that they may fear thee all the days that they live upon the land, which thou hast given to our fathers.

44 And for the stranger who is not of thy people, 45 when they shall come and pray toward this place, 46 then shalt thou hear them from heaven, out of thine established dwelling place, and shall do according to all that the stranger shall call upon thee for, that all the nations may know thy name, and fear thee, as do thy people Israel, and may know that thy name has been called on this house which I have built.

"If it be that thy people shall go forth to war against their enemies in the way by which thou shalt turn them, and pray in the name of the Lord toward the city which thou hast given to the heart of all the children of men:
which I have built to thy name: 46 then shalt thou hear from heaven their supplication and their prayer, and shall execute judgment for them.

"If it be that they shall sin against thee, (for there is not a man who will not sin,) and thou shalt bring them and deliver them up before their enemies, and they that take them captive shall carry them to a land far or near, 46 and they shall turn their hearts in the land whither they have been carried captives, and turn in the land of their sojourning, and supplicate thee, saying, We have sinned, we have done unjustly, we have transgressed, 48 and they shall turn to thee with all their heart, and with all their soul, in the land of their enemies whither thou hast carried them captives, and shall pray to thee toward their land which thou hast given to their fathers, and the city which thou hast chosen, and the house which I have built to thy name: 46 then shalt thou hear from heaven thine established dwelling-place, 48 and thou shalt be merciful to their unrighteousness wherein they have trespassed against thee, and shall not give all their trespass against thee, and their transgressions and the iniquities of their fathers and shall cause them to be pitted before them that carried them captives, and they shall have compassion on them: 51 for they are thy people and thine inheritance, whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, out of the midst of the furnace of iron. 52 And let thine eyes be open and thine ears be opened to the supplication of thy servant, and to the supplication of thy people Israel, to hearken to them in all things for which they shall call upon thee. 53 Because thou hast set them apart for an inheritance to thyself out of all the nations of the earth, as thou spakest by the hand of thy servant Moses, when thou broughtest out our fathers out of the land of Egypt, 54 O Lord God—Thou didst speak to Solomon concerning the house, when he had finished building it—He manifested the sun in the heaven: the Lord said he would dwell in darkness: build thou my house, a beautiful house for thyself to dwell in anew. Behold, is not this written in the book of the song?
And it came to pass when Solomon had finished praying to the Lord all this prayer and supplication, that he rose up from before the altar of the Lord, after having knelt upon his knees, and his hands were spread out towards heaven.

And he stood, and blessed all the congregation of Israel with a loud voice, saying, 11 Blessed be the Lord this day, who has given rest to his people Israel, according to all that he said: there has not failed one word among all his good words which he spoke by the hand of his servant Moses.

May the Lord our God be with us, as he was with our fathers; let him not desert us nor turn from us, 12 that he may turn our hearts toward him to walk in all his ways, and to keep all his commandments, and his ordinances which he commanded our fathers. 13 And let these words, 14 which I have prayed before the Lord our God, be near to the Lord our God day and night, to maintain the cause of thy servant, and the cause of thy people Israel, forever.

That all the nations of the earth may know that the Lord God, he is God, and there is none beside. 15 And let our hearts be perfect toward the Lord our God, to walk also holily in his ordinances, and to keep his commandments, 16 as at this day.

And the king and all the children of Israel offered sacrifice before the Lord. 17 And king Solomon offered for the sacrifices of peace-offering which he sacrificed to the Lord, the two and twenty thousand oxen, an hundred and twenty thousand sheep: and the king and all the children of Israel dedicated the house of the Lord. 18 In that day the king consecrated the middle of the court in the front of the house of the Lord; for there he offered the whole-burnt-offering, and the sacrifices, and the fat of the peace-offerings, because the brazen altar which was before the Lord was too little to bear the whole-burnt-offering and the sacrifices of peace-offerings.

And Solomon kept the feast in that day, and all Israel with him, even a great assembly from the entering in of Hemath to the river of Egypt, before the Lord our God in the house which he built, eating and drinking, and rejoicing before the Lord our God seven days. 20 And on the eighth day he sent away the people: and they blessed the king, and each departed to his tabernacle rejoicing, and their heart was glad because of the good things which the Lord had done to his servant David, and to Israel his people.

And it came to pass when Solomon had finished building the house of the Lord, and the king's house, and all the work of Solomon, whatever he wished to perform, 21 that the Lord appeared to Solomon a second time, as he appeared in Gabaon.

And the Lord said to him, I have heard the voice of thy prayer, and thy supplication which thou madest before me: I have done for thee according to all thy prayer: I have hallowed this house which thou hast built.
And when she had answered the king, she sat on a seat set for kings.

And Solomon, and all the lords of all the land, and the princes, and the judges, had gathered together unto Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord, out of the city of David, which is Jerusalem.

And all the children of Israel assembled as one man unto the congregation, in the temple of耶和华, to bring up the ark of the covenant of耶和华, which is called the name of the Lord, and which was set up there.

And all the people were gathered together as one man unto the temple of耶和华, and brought up Pharaoh’s daughter, the daughter of Pharaoh, out of the Egyptian royal household, whom she had borne to Pharaoh, and they brought up with them the ark of the covenant of耶和华.

And all the congregation of Israel were gathered together to the king at Jerusalem, and spake every man the words of his lips.

And all the congregation of Israel were gathered together to the king, to bring up the ark of the covenant of耶和华, and to celebrate the feast of tabernacles, which was in the seventh month.

And all the congregation of Israel assembled to the king, and said, "He shall reign over us, even the Lord our God, according to all that is spoken of him."
of Solomon, and the house which he built, 8 and the provision of Solomon and the sitting of his attendants, and the standing of his servants, and his reit, and his cup-bearers, and his whole burnt-offering which he offered in the house of the Lord, and she was utterly amazed. 9 And she said to King Solomon, It was a true report which I heard of thy words and thy wisdom. 10 But I believed not them that told me, until I came and my eyes saw: and, behold, the words as they reported to me are not the half: thou hast exceeded in good report which I heard in my land. 11 Blessed are thy wives, blessed are these thy servants who stand before thee continually, who hear all thy wisdom. 12 Blessed be the Lord thy God, who has taken pleasure in thee, to set thee upon the throne of Israel, because the Lord loved Israel to establish him for ever; and he has made thee king over them, to execute judgment with justice, and in their causes.

13 And she gave to Solomon a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and very many spices, and precious stones: there had not come any other spices so abundant as those which the queen of Saba gave to King Solomon.

14 And the ship of Chiram which brought the gold from Suphir, brought very much hewn timber and precious stones. 15 And the king made the hewn timber into buttresses of the house of the Lord, and the king's house, and lyres and harps for singers: such hewn timber had not come upon the earth, nor have been seen anywhere until this day. 16 And King Solomon gave to the queen of Saba all that she desired, whatsoever she asked, besides all that he had given her 17 by the hand of King Solomon: and she returned, and came into her own land, she and her servants.

18 And the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold. 19 Besides the tributes of them that were subjects, both merchants and all the kings of the country beyond the river, and of the princes of the land.

19 And Solomon made three hundred spears of beaten gold: three hundred shekels of gold were upon one spear. 20 And three hundred shields of beaten gold; and three pounds of gold were in one shield: and the king put them in the house of the forest of Lebanon.

21 And the king made a great ivory throne, and gilded it with pure gold. 22 The throne had six steps, and calves in bold relief to the throne behind it, and side-pieces on either hand of the place of the seat, and two lions standing by the side-pieces, 23 and twelve lions standing there on the six steps on either side: it was not so done in any other kingdom. 24 And all the vessels made by Solomon were of gold, and the lavers were golden, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were of pure gold; there was no silver, for it was not accounted of in and the days of Solomon. 2 For Solomon had a ship of Tharsis in the sea with the ships of Chiram: one ship came to the king every three years out of Tharsis, laden with gold and silver, and 5 wrought stones, and hewn stones.

This was the arrangement of the provision which king Solomon fetched to build the house of the Lord, and the house of the king, and the wall of Jerusalem, and the citadel; to fortify the city of David, and Assur, and Magadal, and Gazer, and Bethoron the upper, and Jethemath, and all the cities of the chariots, and all the cities of the horsemen.

For Solomon made nothing in common with the king of Tyre, neither with the king of Egypt; for the king of Tyre had given to him and his mother, for his mother was a woman of Tyre.

And Solomon increased beyond all the kings of the earth in wealth and wisdom. And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to hear his wisdom which the Lord had put into his heart.

And they brought every one their gifts, vessels of gold, and raiment, and spices, and horses, and mules, a rate year by year. And Solomon had four thousand prelates for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen:

And he put them in the cities of his chariots, and with the king in Jerusalem: and he ruled over all the kings from the river to the land of the Philistines, and to the borders of Egypt.

And the king made gold and silver in Jerusalem as stone, and he made cedars as the sycamores in the plain for multitude. And the goings forth of Solomon's horsemen was in peace out of Egypt, and the king's merchants were of Thecue; and they received them out of Thecue at a price.

And that which proceeded out of Egypt went up thus, even a chariot for a hundred shekels of silver, and a horse for fifty shekels of silver: and thus for all the kings of the Chettians, and the kings of Syria, they came out by sea.

And king Solomon was a lover of women. And he had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines. And he took strange women, as well as the daughter of Pharao, Moabitis, Ammanitis, Siboris, and Idumas, and Chetennis.

11 And the king made Solomon a throne of ivory: and he set two闪电 in one silver sea: and he made royal seats for all his chariots, and for all his company; and put them in Solomon's ruler.
Solomon, that his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David his father. And the strange women turned away his heart after their gods. Then Solomon built a high place to Chemosh the idol of Moab, and to Millov the idol of the children of Ammon, and to Ashtaroth the abomination of the Sidonians, and thus he acted towards all his strange wives, who burnt incense and sacrificed to their idols. And Solomon did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord; he went not after the Lord, as David his father.

And the Lord was angry with Solomon, because he turned away his heart from the Lord God of Israel, who had appeared twice to him, and charged him concerning this matter, by no means to go after other gods, but to take heed to do what the Lord God commanded him; neither was his heart perfect with the Lord, according to the heart of David his father. And the Lord said to Solomon, Because it has been thus with thee, and thou hast not kept my commandments and my ordinances which I commanded my servant David, I will surely rend thy kingdom out of thy hand, and give it to thy servant.

Only in thy days I will not do it for David thy father's sake: but I will take it out of the hand of thy son. Only I will not take away the whole kingdom: I will give one tribe to thy son for David my servant's sake, and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel; that I may exalt the house of thy father above all the houses of Israel; for he kept my commandments and my statutes, which I commanded my servant David. And the Lord raised up an enemy to Solomon, Adonijah the son of Eliada which dwelt in Raamah, and Adadzeer the king of Suba his master; (men gathered to him, and he was head of the conspiracy, and he seized on David.) And they were adversaries to Israel all the days of Solomon; and Adonijah the Idumean was of the seed royal in Idumea. And it happened, that while David was utterly destroying Edom, while Joab captain of the host was going to bury the dead, when they slew every male in Idumea; (for Joab and all Israel abode there six months in Idumea, until he utterly destroyed every male in Idumea;) that Adonijah ran away, he and all the Idumæans of the servants of his father with him; and they went into Egypt; and Adonijah was then a little child.

And there rise up men out of the city of Madiam, and they come to Pharao, and take men with them, and come to Pharao king of Egypt: and Adonijah went in to Pharao, and he gave him a house, and appointed him provost. And Adonijah found great favour in the sight of Pharao, and he gave him his wife's sister in marriage, the elder sister of Thekemina. And the sister of Thekemina bore to him, even to Adonijah, Ganebath her son; and Thekemina brought him up in the midst of the sons of Pharao, and Ganebath was in the midst of the sons of Pharao.

And Adonijah heard in Egypt that David slept with his fathers, and that Joab the captain of the host was dead; and Adonijah said to Pharao, Let me go, and I will return to my country. And Pharao said to Adonijah, Why then hast thou not come to me? What is it that thou hast to say in my ear? And Adonijah said to Pharao, I have a request to make to thee. And Pharao said, Say on. And Adonijah said, O my lord the king, Adonijah thy servant hath a request to make to thee. And the king said, Say on. I and my servants, and all Israel, have in my lord the king's sight. And Adonijah said, Thy servant Adonijah hath a request to make to my lord the king. And the king said, Say on. Adonijah said, My lord, my lord the king, was content with all that Solomon my lord the king did. And my lord the king went up to the altar to offer sacrifice, and I your servants took our lives in our hands, and we burnt sacrifice, and we offered burnt sacrifice, and we ate and drank before our lord the king, and said, Blessed be my lord the king. And it was, when the heart of my lord the king was merry with thee, and with thy servants, that they had sacrificed; and it pleased my lord the king to give the two youngest daughters of Jeroboam king of Israel to Adonijah your servant. And I your servant said, What shall I do now? And my lord the king said unto thy servant, Do not be afraid. Only, take an ass, and ride upon it, and go to my servant Jeroboam the son of Nebat in Zarephath of Taphath; for he is a prophet, and he shall help thee. And for thy part, be strong, and do not let thine heart be faint, because the Lord will not abnegate a word of all these good things which he promised thy father David. Only, consider, and hear, and take thy choice, and do all the good that is in thine hand. And Adonijah said, I will do according to thy word. And he said, Go in, and tell our lord the king all that thy servant hath said. And Adonijah went to Zarephath to Jeroboam. And he said to Jeroboam, Solomon my lord the king desired of me this day, saying, Will you give me one of your daughters to marry to my son Adonijah? And I said to my lord the king, As the Lord liveth, and as my lord the king liveth, my lord the king, the servant of my lord the king, can speak no word to my lord the king. But Solomon my lord the king said to me, Take unto thee Bethsatha in Zarephath of Taphath; for she is a daughter of the king's concubines, and she shall be to me a woman of the daughters of the king. And I will give unto thee one of the girls of the daughters of the king to marry to thy son Adonijah. And I said, As the Lord liveth, and as my lord the king liveth, as I swear by the Lord, Solomon my lord the king did not speak to me thus. And Adonijah said to me, Speak not after the word of my lord the king, who hath said, Give unto me one of the girls of the daughters of the king to marry to my son Adonijah. And I said to him, What shall I say? Am not I a son of Zeruiah, and is not Bichai the son of Zeruiah greater in these days than I? And why doth my lord the king speak such words as these? for he knoweth that I am set to judge this day against him. And Adonijah of Israel said, Behold, the king's son is not set over the multitude of his father's servants; and he hath not brought the multitude of his father's servants to know him, who are the men of Israel. And he said, See, they say now after the word of my lord the king, saying, In this manner the king desired Adonijah, and will not give him to the house of David. And for this reason I have in my heart to speak to my lord the king, saying, Let Adonijah have the kingdom: for he is an elder son, and I am not he. And now, my lord the king, as thy servant hath sworn before thee by the Lord, thy God, saying, Surely I will not put away the house of my father. Now therefore, the king is my lord the king, and my lord the king has spoken, saying, I will give to Adonijah one of the girls of the daughters of the king to marry to him. Therefore, now, behold, I beseech my lord the king, let not Adonijah take to himself a wife, lest my lord the king be angry, and he bring disaster upon me and my palace. And it shall be, when the king is angry, and it shall come to pass, that I shall be innocent of this crime.
Acheria and idols. To keep them, he said, was to be an enemy of God, and he resigned his kingdom to his son.

And Jeroboam the son of Nabad, the Ephraimite of Sarepta, the son of a woman, west-born, of Israel. This was the occasion of his lifting up his hand against King Solomon: now King Solomon built the citadel, he completed the fortification of the city of David his father.

And the man Jeroboam was very strong; and Solomon saw the young man that he was active, and he set him over the levites of the house of Joseph.

And it came to pass at that time, that Jeroboam went forth from Jerusalem, and Achia the Selonite the prophet found him in the way, and caused him to turn aside out of the way: and Achia was clad with a new garment, and they two were alone in the field.

And Achia laid hold of his new garment that was upon him, and tore it in twelve pieces: and he said to Jeroboam, Take to thyself ten pieces of this; that saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give thee ten tribes.

Yet he shall have two tribes, for my servant David's sake, and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel.

Because he sowed not, and he hath reaped not, neither hath clothed the vine, nor shall he gather grapes thereof.

But I will rend the kingdom out of the hand of his son, and give thee ten tribes.

But to his son I will give the two remaining tribes, that my servant David may have an establishment continually before me in Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen for myself to put my name there.

And I will take thee, and thou shalt be king over Israel.

And it shall come to pass, if thou wilt keep all the commandments that I shall command thee, and wilt walk in my ways, and do that which is right before me, to keep my ordinances and my commandments, as David my servant did, that I will be with thee, and will build thee a sure house, as I built to David.

And Solomon sought to slay Jeroboam: but he arose and fled into Egypt, to Saisim, king of Egypt, and he was in Egypt until Solomom died.

And the rest of the history of Solomon, and all that he did, and all his wisdom, behold, are not these things written in the book of the life of Solomon? And the days that Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel were forty years.
And Solomon slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David his father. And it came to pass when Jeroboam son of Nabat heard of it, even while he was yet in Egypt as he fled from the face of Solomon and dwelt in Egypt, he straightway comes into his own city, into the land of Surra in the mount of Ephrail. And king Solomon slept with his fathers, and Roboam his son reigned in his stead.

And king Roboam goes to Sikima; for all Israel were coming to Sikima to make him king. And the people spoke to king Roboam, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy; but do thou now lighten somewhat of the hard service of thy father, and of his heavy yoke which he put upon us, and we will serve thee. And he said to them, Depart for three days, and return to me. And they departed.

And the king referred the matter to the elders, who stood before Solomon his father while he was yet living, saying, How do ye advise that I should answer this people? And they spoke to him, saying, If thou wilt this day be a servant to this people, thee, and will speak to them good words, then will they be thy servants continually.

But he forsook the counsel of the old men which they gave him, and consulted with the young men who were brought up with him, who stood in his presence. And he said to them, What counsel do ye give? And what shall I answer to this people who speak to me, saying, Lighten somewhat of the yoke which thy father has put upon us?

And the young men who had been brought up with him, who stood before his face, spoke to him, saying, Thus shalt thou say to this people who have spoken to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, and do thou now lighten it from off us: thus shalt thou say to them, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins.

Whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I also will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

And all Israel came to king Roboam on the third day, as the king spoke to them, saying, Return to me on the third day. And the king answered the people harshly: and Roboam forsook the counsel of the old men which they counseled him. And he spoke to them according to the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

And the king hearkened not to the people, because the change was from the Lord, that he might establish his word which he spoke by Achin the Selonite concerning Jeroboam the son of Nabat. And all Israel saw that the king did not hearken to them; and the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David? 23 neither have we any inheritance in the son of Jesse. Depart, O Israel, to thy tents: now feed thine own house, David. So Israel departed to his tents.

13 And the king sent Adoniram who was over the tribute; and they stoned him with stones, and he died: and king Roboam made haste to rise to flee to Jerusalem.

19 So Israel rebelled against the house of David until this day. 20 And it came to pass when all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned out of Egypt, that they sent and called him to the assembly, and they made him king over Israel: and none followed the house of David except the tribe of Juda and Benjamin only.

21 And Roboam went into Jerusalem, and he assembled the congregation of Judah, and the tribe of Benjamin, a hundred and twenty thousand chief men and young men, warriors, to fight against the house of Israel, to recover the kingdom to Roboam the son of Solomon.

22 And the word of the Lord came to Samsia the man of God, saying, 23 Speak to Roboam the son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all the house of Juda and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not go up, neither shall ye fight against the house of Israel: return each man to his own home; for this thing is from me; and they hearkened to the word of the Lord, and they ceased from going up, according to the word of the Lord.

So king Solomon sleeps with his fathers, and is buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Roboam his son reigned in his stead in Jerusalem, being sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twelve years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Naanah, daughter of Ana son of Naas king of the children of Ammon. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and walked not in the way of David his father.

And there was a man of mount Ephraim, a servant to Solomon, and his name was Jeroboam; and the name of his mother was Sarira, a harlot; and Solomon made him head of the levies of the house of Joseph: and he built for Solomon Sarira in mount Ephraim: and he had three hundred chariots of horses: he built the citadel with the levies of the house of Ephraim; he fortified the city of David, and aspired to the kingdom. And Solomon sought to kill him; and he was afraid, and escaped to Susakim king of Egypt, and was with him until Solomon died.

And Jeroboam heard in Egypt that Solomon was dead; and he spoke in the ears of Susakim king of Egypt, saying, Let me go, and I will depart into my land; and Susakim said to him, Ask any request, and I will grant it thee. And Susakim gave to Jero-
And Jeroboam departed out of Egypt, and came into the land of Sarira that was in mount Ephraim, and thither the whole tribe of Ephraim assembled, and Jeroboam built a fortress there.

And his young child was sick with a very severe sickness; and Jeroboam went to enquire of God the child: and he said to Aho his wife, arise, go, enquire of God concerning the child, whether he shall recover from his sickness. Now there was a man in Selom, and his name was Achia: and he was sixty years old, and the word of the Lord was with him. And Jeroboam said to his wife, arise, and take in thine hand bread for the man of God, and cakes for his children, and grapes, and a pot of honey. And the woman arose, and took in her hand bread, and two cakes, and grapes, and a pot of honey, for Achia: and the man was old, and his eyes were dim, so that he could not see. And she arose from him, and went out, and came to pass when she had come into the city to Achia the Selonite, that Achia said to his servant, Go out now to meet Aho the wife of Jeroboam, and thou shalt say to her, Come in, and stand not still: for thus saith the Lord, I send grievous tidings to thee. And Aho went in to the man of God, and Aho said to her, Why hast thou brought me bread and grapes, and cakes, and a pot of honey? Thus saith the Lord, Behold, thou shalt depart from me, and it shall come to pass when thou hast entered into the city, even into Sarira, that thy maidens shall come out to meet thee, and shall say to thee, The child is dead: for thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will destroy every male of Jeroboam, and there shall be the dead of Jeroboam in the city, then the dogs shall eat, and him that has died in the field shall the birds of the air eat, and he shall lament for the child, saying, Woe is me, Lord! for there has been found in some man some thing touching the Lord. And the woman departed, when she heard this; and it came to pass as she entered into Sarira, that the child died; and there came forth a wailing to meet her. And Jeroboam went to Sikima in mount Ephraim, and assembled there the tribes of Israel; and Roboam the son of Solomon went up thither. And the word of the Lord came to Samias son of Enlam, saying, Take to thyself a new garment which has not gone into the water, and rend it into twelve pieces; and thou shalt give some to Jeroboam, and shall say to him, Thus saith the Lord, Take to thyself ten pieces to cover thee: and Jeroboam took them: and Samias said, Thus saith the Lord concerning the ten tribes of Israel.

And the people said to Roboam the son of Solomon, Thy father made his yoke heavy upon us, and made the meat of his table heavy; and now thou shalt lighten them.

up on us, and we will serve thee. And Roboam said to the people, Wait three days, and I will return you an answer: and Roboam said, Bring in to me the elders, and I will consult counsel with them, and I will shew you what shall answer to the people on the third day. So Roboam spoke in their ears, as the people sent to him to say: and the elders of the people said, Thus the people have spoken to thee.

And Roboam rejected their counsel, and it pleased him not; and he sought counsel and brought in those who had been brought up with him; and he said to them, Thus and thus has the people sent to me to say: and they that had been brought up with him said, Thus shalt thou speak to the people, saying, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins; my father scourged you with whips, but I will rule you with scorpions.

And the saying pleased Roboam, and he answered the people as the young men, they that were brought up with him, counselled him: and all the people spoke as one man, every one to his neighbour, and they cried out all together, saying, We have no part in David, nor inheritance in the son of Jesse: to thy tents, O Israel, every one; for this thing is from me. And all the people was dispersed from Sikimu, and they departed every one to his tent: and Roboam strengthened himself and departed, and mounted his chariot, and entered into Jerusalem: and there follow him the whole tribe of Juda, and the whole tribe of Benjamin. And it came to pass at the beginning of the year, that Roboam gathered all the men of Juda and Benjamin, and went up to fight with Jeroboam at Sikimu. And the word of the Lord came to Samaas the man of God, saying, Speak to Roboam king of Juda, and to all the house of Juda and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not go up, neither shall ye fight with your brethren the people of Israel: return every man to his house, for this thing is from me. And they hearkened to the word of the Lord, and forbore to go up, according to the word of the Lord.

And Jeroboam built Sikimu in mount Ephraim and dwelt in it, and went forth thence and built Pheanue. And Jeroboam said in his heart, Behold, now the kingdom will return to the house of David, and the nations shall be as leaves because of the house of Judah. If this people shall go up to offer sacrifice in the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, then the heart of the people will return to the Lord, and to their master, to Roboam king of Juda, and they will slay me. And the king took counsel, and went, and made two golden heifers, and said to the people, Let it suffice you, I have gone to to Jerusalem: and the people said to the king, Go in peace. And the king sailed away to Jerusalem.

2And he put one in Bethel, and he put the other in Dan. And this thing became a sin; and the people went before one as far as Dan, and left the house of the Lord.

3And he made houses on the high places, and made priests of any part of the people, who were not of the sons of Levi.
And Jeroboam appointed a feast in the eight month, on the fifteenth day of the month, according to the feast in the land of Judah; 2 and went up to the altar which he made in Bethel to sacrifice; and he set the heifers which he had made in Bethel on the pedestals of the high places which he had made. And he went up to the altar which he had made, on the fifteenth day in the eighth month, at the feast which he devised out of his own heart; and he made a feast to the children of Israel, and went up to the altar to sacrifice.

And behold, there came a man of God out of Judah by the word of the Lord to Bethel, and Jeroboam stood at the altar to sacrifice.
2 And he cried against the altar by the word of the Lord, and said, O altar, altar, thus saith the Lord, Behold, a son is to be born to the house of David, 3 Josias by name; and he shall offer upon thee the priests of the high places, even of them that sacrificed upon thee, and he shall burn men's bones upon thee. 4 And in that day one shall give a sign, saying, This is the word which the Lord has spoken, saying, Behold, the altar is rent, and the fatness upon it shall be poured out.

And it came to pass when king Jeroboam heard the words of the man of God which called on the altar that was in Bethel, that the king stretched forth his hand from the altar, saying, Take hold of him. And behold, his hand, which he stretched forth against him, withered, and he could not draw it back to himself. 5 And the altar was rent, and the fatness was poured out from the altar, according to the sign which the man of God gave by the word of the Lord. 6 And king Jeroboam said to the man of God, Intreat the Lord thy God, and let my hand be restored to me. And the man of God intreated the Lord, and he restored the king's hand to him, and it became as before.

7 And the king said to the man of God,
Enter with me into the house, and dine, and I will give thee a gift. And the man of God said, I will not eat bread, nor come into the house, nor drink water, but as the Lord said to me, so shall I do. 8 And so he departed by another way, and returned not by the way by which he came to Bethel.

11 And there dwelt an old prophet in Bethel; and his sons came and told him all the works that the man of God did on that day in Bethel, and the words which he spoke to the king: and they turned the face of their father. 12 And their father spoke to them, saying, Which way went he? and his sons shew him the way by which the man of God who came out of Judah went up. 13 And he said to his sons, Saddle me the ass: and they saddled him the ass, and he mounted it; 14 and went after the man of God, and found him sitting under an oak:
and he said to him, Art thou the man of God that came out of Judah? And he said to him, I am. And he said to him, Come with me and eat bread. 16 And he said to him, Shall I not by any means be able to return with thee, neither will I eat bread, neither will I drink water in this place. 17 For thus the Lord commanded me by word, saying, Eat not bread there, and drink not water, and return not thither by the way by which thou camest.

18 And he said to him, I also am a prophet as thou art; and an angel spoke to me by the word of the Lord, saying, Bring him back to thee into thy house, and let him eat bread and drink water: but he lied to him. 19 And he brought him back, and he ate bread and drank water in his house.

20 And it came to pass while they were sitting at the table, that the word of the Lord came to the prophet that brought him back; 21 and he spoke to the man of God that came out of Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Go, and return to the man, whose heart was in the path of the Lord, 22 and say to him, Thy servant heard the word that thou hast spoken to Jeroboam son of Nebat, saying, Thou shalt return to thy own house, and thou shalt not see the face of the prophet, nor come again to him any more. But, behold, the Lord hath sent to call thee, saying, Go, tell Jeroboam son of Nebat, Thus saith the Lord, Forasmuch as I set thy father's house above all houses, and gave thee a greater house, and increased thee as the house of David, yet have thou not kept the commandment which the Lord thy God commanded thee.

23 But hast returned, and eaten bread and drink water in the place of which he spoke to thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat bread, and shalt not drink water; therefore thy body shall in nowise enter into the sepulchre of thy fathers.

24 And it came to pass as he had eaten bread and drunk water, that he saddled the ass for him, and he turned and departed. 25 And a lion found him in the way, and slew him; and his body was cast out in the way, and the ass was standing by it, and the lion also was standing by the body. 26 And, behold, men were passing by, and saw the carcase cast in the way, and the lion was standing near the carcase: and they went in and spoke of it in the city where the old prophet dwelt. 27 And the prophet that turned him back out of the way heard, and said, This is the man of God which the Lord rebuked against the word of the Lord. 28 And he went and found the body cast in the way, and the ass and the lion were standing by the body: and the lion had not devoured the body of the man of God, and had not torn the ass.

29 And the prophet took up the body of the man of God, and laid it on his ass; and the prophet brought him back to his city, to bury him in his own tomb, 30 and they bewailed him, saying, Alas, brother. 31 And it came to pass after he had lamented him, that he spake to his sons, saying, Whoever I die, 32 in this town, where the man of God is buried, that is to be done for him: 33 and after this Jeroboam turned not from his sin, but he turned and made part of the people priests of the high places: whoever would, he consecrated him, and he became a priest for the high places.

And Roboam son of Solomon ruled over Judah. Roboam was forty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in the city Jerusalem, which the Lord chose to put his name there out of all the tribes of Israel: and his mother’s name was Naama the Ammonitess.

And Roboam did evil in the sight of the Lord; and he provoked him in all the things which his fathers did in their sins which they sinned.

And they built for themselves high places, and pillars, and planted groves on every high hill, and under every shady tree. And there was a conspiracy in the land, and they did according to all the abominations that the nations which the Lord removed from before the children of Israel.

And it came to pass in the fifth year of the reign of Roboam, Sussim king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem; and took all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the house of the king’s house, and the golden spears which David took out of the hand of the sons of Adrazaar king of Suba, and brought them into Jerusalem, even till that he had none, but the golden shields which Solomon had made; and carried them away into Egypt.

And king Roboam made brazen shields instead of them; and the chief of the body guard, who kept the gate of the house of the king, were placed in charge over them.

And it came to pass when the king went into the house of the Lord, that the body guard took them up, and hied them in the chamber of the body guard.

And the rest of the history of Roboam, and all that he did, behold, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? And there was war between Roboam and Jeroboam continually.

And Roboam slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Abiu his son reigned in his stead.

And in the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam son of Nabat, Abiu son of Roboam reigned over Judah. And he reigned three years over Jerusalem; and his mother’s name was Maacha, daughter of Abiessum.

And he walked in the sins of his father which he wrought in his presence, and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of his father David.

Howbeit for David’s sake the Lord gave him a remnant, that he might establish his children after him, and might establish Jerusalem. Also as much as David did that which was right in the sight of the Lord: he turned not from any thing that he commanded him all the days of his life.

And the rest of the history of Abiu, and all that he did, behold, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the children of Judah and Benjamin.

the kings of Juda. 9 And there was war between Abiu and Jeroboam. 10 And Abiu slept with his fathers in the twenty-fourth year of Asa, and Asa his son reigned in his stead.

9 In the four and twentieth year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Asa begins to reign over Juda. 10 And he reigned forty-one years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Ana, daughter of Abessalom. 11 And Asa did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, as David his father. 12 And he removed all the abominations out of the land, and abolished all the priests which his fathers had kept up. 13 And he removed Ana his mother from being queen, forasmuch as she gathered a meeting in her grove: and Asa cut down her retreats, and burnt them with fire in the brook of Kedron. 14 But he removed not the high places; nevertheless the heart of Asa was perfect with the Lord all his days. 15 And he built also Engaddi, and set watch-towers, and storehouses, in the land of Judea and in the land of Benjamin, and in the cities of Araam the king of Syria, 16 And there was war between Asa and Baasa king of Israel all their days. 17 And Baasa king of Israel went up against Juda, and built Rama, that no one should go out or come in for Asa king of Juda.

18 And Asa took all the silver and the gold that was found in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the king's house, and gave them into the hands of his servants; and king Asa sent them out to the son of Ader, the son of Taberema son of Azin king of Syria, who dwelt in Damascus, saying, 19 Make a covenant between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: 20 I have sent forth to thee gold and silver and gifts; come, break thy league with Baasa king of Israel, that he may go up from me. 21 And the son of Ader hearkened to king Asa, and sent the chiefs of his forces to the cities of Israel; and they smote Ader, and Dan, and Abel of the house of Maachah, and all Chemereth, as far as the whole land of Nephthali. 22 And it came to pass when Baasa heard it, that he left off building Rama, and returned to Theres.

23 And king Asa charged all Juda without exception: and they take up the stones of Rama, and built with them upon the whole hill of Benjamin, and the watch-tower.

24 And the rest of the history of Asa, and all his mighty deeds which he wrought, and the cities which he built, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? Nevertheless in the time of his old age he was diseased in his feet. 25 And Asa slept with his fathers.
And Zambri, captain of half his cavalry, contrived against him, while he was in Thersa, drank him self drunk in the house of Osa the steward at Thersa. And Zambri went in and smote him and slew him, and reigned in his stead. 11 And it came to pass when he reigned, while Shishak came up upon Jerusalem, 12 that he smote all the house of the king; according to the word which the Lord spake against the house of Baasha, and to JU the prophet, 13 for all the sins of Baasha and Ela his son, as he led Israel astray to sin, to provoke the Lord God of Israel with their vanities. 14 And the rest of the deeds of Ela which he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? 15 And Zambri reigned in Thersa seven days: and the army of Israel was encamping against Gabathon of the Philistines. 16 And the people heard in the 5 army, saying, Zambri has conspired and smitten the king: and the people of Israel made Ambri the captain of the host king in that day in the camp over Israel. 17 And Ambri went up, and all Israel with him, and smote Gabathon; and they besieged Thersa. 18 And it came to pass when Zambri saw that his city was taken, that he went into the inner chamber of the house of the king, and burnt the king's house over him, and died. 19 Because of his sins which he committed, doing that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, so as to walk in the way of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and in his sins wherein he caused Israel to sin. 20 And the rest of the history of Zambri, and his conspiracies wherein he conspired, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? 21 Then the people of Israel divides; half the people goes after Thamni the son of Gonath the king; and half the people goes after Ambri. 22 The people that followed Ambri overpowered the people that followed Thamni son of Gonath: and Thamni died and his brother at that time, and Ambri reigned after Thamni.

23 In the thirty-sixth year of king Ass, Ambri got to reign over Israel twelve years: he reigned in Tarsus. 24 And Ambri bought the mount Semeron of Semer, the lord of the mountain for two talents of silver; and he built upon the mountain, and they called the name of the mountain on which he built, after the name of Semer the lord of the mount, Semeron. 25 And Ambri did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and wrought wickedly beyond all that were before him. 26 And he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and in his sins wherewith he caused Israel to sin, to provoke the Lord God of Israel by their vanities. 27 And the rest of the acts of Ambri, and all that he did, and all his might, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? 28 And Ambri slept with his fathers, and is buried in Samaria; and Achaab his son reigns in his stead.

And in the eleventh year of Ambri Josaphat the son of Asa reigns, being thirty-five years old in the beginning of his reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Gazuba, daughter of Seli. And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and turned not from it, doing right in the eyes of the Lord: only they removed not any of the high places: they sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places. Now the engagements which Josaphat made with the king of Israel, and all his mighty deeds which he performed, and the enemies whom he fought against, behold, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? and the remains of the prostitution which they practised in the days of Asa his father, he removed out of the land: and there was no king in Syria, but 3 a deputy.

And king Josaphat made a ship 34 at Tharsis to go to Siphor for gold: but it was broken at Gason Gaber. Then the king of Israel said to Josaphat, \u2018I will send forth thy servants and my servants in the ship: but Josaphat would not. And Josaphat slept with his fathers, and is buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Joram his son reigned in his stead.

29 In the second year of Josaphat king of Juda, Achaab son of Ambri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years. \u2018And Achaab did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and did more wickedly than all that were before him. 30 And it was not enough for him to walk in the way of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, but he took to wife Jezabel the daughter of Jethbaal king of the Sidonians; and he went and served Baal, and worshipped him. 31 And he set up an altar to Baal in the house of his abominations, which he built in Samaria. 32 And Achaab made a grove; and Achaab did more abominably, to provoke the Lord God of Israel, and to sin against his own life so that he should be destroyed: he did evil above all the kings of Israel that were before him.

34 And in his days Achiel the Bethelite built Jericho: he laid the foundation of it in Azekh-born, and he set up the doors of it in Segub his younger son, according to the word of the Lord which he spoke by Joshua the son of Naue.

And Eliu the prophet, the Thesbite of Theebase of Galaad, said to Achaab, As the Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, lives, before whom I stand, \textquoteleft there shall not be these years dew nor rain, except by the word of my mouth. 2 And the word of the Lord came to Eliu, saying, Depart hence eastward, and hide thee by the brook of Chorath, that is before Jordan. 3 And it shall be that thou shalt drink water of the brook, and I will change the ravens to feed thee there. 4 And Eliu did according to the word of the Lord, and he set by the brook of Chorath before Jordan. 5 And the ravens brought him loaves in the morning, and flesh in the evening, and he drank water of the brook. 6 And it came to pass after \(\text{a}^{\text{e}}\) some time, that the brook was dried up, because there had been no rain upon the earth.

And the word of the Lord came to Eliu, saying, Arise, and go to Sarepta of the Sidonian land: behold, I have there commanded a woman to maintain thee. And he arose and went to Sarepta, and came to the gate of the city; and, behold, a woman-woman was there gathering sticks; and Eliu cried after her, and said to her, Fetch me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, y'hat I may drink. And she went to fetch it; and Eliu cried after her, and said, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsel of the bread that I may eat; for I know not what I shall do unto the child. And the woman said, As the Lord thy God lives, I have not a cake, but only a handful of meal in the pitcher, and a little oil in a cruse, and, behold, I am going to gather two sticks, and I shall go in and dress it for myself and my children, and we shall eat it and die.

And Eliu said to her, Be of good courage, go in and do according to thy word: but make me thereof a little cake, and thou shalt bring it out to me first, and thou shalt make some for thyself and thy children last. For thus saith the Lord, The pitcher of meal shall not fail, and the cruse of oil shall not fail, until the day that the Lord gives rain upon the earth. And the woman went and did so, and did eat, she, and he, and her children. And the pitchcr of meal failed not, and the cruse of oil was not diminished, according to the word of the Lord which he spoke by the hand of Eliu.

And it came to pass afterward, that the son of the woman the mistress of the house of the prophet was sick; and his sickness was very severe until there was no breath left in him. And she said to Eliu, What have I to do with thee, O man of God? hast thou come in to bring my sins to rememberance, and to slay my son?

And Eliu said to the woman, Give me thy son. And he took him out of her bosom, and took him up to the chamber in which he himself lodged, and laid him on the bed. And Eliu cried aloud, and said, Alas, O Lord, the witness of the widow with whom I dwell, that evil for the child in her slaying her son. And he breathed on the child thrice, and called on the Lord, and said, O Lord my God, let, I pray thee, the soul of this child return to him. And it was so, and the child cried out, and he brought him down from the upper chamber into the house, and gave him to his mother; and Eliu said, Lo, thy son lives. And the woman said, Then Eliu, behold, I know that thou art a man of God, and the word of the Lord in thy mouth is true.

And it came to pass after many days, that the word of the Lord came to Eliu in the third year, saying, Go, and appear before Achahab, and I will bring rain upon the face of the earth. And Eliu went to appear before Achahab: and the famine was severe in Samaria.

3 And Achahab called Abdiu the steward. Now Abdiu feared the Lord greatly. And it came to pass when Jezabel smote the prophets of the Lord, that Abdiu took a hun-
And Achaab said to Adu, Come, and let us go through the land, and to the fountains of water, and to the brooks, if by any means we may find grass, and may save the horses and mules, and so they will not perish from the tents. And they made a division of the way between them to pass through it: Achaab went one way, and Adu went by another way alone. And Adu was alone in the way; and Eliu came alone to meet him: and Adu hasted, and fell upon his face, and said to his lord Eliu, Art thou indeed he? And Eliu said to him, I am: go, say to thy master, Behold, Eliu is here. And Adu said, What sin have I committed, that thou givest thy servant into the hand of Achaab to slay me? 10 As the Lord thy God lives, there is not a nation or kingdom, whither my lord has not sent to seek thee: and if they said, He is not here, then has he set fire to the kingdom and its territories, because he has not found thee. And now thou sayest, Go, tell thy lord, Behold, Eliu is here. And it shall come to pass when I shall have departed from thee and shall carry thee to a land which I know not, and shall go in to tell the matter to Achaab, and he will not find thee and will slay me: yet thy servant fears the Lord from his youth. Has it not been told to thee of my lord, what I did when Jezabel slew the prophets of the Lord, that I hid a hundred men of the prophets of the Lord, by fifty my lord, and fed them with bread and water? 12 And now thou sayest to me, Go, say to thy master, Behold, Eliu is here: and he shall slay me. And Eliu said, As the Lord of Hosts before whom I stand lives, to-day I will appear before him.

And Adu went to meet Achaab, and told him: and Achaab girted forth, and went to meet Eliu. 17 And it came to pass when Achaab saw Eliu, that Achaab said to Eliu, Art thou he that perverts Israel? 18 And Eliu said, I do not pervert Israel; but it is thou and thy father's house, in that ye follow not the way of the Lord, and thou hast gone after Baalim. 19 And now send, gather to me all Israel to mount Carmel, and the prophets of 200 four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the groves four hundred, that eat at Jezabel's table.

And Achaab sent to all Israel, and gathered all the prophets to mount Carmel.

21 And Eliu drew near to them all: and Eliu said to them, How long wilt ye halt on both's feet? if the Lord be God, follow him; but if Baal, follow him. And the people answered not a word. 22 And Eliu said to the people, I am left, the only one prophet of the Lord; and the prophets of Baal are four hundred and fifty men, and the prophets of the groves four hundred. Let them give us two oxen, and let them choose one for themselves, and cut it in pieces, and dread prophets, and hid them by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water. 4 And Achaab said to Adu, Come, and let us go through the land, and to the fountains of water, and to the brooks, if by any means we may find grass, and may save the horses and mules, and so they will not perish from the tents. 5 And they made a division of the way between them to pass through it: Achaab went one way, and Adu went by another way alone. 6 And Adu was alone in the way; and Eliu came alone to meet him: and Adu hasted, and fell upon his face, and said to his lord Eliu, Art thou indeed he? 7 And Eliu said to him, I am: go, say to thy master, Behold, Eliu is here. 8 And Adu said, What sin have I committed, that thou givest thy servant into the hand of Achaab to slay me? 9 As the Lord thy God lives, there is not a nation or kingdom, whither my lord has not sent to seek thee: and if they said, He is not here, then has he set fire to the kingdom and its territories, because he has not found thee. 10 And now thou sayest, Go, tell thy lord, Behold, Eliu is here. And it shall come to pass when I shall have departed from thee and shall carry thee to a land which I know not, and shall go in to tell the matter to Achaab, and he will not find thee and will slay me: yet thy servant fears the Lord from his youth. Has it not been told to thee of my lord, what I did when Jezabel slew the prophets of the Lord, that I hid a hundred men of the prophets of the Lord, by fifty my lord, and fed them with bread and water? 12 And now thou sayest to me, Go, say to thy master, Behold, Eliu is here: and he shall slay me. 13 And Eliu said, As the Lord of Hosts before whom I stand lives, to-day I will appear before him.

And Adu went to meet Achaab, and told him: and Achaab girted forth, and went to meet Eliu. 17 And it came to pass when Achaab saw Eliu, that Achaab said to Eliu, Art thou he that perverts Israel? 18 And Eliu said, I do not pervert Israel; but it is thou and thy father's house, in that ye follow not the way of the Lord, and thou hast gone after Baalim. 19 And now send, gather to me all Israel to mount Carmel, and the prophets of 200 four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the groves four hundred, that eat at Jezabel's table.

And Achaab sent to all Israel, and gathered all the prophets to mount Carmel.

And Eliu drew near to them all: and Eliu said to them, How long wilt ye halt on both's feet? if the Lord be God, follow him; but if Baal, follow him. And the people answered not a word. 22 And Eliu said to the people, I am left, the only one prophet of the Lord; and the prophets of Baal are four hundred and fifty men, and the prophets of the groves four hundred. Let them give us two oxen, and let them choose one for themselves, and cut it in pieces, and lay it on the wood, and put no fire on the wood: and I will dress the other bullock, and put on no fire. 24 And do ye call loudly on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of the Lord my God, and it shall come to pass that the God who shall answer by fire, he is the true God. And all the people answered and said, The word which thou hast spoken is good.

And Eliu said to the prophets of shame, Choose to yourselves one calf, and dress it first, for ye are many; and call ye on the name of your gods: but apply no fire. 25 And they took the calf and drew it, and called on the name of Baal, from morning till noon, and said, Hear us, O Baal, hear us. And there was no voice, neither was there hearing, and they ran up and down on the altar which they had made. 26 And it was noon, and Eliu the Thebesite mocked them, and said, Call with a loud voice, for he is a god; for he is meditating, or else perhaps he is engaged in business, or perhaps he is asleep, and Ye is to be awakened.

And they were gathered under their own custom with knives and lances until the blood gushed out upon them. 27 And they prophesied until the evening came; and it came to pass as it was the time of the offering of the sacrifice, that Eliu the Thebesite spoke to the prophets of the abominations, saying, Stand by for the present, and I will offer my sacrifice. And they stood aside and departed.

And Eliu said to the people, Come near to me. And all the people came near to him. 28 And Eliu took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of Israel, as the Lord spoke to him, saying, Israel shall be thy name. 29 And he built up the stones in the name of the Lord, and repaired the altar that had been broken down; and he made a trench that would hold two measures of seed round about the altar. 30 And he piled the altar to the height in which he had made, and divided the whole-burnt-offering, and laid it on the wood, and laid it in order on the altar, and said, Fetch me four pitchers of water, and pour it on the whole-burnt-offering, and on the wood. And they did so. 31 And he said, Do it the second time. And they did it the second time. And he said, Do it the third time. And they did it the third time. 32 And the water ran round about the altar, and they filled the trench with water.

And Eliu cried aloud to heaven, and said, Lord God of Abram, and Isaac, and Israel, answer me, O Lord, answer me this day by fire, and let all this people know that thou art the Lord, the God of Israel, and I am thy servant, and for thy sake I have wrought these works. 33 Hear me, O Lord, hear me, and let this people know that thou art the Lord God, and thou hast turned back the heart of this people. 34 Then fire fell from the Lord out of heaven, and devoured the whole-burnt-offerings, and the wood and the water that was in the trench, and the fire licked up the stones and the earth.
And all the people fell upon their faces, and said, Truly the Lord is God; he is God. And Eliu said to the people, Take the prophets of Baal; let not one of them escape. And they took them; and Eliu brought them down to the brook Kisson, and he slew them there. And Eliu said to Achaab, Go up, and eat and drink, for there is a sound of the coming of rain. And Achaab went up to eat and to drink; and Eliu went up to Carmel, and stooped to the ground, and put his face between his knees, and said to the Lord, I pray thee, O Lord, open his eyes, that he may see. And the servant looked, and said, There is nothing: and Eliu said, Do thou then go again seven times. And the servant went again seven times: and it came to pass at the seventh time, that, behold, a little cloud like the sole of a man's foot was brought water: and he said, Go up, and say to Achaab, Make ready thy chariot, and go down, lest the rain overtake thee. And it came to pass in the meanwhile, that the heaven grew black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. And Achaab went, and went to Jezrael. And the hand of the Lord was upon Eliu, and he girt up his li ght arm before Achaab to Jezrael. And Achaab told Jezabel his wife all that Eliu had done, and how he had slain the prophets with the sword. And Jezabel sent to Eliu, and said, If thou art Eliu and I am Jezabel, God do so to me, and more also, if I do not make thy life by this time to the last man. And Eliu feared, and rose, and departed for his life: and he comes to Bersabee to the land of Juda, and he left his servant there. And he himself went a day's journey in the wilderness, and came and sat under a juniper tree: and asked concerning his life that he might die, and said, Let it be enough now, O Lord, take, I pray thee, my life from me; for I am no better than my fathers. And he lay down and slept there under a tree: and behold, some one touched him, and said to him, Arise and eat. And Eliu looked, and, behold, at his head there was a cake of meal and a crust of water; and he arose, and ate and drank, and returned and lay down. And the angel of the Lord returned again, and touched him, and said to him, Arise, and eat, for the journey is far from thee. And he arose, and ate and drank, and went in the strength of that meat forty days and forty nights to mount Chores. And heentered there into a cave, and rested there; and, behold, the word of the Lord came to him, and he said, What dost thou here, Eliu? And Eliu said, S1 have been very jealous for the Lord Almight y, because the children of Israel have forsaken thee: they have digged down thine altars, and have slain thy prophets with the sword; and I only am left alone, and they seek my life to take it. And he said, Thou shalt go forth to-morrow, and shalt stand before the Lord in the mount; behold, the Lord will pass by. And, behold, a great and strong wind rending the mount...
tains, and crushing the rocks before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the wind; and after the wind an earthquake; but the Lord was not in the earthquake: 12 and after the earthquake a fire; but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire the voice of a gentle breeze.

13 And it came to pass when Elui heard, that he wrapped his face in his mantle, and went forth and stood in the cave: and, behold, a voice came to him and said, What doest thou here, Elui? 14 And Elui said, I have been very jealous for the Lord Al-mighty; for the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, and they have overthrown thine altars, and have slain thy prophets with the sword; and I am left entirely alone, and they seek my life to take it. 15 And the Lord said to him, Go, return, and thou shalt come into the way of the wilderness of Damascus; and thou shalt go and anoint Azael to be king over Syria. 16 And Ju the son of the Nammessi shall thou anoint him to be king over Israel; and Elisaie the son of Saphat shall thou anoint to be prophet in thy room. 17 And it shall come to pass, that him that escapes from the sword of Azael, Ju shall slay; and him that escapes from the sword of Ju, Elisaie shall slay. 18 And thou shalt leave in Israel seven thousand men, all the knees which had not bowed, and themselves to Baal, and every mouth which had not worshipped him.

19 And he departed thence, and finds Elisaie the son of Saphat, and he was ploughing with oxen: there were twelve yoke before him, and he with the twelve, and he passed by to him, and cast his mantle upon him. 20 And Elisaie left the cattle, and ran after Elui and said, I will kiss my father, and follow after thee. And Elui said, Return, for I have done a work for thee. 21 And he returned from following him, and took a yoke of oxen, and slew them, and boiled them with the instruments of the oxen, and gave to the people, and they ate: and he arose, and went after Elui, and ministered to him.

22 And Nabuthai bought a vineyard, near the threshingfloor of Achaab king of Samaria. 23 And Achaab spoke to Nabuthai, saying, Give me thy vineyard, and I will have it for a garden of herbs, for it is near my house: and I will give thee another vineyard better than it; or if it please thee, I will give thee money, the price of this thy vineyard, and I will have it for a garden of herbs. 24 And Nabuthai said to Achaab, My God forbid me that I should give thee the inheritance of my fathers.

25 And the spirit of Achaab was troubled, and he lay down upon his bed, and covered his face, and ate no bread. 26 And Jezabel his wife went in to him, and spoke to him, saying, Why is thy spirit troubled, and why dost thou cat no bread? 27 And he said to her, Because I spoke to Nabuthai the Jezraelite, saying, Give me thy vineyard for money; or if thou wilt, I will give thee another vineyard for it: and he said, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers.
III. Kings XX. 7—24.

And Jezabel his wife said to him, Dost thou now thus act the king over Israel? arise, and eat bread, and be master, and I will give thee the vineyard of Nabuthai the Jezreelite.

And she wrote a letter in the name of Achab, and sealed it with his seal, and sent the letter to the elders, and sent it to Nabuthai, the son of Nabath. And it was written in the letters, saying, Fast a day, and set Nabouth in a chief place among the people. I And set two men, sons of transgressors, before him, and let them testify against him, saying, He blessed God and the king; and let them lead him forth, and stone him, and let him die.

And in the men of his city, the elders, and the nobles that dwelt in his city, did as Jezabel sent to them, and as it had been written in the letters which she sent to them. I And they proclaimed a fast, and set Nabouth in a chief place among the people. I And two men, sons of transgressors, carne, and sat opposite him, and bore witness against him, saying, Thou hast blessed God and the king. And they led him forth out of the city, and stoned him with stones, and he died. I And they sent to Jezabel, saying, Nabouth is stoned, and is dead.

And it came to pass, when Jezabel heard it, that she said to Achab, Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Nabuthai the Jezreelite, for Nabouth is not alive, for he is dead.

And it came to pass, when Achab heard that Nabouth the Jezreelite was dead, that he rent his garments, and put on sackcloth.

And he came to pass that afterward, that Achab arose and went down to the vineyard of Nabuthai the Jezreelite, to take possession of it.

And the Lord spoke to Eliu the Thes-bite, saying, Arise, and go down to meet Achab king of Israel, who is come to Passover, for the vineyard of Nabuthai, for he has gone down thither to take possession of it. I And thou shalt speak to him, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Forasmuch as thou hast slain and taken possession, there is but the Lord in Israel, and therefore thou shalt release Nabuthai, there shall be dogs lick thy blood, and the harlots shall wash themselves in thy blood.

And Achab said to Eliu, Hast thou found me, mine enemy? and he said, I have found thee: because thou hast wickedly sold thyself to work evil in the sight of the Lord, to provoke him to anger. And he beheld, saying, When I will kindle a fire after thee, and I will utterly destroy every male of Achab, and him that is shut up and him that is left in Israel. And I will make thy house as the house of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and as the house of Basaa son of Achia, because of the provocations where with thou hast provoked me, and caused Israel to sin. And the Lord spoke xof Jezabel, saying, The dogs shall devour her within the fortification of Jezreel. Him that is dead of Achaab in the city shall the dogs eat, and him that is dead of him in the field shall the birds of the sky eat.

25 But Achaab did wickedly, in that he sold himself to do that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, as his wife Jezebel led him astray. And he did very abominably following after the abominations, according to all that the Amorite did, whom the Lord utterly destroyed from before the children of Israel.

26 And because of the word, Achaab was pierced with sorrow before y the Lord, and he both went weeping, and rent his garment, and girt sackcloth upon his body, and fasted; he put on sackcloth also in the day that he smote Nabuthai the Jezreelite, and went his way. And the word of the Lord came by the hand of his servant Elia concerning Achaab, and the Lord said, Hast thou seen how Achaab has provoked the Lord before my heart? I will not bring on the evil in his days, but in his son's days will I bring on the evil.

And the son of Ader gathered all his forces, and went up and besieged Samaria, he and thirty-two kings with him, and all his horse and chariots: and they went up and besieged Samaria, and fought against it. And he sent into the city to Achaab king of Israel, and said to him, Thus says the son of Ader, Thy silver and thy gold are mine, and thy wives and thy children. And Israel answered and said, As thou hast said, my lord, O king, I am thine, and all mine also.

6 And the messengers came again, and said, Thus says the son of Ader, I sent to thee, saying, Thou shalt give me thy silver and thy gold, and thy wives and thy children. For at this time to-morrow I will send my servants to thee, and they shall search thy house, and the houses of thy servants, and it shall be that all the desirable objects of their eyes on which they shall lay their hands, they shall even take them. And the king of Israel called all the elders of the land, and said, Take notice now and consider, that this man seeks mischief: for he has sent to me concerning my wives, and concerning my sons, and concerning my daughters: I have not kept back from him my silver and my gold. And the elders and all the people said to him, Hearken not, and consent not. And he said to the messengers of the son of Ader, Say to your master, All things that thou hast sent to thy servant about at first I will do; but this thing I shall not be able to do. And the men departed, and carried back the answer to him.

10 And the son of Ader sent to him, saying, So do God to me, and more also, if the dust of Samaria shall suffice for foxes to all the people, even my infantry. And the king of Israel answered and said, Let it be sufficient; let not the lumpbacked boast as he that is upright. And it came to pass when he returned him this answer, he and all the kings with him were drinking in tents: and he said to his servants, Form a trench. And they made a trench against the city. And, behold, a prophet came to Achaab king of Israel, and said, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou seen this great multitude? behold, I give it this day into thine hands, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord. And Achaab said, Whereby? And he said, Thus saith the Lord, Before the young men of the heads of the districts. And Achaab said, Who shall y'begin the battle? and he said, Thou.

And Achaab numbered the young men the heads of the districts, and they were two hundred and thirty: and afterwards he numbered the people, even every man fit for war, seven thousand. And he went forth at noon, and the son of Ader was drinking and getting drunk in Sococheth, he and the kings, even thirty and two kings, his allies. And the young men the heads of the districts went forth first; and they send and report to the king of Syria, saying, The king of Israel, with seventy of the kings of the nations, is gone up against Samaria.

And he said to them, If they come forth peaceably, take them alive: and if they come forth to war, take them alive: and let not the young men the heads of the districts go forth of the city. And the force that was behind them smote each one the man next him, and each one a second time smote the man next to him: and Syria fled, and Israel pursued them; and the son of Ader, even the king of Syria, escapes on the horse of a horseman. And the king of Israel went forth, and took all the horses and the chariots, and smote the enemy with a great slaughter in Syria. And the princes came to the king of Israel, and said, Strengthen thyself, and observe, and see what thou shalt do: for at the return of the year the son of Ader king of Syria comes up against thee.

And the servants of the king of Syria, even they said, The God of Israel is a God of the hills: therefore has he prevailed against us: but if we should fight against them in the plain, verily we shall prevail against them. And do thou this thing: Send away the kings, each one to his place, and set princes in their stead. And we will give thee another army according to the army that was destroyed, and cavalry according to the cavalry, and chariots according to the chariots, and we will fight against them in the plain, and we shall prevail against them. And he heartened to their voice, and did so.

And it came to pass at the return of the year, that the son of Ader reviewed Syria, and went up to Aphek to war against Israel. And the children of Israel were numbered, and came to meet them: and Israel encamped before them as two little flocks of goats, but Syria filled the land.

And there came the man of God, and said to the king of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Because Syria has said, The Lord God of Israel is a God of the hills, and he is not a God of the valleys, therefore will I give this great army into thy hand, and thou...
31 And he said to his servants, I know that the kings of Israel are but merciful kings: let us now put sackcloth upon our loins, and ropes upon our heads, and let us go forth to the king of Israel, if by any means he will save our souls alive. 32 So they girt sackcloth upon their loins, and put ropes upon their heads, and said to the king of Israel, Thy servant the son of Ader says, Let our souls live, I pray thee. And he said, Does he yet live? He is my brother. 33 And the men divined, and offered drink-offerings; and they caught the word out of his mouth, and said, Thy brother the son of Ader. And he said, Go ye in and fetch him. And the son of Ader went out to him, and they caused him to bring him to the chamber, and he said to him, The cities which my father took from thy father I will restore to thee; and thou shalt make streets for thyself in Damascus, as my father made streets in Samaria; and I will let thee go with a covenant. And he made a covenant with him, and let him go.

35 And certain man of the sons of the prophets said to his neighbour by the word of the Lord, Smite me, I pray. And the man would not smite him. 36 And he said to him, Because thou hast not hearkened to the voice of the Lord, therefore, behold, as thou departest from me, a lion shall smite thee: and he departed from him, and a lion found him, and smote him. 37 And he finds another man, and says, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man smote him, and he smiting wounded him.

38 And the prophet went and stood before the king of Israel by the way, and bound his eyes with a bandage. 39 And it came to pass as the king passed by, that he cried aloud to the king, and said, Thy servant went out to war, and, behold, a man brought another man to me, and said to me, Keep this man; and if he should by any means escape, then thy life shall go for his life, or thou shalt pay a talent of silver. 40 And it came to pass, that thy servant looked round this way and that way, and the man was gone. And the king of Israel said to him, Behold, thou hast also destroyed a man out of mine hand, and I have not known. 41 And he lasted, and took away the bandage from his eyes; and the king of Israel recognised him, that he was one of the prophets. 42 And he said to him, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast suffered to escape out of thine hand a man appointed to destruction, therefore thy life shall go for his life, and thy people for his people. 43 And the king of Israel departed confounded and discouraged, and came to Samaria.

III. KINGS XXI. 29—43.
And he rested three years, and there was no war between Syria and Israel. 2 And it came to pass in the third year, that Josaphat king of Juda went down to the king of Israel. 3 And the king of Israel said to his servants, Know ye that Remmath Galaad is ours, and we are slow to take it out of the hand of the king of Syria? 4 And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, Will thou go up with me into battle to Remmath Galaad? and Josaphat said, As thou art, so am I, and my people, we are thine. 5 And Josaphat said, As I am, so art thou also, and as my people, so are thy people, and as my horses, so are thy horses.

And Josaphat king of Juda said to the king of Israel, Enquire, I pray thee, of the Lord to day. 6 And the king of Israel gathered all the prophets together, about four hundred men; and the king said to them, Shall I go up to Remmath Galaad to battle, or shall I forbear? and they said, Go up, and the Lord will surely give it into the hands of the king.

7 And Josaphat said to the king of Israel, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord, whom we may enquire of? 8 And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, Is there not here Michaias son of Jemlibla, And Josaphat king of Juda said, Let not the king say so.

9 And the king of Israel called a eunuch and said, Bring hither quickly Michaias son of Jemlibla. 10 And the king of Israel and Josaphat king of Juda sate each on his throne, armed in the gates of Samaria; and all the prophets prophesied before them. 11 And Sedekias son of Chanan made for himself iron horns, and said, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push Syria, until it be consumed. 12 And all the prophets prophesied in like manner, saying, Go up to Remmath Galaad, and the thing shall prosper, and the Lord shall deliver it and the king of Syria into thine hands.

13 And the messenger that went to call Michaias spoke to him, saying, Behold now, all the prophets speak with one mouth good concerning the king, let now thy words be like the words of one of them, and speak good things. 14 And Michaias said, As the Lord liveth, whatsoever the Lord shall say to me, that will I speak.

15 And he came to the king: and the king said to him, Michaias, shall I go up to Remmath Galaad to battle, or shall I forbear? and he said, Go up, and the Lord shall deliver it into the hands of the king. 16 And the king said to him, How often shall I adjure thee, that thou speakest to me truth in the name of the Lord? 17 And he said, Not so. I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains as a flock without a shepherd: and the Lord said, Is not my Lord among these? let each one return to his home in peace.

18 And the king of Israel said to Josaphat king of Juda, Did I not say to thee that this...
Let him stand against Syria. And he stood, and Semer the king of Syria, came against him, and Joash, the son of Amaziah, king of Judah, did not say concerning him, 'What shall I do for myself?"

And he said, And the Lord said, Whereby? And he said, I will go forth, and will be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he said, Thou shalt deceive him, yea, and shalt prevail: go forth, and do as thou shalt go in thine heart: so it shall be done.

And there came forth a spirit and stood before the Lord, and said, I will deceive him. And the Lord said to him, Wherethin shall he go forth? And he said, I will go forth to the bondman of mine master, and to Joas, the son of Amaziah, king of Judah. And the Lord said to him, Go, and do what is in thine heart; for he shall not stand against thee.

And Sedekias the son of Chanan, and Samaria, to the spoil, and smote Michalas on the cheek, and said, What sort of a spirit of the Lord has spoken in thee? And Michalas said, Behold, thou shalt see in that day, when thou shalt go out, and shalt come, thou shalt not see the manner of thine eyes there.

And the king of Israel said, Take Michalas, and convey him away to Semer the keeper of the city; and tell Joas the king's son to put this fellow in prison, and to feed him with bread of affliction and water of affliction until I return in peace.

And Michalas said, If thou return at all in peace, the Lord has not spoken by me. So the king of Israel went up, and Josaphat king of Judah with him to Remnath Galaad. And the king of Israel said to Josaphat king of Judah, I will dismount myself, and enter into the battle, and do thou put on my reins. So the king of Israel disguised himself, and went into the battle.

And the king of Syria had charged the thirty-two captains of his chariots saying, Fight not against small 5 or great, but against the king of Israel only. And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw Josaphat king of Judah, that they said, This seems to be the king of Israel. And they compassed him about to fight against him; and Josaphat cried out. And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw this that was not the king of Israel, that they returned from him. And one drew a bow with a good aim, and smote the king of Israel between the lungs and the breast-plate: and he said to his charioteer, Turn thine hand, and carry me away out of the battle, for I am wounded. And the war was turned in that day, and the king was 5 standing of the chariot against Syria from morning till evening; and he shed the blood out of his wound, into the 5 bottom of the chariot, and died at even, and the blood ran out of the wound into the bottom of the chariot. And the herald of the army stood at sunset, saying, Let every man go to his own city and his own land; for the king is dead. And they came to Samaria, and buried the king in Samaria.

the fountain of Samaria; and the swine and the dogs licked up the blood, and the harlots washed themselves in the blood, according to the word of the Lord which he spoke.

And the rest of the acts of Achaab, and all that he did, and the ivory house which he built, and all the cities which he built, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

And Achaab slept with his fathers, and Ochozias his son reigned in his stead.

And Josaphat the son of Asa reigned over Judah: in the fourth year of Achaab king of Israel y began Josaphat to reign.

Thirty and five years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and five years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Azuba daughter of Salait.

And he walked in all the way of Asa his father: he turned not from the doings of David his father. Only he took not away any of the high places: the people still sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

And Josaphat was at peace with the king of Israel.

And the rest of the acts of Josaphat, and his mighty deeds, whatever he did, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

And Josaphat slept with his fathers, and was buried by his fathers in the city of David his father, and Jehoram his son reigned in his stead.

And Ochozias son of Achaab reigned over Israel in Samaria: in the seventeenth year of Josaphat king of Judah, Ochozias son of Achaab reigned over Israel in Samaria two years.

And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the way of Achaab his father, and in the way of Jezabel his mother, and in the sins of the house of Jerobom the son of Nabat, who caused Israel to sin.

And he served Baal, and worshipped them, and provoked the Lord God of Israel, according to all that had been done before him.

AND Moab rebelled against Israel after the death of Achaab.

2 And Ochozias fell through the lattice that was in his upper chamber in Samaria, and was sick; and he sent messengers, and said to them, Go and enquire of Baal fly, the god of Accaron, whether I shall recover of this my sickness. And they went to enquire of him. 3 And an angel of the Lord called Eliu the TheEMALE, saying, Arise, and go to meet the messengers of Ochozias king of Samaria, and thou shalt say to them, Is it because there is no God in Israel, that ye go to enquire of Baal fly, the god of Accaron? but it shall not be so. 4 For thus saith the Lord, The bed on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down from it, for thou shalt surely die. And Eliu went, and said so to them.

5 And the messengers returned to him, and he said to them, Why have ye returned? 6 And they said to him, A man came up to meet us, and said to us, Go, return to the king that sent you, and say to him, Thus saith the Lord, Is it because there is no God in Israel, that thou goest to enquire of Baal fly, the god of Accaron? it shall not be so: the bed on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down from it, for thou shalt surely die. 7 So they returned and reported to the king as Eliu said: and he said to them, What was the manner of the man who went up to meet you, and spoke to you these words? 8 And they said to him, He was a hairy man, and girt with a leathern girdle about his loins. And he said, This is Eliu the TheEMALE.

9 And he sent to him a captain of fifty and his fifty: and he went up to him: and, behold, Eliu sat on the top of a mountain. And the captain of fifty spake to him, and said, O man of God, the king has called thee, come down. 10 And Eliu answered and said to the captain of fifty, And if I am a man of God, fire shall come down out of heaven, and devour thee and thy fifty. And fire came down out of heaven, and devoured him and his fifty. 11 And the king sent a second time to him another captain of fifty, and his fifty. And the captain of fifty spake to him, and said, O man of God, thus says the king, Come down quickly.
answered and spoke to him, and said, If I am a man of God, fire shall come down out of heaven, and devour thee and thy fifty, and fire came down out of heaven, and devoured him and his fifty. And the angel of the Lord spoke to Eliu, and said, Go down with him, be not afraid of them. And Eliu rose up, and went down with him to the king. And Eliu spoke to him, and said, Thus saith the Lord, Why hast thou sent messengers to enquire of Baal fly, the god of Aecaron? it shall not be so: the bed on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down from it, for thou shalt surely die.

So he died according to the word of the Lord which Eliu had spoken. And the rest of the days of the reign of Achaab in Samaria twelve years beginning in the eighteenth year of Josaphat king of Judah: and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, not as his father Achaab, who removed the pillars of Baal which his father made, and broke them in pieces: only he was joined to the sins of Jeroboam, which he had made. And he removed out of the land the faces of the Sidonians, and the Hittites, and the Hivites, and the Canaanites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Amorites, that dwell in the land; and he made war on the Amalekites, and subdued the Amalekites.

And it came to pass, when the Lord was going to take Eliu with a whirlwind which was so strong, that Eliu and Elisaie went out of Galgala. And Eliu said to Elisaie, Stay here, I pray thee; for God has sent me to Bethel. And Elisaie said, As the Lord lives and thy soul lives, I will not leave thee: so they came to Bethel.

And the sons of the prophets who were in Bethel came to Elisaie, and said to him, Dost thou know that the Lord this day is going to take thy lord away from thy head? And he said, Yea, I know it; be silent. And Eliu said to Elisaie, Stay here, I pray thee; for the Lord has sent me to Jericho. And he said, As the Lord lives and thy soul lives, I will not leave thee: and they came to Jericho.

And the sons of the prophets who were in Jericho drew near to Elisaie, and said to him, Dost thou know that the Lord is about to take away thy master to-day from thy head? And he said, Yea, I know it; hold your peace. And Eliu said to him, Stay here, I pray thee, for the Lord has sent me to Jordan. And Elisaie said, As the Lord lives and thy soul lives, I will not leave thee: and they both went on.

And fifty men of the sons of the prophets went also, and they stood opposite afar off:
8 And it came to pass as they were going, they saw a man on the mountain, and Elihu stood before the Lord in the mountain. And Elihu said, ‘Who am I that I should speak before thee, seeing that there is so much more wisdom before thee? And who am I that I should answer thee, seeing that there is so much more wisdom before thee? Behold, there are with thy servants fifty men of strength: let them go now, and seek thy lord: peradventure the Spirit of the Lord has taken him up, and cast him into Jordan, or on one of the mountains, or on one of the hills. And Elihu said, ‘I shall not abide, but I will go my way. And let the blindness of my eyes be poured out before thee. For I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear, and now mine ear hath heard me. And now, behold, I am more unprofitable than dust, and from the least of men I am counted. Hearken therefore to their voice, and let their words prevail. Yet, my spirit is bound: and let mine hand be stretched out. If there be any iniquity in my hands, let the Lord’s anger and his wrath be poured out upon me.’

9And the men of the city said to Elihu, ‘Behold, the situation of the city is good, as our lord sees: but the waters are bad, and the ground barren. And Elihu said, ‘Bring me a new pitcher, and put salt in it. And they took one, and brought it to him. And Elihu said, ‘Let my lord the king now command his servants: who shall go and fetch water, and dip the salt into the well, and see whether the water is good or bad.’

10And he went up thence to Bethel: and as he was going up by the way there came up also little children from the city, and mocked him, and said to him, ‘Go up, baldhead, go up.’ And he turned after them, and saw them, and cursed them in the name of the Lord. And, behold, there came out two bears out of the wood, and they tore forty and two children of them. 26 And he went thence to mount Carmel, and returned thence to Samaria.

And Joram the son of Achaab began to reign in Israel in the eighteenth year of Josaphat king of Judah, and reigned twelve years. 2 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, only not as his father; nor as his mother: and he removed the pillars of Baal which his father had made. 3 Only he adhered to the sin of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin; he departed not from it. 4 And the king of Moab was a sheepmaster, and he rendered to the king of Israel the beginning of the year, a hundred thousand lambs, and a hundred thousand rams, with the wool. 5 And it came to pass after the death of Achaab, that the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

5 And king Joram went forth in that day out of Samaria, and numbered Israel. 6 And he went and sent to Josaphat king of Judah, saying, The king of Moab has rebelled against me: wilt thou go with me against Moab to war? And he said, I will go up: thou art as I, I am as thou; as my people, so is thy people, and as my horses, so are thy horses. And he said, What way shall I go up? and he said, The way of the wilderness of Edom. 7 And the king of Israel went, and the king of Judah, and the king of Edom; and they fetched a compass of seven days' journey; and there was no water for the army, and for the cattle that went with them.

8 And the king of Israel said, Alas! that the Lord should have called the three kings on their way, to give them into the hand of Moab. 9 And Josaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord, that we may enquire of the Lord by him? And one of the servants of the king of Israel answered, and said, there is one Elisha son of Saphat, which poured water on the hands of Eliu. 10 And Josaphat said, He has the word of the Lord. And the king of Israel, and Josaphat king of Judah, and the king of Edom, went down to him.

11 And Elisha said to the king of Israel, What see I, if the Lord shall open the king's eyes? And he went up with his father and the prophet to the valley. 12 And there came water flowing out of the valley; and the prophet went before them, and said, Go, ye, and drink water. And they went and drank, and he said, Go, ye, and drink water. 13 So they went to drink water: and theJordan was broad over them, both both the children of Israel and the children of Judah. 14 And the prophet took his staff, and dipped it in the Jordan, and said, Thus saith the Lord, Stab this staff in the Jordan. And he dipped it in, and, behold, the Jordan was divided both both the children of Israel and the children of Judah. 15 And Elisha said, Take up this要看谷. And he took it up, and, behold, there was a arrow of war against his life. 16 And he said, Open the Lord's book. And he opened it; and, behold, the seven scales of a covenant were there written. 17 And he said, This is the word of the Lord: I will make the Jordan a broad valley. 18 And Elisha said unto him, Take a bow and arrows. And he took a bow and arrows. 19 And he said to the king of Israel, Strut thou, and see how great is my heart and the heart of all the men of Israel, compared to the heart of Achaab. 20 And Elisha said, My father, the old men have seen great things from the Lord; wherefore also do I see great things. 21 And Elisha said unto him, Take a bow and arrows. And he took a bow and arrows. 22 And he said to the king of Israel, Strut thou, and see how great is my heart and the heart of all the men of Israel, compared to the heart of Achaab. 23 And Elisha said, My father, the old men have seen great things from the Lord; wherefore also do I see great things. 24 And Elisha said to him, Strut thou, and see how great is my heart and the heart of all the men of Israel, compared to the heart of Achaab. 25 And Elisha said, My father, the old men have seen great things from the Lord; wherefore also do I see great things.
And they rose early in the morning, and the sun rose upon the waters, and Moab saw the waters on the opposite side red as blood.

And they said, This is the blood of the sword; and the kings have fought, and each man has smitten his neighbour; now then to the spoils, Moab. And they entered into the camp of Israel; and Israel arose and smote Moab, and they fled from before them; and they went on and smote Moab as they went. And they razed the cities, and cast every man his stone on every good piece of land and filled it; and they stopped every well, and cut down every good tree, until they left only the stones of the wall. And the land was desolate, and Moab is not a people to this day.

And the king of Moab saw that the battle prevailed against him; and he took with him seven hundred men that drew sword, to cut through to the king of Edom; and they could not. And he took his eldest son whom he had designed to reign in his stead, and offered him up for a whole-burnt-offering on the walls. And there was a great indignation against Israel; and they departed from him, and returned to their land.

And one of the wives of the sons of the prophets cried to Elisea, saying, Thy servant my husband is dead; and thou knowest that thy servant feared the Lord; and the creditor is come to take my two sons to be his servants. And Elisea said, What shall I do for thee? Tell me what thou hast in the house. And she said, Thy servant has nothing in the house, except oil with which I anoint myself. And he said to her, Go, borrow for thyself vessels without of all thy neighbours, even empty vessels; borrowed not a few. And thou shalt go in and shut the door upon thee and upon thy sons, and thou shalt shut the door upon thee and upon thy sons, and thou shalt pour forth into these vessels, and remove that which is filled. And she departed from him, and shut the door upon herself and upon her sons; they brought the vessels near to her, and she poured in until the vessels were filled. And she said to her sons, Bring me yet a vessel. And they said to her, There is none other. And the oil stayed. And she came and told the man of God; and Elisea said, Go, and sell the oil, and thou shalt pay thy debt, and thou and thy sons shall live of the remaining oil.

And a day came, when Elisea passed over to Soman, and there was a great lady there, and she constrained him to eat bread; and it came to pass, when he had entered into the city, that he turned aside to eat there. And the woman said to her husband, See

And a day came, and he went in thither, and turned aside into the upper chamber, and lay there. And he said to Gizei his servant, Call me this Somanite. And he called her, and she stood before him. And he said to him, Say now to her, Behold, thou hast taken all this trouble for us; what should I do for thee? Hast thou any request to make to the king, or to the captain of the host? And she said, I dwell in the midst of my people. And he said to Gizei, What must we do for her? And Gizei his servant said, Indeed she has no son, and her husband is old.

And he called her, and she stood by the door. And Elisaie said to her, At this time next year, as the season is, thou shalt be alive, and embrace a son. And she said, Nay, my lord, do not lie to thy servant. And the woman conceived, and bore a son at the very time, as the season was, being alive, as Elisaie said to her.

And the child grew: and it came to pass when he went out to his father to the reapers, that he said to his father, My head, my head. And his father said to a servant, Carry him to his mother. And he carried him to his mother, and he lay upon her knees till noon, and died. And she carried him up and laid him on the bed of the man of God; and she shut the door upon him, and went out. And she called her husband, and said, Send now for me one of the young men, and one of the asses, and I will ride quickly to the man of God, and return. And he said, Why art thou going to him to-day? It is neither new moon, nor the sabbath. And she said, It is well.

And she saddled the ass, and said to her servant, Be quick, proceed: spare not on my account to ride, unless I shall tell thee. Go, and thou shalt proceed, and come to the man of God to mount Carmel. And she rode and came to the man of God to the mountain: and it came to pass when Elisaie saw her coming, that he said to Gizei his servant, See now, that Somanite comes. Now, whither goest thou, and thou shalt say, Is it well with thee? is it well with thy husband? is it well with the child? and she said, It is well. And she came to Elisaie to the mountain, and laid hold of his feet; and Gizei drew near to thrust her away. And Elisaie said, Let her alone, for her soul is much vexed in her, and the Lord has hidden it from me, and has not told it me. And she said, Did I say a son of my lord? For did I not say, Do not deal deceitfully with me?

And Elisaie said to Gizei, Gird up thyILES 1492

Now, I know that this is a holy man of God who comes over continually to us. Let us now make for him an upper chamber, a small place, and let us put there for him a bed, and a table, and a stool, and a candlestick: and it shall come to pass that when he comes in to us, he shall turn in thither.

And a day came, and he went in thither, and turned aside into the upper chamber, and lay there. And he said to Gizei his servant, Call me this Somanite. And he called her, and she stood before him. loins, and take my staff in thy hand, and go:
if thou meet any man, thou shalt not salut him, and if a man salute thee, thou shalt not answer him; and thou shalt lay my staff on the child's face.
And the mother of the cold said, As the Lord lives and as thy soul lives, I will not leave thee. And Elisie arose, and went after her. And Giezi went on before her, and laid his staff on the child's face: but there was neither voice nor any hearing. So he returned to meet him and told him, saying, The child is not awaked.

And Elisie went into the house, and behold, the dead child was laid upon his bed. And Elisie went into the house, and shut the door upon themselves, the two, and prayed to the Lord. And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands;
and bowed himself upon him, and the flesh of the child grew warm. And he returned, and walked up and down in the house: and he went up, and bowed himself on the child seven times; and the child opened his eyes.
And Elisie cried out to Giezi, and said, Call this Somanitte. So he called her, and she came in to him: and Elisie said, Take thy son. And the woman went in, and fell at his feet, and did obeisance bowing to the ground; and she took her son, and went out.

And Elisie returned to Galgala: and a famine was in the land; and the sons of the prophets sat before him: and Elisie said to his servant, Set on the great pot, and boil pottage for the sons of the prophets. And he went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a vine in the field, and gathered of it wild ygoards, his garment full; and he cast it into the caldron of pottage, for they knew them not. And he poured it out for the men to eat: and it came to pass, when they were eating of the pottage, that lo!
they cried out, and said, There is death in the pot, O man of God. And they could not eat. And he said, Take meal, and cast it into the pot. And Elisie said to his ser vant Giezi, Pour out for the people, and let them eat. And there was no longer there any hurtful thing in the pot.

And there came a man over from Beth arisa, and brought to the man of God twenty barley loaves and cakes of figs, of the first fruits. And he said, Give to the people, and let them eat. And his servant said,
Why should I set this before a hundred men? and he said, Give to the people, and let them eat; for thus saith the Lord: They shall eat and leave. And they ate and left, according to the word of the Lord.

Now Naiman, the captain of the host of Syria, was a great man before his master, and highly respected, because by him the Lord had given delivery to Syria, and the man was mighty in strength, but a leper.
And the Syrians went forth in small bands, and took captive out of the land of Israel a little maid: and she waited on Naiman’s wife. And she said to her mistress, O that my lord were before the prophet of God in Samaria, then he would recover him from his leprosy. And she went in and told her lord, and said, Thus and thus spoke the maid from the land of Israel.

And the king of Syria said to Naiman, Go to, go, and I will send a letter to the king of Israel. And he went, and took in his hand ten talents of silver and six thousand pieces of gold, and ten changes of raiment, And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, saying, Now then, as soon as this letter shall reach thee, behold, I have sent to thee my servant Naiman, and thou shalt recover him from his leprosy. And it came to pass, when the king of Israel read the letter, that he rent his garments, and said, Am I God, to kill, and to make alive, that this man sends to me to recover a man of his leprosy? consider, however, I pray you, and see that this man seeks an occasion against me.

And it came to pass, when Eliseas heard that the king of Israel had rent his garments, he sent to the king of Israel, saying, Wherefore hast thou rent thy garments? Let Naiman, I pray thee, come to me, and let him know that there is a prophet in Israel.

So Naiman came with horse and chariot, and stood at the door of the house of Eliseas: and Eliseas sent a servant unto him, saying, Go and wash seven times in Jordan, and thy flesh shall return to thee, and shalt be cleansed. And Naiman was angry, and departed, and said, Behold, I said, He will by all means come out to me, and stand, and call on the name of his God, and lay his hand upon the place, that the disease depart from me, and the leper. And are not Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? may I not go and wash in them, and be cleansed? and he turned and went away in a rage. And his servants came near and said to him, Suppose the prophet had spoken a great thing to thee, what is this word that he spake? He went not at first to stand before him, but he said to him, Wash, and be cleansed. So Naiman went down, and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the word of Eliseas: and his flesh returned to him as the flesh of a little child, and he was cleansed.

And he and all his company returned to him to come and had a garment before him, and said, Behold, I know that there is no God in all the earth, save only in Israel; and now receive a blessing of thy servant. And Eliseas said, As the Lord lives before whom I stand, I will not take one. And he pressed him to take one; but he would not.

And Naiman said, Well then, if not, let there be, I pray thee, seven thousand kline of mortars, and seven thousand kline of oil. And he answered, Let not the king say, I have lacked any thing. And Eliseas said, Go and tell the king, saying, beam here the servant of the Lord, and there be with me two men, a prophet of the Lord: and an Ethiopian servant with me. Have I not sent to my master, the king of Syria, according to all thine commands? and, behold, this man sent to me, saying, Why hath my lord delayed after his servant?

And the king of Israel said, When shall I know that I shall die? And Eliseas answered, Two bowls of water are there by them that follow thee. And Eliseas said, Go, buy me with them the pot of water. And he went, and bought it for the king; and he dashed it on the head of the king, and poured it, and said, Why hast thou troubled me? for thou hast let the Egyptians live, and I shall trouble me. And he said, What hast thou to do here? And he answered, This is the word of the Lord, saying, What have I done to thee, that thou hast troubled me? And the king of Israel said to Eliseas, Give me this grace also, that thou mayest die. And Eliseas said, Wherefore this grace? for thou hast told me how many chambers thou hast in thy house, and how many robes in thy chamber; so give me this grace also, that there may not be雪 in the season of harvest. And he said, What is this grace? And Eliseas answered, This is the grace of the Lord: he shall restore the king to his house again, and shall change his crown.

And Naiman said, I pray thee, let me take two of thy servants with me. And he said, Why wilt thou? But if thou must needs, then take them. And he went with them. And they came to the field of thistle, and there was an herd of bees, and there were two thousand sheaves of flax in the middle thereof.

And he said to his servants, Look on, if there be wood here. And one of the servants answered, Behold, there is a herd of wild asses in the forest. And he said, By whom shall I go up to it? And he answered, Behold, there is a slave of a man of Manasseh, Joash, the son of the Ginger: go in thither, see his master, and he shall show thee a good herd. And he said, Go. And he went after him. And there was a herd of bees, and he went up to them.

And he took a stick, and dipped it in the blood of the wild ass, and put it in the mouth of the bees, and he stung not. And Joash the son of Ginger, the captain of the host, said, This is the hand of God, with which Pharaoh king of Egypt, and all his army, shall be smitten. And Eliseas answered, It shall be against the altar, with which Pharaoh king of Egypt, and all his army shall be smitten.

8 And the Lord said to Eliseas, Go, and shew the Pharaoh king of Egypt, who despiseth me, and is come forth against me with his chariots and with his horsemen to wage war against me.

9 And Eliseas said, As the Lord of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, surely, the rivers of Jordan are not greater than thou, O Pharaoh king of Egypt; for the Lord will give Israel up into thine hand, and thou shalt beat him with the sword.

10 And he said, Wherefore hath this come to me, from minealt to minealt, and from my house to my house? And Eliseas answered, Out of the丰满, out of the full, the Lord shall take away. And Eliseas said to Pharaoh, What have I to do with thee? go, show thyself unto the Egyptians. And Pharaoh said, Am not I Pharaoh king of Egypt? yet hast thou set thyself against me.

And Eliseas answered, As the Lord liveth, before whom I stand, I will surely return the forty measures of barley which thou hast bought. And he said, I pray thee, let me have this grace also, that thou mayest know that I have found favor in thine eyes: behold, I will return the barley thee. And Eliseas said, As the Lord liveth, before whom I stand, thou shalt not return any thing. And Pharaoh said, How then, said Eliseas, Shalt thou say to me, What shall I do to thee? And Eliseas went out from his presence.
when my master goes into the house of Remman to worship there, and he shall lean on my hand, and I shall bow down in the house of Remman when he bows down in the house of Remman; even let the Lord, I pray, be merciful to thy servant in this matter. 28 And Elissae said to Naiman, Go in peace. And he departed from him a little way.

23 And Giezi the servant of Elissae said,
Behold, my Lord has spared this Syrian Naiman, so as not to take of his hand what he has brought: as the Lord lives, I will surely run after him, and take somewhat of him. 24 So Giezi followed after Naiman;
and Naiman saw him running after him, and turned back from his chariot to meet him. 25 And Giezi said, All is well: my master has sent me, saying, Behold, now are there come to me two young men of the sons of the prophets from mount Ephraim:
give them, I pray thee, a talent of silver, and two changes of raiment. 26 And Naiman said, I will give thee two talents of silver. And he took two talents of silver in bags, and two changes of raiment, and put them upon two of his servants, and they bore them before him. 27 And he came to a secret place, and took them from their hands, and laid them up in the house, and dismissed the men.

28 And he went in himself and stood before his master; and Elissae said to him,
Whence came thou, Giezi? and Giezi said,
Thy servant has neither been to this house nor thither. And Elissae said to him, Went not my heart with thee, when the man returned from his chariot to meet thee? and now thou hast received silver, and now thou hast received raiment, and olives, and vineyards, and sheep, and oxen, and menser-vants, and maid-servants? 29 The leprosy also of Naiman shall cleave to thee, and to thy seed for ever. And he went out from his presence leprous, like snow.

And the sons of the prophets said to Elisae, Behold now, the place wherein we dwell before thee is too narrow for us. 2 Let us go, we pray thee, unto Jordan, and take thence every man a beam, and make for ourselves a tabernacle there. 3 And he said, Go. And one of them said gently, Come with thy servants. And he said, I will go. 4 And he went with them, and they came to Jordan, and began to cut down wood. 5 And behold, one was cutting down a beam, and the #axe head fell into the water: and he cried out, Alas!
master: and it was hidden. 6 And the man of God said, Where did it fall? and he showed him the place; and he broke off a stick, and threw it in there, and the iron came to the surface.
7 And he said, Take it up to thyself. And he stretched out his hand, and took it.

8 And the king of Syria was at war with Israel: and he consulted with his servants, saying, I will encamp in such a place. 9 And Elissae sent to the king of Israel, saying,
Take heed that thou pass not by the place,
for the Syrians are hidden there.

10 And the king of Israel sent to the place which Elissa mentioned to him, and saved himself thence not once or twice.

11 And the mind of the king of Syria was very much disturbed concerning this thing; and he called his servants, and said to them, Will ye not send me who betray me to the king of Israel? 12 And one of his servants said, Nay, my Lord, O king, for Elissa the prophet that is in Israel reports to the king of Israel all the words whatsoever thou mayest say in the bedchamber. 13 And he said, Go, see where this man is, and I will send and take him, and then will I say to him, saying, Behold, he is in Dothaim. 14 And he sent thither horses, and chariots, and a mighty host: and they came by night, and compassed about the city. 15 And the servant of Elissa rose up early and went out; and, behold, a host compassed the city, and horses and chariots: and the servant said to the man of God, what shall we do? 16 And Elissa said, Fear not, for they who are with us are more than they that are with them. 17 And Elissa prayed, and said, Lord, open, I pray thee, the eyes of the servant, and let him see. And the Lord opened his eyes, and he saw: and, behold, the mountain was full of fire and smoke. 18 And he came down to him; and he prayed to the Lord, and said, Smite, I pray thee, these people with blindness. And he smote them with blindness, according to the word of Elissa. 19 And Elissa said to them, This is not the city, and this is not the way: follow the road to round about Elissa. 20 And they came down to him; and he prayed to the Lord, and said, Smite, I pray thee, these people with blindness. And he smote them with blindness, according to the word of Elissa. 21 And the king of Israel said to Elissa, when he saw them, Shall I not verily smite them, my father? 22 And he said, Thou shalt not smite them, unless thou wouldest smite those whom thou hast taken captive with thy sword and with thy bow: set bread and water before them, and let them eat and drink, and depart to their master. 23 And he set before them a great feast, and they ate and drank: and he dismissed them, and they departed to their master. And the bands of Syria came no longer into the land of Israel.

24 And it came to pass after this, that the son of Ader king of Syria gathered all his army, and went up, and besieged Samaria. 25 And there was a great famine in Samaria: and, behold, they besieged it, until an ass's head was valued at fifty pieces of silver, and the fourth part of a cab of dove's dung at five pieces of silver. 26 And it came to pass in the third year of the reign of the king of Israel, that the king of Syria sent messengers to the king of Israel: 27 And the king of Israel said to him, What is the matter with thee? And the woman said to him, This woman said to me, Give thy son, and we will eat him to-day, and we will eat my son to-morrow. 28 So we boiled my son, and ate him; and I said to her on the second day, Give thy son, and let us eat him; and she has hidden her son. 29 And it came to pass, when the king of Israel heard the words of the woman, that he said to his officer, This day do I know that God hath delivered me into the hand of a woman. 30 And he passed by on the wall, and the people saw sackcloth upon his flesh. 31 And he said, God did so to me and more also, if the head of Elisie shall stand upon him this day.

32 And Elisie was sitting in his house, and the elders were sitting with him; and the king sent a man before him: before the messenger came to him, he also said to the elders, Do ye see that this son of a murderer has sent to take away my head? See, as soon as the messenger shall have come, shut the door, and forcibly detain him at the door: is not the sound of his master's feet behind him? 33 While he was yet speaking with them, behold, a messenger came to him: and he said, Behold, this evil is of the Lord; why should I wait for the Lord any longer?

And Elisie said, Hear thou the word of the Lord; Thus saith the Lord, As at this time, to-morrow a measure of fine flour shall be sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel, in the gates of Samaria. 3 And the officer on whose hand the king rested, answered Elisie, and said, Behold, if the Lord shall make flood-gates in heaven, might this thing be? and Elisie said, Behold, thou shalt see with thine eyes, but shall not eat thereof.

3 And there were four leprous men by the gate of the city: and one said to his neighbour, Why sit we here until we die? 4 If we should say, Let us go into the city, then there is famine in the city, and we shall die there: and if we sit here, then we shall die. Now then come, and let us fall upon the camp of the Syrians: if they should take us alive, then we shall live; and if they should put us to death, then we shall only die. 5 And they rose up while it was yet night, to go into the camp of Syria; and they came into a part of the camp of Syria, and beheld, there was no man there. 6 For the Lord had made the army of Syria to hear a sound of chariots, and a sound of horses, even the sound of a great host: and each man said to his fellow, Go up, I pray thee, and let us return to our master: and they passed by on the wall, and the people saw sackcloth upon his flesh. 7 And they arose and fled while it was yet dark, and left their tents, and their horses, and their asses in the camp, as they were, and fledd for their lives.

8 And these lepers entered a little way into the camp, and went into one tent, and ate and drank, and took thence silver and gold, and raiment; and they went and returned thence, and entered into another tent, and took thence, and went and hid the spoil.

9 And one man said to his neighbour,
We are not doing well thus: this day is a day of glad tidings, and we hold our peace, and are waiting till the morning light, and shall find mischief: now then come, and let us go into the city, and report to the house of the king.

So they went and cried toward the gate of the city, and reported to them, saying, We went into the camp of Syria, and, behold, there is not there a man, nor voice of man, only horses tied and asses, and their tents as they were. And the porters cried aloud, and reported to the house of the king within.

And the king rose up by night, and said to his servants, I will now tell you what the Syrians have done to us. They knew that we are hungry; and they have gone forth from the camp and hidden themselves in the field, saying, They will come out of the city, and we shall catch them alive, and go into the city. And one of his servants answered and said, Let them now take of the fruit of the land, and of the vineyards, and of the olive trees, and of the fruitful fields; and the king sent thither and see.

So they took two horsesmen, and the king of Israel sent after the king of Syria, saying, Go, and see. And they went after them even to Jordan: and, behold, all the way was full of garments and vessels, which the Syrians had cast away in their panic. And the messengers returned, and brought word to the king.

And the people went out, and plundered the camp of Syria: and a measure of fine flour was sold for a shekel, according to the word of the Lord, and two measures of barley for a shekel, according to the word of the Lord, and the king appointed the officer on whose hand the king leaned to have charge over the gate: and the people trampled on him in the gate, and he died, as the man of God had said, who spoke when the messenger came down to him.

So it came to pass as Elisaie had spoken to the king, saying, Two measures of barley shall be sold for a shekel, and a measure of fine flour for ten shekels; and the king set at this time to-morrow in the gate of Samaria. And the officer answered Elisaie, and said, Behold, if the Lord makes floods in heaven, shall this thing be? and Elisaie said, Behold, thou shalt see it if with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eat thereof. And it was so: for the people trampled on him in the gate, and he died.

And Elisaie spoke to the woman, whose son he had restored to life, saying, Arise, and go thou and thy house, and sojourn wherever thou mayest sojourn: for the Lord has called for a famine upon the land; indeed it is come upon the land for seven years. And the woman arose, and did according to the word of Elisaie, both she and her house: and they sojourned in the land of the Philistines seven years.

And it came to pass after the expiration of the seven years, that the woman returned out of the land of the Philistines to the city; and came to cry to the king for her house and for her lands. And the king spoke to Giezi the servant of Elisaie the man of God, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great things which Elisaie has done. And it came to pass, as he was telling the king how he had restored to life the dead son, behold, the woman whose son Elisaie restored to life came crying to the king for her house and for her lands. And Giezi said, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her son, whom Elisaie restored to life. And the king asked her a second time, saying, Restore all that was hers, and all the fruits of the field from the day that she left the land until now.

And Elisaie came to Damascus; and the king of Syria the son of Ader was ill, and they brought him word, saying, The man of God is come hither. And the king said to Azael, Take in thine hand a present, and go to meet the man of God, and enquire of the Lord by his mouth, saying, Shall I recover of this my disease?

And Azael went to meet him, and he took a present in his hand, and all the good things of Damascus, forty camels' load, and came and stood before him, and said to Elisaie, Thy son the son of Ader, the king of Syria, has sent me to thee to enquire of the Lord whether I shall recover of this my disease.

And Elisaie said, Go, say, Thou shalt certainly live; yet the Lord has shewed me that thou shalt surely die. And he stood before him, and fixed his countenance till he was ashamed: and the man of God wept.

And Azael said, Why does my lord weep? And he said, Because I know all the evil that thou wilt do to the children of Israel: for thou shalt establish thyself too much, and they will slay their strong holds with fire, and thou wilt slay their choice men with the sword, and thou wilt dash their infants against the ground, and their women with child thou wilt rip up.

And Azael said, Who is thy servant? a dead dog, that he should do this thing? And Elisaie said, The Lord has shewn me what he shall do to thee.

And he departed from Elisaie, and went in to the king; and he said to him, What said Elisaie to thee? And he said to him, Thou shalt surely live. And it came to pass on the next day that he took a thick cloth, and dipped it in water, and put it on his face, and he died; and Azael reigned in his stead.

In the fifth year of Joram son of Achaab king of Israel, and while Josophat was king of Judah, Joram the son of Josophat king of Judah began to reign.

And in the third year of Azael king of Syria, and he began to reign in Jerusalem. And he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as did the house of Achaab; for the daughter of Achaab was his wife: and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord.

But the Lord would not destroy Judah for David his servant's sake, as he said he would give a light to him and to his sons continually.
it came to pass after he had arisen, that he sent Edom who compassed him about, and the captains of the chariot tents and the people fled to the tents. Yet Edom revolted from under the hand of Judah till this day. Then Lobot revolted at that time.

And the rest of the acts of Joram, and all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? So Joram slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of his father David: and Ochozias his son reigned in his stead.

And in the twelfth year of Joram son of Achaab king of Israel, Ochozias son of Joram began to reign. And twenty and two years old was Ochozias when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem: and the name of his mother Jehovah, daughter of Ambri king of Israel.

And he walked in the way of the house of Achaab, and did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, as did the house of Achaab. And he went with Joram the son of Achaab to war against Azael king of the Syrians in Ramoth Galaad; and the Syrians wounded Joram.

And king Joram returned to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds with which they wounded him in Remmoth, when he fought with Azael king of Syria. And Ochozias son of Joram went down to see Joram the son of Achaab in Jezreel, because he was sick.

And Eliseus the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets, and said to him, Gird up thy loins, and take this cruse of oil in thy hand, and go to Remmoth Galaad.

And thou shalt enter there, and shall see there Jothan the son of Josiah son of Namessi, and shall go in and make him rise up from among his brethren, and shall bring him into a secret chamber.

And thou shalt take the cruse of oil, and pour it on his head, and say, Thus saith the Lord, I have anointed thee king over Israel: and thou shalt open the door, and flee, and not tarry.

And the young man the prophet went to Remmoth Galaad.

And he went in, and, behold, the captains of the host were sitting: and he said, I have a message to thee, O captain. And Jothan said, To which of all us? And he said, To thee, O captain. And he arose, and went into the house: and he poured the oil upon his head, and said to him, Thus saith the Lord God, I have anointed thee king over Israel.

And thou shalt utterly destroy the house of Achaab thy master from before me, and shalt avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the Lord, at the hand of Jezabel, and at the hand of the whole house of Achaab: and thou shalt utterly cut off from the house of Achaab every male, and him that is shut up and left in Israel.

And I will make the house of Achaab like the house of Jerabtom the son of Nabat, and as the house of Baass the son of Achia.

And the dogs shall eat Jezabel in the portion of Jezreel, and there shall be none to bury her. And he opened the door, and fled.
And Ju went forth to the servants of his lord, and they said to him, Is all well? Why are these your servant fellows gone out? And he said to them, Ye know the man, and his communication. And they said, It is wrong: tell us now. And Ju said to them, Thus and thus spoke he to me, saying,—and he said, Thus saith the Lord, I have anointed thee to be king over Israel. And when they had heard it, they hasted, and took every man his carcase, and put it under him on the top of the stairs, and blew with the trumpet, and said, Ju is king.

And Ju the son of Josaphat the son of Nameesi conspired against Joram; and Joram was defending Ramoth Gilead, and he and all Israel. Because of Azael king of Syria. And king Joram had returned to be healed in Jezrel of the wounds which the Syrians had given him, in his war with Azael king of Syria.

And Ju said, If your heart is with me, let there not go forth out of the city one fugitive to go and report to Jezrel. And Ju rode and advanced, and came down to Jezrel; for Joram king of Israel was getting healed in Jezrel of the arrow-wounds wherewith the Syrians had wounded him in Ramoth in the war with Azael king of Syria; for he was strong and a mighty man: and Ochozias king of Juda was down to see Joram. And there went up a watchman upon the tower of Jezrel, and saw the dust made by Ju as he approached; and he said, I see dust. And Joram said, Take a horseman, and send to meet them, and let him say, Peace. And there went a horseman to meet them, and said, Thus says the king, Peace. And Ju said, What last thou to do with peace? turn behind me. And the watchman reported, saying, The messenger came up to them, and has not returned. And he sent another horseman, and he came to him, and said, Thus says the king, Peace. And Ju said, What said the messenger? turn behind me. And the watchman reported, saying, He came up to them, and has not returned: and the driver drives Ju the son of Nameesi, for it is with furious haste.

And Joram said, Make ready. And one made ready the chariot: and Joram the king of Israel went forth, and Ochozias king of Juda, each in his chariot, and they went to meet Ju, and found him in the portion of Nabuthai the Jezraelite.

And it came to pass when Joram saw Ju, that he said, Is it peace, Ju? And Ju said, How is that this my mother Jezabel, and her abundant witchcrafts. And Joram turned his hands, and fled, and said to Ochozias, Treachery, Ochozias. And Ju said, I will put his bow with his full strength, and smote Joram between his arms, and his arrow went out at his heart, and he bowed upon his knees.

And Ju said to Badecar his chief officer, Cast him into the portion of ground of Nabuthai the Jezraelite, for I and thou remember, riding as we were on chariote

after Achaab his father, that the Lord took up this burdensome burden against him, saying,

Surprised have I now, said he, the blood of Nabuthai, and the blood of his sons, saith the Lord; and I will recompense him in this portion, saith the Lord. Now then, I pray thee, take him up and cast him into the portion, according to the word of the Lord.

And Ochozias king of Juda saw it, and fled by the way of Bethgar, and Ju pursued after him, and said, Stay him also. And one smote him in the charriot at the going up of Gai, which is Jeblaim: and he fled to Mageddo, and died there. And his servants put him on a chariot, and brought him to Jerusalem, and they buried him in his sepulchre in the city of David.

And in the eleventh year of Joram king of Israel, Ochozias began to reign over Juda.

And Ju came to Jezrael; and Jezabel heard of it, and coloured her eyes, and adorned her head, and looked through the window. And Ju entered into the city, and she said, Had Zambri, the murderer of his master, peace? And he lifted up his face toward the window, and saw her, and said, Who is there of the king's daughter? And two eunuchs looked down towards him. And he said,Throw her down. And they threw her down; and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses: and they trampled on her. And Ju went in and ate and drank, and said, Look now, after this cursed woman, and bury her, for she is a king's daughter. And they went to bury her: but they found nothing of her but the skull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands. And they returned and told him. And he said, it is the word of the Lord, which he spoke by the hand of Elu the Thesbite, saying, In the portion of Jezrael shall the dogs eat the flesh of Achaab, and the carcase of Jezabel shall be as dung on the face of the field in the portion of Jezrael, so that they shall not say, This is Jezabel.

And Achaab had seventy sons in Samaria. And Ju wrote a letter, and sent it into Samaria to the rulers of Samaria, and to the elders, and to the guardians of the children of Achaab, saying: Now then, as soon as this letter shall have reached you, where are with you the sons of your master, and with you chariots and horses, and strong cities, and arms, do ye accordingly look out the best and fittest among your master's sons, and set him on the throne of his father, and fight for the house of your master. And they feared greatly, and said, Behold, two kings have stood not before him: and how shall we stand? So they that were over the house, and they that were over the city, and the elders and the guardians, sent to Ju, saying, We also are thy servants, and whatsoever thou shalt say to us we will do: we will not make any man king: we will do that which is right in thine eyes.

And Ju wrote them a second letter, saying,

After Achaab his father, that the Lord took up this burdensome burden against him, saying,

Surprised have I now, said he, the blood of Nabuthai, and the blood of his sons, saith the Lord; and I will recompense him in this portion, saith the Lord. Now then, I pray thee, take him up and cast him into the portion, according to the word of the Lord.

And Achaab had seventy sons in Samaria. And Ju wrote a letter, and sent it into Samaria to the rulers of Samaria, and to the elders, and to the guardians of the children of Achaab, saying: Now then, as soon as this letter shall have reached you, whereas there are with you the sons of your master, and with you chariots and horses, and strong cities, and arms, do ye accordingly look out the best and fittest among your master's sons, and set him on the throne of his father, and fight for the house of your master. And they feared greatly, and said, Behold, two kings have stood not before him: and how shall we stand? So they that were over the house, and they that were over the city, and the elders and the guardians, sent to Ju, saying, We also are thy servants, and whatsoever thou shalt say to us we will do: we will not make any man king: we will do that which is right in thine eyes.
And Ahab rose and went to Samaria, and he was in the house of sheep-shearing in the way. And Ju found the brethren of Ochozias king of Juda, and said, Who are ye? And they said, We are the brethren of Ochozias, and we have come down to salute the sons of the king, and the sons of the queen. And he said, Take them alive. And they slew them at the shearing-house, forty and two men; he left not a man of them.

And he went thence and found Jonadab the son of Rechab coming to meet him; and he saluted him, and Ju said to him, Is thy heart right with my heart, as my heart is with thy heart? And Jonadab said, It is. And Ju said, If it is then, give me thy hand. And he gave him his hand, and he took him up to his chariot into the chariot. And he said to him, Come with me, and see me zealously for the Lord. And he caused him to sit in his chariot.

And he entered into Samaria, and smote all that were left of Achaab in Samaria, until he had utterly destroyed him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spoke to Elihu. And Ju gathered all the people, and said to them, Achaab served Baal a little; Ju shall serve him much. Now then do all ye the prophets of Baal call all his servants and his priests to me; let not a man be wanting: for I have a great sacrifice to offer to Baal; every one who shall be missing shall die. But Ju did it in subtility, that he might destroy the servants of Baal.
be lacking: for I am going to offer a great sacrifice; whosoever shall be missing, shall not live. So all the servants of Baal came, and all his priests, and all his prophets: there was not one left who came not. And they entered into the house of Baal; and the house of Baal was filled from one end to the other. And he said to the man who was over the pillar of Baal, Bezeel, for a robe for all the servants of Baal, and the keeper of the robes brought forth to them. And Ju and Jonadab the son of Rechab entered into the house of Baal, and said to the servants of Baal, Search, and see whether there is among you any of the servants of the Lord, or only the servants of Baal, by themselves. And he went in to offer sacrifices and burnt-offerings: and Ju set for himself eighty men without, and said, Every man who shall escape of the men whom I bring into your hand, the life of him that spares him shall go for his life. And it came to pass, when he had finished offering the burnt-offering, that Ju said to the footmen and the officers, Go ye in and slay them; let not a man of them escape. So they smote them with the edge of the sword, and the footmen and the officers cast the bodies forth, and went to the city of the house of Baal. And they brought out the brazen pillars of Baal, and burnt it with fire. And they tore down the pillars of Baal, and made his house a draught-house until this day. And Ju abolished Baal out of Israel. Nevertheless Ju departed not from following the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin: these were the golden heifers in Bethel and in Dan.

And the Lord said to Ju. Because of all thy deeds wherein thou hast acted well in doing that which was right in my eyes, according to all things which thou hast done to the house of Achaab as they were in my heart, thy sons to the fourth generation shall sit upon the throne of Israel. But Ju took no heed to walk in the law of the Lord God of Israel with all his heart: he departed not from following the sins of Jeroboam, who made Israel to sin. In those days the Lord began to cut Israel short: and Azazel smote them in every coast of Israel; from Jordan eastward all the land of Galad belonging to the Gadites, of Gaddi and that of Ruben, and of Manasses, from Aroer, which is on the brink of the brook of Arnon, and Galad and Basan. And the rest of the acts of Ju, and all his might, and all his acts, wherein he engaged, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? And Ju slept with his fathers; and they buried him in Samaria; and Joachaz his son reigned in his stead. And the days which Ju reigned over Israel were twenty-eight years in Samaria.

And Gotholia the mother of Ochozias saw that her son was dead, and she destroyed all the seed royal. And Osoashee daughter of king Joram, sister of Ochozias, took Joes the son of her brother, and stole him from among the king's sons that were put to death, secreting him and his nurse in the bedchamber of the high face of Gotholin, and he was not slain. 3 And he remained with her hid in the house of the Lord six years: and Gotholia reigned over the land.

And in the seventh year Jodae sent and took the captains of hundreds of the Chorr: and this was he, a Rhasim, and brought them to him into the house of the Lord, and made a covenant of the Lord with them, and adjured them, and Jodae shewed them the king's son. 4 And charged them, saying, This is the 5 thing which ye shall do. 6 Let a third part of you go in on the sabbath-day, and keep ye the watch of the king's house in the porch; and another third in the gate of the high way, and a third at the gate behind the footmen; and keep ye the guard of the house. 7 And there shall be two parties among you, even every one that goes out on the sabbath, and they shall keep the guard of the Lord's house before the king. 8 And do ye compass the king about every one with his weapon in his hand, and he that goes into the ranges shall die: and they shall be with the king in his going out and in his coming in.

And the captains of hundreds did all things that the wise Jodae commanded; and they took each his men, both those that went in on the sabbath-day, and those that went out on the sabbath-day, and went in to Jodae the priest. 10 And the priest gave to the captains of hundreds the swords and spears of king David that were in the house of the Lord. 11 And the footmen stood each with his weapon in his hand from the right corner of the house to the left corner of the house, by the altar and the house round about the king. 12 And he brought forth the king's son, and put upon him the crown and gave him the testimony; and he made him king, and anointed him, and they clapped their hands, and said, Long live the king.

And Gotholia heard the sound of the people running, and she went in to the people to the house of the Lord. 14 And she looked, and, behold, the king stood near a pillar according to the manner; and the singers and the trumpeters were before the king and all the people of the land even rejoicing and sounding with trumpets; and Gotholia rent her garments, and cried, A conspiracy, a conspiracy. 15 And Jodae the priest commanded the captains of hundreds who were over the host, and said to them, Bring her forth without the ranges, and he that goes in after her shall certainly die by the sword. For the priest said, Let her not however be slain in the house of the Lord. 16 And they laid hands upon her, and went in by the way of the horses' entrance into the house of the Lord, and she was slain there.

And Jodae made a covenant between the Lord and the king and the people, that they should be the Lord's people also between the king and the people. 18 And all the people of the land went into the house of Baal, and tore it down, and completely broke in pieces his altars and his images, and they slew Mathan the priest of Baal before the altars. And the priest appointed overseers over the house of the Lord. And he took the captains of the hundreds, and the Chorri, and the Rhaim, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king out of the house of the Lord; and they went out by the gate of the footmen of the king's house, and seated him there on the throne of the kings. And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was at rest: and they slew Gothalia with the sword in the house of the king.

21 Joas was seven years old when he began to reign.

Joas began to reign in the seventh year of Joram, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Sabia of Berseabe. And Joas did that which was right in the sight of the Lord all the days that Jodae the priest instructed him. Only there were not any of the high places removed, and the people still sacrificed there, and burned incense on the high places.

And Joas said to the priests, As for all the holy things that is brought into the house of the Lord, the money of valuation, as each man brings the money of valuation, all the money which any man may feel disposed to bring into the house of the Lord, let the priests take it to themselves, every man from the proceeds of his sale; and they shall repair the breaches of the house in all places wheresoe'er a breach shall be found.

And it came to pass in the twenty-third year of king Joas the priests had not repaired the breaches of the house. And king Joas called Jodae the priest, and the other priests, and said to them, Why have ye not repaired the breaches of the house? now then receive no more money from your sales, for ye shall give it to repair the breaches of the house. And the priests consented to receive no more money of the people, and not to repair the breaches of the house. And Jodae the priest took a chest, and bored a hole in the lid of it, and set it by the altar in the house of a man belonging to the house of the Lord, and the priests that kept the door put therein all the money that was found in the house of the Lord.

And it came to pass, when they saw that there was much money in the chest, that the king's scribe and the high priest went up, and they tied up and counted the money that was found in the house of the Lord. And they gave the money that had been collected into the hands of them that wrought the works, the overseers of the house of the Lord; and they gave it out to the carpenters and to the builders that wrought in the house of the Lord. And to the masons, and to the hewers of stone, to purchase timber and hewn stone to repair the breaches of the house of the Lord, for all that was spent on the house of the Lord to repair it. Only there were not to be made for the house of the Lord silver & plates, studs, bowls, or trumpets, any vessel of gold or vessel of silver, of the money that was brought into the house of the Lord;

for they sold the Jerusalem, and they repaired therewith the house of the Lord.

Also they took no account of the men into whose hands they gave the money to give to the workmen, for they faithfully.

Money for a sin-offering, and money for a trespass-offering, whatever happened to be brought into the house of the Lord, went to the priests.

Then went up Azael king of Syria, and fought against Jerusalem, and took it; and Azael set his face to go against Jerusalem.

And Joas king of Judah took all the holy things which Josaphat, and Joram, Ochozias, his fathers, and kings of Judah had consecrated, and what he had himself dedicated, and all the gold that was found in the treasures of the Lord's house and the king's house, and he sent them to Azael king of Syria; and he went up from Jerusalem.

And the rest of the acts of Joas, and all that he did, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

And his servants rose up and made a conspiracy, and smote Joas in the house of Mallo that is in Sela.

And Jezirchar the son of Jemuth, and Jezabuth Somer's son, his servants, smote him, and he died; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David: and Amessias his son reigned in his stead.

In the twenty-third year of Joas son of Ochozias king of Judah began Joachaz the son of J u to reign in Samaria, and he reigned seventeen years. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and walked after the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin; he departed not from them.

And the Lord was very angry with Israel, and delivered them into the hand of Azael king of Syria, and into the hand of the son of Ador son of Azael, all their days.

And Joachaz besought the Lord, and the Lord hearkened to him, for he saw the affliction of Israel, because the king of Syria afflicted them. And the Lord gave deliverance to Israel, and they escaped from under the hand of Syria: and the children of Israel dwelt in their tents as heretofore.

Only they departed not from the sins of Jeroboam, who led Israel to sin; they walked in them—over the grove also remained in Samaria. Whereas there was not left any "army to Joachaz, except for chariots, and ten chariots, and ten thousand infantry: for the king of Syria had destroyed them, and they made them as dust for trampling.

And the rest of the acts of Joachaz, and all that he did, and his mighty acts are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? And Joachaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria: and Joas his son reigned in his stead.

In the thirty-seventh year of Joas king of Juda, Joas the son of Joachaz 8 began to reign over Israel in Samaria sixteen years. 9 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord; he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which led Israel to sin: he walked in it. 10 And the rest of the acts of Joas, and all that he did, and his might acts which he performed together with Ammassias king of Judah, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? 11 And Joas slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of Samaria with the kings of Israel. 12 Now Elisaie was sick of his sickness, whereof he died: and Joas king of Israel went down to him, and wept over his face, and said, My father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horseman thereof! 13 And Elisaie said to him. Take bow and arrows. And he said to the king, Put thy hand on the bow. And Joas put his hand upon it: and Elisaie put his hands upon the king's hands. 14 And he said, Open the window eastward. And he opened it. And Elisaie said, Take bow and arrows. And he said, cited the bow of the Lord's deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Syria; and thou shalt smite the Syrians in Aphek until thou hast consumed them. 15 And Elisaie said to him, Take bow and arrows. And he took them. And he said to the king, Smit upon the ground. And the king smote three times, and stayed. 16 And the man of God was grieved at him, and said, If thou hadst smitten five or six times, then thou shouldst have smitten Syria till thou hadst consumed them; but now thou shalt smite Syria only three times. 17 And Elisaie died, and they buried him. And bands of the Moabites came into the land, through the coming of the year. And it came to pass as they were burying a man, that behold, they saw a band of men; and they cast the man into the grave of Elisaie: and as soon as he touched the bones of Elisaie, he revived and stood up on his feet. 18 And Azael greatly afflicted Israel all the days of Joas. And the Lord slew him, and the Lord did not destroy. And mercy and compassion upon them, and had respect to them because of his covenant with Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob; and the Lord would not destroy them, and did not cast them out from his presence. 19 And Azael king of Syria died, and the son of Ader his son reigned in his stead. 20 And Joas the son of Joachaz returned, and took the cities out of the land of the son of Ader the son of Azael, which he had taken out of the hand of Joahaz his father in the war: thrice did Joas smite him, and he recovered the cities of Israel. 21 In the second year of Joas the son of Joachaz king of Israel, did Amassias also the son of Joash king of Juda reign. 22 Twenty and five years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Joadim of Jerusalem. 23 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, but not as David his father: he

4 Then Amasias sent messengers to Joas son of Joachaz son of King of Israel, saying, Come, let us look another in the face. But Joas the King of Israel sent to Amasias King of Juda, saying, The thistle that was in Lebanon sent to the cedar that was in Libanus, saying, Give my daughter to thy son to wife: and the wild beasts of the field that were in Libanus passed by and trod down the thistle. 10 Thou hast smitten and wounded Edom, and thy heart has lifted thee up; stay at home and glorify thyself: for wherewith art thou quarrelsome to thy hurt? So both thou wilt fall and Juda with thee.

11 Nevertheless Amasias hearkened not: so Joas King of Israel went up and he and Amasias King of Juda looked one another in the face in Bethsamms of Juda. 12 And Juda was overthrown before Israel, and every man fled to his tent. 13 And Joas King of Israel took Amasias the son of Joas the son of Ochozias in Bethsamms; and he came to Jerusalem, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem, beginning at the gate of Ephraim as far as the gate of the corner, four hundred cubits. 14 And he took the gold and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the king's house, and the hostages and returned to Samaria.

15 And the rest of the acts of Joas even all that he did in his might, how he warred with Amasias King of Juda, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? 16 And Joas slept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel: and Jeroboam his son reigned in his stead.

17 And Amasias the son of Joas King of Juda lived after the death of Joas son of Joachaz King of Israel fifteen years. And the rest of the acts of Amasias, and all that he did, are these not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? And they buried him in the city of David: and he fled to Lachia: and they sent after him to Lachia, and slew him there.

20 And they brought him upon horses; and he was buried in Jerusalem with his fathers in the city of David.

21 And all the people of Juda took Azarim... and he was sixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amessias. 5 He built Jioth, and restored it to Juda, after the king slept with his fathers.

2 In the fifteenth year of Amessias son of Joas king of Juda yebegan Jeroboam son of Joas to reign over Israel in Samaria forty and one years. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord; he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin.

3 And he recovered the coast of Israel from the entering in of Aemath to the sea of Araba, according to the word of the Lord God of Israel, which he spoke by his servant Joas the son of Amath, the prophet of Gethophor. For the Lord saw that the affliction of Israel was very bitter, and that they were few in number, straitened in and want, and he destitute, and Israel had no helper. And the Lord said that he would not blot out the seed of Israel from under heaven; so he delivered them by the hand of Jeroboam the son of Joas.

And the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, and all that he did, and his mighty deeds, which he achieved in war, and how he recovered Damasces and Aemath to Juda in Israel, and all the things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

And Jeroboam slept with his fathers, even with the kings of Israel; and Zacharias his son reigned in his stead.

In the twenty-seventh year of Jeroboam king of Israel Azarias the son of Amessias king of Juda yebegan to reign. 14 Sixteen years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jechelia of Jerusalem. And he did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord, according to all things that Amessias his father did. Only he took not away any of the high places: as yet the people sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

And the Lord plagues the king, and he was leprous till the day of his death; and he reigned in a separate house. And Joathamh the king's son was over the household, judging the people of the land.

And the rest of the acts of Azarias, and all that he did, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? And Azarias slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David, and Joathamh his son reigned in his stead.

8 In the thirty and eighth year of Azarias king of Juda Zacharias the son of Jeroboam yebegan to reign over Israel in Samaria six months. And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord, as his fathers had done: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who made Israel to sin. And Sellum the son of Jabis and others conspired against him, and they smote him in Keblam, and slew him, and he reigned in his stead. 11 And the rest of the acts of Zacharias, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

12 Then the son of Jabis reigned; and in the thirty and ninth year of Azarias the king of Judah, 13 And Sellum the son of Jabis reigned; and in the thirty and ninth year of Azarias the king of Judah; he began Sellum to reign a full month in Samaria.

14 And Manaeam the son of Gaddi went up out of Tharsila, and came to Samaria, and slew the son of Jabis in Samaria, and slew him. 15 And the rest of the acts of Sellum, and his conspiracy wherein he was engaged, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

16 Then Manaeam smote both Thersa and all that was in it, and its borders extending beyond Thersa, because they opened not to him: and he smote it, and ripped up the women with child.

17 In the thirty and ninth year of Azarias the king of Judah, 18 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin.

19 In his days went up Phus king of the Assyrians against the land: and Manaeam gave to Phus a thousand talents of silver to aid him with his power.

20 And Manaeam raised the silver by a tax upon Israel, even on every mighty man in wealth, to give to the king of the Assyrians, fifty shekels levied on each man; and the king of the Assyrians departed, and remained not there in the land.

21 And the rest of the acts of Manaeem, and all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

22 And Manaeam slept with his fathers; and Phakesias his son reigned in his stead.

23 In the fiftieth year of Azarias king of Judah, 24 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who made Israel to sin.

25 And Phakesias the son of Romelias, his officer, conspired against him, and smote him in Samaria in the front of the king's house, with Argob and Aria, and with him there were fifty men of the four hundred: and he slew him, and reigned in his stead.

26 And the rest of the acts of Phakesias, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

27 In the fifty-second year of Azarias king of Judah, 28 And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin.

30 In those days the Lord began to sendforth against Juda Rassan son of Syria, andPhakee son of Romelias. 31 And Joatham slept with his fathers, and was buried withhis fathers in the city of David his father: and Achat his son reigned in his stead.

In the seventeenth year of Phakee son ofRomelias y began Achat the son of Joathamking of Juda to reign. 2 Twenty years oldwas Achat when he began to reign, and hereigned sixteen years in Jerusalem; and hedid not that which was right in the eyes ofthe Lorp, according to all that David hisfather had done. 3 And he walked in theway of the kings of Israel, ye, he made hisson to pass through the fire, according to theabominations of the heathen whom theLord cast out from before the children ofIsrael. 4 And he sacrificed and burnt incenseon the high places, and upon the hills, and upon the shady trees.

5 Then went up Rassan king of Syria andPhakee son of Romelias king of Israel againstJerusalem to war, and besieged Achat, butcould not prevail against him. 6 At thattime Rassan king of Syria recovered Elath toSyria, and drove out the Jews from Elath.And Achat and the king of the land dweltthere until this day. 7 And Achat sent messengers to Thilagh-philasar kingof the Assyrians, saying, I am thy servantand thy son: come up, deliver me out ofthe hand of the king of Syria, and out ofthe hand of the king of Israel, who are risingup against me. 8 And Achat took the silverand the gold that was found in the treasuriesof the house of the Lord, and of the king'shouse, and sent gifts to the king. 9 And theking of the Assyrians hearkened to him: andthe king of the Assyrians went up to Damascus and took it, and removed theinhabitants, and slew king Rassan.

10 And king Achat went to Damascus to meet Thilagh-philasar king of the Assy-
And the king saw the altar, and went up to it, and offered thereon his burnt-offerings and his meat-offerings, and poured out the blood of his peace-offerings on the brazen altar that was before the king. And he brought forward the one before the house of the Lord from between the altar and the house of the Lord, and he set it openly by the side of the altar northwards. And king Achaæ charged Urieæ, the priest, saying, Offer upon the great altar the whole-burnt-offering in the morning and the meat-offering in the evening, and the whole-burnt-offering of the king, and his meat-offering, and the whole-burnt-offering of all the people, and their meat-offering, and their drink-offering; and thou shalt pour all the blood of the whole-burnt-offering, and all the blood of any other sacrifices upon the altar. And the brazen altar shall be for me in the morning. And Urias the priest did according to all that king Achaæ commanded him. And king Achaæ cut off the borders of the base, and removed the laver from off them, and took down the sea from the brazen oxen that were under it, and set it upon a base of stone. And he made a base for the throne in the house of the Lord, and he turned the king's entrance without in the house of the Lord because of the king of the Assyrians. And the rest of the acts of Achaæ, even all that he did, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judæ? And Achaæ slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Ezekias his son reigned in his stead.

In the twelfth year of Achaæ's reign began Osea the son of Ela to reign in Samaria over Israel nine years. And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord, only not as the kings of Israel that were before him.

Against him came up Salamanassar king of the Assyrians; and Osee became his servant, and he sent him to Samaria. And the king of the Assyrians found iniquity in Osea, in that he sent messengers to Ségour king of Egypt, and brought not a tribute to the king of the Assyrians in that year: and the king of the Assyrians besieged him, and bound him in the prison-house. And the king of the Assyrians went up against all the land, and went up to Samaria, and besieged it three years.

In the ninth year of Osee the king of the Assyrians took Samaria, and carried Israel away away from their land, even as it is written in the book of the prophets. For it came to pass that the children of Israel had transgressed against the Lord their God, who had brought them up out of the land of Egypt, from under the hand of the priest the pattern of the altar, and its proportions, and all its workmanship. And Urias the priest built the altar, according to all the directions which king Achaæ sent from Damascus.

And king Achaæ sent to Urias the priest the pattern of the altar, and its proportions, and all its workmanship. And Urias the priest built the altar, according to all the directions which king Achaæ sent from Damascus.
Pharaoh king of Egypt, and they feared other gods, and walked in the statutes which the Lord commanded before the face of the children of Israel, and of the kings of Israel as many as did such things, and in those of the children of Israel as many as secretly practised customs, not as they were hallowed against the Lord their God: and they built for themselves high places in all their cities, from the tower of the watchmen to the fortified city. And they made for themselves pillars and groves on every high hill, and under every shady tree. And burned incense there on all high places, as the nations did whom the Lord removed from before them, and dealt with familiar spirits, and they carved images to provoke the Lord to anger. And they served the idols, of which the Lord said to them, Ye shall not do this thing against the Lord.

And the Lord testified against Israel and against Judah, even by the hand of all his prophets, and of every seer, saying, Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my ordinances, and all the law which I commanded your fathers, and all that I sent to them by the hand of my servants the prophets. But they hearkened not, and made their neck harder than the neck of their fathers. And they kept not any of his testimonies which he charged them; and they walked after vanities, and became vain, and after the nations round about them, concerning which the Lord had charged them not to do accordingly. They forsook the commandments of the Lord their God, and made themselves graven images, even two heifers, and they made groves, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served Baal. And they caused their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire, and used diversities and auspices, and sold themselves to work wickedness in the sight of the Lord, to provoke him.

And the Lord was very angry with Israel, and removed them out of his sight; and there was only left the tribe of Judah quite alone. Nay even Judah kept not the commandments of the Lord their God, but they walked according to the customs of Israel which they practised, and rejected the Lord.

And the Lord was angry with the whole seed of Israel, and troubled them, and gave them into the hand of them that spoiled them, until he cast them out of his presence. Forasmuch as Israel revolted from the house of David, and they made Jeroboam the son of Nabat king; and Jeroboam drew Israel from following the Lord, and led them to sin a great sin. 24 And the king of Assyria brought from Babylon the men of Chutha, and men from Ar, and from Zemath, and Sepharvaim, and they were settled in the cities of Samaria in the place of the children of Israel: and they inherited Samaria, and were settled in its cities. 25 And it was so at the beginning of their establishment there that they feared not the Lord, and the Lord sent lions among them, and they slew some of them. 26 And they spoke to the king of the Assyrians, saying, The nations whom thou hast removed and substituted in the cities of Samaria for the Israelites, know not the manner of the God of the land: and he has sent the lions against them, and behold, they are slaying them, because they know not the manner of the God of the land. 27 And the king of the Assyrians commanded, saying, Bring some Israelites thence, and let them go and dwell there, and they shall teach them the manner of the God of the land. 28 And they brought one of the priests whom they had removed from Samaria, and he settled in Bethel, and taught them how they should fear the Lord.

But the nations made each their own gods, and put them in the house of the high places which the Samaritans had made, each nation in the city in which they dwelt. 29 And the men of Babylon made Socchoth Beith, and the men of Chuth made Ergel, and the men of Hamath made Aasimath. 30 And the Evites made Eblazer and Tharthar, and the inhabitant of Sepharvaim did evil when they burnt their sons in the fire to Adramelech and Anemelech, the gods of Sepharvaim. 31 And they feared the Lord, yet they established their abominations in the houses of the high places which they made in Samaria, each nation in the city in which they dwelt: and they feared the Lord, and they made for themselves priests of the high places, and sacrificed for themselves in the house of the high places. 32 And they feared the Lord, and served their gods according to the manner of the nations, whence their lords brought them.

33 Until this day they did according to their manner: they feared the Lord, and they did according to their customs, and according to their manner, and according to the law, and according to the commandment which the Lord commanded the sons of Jacob, whose name he made Israel. 34 And the Lord made a covenant with them, and charged them, saying, Ye shall not fear other gods, neither shall ye serve them, nor sacrifice to them: but only to the Lord, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt with great strength and with a high arm; him shall ye fear, and him shall ye worship; to him shall ye sacrifice. 35 Ye shall observe continually the ordinances, and the judgments, and the law, and the commandments which he wrote for you: and ye shall not fear other gods.

Neither shall ye forget the covenant which he made with you: and ye shall not fear other gods. 36 But ye shall fear the Lord your God, and he shall deliver you from all your enemies.
Neither shall ye comply with their practice, which they follow. So these nations feared the Lord, and served their graven images: yea, their sons and their sons' sons do until this day even as their fathers did.

And it came to pass in the third year of Osee son of Ela king of Israel that Ezekias son of Achar king of Juda began to reign.

And in the second year of his reign said the Lord unto him, And I will shew thee the word of the Lord. And he said unto him, Speak, I pray thee, unto the king my master, saying, What sayst thou? And he said, I will return to my master. And he went to king Sennacherim king of Assyria.

And he said, What sayest thou? And he said, I am come to thee to fight against thee, and help thee. And he said, What reward shall I give thee? And he said, Thou shalt give me two hundred talents of silver and ten thousand talents of brass.

And the king of Assyria commanded his officers and his treasurers, saying, Supply for me an hundred talents of silver, and an thousand talents of brass.

And the king of Assyria took all the strong cities of Juda, and came to Jerusalem.

And king Hezekiah cast down the wall of Jerusalem from theゲラヒル門 to the corner gate, four hundred cubits.

And king Hezekiah made the الشمال door to the house of the Lord, and thewine vault of the house of the Lord. And he took away the high places, and the groves out of Juda. And also the altar that was at Bethel, and the high places that were before Baal, which king Jeroboam had made, and he brake them down.

And the kings of Assyria carried away captive all the居民 of Juda, and brought them to Assyria, and placed them in the cities of Assyria.

And the king of Assyria smote all the strong cities of Juda, and carried the inhabitants of all them captive, and put them in the cities of Assur.

Also king Hezekiah gave all the city, from Elath, that is on the sea-coast, and from Ezion-geber, and the men of war, that accompanied him, to king David his master.

And the king of Assyria brought men from Babylon, and placed them in all the cities, which the children of Israël had forsaken; and they dwelt in the cities of Assur.

And the king of Assyria commanded king Hezekiah, saying, I have heard that thou hast spoken to the king of Juda, saying, 'I have made a strong city, and have reformer's house: a strong force 3 Or. from. 5 Gr. Samaria to the Assyrians. 6 Gr. them. 7 Gr. heavy.
against Jerusalem. And they went up and came to Jerusalem, and stood by the aqueduct of the upper pool, which is by the way of the fuller's field. 18 And they cried to Ezekias: and there came to him Heliakim the son of Cheleias the steward, and Sonnas the scribe, and Joas the son of Saphat the recorder.

19 And Rapsakes said to them, Say now to Ezekias, Thus saith the king, the great king of the Assyrians: What is this confidence wherein thou trustest? 20 Thou hast said, (but they are mere words,) I have counsel and strength for war. Now then y' in whom dost thou trust, that thou hast revoluted from me? 21 See now, art thou trusting for thyself on this broken staff of read, even upon Egypt? whoseower shall stay himself upon it, it shall even go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust on him. 22 And whereas thou hast said to me, We trust on the Lord God: is not this he, whose high places and altars Ezekias has removed, and has said to Juda and Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar in Jerusalem? 23 And now, I pray thee, mark and remember on the king of the Assyrians, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou shalt be able on thy part to set riders upon them. 24 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one thy petty governor from among the least of my lord's servants? whereas thou trustest for thyself on Egypt for chariots and horsemen. 25 And now how dost thou cast all this place to destroy it? The Lord said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it. 26 And Heliakim the son of Cheleias, and Somnas, and Joas, said to Rapsakes, Speak now to thy servants in the Syrian language, for we understand it; and speak not with us in the Jewish language: and why dost thou speak to us words that are not in our language? 27 And Rapsakes said to them, Has my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? has he not sent me to the men who sit on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own water together with you? 28 And Rapsakes stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jewish language, and spoke, and said, Hear the words of the great king of the Assyrians: 29 thus says the king.

deliver you. 31 Have the gods of the nations at all delivered each their own land out of the hand of the king of the Assyrians? 32 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharvaim, Ana, and Aha? for have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? 33 Who is there among all the gods of the countries, who have delivered their countries out of my hand that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand? 34 But the men were silent, and answered him not a word: for there was a commandment of the king, saying, Ye shall not answer him. 35 And Hiel the son of Cheleias, the steward, and Somnas the scribe, and Josha the son of Saphat the recorder came in to Ezekias, having rent their garments; and they reported to him the words of Rapsakes.

And it came to pass when king Ezekias heard it, that he rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and went into the house of the Lord. 2 And he sent Hiel the steward, and Somnas the scribe, and the elders of the priests, with these words, to Samna the prophet of the son of Amos. 3 And they said to him, Thus says Ezekias, This day is a day of tribulation, and rebuke, and provocation: for the children are come to the travail-pangs, but the mother has no strength.

And the adventure the Lord thy God will hear all the words of Rapsakes, whom the king of Assyria his master has sent to reproach the living God and to revile him with the words which the Lord thy God has heard: and thou shalt sorer thy prayer for the remnant that is found.

So the servants of king Ezekias came to Esaías. And Esaías said to them. Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words which thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of the Assyrians have blasphemed. 6 Behold, I send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a report, and shall return to his own land; and I will overthrow him with the sword of his own land.

So Rapsakes returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Lobna: for he heard that he had departed from Lachis. 9 And he heard concerning Tharaca the king of the Ethiopians, saying, Behold, he is come forth to fight with thee: and he returned, and sent messengers to Ezekias, saying, 10 Let not thou trust in them, in the word of the prophets which they have prophesied to thee, saying, The Assyrians shall depart out of this land. 11 For thus saith the Lord, The Assyrians shall not enter this land.

And Ezekias took the letter from the hand of the messenger, and read it: and he went up to the house of the Lord, and Ezekias spread it before the Lord, and 20 And Esra the son of Amos sent to Ezkius, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, the God of Israel, I have heard thy prayer concerning Sennacherim king of the Assyrians. 21 This is the word which the Lord has spoken against him: The virgin daughter of Sion has made light of thee, and mocked thee in the way of the daughter of Jerusalem. 22 Whom hast thou reproached, and whom hast thou lifted up thy voice, and raised thine eyes on high? Is it against the Holy One of Israel?

28 By thy messengers thou hast reproached the Lord, and hast said, I will go up with the multitude of my chariots, to the height of the mountains, to the sides of the seas; and I have cut down the height of his cedar, and his choice cypresses; and I have come into the midst of the forest and of Carmel. 23 I have refreshed myself, and have drunk strange waters, and I have dried up the sole of my foot all the rivers of fortified places. 24 I have brought about the matter: I have brought it to a conclusion; and it is come to the destruction of the bands of warlike prisoners, even of strong cities. 25 And they that dwelt in them were weak in hand, they quaked and were confounded, they became as grass of the field, or as the green herb, the grass growing on houses, and that which is trodden down by him that stands on the horse; and I have said to the third, Be thou lifted up, and thou shalt go forth, and the rage against me. 26 Because thou wast angry against me, and thy fierceness is come up into my ears, therefore will I put my hooks in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest. 27 And this shall be a sign to thee; eat this year the things that grow of themselves, and in the second year the things of which springing up: and in the third year there be sowing, and reaping, and planting of vineyards, and eating the fruit of them. 28 And he shall increase him that has escaped of the house of Judah: and the remnant shall strike root beneath, and it shall produce fruit above. 29 For from Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and he that escapes from the mountain of Sion: the zeal of the Lord of hosts shall do this. 30 Is it not so? Thus saith the Lord concerning the king of the Assyrians, He shall not enter into this city, and he shall not shoot an arrow there, neither shall a shield come against it, neither shall he heap a mound against it.

3 By the way by which he comes, by it shall he return, and he shall not enter into this city, saith the Lord. 4 And I will defend this city as with a shield, for my own sake, and for my servant David’s sake.

5 And it came to pass at night that the angel of the Lord went forth, and smote in the camp of Assyrians a hundred and eighty-five thousand: and they rose early in the morning, and, behold, these were all dead corpses.

6 And Sennacherim king of the Assyrians departed, and went and returned, and dwelt in Nineve.

7 And it came to pass, while he was worshipping in the house of Mecresh his god, that Adramelech and Sarasar his sons smote him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Arrath; and Asordan his son reigned in his stead.

8 In those days was Ezekias sick even to death. And the prophet Esaias the son of Amos came in to him, and said to him, Thus saith the Lord, Give charge to thy household: for thou shalt die, and not live. 9 And Ezekias turned to the wall, and prayed to the Lord, saying, 10 Lord, remember the servant whom thou hast shewed kindness unto: I beseech thee, Lord, remember the house of David, whom thou hast fashioned, and made to inherit. 11 And the Lord spoke to him, saying, 12 Go, and tell Ezekias the king, saying, 13 What sayest thou, and what is this that is heard in thine ears? 14 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will return, and I will cure thee in the third year. 15 And in the third year again, I will return to thee, and I will definite thee in Jerusalem. 16 And the Lord added to him ten years to his life; and he returned to the land of Judah, and dwelt in Jerusalem; and he walked in the ways of David his father; for he did nothing in Jerusalem to turn aside his eyes from any work of Jehovah.

17 In the ninth year of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent he letters and present to Esarhaddon, king of Assyria. 18 And Esarhaddon, king of Assyria, sent he to him in good word, and whatsoever he desired, and as much as he asked for; for he was rich unto the king of Babylon.

19 And in the fourteenth year of Baladan the king of Babylon, he, Esaias also the son of Amos, the prophet, the son of Melekiah, the son of Amariah, the son of Shechaiah, the son of Hozaiah, the son of Beeliada, in the eighth year of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, one that was full of days, died. 20 In the twelfth year of Baladan, king of Babylon, Esaias the son of Amos died. 21 And he said, 22 Thus saith the Lord, In the third year of this king shall your被判者的儿子服事我，他必成为我 phosphorylated.

23 And he cried in the morning, and prayed, saying, Lord, this is a day in which thou hast spoken good things of this people, and hast delivered them. 24 Thus saith the Lord, In this house, and in Jerusalem, and in all Judah, I will perform the things that I have spoken, saying, They shall be in the land of the Assyrians. 25 And I will deliver this city into the hand of the king of Assyria, and he shall destroy it.

26 And the Lord showed him a thing, saying, 27 Set thine house in order, for thou shalt die, and not live: for, lo, a son shall be born to thee, a son of good report; and he shall be a son of Ephraim. 28 And when he was at home, his son Jehoahaz began to reign in Jerusalem in the place of his father, as a son of good report; and he reigned in Jerusalem three months. 29 And in the thirty and seventh year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, Esaias the son of Amos died.
14 And Esaias the prophet went in to king Ezekias, and said to him, What said these men? and whence came they to thee? And Ezekias said, They came to me from a distant land, even from Babylon. 15 And he said, What saw they in thy house? And he said, They saw the altars that are in my house: there was nothing in my house which I shewed not to them; yea, all that was in my treasures also. 16 And Esaias said to Ezekias, Hear the word of the Lord: Behold, the days come, that all things that are in thy house shall be taken, and all that thy fathers have treasured up until this day, shall not fail a word which the Lord has spoken. 17 And as for thy sons which shall come forth of thee, which thou shalt beget, the enemy shall take them, and they shall be enmuchs in the house of the king of Babylon. 18 And Ezekias said to Esaias, Good is the word of the Lord which he has spoken: only let there be peace in this house. 19 And the rest of the acts of Ezekias, and all his might, and all that he made, the fountain and the aqueduct, and how he brought water into the city, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? 20 And Ezekias slept with his fathers: and Manasses his son reigned in his stead.

Manasses was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Apisba. 21 And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord, according to the abominations of the nations which the Lord cast out from before the children of Israel. 22 And he built again the high places, which Ezekias his father had demolished; and set up an altar to Baal, and made groves as Achaab king of Israel made them; and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served them. 23 And he built an altar in the house of the Lord, whereas he had said, In Jerusalem I will place my name. 24 And he built an altar to all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the Lord. 25 And he caused to pass through the fire, and used divination and auspices, and made groves and multiplied wizards, so as to do that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, to provoke him to anger. 26 And he set up the graven image of the grove in the house of which the Lord said to David, and to Solomon his son, In this house, and in Jerusalem which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, will I even place my name for ever. 27 And I will not again remove the foot of Israel from the land which I gave to their fathers, even of those who shall keep all that I commanded, according to all the commandments which my servant Moses commanded them. 28 But they hearkened not; and Manasses led them astray in the evil in the sight of the Lord, beyond the nations whom the Lord utterly destroyed from before the children of Israel.

10 And the Lord spoke by his servants the prophets, saying, Forasmuch as Manasses the king of Juda has wrought all these evil things...
And it shall not be so. Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I bring calamities upon Jerusalem and Juda, that both the ears of every one that hears shall be tilled. And I will stretch out over Jerusalem the measure of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Achasa; and I will wipe Jerusalem as a jar is wiped, and turned upside down in the wiping.

And the remnant of my inheritance, and will deliver them into the hands of their enemies; and they shall be for a plunder and for a spoil to all their enemies; forasmuch as they have done wickedly in my sight, and have provoked me from the day that I brought out their fathers out of Egypt, even until this day. Moreover Manasses shed very much innocent blood, until he filled Jerusalem with it from one end to the other, beside his sins with which he caused Juda to sin, in doing evil in the eyes of the Lord.

And the rest of the acts of Manasses, and all that he did, and his sin which he sinned, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda.

And Manasses slept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his house, even in the garden of Oza: and Amos his son reigned in his stead.

Twelve and two years old was Amos when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Mezollam, daughter of Amur of Jetbæa. And his son did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, as Manasses his father did. And he walked in all the way in which his father walked, and served the idols which his father served, and worshipped them. And he forsook the Lord God of his fathers, and walked not in the way of the Lord. And the servants of Amos conspired against him, and slew the king in his house. And the people of the land slew all that had conspired against king Amos; and the people of the land made Josias his son king in his room.

And the rest of the acts of Amos, even all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? And they buried him in his tomb in the garden of Oza: and Josias his son reigned in his stead.

Josias was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty and one years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jedea, daughter of Edeia of Baaurotch. And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in all the way of David his father; he turned not aside to the right hand or to the left.

And it came to pass in the eighteenth year of king Josias, in the eighth month of the year, the king sent Saphan the son of Ezzia, the scribe of the house of the Lord, saying, Go up to Cheleia the high priest, and take account of the money
And Chelcius the high priest said to Sapphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of the Lord. And Chelcius gave the book to Sapphan, and he read it. And he went into the house of the Lord to the king, and reported the matter to the king, and said, Thy servants have collected the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and have given it into the hand of the workmen that are appointed in the house of the Lord. And Sapphan the scribe spoke to the king, saying, Chelcius the priest has given me a book. And Sapphan read it before the king. And it came to pass, when the king heard the words of the book of the law, that he rent his garments.

And the king commanded that Chelcius the priest, and Achikam the son of Sapphan, and Achobor the son of Michias, and Sapphan the scribe, and Asias the king's servant, saying, Enquire of the Lord for me, and for all the people, and for all Juda, and concerning the words of this book that has been found: for the wrath of the Lord that has been kindled against us is great, because our fathers hearkened not to the words of this book, to do according to all the things written concerning us.

So Chelcius the priest went, and Achikam, and Achobor, and Sapphan, and Asias, to Oelda the prophetess, the mother of Selm the son of Thuecan son of Aras, keeper of the robes; and she dwelt in Jerusalem in Masena; and they spoke to her.

And she said to them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Say to the man that sent you to me, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I bring evil upon this place, and upon them that dwell in it, even all the words of the book which the king of Juda has read: because our fathers hearkened not to the words of this book, to do according to all the things written concerning us, therefore my wrath shall burn forth against this place, and shall not be quenched.
thy tomb in peace, and thine eyes shall not see any among all the evils which I bring upon this place.

So they reported the word to the king: and the king sent and gathered all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem to himself. 2 And the king went up to the house of the Lord, and every man of Judah and all who dwelt in Jerusalem with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people small and great; and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant which was found in the house of the Lord. 3 And the king stood by a pillar, and made a covenant before the Lord, to walk after the Lord, to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his ordinances and all that he commanded in the book of the covenant; even the things written in this book. And all the people stood to the covenant.

And the king commanded Chelcias the high priest, and the priests of the second order, and them that kept the door, to bring out of the temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grove, and all the house of heaven, and he burned them without Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron, and he cast the ashes of them to Bethel. 4 And he burned the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had appointed, (and they burned incense in the high places and in the cities of Judah, and the places round about Jerusalem;) and that burned incense to Baal, and to the sun, and to the moon, and to the four Mazzuoth, and to all the host of heaven. 5 And he carried out the grove from the house of the Lord to the brook Kidron, and burned it at the brook Kidron, and reduced it to powder, and cast its powder to the sepulchres of the sons of the people. 6 And he pulled down the house of the sodomites that were by the house of the Lord, where the women wove tents for the grove. 7 And he brought up all the priests from the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places which the priests burned incense, from Gibal even to Bershabe; and he pulled down the house of the gates that was by the door of Joshua the ruler of the city, 8 and of the left hand at the gate of the city. 9 Only the priests of the high places went not up to the altar of the Lord in Jerusalem, for they only ate leavened bread in the midst of their brethren. 10 And he defiled Tapheth which is in the valley of the son of Ennom, constructed for a man to cause his son or his daughter to pass through fire to Molech. 11 And he burned the houses which the kings of Judah had given to the sun in the entrance of the house of the Lord, by the treasury of Nathan the kingly eunuch, in the suburbs; and he burned the chariot of the sun with fire. 12 And the altars that were on the roof of the upper chamber of Achaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which Manasses had made in the two courts of the house of the Lord, did the king pull down and forcibly remove from thence, and cast their dust into the eirinh, and oik ophthetini en tois ophthalmois sou en pase tois kakois ois egw emi epagon eti ton ytopon touton.

13 and the king defiled the house that was before Jerusalem, on the right hand of the mount of Moriah, which Solomon king of Israel built to Ashtaroth the abomination of the Sidonians, and to Chamos the abomination of Moab, and to Moloch the abomination of the children of Ammon. 14 And he broke in pieces the pillars, and utterly destroyed the groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Also the high altar that was at Bethel, which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, did make, even that high altar high, and as much as the altar of Jerusalem, and sacrificed upon it kings of Israel, and provoketh the anger of the Lord God, which smote the cities of Samaria, and made them a desolation unto this day.

16 Moreover Josias removed all the houses of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel made to provoke the Lord to anger, and all that he did he did in Bethesda. 17 And he said, Let him alone; let no one disturb his bones. So his bones were buried in the tomb of his fathers in the city of David.

18 Then the men of Judah brought a large stone, which was set at the entrance of the temple of the Lord, and they laid no stone in the hands of the masons. And they put an ephod and the vessels into the large stone they had set, and left no part of the house of the Lord until this day. 19 And the high places were not removed out of the land; nevertheless the hand of Judah was loyal all the days of Josias.

20 And the king commanded all the people, saying, Keep the passover to the Lord your God, as it is written in the book of this covenant. 21 For a passover such as this had not been kept from the days of judges who judged Israel, even all the days of the kings of Israel, and of the kings of Judah. 22 But in the eighteenth year of king Josias, was the passover kept to the Lord in Jerusalem.

23 Moreover Josias removed all the sorcerers, and the wizards, and the therapeutans, and the idols, and all the abominations that had been set up in the land of Juda, and in Jerusalem, that he might 19 keep the words of the law that were written in the book, which Chelcias the priest found in the house of the Lord. 24 There was no king like him before him, who turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his strength, according to all the law of Moses; and after him there rose not one like him. 25 Nevertheless the Lord turned not from the fierceness of his great anger, wherewith he was wrath in his anger against Juda, because of the provocations, wherewith Manasses provoked him. 26 And the
IV. KINGS XXIII. 28—XXIV. 7.

Lord said, I will also remove Juda from my presence, as I removed Israel, and will reject this city which I have chosen, even Jerusalem, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there. But the rest of the acts of Josias, and all that he did, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

And in his days went up Pharaoh Nechoh king of Egypt against the king of the Assyrians to the river Euphrates: and Josias went out to meet him: and Nechoh slew him in Mageddo when he saw him. And his servants carried him dead from Mageddo, and brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his sepulchre: and the people of the land took Joachaz, the son of Josias, and anointed him, and made him king in the room of his father.

Twenty and three years old was Joachaz when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Seraiah, daughter of Jeremias of Lohna. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers did. And Pharaoh Nechoh removed him to Babylon in the land of Emath; so that he should not reign in Jerusalem; and imposed a tribute on the land, a hundred talents of gold. And he removed all the gold and the silver, and a hundred talents of gold. And Pharaoh Nechoh made Eliakim son of Josias king of Judah king over them in the place of his father Josias, and he changed his name to Joakim, and he took Joachaz and brought him to Egypt, and he died there. And Joakim gave the silver and the gold and the Pharaoh: they gave the silver and the gold each man according to his assessment together with the people of the land to give to Pharaoh Nechoh.

Twenty-five years old was Joakim when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jeldaph, daughter of Phadail of Ruma. And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done.

In his days went up Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and Joakim became his servant three years: and then he turned and revolted from him. And the Lord sent against him the bands of the Chaldeans, and the bands of Syria, and the bands of Moab, and the bands of the children of Ammon, and sent them into the land of Juda to prevail against it, according to the word of the Lord, which he spoke by his servants the prophets. Moreover it was for the purpose of the Lord concerning Judah, to remove them from his presence, because of the sins of Manasses, according to all that he did. Moreover he shed innocent blood, and filled Jerusalem with innocent blood, and the Lord would not pardon it. And the rest of the acts of Joakim, and all that he did, and all the acts of his fathers, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

the king of Egypt came no more out of his land; for the king of Babylon took away all that belonged to the king of Egypt from the river of Egypt as far as the river Euphrates.

8 Eighteen years old was Joashim when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Nesthia, daughter of Ellamastham, of Jerusalem. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father did.

9 At that time went up Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon to Jerusalem, and the city was besieged. And Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came against the city, and his servants besieged it. And Joashim king of Juda came forth to the king of Babylon, he and his servants, and his mother, and his princes, and his eunuchs; and the king of Babylon took him in the eighth year of his reign.

10 And he brought forth thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house, and he cut up all the golden vessels which Solomon the king of Israel had made in the temple of the Lord, according to the word of the Lord.

11 And he carried away the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and all the captains, and the mighty men, taking captive ten thousand prisoners, and every artificer and smith: and only the poor of the land were left.

12 And he carried Joashim away to Babylon, and the king's mother, and the king's wives, and his eunuchs, and the mighty men of the land, that were left in the land, and the princes of the city, which came forth to the king of Babylon.

13 And all the men of might, even seven thousand, and one thousand artificers and smiths: all were mighty men fit for war; and the king of Babylon carried them captive to Babylon.

14 And the king of Babylon made Battianias his son king in his stead, and called his name Sedeckias.

15 Twenty and one years old was Sedeckias when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Amital, daughter of Jeremias.

16 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Joashim did.

17 For it was according to the Lord's anger against Jerusalem and on Juda, until he cast them out of his presence, that Sedeckias revolted against the king of Babylon.

18 And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came, and all his host, against Jerusalem; and he encamped against it, and built a mound against it. And the city was besieged until the eleventh year of Sedeckias on the ninth day of the month. And the famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land. And the city was all full of people that were ready to go up, and all the people of war went forth by night, by the way of the gate between the walls, this was the gate of the king's garden: and the Chaldeans were set against the city round about: and the king went by the way of β the plain. 5 And the force of the Chaldeans pursued the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jericho: and all his army was dispersed from about him. 6 And they took the king, and brought him to the king of Babylon to Reblatha; and he gave judgment upon him. 7 And he slew the sons of Gedelias before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Gedelias, and bound him in fetters, and brought him to Babylon.

8 And in the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month (this is the nineteenth year of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon), came Nabuzardan, γ, captain of the guard, who stood before the king of Babylon, to Jerusalem. 8 And he burnt the house of the Lord, and the king's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, even every house did the captain of the guard burn. 10 And the force of the Chaldeans pulled down the wall of Jerusalem round about. 11 And Nabuzardan the captain of the guard removed the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the 4 men who had desired to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude. 12 But the captain of the guard left of the poor of the land to be vine-dressers and husbandmen.

13 And the Chaldeans broke to pieces the brazen pillars that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brazen sea that was in the house of the Lord, and carried their brass to Babylon. 14 And the caldrons, and the shovels, and the bowls, and the censers, and all the brass vessels with which they ministered, he took. 15 And the captain of the guard took the brasen sea and the gold bowls.

16 Two pillars, and one sea, and the bases which Solomon made for the house of the Lord: there was no weight of the brass of all the vessels. 17 The height of one pillar was eight cubits, and the chapter upon it was of brass: and the height of the chapter was three cubits: the bronze bases, and the pomegranates upon the chapter round about were all of brass: and so it was with the second pillar with its border.

18 And the captain of the guard took Sarsias the δ high-priest, and Sophonias the second in order, and the three door-keepers. 19 And they took out of the city one eunuch who was commander of the men of war, and five men that saw the face of that, which were found in the city, and the secretary of the commander-in-chief, who took account of the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land that were found in the city. 20 And Nabuzardan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Reblatha.

21 And the king of Babylon smote them and slew them at Reblatha in the land of Amath. So Judah was carried away from his land.

22 And as for the people that were left in the land of Juda, whom Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon left, even over them he set Godolias son of Achiam son of Saphan.

23 And all the captains of the host, they and

...their men, heard that the king of Babylon had thus appointed Godolias, and they came to Godolias to Massephath, both Ismael the son of Nathaniaas, and Jona son of Careth, and Saraias, son of Thanaamath the Netrophathite, and Jeronias son of a Machathite, they and their men. 24 And Godolias swore to them and their men, and said to them, Fear not the incursion of the Chaldeans; dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. 25 And it came to pass in the seventh month that Ismael son of Nathaniaas son of Helisama, of the seed royal, came, and ten men with him, and he smote Godolias, that he died, him and the Jews and the Chaldeans that were with him in Massephath. 26 And all the people, great and small rose up, they and the captains of the forces, and went into Egypt; because they were afraid of the Chaldeans.

And it came to pass in the thirty-seventh year of the carrying away of Joachim king of Juda, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, that Evialmarodeck king of Babylon in the first year of his reign lifted up the head of Joachim king of Juda, and brought him out of his prison-house. 27 And he spoke kindly to him, and set his throne above the thrones of the kings that were with him in Babylon; 28 and changed his prison garments: and he ate bread continually before him all the days of his life. 29 And his portion, a continual portion, was given him out of the house of the king, a daily rate for every day all the days of his life.

might. 12 And Sapphin, and Apphin, and the sons of Or, Asom, whose son was Aor.
13 The sons of Nephthali; Jasiel, Goni, and Aser, and Sellum, his sons, Balam his son. 14 The sons of Manasaes; Eriel, whom his Syrian concubine bore; and she bore to him also Machir the father of Gandal. 15 And Machir took a wife for Apphin and Sapphin, and his sister's name was Moocha; and the name of the second son was Sapphaad; and to Sappadh were born daughters. 16 And Moocha the wife of Machir bore a son, and called his name Phares; and his brother's name was Surus; his sons were Ulam, and Rooom. 17 And the sons of Ulam; Badam. These were the sons of Machir, the son of Manasse.
18 And his sister Malecheth bore Isud, and Abier, and Mael. 19 And the sons of Semira were,
Aim, and Sychem, and Lakim, and Anian.
20 And the sons of Ephrail; Sothalath, and Barad his sons, and Thath his son, Elada his son, Saath his son, and Zabad his sons, Sohele his sons, and Acher, and Eela; and the isters and apprentices of these were: And the sons of Thath his son, Elada his son, Saath his son, and Sabor his son, and Thalees his sone, and Thamen his son. 22 And Ephrail died in his war; and his sons have their inhabitants at Bethel, and in their inhabitants in Bethel. 23 And their possession and their dwelling were Bethel and her towns, to the east Noranon, westward Gazer and her towns, and Sychem and her towns, as far as Gaza and her towns. 24 And as far as the borders of the sons of Manasse, Bethsaan and her towns, Thanchah and her towns,
Magado and her towns, Dor and her towns.
In this the children of Joseph the son of Israel dwelt.
25 The sons of Aser; Jemua, and Suan, and Isu, and Beria, and Sore.

were thin, and Sebia. Uram, and of Abar, prebed, and Noama, and Achia, and Gera, and Sephupham, and Uram. These were the sons of Od: these are the heads of families to them that dwell in Gabee, and they removed them to Mochanath: 'and Nooma, and Achia and Gera, he removed them, and he begot Aza, and Jachicho.

And Saarin begot children in the plain of Moab, after that he had sent away Osin and Banda his wives.

And he begot of his wife Ada, Jolab, and Seba, and Misa, and Melchas, and Jebus, and Zabia, and Marma; these were heads of families. And of Oain he begot Abitol, and Alphaal. And the sons of Alphaal: Obed, Misual, Semmer: he built Ouna, and Lod, and its towns: 12 and Beria, and Sama; these were heads of families among the dwellers in Elam, and they drove out the inhabitants of Gethe. 13 And his brethren were Sosse, and Armoth, and Zabadin, and Ored, and Eder, and Michael, and Jeppha, and Joda, the sons of Beria: 17 and Zabadin, and Mosollam, and Azaki, and Abar, 13 and Ismari, and Jexlias, and Jobab, the sons of Elphah: 24 and Jakim, and Zachri, and Zabdi, and Eilomai, and Salth, 25 and Elei, and Adai, and Baraia, and Samaia, sand on the children of Judah: 26 and Abdon, and Jepphal, and Obed, and Elei, 23 and Abdon, and Zeechi, and Anan, 24 and Anania, and Abri, and Zelam, and Ananeth, and Jachin, and Jephadias, and Philanuel, the sons of Sosee: 25 and Samsari, and Sariais, and Gotobah, 26 and Jarsias, and Erria, and Zeechi, son of Isom. These were heads of families, chiefs according to their generations: these dwelt in Jerusalem.

2 And the father of Gabaon dwelt in Gabaon, and his wife’s name was Moaza.
30 And her first-born son was Abdon, and Sur, and Kis, and Baal, and Nadab, and Ner, and Gedur and his brother, and Zacher, and Makeloth. 32 And Makeloth begot Samaa: for these dwelt in Jerusalem in the presence of their brethren with their brethren. 33 And Ner begot Kis, and Kis begot Saul, and Saul begot Jonathan, and Michisue, and Aminadav, and Joel. 35 And the son of Jonathan was Meribaal; and Meribaal begot Micha. 35 And the sons of Micha; Phithon, and Melach, and Thrarch, and Achaiz. 36 And Achaiz begot Jada, and Souda, and Barin, and Imran, and Basan, and Oa, and Sama, and Salisa, and Jethar, and Beaira. 38 And the sons of Jether, Jephina, and Phaspha, and Arna. 39 And the sons of Ola; Orech, Aniel, and Rasia. 40 All these were the sons of Aser, all heads of families, choice, mighty men, chief leaders: their number for battle array—their number was twenty-six thousand men.

Now Benjamin begot Baale his first-born, and Asbel his second son, Aara the third, Noa the fourth, 2 and Rapha the fifth. 3 And the sons of Baale were, Adir, and Gera, and Abiad, 4 and Abessue, and Noama, and Achia, 5 and Gera, and Sephupham, and Uram. These were the sons of Od: these are the heads of families to them that dwell in Gabee, and they removed them to Mochanath: 2 and Nooma, and Achia and Gera, he removed them, and he begot Aza, and Jachicho.

And he begot of his wife Ada, Jolab, and Seba, and Misa, and Melchas, 10 and Jebus, and Zabia, and Marma; these were heads of families. And of Oain he begot Abitol, and Alphaal. 11 And the sons of Alphaal: Obed, Misual, Semmer: he built Ouna, and Lod, and its towns: 12 and Beria, and Sama; these were heads of families among the dwellers in Elam, and they drove out the inhabitants of Gethe. 13 And his brethren were Sosse, and Armoth, and Zabadin, and Ored, and Eder, and Michael, and Jeppha, and Joda, the sons of Beria: 17 and Zabadin, and Mosollam, and Azaki, and Abar, 13 and Ismari, and Jexlias, and Jobab, the sons of Elphah: 24 and Jakim, and Zachri, and Zabdi, and Eilomai, and Salth, 25 and Elei, and Adai, and Baraia, and Samaia, sand on the children of Judah: 26 and Abdon, and Jepphal, and Obed, and Elei, 23 and Abdon, and Zeechi, and Anan, 24 and Anania, and Abri, and Zelam, and Ananeth, and Jachin, and Jephadias, and Philanuel, the sons of Sosee: 25 and Samsari, and Sariais, and Gotobah, 26 and Jarsias, and Erria, and Zeechi, son of Isom. These were heads of families, chiefs according to their generations: these dwelt in Jerusalem.

3 And the father of Gabaon dwelt in Gabaon, and his wife’s name was Moaza.
30 And her first-born son was Abdon, and Sur, and Kis, and Baal, and Nadab, and Ner, and Gedur and his brother, and Zacher, and Makeloth. 32 And Makeloth begot Samaa: for these dwelt in Jerusalem in the presence of their brethren with their brethren. 33 And Ner begot Kis, and Kis begot Saul, and Saul begot Jonathan, and Michisue, and Aminadav, and Joel. 35 And the son of Jonathan was Meribaal; and Meribaal begot Micha. 35 And the sons of Micha; Phithon, and Melach, and Thrarch, and Achaiz. 36 And Achaiz begot Jada, and Souda, and Barin, and Imran, and Basan, and Oa, and Sama, and Salisa, and Jethar, and Beaira. 38 And the sons of Jether, Jephina, and Phaspha, and Arna. 39 And the sons of Ola; Orech, Aniel, and Rasia. 40 All these were the sons of Aser, all heads of families, choice, mighty men, chief leaders: their number for battle array—their number was twenty-six thousand men.

3 And the father of Gabaon dwelt in Gabaon, and his wife’s name was Moaza.
30 And her first-born son was Abdon, and Sur, and Kis, and Baal, and Nadab, and Ner, and Gedur and his brother, and Zacher, and Makeloth. 32 And Makeloth begot Samaa: for these dwelt in Jerusalem in the presence of their brethren with their brethren. 33 And Ner begot Kis, and Kis begot Saul, and Saul begot Jonathan, and Michisue, and Aminadav, and Joel. 35 And the son of Jonathan was Meribaal; and Meribaal begot Micha. 35 And the sons of Micha; Phithon, and Melach, and Thrarch, and Achaiz. 36 And Achaiz begot Jada, and Souda, and Barin, and Imran, and Basan, and Oa, and Sama, and Salisa, and Jethar, and Beaira. 38 And the sons of Jether, Jephina, and Phaspha, and Arna. 39 And the sons of Ola; Orech, Aniel, and Rasia. 40 All these were the sons of Aser, all heads of families, choice, mighty men, chief leaders: their number for battle array—their number was twenty-six thousand men.
And Esel had six sons, and these were their names: Esricam his first-born, and Israel, and Saraha, and Abdia, and Anan, and Ass: all these were the sons of Esel. And the sons of Asel his brother; Zalam his first-born, and Jas the second, and Elephalet the third. And the sons of Zalam were mighty men, bending the bow, and multiplying sons and grandsons, a hundred and fifty. All these were the sons of Benjamin.

And this is all Israel, even their enrolment: and these are written down in the book of the kings of Israel and Juda, with the names of them that were carried away to Babylon for their transgressions. And they that dwelt before in their possessions in the cities of Israel, the priests, the Levites, and the chief officers of their tribes, were

And there dwelt in Jerusalem some of the children of Juda, and of the children of Benjamin, and of the children of Ephraim, and Manasse.

And Gnote, and the son of Samud, the son of Amri, the son of Ambram, and the son of Pheres, the son of Juda. And of the Selonites; Asaia his first-born, and his sons.

6 Of the sons of Zara; Jeel, and their brethren, six hundred and ninety. And of the sons of Benjamin; Salom, son of Mosollam, son of Oduia, son of Asinu. And Jemmasa son of Jeroboam, and Elo; these are the sons of Ozi the son of Machir; and Mosollam, son of Saphatia, son of Raguel, son of Jemma; and their brethren according to their generations, nine hundred and fifty-six, all the men were heads of families according to the houses of their fathers.

And of the priests; Jodn, and Joarim, and Jachin, and Azara the son of Chelesia, the son of Mosollam, the son of Sadoc, the son of Maraioth, the son of Achat, the ruler of the house of God; and Amazia, son of Obeid, the chief of the priests, and Melech, and Maass, the sons of Zabia, son of Ossia, sons of the house of God, whose duty it was to carry into the house of the Lord the vessels of service, and the spoils and the precious things that were taken by war.

10 And the Levites; Samaja son of Asob, son of Ezricam, son of Acap, son of the sons of Merari. And Bachacar, and Ares, and Galal, and Matthana, sons of Micha, son of Zechri, son of Asaph. And the Levites; Jemmasa son of Adiel, son of Ezira, son of Mosollam, son of Maselmon, son of Emmer; and their brethren, chief of their families, a thousand seven hundred and sixty, mighty men for the work of the ministration of the house of God.

12 And of the Levites; Samaja son of Asob, son of Ezricam, son of Acap, son of the sons of Merari. And Bachacar, and Ares, and Galal, and Matthana, sons of Micha, son of Zechri, son of Asaph; and the Levites; Jemmasa son of Adiel, son of Ezira, son of Mosollam, son of Maselmon, son of Emmer; and their brethren, chief of their families, a thousand seven hundred and sixty, mighty men for the work of the ministration of the house of God.

13 The door-keepers; Salom, Acum, Yelem, and Diman, and their brethren; Salom was the chief, and he waited hither to the king's gate eastward: these are the gates of the companies of the sons of Levi.

14 And Sellum the son of Core, the son of Abiasaph, the son of Core, and his brethren belonging to the house of his father, the Corites were over the works of the service, keeping the... watches of the tabernacle, and their fathers over the camp of the Lord, keeping the entrance.

And Phinees son of Eledas was head over them before the Lord, and these were with him. 21 Zacharias the son of Mosollami was keeper of the door of the tabernacle of witness. 22 All the chosen porters in the gates were two hundred and twelve; these were in their courts, this was their distribution; these David and Samuel the seer established in their several parts. 23 And these were their sons over the gates in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the tabernacle, to keep watch. The gates were toward the four winds, eastward, southward, northward, westward. 24 And their brethren were in their courts, to enter in and go out with them. 25 For the charge was upon them, and these were charged with the keys to open the doors of the temple every morning.

And the families of the Levites were appointed over the vessels of service, that they should carry them by number, and carry them out by number. 26 And some of them were appointed over the furniture, and over all the holy vessels, and over the fine flour, the wine, the oil, the frankincense, and the spices. 27 And some of the priests were appointed to minister before the altar, and to prepare the spices. 28 And Mattheahah the Levites, he was the first-born of Salom the Corite, was set over the sacrifices of meat-offering of the pan belonging to the high priest. 29 And Banias the Caithite, from among their brethren, was set over the charge of the terrace, and to prepare it every sabbath. 30 And these were the singers, heads of families of the Levites, to whom were established daily courses, for they were employed in the services day and night. 31 These were the heads of the families of the Levites according to their generations: their chief dwelt in Jerusalem.

And Eel discussed in the midst of their brethren in Jerusalem, even in the midst of their brethren. 32 And Ner begot Kish, and Kish begot Saul, and Saul begot Jonathan, and Melchiua, and Aminadab, and Asahel. 33 And the son of Jonathan was Meribaal: and Meribaal begot Micah. 34 And the sons of Micah were Nohon and Malachi, and Shahach. 35 And Achi begot Abdon, and Ada begot Galemeth, and Gamoth, and Zambri; and Zambri begot Massa. 36 And Massa begot Baana, and Raphah was his son, Elasa his son, Esel his son. 37 And Esel had six sons, and these were their names; Esricam, and Fulaia, and the skinnies, and paters, and sons, and the paradebol. 20 Kriou, and otho met auton. 21 Zacharias uos Moseollami 21 poulouros the thuras the skinnies of the marmurion. 22 elkeliko the tipylis etai tipylis diamakosin ai dekado oostoo etai tais aila las auton, o kalologamos auton toutous exergethe Davud kai Samouiol otho pieste tis auton. 23 avton kai o iai auton etai tipylis etai tipylis oikos Kriou, kai etai oikos the skinnies of the philadun. 24 htiatous the tiaras auton, htiatous the tiaras etai auton. 25 auton kai o iai auton etai tipylis etai tipylis oikos Kriou, kai etai oikos the skinnies of the philadun. 26 etai auton etai auton etai auton. 27 etai auton etai auton etai auton. 28 ev tis etai auton etai auton etai auton.

8 And it came to pass on the next day that the Philistines came to strip the slain, and they found Saul and his sons fallen on mount Gelbe. 9 And the Philistines pursued after Saul, and after his sons; and the Philistines smote Jonathan, and Aminadab, and Selah, sons of Saul. 10 And the battle prevailed against Saul, and the archers hit him with arrows and arrows, and they were wounded of the arrows. 11 And Saul said to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword, and pierce me through with it, lest these uncircumcised come and mock me. But his armour-bearer would not, for he was greatly afraid: so Saul took a sword, and fell upon it. 12 And his armour-bearer saw that Saul was dead, and he also fell upon his sword. 13 So Saul died, and his three sons on the 12th day, and all his family died at the same time, and all the men of Israel that were in the valley saw that Israel fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead, and they left their cities, and fled: and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

14 And all the dwellers in Galsad heard of all that the Philistines had done to Saul and to Israel. 15 And all the mighty men rose up from Galsad and took the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sons, and brought them to Jabis, and buried their bones under the oak in Jabis, and fasted seven days. 16 So Saul died for his transgressions, wherein he transgressed against God, against the word of the Lord, forsook much as he kept it not, because Saul enquired of a wizard to seek counsel, and Samuel the prophet answered him, 17 and he sought not the Lord: so he slew him, and turned the kingdom to David the son of Jesse.

And all Israel came to David in Chebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh. 18 And therefore when Saul was king, thou wast he that led Israel and out, and the Lord of Israel said to thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be for a ruler over Israel. 19 And all the elders of Israel came to the king to Chebron; and king David made a covenant with them in Chebron before the Lord: and they anointed David to be king over Israel, according to the word of the Lord by Samuel.
And Joab the son of Sarai went up first, and became chief. And David dwelt in the strong hold; therefore he called it the city of David. And he fortified the city round about. And David continued to increase, and the Lord Almighty was with him. And these are the chief mighty men that stood by him:...

And this is the list of the mighty men of David: Jesebeda, son of Achaman, first of the thirty: he drew his sword against three hundred and whom he slew at one stroke; and he was chief of three; and after him I. Elhanan, the Achophite: he was among the three mighty men.

And he was with David in Phisodemin, and the Philistines were gathered there to battle, and there was a portion of the field full of barley; and the people fled before the Philistines. And he stood in the midst of the portion, and rescued it, and smote the Philistines; and the Lord wrought a great deliverance.

And three of the thirty chiefs went down to the rock to David, to the care of Odollam, and the camp of the Philistines was in the giants' valley. And David was then in the hold, and thearrison of the Philistines was then in Bethlem. And David longed, and said, Who will give me water to drink of the well of Bethlem, that is in the gate? And the three broke through the camp of the Philistines, and they drew water out of the well that was in Bethlem, which was in the gate, and they took it, and came to David: but David would not drink it, and poured it out to the Lord, and said, "For we are but men, and he that smote us with this great power is of the Lord; why then should we drink of this water? And so David forbad that I should do this thing: shall the hand that smote these men with their lives drink of the water?' and they brought it. So he would not drink it. These things did the three mighty men.

And Abisa the brother of Joab, he was chief of three: he drew his sword against three hundred slain at one time, and he had a name among the second three. He was more famous than the two others of the three, and he was chief over them; yet he reached not to the first three.

And Banaia the son of Joda was the son of a mighty man: many men are his acts for Caleb: he smote two Ishemion men of Moab, and he went down and smote a lion in a pit on a snowy day. And he smote an Egyptian, a wonderful man five cubits high; and on the head of the Egyptian there was a spear like a woman's staff; and Banaia went down to him with a staff, and took the spear out of the Egyptian's hand, and slew him with his own spear. These things did Banaia son of Joda, and his
The mighty men of the forces were Asael the brother of Joab, Eleazar the son of Dodoc of Bethlehem, 27 Samaoth the Arorite, Chelles the Philonite, 29 Ora the son of Ekkis the Thecoite, Abiezir the Anathothite, 29 Sobchoai the Usathite, Eli the Achronite, 30 Marnai the Netophathite, Chispa the son of Nozza of the Netophathite, Airi the son of Pizzah, the hill of Bethanaim, 31 Baanias the Pharathonite, 32 Uri of Nachash Gaas, Abiel the Garabathite, 33 Azbon the Baromiton, Elisaah the Salabonite, 34 the son of Assan the Gizonite, Jonathan the son of Soha the Ararite, 35 Achim the son of Achar the Ararite, Abithol the son of Thyoroph 36 the Melemarthite, Achia the Phelonite, 37 there the Chamaradaites, Naarai the son of Azobai, 38 Joel the son of Nathan, Mesbaal son of Asgara, 39 Sele the son of Ammon, Nachor the Berothite, armur-bearer to the son of Sarmin, 40 Ira the Jerihite, Gaber the Jethrite, 41 Uri the Chettite, Zebat son of Achaia, 42 Adina son of Saco, a chief of Rubel, and thirty 43 and of his bow, and thirty shields, and thirty spears, and thirty 44 the sons of Mochha, 45 parvith, 46 the sons of Zareel, 47 and of his bow, and thirty shields, and thirty spears, and thirty 48 and of his bow, and thirty shields, and thirty spears, and thirty 49 Joab, Eleazar the son of Asas the Gathadite, 50 Joel the son of Asaph, sons of Asaiah, and Berechiah, and 51 the sons of Chotham the Ararite, 52 Jedid the son of Samael, and Jozae his brother the Touseith, 53 Elieel the Maioite, and Jareb, and Josia his son, Eliaam, and Jethama the Meabsite, 54 the men of Mesobia. And these are they that came to Sikela, when he yet kept himself close because of Saul the son of Kish: and these were among the mighty, aiding him in war, and using the bow with the right hand and with the left, and slingers with stones, and shooters with bows. Of the brethren of Saul of Benjamin, the chief was Acheizer, and Josas the son of Asma the Gabathite, and Joel and Joaphalet, sons of Asmoth, and Berechiah, and 58 of the sons of the Gathadite a mighty man among the thirty, and over the thirty; and Jeremia, and Jeziel, and Joanah, and Jozabath of Gadartheth, 59 Azai and Arimuth, and Baalia, and Samaain, and 60 Saphathias of Charshiphel, Helcanah, and Josuni, and Oziel, and Joza, and Sobcoam, and the Corites, and Jelia and Zabadia, sons of Iram, and the men of Gedor. And from Gad these separated themselves to David from the wilderness, strong mighty men of war, bearing shields and spears, and their faces were as the face of a lion, and they were nimble as rams upon the mountains in speed. Azai the chief, Abid the second, Eliah the third, 61 Masman the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth, and Joel the sixth, Eliah the seventh, Joanah the eighth, Eleazer the ninth, Jeremiah the tenth, Melchababai the eleventh. These were the chief of the army of the sons of Gad, the least one commander of a hundred, and the greatest one of a thousand. These are the men that crossed over Jordan in the first month, and it had overflowed all its banks; and they drove out all the inhabitants of the valleys, from the east to the west.

And there came some of the sons of Benjamin and Juda, to the assistance of David.

And David went out to meet them, and said to them, If ye are come peaceably to me, let my heart by e safe with you; but if ye are come to betray me to my enemies unfaithfully, the God of your fathers look upon it, and reprove it.

And the Spirit came upon Amasea, a captain of the host, and he said, Go, David, son of Jesse, thou and thy people, peace be to thee, and peace to thy helpers, for thy God has helped thee. And David received them, and made them captains of the forces.

And some came to David from Manasse, when the Philistines came against Saul to war: and he helped them not, because the captains of the Philistines took counsel, saying, With the heads of those men will he return to his master Saul.

And when David was going to Sichem, there came to him of Manasse, Edna and Jozabath, and Rodiel, and Michael, and Josabaith, and Elimuth, and Saul of the house of the sons of Manasse. And they fought on the side of David against a troop, for they were all men of might; and they were commanders in the army, because of their might.

For daily men came to David, till they amounted to a great force, as the force of God.

And these are the names of the commanders of the army, who came to David to Clebron, to turn the kingdom of Saul to him according to the word of the Lord.

The sons of Juda, bearing shields and spears, six thousand and eight hundred mighty in war.

Of the sons of Simeon mighty for battle, seven thousand and a hundred.

Of the sons of Levi, four thousand and six hundred.

And Joadas the chief of the family of Aaron, and with him three thousand and seven hundred.

And Sadoc, a young man mighty in strength, and there were twenty-two leaders of his father's house.

And of the sons of Benjamin, the brethren of the three thousand; and still the greater part of them kept the guard of the house of Saul.

And of the sons of Ephraim, twenty thousand and eight hundred, mighty men, famous in the houses of their fathers.

And of the half-tribe of Manasse, eighteen thousand, even those who were named by name, to make David king.

And of the sons of Issachar, having wisdom with regard to the times, knowing what Israel should do, two hundred; and all their brethren with them.

And of Zabulon they that went out to battle, with all weapons of war, were fifty thousand to help David, not weak-handed.

And of Naphtali a thousand captains, and with them men with shields and spears, thirty-seven thousand.

And of the Danites men ready for war twenty-eight thousand and eight hundred.

And of Aser, they that went out to give aid in war, forty thousand.
And and all Israel were playing before the Lord with all their might, and that together with singers, and with harps, and with lutes, with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets. 2 And they came as far as the threshing-floor: and Oza put forth his hand to hold the ark, because the bullock moved it from its place. 3 And the Lord was very angry with Oza, and smote him there, because of his stretching forth his hand upon the ark: and he died there before God. 4 And David was dispirited, because the Lord had made a breach upon Oza: and he called that place the Breach of Oza until this day. 5 And David feared God that day, saying, How shall I bring the ark of God in to myself? 6 So David brought not the ark: he went not into his house, but into the city of David, but he turned it aside into the house of Abbeddara the Gethite.

14 And the ark of God abode in the house of Abbeddara three months: and God blessed Abbeddara and all that he had.
to David, and cedar timbers, and masons, and carpenters, to build a house for him. 2And David knew that the Lord had signified to him that he should be king over Israel; because his kingdom was highly exalted, on account of his people Israel.

3And David took six more wives in Jerusalem: and there were born to David more sons and daughters. 4And these are the names of those that were born to him, who were born in Jerusalem: Samua, Nathan, and Solomon, 5and Baara, and Ela, and Tziphath, 6and Nerebeth, and Japhie, and Jemmia, and Zeruiah, and Eliphah.

7And the Philistines heard that David was anointed king over all Israel: and all the Philistines went up to seek David; and David heard of it, and went out to meet them.

8And the Philistines came and assembled together in the giants' valley. 9And David enquired of God, saying, Shall I go up against the Philistines? and with whom shall I go against them? And the Lord said to him, Go up; and I will deliver them into thy hand.

10And David went to Baal-perath. There he smote the Philistines, and killed an hundred thousand of them with the sword. 11And David put together the number of the chosen men of valiant stature, that were able to go up and come forth to fight, to help the king against the Philistines.

12And the Philistines gathered together their armies, to battle with David, and to battle with Achish, the son of Abdi. 13And David enquired of the Lord, saying, Shall I go up against the Philistines? and wilt thou deliver them into mine hand? And the Lord said to him, Go up; for I will deliver them into thy hand.

14And David said to his men, What shall we do now? And they said, If they be come up by themselves, then we may stand against them in battle; but if they be come up by God's help against us, then we shall fall by their hand. 15And when Davi

AND SHE WROTE, 'THAT WHICH IS HIDDEN IS THE BEGINNING OF THE WORDS OF DAVID, WHICH WERE SPOKEN BY THE MOUTH OF THE LORD.'
11 And David made a At the ark, and the Levites, Uriel, Asaiai, and Joel, and Semeai, and Eliie, and Amindad, 12 and said to them, Ye are the heads of the families of the Levites: sanctify yourselves, and you and your brethren, and ye shall carry up the ark of the God of Israel, to the place where I have prepared it. For because ye were not ready at the first, our God made a breach upon us, because we sought him not according to the ordinance.

13 So the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves, to bring up the ark of the God of Israel. And the sons of the Levites took the ark of God, (as Moses commanded by the word of God, according to the scripture,) upon their shoulders with staves.

14 And David said to the chief of the Levites, Set ye your brethren the singers with musical instruments, lutes, harps, and cymbals, to sound aloud with a voice of joy. So the Levites appointed Ammin the son of Joel; Asaph the son of Baruchias was one of his brethren, and his son Kisseus was of the sons of Merari their brethren; and with them their brethren of the second rank, Zacharias, and Oziel, and Semiramoth, and Jehiel, and Eliel, and Banna, and Maasai, and Mattithia, and Eliphelet, and Methil, and Eliaja, and Malchith, and Oziel, and Matthithias, and焚烧, and Aabdis, and Oziel.

15 And they appointed Oziel, and the cymbals of God, and brought up the ark of the covenant, and it was brought in by Uriel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and Matthithias, and焚烧, and Aabdis, and Oziel.

16 And the ark of God, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

17 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

18 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

19 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

20 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

21 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

22 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

23 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

24 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

25 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

26 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

27 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

28 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

29 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

30 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

31 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

32 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

33 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

34 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.

35 And they brought up also the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Oziel, and Eliaja, and Oziel, and the chest of gold, and the chest of silver, and the vessels of the sanctuary, which King Saul had made to serve before the Lord, and the vessels of king David his father, were there before the ark of the Lord.
set it in the midst of the tabernacle which David pitched for it; and they offered whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings before God. And David finished offering up whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and blessed the people in the name of the Lord. And he divided to every man of Israel (both men and women), to every man one baker's loaf, and a cake. And he appointed before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, the Levites to minister and lift up the voice, and to give thanks and praise the Lord God of Israel: Asaph was the chief, and next to him Zechariah, Jeiel, Shemiramoth, Mattathias, Eliab, and Banaan; and Abdedom: and Jeiel sounding with musical instruments, lutes and harps, and Asaph with cymbals: and Banaan and Oziel the priests sounding continually with trumpets before the ark of the covenant of God in that day.

Then David first gave orders to praise the Lord by the hand of Asaph and his brethren.

Song. Give thanks to the Lord, call upon him by his name, make known his designs among the people. Sing songs to him, and sing hymns to him, relate to all people his wonderful deeds, which the Lord has wrought in his holy name, yea, the heart that seeks his pleasure shall rejoice. Seek the Lord and be strong, seek his face continually. Remember his wonderful works which he has wrought, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth; ye seed of Israel his servants, ye seed of Jacob his chosen ones. He is the Lord our God; his judgments are in all the earth. Let us remember his covenant for ever, his word which he commanded to a thousand generations, which he covenanted with Abraham, and his oath sworn to Isaac. He confirmed it to Jacob for an ordinance, to Israel as an everlasting covenant, saying, To thee will I give the land of Chanan, the line of thy inheritance: when they were few in number, when they were but little, and dwelt as strangers in it; and went from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another people. He suffered not a man to oppress them, and he reproved kings for their sakes. Saying, Touch not my anointed ones, and deal not wrongfully with my prophets.

Sing ye to the Lord, all the earth; proclaim his salvation from day to day. Declare among the nations his glory, his wondrous deeds among all peoples. For the Lord is great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods. For all the gods of the nations are idols; but our God made the heavens. Glory and praise are in his presence; strength and rejoicing are in his place. Give to the Lord, ye families of the nations, give to the Lord glory and strength. Give to the Lord the glory belonging to his name: take gifts and offer them before him; and worship the Lord in his holy courts.

Let the whole earth fear before him; let the earth be established, and not be moved. Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth exult; and let them with the Lord and the people, and the Levites and the priests, and the watchmen of the temple; for the service of the house of the Lord. And they set the priests in their offices, and the Levites for the charge of the temple, as David had made holy.

O give thanks to the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

The sons of Korah, Asaph, and Heman, Ezrath, and his brethren, were appointed to praise the Lord with harps continually with musical instruments. And they were to keep holy things, and to minister unto the priests the sons of Levi, and all that requir'd holy things of the Levites, and were over the young men of the priests. And they pitched for themselves in the fields about Jerusalem round about, eastward, and westward: and the Levites, the sons of the Nazarites, the sons of Aaron, were in all their offices, according to the law of Moses, and the Priest of the God of Israel.
say among the nations, The Lord reigns

The Lord, with its fulness shall resound and the tree of the field, and all things in it.

Then shall the trees of the wood rejoice before the Lord, for he is come to judge the earth.

Give thanks to the Lord, for it is good, for his mercy is for ever.

And say ye, Save us, O God of our salvation, and gather us from among the heathen that we may praise thy holy name, and glory in thy salvation.

Blessed be the Lord God of Israel from everlasting and to everlasting:

And all the people shall say, Amen. So they praised the Lord.

And they left there Asaph and his brethren before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, to minister before the ark continually, according to the service of each day: from day to day.

And Abdedom and his brethren were sixty and eight; and Abdedome the son of Idithun, and Osa, were to be door-keepers.

And they appointed Sadae the priest, and his brethren the priests, before the tabernacle of the Lord in the high place in Gabaon, to offer up whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord on the altar of the Lord, and to offer sacrifices and burnt-offerings continually morning and evening, and according to all things written in the law of the Lord, which he commanded the children of Israel by Moses the servant of God.

And with him were Heman and Idithun, and the rest chosen out by name to praise the Lord, for his mercy endureth for ever.

And with them there were trumpets and cymbals to sound aloud, and musical instruments for the songs of God: and the sons of Idithun were at the gate.

And all the people went every one to his home: and David returned to bless his house.

And it came to pass as David dwelt in his house, that David said to Nathan the prophet, Behold, I dwell in a house of cedar, but the ark of the covenant of the Lord is under curtains of skins.

And Nathan said to David, Do all that is in thy heart; for God is with thee.

And it came to pass in that night, that the word of the Lord came to Nathan, saying,

Go and say to David my servant, thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not build me a house for me to dwell in.

For I have not dwelt in a house from the day that I brought up Israel until this day, but I have been in a tabernacle and a tent.

In all places through which I have gone with all Israel: did I ever speak to any one tribe of Israel whom I commanded to feed my people, saying, Why is it that ye have not built me a house of cedar?

And now thus shalt thou say to my servant David, Thus saith the Lord Almighty, I took thee from the sheepfold, and following the flocks, to be a ruler over my people Israel: and I was with thee in all places whither thou wentest, and I destroyed all thine enemies from before thee, and I made thee a great name according to the name of the great ones that are upon the earth.

And I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and I will plant him, and he shall dwell by himself, and shall no longer be anxious; and the son of iniquity shall no longer afflict him, as at the beginning, and from the days when I appointed judges over my people Israel. Also I have humbled all thine enemies, and I will increase thee, and the Lord will build thee a house. And it shall come to pass when thy days shall be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, that I will raise up thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy bowels, and I will establish his kingdom. He shall build me a house, and I will set up his throne for ever. I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son: and my mercy will I not withdraw from him, as I with drew it from them that were before thee. And I will establish him in my house and in his kingdom for ever; and his throne shall be set up for ever.

According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so spoke Nathan to David.

And king David came and sat before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lord God? and what is my house, that thou hast loved me for ever? And these things were little in thy sight, O God: thou hast also spoken concerning the house of thy servant? For a long time to come, and thou hast looked upon me a mere man, as on one of thy bowels, and hast exalted me, O Lord God. What shall David do more than to glorify thee? and thou knowest thy servant. And thou hast wrought all this greatness according to thine heart. O Lord, there is none like thee, and there is no God beside thee, according to all things which we have heard with our ears. Neither is there another nation upon the earth such as thy people Israel, whereas God led him in the way, to redeem a people for himself, to make for himself a great and glorious name, to cast out nations from before thy people, whom thou redeemedst out of Egypt. And thou hast appointed thy people Israel for a people to thyself, for ever; and thou, Lord, didst become a God to them. And now, Lord, let the word which thou spakest to thy servant, and concerning his house, be confirmed for ever, and do thou as thou hast spoken. And let thy name be established and magnified for ever; men saying, The Lord Almight, God of Israel; and let the house of thy servant David be established before thee.

For thou, O Lord my God, hast revealed to the ear of thy servant that thou wilt build him a house; therefore thy servant has found a willingness to pray before thee. And now, Lord, thou thyself, and God, and thou hast spoken these good things concerning thy servant. And now thou hast begun to bless the house of thy servant, so that it should continue for ever before thee: for thou, Lord, hast blessed it, and do thou bless it for ever.

And it came to pass afterwards, that David smote the Philistines, and routed them, and took Gath and its villages out of the hand of the Philistines.

The Lord said to David, Thou shalt not build me a house; thou shalt build for me a city. And now, Lord, thou thyself hast confirmed these good things concerning thy servant. And now thou hast begun to bless the house of thy servant, so that it should continue for ever before thee: for thou, Lord, hast blessed it, and do thou bless it for ever.

Kai ἠγένετο μετὰ ταύτα, καὶ ἐπάθαξε Δαυίδ τοὺς ἀλλοφίλους, λουσι καὶ ἀπορρίσατο αὐτούς, καὶ ἔλαβε τὴν Γέφ καὶ τὸν κόμας αὐτής ἐκ χειρός ἀλλοφίλους.
2 And he smote Moab: and the Moabites became servants to David, and tributaries.

3 And David smote Adraazar king of Suba of Emath, as he was going to establish power toward the river Euphrates. 4 And David took of them a thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand porters: and David smote Adraazar the king of Suba, and took the chariots of Adraazar.

5 And the Syrian came from Damascus to help Adraazar king of Suba; and David smote of the Syrian army twenty and two thousand men. 6 And David put a garrison in Syria near Damascus; and they became tributary servants to David; and the Lord delivered David wherever he went. 7 And David took the golden collars that were on the servants of Adraazar, and brought them to Jerusalem.

8 And David took out of Matabeth, and out of the chief cities of Adraazar very much brass: of this Solomon made the brazen sea, and the pillars, and the brazen vessels.

9 And Thoa king of Emath heard that David was gone out to war against the children of Ammon. 10 And he sent Aduram his son to king David to ask how he was, and to congratulate him because he had fought against Adraazar, and smitten him; for Thoa was the enemy of Adraazar.

11 And all the golden and silver and brazen vessels, even these king David consecrated to the Lord, with the silver and the gold which he took from all the nations; from Idumaea, and Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalec.

12 And Abesa son of Saruia smote the Idumeans in the valley of Salt, eighteen thousand. 13 And he put garrisons in the valley; and all the Idumeans became David's servants: and the Lord delivered David wherever he went.

14 So David reigned over all Israel; and he executed judgment and justice to all his people. 15 And Joab the son of Saruia was over the army, and Josaphat the son of Achilud was recorder. 16 And Sadoc son of Achitob, and Achimelech son of Abiathar, were the priests; and Suss was the scribe; and Baneas the son of Joda was over the Cherethites and the Pelethites, and the sons of David were the chief officers of the king.

17 And it came to pass after this, that Naas the king of the children of Ammon died, and Anan his son reigned in his stead. 18 And David said, I will act kindly toward Anan the son of Naas, as his father acted kindly towards me. And David sent messengers to condole with him on the death of his father. So the servants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon to mourn for him. 19 And the chiefs of the children of Ammon said to Anan, Is it to honour thy father before thee, that David has sent comforters to thee? Have not his servants come to thee?
that they might search the city, and to spy out the land. 4 And Amnon took the servants of David, and shaved them, and cut off the half of their garments as far as their tunic, and sent them away. 5 And there came men to report to David concerning the men: and he sent to meet them, for they were greatly disgraced: and the king said, Dwell in Jerocho until your beards have grown, and return.

And the children of Ammon saw that the people of David were ashamed, and Amnon and the children of Ammon sent a thousand talents of silver to hire for themselves chariots and horsemen out of Syria of Mesopotamia, and out of Syria Maacah, and from Sobal. 6 And they hired for themselves two and thirty thousand chariots, and the king of Maacah and his people; and they came and encamped before Medeba: and the children of Ammon assembled out of their cities, and came to fight.

And David heard, and sent Joab and all the host of mighty men. 8 And the children of Ammon came forth, and set themselves in array for battle by the gate of the city: and they were encamped by themselves in plain. 9 And Joab said that they were fronting him to fight against him before and behind, and he chose some out of all the young men of Israel, and they set themselves in array against the Syran. 10 And the rest of the people he gathered into the hand of his brother Abesai, and they set themselves in array against the children of Ammon. 11 And he said, If the Syrian should prevail against me, then shall thou deliver me: and if the children of Ammon should prevail against thee, will I deliver thee. 12 Be of good courage, and let us be strong, for our people, and for the cities of our God: and the Lord shall do what is good in his eyes.

So Joab and the people that were with him set themselves in battle array against the Syrians, and they fled from them. 13 And the children of Ammon saw that the Syrians fled, and they also fled from before Abesai, and from before Joab his brother, and they came to the city: and Joab came to Jerusalem.

And the Syrian saw that Israel had defeated him, and he sent messengers, and they brought out the Syrians from beyond the river: and Sophath the commander-in-chief of the forces of Adraazar was before them. 14 And it was told David; and he gathered all Israel, and crossed over Jordan, and came upon them, and set the battle in array against them. So David set his army in array to fight against the Syrians, and they fought against him. 15 And the Syrians fled from before Israel; and David alew of the Syriansseven thousand riders in chariots, and forty thousand infantry, and he alew Sophath the commander-in-chief of the forces.

And the servants of Adraazar saw that they were defeated before Israel, and they made peace with David, and served him: and the Syrians would not any more help the children of Ammon.

And David said to himself, I will show kindness unto Ibzy, who against me fought: and I will make him king over all that remaineth of the house of Ammon.

And it was told David, that Abesai had taken the town. And David sent to Abesai, and said to him, What did you do, to fight against me? and I will deliver you to the hand of the enemy. And Abesai said to David, Therefore I did it: and I perceived that I have sinned against the Lord.

And the children of Ammon were afraid of David, and said, We are in great distress: but we will work a peace for our heads.
I. Chron. XX. 1—XXI. 14.

And it came to pass at the return of the year, at the time of the going forth of kings to war, that Joab gathered the whole force of the army, and they ravaged the land of the children of Ammon: and he came and besieged Rabba. But David abode in Jerusalem. And Joab smote Rabba and destroyed it.

And David took the crown of Melchom & their king off his head, and the weight of it was a talent of gold, and on it were 5 precious stones, and it was placed on the head of David: and he brought out the spoils of the city which were very great.

And he brought out the people that were in it, and saw them asunder with saws, and cut them with iron axes, and with harrows: and thus David did to all the children of Ammon. And David and all his people returned to Jerusalem.

And it came to pass afterward that there was again war with the Philistines in Gaza: then Sobochai the Soashite smote Saphut of the sons of the giants, and laid him low.

And there was war again with the Philistines; and Eleazar the son of Jair smote Lachmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite, and the wood of his spear was as a weavers' beam.

And there was again war in Geth, and there was a man of extraordinary size, and his fingers and toes were six on each hand and foot, four and twenty; and he was descended from the giants.

And he defied Israel, and Jonathan the son of Shimea, the brother of David slew him. These were born to Rapha in Geth; all four were giants, and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his servants.

And the devil stood up against Israel, and moved David to number Israel. And king David said to Joab and to the captains of the forces, Go, number Israel from Berseba even to Dan, and bring me the account, and I shall know their number.

And Joab said, May the Lord add to his people, a hundred-fold as many as they are, and let the eyes of my lord the king see it: all are the servants of my lord. Why does my lord seek this thing? do it not, lest it become a sin to Israel.

Nevertheless the king's word prevailed against Joab; and Joab went out and passed through all Israel, and came to Jerusalem. And Joab gave the number of the musterling of the people to David: and all Israel was a million and a hundred thousand men that drew sword: and the sons of Juda were four hundred and seventy thousand men that drew sword.

Joab also took a census of Benjamin, and of the children of the house of Levi, with which Joab did not count, for it was told Joab not by the king to number the people of Benjamin among them; for the word of the king was painful to Joab.

And there was evil in the sight of the Lord respecting this thing; and he smote Israel. And David said to God, I have sinned exceedingly, in that I have done this thing: and now, I pray thee, remove the sin of thy servant; for I have been exceedingly foolish.

And the Lord spake to Gad the seer, saying, Go and speak to David, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I bring three things upon thee: choose one of them for thyself, and I will do it to thee. 11 And Gad came to David, and said to David, Thus saith the Lord, Choose for thyself, either three years of famine, or that thou shouldst flee three months from the face of thine enemies, and the sword of thine enemies shall be employed to destroy thee, or that the sword of the Lord and pestilence should be three days in the land, and the angel of the Lord shall be destroying in all the inheritance of Israel. And now consider what I shall answer to him that sent the message.

12 And David said to Gad, They are very hard for me, even all the three: let me fall now into the hands of the Lord, for his mercies are very abundant, and let me not fall by any means into the hands of man.

13 So the Lord brought pestilence upon Israel: and there fell of Israel seventy thousand men. 14 And God sent an angel to Jerusalem to destroy it: and as he was destroying, the Lord saw, and repented of the evil, and said to the angel that was destroying, Let it fall short of the people.

15 And the angel of the Lord stood by the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite. 16 And David lifted up his eyes, and saw the angel of the Lord, standing between the earth and the heaven, and his sword drawn in his hand, stretched out over Jerusalem: and David and the elders clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces.

17 And David said to God, Was it not I that gave orders to number the people? and I am the guilty one: I have greatly sinned: but these sheep, what have they done? O Lord God, let thy hand be upon me, and upon my father's house, and not on thy people for destruction, O Lord!

18 And the angel of the Lord told Gad to tell David, that he should go up and erect an altar to the Lord, in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite. 19 And David went up according to the word of Gad, which he spoke in the name of the Lord. 20 And Orna turned and saw the king: and he hid himself in his tent, and the people that were with him: for Orna was threshing wheat. 21 And David came to Orna; and Orna came forth from the threshing-floor, and did obeisance to David with his face to the ground. 22 And David said to Orna, Give me thy place of the threshing-floor, and I will build upon it an altar to the Lord: give it me for its worth in money, and I will give thee a hundred suits of wheat for all the linen in thine house.

23 And Orna said to David, Take it to thyself, and let my lord the king do what is right. 24 In his eyes: see, I have given the calves for a whole-burnt-offering, and the plough for wood, and the corn for a meat-offering: I have given all. 25 And David said to Orna, Nay, for I will surely buy it for its worth in money: for I will not take thy property for the Lord, to offer a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord without cost to myself. 26 And David gave to Orna for his place six hundred shekels of gold by weight. 27 And David built there an altar to the Lord, and offered up whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings: and he cried to the Lord, and he answered him by fire out of heaven on the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, and it consumed the whole-burnt-offering. 27 And the Lord spoke to the angel; and he put up the sword into its sheath.

28 At that time when David saw that the Lord answered him in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite, he also sacrificed there. 29 And the tabernacle of the Lord which Moses made in the wilderness, and the altar of all the burnt-offerings, were at that time in the high place at Gabaon.

29 And David could not go before it to enquire of God; for he hasted not because of the sword of the angel of the Lord.

And David said, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for whole-burnt-offering for Israel.

2 And David gave orders to gather all the strangers that were in the land of Israel; and he appointed stone-carvers to hew polished stones to build the house to God.

3 And David prepared much iron for the nails of the doors and the gates; the hinges also and the guards and the cherubims, was abundance, and there was no weighing of it. 4 And cedar trees without number; for the Sidonians and the Tyrians brought cedar trees in abundance to David.

5 And David said, My son Solomon is a tender child, and the house for me to build to the Lord is for superior magnificence for a name and for a glory through all the earth: I will make preparation for it. And David prepared abundantly before his death.

6 And he called Solomon his son, and commanded him to build the house for the Lord God of Israel. 7 And David said to Solomon, My child, it was in my heart to build a house to the name of the Lord God. 8 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, Thou hast shed blood abundantly, and hast carried on great wars: thou shalt not build a house to my name, because thou hast shed much blood upon the earth before me. 9 Behold, a son shall be born to thee, he shall be a man of rest; and I will give him rest from all his enemies round about: for his name shall be Solomon, and I will give peace and quietness to Israel in his days. 10 He shall build a house for my name, and I will stablish the throne of his kingdom in Israel for ever. 11 And now, my son, the Lord shall be with thee, and prosper thee; and thou shalt build a house for the Lord thy God.

12 And Solomon took away the officers of the house of the Lord, the chief priests, and the Levites, who were chief fathers of the people. 13 And Solomon numbered all the strangers that were in the land of Israel; and they were twenty and three thousand six hundred.

14 And Solomon gave commandments to all Israel in these words: 15 If thy heart is not humbled in this matter, and if thou art not willing to build my name the house for me; 16 Then may the Lord do it to thee; and may he add to thy days the days of this house, which are to come; 17 And may this house, which I have built to thy name, be accepted in thy sight. 18 And if thy heart be thus inclined, then hear the voice of my prayer, my supplication; it shall come to pass, that the house which stands in my name shall be accepted in thy sight.
I have prepared timber and stones: and do thou add to the same. 12 And of them that are with thee add thou to the multitude of workmen: let there be artificers and masons, and carpenters, and every skillful workman in every work: 13 in gold and silver, brass and iron, of which there is no number. Arise and do, and the Lord be with thee. 14 And David charged all the chief of Israel's house and Solomon his son, saying, 15 Is not the Lord with you? and he has given you rest round about, for he has given into your hands the inhabitants of the land; and the land is subdued before the Lord, and before his people. 16 Now set your hearts and souls to seek after the Lord your God: and build the house to the name of the Lord your God, to whom there is no name; and to build the Temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem. 17 And David divided them into daily courses, for the sons of Levi, for Gedson, Caath, and the family of Eleazar, and the family of Jedda. 18 The sons of Edan were Eziel, the chief, and Zethan, and Joel, three. 19 The sons of Semai; Salmoth, Jeiel, and Dan, three: these were the chiefs of the families of Edan. 20 And to the sons of Semai; Jeth, and Ziza, and Joas, and Bera, these were the four sons of Semai. 21 And Joel was the chief, and Ziza the second: and Joas and Bera did not multiply sons, and they became only one reckoning according to the house of their father. 22 The sons of Caath; Ambram, Issar, Chebron, Oziel, four. 23 The sons of Ambram; Aaron and Moses: and Aaron was appointed for the consecration of the most holy things, he and his sons for ever, to burn incense before the Lord, to minister and bless in his name for ever. 24 And as for Moses the man of God, his sons were reckoned to the tribe of Levi. 25 The sons of Moses; Ghersam, and Eliazer. 26 The sons of Ghersam; Subael the chief, and the sons of Eliazer were, Raba the chief: and Eliazer had no other sons; but the sons of Rabia were very greatly multiplied. 27 The sons of Issar; Salmoth the chief. 28 The sons of Chebron; Jeria the chief, Amaria the second, Zeziel the third, Jekemias the fourth, and the sons of Oziel; Michia the chief, and Isia the second. 29 The sons of Menni; Mooli, and Musi; the sons of Mooli; Eleazar, and Kis.
And Eleazar died, and he had no sons but daughters: and the sons of Kis, their brethren, took them.

These are the sons of Levi according to the houses of their fathers; chief of their families according to their numbering, according to the number of their names, according to their poll, doing the works of the service of the Lord, from twenty years old and upward.

And the Levites bore not the tabernacle, and all the vessels of it for its service. For by the last words of David was the number of the Levites taken from twenty years old and upward.

And he appointed them to wait on Aaron in the house of the Lord, over the courts, and over the chambers, and over the purification of all the holy things, and over the works of the service of the house of God; and for the show-bread, and for the fine flour of the meat-offering, and for the unleavened cakes, and for the dough, and for the cakes, and for every measure; and to stand in the morning to praise and give thanks to the Lord, and so in the evening; and to be over all the whole burnt-offerings that were offered up to the Lord on the sabbaths, and at the new moons, and at the feasts, according to the order given to them, or over the charge of the Lord.

And they are to keep the charge of the tabernacle of witness, and the charge of the holy place, and the charges of the sons of Aaron their brethren, to minister in the house of the Lord.

And they numbered the sons of Aaron in their division, Nadab and Abiud, and Eleazar, and Ithamar. And Nadab and Abiud died before their father; and they had no sons: so Eleazar and Ithamar the sons of Aaron ministered as priests.

And David distributed them, even Sadaoc of the sons of Eleazar, and Achimelech of the sons of Ithamar, according to their numbering, according to their service, according to the houses of their fathers.

And there were found among the sons of Eleazar more chief of the mighty ones, than of the sons of Ithamar; and he divided them, sixteen heads of families to the sons of Eleazar, eight according to their families to the sons of Ithamar. And he divided them according to their lots, one with the other; for there were those who had charge of the holy things, and those who had charge of the house of the Lord among the sons of Eleazar, and among the sons of Ithamar.

And Samaais the son of Nathanael, the scribe, of the family of Levi, wrote them down before the king, and the princes, and Sadaoc the priest, and Achimelech the son of Abiaathar were present; and the heads of the families of the priests and the Levites, each of a household were assigned one to Eleazar, and one to Ithamar.

And the first lot came out to Joarim.
the second to Jedid, 8 the third to Charib, the fourth to Scoern, 9 the fifth to Melchias, the sixth to Meaiman, 10 the seventh to Cos, the eighth to Abia, 11 the ninth to Jesus, the tenth to Sekhenias, 12 the eleventh to Eliab, the twelfth to Jacim, 13 the thirteenth to Oppha, the fourteenth to Jesbaal, 15 the fifteenth to Belga, the sixteenth to Emmor, 17 the seventeenth to Chezin, the eighteenth to Dphea, 18 the nineteenth to Pheatra, the twentieth to Ezekiel, 19 the twenty-first to Achim, the twenty-second to Gamul, 20 the twenty-third to Adalai, the twenty-fourth to Maasar.

And for the sons of Levi that were left,

19 This is their numbering according to their service to go into the house of the Lord, according to their appointment by the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel commanded.

20 And for the sons of Levi that were left, even for the sons of Ambram, Sobael: for the sons of Sobael, Jedid. 21 For Rabia, the chief was Z Isaaari, 22 and for Issari, Salomoth: for the sons of Salomoth, Jath. 23 The sons of Eced: Amadiea the second, Jaziel the third, Jcemoam the fourth. 24 And for the sons of Jaziel, Micha: the sons of Micha: 25 and for the sons of Micha: Isia, the son of Isaac: Zacharia. 26 The sons of Merari, Mooli, and Musi: the sons of Ozia, That is, the sons of Merari by Ozia, his sons were Isaam, and Sacchur, and Abai. 27 To Mooli were born Eleazar, and Ithamar; and Eleazar died, and had no sons. 28 For Kisi, the sons of Kisi: Jeremiah, 29 and the sons of Mooli, Mooli, and Eder, and Jerimoth. These were the sons of the Levites according to the houses of their families. 30 And they also received lots as their brethren the sons of Aaron before the king: Sadoc also, and Achimelech, and the chief of the families of the priests and of the Levites, principal heads of families, even as their younger brethren.

And king David and the captains of the host appointed to their services the sons of Asaph, and of Eeman, and of Idithun, 31 and of Meiem, 32 and of the sons of Mooli, Mooli, and Eder, and Jerimoth. These were the Levites according to the houses of their families. 31 And they also received lots as their brethren the sons of Aaron before the king: Sadoc also, and Achimelech, and the chief of the families of the priests and of the Levites, principal heads of families, even as their younger brethren.

the first-born, yet his father made him chief of the second division. 11 Checlusias the second, Tabnai the third, Zacharias the fourth: all these were the sons and brethren of Osa, thirteen. 12 To these were assigned the divisions of the gates, to the chiefs of the mighty men, the daily courses, even their brethren, to minister in the house of the Lord. 13 And they cast lots for the small as well as for the great, for the several gates, according to their families. 14 And the lot of the east gate fell to Selemias, and Zacharias: the sons of Soaz cast lots for Melchias, and the lot came out northward. 15 To Abedem they gave by lot the south, opposite the house of Esaphim. 16 They gave the lot for the second to Osa westward, after the gate of the chamber by the ascents, watch against watch. 17 There was a ward over against the ward of the ascents eastward, six men in a day, and four men in a day, and four over the south, and at the Esaphim two to relieve guard, and four by the west, and two to relieve guard at the pathway. These are the divisions of the porters for the sons of Core, and to the sons of Merari.

And the Levites their brethren were over the treasures of the house of the Lord, and over the treasures of the hallowed things. These were the sons of Ladan, the sons of the Gersonite: to Ladan belonged the heads of the families: the son of Ladan the Gersonite was Jeiel. 21 The sons of Jeiel were Zethom, and Joel: brethren were over their treaues of the house of the Lord, Eastward were six watchmen in the day; northward four by the day; southward four by the day; and two at the Esaphim, to relieve guard, also for Osa westward after the chamber-gate, three. There was a ward over against the ward of the ascents eastward, six men in a day, and four men in a day, and four men over the south, and at the Esaphim two to relieve guard, and four by the west, and two to relieve guard at the pathway. These are the divisions of the porters for the sons of Core, and to the sons of Merari.

27 And the seventh month was Belthen, in which the seven years of the division of the land were to be counted. And the people gathered together to the head of the fifty years, and 2000 men and their leaders.

28 And the division of the land was as follows: the land of Issachar was divided among the sons of Issachar, and the land of Zebulun was divided among the sons of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali was divided among the sons of Naphtali.

29 And the land of man was divided into three parts: the land of Reuben and the land of Gad, and the land of Asher.

30 And the land of Zebulun was divided into three parts: the land of Naphtali and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Zebulun.

31 And the land of Ephraim was divided into three parts: the land of Manasseh, and the land of Zebulun, and the land of Ephraim.

32 And the land of Benjamin was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Benjamin.

33 And the land of Joseph was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Benjamin.

34 And the land of Manasseh was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Zebulun, and the land of Manasseh.

35 And the land of Zebulun was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Zebulun.

36 And the land of Ephraim was divided into three parts: the land of Manasseh, and the land of Zebulun, and the land of Ephraim.

37 And the land of Benjamin was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Benjamin.

38 And the land of Joseph was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Joseph.

39 And the land of Manasseh was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Zebulun, and the land of Manasseh.

40 And the land of Zebulun was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Zebulun.

41 And the land of Ephraim was divided into three parts: the land of Manasseh, and the land of Zebulun, and the land of Ephraim.

42 And the land of Benjamin was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Benjamin.

43 And the land of Joseph was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Joseph.

44 And the land of Manasseh was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Zebulun, and the land of Manasseh.

45 And the land of Zebulun was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Zebulun.

46 And the land of Ephraim was divided into three parts: the land of Manasseh, and the land of Zebulun, and the land of Ephraim.

47 And the land of Benjamin was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Benjamin.

48 And the land of Joseph was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Joseph.

49 And the land of Manasseh was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Zebulun, and the land of Manasseh.

50 And the land of Zebulun was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Zebulun.

51 And the land of Ephraim was divided into three parts: the land of Manasseh, and the land of Zebulun, and the land of Ephraim.

52 And the land of Benjamin was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Benjamin.

53 And the land of Joseph was divided into three parts: the land of Ephraim, and the land of Manasseh, and the land of Joseph.
Ozia: for the half-tribe of Manasse, Joel the son of Phaduk; 23 for the half-tribe of Manasse in the land of Galaad, Jadaai the son of Zadues, for the sons of Benjamin, Jasiel the son of Abenner: 24 for Dan, Azariel the son of Isroab: these are the chiefs of the tribes of Israel.

But David took not their number from twenty years old and under: because the Lord said that he would make Israel as the stars of the heaven. 24 And Joab the son of Sarnia began to number the people, and did not finish the work, for there was hereupon wrath on Israel; and the number was not recorded in the book of the chronicles of king David.

And over the king's treasures was Assai the son of Odel; and over the treasures in the country, and in the towns, and in the villages, and in the towers, was Jonathan the son of Ozia. 25 And over the husbandmen who tilled the ground was Esdr the son of Chelub. 26 And over the fields was Semel, of Rael; and over the treasures, and over the camels, was Zabdi the son of Sephi. 27 And over the oliveyards, and the sycamores in the plain country was Ballman the Gedorite; and over the stores of oil was Joas. 28 And over the oxen pasturing in Saron was Satriai the Saronite; and over the oxen in the valleys was Sophal the son of Adli. 29 And over the camels was Abias the Ismaelit; and over the asses was Jadas of Merathin. 30 And over the sheep was Jaziz the Agarite. All these were superintendents of the substance of king David.

And Jonathan, David's uncle by the father's side, was a counsellor, wise man: and Joel the son of Abham was with the king's sons. 31 Achitophel was the king's counsellor: and Chusi the chief friend of the king. 32 And after this Achitophel Joda the son of Banaus came next, and Abiathar: and Joab was the king's commander-in-chief.

And David assembled all the chief men of Israel, the chief of the judges, and all the chief men of the courses of attendance on the person of the king, and the captains of thousands and hundreds, and the treasurers, and the lords of his substance, and of all the king's property, and of his sons, together with the eunuchs, and the mighty men, and the warriors of the army, at Jerusalem.

And David stood in the midst of the assembly, and said, Hear me, my brethren, and my people: it was in my heart to build a house of rest 3 for the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and a place for the feet of our Lord, and I prepared materials suitable for the building: 4 but God said, Thou shalt not build me a house to call my name upon it, for thou art a man of war, and hast shed blood. 5 Yet the Lord God of Israel chose me out of the whole house of my father to be king over Israel for ever; and he chose Juda as the kingly house, and out of the house of Juda he chose the house of my father; and among the sons of my father he preferred me, that I should be king over all Israel. And of all my sons, (for the Lord has given me many sons,) he has chosen Solomon my son, to sit on the throne of the kingdom of the Lord over Israel. And God said to me, Solomon thy son shall build my house and my court: for I have chosen him to be my son, and I will be to him a father. And I will establish his kingdom for ever, if he continue to keep my commandments and my judgments, which I command him this day. And now I charge you before the whole assembly of the Lord, and in the audience of all the people of Israel, keep all the commandments of the Lord thy God, that ye may inherit the good land, and leave it for your sons to inherit after you for ever.

And now, my son Solomon, know the God of thy fathers, and serve him with a perfect heart and willing soul: for the Lord searches all hearts, and knows every thought: if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou shouldest forsake him, he will forsake thee for ever. See now, for the Lord has chosen thee to build him a house for a sanctuary, be strong and do it.

And David gave Solomon his son the plan of the temple, and its buildings, and its treasuries, and its upper chambers, and the inner store-rooms, and the 6 place of the atonement, 2 and the plan which he had in his 5 mind of the courts of the house of the Lord, and of all the chambers round about, designed for the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the treasuries of the holy things, and of the chambers for resting:
and the plan of the courses of the priests and Levites, for all the work of the service of the house of the Lord, and of the stores of vessels for ministration of the service of the house of the Lord. And he gave him the account of their weight, both of gold and silver. He gave also the weight of the candlesticks, and of the lamps. He gave him likewise the weight of the tables of 9 shewbread, of each table of gold, and likewise of the tables of silver: 17 also of the flesh-hooks, and vessels for drinkofering, and golden bowls: and the weight of the gold and silver articles, and censers, and 6 bowls, according to the weight of each. And he shewed him the weight of the utensils of the altar of incense, which was of 9 pure gold, and the plan of the chariot of the cherubs that spread out their wings, and overshadowed the ark of the covenant of the Lord. 21 David gave all to Solomon in the Lord's handwriting, according to the knowledge given him of the work of the pattern.

And David said to Solomon his son, Be strong, and play the man, and do: fear not, neither be terrified; for the Lord my God is with thee; he will not forsake thee, and will not fail thee, until thou hast finished all the work of the service of the house of the Lord. And behold the pattern of the temple, even his house, and its 7 treasury, and the upper chambers, and the inner store-rooms, and the 6 place of propitiatory.
And the plan of the house of the Lord.

And sec. here are the coures of the priests and Levites for all the service of the house of the Lord, and there shall be with thee men for every workmanship, and every one of ready skill in every art: also the chief men and all the people, ready for all thy commands.

And David the king said to all the congregation, Solomon my son, whom the Lord hath chosen, is young and tender, and the work is great; for it is not for man, but for the Lord God.

17 I have prepared according to all my might for the house of my God gold, silver, brass, iron, wood, onyx stones, and costly and variegated stones for setting, and every precious stone, and much Parian marble.

And David rejoiced, because I took pleasure in the house of my God, I have gold and silver which I have procured for myself, and behold, I have given them to the house of my God over and above, beyond what I have prepared for the holy house.

Three thousand talents of gold of pure gold, and seven thousand talents of fine silver to overlay the walls of the sanctuary:

For to use the gold for things of gold, and the silver for things of silver, and for every work by hand of the artificers. And who is willing to dedicate himself in work this day for the Lord?

Then the heads of families, and the princes of the children of Israel, and the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and the overseers of the works, and the king's builders, offered willingly.

And they gave for the works of the house of the Lord five thousand talents of gold, and ten thousand talents of silver, and eight thousand talents of brass, and a hundred thousand talents of iron.

And they who had precious stone, gave it into the treasuries of the house of the Lord by the hand of Jeiel the Gersomite.

And the people rejoiced because of the willingness, for they offered willingly to the Lord with a full heart: and king David praised greatly.

And king David blessed the Lord before the congregation, saying:

Blessed art thou, O Lord God of Israel, our Father, from everlasting and to everlasting.

Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory and the might: for thou art Lord of all things: and bountiful upon the earth: before thy face every king and nation is troubled.

From thee come wealth and glory: thou, O Lord, rulest over all, the Lord of all dominion, and in thy hand is strength and rule; and thou art almighty with thy hand to increase and establish all things. And now, Lord, we give thanks to thee and praise thee, and glorify thy name.

But who am I, and what is my people, that we have been able to be thus forward in offering to thee? for all things are thine, and of thine own have we given thee, for we are strangers before thee, and sojourners, as all our fathers were: our days upon the earth are as a shadow, and there is no remaining.

The Lord our God, as for all this abundance which I have prepared that a house should be built to thy holy name it is of thy hand, and all is thine. 17 And I know, Lord, that thou art he that searchest the hearts, and thou lovest righteousness. I have willingly offered all these things in simplicity of heart: and now I have seen with joy thy people here present, willingly offering to thee. 18 O Lord God of Abraham, and Isaac, and Israel, our fathers, preserve these things in the thought of the heart of thy people for ever, and direct their hearts to thee. 19 And to Solomon my son give a good heart, to perform thy commandments, and to observe thy testimonies, and thine ordinances, and to accomplish the building of thy house.

20 And David said to the whole congregation, Bless ye the Lord our God. And all the congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and they bowed the knee and worshipped the Lord, and did obeisance to the king. And David sacrificed to the Lord, and offered up whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord on the morrow after the first day, a thousand calves, a thousand rams, and their drink-offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel. And they ate and drank joyfully that day before the Lord: and they made Solomon the son of David king a second time, and anointed him king before the Lord, and Sadoc to the priesthood.

And Solomon sat upon the throne of his father David, and was highly honoured: and all Israel obeyed him. 23 The princes, and the mighty men, and all the sons of king David his father, were subject to him. 24 And the Lord magnified Solomon over all Israel, and gave him royal glory, such as was not upon any king before him.

25 And David the son of Jesse reigned over Israel forty years; seven years in Chebron, and thirty-three years in Jerusalem. 26 And he died in a good old age, full of days, in wealth, and glory: and Solomon his son reigned in his stead. 27 And the rest of the acts of David, the former and the latter, are written in the history of Nathan the prophet, and in the history of the prophet Ahijah, and in the history of the seer Ichabod. 28 Concerning all his reign, and his power, and the times which went over him, and over Israel, and over all the kingdoms of the earth.

8 Gr. found. See Heb.; also Ps. 46.1. 7 Gr. preparation. 6 Gr. which was not.
AND Solomon the son of David was established over his kingdom, and the Lord his God was with him, and increased him exceedingly. 2 And Solomon spoke to all Israel, to the captains of thousands and to the captains of hundreds, and to the judges, and to all the rulers over Israel, even the heads of the families; 3 and Solomon and all the congregation went to the high place that was in Gabaon, where was God's tabernacle of witness, which Moses the servant of the Lord made in the wilderness. 4 But David had brought up the ark of God out of the city of Carinathirim; for David had prepared a place for it, and he had pitched a tabernacle for it in Jerusalem. 5 And the brazen altar which Besedeel the son of Urias, the son of Or, had made, was there before the tabernacle of the Lord, and Solomon and the congregation enquired at it. 6 And Solomon brought victims thither to the brazen altar that was before the Lord in the tabernacle, and offered upon it a thousand whole-burnt-offerings.

In that night God appeared to Solomon, and said to him, Ask what I shall give thee. 7 And Solomon said to God, Thou hast dealt very mercifully with my father David, and hast made him king in his stead. 8 And now, O Lord God, let, I pray thee, thy name be established upon David my father; for thou hast made him king over a people numerous as the dust of the earth. 9 Now give me wisdom and understanding, 10 that I may go out and come in before this people: for who shall judge this thy great people?

And God said to Solomon, Because this was in thy heart, and thou hast not asked great wealth, nor glory, nor the life of thine enemies, and thou hast not asked long life; but hast asked for thyself wisdom and understanding, that thou mightest judge my people, over whom I have made thee king: 11 I give thee this wisdom and understanding; and I will give thee wealth, and riches, and glory, so that there shall not have been any like thee among the kings before thee, neither shall there be such after thee.

And Solomon came from the high place that was in Gabaon to Jerusalem, from before the tabernacle of witness, and reigned over Israel.

And Solomon collected chariots and horsemen; and he had fourteen hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen: and he set in Jerusalem twelve thousand chariots, and six thousand horsemen. And the king made silver and gold vessels for all the house of the Lord, even to all David his father, of pure gold. And Solomon made all the vessels that were for the house of the Lord, of pure gold: for silver was not as yet among the kings of the children of Israel. And king Solomon gave unto the queen of Sheba all her desire, whatsoever she desired, insomuch as there was nothing hid from him of all his wisdom. All this was prepared for King Solomon, and the weight of it was not yet finished, because the estate of the king was great; and he had dominion over all the land from the river, even to the horse herd of King Hiram of Tyre. And King Solomon gave to all the queens and princes meat for their table, meat for all their service, and cheer for all the service of the house; so long as I lived. And King Solomon made two hundred large shields of beaten gold; six hundred pounds of gold went to one shield. And he made three hundred shields of beaten gold; three hundred pounds of gold went to one shield. And the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with six hundred shekels of pure gold. There were six steps at the throne, with a footstool of gold, and precious stones overlaid it. And on the top of it was a gold knop and a gold pommel, that overlaid it all. Also the sea was round, all of it a cubit round: and the height thereof was three cubits; and a line of ten cubits did compass it round. There was also an oracle in it of fifty cubits, and five cubits the thickness thereof: and the wall thereof was a cubit and a half thick: and over it was a gallery round about, three cubits thick. And upon the wall of the oracle was a gallery round about, and the face of the oracle was fourscore cubits. There were two lions upon the one side and two upon the other, of a cubit and a half thick. And he made a great altar of brass; the length thereof was twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof was twenty cubits, and the height thereof was ten cubits. Then he made four brazen lavers to stand upon the four corners of the brazen altar, one laver upon the north side, and one laver upon the south side, and one laver upon the east side, and one laver upon the west side. And he made an香炉 of gold, and his length was three cubits, and the breadth two cubits, and the height two cubits, of pure gold: and he made thereunto four bases of gold; and a footstool of gold, and a network of gold for the network upon the snout thereof. He made also an oracle, and stood in the oracle, and overlaid it with gold within and without. And he made also an house, and overlaid it with gold, and furnished it with,two windows. And the height of it was five cubits, and the breadth therin was five cubits, and the height thereof was three cubits. And he overlaid it with pure gold, without and within: and he made a covering for the oracle, and overlaid it also with gold. And he set in it an oracle, and overlaid it with gold within. And he sought out车牌之最者, and he made a throne of ivory; and overlaid it with pure gold. The length of it was five cubits, and the breadth thereof was three cubits: and he overlaid it with gold within and without. So Solomon built at Jerusalem the house of the Lord, and the king's house; and Laban the son of Nah conspiracy, and all the house of David his father, of pure gold. And Solomon made all the vessels that were for the house of the Lord, of pure gold: for silver was not as yet among the kings of the children of Israel. And king Solomon gave to all the queens and princes meat for their table, meat for all their service, and cheer for all the service of the house; so long as I lived. And King Solomon made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with six hundred shekels of pure gold. There were six steps at the throne, with a footstool of gold, and precious stones overlaid it all. And he made a great altar of brass; the length thereof was twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof was twenty cubits, and the height thereof was ten cubits. Then he made four brazen lavers to stand upon the four corners of the brazen altar, one laver upon the north side, and one laver upon the south side, and one laver upon the east side, and one laver upon the west side. And he made an tabernacle of gold, and his length was three cubits, and the breadth two cubits, and the height two cubits, of pure gold: and he made thereunto four bases of gold; and a footstool of gold, and a network of gold for the network upon the snout thereof. He made also an oracle, and stood in the oracle, and overlaid it with gold within and without. And he made also an house, and overlaid it with gold, and furnished it with,two windows. And the height of it was five cubits, and the breadth therin was five cubits, and the height thereof was three cubits. And he overlaid it with pure gold, without and within: and he made a covering for the oracle, and overlaid it also with gold. And he set in it an oracle, and overlaid it also with gold. And he made also a throne of ivory; and overlaid it with pure gold. The length of it was five cubits, and the breadth thereof was three cubits: and he overlaid it with gold within and without. So Solomon built at Jerusalem the house of the Lord, and the king's house; and Laban the son of Nah} with knowledge and understanding, who shall build a house for the Lord, and a house for his kingdom. 12 And now I have sent thee a wise and understanding man, who belonged to Chiram my father, (his mother was of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a Tyrian), skilled to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass, and in iron, and in stones and wood; and to weave with purple, and blue, and fine linen, and scarlet; and to engrave, and to understand every device, whatsoever thou shalt give him. 13 And now, the wheat, and the barley, and the oil, and the wine which my lord mentioned, let them send to his servants. 14 And we will cut timber out of Libanus according to all thy need, and we will bring it on rafts to the sea of Joppa, and thou shalt bring it to Jerusalem.

And Solomon gathered all the foreigners that were in the land of Israel, after the numbering with which David his father numbered them; and there were found a hundred and fifty-three thousand six hundred thirty men, skilled to bear burdens; and eighty thousand hewers of stone, and three thousand six hundred taskmasters over the people.

And Solomon began to build the house of the Lord in Jerusalem in the mount of Amora, where the Lord appeared to his father David, in a place where David had prepared in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite. 2 And he began to build in the second month, in the fourth year of his reign.

And thus Solomon began to build the house of God: the length in cubits—even the first measurement from end to end, was sixty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits. 4 And the portico in front of the house, its length in front of the breadth of the house was twenty cubits, and its height ten cubits, and twenty cubits: and he gilded it within with pure gold. 5 And he lined the great house with cedar wood, and gilded it with pure gold, and carved upon it palm-trees and chains. 6 And he gilded the house with precious stones for beauty; and he gilded it with gold of the gold from Phraurim. 7 And he gilded the house, and its inner walls, and the door-posts, and the roofs, and the doors with gold; and he carved cherubs upon the walls.

And he built the holy of holies, its length being according to the front of the other house, the breadth of the house was twenty cubits, and the length twenty cubits; and he gilded it with pure gold for cherubs, to the amount of six hundred talents. 9 And the weight of the nails, even the weight of each of them was fifty shekels of gold: and he gilded the upper chamber with gold.

And he made two cherubs in the most holy house, wood-work, and he gilded them with gold. 11 And the wings of the cherubs were twenty cubits in length: and one wing of five cubits touched the wall of the

II. CHRON. III. 13—III. 11.

13 And he made the molten sea, in diameter ten cubits, entirely round, and the height of it five cubits, and the circumference thirty cubits.

14 And beneath it the likeness of calves, they compass it round about: ten cubits compass the laver round about, they cast the calves two rows in their casting, wherein they made them twelve calves,—three looking northwards, and three southwards, and three eastwards; and the sea was upon them above, and their hinder parts were inward. And its thickness was a hand-breath, and its brim as the brim of a cup, graven with flowers of lilies, holding three thousand measures: and he finished it.

15 And he made ten lavers, and set five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them the burnt-offerings, and to rinse the vessels in them; and the sea was for the priests to wash in.

16 And he made the ten golden candlesticks according to their pattern, and he put them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

17 And he made ten tables, and put them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and he made a hundred golden bowls.

18 Also he made the priests' court, and the great court, and doors to the court, and their panels were overlaid with brass. And he set the sea at the corner of the house on the right, as it were fronting the east.

19 And Chiram made the fleshhooks, and the fire-ongs, and the grate of the altar, and all its instruments: and Chiram finished doing all the work which he wrought for king Solomon in the house of God: 12 two pillars, and upon them an embroidered work for the chapters on the heads of the two pillars, and upon the heads of the chapters which are on the heads of the pillars; and four hundred golden bells for the two nets, and two rows of pomegranates in each net, to cover the two embossed rims of the chapters which are upon the pillars.
And he made the ten bases, and he made the lavers upon the bases: 12 and the one sea, and the twelve calves under it; 16 and the foot-baths, and the 8 buckets, and the caldrons, and the flesh-hooks, and all their furniture (which Chiram made, and brought to king Solomon in the house of the Lord) of pure brass. 17 In the country round about Jordan the king cast them, in the clay ground of the house of Socoh, and between that and Saredeah.

18 So Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance, for the quantity of brass failed not. 19 And Solomon made all the vessels of the house of the Lord, and the golden altar, and the tables, and upon them were the bowls of shewbread; 20 also the candlesticks, and the lamps to give light according to the pattern, and in front of the oracle, of pure gold. 21 And their snuffers, and their lamps were made, and he made the bowls, and the censers, and the fire-pans, of pure gold.

22 And there was an inner door of the house of the Lord, that faced southward. 23 And he made the temple of the temple of gold.

So all the work which Solomon wrought for the house of the Lord was finished.

And Solomon brought in the holy things of his father David, the silver, and the gold, and the other vessels, and put them in the treasury of the house of the Lord.

Then Solomon assembled all the elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, and the leaders of the families of the children of Israel, to Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord out of the city of David,—this is Sion. 4 And all Israel were assembled into the king in the feast, this is the seventh month. 5 And all the elders of Israel came; and the Levites took up the ark, 6 and the tabernacle of witness, and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle; and the priests and the Levites brought it up. 6 And king Solomon, and all the elders of Israel, and the religious of them, and they of them that were the chief of the boys, and the singers, and the sounded vessels, and the solemn instruments, the trumpets, and the cymbals, were before king Solomon.

And the cherubs stretched out their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubs covered the ark, and its staves above. 9 And the staves projected, and the heads of the staves were seen from the holy place in front of the oracle, they were not seen without; and there they were to this day.

There was nothing in the ark except the table and the candlestick, and the table and the candlestick, placed in Ophrah, which God gave in covenant with the children of Israel, when they went out of the land of Egypt.

And it came to pass, when the priests went out of the holy place, (for all the priests that were found were sanctified, they were not then arranged according to their daily course,) 12 that all the 8 singing Levites assigned to the sons of Asaph, to
B. Chron. V. 13.-VI. 15.

...Eman, to Idithum, and to his sons, and to his brethren, of them that wore clothed in linen garments, with cymbals and lutes and harps, were standing before the altar, and with them a hundred and twenty priests, blowing trumpets. 13 And there was one voice in the trumpeting and in the psalming; and in the loud utterance with one voice to give thanks and praise the Lord; and with their one voice together with trumpets and cymbals and with instruments of music, and said, Give thanks to the Lord, for it is good, for his mercy endures for ever:—then the house was filled with the cloud of the glory of the Lord. 14 And the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord filled the house of God. Then said Solomon, The Lord said that he would dwell in thick darkness; 2 But I have built a house to thy name, holy to thee, and prepared for thee to dwell in for ever.

And the king turned his face, and blessed all the congregation of Israel: and all the congregation of Israel stood by. 4 And he said, Solomon my son, I have chosen to build an house for the Name, etc. He knew that he had built it, and that he had prepared it; and that he had given it to the Lord, and to the people, and to the priests. 5 And it was come into the heart of David my father, to build a house for the Name of the Lord God of Israel. 6 But the Lord said to my father, Solomon, I have chosen to build an house for the Name, etc. He knew that he had built it, and that he had prepared it; and that he had given it to the Lord, and to the people, and to the priests. 7 And it came into the heart of David my father, to build a house for the Name of the Lord God of Israel. 8 But the Lord said to my father, Solomon, I have chosen to build an house for the Name, etc. He knew that he had built it, and that he had prepared it; and that he had given it to the Lord, and to the people, and to the priests. 9 And the Lord has confirmed this word, which he spoke; and I am raised up in the room of my father David, and I sit upon the throne of Israel, as the Lord said, and I have built the house for my name, as the Lord said that he would build it. 10 And the Lord has confirmed this word, which he spoke; and I am raised up in the room of my father David, and I sit upon the throne of Israel, as the Lord said, and I have built the house for my name, as the Lord said that he would build it. 11 And the Lord has confirmed this word, which he spoke; and I am raised up in the room of my father David, and I sit upon the throne of Israel, as the Lord said, and I have built the house for my name, as the Lord said that he would build it. 12 And the Lord has confirmed this word, which he spoke; and I am raised up in the room of my father David, and I sit upon the throne of Israel, as the Lord said, and I have built the house for my name, as the Lord said that he would build it. 13 And the Lord has confirmed this word, which he spoke; and I am raised up in the room of my father David, and I sit upon the throne of Israel, as the Lord said, and I have built the house for my name, as the Lord said that he would build it. 14 And the Lord has confirmed this word, which he spoke; and I am raised up in the room of my father David, and I sit upon the throne of Israel, as the Lord said, and I have built the house for my name, as the Lord said that he would build it. 15 And the Lord has confirmed this word, which he spoke; and I am raised up in the room of my father David, and I sit upon the throne of Israel, as the Lord said, and I have built the house for my name, as the Lord said that he would build it.

And he stood before the altar of the Lord in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread out his hands. 1 For Solomon had made a brazen scaffold, and set it in the midst of the court of the sanctuary; the length of it was five cubits, and the breadth of it five cubits, and the height of it three cubits: and he stood upon it, and fell upon his knees before the whole congregation of Israel, and spread abroad his hands to heaven, and said, Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heaven, or on the earth; keeping covenant and mercy with thy servants that walk before thee with their whole heart.

Even as thou hast kept them with thy servant David my father, as thou hast spoken to him in words: thou hast both... spoken with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thy hands, as it is this day. 12 And now, Lord God of Israel, keep with thy servant David my father the things which thou hast promised him; and appoint me one man of thy people, and make his throne like the throne of Israel.

13 For will God indeed dwell with men upon the earth? behold, heaven and the heaven thereof cannot contain thee; how much less this house which I have built! 14 And now, Lord God of Israel, let thy word be true unto thy servant, and to thy people, according to all these words, and according to all this mighty power.

15 For it pleaseth not a man, O Lord God, to transgress; neither is it lovable in thine eyes that man should be false (for they are thine servants). 16 Say not thou, I will make the house of Israel like the dust; and I will cast off the remnant of Israel; and again I will make you like the dust of the earth; and I will cast you off as the uncleanness of the same.

17 So that men shall say among them, who is the Lord that should be praised in this land? is it not our God, that brought us, and our fathers, out of the land of Egypt, and should destroy the seven nations in the land of Canaan, and gave us their land for an inheritance?

18 And now, O our God, what good wilt thou do the children of Israel, whom thou hast redeemed out of the land of Egypt, in that thou shouldest make their reproaches to be fall upon them?

19 Give unto the Lord, O ye angels of his, exultation and praise; give unto the Lord, ye angels, exultation and praise. 20 Give unto the Lord, ye heavens, and the high heavens, give unto the Lord, our God.

21 Give unto the Lord, ye waters, and all that thou fillest them with spirit, give unto the Lord, our God.

22 Give unto the Lord, ye beasts of the field, and all the fish of the sea.

his own plague and his own sickness; and should spend, both with his hands toward this house; 3 then shall thou hear in heaven, out of thy prepared dwelling-place, and shalt be merciful, and shalt recompense the man according to his ways, as thou shalt know his heart to be; for thou alone knowest the heart of the children of men: 4 that they may reverence all thy ways all the days which they live in the face of the land, which thou gavest to our fathers.

And every stranger who is not himself of thy people Israel, and who shall have come from a distant land because of thy great name, and thy mighty hand, and thy high arm; when they shall come and worship toward this place; — then shalt thou hear in heaven, out of thy prepared dwelling-place, and shalt do according to all that the stranger shall call upon thee for; that all the nations of the earth may know thy name, and that they may fear thee, as thy people Israel do, and that they may know that thy name is called upon this house which I have built.

And if thy people should go forth to war against their enemies, and should go in the way where thou didst send them, and should pray to thee toward this city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I have built to thy name; — then shalt thou hear out of heaven their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause.

Whereas if they should sin against thee, (for there is no man who will not sin,) and thou shalt smite them, and deliver them up before their enemies, and they that take them captive shall carry them away into a land of enemies, to a land far off or near; and if they shall repent in their land whither they were carried captive, and shall also turn and make supplication to thee in their captivity, saying, We have sinned, we have transgressed, we have dealt unjustly; 5 and if they shall turn to thee with all their heart and all their soul in the land of them that carried them captive, whither they carried them captives, and shall pray toward their land which thou gavest to their fathers, and the city which thou didst choose, and the house which I built to thy name: — then shalt thou hear out of heaven, out of thy prepared dwelling-place, their prayer and their supplication, and thou shalt execute justice, and shalt be merciful to thy people that sin against thee.

And now, Lord, let, I pray thee, thine eyes be opened, and thine ears be attentive to the petition made in this place. And now, O Lord God, my servant, the house which thou hast made ready, I have built to thy name: 6 and let the eyes of my servant David, thy servant, be attentive to the petitions of my prayer, and the petitions of my supplication, and the petitions of all my people.

And when Solomon had finished praying, they there were with me in Jerusalem, and devoted the whole burnt-offerings and the sacrifices; and the glory of the Lord filled the house. 8 And the priests could not enter into the house of the Lord at that time, for the glory of the Lord filled the house. 3 And all the children of Israel saw the fire descend, and the glory of the Lord was upon the house: and they fell upon their face to the ground on the pavement, and worshipped, and praised the Lord;
for it is good to do so, because his mercy endures for ever.
And the king and all the people were offering sacrifices before the Lord. 4 And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of calves twenty and two thousand, and of sheep a hundred and twenty thousand: so the king and all the people dedicated the house of God. 5 And the priests were standing at their watches, and the Levites with instruments of music of the Lord, belonging to king David, to give thanks before the Lord, for his mercy endures for ever, with the hymns of David, by their ministry: and the priests were blowing the trumpets before them, and all Israel standing. 6 And Solomon consecrated the middle of the court that was in the house of the Lord:
for he had covenanted with all the priests and Levites, and the fat of the peace-offerings, and the fat altar which Solomon had made was not sufficient to receive the whole-burnt-offerings, and the oil-meat-offerings, and the fat.
7 And Solomon kept the feast at that time seven days, and all Israel with him very greatly: from the entering in of of Ebenamath, and as far as the river of Egypt.
8 And on the eighth day he kept a solemn assembly: for he kept a feast of seven days as the dedication of the altar. 9 And on the twenty-third day of the seventh month he dismissed the people to their tents, rejoicing, and with glad heart because of the good deeds which the Lord had done to David, and to Solomon, and to Israel his people.
So Solomon finished the house of the Lord, and the king's house: and in whatever Solomon wished in his heart to do in the house of the Lord and in his own house, he prospered. 11 And the Lord appeared to Solomon by night, and said to him, I have heard thy prayer, and I have chosen this place to myself for a house of sacrifice. 12 If I should restrain the heaven and there should be no rain, and if I should command the locust to devour the trees, and if I should send pestilence upon my people: 13 then if my people, on whom my name is called, shall repent, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their evil ways, I also will hear from heaven, and I will be merciful to their sins, and I will heal their land. 14 And now my eyes shall be open, and my ears attentive to the prayer of this place. 15 And now I have chosen and sanctified this house, that my name should be there for ever: and my eyes and my heart shall be there always.
16 And if thou wilt walk before me as David thy father did, and wilt do according to all that I have commanded thee, and wilt keep my ordinances and my judgments;

at the feast of weeks, and at the feast of tabernacles. And he established, according to the order of his father David, the courses of the priests, and that according to their public ministrations: and the Levites were appointed over their charges, and praise and minister before the priests according to the daily order; and the porters were appointed, according to their courses to the different gates: for thus were the commandments of David the man of God. They transgressed not the commandments of the king concerning the priests and the Levites with regard to everything else, and with regard to the treasures. Now all the work which had been prepared from the day when the foundation was laid, until Solomon finished the house of the Lord.

Then Solomon went to Gasion Gaber, and to Ethal near the sea in the land of Tyre. And Chiram sent by the hand of his servants ships, and servants skilful in naval affairs, and they went with the servants of Solomon to Saphira, and brought thence four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and they came to King Solomon.

And the queen of Saba heard of the name of Solomon, and she came to Jerusalem with a very large force, to prove Solomon with hard questions, and she had camels bearing spices in abundance, and gold, and precious stones: and she came to Solomon, and told him all that was in her mind. And Solomon told her all her words, and there passed not a word from Solomon which he had not told her. And the queen of Saba saw the wisdom of Solomon, and the house which he had built, and the seat of the tables, and the sitting of his servants, and the standing of his ministers, and their raiment: and his cupbearers, and their apparel; and the whole-burnt-offerings which he offered up in the house of the Lord: then she was in ecstasy.

And she said to the king, It was a true report that I heard in mine land of thy report and thy wisdom. Yet I believed not the report which I came, and my eyes saw: and, behold, the half of the abundance of thy wisdom was not told me: thou hast exceeded the report which I heard. Blessed are they men, blessed are thy servants, who stand before thee continually, and hear thy wisdom. Blessed be the Lord thy God, who took pleasure in thee, to set thee upon his throne for a king, to the Lord thy God: forasmuch as the Lord thy God loved Israel to establish them for ever, therefore he has set thee over them for a king to execute judgment and justice. And she gave the king a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and spices in very great abundance, and precious stones: and there were not any where such spices as those which the queen of Saba gave king Solomon.

And the servants of Solomon and the servants of Chiram brought gold to Solomon out of Saphira, and pine timber, and precious stones.

And the king made of the pine
And the weight of the gold that was brought to Solomon in one year was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold; besides what the men were regularly appointed to bring, there was brought to Solomon in abundance, and the king ruled over all the kings of Arabia and of the land: all brought gold and silver to King Solomon.

And king Solomon made two hundred shields of beaten gold: there were six hundred shekels of pure gold to one shield. And three hundred bucklers of beaten gold: the weight of three hundred shekels of pure gold was one buckler, and the king placed them in the house of the forest of Lebanon.

And the king made a great throne of ivory, and set on it purpure and d布尔on.

And there were six steps to the throne, with elboos on the sides thereof, and twelve lions standing on each side thereof. And they made a molten sea of ten cubits from the brim, and five cubits round, and three cubits high.

And the sea hadotten vessels, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were covered with gold.

And Solomon had four hundred and thousand stalls of horses for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen.

And Solomon was master over all the kings of the east, and the reputation of Solomon spread even to the end of the earth, because of his abundant commerce and his wisdom that God had given him. And king Solomon made two thousand chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen.

And he ruled over all the kings from the river even to the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt. And he had ninety thousand horsemen, and one hundred and fifty thousand chariots: and he ruled over all the kings from the river even to the border of Egypt.

And the rest of the acts of Solomon, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the books of Nathan the prophet, and in the books of Ahia the scribe, and in the visions of Joel the seer concerning Jeroboam the son of Nabat.

And Solomon reigned over all Israel forty
II. CHRON. IX. 31—X. 16.

580 ΠΑΡΑΔΕΙΠΟΜΕΝΩΝ B.

And Solomon fell asleep, and they buried him in the city of David his father: and Roboam his son reigned in his stead.

And Roboam came to Sychem: for all Israel came to Sychem to make him king.

And it came to pass when Jeroboam the son of Nabat heard it, (now he was in Egypt, forasmuch as he had fled thither from the face of king Solomon, and Jeroboam dwelt in Egypt,) that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt. 3 And they sent and called him: and Jeroboam and all the congregation came to Roboam, saying, "Thy father made our yoke grievous: now then abate somewhat of thy father's grievous rule, and of his heavy yoke which he put upon us, and we will serve thee. 4 And he said to them, Go away for three days, and then come to me. So the people departed.

And king Roboam assembled the elders that stood before his father Solomon in his life-time, saying, How do ye counsel me to return an answer to this people? 2 And they spoke to him, saying, If thou wilt deal harshly with this people, then will they be thy servants for ever. 3 But he forsook the advice of the old men, who took counsel with him, and he took counsel with the young men who had been brought up with him, who stood before him. 4 And he said to them, What do ye advise that I should answer this people, who spoke to me, saying, Ease somewhat of the yoke which thy father laid upon us? 5 And the young men that were brought up with him, and he took counsel with the young men who had been brought up with him, who stood before him. 6 And he said to them, What do ye advise that I should answer this people, who spoke to me, saying, Ease somewhat of the yoke which thy father laid upon us? 7 And they spoke to him, saying, Thus shalt thou speak to the people that spoke to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, and do thou lighten somewhat of it from us; thus shalt thou say, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins. 8 And whereas my father chastised you with whips, I will also add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, and I will chastise you with scorpions.

And Jeroboam and all the people came to Roboam on the third day, as the king had spoken, saying, Return to me on the third day. 11 And the king answered harshly; and king Roboam forsook the counsel of the old men, 12 and spoke to them according to the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to it: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

And the king hearkened not to the people, for there was a change of their minds from God, saying, The Lord has confirmed his word, which he spoke by the hand of Acha the Selonite concerning Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and concerning all Israel; 15 for the king did not hearken to them. And the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David, or inheritance in the son of Jesse? to thy tents, Israel: now see to thine own house, David.
So all Israel went to their tents. 7 But the men of Israel, even those who dwelt in the cities of Judah, remained and made Roboam king over them.

18 And king Roboam sent to them Adoni-ram that was over the tribute; and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, and he died. And king Roboam hastened to mount his chariot, to flee to Jerusalem.

3 So Israel rebelled against the house of David until this day.

And Roboam came to Jerusalem; and he assembled Judah and Benjamin, a hundred and eighty and thousand young men fit for war, and he waged war with Israel to recover the kingdom to Roboam. 2 And the word of the Lord came to Samaias the man of God, saying, 3 Speak to Roboam the son of Solomon, and to all Judah and Benjamin, saying, 'Thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not go up, and ye shall not war against your brethren: return every one to his home; for this thing is of me. And they hearkened to the word of the Lord, and returned from going against Jeroboam.

* And Roboam dwelt in Jerusalem, and he built walled cities in Judah. And he built Bethleem, and * Etan and Theoce, 2 and Bethsura, and Sochoth, and Odollam, 3 and Geth, and Marisa, and * Ziph, and * Adorai, and Lahes, and * Aze(», and * Saraa, and * Elom, and Chebron, which belongs to Juda and Benjamin, walled cities. 4 And he fortified them with walls, and placed in them captains, and stores of provisions, and oil and wine, 5 shields and spears in every several city, and he fortified them * very strongly, and he had on his side Juda and Benjamin.

13 And the priests and the Levites who were in all Israel were gathered to him out of all the tribes of Israel. 1 For the Levites set aside the tents of their possession, and went to Juda to Jerusalem, because Jeroboam and his sons had ejected them so that they should not minister to the Lord. 2 And he made for himself priests of the high places, and for the idols, and for the vanities, and for the calves which Jeroboam made. 3 And he cast out from the tribes of Israel those who set their heart to seek the Lord God of Israel: and they came to Jerusalem, to sacrifice to the Lord God of their fathers. 4 And they strengthened the kingdom of Juda; and Juda strengthened Roboam the son of Solomon for three years, for he walked three years in the ways of David and Solomon.

15 And Roboam took to himself for a wife Moolath daughter of Jerimoth the son of David, and Abigaia daughter of Heliah the son of Jesse. 16 And she bore him sons; 17 and she bore him sons; Judas, and Samoria, and Zaam. 18 And afterwards he took to himself Maacha the daughter of Abessalom; and she bore him Abia, and Jethli, and Zeza, and Solomon. 19 And Roboam loved Maacha the daughter... of Abassalmon more than all his wives and all his concubines: for he had eighteen wives and sixty concubines; and he begot twenty-eight sons, and sixty daughters.

And he made Abia the son of Maachah chief, even a leader among his brethren, for he intended to make him king. And he was the eldest of all the sons in all the coasts of Juda and Benjamin, and in all the strong cities: and he gave them provisions in great abundance: and he desired many wives.

And it came to pass when the kingdom of Roboam was established, and when he had grown strong, that he forsook the commandments of the Lord, and all Israel with him.

And it came to pass in the fifth year of the reign of Roboam, Susakim king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, because they had sinned against the Lord, with twelve hundred chariots, and sixty thousand horsemen, and there was no number of the multitude that came with him from Egypt; Libyans, Trogodytes, and Ethiopians. And they obtained possession of the strong cities, which were in Juda, and came to Jerusalem.

And Samaim the prophet came to Roboam, and to the princes of Juda that were gathered to Jerusalem for fear of Susakim, and said to them, Thus said the Lord, Ye have left me, and I will leave you in the hand of Susakim. And the elders of Israel and the king were ashamed, and said, The Lord is righteous. And when the Lord saw that they repented, then came the word of the Lord to Samaim, saying, They have repented; I will not destroy them, but I will set them in safety for a little while, and my wrath shall not be poured out on Jerusalem. Nevertheless they shall be servants, and know my service, and the service of the kings of the earth.

So Susakim king of Egypt went up against Jerusalem, and took the treasures that were in the house of the Lord, and the treasures that were in the king's house: he took all; and he took the golden shields which Solomon had made. And king Roboam made brazen shields instead of them. And Susakim set over him captains of footmen, as keepers of the gate of the king. And it came to pass, when the king went into the house of the Lord, the guards and the footmen went in, and they that returned to meet the footmen. And when he repented, the anger of the Lord turned from him, and did not destroy him utterly; for there were good things in Juda.

So king Roboam strengthened himself in Jerusalem, and reigned: and Roboam was forty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, in the city which the Lord chose out of all the tribes of the children of Israel to call his name there: and his mother's name was Noomma the Ammanitess. And he did evil, for he directed not his heart to seek the Lord.
15 Now King Roboam reigned in Judah, and all the house of Judah was subject to King Roboam.
16 Also the rest of the acts of Roboam, and of all Israel, from the time they departed from David, until the death of Roboam, are written in the reign of Jeroboam.
17 And the acts of Jeroboam, first, and until the death of him, are written in the book of the kings of Israel.
18 And Roboam slept with his fathers, and was buried in Jerusalem, even in the city of David: and Abia his son reigned in his stead.

In the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam Abia began to reign over Juda.

2 And he reigned three years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Maacha, daughter of Uriel of Gabaon.

And there was war between Abia and Jeroboam.

3 And Abia set the battle in array with an army, with mighty men of war, and four hundred thousand mighty men; and Jeroboam set the battle in array against him with eight hundred thousand, they were mighty warriors of the host.

4 And Abia rose up from the mount Somoron, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, Hear ye, Jeroboam, and all Israel:

5 Is it not for you to know that the Lord God of Israel has given a king over Israel ever for David, and to his sons, by a covenant of salt? But Jeroboam the son of Nebat, the servant of Solomon the son of David, and his sons, are not of the priesthood of the sons of Levi, and you are a great multitude, and with you are golden calves, which Jeroboam made you for gods.

6 Did ye not cast out the priests of the Lord, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, and make to yourselves priests of the people of any other land? whoever came to consecrate himself with a calf of the herd and seven rams, he forsook the sanctuary of the Lord, and ye are a great multitude, and with you are golden calves, which Jeroboam made you for gods.

7 But we are not forsaken the Lord our God, and his priests, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, minister to the Lord; and in their daily courses they sacrifice to the Lord whole-burnt-offering, morning and evening, and compound incense, and set the shewbread on the pure table; and there is the golden candlestick, and the lamps for burning, to light in the evening; for we keep the charge of the Lord God of our fathers; but ye have forsaken him.

8 And, behold, the Lord and his priests are with us at our head, and the signal trumpets to sound an alarm over us. Children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of our fathers; for ye shall not prosper.

9 Now Jeroboam had caused an ambush to come round upon him from behind: and he himself was before Juda, and the ambush behind.

10 And Juda looked back, and, behold, the battle was against them before and behind: and they cried to the Lord, and the priests sounded with the trumpets.

11 And the men of Juda shouted: and it came to pass, when the men of Juda shouted, that the Lord smote Jeroboam and...
Israel before Abia and Judah. And the children of Israel fled from before Judah; and the Lord delivered them into their hands. And Abia and his people smote them with a great slaughter, and there fell slain of Israel five hundred thousand mighty men. So the children of Israel were brought low in that day, and the children of Judah prevailed, because they trusted on the Lord God of their fathers. And Abia pursued after Jeroboam, and he took from him the cities, Bethel and her towns, and Jezreel and her towns, and Ar honorable towns. And Jeroboam did not recover strength again all the days of Abia; and the Lord smote him, and he died.

But Abia strengthened himself, and took to himself fourteen wives, and he begot twenty-two sons, and sixteen daughters.

And the rest of the acts of Abia, and his deeds, and his sayings, are written in the book of the prophet Addo.

And Abia died with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David; and Asa his son reigned in his stead. And the date of Abia the land of Judah had rest ten years.

And he did that which was good and right in the sight of the Lord his God. And he removed the altars of the strange gods, and the high places, and broke the pillars in pieces, and cut down the groves: and he told Judah to seek earnestly the Lord God of their fathers, and to perform the law and the commandments. And he removed from all the cities of Judah the altars and the idols, and established in quietness fortified cities in the land of Judah; for the land was quiet, and he had no war in these years; for the Lord gave him rest.

And he said to Judah, Let us fortify these cities, and make walls, and towers, and gates, and bars: we shall prevail over the land, for with our hands have we sought out the Lord our God. He has sought out us, and has given us rest round about, and prospered us. And Asa had a force of armed men bearing shields and spears in the land of Juda, even three hundred thousand, and in the land of Benjamin two hundred and eighty thousand targettears and archers: all these were mighty warriors.

And Zare the Ethiopian went out against them, with a force of a million, and three hundred chariots; and came to Maresa. And Asa cried to the Lord his God, and said, O Lord, it is not impossible with thee to save by many or by few: strengthen us, O Lord our God; for we trust in thee, and in thy name we have come against this great multitude. O Lord our God, let not thy wrath be against us, lest thou lay on us the spoil of these Egyptians. And the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Judah; and the Ethiopians fled. And Asa and his people pursued them to Gedos; and the Ethiopians fell, so that they could not recover themselves; for they were crushed before the Lord, and before his

And Ovda. And Agan the king of Ethipius. And the children of Israel were brought low in that day, and the children of Judah prevailed, because they trusted on the Lord God of their fathers. And Abia pursued after Jeroboam, and he took from him the cities, Bethel and her towns, and Jezreel and her towns, and Ar honorable towns. And Jeroboam did not recover strength again all the days of Abia; and the Lord smote him, and he died.

But Abia strengthened himself, and took to himself fourteen wives, and he begot twenty-two sons, and sixteen daughters.
14 and assembled all the people, and made the king stand at the entrance of the house of the LORD, and made the assembly of the people and the elders, and the officers of the people, sit down. 15 And they were sitting before the altar in the cases, and before all the cases, and before the beautiful house, and before the porch of the house of the LORD, all the people of the people, and the great and the small and the officers of the people. 16 And he said, Let us make an agreement with our God to seek the LORD with all our heart. 17 And the people answered, And our God will be with us. 18 And he said, Go and let us go to the house of the LORD. And they went, and went to the house of the LORD. 19 And he said, Thus saith the Lord, I will destroy them with a terror. 20 And the people answered, And the Lord will destroy them with a terror. 21 And he said, Let us make an agreement with our God to seek the Lord, and let us seek the Lord. 22 And they answered, And the Lord will destroy them with a terror. 23 And he said, Let us make an agreement with our God to seek the Lord, and let us seek the Lord. 24 And they answered, And the Lord will destroy them with a terror. 25 And he said, Let us make an agreement with our God to seek the Lord, and let us seek the Lord. 26 And they answered, And the Lord will destroy them with a terror. 27 And he said, Let us make an agreement with our God to seek the Lord, and let us seek the Lord. 28 And they answered, And the Lord will destroy them with a terror. 29 And he said, Let us make an agreement with our God to seek the Lord, and let us seek the Lord. 30 And they answered, And the Lord will destroy them with a terror. 31 And he said, Let us make an agreement with our God to seek the Lord, and let us seek the Lord. 32 And they answered, And the Lord will destroy them with a terror.
with him until the thirty-fifth year of the reign of Asa.

And in the thirty-eighth year of the reign of Asa, the king of Israel went up against Juda, and built Rama, so as not to allow egress or ingress to Asa king of Juda.

2 And Asa took silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the king's house, and sent them to the son of Adar king of Syria, which dwelt in Damascus, saying, Make a covenant between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: behold, I have sent thee gold and silver: come, and turn away from me Baasa king of Israel, and let him depart from me.

And the son of Adar hearkened to king Asa, and sent the captains of his host against the cities of Israel; and smote Aelon, and Dan, and Abelmain, and all the country round Nephthah.

3 And it came to pass when Baasa heard it, he left off building Ramah, and put a stop to his work: 4 then king Asa took all Juda, and took the ones of Rames, and its timber which Baasa had built; and he built with them Gabae and Maspha.

7 And at that time came Anani the prophet to Asa king of Juda, and said to him, Because thou didst trust on the king of Syria, and didst not trust on the Lord thy God, therefore the army of Syria is escaped out of thy hand. 8 Were not the Ethiopians and Libyans a great force, in courage, in horsemen, in great numbers? and did not He deliver them into thy hands, because thou trustedst in the Lord? 9 For the eyes of the Lord look upon all the earth, to strengthen every heart that is perfect toward him. In this thou hast done foolishly; henceforth there shall be war with thee.

36 And Asa was angry with the prophet, and put him in prison, for he was angry at this: and Asa vexed some of the people at that time.

11 And behold, the acts of Asa, the first and the last, are written in the book of the kings of Juda and Israel.

12 And Asa was diseased in his feet in the thirty-ninth year of his reign, until he was very ill: but in his disease he sought not to the Lord, but to the physicians. 13 And Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the fortieth year of his reign. 14 And they buried him in the sepulchre which he had dug for himself in the city of David, and they laid him on a bed, and filled it with spices and all kinds of perfumes of the apothecaries; and they made for him a very great funeral.

And Josaphat his son reigned in his stead, and Josaphat strengthened himself against Israel. 2 And he put garrisons in all the strong cities of Juda, and appointed captains in all the cities of Juda, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

And the Lord was with Josaphat, for he walked in the first ways of his father, and did not seek to idols; but he sought to
And the Lord prospered the kingdom in his hand; and all Judea gave gifts to Josaphat; and he had great wealth and glory. 6 And his heart was exalted in the way of the Lord; and he removed the high places and the groves from the land of Judah.

And in the third year of his reign, he sent his chief men, and his mighty men, Abdis and Zacharias, and Nathaniel, and Michael, to teach in the cities of Judah. 8 And with them were Jedidias, and Nathanias, and Zabdiadas, and Aziel, and Shemar-mob, and Ionathan, and Adonias, and Tobadonias, and Leuitai, and they taught in Judah, and there was with them the book of the law of the Lord, and they passed through the cities of Judah, and taught the people.

And a terror of the Lord was upon all the kingdoms of the land round about Judah, and they made no war against Josaphat. 10 And some of the Philistines brought to Josaphat gifts, and silver, and presents; and the Arabians brought him seven thousand seven hundred rams. 12 And Josaphat increased in greatness exceedingly, and built in Judea places of abode, and strong cities. 13 And he had many works in Judah; and the mighty men of war, the men of strength, were in Jerusalem.

And this is their number according to the houses of their fathers; even the captains of thousands in Judah were, Ednas the chief, and with him mighty men of strength three hundred thousand. 15 And after him, Joaan the captain, and with him two hundred and eighty thousand. 16 And after him Amasias the son of Zari, who was zealous for the Lord; and with him two hundred thousand mighty men of strength. 17 And out of Benjamin there was a mighty man of strength, even Eliaad, and with him two hundred thousand archers and targeters.

And Josaphat had yet great wealth and glory, and he connected himself by marriage with the house of Achaab. 2 And he went down after a term of years to Achaab to Samaria; and Achaab slew for him sheep and calves, in abundance, and for the people with him, and he much desired him to go up with him to Ramoth of the country of Gualad. 3 And Achaab king of Israel said to Josaphat king of Judah, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth of the country of Gualad? And he said to him, As I am, so also art thou, as thy people; so also is my people with thee for the war.

And Josaphat said to the king of Israel, Seek, I pray thee, the Lord to-day. 5 And the king of Israel gathered the prophets, four hundred men, and said to them, Shall I go to Ramoth Gualad to battle, or shall I forbear? And they said, Go up, and God shall deliver it into the hands of the king.

And Josaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of the Lord besides, that we may enquire of him? And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, There is yet one man by whom to enquire of the Lord; but I hate him, for he prophesies nothing good for me, for all his days are for evil: this is Michæas the son of Jemba. And Josaphat said, Let not the king say so.

And the king called an eunuch, and said, Fetch quickly Michæas the son of Jemba. And the king of Israel and Josaphat king of Judæa were sitting each on his throne, and clothed in their robes, sitting in the open space at the entrance of the gate of Samaria; and all the prophets were prophesying before them. And Sedekias son of Chanaan made for himself iron horns, and said, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou thrust Syria until it be consumed. And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Ramoth Galaad, and thou shalt prosper: and the king shall deliver it into the hands of the king.

And the messenger that went to call Michæas spoke to him, saying, Behold, the prophets have spoken favourably concerning the king with one mouth; let now, I pray thee, thy words be as the words of one of them, and do thou speak good things. And Michæas said, As the Lord liveth, whatsoever God shall say to me, that will I speak.

And he came to the king, and the king said to him, Michæas, shalt thou go up to Ramoth Galaad to battle, or shall I forbear? And he said, Go up, and thou shalt prosper, and they shall be given into your hands. And the king said to him, How often shall I solemnly charge thee that thou speakest to me nothing but truth in the name of the Lord? And he said, I saw Israel scattered on the mountains, as sheep without a shepherd; and the Lord said, These have no commander; let each return to his home in peace.

And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, Said not the king of Judah, that he would not prophesy concerning me good, but evil? But he said, Not so. Hear ye the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven stood by on his right hand and on his left. And the Lord said, Who will deceive Achnab king of Israel, that he may go up, and fall in Ramoth Galaad, and speak there his way, and another spoke that way. And there came forth a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, I will deceive him. And the Lord said, Whereby? And he said, I will go forth, and will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the Lord said, Thou shalt deceive him, and shalt prophesy good for him, and he shall come forth, and do so: and now, behold, the Lord has put a false spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the Lord has spoken evil against thee.

Then Sedekias the son of Chanaan drew near, and smote Michæas on the cheek, and said to him, By what way passed the Spirit. of the Lord from me to speak to thee? 24 And Michah said, Behold, thou shalt see in that day, when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thyself.

25 And the king of Israel said, Take Michah, and carry him back toomer, the governor of the city, and to Joas the captain, the king's son; 26 and ye shall say, Thus said the king, Put this fellow into the prison-house, and let him eat the bread of affliction, and drink the water of affliction, until I return in peace. 27 And Michah said, If thou do at all return in peace, the Lord has not spoken by me. And he said, Hear, all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel, and Josaphat king of Judah, went up to Ramoth Galad.

28 And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, Disguise me, and I will enter into the battle: and do thou put on my garment. So the king of Israel disguised himself, and entered into the battle.

29 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, saying, Fight neither against small nor great, but only against the king of Israel.

30 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw Josaphat, that they said, It is the king of Israel. And they compassioned him to fight against him.

31 But the king of Israel disguised himself, and went, and put on him a mean person's dress.

32 And the captains of the chariots saw him, and said, It is the king of Israel. And he said, Take me away: for I am weak and faint.

33 And when the captains of the chariots saw him, they said, He is surely the king of Israel. And they turned him away from him.

34 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, that they turned away from him.

35 And a man drew a bow with a good aim, and smote the king of Israel between the lungs and the breastplate: and he said to the charioteer, Turn thine hand, drive me out of the battle, for I am wounded.

36 And the battle turned in that day; and the king of Israel remained on the chariot against Syria until evening, and died at sunset.

37 And Josaphat king of Judah returned to his house at Jerusalem. 2 And there went out to meet him Jehu the prophet the son of Hanani, and said to him, King Josaphat, dost thou help a sinner, and slay the children of the king, according to the counsel of Joram the son of Ahab, and Ahaziah the son of Jehoshaphat? 3 For the Lord shall smite Israel, as he hath said, and as he hath spoken in the book of the prophets, and as he hath done, because the children of Israel did many evil in his sight, to provoke him to anger.

4 And Josaphat dwelt in Jerusalem: and he again went out among the people from Bersabee to the mount of Ephraim, and turned them back to the Lord God of their fathers. 5 And he appointed judges in all the strong cities of Juda, city by city. 6 And he said to the judges, Take good heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for the Lord, and what ye shall judge is of judgment. 7 And now let the fear of the Lord be upon you, and be wary, and do your duty: for there is no unrighteousness with the Lord our God, neither is it if for him to respect persons, nor to take bribes.

8 Moreover Josaphat appointed in Jerusalem some of the priests, and Levites, and heads of houses of Israel, for the judgment of the Lord, and to judge the dwellers in Jerusalem. And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye do in the fear of the Lord, in truth and with a perfect heart. Whatever man of your brethren that dwell in their cities shall bring the cause that comes before you, between blood and blood, and between a man and his servant, and between a man and his handmaid, and all judgments, ye shall even decide for them; so they shall not sin against the Lord, and there shall not be wrath upon you, and upon your brethren: thus ye shall do, and ye shall not sin.

And behold, Amarias the priest is head over you in every matter of the Lord; and Zabdiel the son of Israel is head over the house of Juda in every matter of the king; and the scribes and Levites are before you: be strong and active, and the Lord shall be with the good.

And after this came the children of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and with them half of the men of Edom, and afflicted against Josaphat to battle. And they came and told Josaphat, saying, There is come against thee a great multitude from Syria, from beyond the sea; and, behold, they are in Assan Thamar, this is Engadi. And Josaphat was alarmed, and set his face to seek the Lord. And he said unto the king, not a fast but all Juda.

And Juda gathered themselves together to seek after the Lord: even from all the cities of Juda came they to seek the Lord.

And Josaphat stood up in the assembly of Juda in Jerusalem, in the house of the Lord, in front of the new court. And he said, O Lord God of my fathers, art not thou God in heaven above, and art thou not Lord of all the kingdoms of the nations? and is there not in thy hand the might of dominion, and there is no one who can resist thee? Art not thou the Lord that didst destroy the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and didst give it to thy beloved seed of Abra- ham for ever? And they dwelt in it, and built it in a sanctuary to thy name, saying, If there should come upon us evils, sword, judgment, pestilence, famine, we will stand before this house, and before thee, (for thy name is upon this house,) and we will cry to thee because of the affliction, and thou shalt hear, and deliver. And now, behold, the children of Ammon, and Moab, and mount Seir, with regard to whom thou didst not permit Israel to pass through their border, when they had come out of the land of Egypt, (for they turned away from them, and did evil before them,) ye now, behold, make attempts against us, to come forth to cast us out from our inheritance which thou gavest us.

O Lord our God, wilt thou not judge them? for we have no strength to resist this great multitude that is come against us; and we know not what we shall do to them: but our eyes are toward thee.

And all Juda was standing before the Lord, and their children, and their wives.

the sons of Matthias the Levite, of the sons of Asaph,—upon him came the Spirit of the Lord in the assembly; 15 and he said, hear ye, all Juda, and the dwellers in Jerusalem, and king Josaphat: Thus saith the Lord to you, even you, Fear not, neither be alarmed, before all this great multitude: for the battle is not yours, but God's. 16 To-morrow go ye down against them: behold, they come up by the ascent of Assis, and ye shall find them at the extremity of the river of the wilderness of Jeriel. 17 It is not for you to fight: understand these things, and see the deliverance of the Lord with you to-day, in the sight of Jerom the sons of Ammon, and in the sight of all the inhabitants of mount Seir, that ye come not against them to fight: for the Lord your God shall fight for you, against all these people. 18 And Josaphat bowed with his face to the ground before the Lord, and all Juda and the dwellers in Jerusalem, and they fell before the Lord to worship the Lord. 19 And the Levites of the children of Caath, and they of the sons of Core, rose up to praise the Lord God of Israel with a great shout of praise, and with the voice of exultation. 20 And they rose early in the morning, and went out into the wilderness of Thoece: and as they went out, Josaphat stood and cried, and said, Hear me, Juda, and the dwellers in Jerusalem: put your trust in the Lord God, and your trust shall be honoured; trust in his prophet, and ye shall prosper. 21 And he took counsel with the people, and set appointed men to sing psalms and praises, to give thanks, and to sing the holy songs of praise in going forth before the host; and they said, Give thanks to the Lord, for his mercy endureth for ever. 22 And when they began the praise and thanksgiving, the Lord caused the children of Ammon and Moab to rise up and fight against Juda: and they were routed. 23 Then the children of Ammon and Moab rose up against the dwellers in mount Seir, to destroy and consume them: and when they had made an end of destroying the inhabitants of Seir, they rose up against one another so that they were utterly destroyed. 24 And Juda returned to the watch-towers of the wilderness, and looked, and saw the multitude, and, behold, they were all fallen dead upon the earth, not one escaped. 25 And Josaphat and his people went out to spoil them, and they found much cattle, and wine, and oil, and precious things: and they spoiled them, and they were three days gathering the spoil, for it was very much. 26 And on the fourth day they were gathered to the Valley of Blessing; for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place the Valley of Blessing, until this day. 27 And all the men of Juda returned to Jerusalem, and Josaphat led them with great joy, and all the people, and in the presence of their enemies. 28 And they entered into Jerusalem with lutes and harps and trumpets, going into the house of the Lord. 29 And there was a terror of the Lord upon all the kingdoms of the land, when they heard that the Lord fought against the enemies of Israel. 20 And the kingdom of Josaphat was at peace; and his God gave him rest round about.

21 And Josaphat reigned over Judea, being thirty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Azuba, daughter of Sali. 22 And he walked in the ways of father Asa, and turned not aside from doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord. 23 Nevertheless the high places yet remained: and as yet the people offered burnt offerings and burnt incense upon the high places. 24 And the rest of the acts of Josaphat, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel.

25 And afterwards Josaphat king of Judea entered into an alliance with Ochozias king of Israel, even as was not right in the sight of the Lord. 26 But he entered into an alliance with the king of Moab, and made an alliance to build ships to go to Tharsis: and he built ships in Eloth. 27 And Eliezer son of Dodan of Maresha prophesied against Josaphat, saying, Forasmuch as thou hast allied thyself with Ochozias, the Lord hath broken thy work, and thy vessels have been wrecked. And they could not go to Tharsis.

And Josaphat slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Joram his son reigned in his stead. 2 And he had brothers, the six sons of Josaphat, Azarias, and Jiel, and Zacharias, and Azarias, and Michael, and Zaphatias: all these were the sons of Josaphat king of Judea. 3 And their father gave them many gifts of gold, silver, and gold, and arms, together with fortified cities in Judea: but he gave the kingdom to Joram, for he was the first-born. 4 And Joram entered upon his kingdom, and strengthened himself, and slew all his brothers with the sword, and some of the princes of Israel.

5 When he was thirty and two years old, Joram succeeded to his kingdom, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. 6 And he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, as did the house of Achaab; for a daughter of Achaab was his wife: and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord: 7 nevertheless the Lord would not utterly destroy the house of David, because of the covenant which he made with David, and as he said to him that he would give a light to him and his sons for ever.

8 In those days Edom revolted from Judea, and made a king over themselves. 9 And Joram went with the princes, and all the cavalry with him; and it came to pass that he arose by night, and smote Edom which compassed him about, and the captains of the chariots, and the people fled to their tents. 10 And Edom revolted from Judea until this day. Then Lionna at that time revolted from under his hand, because he forsook the Lord God of his fathers. 11 For he built high places in the cities of Judea, and caused the dwellers in Jerusalem to go a-whoring, and led Judah astray.

And there came to him a message in writing from Eliu the prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of thy father David, Because thou hast not walked in the way of thy father Josaphat, nor in the ways of Asa king of Judah, but hast walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and caused Judah and the dwellers in Jerusalem to go a-whoring, as the house of Achaab caused Israel to go a-whoring, and thou hast slain thy brethren, the sons of thy father, who were better than thyself; 16 behold, the Lord shall smite thee with a great plague among thy people, and thy sons, and thy wives, and all thy store; 17 and thou shalt be afflicted with a grievous disease, with a disease of the bowels, until thy bowels shall fall out day by day with the sickness.

So the Lord stirred up the Philistines against Joram, and the Arabians, and those who bordered on the Ethiopians: 18 and they went up against Judah, and prevailed against them, and took away all the store which they found in the house of the king, and his sons, and his daughters; and there was no son left to him but Ochozias the youngest of his sons. 19 And after all these things the Lord smote him in the bowels with an incurable disease. 20 And it continued from day to day: and when the time of the days came to two years, his bowels fell out with the disease, and he died in the last house of David, but not in the tombs of the kings.

And the inhabitants of Jerusalem made Ochozias his youngest son king in his stead: for the band of robbers that came against them, even the Arabians and the Alimazians, had slain all the elder ones. So Ochozias son of Joram king of Juda reigned.

2 Ochozias began to reign when he was twenty years old, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Gothalia, the daughter of Ambrid. 2 And he walked in the ways of Achaab: for his mother was his counsellor to do evil. 3 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord as the house of Achaab had done: for they were his counsellors after the death of his father to his destruction. 4 And he walked in their counsels; and he went with Joram son of Achaab king of Israel to Ozael, king of Syria, to Ramoth Galsad: and the archers smote Joram. 5 And Joram returned to Jezreel to be healed of the wounds wherewith the Syrians smote him in Ramoth, when he fought against Azael king of Syria.

And Ochozias son of Joram, king of Juda, went down to see Joram the son of Achaab at Jezreel because he was sick. 7 And destruction from God came upon Ochozias in his coming to Joram; for when he had come, Joram went out with him against Jeu the son of Namessai, the anointed of the Lord against the house of Achaab.

And it came to pass, when Jeu was taking vengeance on the house of Achaab, that he found the princes of Judah and the brethren of Ochozias ministering to Ochozias, and he slew them, and gave orders to seek Ochozias; and they took him while he was healing his wounds in Samaria, and they brought him to Jeu, and he slew him; and they buried him, for they said, He is the son of Josaphat, who sought the Lord with all his heart.

So there was none in the house of Ochozias to secure their power in the kingdom. 10 And Gotholia the mother of Ochozias saw that her son was dead, and she arose and destroyed all the seed royal in the house of Juda. 11 But Josabeath, the daughter of the king, took Jona the son of Ochozias and 12 rescued him secretly out of the midst of the sons that were put to death, and she placed him and his nurse in a bed-chamber.

And Josabeath daughter of king Joram, sister of Ochozias, wife of Jodae the priest, hid him, and she even hid him from Gotholia, and she did not slay him. 13 And he was 14 with him hid in the house of God six years; and Gotholia reigned over the land.

And in the eighth year Jodae strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Azarias the son of Joram, and Ismael the son of Joan, and Azrias the son of Obed, and Massaeus the son of Adia, and Elissaphan the son of Zacharias, with him into the house of the Lord. 15 And they went about Judah, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and heads of the families of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem.

And all the congregation of Juda made a covenant with the king in the house of God. 16 And he shewed them the king's son, and said to them, Ie, let the priests, Levites, and the king's officers sanctify itself for the God of Juda, and let every man of the people 17 whom the king shall appoint, and let all the people in the courts of the Lord's house. 18 And let not any one enter into the house of the Lord, except the priests and the Levites; they shall enter in, because they are holy; and let all the people keep the watch of the Lord. 19 And the Levites shall compass the king round about, every man in his weapon in his hand; and whoever else goes into the house shall die: but they shall be with the king when he goes out, and when he comes in.

And the Levites and all Juda did according to all that the priest Jodae commanded them, and they took each his men from the beginning of the sabbath, and to the end of the sabbath, for Jodae the priest did not dismiss the courses. 20 And Jodae gave to the men the swords, and the shields, and the spears.
and he set the whole people, every man with his arms, from the right side of the house to the left side of the altar and the house, over against the king, and he brought out the king's son, and put on him the crown and the testimony, and Jodae the priest and his sons proclaimed him king, and anointed him, and said, Long live the king!

And Gotholia heard the sound of the people running, and acknowledging and praising the king, and she went in to the king into the house of the Lord. And she looked, and beheld, the king stood in his place, and the princes and trumpets were at the entrance, and the princes were round the king: and all the people of the land rejoiced, and sounded the trumpets, and there were the singers singing with instruments, and singing hymns of praise. And Gotholia rent her robe, and cried, Ye surely are plotting against me.

And Jodae the priest went forth, and Jodae the priest charged the captains of hundreds, even the captains of the host, and said to them, Thrust her forth outside the house, and follow her, and let her be slain with the sword. And she sent not be slain in the house of the Lord. So they let her go out; and she went through the horsemen's gate of the house of the king, and they slew her there.

And Jodae made a covenant between himself, and the people, and the king, that the people should be the Lord's. And all the people of the land went into the house of Baal, and tore down it and its altars, and they ground his images to powder, and they slew Matthan the priest of Baal before his altars. And Jodae the priest committed the works of the house of the Lord into the hand of the priests and Levites, and he re-established the courses of the priests and Levites which David appointed over the house of the Lord, and he put them to offer whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord, as it is written in the law of Moses, with gladness, and with songs by the hand of David.

And the porters stood at the gates of the house of the Lord, that no one unclean in any respect should enter in. And he took the heads of families, and the mighty men, and the chiefs of the people, and all the people of the land, and they conducted the king into the house of the Lord; and he went through the inner gate into the king's house, and they seated the king on the throne of the kingdom. And all the people of the land rejoiced; and the city was quiet: and they slew Gotholia.

Joas was seven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Sabia of Bersabee. And Joas did that which was right in the sight of the Lord all the days of Jodae the priest. And Joas took to himself two wives, and they bore sons and daughters.

And it came to pass afterward that it came into the heart of Joas to repair the house of the Lord. And he gathered the priests and the Levites, and said to them, Go out into the cities of Judah, and collect money of all Israel to repair the house of the Lord from year to year, and make haste to speak of it. But the Levites hated not.

And king Joas called Jodae the chief, and said to him, Why hast thou not looked after the Levites, so that they should bring from Juda and Jerusalem that which was prescribed by Moses the man of God, when he assembled Israel at the tabernacle of witness? For Gothalia was a transgressor, and her sons tore down the house of God; for they offered the holy things of the house of the Lord to Baalim.

And the king said, Let a y box be made, and let it be put at the gate of the house of the Lord without. And let men proclaim in Juda and in Jerusalem, that the people should bring to the Lord, as Moses the servant of God, look conceming Israel in the wilderness. And all the princes and all the people gave, and brought in, and cast into the box until it was filled. And it came to pass, when they brought in the box to the officers of the king by the hand of the Levites, and when they saw that there was none of them, or none of the princes, none of the Levites, taking it, then cast the king's scribe, and the officer of the high priest, and emptied the box, and restored it to its place. Thus they did day by day, and collected much money.

And the king and Jodae the priest gave it to the workmen employed in the service of the house of the Lord, and they hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the Lord, and also smiths and braziers to repair the house of the Lord. And the workmen wrought, and the work prospered in their hands, and they established the house of the Lord on its foundation, and strengthened it. And when they had finished it, they brought down the remnader of the money, and made vessels for the house of the Lord, vessels of service for whole-burnt-offerings, and gold and silver censers: and they offered up whole-burnt-offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the days of Jodae.

And Jodae grew old, being full of days, and he died, being a hundred and thirty years old at his death. And they buried him with the kings in the city of David, because he had dealt well with Israel, and with God and his house.

And it came to pass after the death of Jodae, that the princes of Juda went in, and did offer to the king. Then the king hearkened to them. And they took the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and served the Astartes and idols: and there was wrath upon Juda and Jerusalem in that day. Yet he sent prophets to them, to turn them to the Lord; but they hearkened not: and he testified to them, but they obeyed not.

And the Spirit of God came upon Azarias the son of Jodae the priest, and he stood up above the people, and said, Thus saith the Lord, Why do ye transgress the commandments of the Lord? so shall
And every one of them conspired, and got the children of the children of Levi to come unto them unto Jerusalem, to do the work of the Lord, sword in hand, for, seeing their fathers had exercised towards them, but slew their son. And as he died, he said, The Lord look upon it, and judge.

And it came to pass after the end of the year, that the host of Syria went up against him, and came against Juda and Jerusalem; and they slew all the chief of the people. And the children of Juda gave all the spoils which they sent to the king of Damascus. For the army of Syria came with few men, yet God gave into their hands a very large army, because they had forsaken the God of their fathers; and he brought judgments on Joas.

And after they had departed from him, when they had left him in sore disease, then his servants conspired against him because of the blood of the son of Jodae the priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died, and they buried him in the city of David, but they buried him not in the sepulchre of the kings. And they that conspired against him were Zabad the son of Samuel the Ammonite, and Jodab the son of Samareth the Moabite. And all his sons, and the five came to him: and the other matters, behold, they are written in the book of the kings. And Amasias his son reigned in his stead.

Amasias began to reign when he was twenty and five years old, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Jehezabel of Jerusalem.

And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart. And it came to pass, when the kingdom was established in his hand, that he slew his servants who had slain the king his father. But he slew not their sons, according to the covenant of the law of the Lord, as he commanded, saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, and the sons shall not die for the fathers, but they shall die each for his own sin.

And Amasias assembled the house of Juda, and appointed them according to the houses of their families for captains of thousands and captains of hundreds in all Juda and Jerusalem; and he numbered them from twenty years old and upwards, and found them three hundred thousand able to go out to war, holding spear and shield.

Also he hired of Israel a hundred thousand mighty men for a hundred talents of silver.

And there came a man of God to him, saying, O king, let not the host of Israel go with thee; for the Lord is not with Israel, even all the sons of Ephraim. For if thou shalt undertake to strengthen thyself with these, then the Lord shall put thee to flight before the enemies: for it is of the Lord both to strengthen and to put to flight.

And Amasias said to the man of God, But what shall I do for the hundred talents which I have given to the army of Israel?
And the man of God said, The Lord can give thee much more than these.
10 And Amasias separated from the army that came to him from Ephraim, that they might go away to their place; and they were very angry with Judah, and they returned to their place with great wrath.
11 And Amasias smote him, and took him prisoner, and went to the valley of salt, and smote there the children of Seir ten thousand.
12 And the children of Juda took ten thousand prisoners, and they carried them to the top of the precipice, and cast them headlong from the top of the precipice, and they were all dashed to pieces.
13 And the men of Beersheba sent back so that they should not go with him to battle, went and attacked the cities of Juda, from Samaria to Bethoron; and they smote three thousand among them, and took much spoil.
14 And it came to pass, after Amasias had returned from smiting Idumea, that he brought home the gods of the children of Seir, and set them up for himself as gods, and bowed down before them, and he sacrificed to them.
15 And the anger of the Lord came upon Amasias, and he sent him a prophet, and he said to him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which have not rescued the own people of thine hand?
16 And it came to pass when the prophet was speaking to him, that said to him, Have I made thee king's counsellor? take heed lest thou be scourged: and the prophet said, and said, I know that God is disposed against thee to destroy thee, because thou hast done this thing, and hast not hearkened to my counsel.
17 And Amasias king of Juda took counsel, and sent to Joas, son of Joachaz, son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, Come, and let us look one another in the face.
18 And Joas king of Israel sent to Amasias king of Juda, saying, The thistle that was in Libanus sent to take the cedar that was in Libanus, saying, Give thy daughter to my son to wife; but, behold, the wild beasts of the field that are in Libanus shall come; and the wild beasts besiege thee, and erode down the thistle.
19 Thou hast said, Behold, I have smitten Idumea, and thy stout heart exalts thee: now stay at home; for why dost thou implicate thyself in mischief, that thou shouldst fall, and Juda with thee.
20 Nevertheless Amasias hearkened not, for it was of the Lord to deliver him into the enemy's hands, because he sought after the gods of the Idumeans.
21 So Joas king of Israel went up; and they saw one another, Amasias king of Juda, and Joas king of Beth-samys, which is of Juda.
22 And Jude was put to flight before Israel, and they fled every man to his tent.
23 And Joas king of Israel took prisoner Amasias king of Juda, son of Joas, of Joachaz, in Beth-samys, and brought him to Jerusalem; and he pulled down part of the wall of Jerusalem from the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate, four hundred cubits.
24 And he took all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of the temple of the Lord, and of the king's house, and he carried it to Jerusalem.
Lord and with Abdeledom, and the treasures of the king's house, and the $\beta$ hostages, and he returned to Samaria.

And Amasis, the son of Joas, king of Judah, lived after the death of Joas the son of Joachaz, king of Israel, fifteen years. And the rest of the acts of Amasis, the first and the last, lo! are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel? And at the time when Amasis departed from the Lord, then they formed a conspiracy against him; and he fled from Jerusalem to Lachis: and they sent after him to Lachis, and slew him there. And they took him up on horses, and buried him with his fathers in the city of David.

Then all the people of the land took Joas, and he was sixteen years old, and they made him king in the room of his father Amasias. He built Elath, he recovered it to Judah, after the king slept with his fathers.

Ozias began to reign at the age of sixteen years, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jechelina of Jerusalem. And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that Amasia his father did. And he sought the Lord in the days of Zacharias, who understood the fear of the Lord; and in his days he sought the Lord, and the Lord prospered him.

And he went out and fought against the Philistines, and pulled down the walls of Gath, and景象, and the walls of Azotus, and he built cities near Azotus, and among the Philistines. And the Lord strengthened him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians that dwelt on the rock, and against the Mineans. And the Mineans gave gifts to Ozias; and his fame spread as far as the entering in of Egypt, for he strengthened himself exceedingly.

And Ozias built towers in Jerusalem, both at the gate of the corner and at the valley gate, and at the corner, and he fortified them. And he built towers in the wilderness, and dug many wells, for he had many cattle in the low country and in the plain; and vineyards in the mountain country and in Carmel: for he was a husbandman. And Ozias had six hundred hangers of warriors, and that went out orderly to war, and returned orderly to number, and their number was written by the hand of the scribe, and Maasias the judge, by the hand of Ananias the king's deputy. The whole number of the chiefs of families of the mighty men of war was two thousand six hundred; and with them was a warrior force, three hundred thousand and seven thousand and five hundred: these were the mighty men of valor that had an eager mind to the help of the king against his enemies. And Ozias prepared for them, even for all the host, shields, and spears, and helmets, and breastplates, and bows, and slings for stones. And he made in Jerusalem machines invented by a wise contriver, to be upon the towers and upon the
And when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction; and he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the temple of the Lord to burn incense on the altar of incense before the Lord, according to the thing which he taught Ozias the priest, and with him eighty priests of the Lord, mighty men; and they withstood Ozias the king, and said to him, It is not for thee, Ozias, to burn incense to the Lord, but only for the priests the sons of Aaron, who are consecrated to sacrifice: go forth of the sanctuary; for thou hast been separated from the Lord; and this shall not be for glory to thee from the Lord God.

And Ozias was angry, and in his hand there was the censer to burn incense in the temple: and when he was angry with the priests, then the leprosy rose up in his forehead before the priests, that looked to him.

And they went in after him Azarias the priest, and with him eighty priests of the Lord, mighty men, And Azarias the chief priest, and the other priests, turned to him, and said, Behold, he was leprous in his forehead: and they went out, for he also hasted to go out, because the Lord had rebuked him. And he had leprosy in the day of his death, and he dwelt as a leper in a separate house; for he was cut off from the house of the Lord: and Jonathan his son was set over his kingdom, judging the people of the land.

And the rest of the acts of Azias, the first and the last, are written by the prophetess, the daughter of Sada, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of burial place of the kings, for they said, He is a leper; and Joatham his son reigned in his stead.

Joatham was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jerusa, daughter of Sada.

And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Azias did: but he went not into the temple of the Lord. And still the people corrupted themselves.

He built the high gate of the house of the Lord, and he built much in the wall of Ophel. In the mountain of Juda, and in the woods, he built both dwelling-places and towers.

He fought against the king of the children of Ammon, and prevailed against him: and the children of Ammon gave him even annually a hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wool, and ten thousand measures of barley. These the king of the children of Ammon brought to him annually in the first and second and third years. Joatham grew strong, because he prepared his ways before the Lord his God.

And the rest of the acts of Joatham, and his war, and his deeds, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Juda and Israel.

And Joatham slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Achaz his son reigned in his stead.

καὶ οἳ κατάστηκαν, ὡς ἡ καρδία αὐτῶν τοῦ καταβαθμίσατον 16 καὶ ἐδραχμίσθην ἐν Κυρίῳ Θεῷ αὐτῶν, καὶ εἰσῆλθην εἰς τὸν ναὸν Κυρίου θυμαίατα ἐπὶ τὸ θυσιαστήριον τῶν θυμαμάτων. 17 ἐστίν ἐν καθαρίᾳ ψυχής αὐτοῦ Ἀζαρίας ὁ ἱερεὺς, καὶ μετὰ αὐτοῦ ἱερεῖς τοῦ Κυρίου ὄρθοδοξα νῦν δυνατοί. 18 Καὶ ἔστησαν ἐπὶ Ὀζίαν τὸν βασιλέα, καὶ ἔστησαν αὐτῷ, οὕτως, ὁ Ὀζία, θυμαίατα τῷ Κυρίῳ, ἀλλ' ἡ τοῖς ιερέσιν νῦν ἀρχηγοὶ τοῖς ἱερασμένοις ὑσίας εἰς ἐκεῖνὸς τοῦ ἄγιου ὅπως ἀπεστήκει ἀπὸ Κυρίου καὶ οὐκ ἔστατον συντόμως εἰς δόξαν παρὰ Κυρίῳ Θεοῦ.

Achaz was thirty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem: and he did not that which was right in the sight of the Lord, as David his father. But he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, for he made graven images. And he sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places, and upon the roofs of Jerusalem, according to all the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord cast out from before the children of Israel. And he burnt incense upon the high places, and upon the roofs, and under every shady tree.

And the Lord his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Syria; and he smote him, and took captive of them a great band of prisoners, and carried him to Damascus. Also God delivered him into the hands of the king of the land of the Philistines, four hundred thousand male soldiers. And Phakee the son of Romelias king of Israel, slew in Juda in one day a hundred and twenty thousand mighty men; because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers. And Zechri, a mighty man of Ephraim, slew Maasia the king's son, and Ezechias, the chief of his house, and Eleazar, the king's son.

And the children of Israel took captive of their brethren three hundred thousand, women, and sons, and daughters, and they spoiled them of much property, and brought the spoils to Samaria.

And there was there a prophet of the Lord, his name was Oded: and he went out to meet the host that were coming to Samaria, and said to them, Behold, the wrath of the Lord God of your fathers is upon Juda, and he has delivered them into your hands, and ye have slain them in wrath, and it has reached even to heaven. And now ye talk of keeping the children of Juda and Jerusalem for servants and handmaids. Lo, am I not with you to testify for the Lord your God? And now hearken to me, and restore the treasure of your brethren whom ye have taken: for the fierce anger of the Lord is upon you.

And the chief of the sons of Ephraim rose up,  and Udas the son of Joanas, and Barachias the son of Mosolamoth, and Ezechias the son of Seleem, and Amazias the son of Elcad, against those that came from the war, and said to them, Ye shall not bring in hither the prisoners to us, whereas sin against the Lord is upon us, ye mean to add to our shame and our terrors: for our sin is great, and the fierce anger of the Lord is upon Israel. So the warriors left the prisoners and the spoils before the princes and all the congregation. And the men who were called by name rose up, and took hold of the prisoners, and clothed all the naked from the spoils, and gave them garments and shoes, and beef to eat, and oil to anoint themselves with, and they helped also every one that was weak with asses, and placed them in Jericho, the city of palm-trees, with their brethren; and they returned to Samaria.

At that time king Achaz sent to the king of Assyria to help him, and on this occasion he became the Idumeans had attacked him, and smitten Judah, and taken a number of prisoners. Also the Philistines had made an attack on the cities of the plain country, and the south of Judah, and taken Beth-shan, and Joppa, and other cities of the house of the Lord, and the things in the house of the king, and of the princes: and they gave to the king Elion, and Galero, and Socho and her villages, and Thanna and her villages, and Gamzo and her villages: and they dwelt there. For the Lord humbled Judah because of Achaæ king of Judah, because he grievously departed from the Lord. And there came against him Thalassaph, king of Assyria, and he afflicted him. And Achaæ took the things that were in the house of the Lord, and the things in the house of the king, and of the princes, and gave them to the king of Assyria: but he was no help to him, but troubled him in his affliction: and he departed and met with the army of the king of Assyria, and was slain. I will seek after the gods of Damascus that smite me. And he said, Forasmuch as the gods of Syria themselves strengthen them, therefore will I sacrifice to them, and they will help me. But they became a stumbling-block to him, and to all Israel.

And Achaæ removed the vessels of the house of the Lord, and cut them in pieces, and shut the doors of the house of the Lord, and made to himself altars in every corner in Jerusalem: and in several cities in Judah he made high places to burn incense to strange gods: and they provoked the Lord God of their fathers. And the rest of his acts, and his deeds, and the first and the last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

And Achaæ slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David; for they did not bring him into the sepulchres of the kings of Israel: and Ezechias his son reigned in his stead.

And Ezechias began to reign at the age of twenty-five years, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Abia, daughter of Zacharias.

And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father David had done.

And it came to pass, when he was established in his kingdom, in the first month, he opened the doors of the house of the Lord, and repaired them. And he brought in the priests and the Levites, and put them on the east side, and said to them, Hear ye Levites: now sanctify yourselves, and sanctify the house of the Lord God of your fathers, and cast out the impurities from among your kindred. For our fathers have revolted, and done that which was evil before the Lord our God, and have forsaken him, and have turned away their face from the tabernacle of the Lord, and have turned their back. And they have shut up the doors of the temple, and put out the lamps, and have not burned incense, and have not offered whole-burnt-offerings.

in the holy place to the God of Israel.

And the Lord was very angry with Judah and Jerusalem, and made them an astonishment, and a desolation, and a hissing, as ye see with your eyes. And, behold, your fathers have been smitten with the sword, and your sons and your daughters and your wives are in captivity in a land not their own, as is now even so. For before it is now in my heart to make a covenant with the Lord God of Israel, yea that he may turn away his fierce wrath from us. And now be not your duty, for the Lord has chosen you to stand before him to minister, and to be ministers and burners of incense to him.

Then the Levites rose up, Maath the son of Amasi, and Joel the son of Azarias, of the sons of Caath: and of the sons of Merari, Kish the son of Abdi, and Azarias the son of Joel: and of the sons of Gedi, Jodaad the son of Zemathan, and Iowadai the sons of Iochia.

And Zacharias, and Semei, and Semei, and Jodaad, and Johanan, and Shemaiah, and Semei, and Asaph, sons of Zedok, and of the sons of Eliaphun; and of the sons of Ethnarch, and of the sons of Joel, and of the sons of Zacharias, and of the sons of Shimihia; and of the sons of Azanan, and of the sons of Jeiel, and of the sons of Semiah, and of the sons of Idithun, and of the sons of Oziel. And they gathered their brethren, and purified themselves according to the king's command by the order of the Lord, to purify the house of the Lord, and the priests entered into the house of the Lord, to purify it, and they cast out all the uncleanness that was found in the house of the Lord, even into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites received it to cast into the brook of Kidron without.

And Ezekias began on the first day, even on the new moon of the first month, to purify, and on the eighth day of the month they entered into the temple of the Lord: and they purified the house of the Lord in eight days; and on the eleventh day of the first month they finished the work.

And they went in to king Ezekias, and said, We have purified all the things in the house of the Lord, the altar of whole-burnt-offering, and its vessels, and the table, and the vessels of the table, and all the vessels of the temple, even the vessels of the house of the Lord, and the trumpets, and the vessels of the song, and the censers, and the vessels of the service of the priests, and of the priests, and of the Levites.

And king Ezekias rose early in the morning, and gathered the chief men of the city, and went up to the house of the Lord.

And he brought seven calves, and seven rams, seven lambs, seven kids of goats for a sin-offering, per the kingdom, and for the holy things, and for Israel: and he told the priests the sons of Aaron to go up to the altar of the Lord. And they slew the calves, and the priests received the blood, and poured it on the altar: and they slew the rams, and poured the blood upon the altar: also they slew the lambs, and poured the blood round about the altar. And they brought the goats for a sin-offering before the king and the congregation; and laid their hands upon them. And the priests slew them, and offered their blood as a propitiation on the altar: and they made
And he stationed the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, and lutes, and harps, according to the commandment of king David, and of Nathan the prophet: for by the commandment of the Lord the order was in the hand of the prophets. 28 And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with the trumpets. 29 And Ezekias told them to offer up the whole-burnt-offering on the altar of the Lord, and in the house where they had done offering it, the king and all that were present bowed, and worshipped.

And king Ezekias and the princes told the Levites to sing hymns to the Lord in the words of David, and of Asaph the prophet: and they sang hymns with gladness, and fell down and worshipped. 32 Then Ezekias answered and said, Now ye have consacrated yourselves to the Lord, bring near and offer sacrifices of praise in the house of the Lord. And the congregation brought sacrifices and thank-offerings into the house of the Lord; and every one who was ready in his heart brought their burnt-offerings, and the number of the whole-burnt-offerings which the congregation brought, was seventy calves, a hundred rams, two hundred lambs: all these were for a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord. 33 And the consecrated calves were six hundred, and the sheep three thousand. 34 But the princes, when they could not fall the whole-burnt-offering, so their brethren the Levites helped them, until the work was finished, and until the priests had purified themselves: for the Levites more zealously purified themselves than the priests. 35 And the whole-burnt-offering was abundant, with the fat of the complete peace-offering, and the drink-offerings of the whole-burnt-sacrifice. So the service was established in the house of the Lord.

And Ezekias and all the people rejoiced, because God had prepared the people: for the thing was done suddenly. And Ezekias sent to all Israel and Judah, and to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come into the house of the Lord to Jerusalem, to keep the passover of the Lord God of Israel. 2 For the king, and the princes, and all the congregation in Jerusalem, designed to keep the passover in the second month. 3 For they could not keep it at that time, because a sufficient number of priests had not purified themselves, and the people was not gathered to Jerusalem. 4 And the proposal pleased the king and the congregation. 5 And they established a decree that a proclamation should go through all Israel, from Bersabee to Beer-Sheba.

1. The Lord, dwelling on Zion, will remain there, as on the day of your horned military strength.

2. The Lord will give you his holy one as refuge, and his holy ones as a fortress of refuge and fortress against the shame of the people and the reproach of the nations.

3. The king of Assyria shall be put as a sign and as a symbol against Pharaoh, the king of Egypt, against his earth, against his seed, and against the tents of his strength, as he was against the cities of his borders.

4. For the Egyptians are men and not God; and the sons of Pharaoh are not gods, but they are men, like the rest of the people.

5. Therefore thus says the Lord God, who brought you up from the land of Egypt, the inhabitants of the sons of Ammon shall come against you, and the Moabites shall rise up against you, and both they and the Philistines shall come against you, and they shall be against you, says the Lord.

6. And you shall know that I am the Lord, when I have stretched out my hand against all the peoples to whom I have scattered you, and against the cities of your enemies, and when I shall have turned to you from all the peoples to whom I have driven you, and shall gather you from all the peoples and from all the countries where I have driven you, and will bring you to the land which I gave to your fathers.

7. And I will make you a people, and will multiply you greatly; and I will set my tabernacle among you, and your people shall be mine, and I will walk among you and will be your God.

8. And you shall know that I am the Lord, when your sons shall say to you, What did these things?

9. And you shall answer them, Thus says the Lord God, Behold, I brought them into the land which I sware to give them; and I sware to them, and to their fathers, in the land of Canaan, saying, Fear not a thing of them.

10. For I will surely have mercy on you, and will bring you again, and will gather you together, and brought you again to the land of your fathers.

11. And I will make you a great nation, and I will bless you, and make your name great, and you shall be a blessing.

12. And I will bless those who bless you, and curse him who curses you, and in you all the families of the earth shall be blessed.
present in Jerusalem kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with great joy; and they continued to sing hymns to the Lord daily, and the priests and the Levites played on instruments to the Lord. And Ezekias encouraged all the Levites, and those that had good understanding of the Lord: and they completely kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, offering peace-offerings, and confessing to the Lord and to their fathers.

And the congregation purposed together to keep other seven days: and they kept seven days with gladness. For Ezekias set apart for Juda, even for the congregation, a thousand calves and seven thousand sheep; and the princes set apart for the people a thousand calves and ten thousand sheep; and the holy things of the priests abundantly. And all the congregation, the priests and the Levites, rejoiced, and all the congregation of Juda, and they that were present in Jerusalem, and the strangers that came from the land of Israel, and the dwelt in the cities of Judah, rejoiced. And there was great joy in Jerusalem: from the days of Solomon the son of David king of Israel there was not such a feast in Jerusalem. Then the priests the Levites rose up and blessed the people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came into his holy dwelling-place, even into heaven. And when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Juda went out, and broke in pieces the pillars, and cut down the groves, and tore down the high places out of all Juda and Benjamin, also of Ephraim and Manasse, till they made an end: and all Israel returned every one to his inheritance, and to their cities.

And Ezekias appointed the courses of the priests and the Levites, and the courses of each one according to his ministry, to the priests and to the Levites, for the whole-burnt-offering, and for the peace-offering, and to praise, and to give thanks, and to minister to the house of the Lord. And the king's proportion out of his substance was appointed for the whole-burnt-offerings, the morning and the evening one, and the whole-burnt-offerings for the sabbaths, and for the new moons, and for the feasts that were ordered in the law of the Lord. And they told the people who dwelt in Jerusalem, to give the portion of the priests and the Levites, that they might be strong in the ministry of the house of the Lord.

And as he gave the command, Israel brought abundantly first-fruits of corn, and wine, and oil, and every fruit of the field, and the children of Israel and Juda brought tithes of everything abundantly. And they that dwelt in the cities of Judah themselves also brought tithes of calves and sheep, and tithes of goats, and consecrated them to the Lord their God, and they brought them and laid them in heaps. In the third month the heaps began to be piled, and in the seventh month they were finished. And Ezekias and the princes came and saw the heaps, and blessed the Lord, and his people Israel. 9 Then Zechariah enquired of the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps. 10 And Azariah the priest, the chief over the house of the Lord, spake unto him, and said, From the time that the sons of the first-fruits were brought into the house of the Lord, we have eaten and drunk, and left even abundantly; for the Lord has blessed his people, and we have left to this amount.

11 And Zechariah told them yet further to prepare chambers for the house of the Lord, and they provided them, and brought the tithes and the first-fruits faithfully; and Chonias the Levite was superintendent over them, and Semei his brother was next. 12 And Jehiel, and Oziyah, and Naath, and Azariah, and Ierymiah, and Iezebael, and Ishmael, and Zabdi, and Isshia, and Semei, and Jochabed, and Ishmael, and Zadok, and Banaiah, and their sons, were appointed by Chonias and Semei his brother, as Zechariah the king, and Azariah who was over the house of the Lord commanded.

13 And Core, the son of Jemaa the Levite, the porter eastward, was over the gifts, to distribute the first-fruits of the Lord, and the most holy things. 14 By the hand of Odom, Bishayah, Jeiel, and Semei, and Azarias, and Schemia, by the hand of the priests faithfully, to give to their brethren according to the courses, as well to great as small; besides the increase of males from three years old and upward, to every one entering into the house of the Lord, a portion according to a daily rate, for service in the daily courses of their order. 15 This is the distribution of the priests according to the houses of their families; and the Levites in their daily courses from twenty years old and upward were in their order, to assign stations for all the increase of their sons and their daughters, for the whole number; for they faithfully sanctified the holy place. 16 As for the sons of Aaron that executed the priests' office, even those from their cities, the men in each several city who were named expressly, were appointed to give a portion to every male among the priests, and to every one reckoned among the Levites.

17 And Zechariah did so through all Juda, and did that which was good and right before the Lord his God. 18 And in every work which he began in service in the house of the Lord, and in the law, and in the ordinances, he sought his God with all his soul, and wrought, and prospered.

And after these things and this faithful dealing, came Senachermis, king of the Assyrians, and he came to Juda, and encamped against the fortified cities, and intended to take them for himself.

2 And Zechariah saw that Senachermis was come, and that his face was set to fight against Jerusalem. 3 And he took counsel with his elders and his mighty men to stop the wells of water which were without the city; and they helped him. 4 And he collected many people, and stopped the wells of water, and the river that flowed through the city, saying, Let the king of Assyria come, and find much water, and strength himself; 5And Ezekias strengthened himself, and built all the wall that had been pulled down, and the towers, and another wall in front without, and fortified the strong place of Judah, and prepared arms in abundance. And he appointed captains of war over the people, and they were gathered to meet him to the open place of the gate of the valley, and he encouraged them, saying, Be strong and courageous, and fear not, neither be dismayed before the kings of Assyria, and before all the nations that is with him: for there are more with us than with him. 6With him were arms of flesh; but with us is the Lord our God to save us, and to fight our battle. And the people were encouraged at the words of Ezekias king of Judah.

And afterward Sennacherim king of the Assyrians sent his servants to Jerusalem, and he sent himself against Lachis, and all his army with him, and sent to Ezekias king of Judah, and to all Judah that was in Jerusalem, saying, 8Thus says Sennacherim king of the Assyrians, On what do ye trust, that ye remain in the siege of Jerusalem? 9 does not the Assyrian Captor, to deliver you to death and famine and thirst, saying, The Lord our God will deliver us out of the hand of the king of Assyria? 10Is not this Ezekias who has taken down his altars and his high places, and has spoken to Judah and the dwellers in Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before this altar, and burn incense upon it? 11Know ye not what I and my fathers have done to all the nations of the countries? Could the gods of the nations of all the earth at all rescue their people out of my hand? 12Who is there among all the gods of those nations whom my fathers utterly destroyed, worthy of trust, or of whom he delivered their people out of my hand, that your God should deliver you out of my hand? 13Now then, let not Ezekias deceive you, and let him not make you thus confident, and believe him not: for no god of any kingdom or nation is at all able to deliver his people out of my hand, or the hand of my fathers: therefore your God shall not deliver you out of my hand. And his servants continued to speak against the Lord God, and against his servant Ezekias.

And he wrote a letter to reproach the Lord God of Israel, and spoke concerning him, saying, As the gods of the nations of the earth have not delivered their people out of my hand, so the God of Ezekias shall by no means deliver his people out of my hand. And he cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language to the people of Jerusalem on the wall, calling them to assist them, and pull down the walls, that they might take the city. And he spoke against the God of Jerusalem, even as against the gods of the nations of the earth, the works of the hands of men.

And king Ezekias and Esaias the prophet the son of Amos prayed concerning these
And the Lord sent an angel, and he destroyed every mighty man and warrior, and leader and captain in the camp of the king of Assyria; and he brought them low, and cast lay face to his own land and came into the house of his god; and some of them that came out of his bowels slew him with the sword. So the Lord delivered Ezekias and the dwellers in Jerusalem out of the land of Sennacherim king of Assyria, and out of the hand of all his enemies, and gave them rest round about. And many brought gifts to the Lord to Jerusalem, and presents to Ezekias king of Juda; and he was exalted in the eyes of all the nations after these things.

In those days Ezekias was sick even to death, and prayed to the Lord: and he hearkened to him, and gave him a sign. But Ezekias did not recompense the Lord according to the return which he made him, but his heart was lifted up: and wrath came upon him, and upon Juda and Jerusalem. And Ezekias humbled himself after the exaltation of his heart, he and the dwellers in Jerusalem; and the wrath of the Lord did not come upon them in the days of Ezekias.

And Ezekias had wealth and very great glory; and he made for himself treasures of gold, and silver, and precious stones, also for spices, and stores for arms, and for precious vessels; and cities for the produce of corn, and wine, and oil; and stalls and mangers for every kind of cattle, and folds for flocks; and cities which he built for himself, and store of sheep and oxen in abundance, for the Lord gave him a very great store.

The same Ezekias stopped up the course of the water of Gion above, and brought the water down straight south of the city of David. And Ezekias prospered in all his works. Notwithstanding, in regard to the ambassadors of the princes of Babylon, who were sent to him to enquire of him concerning the profanation of the land, the Lord left him, to try him, to know what was in his heart.

And the rest of the acts of Ezekias, and his kindness, behold, they are written in the prophecy of Esaias the son of Amos the prophet, and in the book of the kings of Juda and Israel. And Ezekias slept with his fathers, and they buried him in a high place among the sepulchres of the sons of David: and all Juda and the dwellers in Jerusalem gave him glory and honour at his death. And Manasses his son reigned in his stead.

Manasses was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifteen years in Jerusalem. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord destroyed from the face of the children of Israel.

And he returned and built the high places, which his father Ezekias had pulled down, and set up images to Baalim, and made groves, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served them. And he built th altars in the house of the Lord, concerning which the Lord said, In Jerusalem shall be my name for ever. 5 And he built altars to all the host of heaven, in the two courts of the house of the Lord. 6 He also passed his children through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom; and he deified, and used aspics, and sorceries, and appointed those who had deifying spirits, and enchanters, and wrought abundant wickedness before the Lord, to provoke him. 7 And he set the graven image, the molten statute, the idol which he made, in the house of God, of which God was habited to David and to Solomon his son, in this house, and Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put my name for ever; 8 and I will not again remove the foot of Israel from the place which I have given to their fathers, if only they will take heed to do all things which I have commanded them, according to all the law and the ordinances and the judgments given by the hand of Moses. 9 So Manasses led astray Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, to do evil beyond all the nations which the Lord cast out from before the children of Israel.

And the Lord spake to Manasses, and to his people: but they hearkened not. 10 And the Lord brought upon them the captains of the host of the king of Assyria, and they took Manasses in bonds, and bound him in fetters, and brought him to Babylon. 11 And when he was afflicted, he sought the face of the Lord his God, and was grieved for the ordinance of the God of his fathers; 12 and he prayed to him: and he hearkened to him, and listened to his cry, and brought him back to Jerusalem to his kingdom: and Manasses knew that the Lord he is God.

And afterward he built a wall without the city of David, from the southwest southward in the valleys and at the entrance through the fish-gate, as men go out by the gate round about, even as far as Ophel; and he raised it much, and set captains of the host in all the fortified cities in Judah. 14 And he removed the strange gods and the graven image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars which he had built in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Jerusalem, and without the city. 15 And he repaired the altar of the Lord, and offered upon it a sacrifice of peace-offering and thank-offering, and he told Judah to serve the Lord God of Israel. 16 Nevertheless the people trusted in the high places, only to the Lord their God.

And the rest of the acts of Manasses, and his prayer to God, and the words of the seers that spoke to him in the name of the God of Israel, 17 behold, they are in the account of his prayer; and God hearkened to him. And all his sins, and his backslidings, and all the sins which he had done, all that he did, 18 and the graven images, before he repeated, behold, they are written in the books of the seers. 19 And Manasses slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the garden of his house: and Amon his son reigned in his stead.

Amon was twenty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, as his father Manasseh did; and Amon sacrificed to all the gods which his father Manasseh had made, and served them. And he was not humbled before the Lord before the days of his father Manasseh; for his son Amon abounded in transgression. And his servants conspired against him, and slew him in his house. And the people of the land slew the men who had conspired against king Amon; and the people of the land made Josias his son king in his stead.

Josias was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem. And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the ways of his father David, and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left.

And in the eighth year of his reign, and he being yet a youth, he began to seek the God of David his father; and he did not ask counsel of the priests of the house of the Lord, nor of the scribes which were the sons of the prophets that dwelt at Jerusalem.

7 And Josias begat Joahaz in the eighteenth year of his reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem thirty-one years. And the name of his mother was Zadkiah. And he did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that David his father did.

8 And in the twenty and eighth year of Josias' reign, in the twelfth month, came Johanan the son of Kahah the Scribe, and Shaphan the son of Aum the scribe, and came into the house of the Lord, into the chambers of the Gemariah the son of Hilkiah the scribe, and spake to him privately in a chamber, saying,

9 And Shaphan the son of Aum the scribe told the king, saying, 'Hilkiah the priest hath found the book of the law of the Lord in the house of the Lord.'

10 And the king sent Shaphan and the scribe of the book, saying, 'Go, inquire of the Lord, concerning all the words of the book which is found in the house of the Lord.'

11 And Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, 'Hilkiah the priest hath delivered me a book.' And Shaphan read it before the king. And the king set Hilkiah the priest, and theHIGH PRIEST EXPULO OF THE GALLERY OF MANASSEH, the message of the scribes and the king, to inquire about the book of the law that had been found in the temple of the Lord.

12 The scribes went, and brought the king down to the chamber of the scribes, and brought the book of the law, and read it aloud to the king in the chambers of the scribes. And the king commanded the high priest and the scribes to read the book of the law. And they read it aloud to the king in the chambers of the scribes.
